A vital statistic report for the State of Virginia for the months of January and February, compared with the same months a year ago shows that there has been a decrease in the number of divorces from 827 to 732; a decrease in marriage licenses issued from 4,676 to 4,465; a decrease in deaths from 4,641 to 4,622 and a decrease of infants dying under one year of age from 472 to 450. Manassas is being asked by the State Highway Commission how it wants the state to fit into its street maintenance and construction program. The state may help in one of three ways, first, maintain the primary highways in town and pay the town $300 per mile yearly for maintenance, second, take over the maintenance by the state, and third, continue the present system of maintaining two miles and taking over an additional quarter mile each year. Manassas has been following the third plan.

The Chrysler Sales Corporation, of which the Wayland Motor Company in Manassas is a dealer, is announcing a nation-wide advertising campaign which includes 3,000 weekly and daily newspapers. The campaign started on May 18 and will continue through June.

Things were looking brighter at the County courthouse this week, as painters began work to give all walls in the annex a new coat of paint for Summer. Most employees looked with favor on the light, almost sea-foam green, paint being spread, but at least one, school board secretary Miss Viola Ritenour, was less than pleased. "We'll all be seasick within a week," said she.

Mrs. Mary S. DeBarnett, of Haymarket, has informed the Journal that the annual meeting of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, will be held in Boston on June 5 at which time the names of the incoming president and officers will be announced.

Possibilities of Manassas being selected as the site for a State Board of Agriculture diagnostic laboratory, proposed for Northern Virginia, will be considered next Tuesday when a three-man committee from the Board will visit here. The committee will also visit Culpeper, Orange, Warrenton and Front Royal before recommending a location on June 1 for the poultry and livestock laboratory.

The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals at Richmond ruled last week that money spent by school teachers at summer school for the purpose of renewing public school teaching certificates is properly deductible in filing Federal income tax returns.

Mrs. J. Gilbert Berry of Vienna will serve as chairman of the Children's Home Society of Virginia annual drive for funds in Fairfax County, starting May 15. The Society, an adoption agency, cared for 257 babies last year.

Osborn coach Jim Leo zigged when he should have zagged the other day and, as a result, he now has three stitches on the under side of his upper lip. The blow was delivered via a foul tip at the Osborn-Culpeper baseball game last Friday.

Charleton E. Gnad, county commissioner of revenue, is out of town this week attending a convention of Odd Fellows in Richmond.

July 4 Program At Longview Park Planned

Over 50 of Prince William County's most beautiful girls are expected to enter the Longview Park Speedway beauty contest to be held at the Speedway on the night of July 4.

A two-week vacation in New York, with all expenses paid, will be awarded the winner. Second and third place prizes of luggage and a radio will also be given. If the winner does not wish to accept the New York trip, she will receive an equivalent cash prize.

The beauty contest will be the main feature of a gala evening of entertainment, according to John T. Counts, program chairman. There will be a fireworks display, to exceed last year's $500 show, and a "name" band will be on hand to play as the contestants parade before the judges.

Tony Howard, of radio station WPKI, will emcee the evening program, and serve as a judge of the beauty contest. Other judges have not yet been selected.

Entry blanks for the beauty contest may be found elsewhere in this week's Journal. The blank should be filled in by the contestant herself, members of her family, or by friends and mailed to Longview Park Speedway, Manassas, Va. The contest is open to all ladies, single or married, between the ages of 18 and 25 inclusive. Contestants must be residents of Prince William County, or be sponsored by a resident of this County.

Open Switch

The train onto a spur track that ended at a bumper near the point where Route 625 crosses the railroad right-of-way.

The engineer told investigators that he could not discern the position of the switch at that time of night, but that he applied brakes as soon as he noticed the train was leaving the main line. The heavily-laden 26-car train had sufficient momentum to carry the locomotive and first two cars off the end of the track into the soft earth of the right of way.

Two steam-operated derricks from Alexandria reached the scene about daybreak Tuesday and cleared away the wreckage.

Construction has already begun on the Washington-Reid elementary school, following a contract award last week to Bruce-Nolan Construction Co. of Warrenton. The school is expected to be ready for classes by Fall.

Roadster Stars Here on Sun.

"DOUG" BAILEY

Next Sunday afternoon area speed fans will have an opportunity to learn why the Eastern Roadsters have been called "America's most daring and sensational racing." By popular demand they will return for another of their thrilling, minute Speed Shows.

The line-up will feature most of the top drivers, like "Doug" Bailey and cars that were on hand for the May 14 program when they shattered every existing track record. "Woody" Brougher of Pittsburgh who won the last Feature here will probably be driving a borrowed car as his powerful motor was wrecked last Sunday at Winchester. Shorty Bowers of Hagerstown last Sunday's winner and Chuck Feltenberger of Reading, Pa. will also be on hand as strong competitors for the large field of drivers who will take part in the afternoon action.

The first elimination race will get under way at 3 p. m. Daylight Saving Time and the Feature event for the fastest 16 cars will start about 4:15. There will be over 3,000 comfortable seats available in the Grandstand and popular prices will prevail.

Edwin E. Cornwell, chief forest warden of Prince William County, reports that from January through April 1950 four forest fires destroyed or damaged 30 and a quarter acres of mature and immature timber in the county. Two cases have been prosecuted for violation of the 4 o'clock brush burning law.

18 Girls Enter Centreville Queen Race

The Centreville Volunteer Fire Department's popularity contest is going ahead at a gallop, according to chairman Mrs. Thomas Clore.

Eighteen personable young ladies have been sponsored by Centreville and adjacent area merchants and there are three more yet to enter the contest which began last Friday.

From this contest the Centreville firemen hope to raise funds for the construction of a fire house, to be located on Route 28, 600 feet from the intersection with Route 29. Votes, in the form of pennies, for the "most popular" contestant are cast at the various sponsoring merchants' places of business. On June 28, the close of the contest, the girl who has received the most penny-votes will be declared winner at a dance planned for the evening.

Following is a list of contestants and their respective sponsors: Jean Fisher, Turberville's Store; Nancy Diddake, Centreville Drug Store; Sylvia Richey, McLaughlin Hardware; Carol Ann Shaffer, Annandale Cleaners; Mary Ellen Saunders, Centreville Garage; Shirley Dye Miller, Miller's Service Station; Ellen Dean, Caton's Esso; Peggy Nichols, Payne's Grocery; Katherine Knapp, King's Service Station; Margaret Royston, Centreville Restaurant; Jewell Kelson, Chantilly Fire Department; Marcelle Portney, Johnson's Store; Martha Sours, Parson Brothers Store; "Sis" Byrne, Centreville Billiard Parlor; Jane Trippett, Fairfax Police Association; Gladys Isdell, Russell's Store; Patsy Saunders, Wayside Inn; and Bessie Saunders, Mohler's Store. Three businesses, Max Wells Service Station, Artillery Hill Diner and Service Station, and Craven's Esso Service Station, have not yet selected their candidates.

hensive shops. This is the one story part of the high school. Comprehensive education shops will house equipment for primary training in wood-working, welding, carpentry and similar occupations.

Between the comprehensive shops and another small building there is a loading space through which materials and equipment may be taken into the shops. There is a wall connecting the isolated building which will house an agricultural shop. This has been provided to give instruction in the repair and maintenance of agricultural equipment.

The school structure as designed is considered to be the most modern in Virginia for the size of the area which it is supposed to serve. Considerable thought and time has gone into the development of the plans and the best educational minds of the state have contributed ideas to the architectural firm.

radio and television equipment as well as electrical household appliances.

The new service station will command an area along Highways 29 and 211 and the illuminated discs familiar to the Gulf products will be visible for miles as will a large electric Gulf sign atop the new building.

"Cen reville is growing very fast and the demand for the new service station which I have now completed has been evident for some time," said Turberville on a visit to Manassas on Tuesday. "We are so located that we can service not only the Manassas area of Prince William County and all the flow of traffic between Manassas and Washington, but we are on a direct line for the people of Gainesville, Haymarket. I shall be happy to have all my friends in both those areas come out to the opening and meet the officials of the Gulf Oil Company who will be there. We expect to have a gala time and I'll go my best to see that everyone has a chance to meet Connie B. ## -CLUBS-

The following article was prepared after the meeting of the Manassas Recreation Association on May 16th, when a permanent organization of that body was effected. Anyone who will lend a hand in preparing the recreation area on the old Fortner Estate, for use in the summer program, is requested to contact Charles Ross, of the Technical School staff. Those citizens who will lend substance to their interest and support of the program by taking out membership in the Association are asked to contact James Bradford, Jr., Chairman of the Membership Committee.

Since the May 16 meeting Ian Ross, chairman of the Manassas Recreation Association, has appointed the following persons to make a complete survey of the cost of a summer recreation program for Manassas and vicinity, including cost of supervision, equipment and other expenses: Stanley Owens, chairman, Mrs. John Gallacher, Edgar Rohr, Edward M. North and Mrs. William L. Lloyd.

RECREATION OR REMORSE?

By MRS. W. L. LLOYD

"At the end of a recent magazine article, recounting the circumstances surrounding an automobile accident which caused the tragic death of four teenagers and the serious injury of four others, appeared this statement by one of the injured survivors: 'We ain't got nothing to do in this town. Why don't they start a recreation center here for us? All there is to do is run around in cars and chase each other. This indictment might well have been made by one of our youngsters in Manassas. Are we going to wait for such a tragedy to strike our community before we act to prevent it? Are we, as civic minded parents and citizens, to shut our ears to the cry of our youth today—'We ain't got nothing to do in this town, until tragedy strikes?' A resounding 'No' was, in effect, shouted by the 50 citizens of Manassas and vicinity, who responded to the above challenge of Mr. Ian Ross, Acting Chairman of the Manassas Recreation Association, and who by virtue of their enthusiasm and determination expressed at a meeting of the Association on the evening of 16 bode well for the future of an organized community recreation program.

A spirited round table discussion of the need in the community for a comprehensive and coordinated community recreation program was participated in by Miss Marian Preece, District Representative of the National Recreation Association. Generally, the discussion centered around the need for total community planning for an on-going recreation program, using existing facilities to the utmost, volunteer leadership and professional guidance, supervision and responsibility.

Existing facilities discussed included the grounds of Osbourn High School, on which a playground for children was operated successfully last summer under the supervision of Coach Jim Lee, with the cooperation of the school and town authorities. Representatives of the Association with confer with these authorities to determine whether or not a similar program can be carried out this summer.

Discussion was also held on the use of the recreation area, consisting of some 6 acres, on the old Fortner Estate, the use of which has been offered to the Recreation Association by the Manassas Recreation Corporation, and which is now being developed by volunteers for use as a recreation area. Volunteer labor, mostly on weekends, has already laid out 2 soft ball diamonds, and request was made for more volunteer workers to assist with the raising of a shelter, the leveling off of 8 tennis courts, and the development of an area for family picnic parties. Most of the materials needed for these improvements, it was pointed out, are already on hand, but volunteers are needed to utilize these materials.

It was estimated that a minimum summer recreation program for young people could be conducted at the cost of $1,000.00, using existing facilities, for the employment of a man and a woman professional recreation leaders, and the purchase of necessary equipment such as a sand box for the tiny tots, balls and nets, bats, etc., for the older youngsters.

Details of the plans for summer program and for financing the same will be worked out by a Committee of the Association, working with the school and town authorities, civic organizations, business establishments and individual citizens. As a starter toward raising the sum needed, the general public is invited to join in this community effort by taking out membership in the Association on the basis of annual membership dues of $1.00 for the individual, $3.00 for a family group, and $5.00 and upwards for a sustaining membership.

Work will begin immediately on setting up a unified program, not only for the summer activities, but also a total program on an annual basis.

Miss Preece stated that Manassas is very fortunate in that the new Osbourn High School, now in the planning stage, can be designed for maximum use for a community recreation program, which would in no way detract from the most efficient use of the building for its primary school purposes. Among features suggested was the installation of separate heat controls for such units as cafeteria and kitchen, drama room, auditorium, music rooms and gymnasium, to permit the use of any one unit without the expense of heating the entire building. Miss Preece also emphasized that although professional leadership is essential, wide use should be made of the volunteers in the community, who are proficient in the different fields of recreation, such as art, music, nature studies, historical tours, gardening, sewing and handicrafts.

The following officers were elected, to serve until February, 1951: President, Mr. Ian H. Ross; Vice President, Mr. John H. Merchant; Secretary, Miss Elizabeth Lloyd; Treasurer, Miss Aileen Taylor; Board of Directors (senior), Mr. Roy Lilly and Mr. Stanley A. Owens; (junior) Mr. Billy Haydon and Miss Nancy Gilly.

WOMAN'S CLUB

With a record attendance of 54, the Woman's Club of Manassas held its first meeting of the new year at the Coffee Shop. In recognition of Music Week, Miss Caroline Bule, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Carper, delighted the members with a superb rendition of five numbers, including "The Little Shepherd's Song," "The Sleep That Flits on Baby's Eyes" and "Cupid Captive."

Mrs. R. E. Daffan, who with Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, attended the meeting of the State Federation of Woman's Clubs in Roanoke, reported on that convention. Her recipe for the making of a good convention: a dash of humor sifted as needed into the basic ingredients of business and inspiration, plus some art and parliamentary law, was carried out successfully at Roanoke. The program of the convention centered around the interests and business of "The Club Woman of the Mid-Century."

The Fine Arts section of the Woman's Club was honored at the convention for the third time by being placed first in the clubs of its class. A lovely framed picture was the award.

Mrs. Lloyd presented the new officers to the membership and Mrs. Daffan took the chair as president. The budget was adopted for the coming year, and the by-laws of the constitution were amended to make the president of the Junior, Woman's Club a member of the Executive Board.

Mrs. J. V. Davis presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Lloyd, with a corsage of red roses as a symbol of the club's love and appreciation of her for the work she had done so successfully this past year.

Committee chairmen were appointed as follows: program, Mrs. A. O. Beane; yearbook, Mrs. R. Worth Peters; hospitality and attendance, Mrs. J. V. Davis; historian and conservationist, Mrs. Paul Cooksey; foreign and territorial, Mrs. John Cox; membership, Mrs. J. M. Hanson; publicity and scrapbook, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd; legislative, Mrs. E. H. Marsteller; welfare, Mrs. R. Worth Peters; education, Mrs. Ossie Tipton; visiting, Mrs. C. C. Fisher; civic, Mrs. E. G. Parrish; recreation, Miss Leona Kline; library, Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson; health, Mrs. William Johnson; Fine Arts Section, Mrs. Lewis Carper; Garden Section, Mrs. Clark Wood.

A social hour followed, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The women of the Greenwich Presbyterian Church will give a birthday program for church families in the Sunday School building on June 1, at 8 p. m.

Rev. Philip A. Roberts of the Fredericksburg Presbyterian Church will speak on student work. Mr. Roberts works with the students on the Mary Washington College campus. A movie, "For God, America and Mexico," about the Tex-Mex Institute, will be presented. After the planned program there will be a fellowship of music, recreation, and refreshments for all. A special exhibit on your church colleges will be displayed.

FOR YOU

The things you loved I have not laid away
To molder in the darkness year by year;
The songs you sang, the books you read each day
Are all about me, intimate and dear.

I do not keep your chair a thing apart,
Lonely and empty, desolate to view,
But if one comes a weary, sick at heart,
I seat him there and comfort him—for you.

I do not go apart in grief and weep,
For I have known your tenderness and care;
Such memories are joy that we may keep,
And so I pray for those whose lives are bare.

I may not daily go and scatter flowers
Where you are sleeping 'neath the sun and dew,
But if one lies in pain through weary hours,
I send the flowers there, dear heart, for you.

Life claims our best; you would not have me waste
A single day with selfish, idle woe.
I fancy that I hear you bid me haste
Lest I should sadly falter as I go.

Perchance so much that now seems incomplete
Was left for me in my poor way to do.
And I shall love to tell you, when we meet,
That I have done your errands, dear, for you.

In Memory of BERNARD W. SHEPPARD who departed this life on May 22, 1949.

Why "Moose" Changed His Mind

Last week, parents were calling Moose Jackson on the phone—and kids were hooting at him in the streets. All because Moose fenced in his field near the depot, where the kids like to play ball.

Moose got sore the way folks acted—refused to budge. Then Doc Sherman, who likes to play center-field himself sometimes, decided to "use a little psychology."

Over a friendly glass of beer at Andy's Garden Tavern, Doc says, "Sorry this came up, Moose. We were thinking of asking you to umpire—what with your professional experience and all." (Moose used to play a little semi-pro ball.)

That did it! Next day Moose put up a stile over his fence. In return, the kids promised not to cause any damage. From where I sit, when you try to understand the other fellow's point of view—like his personal preference for beer or coffee—and then take into consideration the will of the majority, why, things seem to go better all around.

VFW Carnival Put Fund Drive Nearer Goal

Despite rainy and cold weather that deterred crowds from attending the Veterans of Foreign Wars Carnival held last week brought the local post $316 nearer its goal of raising $6,500 for the acquisition of an old Manassas dwelling as its new headquarters and community center.

This fact coupled with a steady flow of contributions from donors who were appealed to in a direct by mail campaign is giving encouragement to the drive leaders and hopes that additional contributions in response to the letters will come in next week are high.

While many of the contributions have been between five and ten dollars the aggregate has been up to the expectations at this time of the drive for funds, according to Archie Jordan, commander of the Francis Cannon Post, to whom checks should be sent.

Receipts are being sent to those who make donations and an accurate record is being kept of all contributions and it is expected that the names of those who give to this community cause will be inscribed upon a plaque when their new headquarters is opened.

Special emphasis is being given to the drive next week because of Memorial Day. Francis Cannon Post, whom the post is named was a Manassas boy who gave his life in the last war. The community center which the post is planning to construct will be a memorial to all boys who made the supreme sacrifice.

So far the drive has not lagged in its effectiveness but should it do so before the full amount is raised the members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars expect to go from house to house to make personal appeals to those who have held back.

The Poppy Drive this weekend is not to be confused with the fund drive. One is for the disabled soldier in government hospitals while the other is to add to the fund to give Manassas a permanent community center where not only the Veterans of Foreign Wars can have their headquarters but which will be available for other groups.

"We expect to get in touch with everyone in the county to whom we sent letters before July 1," said Archie Jordan, the commander.

"We realize that direct by mail letters are often put aside with the intention of making a reply later. Because of this fact calls are proposed in the form of reminders. We may even be able to go over the top sooner than we expected if we follow this course."

Woman Dusts 37 Rooms Daily

Thirty-five Manassas and Woodbridge women, traveling by special bus, went to Richmond on May 18 to visit the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and were amazed to find a woman dusting and cleaning 37 rooms of a house with a paint brush. And more than that she takes her house on tour of the country and has visited as many as 16 cities.

Sounds funny but it's true. The woman is Mrs. Ladusca W. Wilson, custodian of American rooms in Miniature which will be on display at the museum until June 9. The rooms which she dusts with a paint brush every day are built on a scale of one inch to a foot. She often has to use a magnifying glass to dust the children's toys in these miniature rooms.

Those who made the trip under the auspices of the Woodbridge Home Demonstration Club are: Mrs. A. Petellat, Mrs. Adkins, Miss Leona Kline, Miss Whitcraft, Mrs. Stanley Garber, Mrs. Jett, Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. William Clark, Mrs. Robt. Compton, Mrs. Piffner, Mrs. Frank Klune, Mrs. John Leary, Mrs. Thomas Pierce, Mrs. Charles Petellat, Miss Corine Fling, Miss Janice Fling, Mrs. Gordon Armstrong, Mrs. William Mays, Mrs. R. F. Hall, Mrs. Oscar Good, Mrs. Griffin, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. E. W. Thompson, Jr., Mrs. Slack, Mrs. Gilmer, Garber, Mrs. Dwyer, Mrs. Chevalier, Mrs. Seay, Mrs. Kenneth Davis, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Compton, Mrs. Muddiman.

Just as former President Roosevelt, and President Truman, left Myron C. Taylor as a personal ambassador to the Vatican despite constitutional prohibition, so has Mr. Marshall buried Sir John Dill in the face of a prohibitive law. And if the spirit prevails, a statue out of keeping with the designs of the cemetery, will be erected to command an acre of ground.

None of us objects to considerate treatment of the dead of any nationality, but our actions must be governed by existing laws concerning the dead. This episode in itself is not so important; but the elevation of private desire and wish over public sanctioned laws is important, vastly important.

I think the Manassas Journal correct in calling a halt to the manifestation of such a spirit.

JOHN D. EDENS, Pastor, Manassas Baptist Church.

Cocke's Pharmacy AND Prince William Pharmacy

Remind You That SATURDAY IS MAY 27

The tiny replicas of the Flanders Poppy were introduced 28 years ago as a symbol of the sacrifices made by our war dead . . . and as an endeavor to help the families of the valiant. Your purchase of this symbolic red flower means a smile on the face of the disabled veteran who made it for you. It is an active token of your remembrance of faith and of mighty deeds. Buy a Poppy and help a noble cause.

mentioned. This issue briefly stated is simply this: America was founded by people who were trying to get away from the military tyrannies of Europe. Our boys fought and died in the last war because of these tyrannies that had shackled people with militarism. Our governmental structure was wisely devised to keep the military out of political control, subordinate to the civilian elected leadership.

I again want to express my appreciation for your courageous stand you have taken on other issues that have a direct relation to the moral and cultural progress of our community. I refer especially to your announced policy in regard to liquor advertising. I feel that we have at last a newspaper that has caught something of its responsibility to serve and champion the best interests of the total community. Keep up the good work.

CONRAD SNAVELY, Pastor, Church of the Brethren.

Dr. John Edens Sees Danger in Dill Case

Editor, Manassas Journal: Flagrant disregard of the law by men in high and responsible positions weakens the confidence of our people in its governmental leadership, and sows the seed of totalitarian rule of force without principle. The determined effort to bury Sir John Dill, an Englishman, in the Arlington National Cemetery despite all law to the contrary reveals a spirit that will destroy, if left unchecked, constitutional government and democratic rule. Such a spirit needs to be stopped before it grows beyond control.

IT TAKES $10,000 TO PUT A MAN TO WORK

It is encouraging to note, after witnessing the kicking around suffered for the last seventeen years by everyone to the right of Mr. Justice Frankfurter, that the administration has joined the growing throng of those who are worried about small business.

Without a trace of exaggeration, small business can be called the balance-wheel of a democratic economy. Stifle small business and inevitably you end up with a dictatorship, as witness three historic instances:

In Germany and Japan, the Thyssens and the Krupps (in Europe) and the Zaibatsu (in Asia) gradually squeezed out the little man and built up a power-central that easily fell victim to conniving politicians. In Russia there was bloody revolution and subsequent nationalization of all business—large and small. In all three instances there was a cessation of individual freedom.

To get an idea of the importance of small business, look about you here in Prince William County. The common definition of a small business is one that employs fewer than 500 persons. As far as the county's labor force is concerned, there are no firms which make much of a dent in the manpower pool.

The President of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Otto Seyferth, says it takes $10,000 worth of tools and supplies to put a man to work. Big business has expanded about all it can—or will—taxation being what it is and venture capital being something less than venturesome. The responsibility for progress, expansion and continued prosperity seems to be on the small businessman—in Prince William County as elsewhere.

The latest census tells us there are some 22,384 people in the county. Figure four to a family to arrive at a figure for wage-earners; you find that some 5,600 people here must work for a living.

Because this county is in the unusual position of being partly agricultural, partly commuting, let's estimate that ten percent of the wage-earners in the county depend on local small business for their livelihood. That means there is $5,600,000 worth of capital investment hereabout in grocery stores, shoe shops, auto garages and the like.

If the county is to grow, it is reasonable to assume that the ten percent rule will continue to apply—for every forty people who move into Prince William County in the future, one wage earner will be looking for a local, small business job. Someone will have to get up the $10,000 to put him to work.

It would be proper to point out that—on the basis of the Federal Administration's past performance—venture capital will probably want to wait and see whether this expressed concern in Washington over small business is a seasonal, pre-election phenomenon or a real desire to help get the nation back on its feet.
