ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

GOOD HOUSEKEEPERS' CLUB

Delightfully Entertained at Home of Mrs. Westwood Hutchison Saturday Afternoon.

The Manassas Good Housekeepers' Club, of which Mrs. W. G. Covington is president, met at the hospitable home of Mrs. Westwood Hutchison in Manassas, Saturday afternoon. Besides the members of the club there were present: Mrs. J. Frank Dogan, president of the Womens' Auxiliary of the Farmers' Institute, and Mrs. Chas. McDonald, president of the Catharpin Housekeepers' Club and her husband, and Mrs. H. F. Button, president of the Groveton Housekeepers' Club. Suggestions from the officers of the several Clubs were exchanged as to the best methods to be pursued for the successful operations of the clubs for the ensuing year and the conference was a thoroughly harmonious one. After the business session those present were ushered into the dining room where bountiful refreshments were served. A pleasant feature of the occasion was the delightful music rendered by Miss Susan Hutchison.

PATTY'S LOVER MAKES HIT

School Girl's Plot Works Like Charm On Love-Sick Maid Till Tale Unfolded

Those who witnessed the three-act comedy drama, "Patty's Lover," in Conner's Opera House, Friday night, will agree that it was one of the most enjoyable plays that has been witnessed in Manassas for some time. There was not a dull moment from the time the curtain arose for the scene of the college girls' room until it went down on the last act.

The plot of deceiving Miss Middleton, as Patty, into a clandestine love correspondence with Helen Lewis as Edith Lee whom she thought to be a nice young man though whom she had never met, was carried out with faultless precision. The climax came when Edith Lee announced that she was the supposed young man with whom the correspondence had been carried on. The apparent surprise, depicted on the school girls' countenances, when Edith Lee unfolded the tale, was a study for an artist.

Miss Moser, as Polly, added much humor to the play by her escapade with the naughty boys who were about to drown a pet kitten, as she was returning from the confectioner's.

Helen Lewis, as Mrs. Goldwaite, masquerading as the "nice young man's mother," arranged for a meeting with Patty at her school at which place she would chide her for the clandestine correspondence with her son. When the meeting took place, and after much "chewing the rag" Mrs. Goldwaite raised her veil, disclosing her identity as Helen Lewis, which turned the joke on Patty and elicited prolonged applause from the audience.

The play was interspersed with pleasing specialties and was favorably commented on by the audience. Miss Elise Stevens, who costarred the play and coached its characters, deserves much praise for carrying it to such successful conclusion.

Elder T. E. Dalton will preach in the Primitive Baptist church tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock.

THE GETTYSBURG REUNION

Confederate Flags to be Carried by the Side of "Old Glory" in the Great Parade.

Lee Camp No. 1, Confederate veterans, of Richmond, was notified last Friday afternoon, that the battle-scarred banners of the Southern Confederacy, together with the regimental flags and camp ensigns, will be carried in the great demonstrations attending the fifteenth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg in July, next.

The notification was made through the medium of a circular letter from Gen. J. Thompson Brown, commanding the First Brigade, Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans, and representing Virginia on the Gettysburg commission.

Led by Attorney-General Williams, the war horses of Lee Camp No. 1, began to champ the bit several weeks ago, when it was pretty strongly intimated that perhaps the commission would not care to have the Confederate flags carried in parade with the Stars and Stripes or floating in the same camp. At that time, however, there had been no ruling on the question, and the discussion was continued at the instance of the commander pending definite information.

The good news was conveyed to the camp in the following message: "All camps will bring their battle flags, camp banners and their State and United States flags. Col. Arthur Cowan, whose guns—the First New York Battery—so gallantly defended the Federal lines immediately in front of Pickett's charge, says of our battle flags: 'Bring them back from every State—the Starry Banner and Southern Cross. Unfurl them again at Gettysburg. The celebration would be colorless without them. Bring them back and unfurl them again, and side by side with Old Glory, the soldiers of Meade and Grant, Lee and Longstreet, will march with peace and good will at Gettysburg.'"

THE DECISION REVERSED

Judge Thornton Gives Justice Heishley Lesson in Law in Automobile Cases.

In the Circuit Court of Alexandria Tuesday, Judge J. B. T. Thornton, reversed the decision of Justice of the Peace Frank Heishley, in the cases of Charles B. Swan and Charles Blondheim, in which cases they were each fined $10 by the Justice for exceeding the automobile speed limit of the town of Potomac.

Judge Thornton held that the Justice had not jurisdiction of the cases, stating that the proper procedure was before the Mayor of the town in which the speed law was violated.

It will be remembered that on the fourth day of last March, as reported at the time in THE JOURNAL, Justice Heishley staked off ground along Mount Vernon avenue in the County of Alexandria, and watched for automobilists with the view of catching them in a violation of the speed-limit law. He timed the cars of Swan and Blondheim as they passed, and finding they were exceeding the prescribed limit, arrested them, appeared as a witness against them and, himself, tried the cases and imposed the fine from which appeal was taken to Judge Thornton's Court.

President Wilson motored out to Fairfax Saturday afternoon, returning to Washington by the way of Vienna.

ELMER PAYNE LOSES HOME

Wife Awakes to Find Home Enveloped in Flames With Firebrands Falling on Floor.

While Mr. Elmer A. Payne and his neighbors were in Manassas last Saturday afternoon his dwelling house and contents together with outbuildings were entirely destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at about $1,000 with an insurance on the building of $450, on contents of building, $150, and on outbuildings $50. The origin of the fire so far as is known was from a spark from the chimney which ignited the roof of the dwelling during the high wind which prevailed at the time.

Mrs. Payne, after attending to her dinner dishes, laid down upon a lounge to get her baby to sleep and through fatigue, lapsed into slumber. She was awakened by smoke and a crackling sound to find the roof of her home in full blaze and firebrands falling upon the floor. With no assistance at hand she saw there was no chance, except at the risk of her life, to save any of the contents of her home.

CHATTANOOGA REUNION

Will Recall Chickamauga as One of the Bloodiest Conflicts in Civilized Warfare.

On the 27th of next month the twenty-third annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans will convene in Chattanooga to once more fraternize, in immense throng, and recount the incidents which the fortunes of the great civil war has stamped indelibly upon their memory, and which have created a soft spot in their hearts, one towards the other.

As they recount the many bloody struggles on the field of battle, and the privations they endured for the love of their dear Southland, the once familiar form of Lee and Jackson will rise before them in their imagination, and they will see those gallant heroes leading their men to victory in many hardfought battles. As they guide their feet over the once blood-soaked fields of Chickamauga they will be taken through their imagination, to a conflict that is rated second to none, for a two days fight, in the annals of civilized warfare.

With each succeeding reunion of those who wore the gray the fact is glaringly apparent that the thin line of veterans is growing thinner and thinner. The warm grasp of hands and the smiling countenances of many who were present one year ago in Macon, Ga., have answered the last roll-call and are now bivouacing upon the shores of time awaiting the resurrection morn and of their comrades who must soon follow.

appropriated $415,000 and the Federal government $150,000 for the entertainment of veterans of both armies who are expected to attend. Counties and small towns are allowed to furnish free transportation for the indigent veterans to and from Gettysburg. Provision will be made for the shelter and care of 40,000 survivors of the Civil war in one great camp on the historic battle-field.

Beginning on July 1, with a joint demonstration, which will be featured by the unveiling of the equestrian statue of Gen. Robert E. Lee, the four-day celebration will culminate in an immense Fourth-of-July festival, when the Chief Justice of the United States will preside. President Wilson will deliver an address and the cornerstone of a great Peace Memorial will be laid.

PLAN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Alexandria Branch of Equal Suffrage League Plan to Make Legislators Take Notice.

Woman's suffrage in Virginia was given fresh impetus at the annual meeting of the Alexandria branch of the Virginia Equal Suffrage League, which was held Tuesday night at the residence of Judge Charles E. Nicol.

A feature of the meeting was the address delivered by Mrs. Lila Meade Valentine, of Richmond, president of the Virginia State League and an address by Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett.

Officers elected were: Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, honorary president; Miss Rose McDonald, president; Judge Charles E. Nicol, honorary vice-president; Mrs. Gardner L. Boothe, Mrs. Lewis H. Machen and Miss Fannie Herbert, vice-presidents; Mrs. C. S. Taylor Burke, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles E. Nicol, treasurer and Mrs. Lewis H. Duffey, Mrs. Johnson Duffey and Miss Constance Bouch, executive committee.

HEAVY DAMAGES AWARDED

Former Manassas Boy Adjudged Verdict For Heavy Damages In Washington Wednesday.

Wilfred E. Schisler, the 11-year-old son of John Schisler, who was formerly in the employ of the Bolden Bros. Stave mill near this place was awarded $75,000 by a jury in Chief Justice's Stafford's circuit court No. 1, in Washington, Wednesday, in the action growing out of the injuries which the lad received when he was run over by a street car of the Capital Traction Company on Aug. 31, 1911. The Schisler lad was run down by a car of the defendant company, near C street and New Jersey avenue, and his right leg was so badly injured as to necessitate its amputation just above the knee. The evidence adduced indicated negligence on the part of the traction company.

Besides the verdict in favor of the boy, one also of $1,250 was awarded by the same jury to the father of the injured lad for the loss of services resulting in his son's injuries. The aggregate verdicts to the Schislars, it is said, is the largest ever returned against the Capital Traction Company. Suit was entered for $30,000, in case of the boy, and $2,000 in case of his father.

When John Schisler left Manassas he went to Washington and entered the employ of one of the street car companies as machinist in the car barns, his son, Lawrence Schisler, remaining here for a while longer in the employ of the Hopkins' Candy Factory.

The Schisler boy is a nephew of Mr. U. B. Spindle who resides on Main and Quarry streets in this place.

Mrs. Babbly's Pink Tea.

One of the most humorous and highly entertaining plays that has yet taken place in our sister town, Clifton, was given in the Graded School building last Friday night, under the able direction of Mrs. B. T. Hodge, of Manassas, who was assisted by the school's efficient talent. For clear enunciation, naturalness and ease of manner and variety of subjects the program and its participants could scarcely have been improved upon. The proceeds of the entertainment was for the provision of lights and other improvements for the school property.

THE BATTLEFIELD PARK

Asst. Adjutant-General Wetherbee Interested in Consideration by Congress.

The following letter to Mr. Geo. C. Round, from Assistant Adjutant-General Wilfred A. Wetherbee, with reference to the proposed Bull Run Battlefield Park, shows the interest he is taking in the favorable consideration by Congress in establishing the park by the United States government.

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, Apr. 21. Hon. GEORGE CARL ROUND, Manassas, Va.

Dear Sir—At the request of Comrade Alfred S. Roe, who presented the same, the following resolution was unanimously endorsed by the Department Encampment of Massachusetts, at its Encampment April 9, 1913.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives—Sixty-third Congress.

Whereas in the final hours of the Sixty-second Congress, there was passed and signed by the President an Act, directing an examination into the feasibility and cost of securing certain portions of the fields on which were fought the two Battles of Bull Run in July '61 and August '62 respectively, and whereas, on both of these bloody Virginian fields, Massachusetts lost many of her gallant sons, therefore we, the survivors of the great War for the Preservation of the Union, assembled in the Annual Encampment of the Department of Massachusetts, Grand Army of the Republic, do hereby express our thorough approval of the course of the Government thus far, and also indicate our hope that the Sixty-third Congress will carry on the work already begun, to the end that the prominent features of both fields may be properly marked, that the States, both North and South, may here erect monuments to the memory of their fallen sons and that the Battle Monuments, the very first erected after the close of the War, may pass into the care and keeping of the General Government in the creation of and maintenance of a National Military Park.

Trusting the desired end may be accomplished, I am Respectfully yours, WILFRED A. WETHERBEE, Assistant Adjutant-General.

CLUB HOUSE ON OCCOQUAN

Plans to be Discussed at Meeting of Manassas Rod and Gun Club Saturday Evening.

At a meeting of the Manassas Rod and Gun Club, to be held at the place of business of H. C. Ryckman, on West Centre street, Saturday evening, beginning at 9 o'clock, plans for the building of a club house at some point on Occoquan run will be discussed and committees appointed to carry such plans as may be adopted into effect. The secretary has requested a full attendance of members in order that such plans as may be submitted may have the unanimous approval of the club.

There are several auspicious locations along the beautiful and picturesque Occoquan, among which is one owned by Mr. Luther Sullivan, but the location of the club house will depend, to a great extent, upon the liberality of the owner of such locations.

Dr. H. Roland Lickle arrived here yesterday afternoon from Washington, from which point as headquarters he has been engaged, through the authority of the State Board of Health, in examining the public schools of lower Prince William and Fairfax counties for hookworm infection. Dr. Lickle, after examining the schools of upper Prince William, will leave here for Roanoke, where he will make his headquarters for the summer.

OUR NEW POSTMASTER

Mr. A. W. Sinclair, an Acceptable Appointee, to be Confirmed by Senate Today.

President Wilson appointed Mr. Arthur W. Sinclair yesterday as postmaster of the postoffice at Manassas, for a term of four years. The nomination will doubtless be promptly confirmed by the Senate.

While there were nearly a dozen applicants for the position, and each applicant had active and enthusiastic supporters, it is believed the appointment will meet with general satisfaction, as even the friends of the unsuccessful applicants concede Mr. Sinclair's eminent fitness for the position.

Mr. Sinclair will retire from the active practice of law, and give the office his close personal supervision. The business of the law firm will be carried on by Mr. C. A. Sinclair.

Mr. Howard P. Dodge, the retiring postmaster, will retire from office with the best wishes of the patrons whom he has served faithfully and efficiently for the last twelve years.

WEDDING BELLS IN TRINITY

Miss Alma Morgan, One of Manassas' Most Popular Girls, Weds Mr. Brown.

At nine o'clock Wednesday morning in Trinity Episcopal church, West Centre street, a pretty wedding was solemnized in the presence of a few invited guests. The contracting parties were Miss Mary Alma Morgan, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Morgan, of this place, and Mr. W. M. Brown, field agent for the Southern Railway Company, with headquarters in Manassas.

The bride, who is a petite blonde with charming personality, was becomingly gowned in a tailored tan traveling suit with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Ruth Morgan, sister of the bride, wore a white serge suit with picture hat and carried brides' maid roses.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and the ceremony, including the ring-lecture, was impressively performed by the Rev. W. Y. Bevan, uncle of the bride, of Easton, Md. The best man, an intimate friend of the bridegroom, was Mr. Edgar Eades, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and the ushers were Messrs. R. Weir Waters, Harry P. Davis and J. M. Pitts, of Manassas, and Dr. Gilbert J. Morgan, of Baltimore, Md.

With Miss Julia Lewis at the organ, Mendelssohn's wedding march was sweetly rendered as the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, entered the sacred edifice and proceeded down the main aisle to the altar where she was met by him who was to "take her for west or woe, for sickness or in health, so long as ye both shall live."

The happy couple left on South-bound train No. 35 for Ashsville, N. C., whence short stay will be made before continuing their wedding tour of the Western States, returning by way of Niagara Falls and down the Hudson to New York.

They will be at home in the New Prince William hotel in Manassas after May 15th.

Plans are being made for remodeling and adding to the public school house at Catharpin.

Story of the Assassination of Runnels and Davis in Dumfries by Two Negro Prisoners.

The visit, during the past week, of Mrs. Alice V. Jordan, of Bridgeport, N. J., to Manassas, revives an incident of the civil war which has long been remembered by the older citizens of Dumfries and vicinity and which will be read with much interest by the survivors of the Prince William Cavalry.

During the early part of the war a squad of the Prince William Cavalry consisting of Jack Runnels, Sam Davis, Frank Merchant, and Frank Wheat captured in Fairfax county, near Occoquan, two negroes whom they believed to be spies. The prisoners were brought to Dumfries about night-fall and placed in a room in the old Dowell building on Main street, near the arch, and the captors arranged to guard them two each, in turn.

The first watch of six hours was arranged for Davis and Runnels, Merchant and Wheat to take the next vigil until daylight when the prisoners were to be taken to Fredericksburg.

It happened that there was a dance to be given that night in the old brick tavern formerly kept by Henry Love and as both the Franks were fond of ladies and of dancing it was arranged that they should take the first watch in guarding the prisoners.

Shortly after daylight, the following morning, someone in passing the Dowell house heard a groan and went into the building to investigate. Stretched upon the bare floor, wrapped in their gray blankets, their heads resting on their saddles, which was the Cavalryman's pillow, and their gray uniforms besmeared with blood, lay Runnels and Davis, with their skulls crushed by an axe and the bloody instrument of death lying in sight.

Both victims of the tragedy were alive but unconscious, and lingered unconscious and in agony until death relieved them of their sufferings the next morning. When the prisoners were placed in the guardhouse they were bound hand and foot and although it will never be known just how the assassination of the two Confederates was executed, it is supposed that in taking their turn in the watch both fell asleep and the prisoners, in some way, freeing themselves sent their captors to death with the toll-take axe.

The victims were taken to the home of Mrs. Long, and Mrs. Jordan, then Miss Alice Brawner, assisted Mrs. Long in ministering to the dying soldiers and these two ladies were the last to review the remains.

Jack Runnels was a son of Chas. Runnels, who kept a way-side inn on the Alexandria and Warrenton turnpike between Centerville and Fairfax Court-house, and Sam Davis was a son of Richard Davis, who was a brother of Thos. K. Davis, and was a first cousin of R. H. Davis of Bristow.

The Fredericksburg Convention.

Among those of Manassas who will be in attendance at the 22nd Annual State Sunday School Convention which will convene this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in Fredericksburg and continue until Sunday night, are: Dr. H. U. Roop, of Eastern College, Mrs. Kate E. Randall and Mr. J. M. Bell, of Abury M. E. Church.

Among those who will take part in the discussions are: Rev. B. W. Kindly, State Secretary of Maryland; Rev. A. H. McKinney, author and lecturer, and formerly State Sunday School Secretary, of New York; Prof. R. E. Grimes, of Richmond College; and W. C. Pierce, Association, of Chicago, who will deliver the chief address at the Saturday night session.

Mix Color in Marriage.

Theodore Mason, white, and Mamie Taylor, colored, were married last night at 1108 Delaware avenue southwest, by Rev. W. Westray, colored, a former traveling evangelist, residing at that address. The groom is a laborer, formerly of Manassas, Va., who is of French-Canadian descent. He gave his age as 21. The girl resided formerly at Norfolk, Va., and she said she was 20 years old. Both have become residents of Washington.

They did not make their address known to the colored clergyman. When the latter was asked to-day for further details of the bridegroom and the ceremony he said he had never met the couple until they came to him night before last and asked to obtain a marriage license for them and to marry them. Rev. Mr. Westray said he assured himself by close questioning that the man was anxious to marry the girl. Washington Star, Apr. 23.—Upon diligent inquiry no such person as Theodore Mason has ever resided in Manassas.—Ed.

Miss Hattie Davis was the guest of Miss Rawena Merchant, in Dumfries, Friday.

Miss Violet Abel was the guest of Miss Margaret Barr Friday.

EVERYONE WELL PLEASED

Was the Verdict of Those Who Attended the School Entertainment at Cherry Hill.

A most delightful entertainment was given by the Cherry Hill School, assisted by Mr. G. R. Kincheloe, who is well-known in this county, on Tuesday of last week, for the benefit of the School's Civic Improvement and Good Roads Society.

The program was an extremely amusing as well as an instructive one and everyone appeared to have a good time. At the conclusion of the entertainment refreshments were served.

The patrons of the school feel greatly indebted to Miss Minnie Keys, its popular and efficient teacher, for the great interest she has taken in advancing her students and the good which she has accomplished in the neighborhood, and trust that she may labor with us for many years to come.

The fence around the school-house grounds has been commenced and will be completed as soon as the remainder of the necessary material is on the ground. Plans are on foot for a beautiful campus and a school garden by the beginning of the next school term.

Save Farm Labor Make it Produce More

With practically the same labor, horses, mules, wagons and implements, you can produce bigger crops from the same, or less acreage. It takes no more work to raise 60 to 90 bushels of corn, or one and a half to two bales of cotton, to the acre than it takes to make ordinary yields. It is not necessary to plant a larger acreage to get a bigger yield. Simply work and cultivate the same amount of land more thoroughly. You can produce bigger crops of

MANASSAS, VA., FRIDAY, APRIL 25, 1913

PHYSICIANS MUST BE REGISTERED.

Commissioner of the Revenue Ranaldue, has been notified by Secretary-treasurer Old of the Virginia Board of Medical Examiners, calling attention to the provision of the new medical act passed by the last General Assembly of Virginia, requiring that all practitioners of medicine shall register in the office of the clerk of the county or Corporation court in the district in which they reside, before they are permitted, under the law, to practice. Mr. Old has requested the co-operation of all commissioners of the revenue in enforcing the law by refusing to issue a license to any physician who has not complied with the law. There is a penalty of from $50 to $500 for failure to comply with the terms of the act, or a jail sentence or both.

If a physician has lost his certificate, information may be had of Dr. Old as to how a duplicate may be obtained. If he has never obtained a certificate from the State Board of Examiners, but has practiced in Virginia prior to January 1, 1885, a verification certificate will be issued on his own affidavit to that effect if he is a member of the State Medical Society; or to any physician who produces a license to practice medicine or a verified copy of the same, issued by some commissioner of revenue of this State prior to that date; or who on his own statement to that effect is vouched for by a member of the State Examining Board. A fee of 50 cents is charged for the verification certificate.

If the physician cannot comply with the above stated provisions he must go before the Judge of the Circuit Court and the Commonwealth's Attorney and produce evidence before them that he was practicing physician in Virginia prior to 1885. Their certificates to this effect must be sent to Dr. Old, with a fee of 50 cents, on receipt of which a verification certificate will be issued to him.

The same provision refers to osteopaths, except that the year is 1903 instead of 1885.

THE ENABLING ACT IS UP TO VOTERS.

An enabling act, or State-wide option, on the liquor question is now up to the voters of Virginia. Later it will be up to the State legislature. One thing is certain an enabling act will not be supported by a legislature made up of legislators who are opposed to the proposition. Only such men who recognize the justice of allowing the people to say whether or not liquor shall be sold in Virginia can be expected to vote for an enabling act.

The natural conclusion, therefore, is obvious that unless the voters of the State send men to the House of Delegates who will insist on urging the Senators to give to the people, that which they seek through their respective Representatives in the lower branch of the State Council, no enabling act will be obtained.

To send to the House of Delegates men opposed to the enabling act would be to endanger the favorable majority of the last House of Delegates and possibly tie the hands of the Anti-Saloon League with a majority opposed to such a measure.

For the temperance people of the State to hold the ground already gained—if not increase their majority, in the House—would be powerful evidence to the holdover Senate that the people want the enabling act; and with the advantages accruing from the Webb Law it is not at all unlikely that enough votes in the Senate would be changed to insure the passage of the enabling act by the body which defeated it in 1912.

In every phase of the case Delegate Meetez stood by the helm of the Anti-Saloon party and did what he could to guide the Anti-Saloon craft through the dangerous channel of the opposition.

We, therefore, need no apprehension as to the position "Chris" will take upon the question in the next Legislature. It is for the other counties of the State to select delegates as true and tried as has proven Prince William's Delegate to secure the enabling act—a purely democratic measure.

THIS Democratic administration should not indulge in conservation at the expense of conservation, as did its predecessors.

PNEUMONIA CURE HAS BEEN FOUND.

According to a special from New York to the Richmond Times-Dispatch, a serum for the cure of pneumonia has been developed at the Rockefeller Research Institute, in New York and will soon be given to the public, according to an announcement made by Dr. Clarence McWilliams, one of the medical experts attached to the institution.

Many tests lasting over a considerable portion of time have been made of the serum, and it has been established that it is a certain cure for all forms of pneumonia, according to the announcement. The discovery is considered to be one of the most important ever made in the treatment of disease.

The unknown obstacle which has for years baffled scientists in their search for a serum for cure of pneumonia, and the discovery of which enabled the bacteriologists of the Rockefeller Institute to perfect such a serum, was the finding a short time ago that the pneumococcus bacillus is responsible for pneumonia, and that this bacillus, or organism, consists of two separate strains, each of which causes pneumonia.

It was later learned that the disease, whether caused by one form of bacillus or the other, follows the same general line of progress, rendering them similar to all outward appearance, but it was found that a serum which would cure pneumonia resulting from one species of bacillus would not cure or appreciably affect the other form.

The serum was obtained in the usual way by inoculating a horse with gradually increasing quantities of pneumococcus bacillus until the animal was immune to doses of very much greater magnitude.

Following in the wake of Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis cure, and with as much optimism back of it as is now apparent in the case of the latter since the patients of his recent clinic in George Washington hospital have nearly all professed benefit, the pneumonia cure, coupled with that of the tuberculosis cure, will go a great way towards the conservation of health and in greatly reducing the death rate from these two, the most dreaded and fatal diseases.

TRESPASSING ON RAILWAY TRACKS

From statistics just issued showing the fatalities and accidents resulting from trespassing upon railway tracks, it is learned that 318 persons in this country met their death while traveling by rail. These were distributed among forty-seven states, the remaining state, Colorado, enjoying the enviable distinction of not killing a passenger on any of her twenty-seven roads. In the entire country one employe out of 330 especially exposed to accidents, was killed and one out of between eight and nine were injured. In Colorado, as elsewhere, most of those who were "killed or injured by trains" were either trespassers or other persons who were neither passengers nor employes.

This is but a repetition of the record of previous years, which establishes the fact that the greatest single cause of railway "fatality and accident" is trespassing on the railway companies right-of-way.

not by tramps alone, but in the greater number of cases by persons who find the railway track the shortest and most convenient cut to reach a given point. There should be a law which should be rigidly enforced, prohibiting railway track trespassing, not only for the protection of railway companies but for the protection of trespassers themselves.

IMPROVEMENT in public roads generally follows improvement in public officials.

FROM a recent change in the United States Weather Bureau it looks as though we are to have no Moore bad weather.

The splendid women of our country go so far in their efforts to reduce the cost of living as to discard portions of their wardrobe heretofore deemed indispensable.

No wine was served at the "National Welcome Breakfast" recently tendered Mr. Woodrow Wilson in Washington. Representatives of the W. C. T. U. were active in efforts to exclude liquors upon that most delightful occasion.

MOONSHINE coming in Greenville, S. C., Wednesday of last week, reported three inches of snow at Caesar's Head, twenty-five miles north of Greenville. They stated that the snow began falling on Monday and continued until nightfall.

THE entire plant of the Lynchburg News and also that of the Lynchburg Advance was destroyed by fire of unknown origin Monday morning, entailing a loss of $80,000 with an insurance of $70,000. Congressman Carter Glass was the owner of the property. Mr. Glass has purchased the Lynchburg Progress, a former afternoon paper, and within a short space of time had his papers in regular process of issue. The files of the News, dating from 1850, and the Advance from 1880 were soaked with water.

Mr. J. O. Judik sold Monday, through Messrs. Earhart & Rhodes of Nokesville, his farm of 37 1/2 acres of land situated near Manassas, to Mr. J. W. Hadrick, of Nokesville, for $7,000. Mr. and Mrs. Judik will leave here in two or three weeks for Baltimore county, Md., where they will reside upon a farm owned, for some length of time, by Mr. Judik.

Mr. W. H. Leary, of near Token, has met with a chapter of misfortunes within the past month. Last week he lost a valuable cow from overfeeding and in less than a month before he lost one equally as valuable. Besides these he has lost a valuable colt, a hog worth at least $7, closing the chapter by the loss of his pocket book containing between $5 and $10.

In a letter recently received by Mr. C. C. Leachman, of this place, from Mr. L. L. Lonas, a former resident of near Wellington, this county, and who now lives in Ohio, the writer took occasion to state that the damage by the recent floods to the county in which he lives would aggregate hundreds of thousands of dollars and that for fully one week he was cut off from the outside world by the suspension of the mail and railway service. He further stated that for five miles in length and one mile in width the country round about Dayton was inundated and the depot was flooded to a depth of several feet.

Mr. G. W. Wallace, of the Mailing Division of the Washington City postoffice, and who owns the property near Buckhall upon which stood the house recently destroyed by fire while occupied by Mr. R. W. Powell, has contracted with Mr. J. Boughton to rebuild a four-room house on the site occupied by the burned building, the work to begin as soon as material is on the ground.

It will, doubtless, be of interest to dairymen who ship milk into Washington, to know that the corporation counsel for the District of Columbia has ruled that those who ship milk or cream into the city, to be made into butter, must have the same permits that are required for milk shipped for straight consumption. The city health department will rigidly enforce the ruling.

The fourth annual meet of the Eighth District Athletic League will be held on Round Field Saturday, May 3rd. The following nine schools have paid up their dues and will send teams to the meet: Gordonsville, Culpeper, Orange, Warrenton, Morrisville, Calverton, Plains, Alexandria and Manassas. The local high school squad have been working out pretty regularly in the past month and are beginning to round into excellent form and should be on edge by the day of the meet.

Last Friday night Miss Marian Lewis entertained her classmates of the second year high school at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Lewis, near Manassas. The evening was spent in playing games upon the lawn, after which a delightful luncheon was served. An enjoyable feature of the evening was the straw ride out to and return from the Lewis home. Other guests of the evening were: Misses Eugenia Osbourn, Emily Johnson, Ella Heatwole, Charlotte Smith, Ruth Round and Mr. Wheatly Johnson.

Among the not yet announced engagements for this spring is that of Miss Anna Portner, of Manassas-Washington, and Congressman H. D. Flood, of Virginia. Miss Portner is an accomplished daughter of the late Robert Portner, and is spending the spring and summer months with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Payne Meredith, at the Gratton hotel in Washington. Miss Portner made her debut in Washington about six years ago, and she is very popular both in residential and official circles. Her fiance is one of the most talented and influential Virginia politicians.

Mr. J. S. Wilson and his son, Aylett, were summoned Saturday to appear before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia Tuesday morning in the case of the United States vs. Ezra P. Spence, on the charge of horse-breaking. The case grew out of the burglarizing by Spence of the boarding house of Mr. Wilson at 1014 15th street, n. w., in Washington, on the early part of the night of March 3. The accused had entered a back room of the lower floor of the premises and had collared Mr. Wilson's son, John, who had heard a noise and went to investigate, when Mr. Wilson appeared upon the scene and captured the thief and turned him over to the police.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

While Elwood Leary, son of W. H. Leary, of near Token, was driving a surry loaded with six children on their way to school last week, the horses took fright while he got out of the vehicle to open a gate and ran off, completely demolishing the surry and injuring all its occupants, some of them quite severely. Young Leary says he does not see how any of the children escaped death from the accident.

Mr. George D. Brandt, of Wisconsin, has purchased, through the Piedmont Farm Land Company, of this place, the Wenkous poultry farm and up-to-date bungalow property, one-half mile southeast of Manassas, and took possession of the same this week. Mr. Brandt expresses himself optimistically concerning this section of Virginia and THE JOURNAL welcomes him and his family in our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Metcalfe, of Sudlersville, Md., have been guests of Mr. Metcalfe's brother-in-law, Mr. W. H. Haydon, near Manassas, for the past week. Mr. Metcalfe owns one or more farms in the Catharph neighborhood, upon one of which he formerly resided for a number of years. On Wednesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Metcalfe celebrated at Mr. Haydon's the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage in the company of many of their relatives. While here, Mr. Metcalfe paid a visit to friends in and around Buckland.

Messrs. Leo P. Harlow and Carroll Pierce, both of Alexandria, were last week appointed receivers for the Emerson Engine Company, Incorporated, of Alexandria, by Judge J. B. T. Thornton, sitting in the circuit court in Manassas. The receivers will take charge of the affairs of the corporation under the direction of the court, and have given bond in the sum of $10,000. This action was taken following two applications for the appointment of a receiver for the concern, both of which were heard before the determination of the court.

The announcement in one of the Washington newspapers last week that Miss Lucy French, of Warrenton, had died in the home of the incurables and had been interred in the Warrenton cemetery, gave rise to the rumor upon the streets of Manassas Saturday that the subject of the mortuary notice was Miss Lucy French of Manassas. Upon investigation we find that the rumor has no foundation in fact, and that Miss Lucy French, formerly a resident of Manassas, where she has many warm friends, is alive and well in the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank, in Warrenton.

The third coop of homing pigeons to be liberated at this station was consigned to and liberated by Mr. E. D. Muddiman Sunday morning. The birds were from the homing loft of Mr. Walter Hixson, in Washington, and were liberated at 8:30 o'clock. A strong northwest wind greatly handicapped the birds from getting their bearing and for about a half hour they circled overhead at an altitude of five or six hundred feet, their plumage glistening beautifully in the bright sunlight, until finally they disappeared in a northeasterly direction for their home loft.

The team of Mr. W. G. Covington, while standing hitched to a wagon loaded with wood, between the crossing on Main street and Maddox & Byrd's store, Tuesday morning, and ran off. The wagon collided with Maddox & Byrd's delivery wagon, which was standing in front of their store and after carrying it several feet, turned it over on the sidewalk. The horse which was hitched to the delivery wagon was freed from the vehicle when the wagon to which the runaway team was hitched came in contact with the former.

A CARD. To the voters and citizens of Prince William County. I hereby give notice to the people of Prince William county that I shall be a candidate to succeed myself in the next house of delegates of Virginia. I believe my conduct in the last session warrants this. I ask you to examine the records as before in the journal of the House of 1912 to see where I stood and how I voted on all matters. Thanking you for the honor which you have already conferred upon me and the confidence reposed in me, and with the promise to give you in the future with all of the power and energies I can command, I am, very respectfully, yours, CHAS. J. METZKE.

Professor Whitmore, of Eastern, A Guest.

Prof. H. G. Whitmore, of Eastern College, attended, Tuesday, as the guest of the Semi-Centennial of the National Academy of Science, which is being held this week in the New National Museum in Washington. Among those who delivered addresses and submitting original papers were: Prest. Remsen, of Johns Hopkins University; Prest. Hadley, of Yale; Dr. Hole, of the Mount Wilson Solar Observatory, and Dr. Arthur Schanter, secretary of the Royal Society of London.

In the evening Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, Chief Justice and Mrs. White and the secretaries of the Smithsonian Institution, assisted by others, on behalf of the Regents of the Smithsonian, received in the Museum the members of the Academy and the guests.

Wedding at Baptist Church, Colored.

There was a swell wedding at the Manassas Baptist Church, colored, Wednesday night, when Charlie Robinson took upon himself a wife, in the person of Eva Nickens, the Rev. M. D. Williams, pastor of the church performing the marriage ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white voile over white satin, with white chiffon veil, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden-hair ferns. The happy couple left the church edifice to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The church was crowded to its full capacity, nearly one half the audience being white ladies and gentlemen of Manassas for whom separate pews were reserved.

Did Not Favor the Affirmative.

As one of the judges of the recent High School debate here on "Woman's Suffrage," please let me put myself on record as having voted in the negative. Be-ence of the judges before a report was agreed upon, I was astonished to learn afterward that the decision favored the affirmative. We were asked not for our sentiment on Woman's Suffrage, but for our judgment on that discussion.

I am unwilling for the many auditors who favored the negative to think that they had no recognition in that vote.

Very Respectfully, H. L. QUARLES.

Chalmers "Thirty-Six" Worth $1000 More But costs only $300 to $500 more than some other car you may be considering. First of all we want to impress upon the motor car buyers of this community that the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" is a good car. It is exceptionally good. It is worth more than passing notice. Because there is no other car at the price which offers so many fine features and so much real value. This car has a really wonderful motor, 4" bore and 5" stroke. It develops full 36 horsepower at low engine speeds and goes as high as 45 horse power when the motor is turning over rapidly. But the beauty of it is the great power at slow speeds. You know that means "she is there" on the hills. The four forward-speed transmission is an advanced feature hitherto found only on the highest priced cars. And the gears in Chalmers transmissions are ground to eliminate all noise. You positively cannot get this feature in any car under the Chalmers price - and in no other at this price either. Utmost comfort is found in the deep 11-inch upholstery, the Turkish cushions, the long wheel base (118"), big wheels and tires (36" x 4"), the long springs, the roomy body. In convenience, no car surpasses the "Thirty-Six." Every driving operation is controlled from the seat. A foot-button operates the efficient Chalmers compressed air starter. One simple switch controls the Gray & Davis lighting system. Carburetor is adjusted from the dash. Ignition switch, gasoline pump, light meter, horn and Warner speedometer are all on the cowl dash. The "Thirty-Six" is staunch and safe. Axles are of nickel steel; double drop frame unusually heavy; steering connections are all drop forgings; brakes of maximum strength and grip. In looks, style, grace, elegance no car offers more than the "Thirty-Six." It is a beautiful car in every line. And lastly the "Thirty-Six" is a factory-built car. Not assembled from parts bought here and there - but actually built by the company whose name it bears. There is one inspector to every 13 workmen in the Chalmers factory. That's your assurance that Chalmers cars are built right. Come see the "Thirty-Six" and learn for yourself why it is such a good car - such a wonderful value for the price, $1950 (fully equipped, f. o. b. Detroit.) Manassas Motor Car Co., Manassas, Va. CYNTHIA'S NEW FLAME

How the Old One Was Taught a Lesson.

By JOANNA SINGLE.

Flashing haste to go at home, Cynthia left the chattering women of the Ladies' Aid of Cloverton and struck out by herself on the shorter way across the fields. The babel of tongues, wearied her, and the endless talk of husbands and babies and cooking. Of the fifteen women she was the only unmarried one, and felt like an outsider.

from whom she had fled stood laughing before her, and in a way, never slow of speech, rattled her. "Well! I see now why you were in such a hurry to get home! How many beaux you got, any way? Don't blame you for sneakin' off to meet a good lookin' man like Robert Jackson, but say, who's the good-lookin' other fellow down the road apiece, who asked us the way to your house? There he goes now, up to your porch. We told him you was comin'. Who is he?" Cynthia laughed, but a queer presentiment gripped her.

ONE TOUCH OF COLOR

SMALL BITS RELIEVE SIMPLICITY OF SEASON'S COSTUMES.

If Preferred, the Most Audacious Brilliance is Strictly in Style, Though the Quieter Modes Are the Ones Generally Chosen.

For early season wear there are charming costumes made up of soft, supple broadcloths and cotton velvets. These models are, on the whole, simple of line. They have, perhaps, a touch of lace at the upper part of the bodice and sleeves, or a trimming line of buttons and loops or trimming on collar and cuffs of Bulgarian embroidery, to give a gay touch of color to the costume.

Never has this generation seen such brilliant and audacious colorings as are shown this spring in millinery and in the new dress fabrics, particularly among the silks. Parisian dressmakers and milliners revel in this sort of thing, but such revels are dangerous for the designer who has not the French color sense.

There are all shades of red, green, yellow and blue which are entirely new. Then there is a soft white with a violet tinge in it which may be called, perhaps, a pastel, washed-out blue.

At a showing of imported models at a recent opening was a frock of Oriental red satin with revers and girdle of greenish blue satin. The buttons which trimmed the front of the gown were of the green-blue satin. Over the revers were frills of soft cream lace.

There were models also which were of less striking color schemes, or were made entirely of one color excepting a trimming of soft cream or white lace. One admirable frock, which is shown in the large sketch, was of apricot broadcloth. The collar, vest and lower part of the sleeves were of white crepe de chine. The buttonholes and glass buttons which trimmed the bodice and sleeves were of the apricot shade. Bands of the material trimmed the bodice and formed the girdle and edged the lower part of the sleeves. Flat bows of the material finished the girdle at the front, and band trimming outlined the low-cut bodice. There was a tunic in godet shape slightly raised at the front. The undergarment was crossed over at the front and trimmed with large buttons of the material.

The new shades of green shown this spring are trying to the average woman, but have possibilities of being softened by means of white trimming at the neck and of being toned down by touches of black satin or velvet. A model, for instance, was of green satin trimmed with white frills at the neck and wrists and black satin bands. The bodice has the long shoulder effect and was trimmed at the front by small tucks and material buttons. The skirt was draped at one side and had the skirt effect given by the front toward the back.

A coat of green brocade had also some touches of black on the collar and cuffs. The lapels were of cream white cloth and the lower revers were also of the cream white cloth.

MARY DEAN.

Table Simpler. With the passing of formal dinners has gone the table overloaded with china, glass and silver, save an occasional change. Instead of the numerous dishes and yards are now used a few beautiful pieces of necessary tableware.

LONG SHOULDER A FEATURE

Distinctive Mark of the New Blouses—Robespierre Collar Also Much in Evidence.

The long shoulder is one of the features of the new blouse. It extends well below the shoulder, about one-third the distance to the elbow, and there it is attached to the sleeves by a flat double seam. Shirtwaist sleeves are long, many with a frill falling over the hand.

The odd sleeve is seen in a few of the lingerie blouses, the body being a plain white voile, the sleeve having small embroidered designs.

The Robespierre collar is seen in various forms, but is more suited to the everyday blouse than to a more formal gown. It makes satisfactory finish for blouses that open in front, especially for wearers who desire a feeling of freedom at the neck.

The net gimples is much used where the open neck is not convenient or becoming. Many of the more elaborate blouses have the waistcoat effect. Narrow vests of net are used, tucked and straight with a row of washable buttons, or plain and crossed in surplice fashion.

Quite the most striking innovation seen in blouses is one of voile. This has a double-breasted, low-cut waistcoat, of ruffled striped voile with four white pearl buttons as a fastening and finish. From the neck to the top of the waistcoat it was filled in with tucked voile. It had all the appearance of a man's waistcoat and shirt front, but the materials were so soft as to relieve it of any possible mannish effect. Worn with a coat opened in front, it had the effect of a waistcoat attached to the coat itself.

RETURN TO THE FOOTSTOOL

Woman's Vanity, or Love of Comfort, Has Brought Back Style So Popular Some Years Ago.

What is it, a desire for comfort or woman's vanity, that accounts for the increasing popularity of the footstool? Certainly we are a comfort loving people; formality and stiffness repel us. Certainly, too, the dainty footgear of womanhood seeks a means to show itself, and where can this be so well accomplished as on one of these footstools, which are in themselves works of art? At all events these luxurious necessities of our grandmothers have apparently come back to stay.

Footstools always have been made in the various French periods of furniture, for France is the home of the modern footstool, and no room furnished in any of the historic French styles would be complete without accompanying footstool. But within the last year or so footstools have been demanded for use with every sort of furniture, and today the best dealers meet this demand with a bewildering assortment.

One of the most serviceable footstools is shown with a mahogany frame in straight, simple lines, with red, brown or green leather cushion. Tapestry in various dull hues and upholstery of other sorts of color that would blend with the color scheme of almost any living room are also used to cover the cushions of these useful footstools.

USEFUL ON WRITING TABLE

Novelty in Small Box to Hold Accessories Always More or Less in Common Use.

This little novelty, for placing upon the writing table and for holding pens, pencils, sealing-wax, scissors, etc., was made with the aid of the outer portions of three empty boxes.

In making it, in the first place, the boxes must be arranged in the manner illustrated in the small sketch of the right and securely glued together and left to dry. They are then covered with pale pink silk on which the floral design shown has been embroidered and the interior of the boxes lined with white silk.

The next step is to cut out a piece of thick cardboard about an inch larger each way than the base of the boxes, and this is covered with pink silk turned over, at the edges and fastened on underneath with some strong adhesive, but prior to doing this, the boxes are securely sewn in position to the center of the material.

A glance at the sketch will explain this, and also the way in which this novel and decorative little article is of great use.

Apron and Bonnet Watch. The aprons in blue and pink having edges bound with tape and embroidered in white with little sun hats to match are especially suitable for children who will be fortunate enough to spend their summers at sea or in resorts. The little hats are made with small tam-o'-shanter crowns and narrow drooping brims. The crowns are usually embroidered on the top and the edges of the brims are scalloped. Ribbon is draped around the base of the crown with rosettes or bows on either side.

The Holy Spirit. By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D. Dean of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

TEXT: "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" Acts XIX, 2

Paul met certain disciples in Ephesus whom he first supposed to be Christian disciples, but in whose testimony there was that which led to the inquiry, "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" It is evident, therefore, from these words and from the sequel that it is one thing to be a disciple, and another thing to receive the Holy Spirit.

This brings up the whole question as to the relation of the Holy Spirit to the disciple, or the believer in Christ.

1. The personality of the Holy Spirit. We should keep in mind that the Holy Spirit is a divine person. Personality consists in self-consciousness and free will, and that the Holy Spirit possesses personality in this sense is evident from three things:

(a) He has the attributes of personality; (b) He does the works of a personality; (c) He has the names of a personality. Speaking of his attributes, there is one which, more than any other, helps to a realization of his personality. His attribute of love, which is referred to only in Romans 15:26. Do you know that the Holy Spirit loves you, as a believer in Christ, with a love in some sense distinct from that either of the Father or the Son? How marvelously near that brings him to our hearts! The Father's love manifested itself in the giving of his Son; the Son's love in the offering of himself upon the cross, and the Holy Spirit's love in taking up his abode in us.

2. The indwelling of the Holy Spirit. This brings us to the second thought, viz., the indwelling of the Holy Spirit. That indwelling was promised in John 14:16-17. He had dwelt "with" the disciples thereafter, but he was to dwell "in them" by and by. He had been as a power acting on them from without, but thereafter he was to influence them from within. The promise was renewed again in Acts 1:4-5, where the indwelling was spoken of as the "baptism" of the Holy Spirit. The realization came on the day of Pentecost, when the disciples were indwelt, baptised and indwelt with the Holy Spirit at one and the same time.

This transaction, however, as far as the first two terms are concerned, was not limited to the church assembled on that day, but applies to the whole church since. Such would seem to be suggested by 1. Corinthians 12:12-14, where 20 years after Pentecost we are taught that as believers "we were all baptised by one Spirit into one body." What "body" is meant is not the body of Christ, the church? And what "baptism" if not that "one baptism" on the day of Pentecost?

3. The filling of the Holy Spirit. But while the first two terms of that transaction on the day of Pentecost, the indwelling and the baptism (which are one) were for the whole church potentially, and for all time, yet the same does not apply to the third, the filling of the Holy Spirit. There is but one indwelling, but many fillings. We gather this from Acts 5:21, where the same persons who were "filled" on the day of Pentecost were re-filled on a subsequent occasion. And again in Acts 8 when men are to be chosen to the office of deacon it must be by those who are "full of the Holy Spirit," as if some were thus spiritually equipped while others were not. It is something corresponding to this, therefore, which Paul has in mind in our text, when he said: "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" The reception of the Holy Ghost on their part resulted in an endowment of power, but in other places of the Acts, notably the fourth chapter, it is seen to have resulted not only in the spirit of power, but of unity and love. It is, his that we ministers, evangelists and Christian workers need first that the whole church needs in order to accomplish her mission for Jesus Christ on earth.

How may the fillings of the Holy Spirit be received by the believer on the Lord Jesus Christ? Prayer, obedience and faith seem to be the only conditions, if they may be called conditions. Speaking of faith, there is a sense in which the gift of the Holy Spirit should be received by us, as an act on our part as that by which we are enabled to be filled by Jesus Christ; but this faith is not likely to be experienced, where obedience is not present. "God giveth the Holy Spirit to them that obey him." Peter says (Acts V.), and this agrees perfectly with the teaching of the Old Testament in Proverbs 1:7: "Turn ye at my reproof, behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you." Nor is this obedience merely obediential with some great thing, but it is to be united to the little things.

ENJOYABLE BOX PARTY

Audience Kept in Uproar of Mirth From Start to Finish—Quilt Sold at Auction...

The box party, given by the students of Cannon's Branch school last Friday night, for the benefit of the School Improvement League fund, was largely attended and greatly enjoyed. So much humor was injected into the specialties that smiles were taken on their faces which could not be washed off in several days. The audience was simply taken by storm, by "Cabbage Hill School," "Taking the Train To-morrow," and "Dr. Cure-all." The characters were faultless in their respective roles, keeping the densely-packed school room in an uproar of mirth.

A beautiful quilt, made by the students of the school, was sold at auction to Mr. S. G. Harley for $3.75, the auctioneer, Hon. C. J. Meetze, keeping the bidders in painful suspense by his humorous remarks and his lingering decision on bids.

One of the most unique features of the occasion was the auctioning of boxes containing two supporters each with the understanding that the successful bidder should invite a gentleman or lady friend, as the case might be, to join in the luncheon. The receipts of the evening amounted to about $32. Miss Mary Rosenberger, the teacher of the school, deserves much credit for her efficient management of the affair.

John T. Muddiman's Will.

The short time elapsing between the advice of the death of Mr. John T. Muddiman and the hour of our going to press last Friday, precluded the possibility of our giving more details of his death in our last week's issue.

From the statement of Mr. Geo. Muddiman, brother of the deceased, who attended the funeral, we learn that the deceased contracted a severe case of pneumonia while cementing a cellar, and in spite of the skill of his family physician he grew gradually worse, death coming to the relief of his sufferings on the seventh or eighth day of his illness. Realizing that he had not long to live Mr. Muddiman sent for his attorney and a stenographer and in their presence dictated his will. His real estate, valued at about $6,000, was left to his widow during her lifetime and then to be divided among his nearest of kin.

He carried $3,000 life insurance which together with several hundred dollars in bank and due by notes and account, goes solely to his widow.

NOTES FROM CHERRY HILL

Dr. H. Roland Lickle, State Health Inspector, visited our school on Tuesday of last week and gave us a very interesting and instructive address on several of the most important diseases of the day.

We were very favorably impressed with the information Dr. Lickle imparted to us and we trust that his instructions may be strictly carried out.

The following is the honor roll for our school for the month of March-April: Winfield Dewey, Allen Misteard, Franklin Strobert, Luther Pearson, Mabel Arrington, Audrey Calvert, Lucy Davis, Eva Davis, Ruby Holtzclaw, Ruth Dewey, Mary Pearson, Naomi Pearson, Sue Snapp and Helen Strobert.
