Airport at Manassas' Distance From Capital Is Seen as Logical Development By CAB Official

Airports as far from metropolitan areas as Manassas is from Washington are logical developments in the planning for the "airport of the future," a top staff official of the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington told The Journal this week.

Robert W. Chrisp, of Arlington, chief of the hearing and reports section of the Civil Aeronautics Board, said that "from now on airports must be built 25 or 30 or more miles from the city" if both economy and safety are to be taken as major factors of consideration.

The year is not far off, Mr. Chrisp said, when jet propulsion will be the accepted mode of powering transport aircraft. Jet planes require tremendously long and strong runways, and in the CAB official's words, "there is no sense in going out ten or fifteen miles, spending anywhere from $45 to $70 millions on an airport, and having it become obsolete in five or six years because the area has become congested with residential property."

Willow Run 31 Miles Out
Mr. Chrisp said the Willow Run airport, which serves Detroit, is 31 miles from that city and, from a safety standpoint, is not too far out. The huge Chicago Municipal airport which has been improved and expanded at a cost of millions in recent years, he added, has been relegated to the status of an auxiliary field and Chicago is developing the Orchard Grove airport far to the northwest of the present municipal field.

Ideally, Mr. Chrisp said, a modern airport should have fast surface transportation connecting it with the city it serves. He cited as an outstanding example the new field near London, which is connected to the British capital by a rapid-transit railway. "You get on the train at the airport," Mr. Chrisp said, "and next stop, Piccadilly."

Health Probe Ordered Here

The Board of Supervisors has ordered the Health and Sanitation officers of the county to make forthwith "thorough investigation of the health and sanitation conditions at all congested areas and subdivisions in the county and make prompt written report . . . to the attorney for the commonwealth."

The action was taken at the meeting of the board last Thursday. Complaints regarding sanitation in newly-developed areas of Yorkshir are said to have given rise to the order.

Jackie Saylor and Linda Kruse Make Basketball Interesting

Young fellow who weighs in at exactly two pounds to the inch dropped into The Journal office the other day to talk the thing he discusses best—basketball. His name is Jackie Saylor, 17, and he has been kidded about that!—he is, among other things, the 1949 American Legion basketball trophy and the Lynch county athlete award of last year.

Jackie Saylor, who measures six feet two and a half inches tall and weighs in at 150, came to Manassas in 1945 from Arlington—"but had a summer cabin at the lake for a long time before that." Jackie is a senior at the Osborn High School and has cut a swathe through letters and to have three letters on order for delivery later year.

Jackie is probably the outstanding basketball player, well as a competent football player and a 280 shortstop on the ball diamond. Which of the does he like best? "The basketball," he says, "because it happens to be playing at the moment."

Twice Jackie has made the kind (See TIME OUT, Page 5)

Gibson Named Teaching Head In Loudoun Co.

Caleb Gibson, principal at Brentsville District High School probably will become Loudoun County's first Director of Instruction with offices at Leesburg, it was learned this week.

The Loudoun County School Board shortly will offer the newly-created post to Mr. Gibson, it is understood. He will remain in his present assignment at Brentsville until the end of the school year.

The Brentsville principal filed an application for the position last year, and was offered the job last August. However, he declined to break the contract under which he is presently serving, and the Loudoun job has remained unfilled since then.

In the Leesburg assignment, Mr. Gibson will supervise all instructional activities in the schools of Loudoun County. In effect he will be the school superintendent's principal aide in the educational field.

A. W. Sinclair Choice of Bar

Attorney Arthur W. Sinclair of Manassas has been unanimously approved as the candidate of the Prince William Bar association for the hitherto-unfilled post of junior circuit court judge. Action in support of Mr. Sinclair was taken Wednesday at a luncheon meeting of the bar association in Manassas.

The circuit, of which Paul H. Brown is the senior, and at present, only judge, embraces Prince William and Fairfax Counties and the city of Alexandria.

It is understood that Alexandria's bar will put forward no candidate.

Two Fairfax lawyers, Robert J. McCandlish and Harry G. Carrico, are seeking the junior judgeship.

Building Program Discussed By P. T. A.

Manassas Parent-Teacher Association members were scheduled to hear an outline of the county school construction program tonight at a meeting in the Osborn High School auditorium. Mrs. John Galleher, who moved here from Richmond recently, was to be the speaker.

Mrs. Galleher pointed out that the Literary Fund will have available $1,827,500 for county schools here when additional appropriations replenish the fund. A large portion of the money will be used for relocation of Osborn High School, and other funds will go to increasing the capacity of the school system generally. According to figures obtained from the School Board by Mrs. Galleher, the school population is up nearly 38 percent from its 1945-46 level of 3,207 students.

Gnadt Sees Scant Chance For Tax Cuts

Little or no chance of income tax reduction through elimination of the "tax-on-a-tax" feature of the Virginia revenue laws is seen this year, according to Charlton E. Gnadt, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and county revenue commissioner.

In his chamber of commerce capacity (see "Brevities") Mr. Gnadt last week attended a meeting of state chambers at Richmond to discuss elimination of the provision which requires Virginia taxpayers to declare for tax purposes all income received including that paid the Federal government in form of withholding taxes. State fiscal officials told the meeting, Mr. Gnadt said, that the individual taxpayer would not benefit much if the law were amended as suggested, and that any revenue loss would have to be made up in other taxes.

Mr. Gnadt predicted that the measure would die in committee in the legislature.

Mr. Gnadt's report on the Richmond meeting came at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here Tuesday.

At the meeting, it was announced that the chamber's airport committee had completed compilation of information which was to be presented Wednesday in Washington to Civil Aeronautics Administrator Delos W. Renzel. A request for consideration of the Manassas area as a site for expanded airport facilities in the Washington Metropolitan region was supported by statements of Gov. Battle, Sens. Byrd and Robertson, and members of the Virginia congressional delegation.

Dear Hearts and Gentle People Give Shirley a Television Set

By Dorothy Acord
Even so dreadful an affliction as polio isn't so bad when you know the world is full of friendly, generous people. That lesson will stay with fifteen-year-old Shirley Hedges of Dumfries for the rest of her life.

Offhand, you wouldn't say Shirley is a lucky girl. For ten years she has been bedridden by the infantile paralysis that struck her when she was hardly big enough to play with other children. She has been in and out of hospitals, and for a long time now, in the bedroom of her home.

If anyone had asked Shirley what she wanted more than anything in the world, she probably would have said, "I want to get well." Aside from full recovery her most earnest wish was for a television set. And from where Shirley lay in her sickbed in Dumfries, one wish seemed as remote as the other.

That is the way it was until Mrs. Albert Miller of Dumfries wrote to Bailey Goss, a friendly announcer who operates out of Baltimore on a television show called the "Sports Parade." Goss, whose goodwill is as evident on the TV screen as his personal charm, told Shirley's story to his listeners in Baltimore and Washington and asked for contributions toward the realization of Shirley's heart's desire.

Based upon growth in population in the Dumfries-Triangle area with the resultant increase in tax revenue from new homes and added business residents of these two communities are planning to call upon the Board of Supervisors to provide police officers for the area. Especially they want to provide protection for school children boarding and unloading from buses along Highway No. 1, the most congested route in Prince William County.

It is planned that the supervisors and peace officers of the county will attend a mass meeting in the near future to listen to the citizens put forward their claims and justify them. They expect to establish that the increased revenue to the county warrants the expense now although the supervisors would not approve employment of peace officers a year or more ago because of lack of funds.

The advocates of police protection point out that in Fairfax County where the school buses operate along main highways less busy than Route 1 through Dumfries and Triangle, the supervisors of that county have authorized the employment of officers to protect the children in rush hours.

Dozens of new businesses have opened up in the section comprising Dumfries and Triangle. This has been followed by the construction of new homes and the influx of permanent residents from other areas. As a result, the supporters of the proposal say more taxes go directly into the Prince William County treasury, and some of this tax money, they add, should be spent right back in the form of police protection in the communities in which they originate.

Arrangements for a mass meeting to permit the residents of the area to express their views to the supervisors had not progressed this week to the point of setting a date. However, arrangements are under way for the use of one of the church halls as a meeting place.

Junior Women In Bake Sale

An estimated 40 members of the Manassas Junior Woman's Club will take part in a bake sale to be held at Dowell's Drug Store Saturday. The sale will begin at 10 a. m., according to Mrs. Turner Wheeling, president.

This will be the first such event held by the club since its successful sale last fall.

At its regular meeting last Thursday, the club announced that it would sponsor the cancer drive in April in all parts of the county except Quantico and Triangle. The Marine Base will sponsor the drive there.

A recent check has been made of the traffic at the intersection of Route 28 and Yorkshire Lane. The count on Route 28 was 3,500 vehicles for the twelve hours from seven in the morning until seven at night. On Yorkshire Lane for the same time the count was 167.

The Civic Group was informed that this amount of traffic on Yorkshire Lane entitles us to a black top road sixteen feet wide. This project will be carried out as soon as the Highway budget and priority will allow.

In the meantime, work will begin on the entrance to Yorkshire Lane just as soon as the weather permits. This entrance is to be filled in and broadened so as to permit easy access to the highway either north or south. On checking with other (See YORKSHIRE, Page 2)

Televiews

A little bird tells us that things are getting better every day in Prince William County. What with new television aerials going up all over the lot, a bird doesn't have to look so far to find a decent place to light.

From the televiewer's standpoint, too, things are looking up. The more sets that get bought, the more floor space there is in front of each set. Pretty soon the chandelier will be passe as a place to sit in a room where television is going on.

The Journal is starting a TV featured column this week in the conviction that the set with the magic tube is firmly established as a household convenience, if not a necessity. Arrangements have been made with the four Washington stations to furnish this paper with advance information on coming programs, and a log of highlights will be started in this space shortly.

Only occasionally will this column attempt to tell its readers what is good in the television world; it will, rather, act as a clearinghouse of opinion, getting this view from Mrs. A, that view from Mr. B, and another view from Mr. C.

For instance, Mrs. E. D. Gothwaite got her set at Christmastime. It took her about two weeks to establish what might be called her "pattern of listening"—or viewing, or whatever TV fans do. After a month and a half she has likes and dislikes so strong that she might as well have been born with them, they are so little subject to change.

Her five favorites are Leave It to the Girls, the Ed Sullivan, Arthur Godfrey and Fred Waring shows, and the charming Junior Revue that originates in Washington between noon and 1 o'clock every Sunday. Mrs. Gothwaite would as soon miss any of these as a bureaucrat would miss payday, but, she warns The Journal:

"If you even mention Milton Berle in the same paper with my name, I'll sue."

Not wishing to be sued, we will not mention Mr. Berle in the same paper with the name of Mrs. Gothwaite.

Mrs. Gothwaite's objection to the man who has been called "Mr. Television" is that he is just exactly that. "If he'd mind his own business and keep his big face out of everything his show would be a lot better," she explains.

She has another objection to TV

State Educator To Address P-T. A.

Davis Y. Paschall, state director of elementary school education, will speak at the regular meeting of the Gainesville P-T. A. at Haymarket School Tuesday.

Miss Sue Ayres, Prince William County elementary education supervisor, will preside at the meeting and the open forum to follow Mr. Paschall's address.

The P-T. A. program committee composed of Mrs. Wallace Rion, Mrs. Audrey Kerr, Mrs. J. W. Alvey, Miss Priscilla Tyler, and Rev. W. P. Carpenter, announced coming programs to include talks by Congressman Howard Smith, and a member of the Chilean Embassy, and a program by the Ukrainian residents of Gainesville District.

More Brevities

Commander P. C. Stimson, whose land lies along Occoquan Run, will plant some 27,000 loblolly pine and yellow poplar seedlings, on 30 acres this year, according to the State Forest Service. This tract will be planted with the use of a Lowther mechanical tree planting machine at the rate of about 7 to 10 thousand seedlings per day. Stimson's planting will be one of the biggest in the state.

Sudley Charge will hold a communion and candlelight service Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Youth will lead the program, Rev. James L. Duley announced. Following the service, the Second Quarterly Conference will be held.

Siegfried H. L. Triumph, registered Jersey bull, owned by W. M. Johnson, of Clover Hill Farm, Manassas, has been qualified by the American Jersey Cattle Club as a tested sire. Ten tested daughters of this bull, the records show, produced an average of 8,440 pounds of milk, testing 5.6 per cent butyric. This animal was bred by H. G. Wilde of High Lawn Farm, Lenox, Mass., and was purchased as a calf by Clover Hill Farm in 1944.

A general one to the effect that only rarely do the cameras give a full-length image of a performer. Perhaps the fact that the long axis of the tube is horizontal has something to do with this, but Mrs. Gothwaite's objection is certainly valid when applied to "Leave It to the Girls," which features gorgeous ladies in exquisite costumes.

Style-conscious female viewers can't see what the whole ensemble looks like, she says and they understandably feel cheated.

School Board To Open New Bids Monday

The Prince William County School Board will meet Monday in special session to open new bids on the proposed Washington-Reid Elementary School.

Bids were previously submitted to the School Board at its regular meeting on Feb. 6. These, however, were considerably in excess of available funds and upon recommendation of Superintendent R. Worth Peters the Board asked Architect Frederick Tipton to modify specifications so that the cost might be kept within the $115,000 to $120,000 available. New bids were asked on the changed plans.

Bids previously submitted for the one-story, 5-room brick building to be located on Route 234, near Dumfries, were:

Blackwell Engineering Co., Warrenton, $154,900; sixth classroom, $5,000.

parties it was found that a strip 90 feet wide has been set aside for this entrance.

Mr. Lancaster, of the State Highway Department, was a visitor at our February Civic Group meeting. On account of the inclement weather the group was small but Mr. Lancaster gave a great deal of information to those who were present.

An interesting bit of information which Mr. Lancaster gave to the Civic Group is that streets and roads in sub-divisions must now be accepted before they will be accepted into the State Highway system. This means that either the developer or the individual buyers must go to this expense before the State will take over and operate and maintain the roads.

A Nominating Committee will be appointed at the March meeting of the Civic Group and new officers will be elected at the April meeting, March 2nd. The folks in York-Town are also urged to attend these meetings.

Rev. H. Lee Scott, Chaplain at the Veterans' Hospital in Martinsburg, West Virginia, spent the weekend at "Three Acres" with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Helms. On Sunday morning Mr. Scott spoke to the adult department of the Manassas Baptist Church. His subject was "The Church and the Disabled Veteran".

NOKESVILLE NEWS

come. We think you will enjoy the supper and we'd be very glad if you plan to buy a pillow case at the "Sales" table.

The ladies of the Senior Women's Club can't seem to get enough work done by meeting once a month as they have heretofore so at their regular monthly meeting at the Fire Hall last Tuesday, they decided to hold another all-day meeting at the Hall on Tuesday, the 28th when each lady will work on her project. Last Tuesday the ladies completed 23 table lamps. After the lamps were made the Hall looked just like a furniture store just after a shipment of lamps had arrived. Following the lunch hour presided over by Mrs. Fannie Armstrong, acting for the absent hostesses, Mrs. W. R. Free and Mrs. Blake Fleming, and Mrs. O. W. Brittingham, the ladies had a very interesting business session. Mrs. N. N. Free presided. A committee was appointed to see what can be done about the beginning of a recreation center. The committee appointed was Mrs. Floyd Lanier, Mrs. John Williams, and Mrs. R. T. Gay. Quite a bit of interest was shown upon the suggestion of Miss Kline about the idea of a cooperative market in Manassas. Mrs. L. J. Bowman as chairman of the Ways and Means committee was instructed to secure dates from the Ruritan club when they want the Senior Club to serve their dinners.

When the ladies of the Junior Women's club was entertained recently at the home of Theresa Miller with Winnie Wood acting as co-hostess, an unusually large crowd was present to enjoy the afternoon together. The committee chairman for the year were announced as follows: Program development, Theresa Miller and June Smith; Ways and Means, Mildred Hae; Good cheer, Sylvia Godfrey; Food, Mary Bowman and Winnie Wood; House furnishings, Betty Brown.

Mary Herring and Virginia Bear were welcomed into the club, which is growing quite rapidly and is progressing favorably as evidenced by the enthusiasm each lady is showing in the club's activities. The ladies made plans to serve the Ruritan club in March. The February meeting will be at the Home Economics cottage and will begin with a luncheon at 12:00, served by Mrs. Reed and her Home Ec. girls. It will be on Tuesday, the 28th.

The surprise package which was brought by Ollie Kerlin was won by Winnie Wood. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses following the demonstration for the day by Miss Kline on "Recreation." Thursday, February 23, is time again for the regular monthly meeting of the P.-T. A. Those in charge are planning an "Open House" with all the teachers welcoming into their rooms the children and their parents. It's hoped that the effort will result in the teacher and parents becoming better acquainted. Special emphasis will be placed upon the needs of the school library when a short talk on the library and its purpose will be given by Miss Hattie Mae Partlow.

A short business meeting with Mrs. Ralph Spear, the president, in charge, will begin at 8:00. You are welcomed!

Our Nokesville Band under the direction of Nunzio Barbera went to Haymarket on February 7 to play for the children of the school there. They were taken up in Mr. Bowman's bus and everyone was treated to a very delicious lunch at noon.

Roletta Gough, Carolyn Dennis, Garland Green, Lloyd Reedy and Mrs. Ila Breeden attended the Junior County Red Cross meeting at the Dumfries School as representatives of our local school. The meeting was held last Thursday.

Seventy children and their parents attended the Valentine party in the church basement of the Nokesville Church of the Brethren on Monday night as guests of the teachers in the Children's department of the Sunday School. Melva Fleishman and her Sunday school class had charge of the worship service preceding the showing of the picture, Zaccarius, the Publican. After drawing from the Valentine box and playing of the several games everyone enjoyed an hour of fellowship while refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Williams and little Marilyn of State College, Pennsylvania paid a surprise visit to Anna's parents' home recently. They were able to stay just overnight. Other guests of the Millers were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stevens of Falls Church.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Earhart, Janet and Rebecca, were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. David Kerlin, Miss Marie Kerlin and Bobby Caton.

Mrs. Dewey Godfrey has accepted a position with the firm with which she was formerly employed in Washington, D. C. She started to work on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Shepherd and the children were Sunday dinner guests of the Charles Rices' in Manassas. Mr. Billy Poley and the little boys are still with the Rices' since Mrs. Poley had to be taken back to Emergency Hospital where she is still very ill.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. King and family spent Sunday the 29th with the Oysterheld family in Charlottesville.

Mr. J. C. Snider of Arlington, spent several days visiting relatives around here last week. "Uncle John" looks better now than he has for several years.

Ernest Hooker returned home on Sunday evening after spending a week visiting his sister, Bernice, where she is in training at a hospital in Memphis, Tennessee.

Mrs. Dennis Baker thrilled the congregation of the Nokesville Church of the Brethren on Sunday with her wonderful music on the electric organ. Soloist for the morning was Mrs. Nunzio Barbera who sang "Alleluia."

Mr. S. S. Stultz has returned from a vacation in wonderful Sebring, Florida. Little Jimmy Yankey will go this week to have an operation on his leg necessitated by the results of an attack of polio several years ago.

THE WATER BOY

As you read about—but he like to think about either they both happened on the same day. Once he got the ball on the line and ran 94 yards for a touchdown. The other time he was called the play back for a penalty. To major in physical education at college and become a teacher.

As in girls' basketball don't have the opportunity to make the team. As Linda Kruse of Osborn High puts it, "the guards on other teams' forwards from which is a pretty penetrating analysis of a guard's duty to a girl of 16."

She is widely acclaimed as the most athletic basketball player in Prince George's County. Partisans of other basketballers might find this a little excessive for a girl of 16, but for a considerable discussion, one could dispute the fact that Linda is a highly competent athlete.

She came a long way in a short time. Last year was her first year with organized sports—always liked sports but never before. This year she has a certificate for basketball (third baselady); "I know my batting average, but I know how many runs last year."

She is sufficiently interested in sports to be looking forward to her choice to be Madison; school of hard knocks is her decision she would like to be a stenographer in the office in Washington.

Graphy comes easy to Linda, and shorthand as easy and as a subject as English is. Linda New Yorker, she moved to Manassas, Va., when she was six years old. She has been living at Haymarket for the last six years. Linda was a little girl when she left New York; she has the idea she likes "there's more to do there."

Day of short haircuts, Linda has long blonde hair, which she has over the top of her head. Linda says, "It's my hobby. Linda says, is my eight-year-old tomcat, name Willie. Willie's favorite sport? Basketball."

She has her hair that way must be out of her eyes when she is swimming—her favorite non-sport. Between the Middleburg and the runs roundabout—the pool better because she has a diving board—she has to get in a good bit of exercise of a summer.

She is as at home on a dance floor as on a basketball floor, but she is not a jitterbugger. Linda says, she admits, because she got around to learning much about that art.

Only hobby, Linda says, is her eight-year-old tomcat, name Willie. Willie's favorite sport? Basketball.

And square dancing will feature Friday evening's entertainment at the Dumfries school for the benefit of the Quantico Athletic Association. With admission at $1.25 and $2 drag, the association hopes to raise some $500 for its year.

Nokesvillians packed their gymnasium Saturday night to see five Nokesville teams play in three games, for the benefit of the Religious Education Committee of Brentsville District.

The first game pitted East Side ladies and West Side ladies. It was won by the Eastsiders 9-6. Following this the West Side men nipped the East Side men 24-23.

The night cap matched Nokesville Fire Department and the Winchester Packers. All fire in the Packers was quenched as the Firemen smoked out a 50-46 win.

Between halves and games there were cheers and pie auctions, with enough of the former to raise the roof and of the latter to raise the net receipts to $190, all of which goes to the Religious Education Committee.

Players for the East Side ladies were: Ruby Gibson, Gayle Whetzel, Ruby M. Michael, Mildred Gay, Doris, Williams, Virginia Baer, Nine Flory Winnie Wood, Ruth Graybill, Maran Brown, and Betsy Reid.

West Side ladies were: Frances Owens, Mary Johnson, Mary Flory, Wilma Lee House, Virginia Wilkins, Philip Reading, George D'Agata, and George Sonafrank.

Referees for the games were: Miss Alma Watts, Cleveland Flory, and Eddie Nelson.

Cheeleaders were Sherry Brown, Joan and Jane King, Mary Wood, and Rebecca Flory.

League Tournament Here February 24-25

The District G, Group III Virginia High School League basketball tournament will be held at the Osborn High School gym February 24 and 25. First and second place teams in each of the District's two divisions will compete in the tournament. The competing teams will be announced at a meeting of League officials on February 20.

Although all games have not been played, it appears that Occoquan and Quantico Post will represent the Eastern division, since each team has lost only one game. Other members of this division are Nokesville, Herndon, Warrenton, and Stafford.

BRENTSVILLE

Round and square dancing will be the order of the evening Friday, February 24, at the old court house building at Brentsville. Sponsored by the Brentsville baseball team, the Carter Ramblers will play from 9 until 1.

GI FAMILY ALLOWANCES

Families of GI's are advised that the changeover to the new Army pay scale may result in some delay in delivering the full pay and family allowance for some soldiers. However officials of the Adjutant General's office at St. Louis—which sends out checks for family allowances—state that all the pay due a soldier will be in his pocket and the allowance in the hands of his family soon.

Haymarket and Manassas Legion split a pair at Haymarket Saturday. The Legion girls won 33-20, while Haymarket boys swamped the Legion 70-43.

High scorers in the girls' game were Stamm with 9 for Haymarket and Merchant had 16 for the Legionettes. Parker led the Haymarket boys as he capped 30 and Bigelow led the Legion with 26.

Occoquan District High School won a double-header from Warrenton, on the losers' court, Friday night. Occoquan girls won a push-over 32-10 and the boys followed with a 47-38 defeat of Warrenton.

Anne West with 12 points was high scorer for Occoquan in a slow game in which everybody on the Occoquan squad played. Occoquan boys Jimmy Bishop and Johnny Frazier led the pointmakers on their team with 22 and 10 points respectively.

Hot Water is Best

—is safe, sure, thrifty!

NOBODY needs to tell you how many ways hot water helps in household convenience and personal pleasure. But . . . if you've got a water heater with the temperament of a prima donna, you do need to know about hot water by wire!

And the best person to tell you is someone who has an automatic electric water heater. They'll tell you it is the most efficient and the most worry-free appliance in the house. Once installed it's even more automatic than electric light, because you don't even have to turn it on or off. So safe, so smart in appearance, that you'll love having it in your home. Thrifty, because it heats water on VEPCO's low off-peak rate!

J. P. Kerlin, Sheriff of Prince William County For 25 Years

J. P. Kerlin, Sheriff of Prince William County for 25 years, was born in 1878 at Dayton, Ohio. With his parents he moved to Rockingham County and has lived here since he was six years old. As Mr. Kerlin appraised it, "I don't know any other place but Prince William County."

He was appointed deputy sheriff by Judge J. B. T. Thornton in 1915, upon the death of John Howe. In this capacity he served under Sheriff C. A. Barbes, and he says that between them they got $600 to be divided and their offices were little fertilizer books which they carried in their pockets.

At present three full time deputies, one part time deputy and a jailer who are kept busy most of the time, and things are much improved.

Concerning his work, Sheriff Kerlin states that such cases as the recent stealing of calves takes a great deal of time and research. However, it isn't all routine investigation and he recalls some of his most vivid cases.

Two Officers Shot

One case, he remembers, involved the trial of a man which took three days and two nights for a jury to reach a verdict. Another case in Loudoun County involved the shooting of two officers. In helping to apprehend the criminal, Sheriff Kerlin had the "closest" call of his life.

It happened that the person being sought came around a mountain near Goose Creek before anyone could find him and pulled his rifle on Mr. Kerlin. The Sheriff said, "Wait a minute, buddy, I want to see you." To which his antagonist said, "Get back there." Sheriff Kerlin got back, naturally, and after the villain started away about 25 shots were fired at him by law officers without success. However, the next morning he was shot and captured. Suffice to say that he received a long term.

Meat and Flour Stolen

The worst night the Sheriff ever put in was in regards to a case in which four persons took some meat and flour. It was believed that they were in Stafford, so a group including Sheriff Kerlin left by car. There was 18 inches of snow on the ground and the car had to be left in Prince William County about 8 that night. From there the group walked on foot with the snow almost to their knees and about midnight surprised them at their hang-out.

Although some of the officers played out, the captives were successfully taken back to stand trial.

During prohibition, the Sheriff devoted three days a week for hunting stills and putting them out of order. Consequently, it is understandable that he should say, "I hope we never have prohibition again."

Stills Filled Courthouse

It was during this time that the Courthouse was sometimes filled with stills which were to be used as evidence. He recalls that many pounds of confiscated sugar and copper were sold. At some times as much as $40 worth of copper was sold. Of course, before the "stills" were sold to the junk man they were completely destroyed.

In 1901, Mr. Kerlin married Charlotte Sayers. They have five children, three girls and two boys, and on Jan. 9 of next year they will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

In the immediate future, Mr. Kerlin expects to go with Bob Lewis to Miami, Fla., returning Feb. 1st. So far as continuing his job, he states that he likes it very much and if he keeps his health he will be a candidate for sheriff again.

LOUDOUN CORN CROP CUT

Loudoun County will be asked to cut 1950 corn production by about 12.9 per cent the Department of Agriculture has announced. The department cited declining export and other postwar demands as a reason for the cut.

Eleven other counties are, like Loudoun, designated as commercial corn producing areas, and as such are subject to the reduction.

Within the counties each farmer's allotment will be set by the county committee. Under the acreage allotment system, the farmers can receive support prices from the government only if they remain within their quotas.

HINTS ON CARE OF SUITS

Don't wait until a wool suit is very soiled before having it cleaned, and don't substitute a pressing for a needed cleaning. Badly soiled garments need drastic cleaning which is hard on the fabric. Much can be done at home to keep wool clothes clean. Frequent brushing in the direction of the grain of the cloth helps. Brush inside and out, in and around pockets, and inside cuffs. Airing helps, too. Sponging with cleaning fluid, especially collars, cuffs, and other parts which soil first, is an aid.

As The Twig Is Bent

The stories we read about youngsters who are hardened criminals before they are well into their teens seem always to be datelined from other places and never—for which we are grateful—from Prince William County. It is to be hoped that this happy circumstance will always prevail.

But this county is not immune from the plague of juvenile delinquency that seems to be spreading through America like some vile cancer. The experts come up with a million opinions about the underlying causes—the war, lack of parental responsibility, failure of this or that or the other agency of home, church or state—without telling us much about what we can do to check the spread of juvenile delinquency.

We think three groups in Prince William have the answer: the Lions Club, the Manassas Recreational Corporation and (recently) the Manassas police. All are working on the same basic premise, that there is much truth in the adage that "Satan finds work for idle hands to do."

The Lions and the MRC—which took over the civic club's work in order to give broader representation in the preventive battle against juvenile delinquency—have done much toward establishment of a recreational center for the town's youth. When their plans come to fruition there will be a swimming pool, a spacious recreational hall, and well-rounded programs of recreational activities.

The police are negotiating to get a building where youth can engage in such sports as basketball, table tennis and boxing. We earnestly hope their search for quarters will be successful. They are on the right track, as has been proved in large cities where police have formed such organizations as New York's aptly-named "PAL"—for Police Athletic League. By proving to the children of the town that the policeman is a boy's friend, not his sworn enemy, the police will be doing more to combat juvenile delinquency than all the double-domed psychologists in the world.

From the Pastor's Study

Rev. E. Guthrie Brown, Pastor
Trinity Church, Manassas, Va.

A young father in one of our southern towns, during the recent war, gave his eight year old son a globe to stimulate the boy's interest in geography. The boy kept it on the table close to his bed. One night, while listening to a news broadcast, the father wanted the globe to look up an island in the Pacific. It was Iwo Jima, and like millions of other Americans he did not have the faintest idea where it was. So he tiptoed quietly into the boy's room, thinking him asleep, and picked up the globe and was taking it out of the room when the boy sat bolt upright and said, "What are you going to do with my world?"

The father said later, "That question about knocked me over; for I heard in it a lot more than the boy meant. What am I going to do with his world, not with the pasteboard globe, but the world he will live in, or perhaps die in at the age of twenty, blown to bits by a bomb, if somebody doesn't do something right with it, and that pretty soon." This is a question for all of us—

CLERICUS MALE CHORUS OF BRIDGEWATER COLLEGE

The Clericus Male Chorus of Bridgewater College will give a service of sacred music at the Manassas and the Nokesville Churches of the Brethren on Sunday. The chorus will be at Nokesville for the 11 a. m. service and at the Manassas service at 7 p. m.

The chorus represents the Clericus Organization of the campus, which is made up of student ministers and others preparing for full time Christian work. The Chorus has been acclaimed for many performances in the Shenandoah Valley, but has never before appeared in this area.

G. Campbell by deed dated March 27, 1945, from Lake Jackson Hills, for since the time of this incident the atomic bomb is a thing of reality and the hydrogen bomb may soon be an even more destructive and powerful weapon of death. What did the adults who lived in the year 1919 and the ten years that followed do with our world? The truth is they made a mess of it.

The question of this boy looks to the future. There are millions of boys and girls under twelve who can ask of all of us "What are you going to do with my world?" I will soon be their world and they will have to live and die in it. It is in our hands. It is the No. 1 question; it is a trillion dollar question, for that is what another world war would cost. On our answer hangs the lives of millions of the youngsters of this day.

Man is not fit to handle such inherent and potent power as is to be found in the atomic and hydrogen bombs. The world is still made up of ambitious statesmen, self-seeking politicians, and brutal, selfish and ignorant men. Man has spent all his time and ability working towards the day when he would have great power, and now that he has it, he is not fit to handle it. Are we going to let selfishness, distrust, and greed crush the youth of the world into a red jam? Are we going to settle back in indifference and negligence and let the world go to hell in its own way? Or are we going to force the leaders of this world to let their peoples live together in love and joy and peace, and use their new found power for good, rather than for evil.

The question of this boy, "What are you going to do with my world?" is asked of each of us. We had all better get on our knees and pray to God to make us better and wiser men.

Studdert Kennedy, that great English poet and prophet, has written, "Through the vast complexities of our modern civilized world made by one God, the crucified Christ is looking down upon us—with death in His bleeding hands and feet—but life in the light of His burning eyes—and demanding from us all—every individual man and woman—a choice between the glory of Reason, Patience, and Love, and the glory of Force, Wrath, and Fear. He will not go away. I do not believe that He will let us alone. He is making us waver all over the world. He is going to drive us to a playground, a battlefield, a factory, or an empire any longer, we must give it to Him. We must give it to Him or—there will be darkness over all the earth from the sixth hour until the ninth—and that may be a thousand years. We must decide, and this decision is for you and me."

HEADS EXPANSION

CHICAGO—Erection of a new refrigerator factory on a 21-acre site alongside the world's largest range plant here has been announced by James J. Nance, president of Hotpoint, Inc. This will complete the final phase of the huge expansion program launched in 1947. Nance's announcement came as welcome news to both industry and the American home maker. The plant itself represents possibly the largest building construction in the middle west. To the housewife, centralization and company-operated manufacturing facilities for a full line mean quicker realization of better all-electric kitchens in practically every home.

New Chemical to Be Tried on Roadside

The State Highway Department will experiment this spring in the Culpeper highway construction district with a new combination of chemicals which may speed the decay of roadside stumps and bring about sizeable savings in the cost of brush-cutting.

Chemically known as 2,4,5-T plus 2,4-D, the combination may solve a long-standing problem posed by stumps which remain after brush has been cut along a road.

In each of the State's eight highway construction districts, experimental roadside sections will be selected and the chemical compound applied shortly after the brush has been cut.

Applied by hand from a small knapsack sprayer, the chemical is said to kill the stump and cause it to decay before another brush-cutting season. Also, it will kill any smaller growth in the immediate area. If the experiments prove successful, the department said, roadside maintenance costs will be cut considerably.

Seven Long Years

YOUR DOCTOR adds at least seven years of study to his high school education. Then he spends one or more years in a hospital with little or no compensation. Is it not reasonable to believe that he is better qualified to advise you in matters of health than are your well-meaning friends who have not had this education and experience? When you do not feel well, there are two safe things to do. First, consult your physician. Then bring his prescriptions to us for compounding.

"George" doesn't do it for us!

Of all the forms of commercial transportation, only the railroads don't say, "let George do it."

Unlike their competitors... who have outgrown the "infant industry" stage, but who still rely on help from the people's tax dollars... America's self-supporting railroads pay all their own costs of doing business. And that is good news for "George."

For after all, who is this fellow "George" who is building and maintaining the highways, waterways and airways that other carriers use as a "place of business" for private gain? He is every taxpayer in America. "George" is... you!

But you don't do it for us, "George." The Southern Railway pays its own way... in the time-tested, traditional American way. It isn't easy... especially when we have to compete for business with subsidized carriers. But it's easier on you and your pocketbook, "George"! And it's better for our country, too. Because in the long run, private industries... like private citizens... must be independently self-reliant if America's greatness is to endure.
