Two Manassas Women Hurt In Car Accident

Two Manassas women were injured in an automobile accident on route 50 Tuesday afternoon as they were returning home from work in Washington. The injured are Mrs. Julia Cross and Mrs. Ruth Rogers.

Two other persons in the car, Miss Edith Bridwell, driver, and Mrs. John Parrish, also of Manassas, were not injured. The accident occurred on route 50 two miles east of Fairfax Courthouse around 5:30 p. m.

According to Mrs. Rogers, the car skidded on the wet pavement, swerved toward an approaching car, then swung back into a ditch on the right hand side of the road.

Mrs. Cross suffered a broken collarbone. She was treated at Arlington hospital before being released. Mrs. Rogers suffered minor cuts and a bruised ankle.

The car, a 1949 Pontiac, belongs to Miss Susan Harrison, also of Manassas. Miss Harrison teaches school in Washington, and during the summer months, she lends the car to the commuting group. She was not a passenger in the car yesterday.

Temple School Will Open On September 17

The Temple School, which has been in operation here for the past 21 years, will begin its 22nd session on September 17th. It was announced today by Mrs. Margaret T. Hopkins.

She will be ably assisted in the operation of the school by Mrs. Frances Ellis and Mrs. Eunice McCannah.

Registration for the fall term will begin on Monday, September 10th. Pupils will be accommodated for nursery and primary grades.

County Pasture Program Gets State and National Recognition

Progress of Prince William County in the pasture development program is attracting both state and national recognition.

The county's program, which got under way last year and continued more intensively this year, has been recommended as a guide to other counties just starting the pasture project as proclaimed by Governor Battle.

W. A. Minor, assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture and speakerhead of the National Grasslands Program, visited the county and was impressed with the program.

The special pasture edition of the Manassas Journal in March received wide publicity and copies were recently distributed by the V. P. I. Extension to all Virginia counties.

The tour to the Middleburg Pasture Research Station, sponsored by the Prince William Pasture Club last Friday, proved both interesting and educational to the farmers attending. The many grass and legume pasture experimental plots were inspected, and the value of ladino clover as a part of pasture mixtures was evident in all the experiments, particularly in building up the carrying capacity and palatability of pastures.

Scoring Pastures
The pasture programs of members of the Prince William Club are now being scored and the two top farms in each county subdivision will be chosen, following which the three farms having the best pastures will be selected from the district winners at the time of a county tour about the middle of September.

Signs, painted green on white and lettered "This Farm Is a Part of the County Pasture Program" are now being placed at the farms of those participating.

Many farmers are at present making preparations for renovating old pastures or seeding new ladino and grass pastures during the next two weeks, or as soon as needed rains making working the ground possible.

The Middleburg tour was appropriately timed by the County Pasture Committee, coming as it did just before time for making late summer establishing of improved ladino-grass pastures.

The county pasture program is a cooperative effort of the County Pasture Committee, and representatives of all local agricultural agen-

Freak Storm Damages Homes, Phone And Power Lines

High Winds Uproot Trees Damaging Several Homes

A sudden storm accompanied by high winds struck Manassas and the surrounding area Tuesday afternoon causing considerable damage. Power and telephone lines were temporarily put out of order for several hours. A number of trees were blown over by the high-velocity winds.

Board Okays Jail Plans At Meeting Today

Prince William's new jail moved a step closer to reality this morning when the County Board of Supervisors in a special meeting unanimously approved preliminary plans and specifications.

The Board met with M. F. Page, representative for the J. R. Williams Co., Architects, Engineers and Associates, of Marion, Va., and took a final peek at the preliminary plans before taking action.

Page will now start work on the final plans and specifications which he hopes to present to the Board within 120 days. Tentative plans call for the advertising of bids around the first of the year. Construction work may possibly begin in the spring if enough reinforced concrete can be obtained and the building will be finished in the late fall of next year.

Page again advised the Board that the building as approved will cost approximately $75,000, not including mattresses and kitchen equipment. He stated his estimate on the jail that his company constructed at Front Royal.

Reuben Hicks, REA manager reported that two phase wires, each carrying 2300 volts, were blown against one another at the corner of Center and N. West streets cutting off power in Manassas. In order to restore service, all power in Manassas was shut off about 40 minutes. REA also received about six calls from individual homes in the county where power had been impaired.

He explained that many such cases are the result of the wires not being cleared of trees. He urged that property owners allow the power companies to clear certain trees in order to establish the best possible service and prevent the lines from being damaged.

Central-Mutual Telephone Company reported that ten phones were thrown out of order because of the storm. Eight of the repairs were in the county with one in Manassas and one in Yorkshire. Stewart Vetter, telephone company spokesman, reported that all the lines were back in normal service by 8:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Bound Over To Grand Jury

Roy A. Wright, Jr., Dumfries deputy sheriff, was bound over to the grand jury today by Trial Justice Lacey Cockerille. Wright was turned over on a charge of felonious shooting.

According to testimony, Wright was charged because of the shooting of a Quantico marine. The marine entered the property of Wright on the night of July 29 in search of a friend. Wright apparently mistaking him for a housebreaker, shot him in the leg. There were no charges pressed against the marine.

Marines Clamp Lid On School

A new federal law may overload Prince William public schools to even a greater degree than already anticipated. The new law is expected to boost attendance at two schools in the lower end of the county by over one hundred pupils.

J. M. Garber, county school superintendent, released a statement this morning saying that the new law closes the Quantico post school to families coming under certain provisions.

New Teachers For Regional High School

C. N. Bennett, principal of Manassas Regional High School, announced the addition of four new teachers for the fall term. The 1951-52 school year begins September 6. Students will register at this time.

The new teachers are: Irvin W. Brown, mathematics; Miss Arneatha Jones, art and social science; Mrs. Celestine H. Johnson, visiting teacher; and Miss Manavea L. Rice, commercial education.

The following are returning faculty teachers: Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Alsop, Mrs. N. S. Vaughn, P. W. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Short, Miss Elira A. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shannon, Donald L. Witton, Miss Evelyn V. Fields and Mrs. Dorothy H. Hall.

Also Mrs. Mary W. Fields, Miss Clara Coles, Miss Cassie B. Warrington, Mr. Cleopatra W. Branson, George W. Witt, H. P. Johnson, Miss Helen L. Harrison, Mrs. Roberta Barnes, Mrs. M. W. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bennett.

In addition, Maceo Lomax, David Coleman, William Burrell, Miss Bertha Chambers, Mrs. Jeanette Williams and Harry Thompson.

Miss Viola Rittenour of Manassas has replaced Mrs. Vivian Woods, also of Manassas, as secretary in the superintendent of schools office. Miss Rittenour formerly was employed by Bennett School as secretary. Mrs. Woods will continue with the school board on a part-time basis.

Virginia Polen Dies

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. today for Mrs. Virginia May Polen, wife of Morris Polen, Manassas, at the Sudley Methodist Church with the Rev. Clark Wood officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Polen, 62, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Virginia Parks, Manassas, Tuesday morning. Besides her husband, she is survived by eleven children.

County Fair Opens Today

All roads lead to the Prince William County Fair this week.

The fairgrounds at Longview Park Speedway was a beehive of activity this morning as officials and exhibitors put the finishing touches on their displays and exhibits. The weather, clear and cool, was ideal for opening day with indications for the exposition which continues through Saturday night.

Two huge tents were the main center of attraction as the Journal reporter visited the grounds early morning. One large spread of canvas, 60x240, was fast taking on color and interest, with the varied displays of canned goods, flowers, garden produce and scores of commercial exhibits. Officials were busy listing entries of which were scheduled to be in their respective places for judging by 11 a. m.

Another large tent, 60x240, was a bustle of activity as livestock and poultry rolled in by trucks and pleaded in their respective stalls. The younger exhibitors were especially busy grooming their livestock.

Still another tent revealed other livestock entries, such as swine and sheep.

The midway, although rather silent with most of the equipment still wrapped in canvas, looked as if it was ready to break forth any minute with noise and music to entertain the large crowds expected to attend.

Judging will get under way at 2 p. m. today with the judging of farm produce, homemakers exhibits, poultry and rabbits.

This will be followed by the judging of beef and dairy cattle in the 4-H and FFA classes on Friday afternoon. Final judging will take place Saturday a. m.

Big Grandstand Show
As an outstanding grandstand attraction, the fair officials have booked a "Hillbilly Revue" for showing in front of the grandstand Friday and Saturday nights.

On Friday night Connie B. Gay will present "Grandpa Jones and the Town and Country Show," as seen on WMAL-TV, and starring in person - Connie Gay, Ramona, Chubby Wise, Grandpa Jones, Joe Wheeler, Billy Grammer and Buck Ryan.

On Saturday night Connie B. Gay will feature another headline in "Bill Franklin and the Skyline Boys," famous recording artists of radio station WFMD.

Without a doubt, this second annual exposition promises to be the biggest and best yet.

Guard Loses First Man To Draft Board

Progress in forming Manassas second National Guard unit is coming along without favorable progress. At one time, the Guard had one man signed up and two interested, but even this interest has waned.

Paul A. Mose, the only man to be sworn in, has been sworn not since his draft board would not give him a release. Billy Johnson was also interested, but the draft board likewise turned thumbs down on a release.

A third man, Everett L. Alvey of Catharpin, showed interest in joining if he could swing his release from the inactive reserves. This was done but then Alvey decided not to join the guard since he did not contemplate being in this area in the near future. Alvey who graduated from V. P. I. in June, 1950, holds a reserve 2nd Lieutenant commission.

The Guard is holding regular Thursday night meetings at the American Legion Hall in Manassas, and anyone interested in obtaining information about the National Guard is urged to contact Major Robert Urbach at this time.

Swim Sessions Attract Over 72 Youngsters

The Swim Week program of the Manassas Recreation Association was a great success according to all reports received from the enthusiastic youngsters who took part in it last week, Monday through Friday at the Middleburg Community Center.

During the 5 day period there were 363 admissions, an average daily attendance of over 72. This average was larger by 20 than that of any other group conducting swimming classes at the pool this summer.

The program was offered to the boys and girls of the Manassas area without cost, and was made possible through the cooperative efforts of several local people, and others. The use of the pool for 2 hours daily was granted without cost by the Middleburg Community Center; the County School Board permitted the group to use a school bus for transportation.

Miss Marie House, director for girls, of the summer program, was assisted in instructing by Phillip Collier and Robert Fletcher, lifeguards at the pool, and the following volunteers from Manassas, who assisted with the beginners classes: Mrs. Ralph Hesse, Mrs. John Galleher, and Misses Kay Hesse, Lou and Susan Galleher, Ann Walser Ratcliffe, and Shirley Barron. The 60-capacity bus proved to be inadequate for transporting the group on several days, when Mrs. Jack Ratcliffe, Mrs. Paul Arrington, Mrs. Hesse and Mrs. Galleher came to the rescue with their own cars.

Tenant House Fire Kills Baby

A nine-month-old baby was suffocated and burned to death last Friday when fire swept the home of Preston Washington 2 miles north of Manassas.

The baby, Jerry McKinley Washington, colored, died when his older sister could not reach him because of the intense heat. Both the mother and father were in Washington where they are employed during the day.

According to the Washington children, one of the boys was playing with the wood stove in the kitchen when it became overheated and spread to the rest of the house. The house is located on the John Barrett farm on route 234 next to the Manassas Airport.

Rohr and Davis Re-elected To Fire Department Posts

EDGAR E. ROHR
President

RAYMOND J. DAVIS
Fire Chief

The Manassas Volunteer Fire Department held its annual election of officers Monday night and unanimously re-elected Edgar E. Rohr as president and Raymond J. Davis as chief.

Other officers re-elected to succeed themselves were: Warren Coleman, secretary-treasurer; W. Sedrick Saunders, assistant chief; Charles Mathias, second lieutenant; James Barron was elected captain and Floyd Vetter, first lieutenant.

Although there were no official reports read, the department has had a most successful year and equipment and personnel is at a high state of efficiency.

Rohr is entering upon his third year as president and Davis is beginning his fifth year as chief. For Coleman it is his 18th consecutive term as secretary-treasurer.

This 'n That

The Centerville Volunteer Fire Department has sent out a letter thanking to those who contributed toward the success of their recent charity contest. Accompanying letter is a copy of the department's by-laws and a financial statement which shows a profit of $17.90 from the contest. Delivery of the new fire engine is expected about 90 days.

An interesting piece of advertising is the letter and menu received from Knott's Berry Farm. The letter states that Knott's Berry Farm, located at Buena Park, California, was a recent visitor there. The letter states that Knott's Berry Farm, located at Buena Park, California, was a recent visitor there. Business notes . . . Good luck much success to Mason P. Mayhugh and Richard E. Watts who are the new owners of Hibbles, an appliance firm, which will be operated as Mayhugh and Watts . . . the same goes for the owners of The Martha Shop who have opened a new shop nearby Warrenton.

Glances . . . Gene Worley eating lunch . . . Mrs. R. P. Powell taking a bit tired after working at a booth at the fair . . . Rev. Aubrie Brown back from legion convention and now talking about vacation . . . carpenters adding the noise and confusion at the fair . . . Mrs. Viola Profitt taking a driving lesson.

Feather in his hat . . . Edgar Garber has purchased another antique automobile bringing his total eleven. The car, a 1910 Buick convertible, is in good running condition with good tires. A new paint job should add the finishing touches, Garber reports. The car originally sold for $1050 new.

The Lions recently did yeoman work in cleaning up the Community Recreation Park. But some persons will continue to abuse the privileges of this picnic spot. One of the members found a dead cat near one of the outdoor fireplaces yesterday.

See you at the Fair!

School Board Rejects Bids Third Time

Planning for the new Occoquan Elementary School has again become stalled because of the high cost of construction. In a special meeting Thursday, the Prince William School Board rejected a third estimate of the construction cost.

After calling for bids twice previously, the Board had rejected them as being too high for the amount of money they had to spend on the school. Under the latest plan, all work would have been sub-let to contractors instead of to one general contractor. However, this method also ran approximately $10,000 over appropriated funds, J. M. Garber, school superintendent reported.

The Board has tabled the matter until a more reasonable bid is submitted or the Board receives more funds to accept one of the already submitted bids.

In other action, the Board voted to go ahead with work on improving the heating system of Osbourn High School. However, the Board is working under a second set of specifications and not those drawn up previously.

The Board reported that no bid on the job under the previous specifications had been submitted, so new ones were drawn up. Four local plumbing firms met with Superintendent Garber Friday at which time bids were opened.

To Open Nursery

Two Manassas women will open a nursery school here September 4. Mrs. J. P. Royer and Mrs. John Harrell, assistant, plan to hold either half-day or whole-day sessions at Mrs. Royer's home, Jackson and Peabody streets.

The school will be open for children between the ages of 3 and 5. Mrs. Royer stated that the enrollment will be limited to 25 children. Anyone interested in registering their children may do so by contacting Mrs. Royer at her home.

Macs Upset White Oak 3-2 As Nokesville Grabs Two

An upset win by Manassas threw the "A" Division race into a tail-spin Sunday as Nokesville took two from Ocoquan. The victory coupled with White Oak's loss moves Nokesville to within two games of the league leaders.

Although out of 11-8, the Macs, nicknamed Jake Thomas for three runs, all scored separately, to edge White Oak 3-2. Russ Polen singled in the bottom of the ninth to drive home Junior Roseberry who had opened the inning with a double and that was the ball game.

The Macs scored one in the third on Polen's single and three errors.

V.F.W. Takes League Title

The Veterans of Foreign Wars romped to the Manassas Community League softball title at Swaverly Field by sweeping two straight games from Manassas Ice and Fuel.

Behind the tight control pitching of Lloyd Swank plus excellent defensive playing, V.F.W. limited Ice and Fuel to one run in fourteen innings of play.

In the first game, Swank set the losers down with four hits while his teammates took advantage of several errors to whitewash Ice and Fuel 7-0. The first game was played last Thursday evening.

Monday night, the two teams met again and V.F.W. almost repeated its previous performance. Swank allowed only six hits behind effective control while his teammates continued their red-hot fielding.

V.F.W. pushed across three runs in the first and third innings to dominate the game 6-1. Ice and Fuel scored its lone run of the series in the fourth on Stewart Vetter's single and Bobby Bird's long triple down the left field line. Jim Leo, Ice and Fuel pitcher, settled down after the third and allowed but one hit. However, the damage had been done and Ice and Fuel could never stage a comeback. Sensational defensive play by Willard Weaver and Mike Martino in the outfield pulled the winners out of several holes.

Stewart Vetter Tops Softball Hitters

Stewart Vetter, below-par hitter for the Manassas Macs, topped batmen in the Manassas Softball League with a .535 average. Vetter plays the infield or shortstop for Manassas Ice & Fuel, league runner-ups.

They added another in the fourth on Herbert Busby's triple and Warren Mills double to make the score 2-0. White Oak came back in the fifth with two runs, to knot the score until the Macs broke it in the ninth.

Meanwhile, Nokesville was having a field day bumping Ocoquan twice. Nokesville won the opener 6-5 and took the nightcap in a burst of hits 20-7.

Top Amidon and Dallas Posey teamed up to spark Triangle to an 8-2 win over Bristersburg Sunday. Posey smashed a home run with one mate aboard while Amidon held Bristersburg to six scattered hits.

Amidon helped his own cause with two hits. He struck out eleven men in going the distance. The win pushes Triangle closer to Bristersburg in the league standings, but not enough to crawl out of fifth place.

Elsewhere in the league, Gainesville rallied in the top half of the ninth for three runs to edge Remington 7-5 in a B Division contest. And in Warrenton, Hume bowed to Warrenton in the first game of a scheduled double-header 5-4. The win almost clinches the B Division flag for Warrenton since Hume now stands 4 1/2 games out of first with five games left to play.

In the second game, the two teams were tied at 3-3 when the game was called at the end of ten innings because of darkness. In the only other league game, Upper-ville outlasted Marshall 16-12.

Sport Shorts

• Congratulations . . . Bonquets to the V.F.W. softball squad on winning the Manassas Community League title. The boys played one of the finest brands of ball ever seen around here during the play-offs as well as during the season.

• Under the lights . . . The Manassas Macs will probably play Nokesville in the game that was recently rained out next Tuesday night at Swaverly Field. Nokesville, with still a slim chance to overtake White Oak doesn't look forward to the game with the unpredictable Macs.

• Giant-Killers . . . The Macs are the only team to beat White Oak this year—and they've done it twice. Bristersburg won over White Oak through a forfeit. White Oak, lacking a man, grabbed an unknown out of the stands and actually beat Bristersburg, but the game was ruled as a forfeit.

Kiwanis and Lions Get Set For Annual Clash

Arrangements for the annual softball game between the Kiwanis and Lions club are shaping up fast and plenty of action is assured when these two service clubs meet under the lights at Swaverly Field on Friday night, September 7th.

The newspaper story that reported Bill Saylors, a Kiwanian, as coach of the Lions, has intensified the keen rivalry between the clubs. Vernon Schultz and Allen Fletcher are coaching the Lions team and state they do not need to invade their opponents' camp for talent in order to put a winning aggregation on the field. Lion Ralph Hesse, however, has stated that he would be glad to help the Kiwanians out providing they bid high enough for his services.

While the Lions are doing so much talking, Coach J. Carl Kincheloe of the Kiwanis team, is unusually quiet, feeling perhaps that "action speaks louder than words." He says the Kiwanians will give a good account of themselves, recalling what his club did to the Lions in their annual encounter last year. Committee chairmen for the event are Hesse for the Lions, and Saylors for the Kiwanis.

HOME-MAKING IDEAS

Outdoor terrace can be a cool on a hot sultry day... and simple to construct one. Collect old bricks, flat stones, flagstone. A combination of different colored flagstones placed out from your living room will give color harmony to your terrace.

Begin by removing some of the Then set a layer of fine sand about six inches deep as the foundation. This will prevent the stones from heaving and will also provide drainage. To provide additional drainage, slope the terrace slightly away from the house... about one inch every 15 feet.

You can set the stones in concrete, or if you'd prefer a less formal effect, set the stones in soil and sand. If you use fine soil between the stones or brick you can have either grass or small plants growing between the stones. Be sure to plan a drainage on your terrace to guide the water away from plants or flowers.

Try "S'Mors"—a dessert sandwich—for a picnic dessert. Two ham crackers make the outside crust. Fill the crackers with a layer of thin milk chocolate candy and a toasted marshmallow. Be sure the marshmallow is still hot when it goes in the sandwich, so it can soften the chocolate.

Proud of Our Firemen

This week marked the election of officers of the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department which brings to mind the outstanding service rendered by this organization.

The men, who comprise the fire company, give unstintingly of their time and efforts, so that we may be protected from the ravages of fire. Whatever the time of day or night, they are ready to respond to the siren which shrieks the alarm.

The Manassas Fire Department is most fortunate in its officers and personnel... men who take pride in their department, in its equipment and the ever constant alertness to maintain the organization at a high state of efficiency.

Manassas is justly proud of its fire-fighters.

Attend The Fair

The Prince William County Fair opens its gates today and all indications point to a great and successful exposition.

Months and months of work have gone into the ambitious undertaking. Now in its second year, the fair, like a lusty child, is growing and beginning to take its rightful place as a recognized county institution.

Largely an agricultural community, Prince William County needs the fair and what it can accomplish toward improving agricultural standards. While offering fun and entertainment, it's primary purpose is to promote better farming, to create a desire to produce better crops, better livestock and thus make for a more prosperous community.

The fair is a big undertaking and a costly one, and Veterans Farm Club is to be highly commended on making possible such a worthy enterprise. We, the people of Prince William, can show our appreciation by attending it.

Presbyterian Founded In 1850

Despite Civil War destruction and other handicaps such as a small handful of members, the Presbyterian Church has grown and prospered in Prince William County because of the sacrifices made by its founders back in the mid-18th-Century. The history of the Nokesville and Manassas churches reflect this.

Nokesville had the first church followed shortly by Manassas, while Manassas claims the distinction of having the oldest church in the community.

In the vicinity of Nokesville, occasional services had been held before the year of 1848 in private homes by the Rev. Dr. Harrison of the Alexandria church, and the Rev. Stoddard of Winchester. However, in the year 1848 the families of Hornbakers and Rube, as well as others, moved here from New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The Presbytery of Winchester appointed the Rev. J. M. Henry to organize a church, which was effected July 20, 1850.

At the outbreak of the War between the States the people were scattered, and the church was closed. This church at Nokesville, in which services had previously been held, was set on fire during the war (1861-65) but the pews and the communion service were saved by a Mrs. Kline who lived nearby. This was the first Presbyterian Church in Prince William County. This particular church was rebuilt after the war, and was used for a few years. It is not now standing, but the old cemetery by its side still remains covered with honey-suckle and wild growth.

The Presbyterian Church in Nokesville was organized in about 1852 with a congregation of eight members. This organization was in the brick house on the Bradley Farm which belonged to the late John W. Hornbaker, the father of John Rube Hornbaker. Services were held there for about three years, during which time several members were added to the church.

The members of this early church helped to build a union church on the Bradley Farm where worship was held until 1861. Ministers were sent from Washington as supplies for this church, and Dr. Balch, who at that time lived near Greenwich, Va., preached quite often. Quoting from an article written by the late John R. Hornbaker, Manassas:

"I would drive across the country (from Bradley to Greenwich) and bring him to preach. There is one trip—the last one I made with him—which I will never forget. It was the Spring of 1861. I had gone after Dr. Balch on the evening preceding the Sabbath and as we came back by the way of Bristol we were confronted by a new scene, which was in the form of cavalry soldiers.

"This was the first I saw of the Civil War. Services was held the next day, and that was the last preaching in this church, for before another week it had been destroyed by the soldiers."

The records of the First Church at Nokesville show that forty-five members left Virginia at the outbreak and during the continuance of the war returning to the northern states. Few, if any, of these ever returned to Virginia. Besides the reduction in membership, a considerable number of those in Virginia in 1867 resided at such a distance (10 miles) from the church that they were often prevented from attending there by reason of suddenly swollen streams.

During the four years that followed, the condition of the whole country was in a state of turmoil and distress, and the Presbytery and Synod had practically no representation. The village of Manassas was already beginning to rise from the ashes to which it had been reduced by the war, and the portion of the congregation residing near that place who had formerly worshipped at Bradley, began very naturally to desire the renewal of services nearer home.

In about 1865 a lot was purchased in Manassas, on the corner of Church and East streets and extending to what is now known as Main street and Quarry Road. The first building, probably 20 by 40 feet was put on this lot, and faced on what is now known as Church street. It was a discarded government building purchased in Washington and shipped to Manassas. This was put up and used as a place of worship until the present native stone church was built which is on the same lot but fronting on Main street.

It was in 1865 that the first school was held here. This was a private school, and the teacher was sent here from Presbytery. A drawing school was also held in this frame building at night. Later on a printing office occupied part of the church building. So at one time this church building was used as a place of worship, a school and a printing office.

The Reverend Joseph Nourse was pastor of the church, Miss Sara Newcomb, the teacher of the school, and Mr. E. S. Newman (father of the late Oliver Newman) was the drawing instructor, while a Mr. Whiting worked in the printing office. It might be of interest to note that the Miss Sara Newcomb mentioned, was a sister of Simon Newcomb, the noted astronomer.

Miss Newcomb was received as a member of the church January 19, 1868 on certificate from the Central Congregational Church of Boston, Mass., and she was unanimously elected teacher of the school to be kept "under the care of the session—her appointment would begin Dec. 1," but she was kept waiting because the building was not finished. She taught this school for about one year when she resigned and a Jacob DePue was appointed to take charge of the school.

So, services were held in this quality identification carried through frame building which faced on Church street, while the brown stone church was being erected at the end of the present lot near the center of town. The new organization had been effected July 6, 1867, and the committee was composed of John Chester and J. E. Nourse, with Rev. Joseph Nourse as stated supply for the church from 1867 to 1875.

The Reverend Carmichael was the first regular pastor of the present edifice in the year of 1875, and later when a bell was purchased, the committee was asked to "ascertain from the Ladies Mite Society if they would direct its funds toward building the belfry and spire."

This church during its existence, has had about fifteen pastors, including stated supplies, and if special mention of outstanding work done in the church is to be made,

Raises Record Budget

For the first time in six years the County Council raised its largest budget—$3600. The Council carries on the program of week-day religious education in our county schools as well as conducts vacation Bible schools and other co-operative programs among the churches.

Credit for the year's success goes to many faithful members of the District Committees as well as to the fine support given by the churches, P. T. A.'s, service clubs and individuals. Officers of the District Committees who did such a fine job of promoting the Council's program in their Districts during the past year are as follows: Brentsville, Rev. D. D. Fleishman, chairman; Mrs. Elsie Michael, secretary; Miss Frances Owens, treasurer; Dumfries, Mrs. Ralph Garden, chairman; Gainesville, Rev. George Stokes, chairman; Mrs. Claude Ellis, secretary; Mrs. William Corder, treasurer; Manassas, Rev. Frank Baker, chairman; Mrs. John Barrett, secretary; E. E. Rohr, treasurer; Occoquan, D. Wilmer Garber, chairman; Mrs. Gilmer Garber, secretary; Mrs. E. R. Shanklin, treasurer.

ON STATE BONUS

Enclosed you will find the resolutions passed at the 33rd annual convention of the American Legion Department of Virginia. I wish to express my personal views on resolutions number four (4), because I think the Veterans of this area should know what his benefits are, and thereby apply for the same if need arises.

Coming from a state (Ohio) that paid a State bonus I believe a Veteran of Virginia has benefited more in his state than I did receiving a lump sum cash bonus. Also in States where a lump sum cash bonus was given, the Veterans are paying or have paid directly or indirectly for these cash bonuses.

These resolutions are in my opinion of public interest to the Veterans of our community and therefore I suggest that the resolutions be printed in their entirety. I would also suggest that your paper contact the Commander of Prince William Post No. 158, American Legion, It is also my opinion that there are far greater problems facing the Veteran of the community, State and Nation for their welfare, as well as for the generations to come, other than a State bonus. The American Legion will always hold high the principles of Justice, Freedom, and Democracy more especially where the Veteran is concerned.

Sincerely yours,
Commander Post No. 28

These views are not necessarily the views of Post No. 28.

Be it resolved by The American Legion, Department of Virginia, in its 33rd Annual Convention assembled at Roanoke, August 13-15, 1951, as follows:

(1) We recognize and commend contributions made by the Virginia State Government for the welfare of Virginia veterans through the State Veterans' Educational Fund, which has been appropriated for over twenty years and which now provides up to $400.00 per student per year for educational expenses of Virginia war orphans and children of disabled Virginia veterans; and also in the establishment and maintenance of the State Division of War Veterans' Claims—which agency assists in the recovery of millions of dollars in benefits every year for disabled Virginia veterans, and the dependents of deceased veterans, and for which extremely valuable State-wide agency, the State now appropriates approximately $400,000. every two years.

(2) We also recognize and commend the amendment of the Constitution of Virginia, which assures full voting privileges for Virginia citizens in the armed forces in war time, regardless of customary poll tax and registration requirements; and we are gratified by the provisions, made and to be made for the erection of a "Living War Memorial," which will be of permanent and constructive value and inspiration.

(3) We re-affirm the established policy of The American Legion in Virginia, which has been faithfully followed for more than thirty years,—whereby all legislation advocated by the Legion in Virginia has been of a sound and constructive character as part of a long range program, fully justified on its merits and consistent with the welfare and best interests of the veterans and of the people of Virginia in general.

(4) A State bonus in Virginia would average less than $250.00 per veteran, would be of only temporary benefit and of no permanent value to the average individual veteran, would cost,—on the basis proposed in the last General Assembly,—a total of from Eighty to One Hundred Million Dollars, in addition to the expenses of administration and distribution. This huge sum,—almost as large as the total annual income of the State from every source,—could be financed only by a bond issue larger than any in the history of Virginia. Any such bond issue would be in direct conflict with the sound financial policy of the State which has proven so beneficial to Virginia for so many years. A State bonus, whether financed by bond issues or otherwise, would necessarily involve new and additional taxes for many years. A substantial portion of these taxes would have to be paid by the Virginia veterans themselves in the end. Furthermore, if there is need or justification for a bonus, it should be met by the Federal government, since all veterans in war time were in the service of the nation rather than of their State and localities. Advocacy of a State bonus in Virginia would inevitably have a detrimental effect upon present and future veterans' legislation of constructive nature.

(5) Accordingly, we believe that veterans' bonus legislation in Virginia would be harmful and injurious to the best interests of the permanent welfare of Virginia veterans and of the State as a whole.

All candidates who ran in the Democratic primary held on the 7th of this month (and this includes those candidates who ran for Democratic Committeemen), were required to sign and file the following pledge:

"I, _____, do state on my sacred honor that I am a member of the Democratic party and believe in its principles; that I voted for all of the nominees of said party at the next preceding general election in which I voted and in which the Democratic nominee or nominees had opposition; and that I shall support and vote for all the nominees of said party in the next ensuing general election. Given under my hand this _____ day of _____ 1951."

Mr. John Pattie of Triangle signed the above pledge when he filed for Democratic Committeeman prior to the recent Primaries. On August 7th he received the overwhelming confidence of the Democratic voters of this District when they gave him the largest number of votes of any of the eight (8) candidates whose names appeared on the ballot, seeking that

Sixth Longest Bridge Ends Delaware River Bottleneck

Opening August 16 of the $44-million Delaware Memorial Bridge, sixth longest span in the world, ends one of the worst ferry bottlenecks on eastern seaboard's north-south traffic routes. The new span bridges a mile of water with towers rising 437 feet to support a four-lane roadway high above the largest ocean-going vessels. Engineers and workmen of U. S. Steel's American Bridge Company planned and labored a year-and-a-half to erect the mighty structure using 40,000 tons of steel to replace the Newcastle Ferry shown here at the height of a Sunday traffic snarl. Opening ceremonies, with governors of Delaware and New Jersey attending, dedicate the bridge to World War II dead of the two states.

Legion Meeting Termed Success

Mrs. Elizabeth Monaghan, Mrs. Katherine Pickrel, Mrs. E. G. Parrish and Mrs. O. O. Beane attended the Thirtieth Annual Convention of the American Legion Auxiliary in Roanoke, August 11-15.

This was the largest and most successful Auxiliary Convention ever held in Virginia. Among the speakers of distinction, seventeen-year-old Jeanne Mann Dickinson, winner of the Legion National Oratorical Contest, was most outstanding. Miss Dickinson delivered her oration to an audience of over two thousand Legion and Auxiliary members. Her topic was, "The Constitution—My Birthright," and her speech brought long applause.

Americanism was the theme stressed throughout the convention and the same will be emphasized in the Unit Program throughout the coming year.

Mrs. W. W. Andrews, national vice-president, urged that American History be taught in the Public Schools, and in part she said: "We need a primer of democracy before we can tell others about us."

The meetings were held in the Patrick Henry Hotel, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the lovely arrangement of flowers in the auditorium presented by the V. F. W. Auxiliary.

Dairymen Told To Cut Down Labor Needs

If you're a dairyman, you're likely having to cope with a tight labor situation. Farm wage rates are increasing and labor is hard to find. Extension dairy husbandmen at V. P. I., pointing out that labor costs comprise one-third of the total cost of producing milk, say that any way you can cut down on labor needs will increase the efficiency of your farm operation.

Dairy chores are performed with regularity, and can, therefore, be organized into an effective working routine, they say.

Here are some suggestions:
Put loads on wheels. Feed carts can be built with little cash expense. An extra broom or shovel may cut down on walking distance and time.

It has been shown that most cows with training will milk out completely in four minutes or less. Prepare cows for milking by cleaning and massaging the udder and using the strip cup. This can be done in one trip. About one minute later, attach the machine to the udder. It is important to check the udder and remove the machine when milking is complete.

If arrangement permits, fill feed carts directly from the silo and grain bin in order to eliminate one handling of feed.

If you are planning to build or remodel your dairy stable, convenient arrangement of working areas will reduce labor needs. Be sure you have good plans. The best general arrangement for a station barn is two rows of stanchions with cows facing out and with a central drive alley. Cross alleys should be wide enough to permit the use of carts. One hay chute for every 8 or 10 cows will reduce distance walking in carrying hay.

300 New Coal Cars

WASHINGTON, July 27—Ernest E. Norris, president, Southern Railway Company, announced today that the Southern has ordered 300 seventy-ton all-steel hopper bottom coal cars from Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company to be built at Butler, Pa., for delivery beginning about October 1, 1951. The cost of the new cars will be approximately $2,000,000.

Mr. Norris said the cars were bought because of the present and prospective critical shortage of hopper cars brought on by increasing movements of products of mines and other strategic raw materials.

The Journal is like a "letter from home" to those away from home.

Close Mowing of Lawns Not Advised

If you hate to mow the lawn ... here's some scientific data to back you up.

A. G. Smith, Jr., associate horticulturist at V. P. I., cautions against close mowing for the rest of the summer. He notes that many bluegrass lawns are ruined by close mowing. Bluegrass is a perennial and spreads by the development of underground parts. The underground stems cannot grow unless there is enough leaf growth to feed them, he explains.

Smith says that August is a good time to renovate old lawns and to seed new ones in western Virginia. Eastern Virginia homeowners should seed lawns in September.

ers should seed lawns in September. Scatter good seed at the rate of about three pounds to 1,000 square feet. Smith suggests scattering one-half the seed in one direction (north and south) and one-half in the other direction (east and west).

In Virginia under average conditions, the following mixture is recommended: Kentucky bluegrass, 75 percent; red top, 20 percent, and white Dutch clover, 5 percent. If the clover is omitted, increase the red top.

Where quick cover is required or steep banks must be covered, rye grass can be used.

Artificial Breeding Ass'n Offers Service

Maybe you can't pay from $3,000 to $8,500 for a good bull and hope to ever produce enough milk to pay for it.

And that's what you would have to do to get as good dairy breeding as the artificial breeding co-ops can supply.

But a dairyman can put his small breeding fee along with those of other dairymen, and he can afford to have the services of the best bulls.

R. G. Connelly, dairy husbandman at V. P. I., says artificial breeding is just as efficient, and sometimes more efficient than natural breeding. Last year, 68.3 percent of the 24,847 Virginia cows bred artificially conceived on the first service.

Organization during the last few months of three breeding co-ops in Charlotte, Pittsylvania, and Wythe ... has put the total number of associations in the state at 31. These associations serve 40

Over 21,000 Soil Samples Tested at VPI

Over 21,000 soil samples were tested in V. P. I. laboratories during the year ending June, 1951.

P. H. DeHart, extension agronomist at V. P. I., says this indicates that more and more Virginia farmers are becoming aware of the need for knowing the lime requirements of their soils.

He says that now is a good time to take a soil sample, send it to V. P. I. for a test, and find out what your lime and plant food needs are. He explains that the soil testers usually have a slack season during this month, and are now in a position to give you more prompt service.

Last year, the peak month was March, when over 3,700 samples were tested.

Leading the list were Augusta county farmers, who sent in 1,263 samples for testing, over twice the number for any other county except Southampton, which sent in over 700. In all, farmers from 98 counties took advantage of the service.

If you are planning to improve and develop your pasture, a soil test is almost a must. Alfalfa and ladino clover, for example, need an abundance of calcium plus the right soil acidity for best growth. DeHart says many soils throughout Virginia don't need lime, even though they haven't received any during the past five or ten years. On the other hand, there are soils that have been limed during the past five years that still need additional lime.

If the soil doesn't need lime, you waste your money if you apply it, and run the chance of injury from over-liming. If your soil needs lime, and you don't supply it, you're wasting money spent for seed and fertilizer. V. P. I.'s soil testing service is free. For soil sample boxes and detailed instructions for taking samples, see your county agent.

counties. In addition, 14 other counties have artificial breeding services available from out-of-state. There are about 45,000 cows enrolled in the state associations, Connelly said.

"Grass Roots" Survey Gets Under Way

A "grass-roots" survey of U. S. Department of Agriculture farm policies is getting under way in Prince William County, L. J. Pattie, chairman of the county agricultural mobilization committee, said this week.

The survey, known as the Family Farm Policy Review, is part of a state-wide canvass designed to touch every farm family. County agricultural mobilization committees, composed of persons representing various State and Federal farm agencies, will be responsible for conducting the survey, Mr. Pattie said.

He explained that the purpose of the survey is to get a critical analysis of the Department's farm policies, with the ultimate objective of improving service to farmers.

"The Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Land-Grant colleges, farm organizations, and other interest groups," Mr. Pattie said, "has initiated, and expects to carry through a nation-wide, department-wide review and critical analysis of its programs and policies to determine ways in which they can provide more effective and efficient service to the family farm during this period of mobilization emergency as well as in peacetime."

In Prince William County, the Agricultural Mobilization Committee has called on a number of farmers and others associated with farm life in the County to assist in making the county-wide survey.

To Rehabilitate Part Of Battlefield Park

Albany, August 1.—New York State today took initial steps in rehabilitating its 5.8 acres of land in the Manassas Battlefield, Virginia, where the Battle of Bull Run was fought.

State Superintendent of Public Works, Bertram D. Tallamy, said that Philip E. Conners, of Lowell, Massachusetts, submitted a low bid of $1,432.00 for the painting and rehabilitation of fences, gates, and grounds at the Battlefield, where three granite monuments stand in tribute to those from the Empire State who died during this Battle of the Civil War. Five bids were received.

On October 20, 1906, these monuments were unveiled on the rolling hills of northern Virginia, scarcely 26 miles from the Nation's Capitol, as permanent memorials to the men of the 5th New York Volunteer Infantry, the 14th Brooklyn Infantry, and the 10th New York Volunteer Infantry.

It is expected that the project will be completed by October 1.

Virginia Banks Aid Increased Farm Products

One of the most effective ways to fight inflation is to increase production of basic commodities such as food, feed, and fiber, according to R. C. Powell, executive Vice President of Peoples National Bank, who represents the Virginia Bankers Association as Prince William County Agricultural Key Banker.

An accurate gauge of production levels is a comparison of farm marketing income. During the five years ending December 31, 1950, Mr. Powell noted, cash income of Virginia farms advanced 29 percent from $35,724,000 to $45,810,000.

"This substantial increase in agricultural income is indicative of the greater farm production vital to the nation's defense effort," he said. "The increase was made, however, within the framework of sound agricultural practice—better farming methods, diversified production of crops and livestock, and a high degree of mechanization. The rural banks of our state have worked closely with their farm customers and have given wholehearted support to programs of soil conservation, pasture improvement, and other programs benefiting our rural communities. Bank loans which increase production and farm efficiency are one of our greatest weapons against runaway inflation."

"In carrying out their individual projects of mechanization and better land use, our farmers have found bank credit and increasingly useful tool."

Quoting from the tenth national survey of farm lending by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Powell noted that "In 1950, the last full year of operation, the Virginia banks serving agricultural communities loaned $56,580,000 to 32,000 farmers to meet all types of financial needs. Of the total amount loaned, $45,554,000 was borrowed by 28,656 farmers to finance production and operational requirements. This compares with 34,099 production loans, totaling $37,221,000, during 1949. The rapid repayment of production loans is shown by the fact that on January 1, 1951, only $29,336,000 remained outstanding. "On January 1, 1950, farmers had a total of bank-held mortgage debt of $28,177,000. During the year, banks made 3,364 additional agricultural real estate loans in an aggregate amount of $11,026,000. Yet, at the end of the year, only $28,361,000 of this long term debt was outstanding, indicating that this type of debt is being held to a minimum."

"The increased cost of production to the individual farmer is shown by the rise in the average production loan from $1,092 in 1949 to $1,590 in 1950. The average agricultural real estate loan in 1950 was $3,278."

"The total of bank-held agricultural debt outstanding in Virginia on January 1 of this year was $58,687,000, excluding C.C.C. loans," Mr. Powell said.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Alexandria Social Security Office

I well remember the first money I ever lost. It nearly broke my heart. Until a few years later, that was the greatest disaster I had encountered. I was a child then and had the security of a home and all that means but the money I lost could have been used to good advantage by my parents.

You may not feel the loss of your Social Security benefits in the childhood way I felt my loss, but the fact remains that, with most of us, such a loss would hurt. I want to help you to avoid any loss of Social Security payments.

It is possible for you to lose these payments and quite a number of people in your county have lost them already. It happens all too often that a wage earner himself, who is over 65, may be laid off but fails to come into our office or write us until many months have passed. Sometimes he changes from a job that is covered by Social Security to one that is not. In either event he may lose benefits if he waits more than 6 months before filing a claim. He may not only suffer a loss himself but his wife, if she is 65 or under 65 if there are children under 18, or his young children will lose money by the delay in filing.

Then, there are cases where aged widows, young widows with children, and orphaned children lose these benefits because a claim is not filed promptly or within a reasonable time after the husband's or father's death.

How can these losses be avoided? First, if you are a worker, age 65 or over, let us know at once if you are laid off. Second, if you are the widow of a wage earner, inquire as promptly as possible about your rights. Third, file your claim with our office. No payment can be made until an application is received. Fourth, the Social Security Act permits back payments for a 6 months period only, so you can readily see that if you delay filing your claim longer than 6 months you stand to lose one or more monthly benefits.

If it is not convenient for you to call at our office, write us or have some member of your family do it for you. Then we can protect you from any loss.

The Alexandria office is located at 815 King Street. Office hours are from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. (DST) on Monday through Friday.
