Kathy Watson's Fighting Spirit Helps Win Battle With Polio

"Never give up, and keep fighting" is just a cliché to most people, but friends of Kathryn Gertrude Watson know that these words can reflect a courageous attitude that has become a way of life. Even so dreadful a disease as poliomyelitis can be defeated by the kind of spirit reflected in these words. When polio struck "Kathy" Watson last August 1 she was 18 years old and preparing to enter her junior year at Quantico Post High School. At this age confinements of any kind are a sad experience. And Kathy was confronted with the thought that perhaps she would be bedridden for the rest of her life. Physicians diagnosed triple polio, which is the rarest and most severe type of the dangerous disease, and placed Kathy in an iron lung in Washington's Gallinger Hospital. As Kathy lay in the lung, the days rolled by so slowly that she became bitterly depressed. But sometime after the first several weeks Kathy must have started looking at her situation differently for she began to hate the lung and fight to escape it. And slowly she began to improve. Doctors were startled at her progress but after they had gotten to know Kathy they had changed to admiration. Kathy had just "made up her mind" that she was going to get well and that was what she was doing. Sixty-five days is a long time

Who, Me? No, You!

Day laborers employed by the Town of Manassas almost missed a Christmas last week as Town officials played pass-the-buck. Town Clerk L. Byrd, Sr., who was stricken ill Sunday a week ago was home in bed and nobody quite knew who was supposed to sign pay checks in his absence. Pay checks for the previous week, totaling about $300, were passed back and forth between Town Manager Ritter and Mayor Davis, neither of whom felt they were authorized to sign checks, while the expectant recipients stood around toiling the ground, as the close of Christmas shopping days drew near. Ritter thought Mayor Davis ought to sign the pay checks and drew up a letter for approval of Council, which he thought would authorize the Mayor to sign the checks. All Councilmen promptly signed the letter. However, the Mayor gave the letter a glance and declared it was not legal since the Town's official seal was not affixed. He refused to sign. Portions of the wording in the letter also should be revised, the Mayor declared. Ritter proceeded to compose another letter, re-wording parts of it, and affixed the official Town seal. After all Council members had signed, the Mayor consented to add his signature also, making the document official. Given their checks at last, employees then hastened to do belated Christmas shopping.

A Prayer For The NEW YEAR

"Lord, make me an instrument of Thy Peace! . . . Where there is hatred . . . let me sow love . . . Where there is injury . . . pardon . . . Where there is doubt . . . faith . . . Where there is despair . . . hope . . . Where there is sadness . . . joy! O Divine Master, grant I may not so much seek To be consoled . . . as to console To be understood . . . as to understand To be loved . . . as to love, For It is in giving . . . that we receive It is in pardoning that we are born to eternal life." Town Crime Drops From Last Year

Incidence of crime in Manassas, as reflected by the number of arrests and trials in the Mayor's court, is on the down-grade, according to figures compiled in the Town Hall this week. Complete through December 27, the figures show that there have been fewer arrests, trials, and convictions in the year ending next Sunday than there were in 1949. Town figures show only the record of misdemeanors committed within the corporate limits. Felonies appear to have been at about the same level as the previous year, as do all crimes committed outside Manassas. Town police have made 168 arrests during the current year and 169 of these were convicted in the Mayor's court. Police made 215 arrests in 1949 with 194 convictions by the Mayor. The drop of 27 in number is more than accounted for by the remarkable decrease in misdemeanors by Negro citizens of Manassas. Fifty-four Negroes were arrested in the Town during 1949, while only 11 have been arrested this year. Forty-two of the Negroes arrested last year were convicted and 10 were convicted this year. Confined in the Town Jail numbered 155 in 1949 and have dropped to 90 for this year. The only increase in Manassas police work has been in the number of police citations given for traffic violations. Police estimate that they have given about 1,000 of these. Motorists receiving tickets are supposed to pay a $1 fine, however only 14 people have paid this fine during the year now ending. Crime in the entire County is slightly higher than last year, according to Trial Justice C. Lacey Compton. But Compton attributes the increase to a greater population and says Prince William County is a rate of crime that is "good." The number of cases brought in to Trial Justice Court have just about tripled, but this is due to load violations by trucks. Almost 5,000 cases of overloaded trucks have been tried by the Trial Justice since July 1, and gross receipts, including fines and costs, have totaled more than $300,000. There has been a slight increase in civil suits, Compton said, but juvenile relations and felonious assault cases have remained at the 1949 level.

Spitler's Car Stolen By Jailbreakers

Three of four criminals who escaped from a State Road Camp prison hall in Culpeper early Wednesday morning are believed to have stolen an automobile in Nokesville and headed north. Earnest C. Spitler, pharmacist at Coker's Pharmacy, reported that his car had been stolen from in front of his Nokesville home sometime between 1 a. m. and 7:30 a. m. Wednesday. State Trooper Phil Herndon reports he is convinced the fugitives stole Spitler's car. An automobile stolen about 2 a. m. in Culpeper, shortly after the prison break, was found abandoned near Nokesville yesterday and Herndon believes the man transferred to Spitler's car. License tags had been removed from the Culpeper automobile. One of the jailbreakers was apprehended by police about nine miles from Culpeper yesterday. The other three, described as "dangerous" are still at large, and police have set up a manhunt, extending as far north as Rhode Island. The fugitives were listed as Raymond J. Blais, 24, of Pawtucket, R. I., serving a two-year term for burglary; Orvil Richards, 27, of Roanoke, sentenced to a total of 4 years for storebreaking and previous escape attempts; and Roy Allen Kelly, 22, of Wise County, who was awaiting trial on two highway robbery charges. Apprehended was Curtis B. Politz, 30, of Wise County. Four cars stood in front of the Spitler home in Nokesville on Tuesday night. One, belonging to Mrs. Alice M. Spitler, was unlocked and had keys in the ignition, but only half a tank of gas. Ernest Spitler reported. His car, also unlocked, had no keys but did have a full tank of gas. The criminals must have been waylaid by the gas for apparently they crossed the ignition wires and drove off in his 1949 black Ford coupe. Spitler told police he returned home from work at Coker's about 11:30 p. m. and left his car in front of the house as usual. It was unlocked and he carried the keys in his pocket. A brother, Allen Spitler, came home at 1 a. m. and Ernest's car was still there. Allen's car was the fourth to be parked in front of the house for the night. The men's mother, Mrs. Spitler, left the house at 7:30 a. m. and noticed that her son's car was not there. She thought probably it had left it overnight at a garage for repairs and said nothing to him. At 10:30 a. m. Earnest looked out of the window and discovered his car was missing. He phoned his mother and she told him it was gone when she left earlier. The keys had been left in her car all night, Mrs. Spitler added. Spitler immediately reported the loss to police, who began a search of the car was insured, Spitler said. Ironically, Spitler had been having trouble with a weak battery and had been unable to start the car the day before. Apparently the thief also had a gimmick for weak batteries. Spitler's car bore Virginia license tags No. 35-934 with a Richmond city tag.

14 Miles of County Roads Hard-Surfaced During 1950

Highlighting the State Highway Department's program in Prince William County during 1950 was the hard-surfacing of some 14 miles of secondary roads, Resident Engineer Richard Worthington reported this week. The new hard surface roads include three Federal aid projects—an eight mile stretch on Route 619 from Independent Hill to Bristow, a two mile section on Route 653 near Valley Church and a one mile section on Route 662 near Nokesville. In addition to the above, new hard-surfacing included sections of Route 633, Route 1104 and Route 649. The year saw also a new bridge Route 610 and two bridges in the County strengthened or given major repairs. Fourteen miles of secondary highway were stabilized to all-weather standards with the application of crushed stone, gravel and similar materials, Worthington said.

Cannon Branch Fifth Sunday Service Is Set

A fifth Sunday Night communion service will be held this Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren. A program of hymns and a pageant has been planned for the New Year's Eve Service. Ladies and girls of Cannon Branch will form the cast for a pageant depicting the 12 apostles, representing each month in the New Year. Time for the service, which will be candle lighted, is 7:30 p. m. until 9:30 p. m. The public is invited. Offering collected will be used to support the Week-day Religious Education Program in County schools. The special service, sponsored by the Manassas Ministerial Association, is held whenever a fifth Sunday occurs in a month. A different local church is host at each service.

Services Held For Mr. Lund

Funeral services for Anton Lund, 78, were held last Saturday at his home in Buckhall. Mr. Lund died on December 21. The Rev. F. L. Baker, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, Manassas, officiated at the services. Assisting was Rev. O. R. Keener, Pastor of the United Brethren Church in Inwood, W. Va. Although Mr. Lund had been in ill health for several months, death came unexpectedly, his wife said. Born in Bornholm, Denmark in 1872, Mr. Lund came to this country at the age of 21. He moved to Prince William County in 1914 and had been engaged in farming here since that time. He was a member of Grace Methodist Church. Mr. Lund is survived by his wife, the former Miss Elsie S. Evans of Manassas, whom he married September 3, 1927, and by a son, Allan F. Lund of Manassas. Three sons by a previous marriage survive: Herman F. Lund of Indianapolis, Ind.; Arthur Lund of Bran's Road, Md.; Chester Lund of Lynchburg, Va. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Katherine Bedger, Miss Samne Lund, Mrs. Maria Hansen, all of Bornholm, Denmark, and six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Pallbearers were Messrs. Randolph Eagle, V. H. Eagle, Robert Hooley, C. Rodgers, R. C. Powell, and Warren Coleman.

Wage Boosts Announced By Virginia Gas

Wage and salary increases for all employees of Virginia Gas Distribution Corporation were announced this week, following a meeting of the Board of Directors in Staunton. Office and supervisory employees of the network of natural gas distribution companies will receive salary boosts of nine per cent of their present salaries. The new pay level will become effective sometime next spring, according to company officials. A pay raise of six per cent will be retroactive to October 1, 1950 and will be observed until the nine per cent raise is enacted. Operating personnel will receive across-the-board wage increases of 7 cents per hour, retroactive to October 1, 1950. Effective May 1, 1951, operating personnel will receive an additional increase of 5 cents per hour. Other companies in the Columbia Gas System network which also will benefit from the higher salaries are American Utilities Co., United Fuel Gas Co., Virginia Gas Transmission Co., Atlantic Seaboard Corp., and Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co.

County Road Load Limits Due in Spring

Emergency load restrictions will likely be placed on many State roads when warmer weather brings a thawing of deep frost now in the ground over most of Virginia, the State Highway Department announced this week. By posting the light duty roads against heavy trucks, the Highway Department hopes to minimize road break-ups which might follow a sudden thaw. The restrictions would apply mostly to secondary roads and light duty primary roads, the department said. Every effort will be made to retain the present limits of 20 and 25 tons on the heavy-duty interstate and intercity routes. Most US-numbered roads are in this category. The department's eight district engineers have been authorized to post the routes in their respective areas if and when restrictions become necessary. All but the strongest secondary routes would be posted for eight tons gross weight. Lightly surfaced primary roads would be restricted to eight or twelve tons. The district engineers have been instructed to impose restrictions as soon as they observe signs of softening or other symptoms of unusual road conditions. Continued on Page 8

Steps To Curb Swine Disease Are Discovered

A question frequently asked by swine raisers, "How can I guard against losses brought on by swine enteritis," was answered this week by the American Foundation for Animal Health. Seven steps to help curb enteritis losses were suggested by Foundation authorities: 1. Isolate newly-purchased swine from the home herd for at least three weeks, until they are known to be free of disease. 2. Control internal and external parasites which weaken the animal's resistance. 3. Keep swine away from old hog pens, contaminated pastures, cow pens, stagnant pools and other sources of infection. 4. Keep feeding and watering equipment clean. 5. Check rations carefully especially possible deficiency of B-complex vitamins. Prevent over-eating of rich concentrates and their litter to identify and weed out sow carriers. 6. Watch for scouring, loss of weight, and failure to convert feed into gains. At first sign of trouble, a diagnosis and isolate the ailing animals from apparently healthy ones. Actually, swine enteritis is not a "new" disease. It covers a dozen different infections and disorders. Causes and symptoms vary so much that a veterinary diagnosis, herd survey and study of feeding and management practices may be necessary to stop a suspected outbreak authorities said. Enteric diseases not only cause heavy death losses, according to the Foundation, but often leave pigs in such a condition that they may never gain properly.

Brick, Beer Can Soar; Sinclair, Davies Victim

Festive spirits, as everybody knows, soar high during holiday seasons, but usually you don't expect anything more material than spirits to go soaring. In Manassas it's different. A festive brick soared through the living room window of Judge Arthur W. Sinclair last Monday night. The Judge had retired for the night and was rudely awakened about 11:30 p. m. as the missile crashed through his window pane and fell into the living room. Judge Sinclair didn't even bother to report the incident to police. Probably kids, he thought. Anyway it was only a half-brick. Asked if some criminal convicted in his court might be taking a spiteful view of legal procedure, the Judge replied, "I hope not." About the same time someone tossed an empty beer can through the office window of Attorney H. Davies, Sr. Davies, who didn't report the attack, said he had no idea who might have been fighting outside on the corner of Grant and Lee Streets. Davies thought, and the broken window resulted from air spilling by festive spirits. "I hope all who believe in a strong Chamber of Commerce for this County will attend next Tuesday's meeting and help us get off to a good start for the New Year," he added.

Christmas Window Prize Given Fisher Hardware

Fisher and Son Hardware Store won first prize for the best Christmas decoration for store windows, judges announced this week. Second and third place went to the Martha Shop and Hynson Electric Supply Co., respectively. Judges, a committee from the Manassas Garden Club, reported that business windows were unusually beautiful and showed a lot of planning and work. Honorable mentions were received by Rohr's 5 cents to $1 Store, and the Bouquet Mart.

Harris Speaks At Regional Sports Dinner

Thomas Harris, football coach at Virginia Union University, was guest speaker at the annual Regional High School football banquet, held at the school last week. Successful athletic activities require quick thinking and mental and physical development, Harris told the football players, as he urged them to plan for success. Eugene Skinner, an alumnus of Regional, was pointed out by Harris as a gridiron star. Skinner played center on the 1950 Virginia Union team. Regional High School players receiving football letters were: Harold Fletcher, Donald Byrd, Edwin Terrell, Roosevelt Jackson, Jack Gaines, Melvin Brown, Eugene Johnson, and Morris Mitchell. Ryland Brown, Carl Naylor, John Alexander, Trigg Cheek, and Leslie Coates. The letters were presented to the athletes by Regional coach Donald Witten and C. N. Bennett, principal of Regional High School, introduced the speaker.

Nokesville

By Mrs. Fred Shepherd This will be our last news column from Nokesville in this year, 1950. But we'll be back each week during the coming year. We've really enjoyed coming into your homes each week with some of the news about the many interesting things we folks in Nokesville are doing each week. Our reward for the hours spent in "doing" the news comes to us many times as our readers either write or tell us how much they enjoy reading "us" each week. You folks around Nokesville, be sure to plan to read the old year by attending the Community service at the school auditorium on Sunday night, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The program is being given by the young people of the district but is for everyone. The offering will go for religious education in our school. The regular meeting of the PTA was one of the most successful held for many months. The auditorium was packed with the children of the school, their parents and their friends. The program featured a trumpet solo of Christmas carols by Connie Shepherd, accompanied by Miss Nancy Sonafank and Willard Chastain, songs by the boys' and girls' Glee Club and a Christmas dramatization of the Christmas Story, with narration by. County Agent

By CHARLES L. HALL, Jr.
Assistant County Agent

Beginning in January on each Tuesday and Wednesday nights, there will be a maintenance school conducted at the Nokesville High School. This school which was arranged by P. B. Reading, Agricultural Instructor and by Harry Swain, Veterans' teacher, will be conducted by the different tractor dealers of the county. There will be two nights given to each make of tractor and practical on the farm maintenance will be demonstrated on tractors brought to the school shop by the tractor dealers. There will be no cost for this instruction, since it has been made available solely as an aid to you. Everyone is invited to come every night or as often as he likes. I believe that although most of us know quite a lot about machinery that much can be learned at these sessions.

Another meeting that may prove interesting to some farmers in the county, has come to my attention. The annual meeting of the Virginia Aberdeen Angus Association will be held beginning at 10:30 a.m. in the Monticello Hotel, Charlottesville, Virginia on Saturday, January 6th, 1952. It looks like a very good meeting has been planned with some very good speakers on the program.

A series of meetings dealing with new seed laws has been slated for next month over the state. The meeting for this district will be held in Front Royal on January 3. Seed dealers and growers, and interested farmers are invited to attend this meeting which will highlight some of the most informed speakers on seed certification in the state. Anyone interested in seed certification should attend this meeting.

Word has been received that plans are now available for a new type of feed rack which is supposed to reduce feed wastage to a minimum. The rack which will accommodate 12 animals at one time, can either be made portable or can be attached permanently in the feed barn. A "V" arrangement prevents spilling or waste of feed. Hay, silage, or concentrates can be fed in the rack. Anyone interested in obtaining a copy of these plans, let me know and I will secure you a copy.

Virginia again this year won the corn war with North Carolina. Virginia's yield was 49 bushels per acre—up 49.4 per cent over the official base for the contest (1940-1949); and North Carolina's was 37 bushels per acre—an increase of 44.5 per cent. Both states gained two bushels per acre over last year. A percentage basis was used this year in determining the corn war winner. Last year's contest was based on "actual bushel-per-acre" increase.

Behind Virginia's record come some interesting stories. For instance, in Goochland County, a woman topped the corn growers. The first of her sex to lead a county list; since the 100-bushel corn clubs got under way. Mrs. Jane Saunders.

the young owner of "Tuckahoe Point" obtained a yield of 149.14 bushels per acre.

Another unusual feature of this year's corn program was—$5 a bushel corn. That's what the champion bushel brought at the 100-bushel-per-acre corn club banquet in Roanoke County recently. Mills in the county paid a total of $363.75 for 21 bushels of corn at the banquet—$55 being paid for the top bushel.

The results of the Prince William 100-bushel contest will be announced soon, and I believe that you will agree that the results here in the county will prove to be right on top with other counties over the state.

TEN IMPORTANT ETIQUETTE CHANGES LISTED BY EMILY POST'S ASSISTANT

Anne Kent, personal assistant to Emily Post for more than 15 years, has listed for the December issue of Cosmopolitan magazine the ten most important changes in etiquette. Here they are:

1. First-name calling. Miss Kent finds no fault with this practice in circles where it is taken for granted. She says that position and age should be respected, and children shouldn't call adults by their first names.
2. Trousers on women. "Slacks are not incorrect dress for areas, spots, and lounging at home," says this expert. "But are improper for city wear. Of course," she adds, "some women are mistaken to wear them."
3. The younger set (past eighteen) after midnight. The modern young woman and her young man head for home alone or with other young friends, stopping off for a late snack.
4. Posture. "I don't believe we should revert to the ramrod stiffness required when our grandmothers were young women," says Miss Kent, "but a little more gracefulness of posture would eliminate a great American eyecore."
5. The typewriter supersedes the pen. The typewriter for personal correspondence is now not merely approved but favored. Formal notes, such as answers to formal invitations, should be penned by hand. And letters of sympathy seem warmer and more sincere if handwritten.
6. Manners after divorce. Years ago, divorced couples shunned each other. But today many of them remain good friends or, at least, on speaking terms.
7. Women and nicotine. Sherry's, famous old New York society restaurant, forbade any woman to light a cigarette on the premises. The modern woman reaches for a cigarette almost whenever or wherever she has the whim.
8. Calling on new neighbors. This old American custom is vanishing, a casualty of World War II. Miss Kent believes that "people's instinctive kindness will eventually bring back the courtesy call."
9. Buffet meals replace big dinners. The modern hostess who gives a dinner party can prepare ahead of time, relax, and ask the guests to help themselves.
10. The decline of chivalry. Since gaining a more equal status with men, women no longer expect deference as the "weaker" sex. Unless she's infirm or elderly, the modern woman must hustle for a seat on the subway. And that old hats-off-in-elevator rule has been completely revoked in business-building elevators. According to Miss Kent, feminine independence has been paid for out of the currency of male chivalry. And many a woman seems to believe the purchase isn't worth the price.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

By RUTH G. DUFFY, Manager
Alexandria Social Security Office
How long do I have to work before I can receive social security? When can I get it? How much will I get? These are questions frequently asked at the Social Security Office.

Under the old Social Security law a person had to work about half the time from 1937 until he reached age 65, or died, in order to be insured. However, if he worked at least ten years, he would be insured regardless of whether he worked half the time before age 65 or death. This has been changed under the new law. Everybody has been given a new starting date. Instead of 1937 the new starting date will be January, 1951. Therefore, any person who works one-half the time from January 1951 and the date he reaches age 65, or dies, will be insured.

Now here is a good feature of the new law. Any work you have done up to this time will count toward the time required after January 1951. For example, let us assume that you will not reach age 65 for another ten years. To be insured, you would have to work half the time between January 1951 and the date you reach age 65. Since there would be ten years in that period, you would need five years of work. Any work that you have already done would count toward the five years.

The least amount of work anyone can have and qualify for social security benefits is a year and a half. The most that is required is ten years. Any worker who reaches age 65 or dies before July 1, 1954 will be insured if he has at least one and one-half years of work.

Social Security benefits are payable only at age 65 or death. If a worker has been employed "or a sufficient length of time to be insured he can start drawing social security benefits at age 65 provided he does not earn more than $90 a month on jobs covered by the program. These benefits are payable for the remainder of his life. When a person reaches age 75 there is no limit on the amount of his earnings. In other words he can receive his benefits regardless of how much he earns.

American inventive and manufacturing genius have produced almost everything needed or wanted except a bed long enough for a tall man to sleep comfortably in. —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Jewell Dickerson, Mr. Clinton DeBuck was at the piano. Preceding the program, Mrs. Ralph Spears had charge of a short business session. The Association decided to make a donation to the TB Seal 8-1- and to give $10 to help with the Annual. The project committee's report showed what plans are underway to put a drinking fountain in the gym and to sand the auditorium floor during the holidays. Mrs. Wade Whetzel's second graders won the banner for the largest attendance of parents. After the program, Mrs. Everett Kline's first graders, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald and Mrs. Avery Carter and Terry of L. K. Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Shepherd and the children spent Christmas Day with Mrs. Shepherd's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Johnson of Beacon Hill Farm, near Leesburg. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fleischman of Bridgewater and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Restuccia of Ruthertford, N. J. spent the Christmas holidays with the Rev. Mr. Fleischman and family. Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Nolley of Bridgewater are visiting the Nolleys for part of the holidays, and later this week will go to Mrs. Nolley's home. Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Landas are taking all their many friends who made Christmas so joyful for them by presenting them with a large supply of all kinds of groceries and household supplies.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Theimer have moved into the farm owned by Dr. E. H. Marsteller. Mr. Theimer will run the farm and the dairy.

Mr. Ernest Maust of Long Island, N. Y. spent Christmas with his sister, Mrs. Olive M. Hooker. Mrs. Hooker and all her family with her on Christmas night, with Bernice getting home from Richmond for Christmas night supper. Anna and Mary had come home from their respective colleges.

The W. R. Free "pond" is affording many hours of real pleasure to all the ice skating enthusiasts. Nearly every night a large number of our local folks skate for several hours. It's been quite a few years since the pond has been open to the public to skate on, and they are really making good use of it.

The Ted Shepherds, the Fred Shepherds and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Seese of Falls Church were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Max Shepherd in Manassas.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Godfrey entertained Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilkins, and Peggy, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Michael and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and Mr. and Mrs. David Miller on Sunday night in honor of their 14th wedding anniversary. The evening was climaxed by very delicious refreshments served by the hostess.

Christmas Day dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilkins were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hebley of Glen Echo, Md., Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Godfrey and Shirley and Mrs. Aurora Showalter.

The Valley folks carried out a complete surprise when they planned a shower for the Fleischmans on Sunday night after their Christmas Service. The young folks of the church gave a wonderful Christmas program, and was well attended. With Mr. and Mrs. Fleischman were Mr. and Mrs. Restuccia, who also shared in the joy of the occasion. The Fleischmans have enjoyed so much the showers given by both of their churches.

It was good to see Mrs. Carl Miller well enough to be out again just a few days before Christmas. It was the first she had been out for three weeks.

The S. G. Whetzel, Sr., entertained their entire family at dinner on Christmas Day. The Whetzels completed just before Christmas extensive remodeling of their home at Aden.

Miss Vera Sonafrank entertained the members of her Sunday School class and their guests at a Christmas party at the Sonafrank home on Friday night.

Miss Marian Poole spent a few hours with the Bowman-Shepherd-Whetzel families on Christmas Day. It was her first visit home since the first of November when she went to Children's Hospital for three months' training.

George Croushorn is spending the entire Christmas holiday with his parents. George usually works at the restaurant near the University of Maryland, where he is attending school, but during the holidays the restaurant was closed so that everyone could go home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hale entertained Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hale and family, Mr. and Mrs. Conway Owens, Jr., and son, Mr. and Mrs. LeWine Kerlin, the Rev. L. W. Briggs and Mrs. Griggs and little Judy House at their annual Christmas dinner on Sunday. Little Judy and Joe Hale went back on Tuesday with the LeWine Kerlins for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wood had their entire family, with the exception of William Wood, home with them for Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hale spent Christmas Day with Mrs. Hale's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. Troland of Fredericksburg.

After a full evening of caroling all over the community a large group of young people gathered at the George Sonafrank home for refreshments on Christmas eve. One of the many treats the young people enjoyed during their visits into many homes was a Dutch Christmas carol, sung for them by Mrs. Van Manen at Aden.

About fifty of the Metacost folks met at the Firehall on Monday night for a Fellowship supper and to have a "pounding" for their new minister and his family, the Rev. L. W. Griggs. The evening was enjoyed by all who came.

Four generations were represented at the George Sonafrank home for Christmas Day dinner. Mrs. C. M. Bively and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sonafrank and son, Allen, from Manassas were their guests.

One would be hard put to find a plum pudding, but that's no matter, for there are fruits aplenty to make up this lack. Homemade plum pudding is an unusual holiday dessert in America. If you would like to try making plum pudding at home, make a large recipe, for plum pudding keeps well, and the effort is no greater for a large batch than a small one. You can make plum puddings long before New Years and then steam them to reheat for serving.

WHITE PLUM PUDDING

2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup white raisins
1/2 cup chopped, candied orange peel
1/2 cup chopped lemon peel
1/2 cup chopped citron
1 cup chopped blanched almonds
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup chopped suet
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring extract
1/2 cup sour milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Sift together flour, soda, and salt. Add fruits and nuts. Beat eggs and add sugar, beating until fluffy. Add suet and bread crumbs. Mix smooth. Add flavoring extracts. Add flour mixture alternately with milk and lemon juice to egg and sugar mixture. Pour five one-pint greased pudding molds or in well-floured pudding bags. Steam small puddings two hours, larger ones three hours. Make five puddings, about 1/2 pound each.
HARD SAUCE
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon flavoring extract.
Cream butter or margarine light and fluffy. Add sugar beat well. Add flavoring.

the cathartic habit

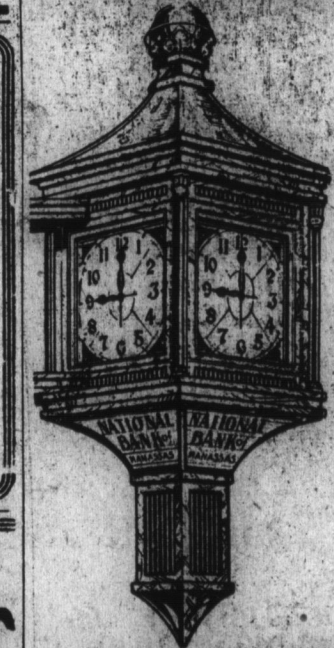

Too many people are influenced by stories concerning "intestinal cleanliness" or "stimulating the flow of bile." Many cases of simple constipation do not require a laxative at all, but only a minor change in diet and habit.

The habitual use of cathartics is dangerous. Such misuse is often followed by chronic ill health. Strong laxatives are particularly dangerous when taken to relieve abdominal distress. The source of the pain should always be accurately determined by your physician. The safe procedure is to consult him. If a laxative is needed, he will prescribe a safe preparation with proper instructions for dosage. Then bring your prescription to us for expert compounding.

Exceptional opportunity for qualified girls

TO GET THE FINEST PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION IN THE WORLD!

Do you want a career in your own town—or any where you would like to go—that offers prestige, opportunity for advancement, financial security, personal satisfaction? Nursing offers all these things—plus a splendid professional education, a chance to meet and work with some of the finest people you'll ever know. This year a selected group of young women will begin their education for this proud profession. You can be one of them—if you act now!

If you are a normal, healthy girl, a high school graduate and over 18, you can probably meet the entrance requirements for your local School of Nursing. You will receive an education that will be useful all your life!

NURSING—A CAREER WITH A FUTURE FOR YOU!

As a graduate nurse, you will have your choice of many different fields—hospital service, doctors' offices, public health, airlines, industry, foreign service, the Federal services. And when you marry and have a family, you will use your knowledge of child care, nutrition and psychology every day. Nursing is a profession which you can follow profitably all your life or to which you can always return. Your education will help you all your life—no matter where you go or what you do.

Nursing is not for every girl. A nurse must be loyal, faithful, sympathetic and intelligent. She must be quick with her hands, and gentle. She must love people and want to understand and help them.

IF YOU ENROLL NOW—

before classes are filled—you may enter the school of your choice. Go to your local hospital and talk to the Director of Nurses. She will be glad to answer your questions about nursing and tell you where to apply.

Got any money-making ideas?

AREN'T YOU thinking of a new gadget or way to make your life easier and life more enjoyable?

Well, go ahead and work it out. Maybe you'll strike it rich with such an idea—if it's really good. And more power to you.

But at the same time—just in case—shouldn't you do this?

Start buying U.S. Savings Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan.

They pay you $4 for every $3 invested, within ten short years—and no work, no trouble. The whole thing's completely automatic.

All you do is tell the cashier where you work to tuck away so much money for you each payday. You just keep getting the Bonds—the Bonds keep getting worth more, day by day.

Pretty soon, you're well on the way to financial security. And if, in the meantime, you should strike it rich—well, would having some extra money do you any harm?

School busses and local milk trucks will be exempt from all restrictions, a spokesman said. Special permits will be issued to allow the movement of other emergency or critically-needed materials.

Frost ranging to more than six inches has been reported in many areas of the State. Following a thaw, road bases will become soft and heavy loads could cause widespread damage, according to highway engineers.

In the winter of 1947-48, quick thaws which followed a long, deep freeze caused damage estimated in millions of dollars because of continued severe weather, one engineer commented. "A great deal of frost is in the ground. Even under normal conditions, this would constitute a serious problem. Because of the present international situation and almost certain abnormal demands on materials and manpower, the problem may become critically acute."
