ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

COUNTY SPELLING MATCH REV. MANSFIELD INJURED

Deplorable Climax Results In Words Pronounced Alike But Differently Defined.

The spelling match of Friday, April 25, will long be remembered as a red letter day by the children of Prince William county. Before the hour set for the primary match the assembly in the room of the Ruffner building was crowded with contestants, spectators and officials, and the excitement grew steadily as the crowd increased. The little tots were lined up first, two long lines of them, each with a gaily-colored badge proclaiming the school represented. They sped for the better part of an hour, the contest narrowing down at the last to two little girls representing Woodbridge and Catharpin, respectively. When the little girl from Woodbridge finally went down, the cup and medal was awarded to little Miss Eva Hanson, of Catharpin, the smallest of the contestants.

Promptly at 10:30 the spellers for the second match were lined up for this line and several spellers of known proficiency, each with scores of enthusiastic supporters determined to win. One by one the number dwindled, until at last only four schools were left, Catharpin, Ocoquan, Haymarket and Groveton. Miss Martha Capner for Haymarket and Miss Annie Laurie Swartz for Groveton spelled nobly, but finally succumbed leaving only Miss Margaret Hammill from Ocoquan and Mr. Wade Smith from Catharpin. "phosphorous" was given out and spelled by Miss Hammill. "phosphorous" the word was declared missed and passed to Mr. Smith, who spelled it as given in the speller. The cup was then awarded to him, giving Catharpin the double glory of winning both matches.

Unfortunately for all parties the match was not without serious flaws. It had been understood before the match that when two ways of spelling a word existed and one was given correctly by a contestant, the word should not be spelled a miss even if the other way gave only one way. This had been followed in several instances, but the fact that "phosphorous" is a collective derived from the dictionaries was overlooked at the time, so that Miss Hammill went down on a word that was not, according to the rules, missed.

A protest was filed, by Mr. Hayden, principal of Ocoquan, when the mistake was discovered and the following day delegations from the two schools, with two members of the original committee, met at Catharpin to discuss the matter. Mr. Hayden's claim that Miss Hammill had not missed a word was supported by the committee members present, but the Catharpin representative took the view that the matter had been decided by the officials the day before and that it was too late to protest a matter already settled. Upon this ground and therefore to spell it out. As they were within their rights and as no one had authority to reverse the action of the day before, the matter was left as it was. The committee wishes to assume their share of the responsibility for the misunderstanding, as they were called away from the match by other obligations.

Sustains Broken Leg While Assisting in Moving Baggage Truck Monday Morning.

While voluntarily assisting baggage-master Harry Hewitt in transferring a truck loaded with cans of milk and trunks from the Manassas Branch train, No. 218, Monday morning, Rev. T. W. Mansfield sustained a broken leg between the ankle and knee of his right limb from the fall of a trunk from the truck as it was jostled in crossing the northbound track.

Clark Johnson, seeing the difficulty Mr. Hewitt was laboring under in trying to get his heavily-loaded truck across the tracks, went to his assistance, and in passing Rev. Mansfield also noticed the difficulty and volunteered his assistance.

Mr. Hewitt, realizing the danger of jolting the trunks off the truck as it was about to be pushed across the northbound track, gave a warning to his assistants to watch out for the danger. In heeding the warning Mr. Mansfield let go the truck, and while he was in the act of stepping aside one of the trunks fell upon him with the result as stated.

Drs. B. F. Iden and Son, B. F. Jr., rendered the necessary surgical attention to the injured man and he was taken to his boarding-house on Lee avenue.

AN INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS

Mrs. Julian Heath Address Precautions To Sell Direct To Local Leagues.

Mrs. Julian Heath, president of the National Housewives' League, spoke at 11 a. m., on Friday, on the establishment of better relations between producer and consumer. An audience of about 200 members of the Farmers' Institute and Woman's Auxiliary nearly filled the court-house and listened with great pleasure and profit to Mrs. Heath's address. Mrs. Heath told in an interesting and instructive manner of the efforts of the Housewives' League to keep down high prices in New York city. She told how they were able to reduce the price of eggs by refusing to pay fresh-egg price for storage eggs, or their refusal to trade with dirty stores or with merchants who give short weights. She told how effective the demand had been for lower prices and sanitary conditions. She told of the various successful attempts to buy direct from the producer, and urged those who have anything to sell to try and sell it to the local leagues in nearby cities, such as Washington, New York and Philadelphia.

Theatricals Tomorrow.

The Senior class of 1913, of the Culpeper High School, will present the comedy, "What Happened to Braggs," in Conner's Hall, tomorrow night, May 3d. The cast is a strong one and the play will undoubtedly be finely presented.

The school board decided to play last November entitled "Polly in Politics" which was cordially received by a large audience. Admission will be 35 and 25 cents, and we predict a successful performance by these clever amateurs, and trust that a large audience will greet the players tomorrow night. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the Girls' Quartette of Eastern College.

NEARLY 100 CONTESTANTS

Will Compete For Honors in the Eighth District Meet On Round Field Tomorrow.

With 77 athletes already entered and two schools still to send in their lists, the fourth annual meet of the Eighth District Athletic League, which will be held on Round Field Saturday, promises to be the biggest thing in an athletic way ever held in Northern Virginia and one of the biggest meets held in the state this year. Each of the ten events will be closely contested, there being at present from ten to fourteen men in every contest.

From the showing made at Lexington last Saturday by Alexandria, The Plains and Manassas, as well as the marks made by Orange last fall, the meet here will bring together some of the best scholastic athletes in Virginia. Both Spilman of The Plains and Round of Manassas qualified for the final in the century dash at Washington and Lee. Round coming in fifth and Spilman sixth in a race in which The Plains runner was penalized a yard for false start. H. Spilman of The Plains came in fourth in the 440 at Lexington and may be depended upon to make that event interesting down here while he is also almost sure to place in the shot put.

In the distance races Alexandria has a good pair of runners in Pohl and Sullivan, who are sure to force somebody to break their records here in order to win. At the same time the showing made by the athletes of the local school at Lexington gives ground for the belief that when all is over Manassas again will be engraved on the trophy cup of the league. Round secured second in the high hurdles and third in the 220-yard dash, while Moon came in third in the shot put and discus throw. Williams helped along with a third place in the low hurdles and narrowly missed qualifying in the broad jump by the scant margin of two inches. Button brought in three more points by a second place in the half mile, and Capt. Haydon brought in two more points in fourth place in discus and pole vault.

Altogether, Manassas made a team showing worthy of notice and while the High School boasts no stars on its line-up this year, these fine men with Arey, Green, Blackwell and Steele make up the best balanced and probably the strongest all-round team that the local school has ever sent into a meet.

Altogether everyone who comes out to Round Field next Saturday at 1 p. m., is sure to get their money's worth before the meet is over. Capt. Peter holds the high mark for number of men entered, 19 athletes having been obtained from our sister town, Alexandria comes next with 13 wearers of the maroon and white, while Warrenton, The Plains, Orange, Calverton and Manassas help to swell the total with smaller groups of men.

Cherry Hill School Closes.

Those receiving prizes were: Eva Davis, Windfield Dewey and Mabel Arrington in eighth grade; Lucy Davis, 6th; Ruth Dewey and Mary Pearson, 3rd; and Andrey Calvert, 2nd.

HONORS TO MANASSAS HIGH

Made Best Record at Day High School in Scholastic Meet.

Twenty schools were entered from the states of North Carolina, Virginia, District of Columbia, Maryland and New York in the interscholastic track meet at Washington and Lee University, Saturday. Castle Heights, Roanoke High, Staunton Military Academy, Western High, Brooklyn Polytechnic and Manassas High Schools were the greater point winners.

The features of the meet were the mile race by Davenport, of Roanoke; the pole vaulting by Dutkembly and the swift work of Jones, of Western High, in the dashes.

Manassas made the best record of any High School in the contest. The only schools that stood ahead of Manassas High was a preparatory school in Brooklyn and another in Tennessee, the former scoring 24 and the latter 18 points. The fact that Manassas stood third among the whole aggregation is quite creditable and is hailed with much pleasure by Manassas fans. Another feature, showing well for Manassas, is the fact that each of the five members of the team made scores. Round scored five, Moon four, Button three, Hayden two, and Williams two. Mr. Wheatley Johnson, the coach for Manassas High, deserves great credit for his excellent training of the team and his executive ability in arranging details.

The events in which our local schools won honors are as follows:

440-yard run—The Plains High School, 3d.
440-yard Spilman, The Plains High School, 4th.
880-yard—Button, Manassas High, 2d.

DEATH OF ROBERT H. HOOE

After Many Years of Usefulness He Laid Down Life's Burdens Sunday Night.

Mr. Robert Howson Hooe, after several months illness of a complication of diseases, died in his home near New Baltimore, Fauquier county, Sunday night, in the seventy-seventh year of his age.

ROBERT HOWSON HOOE

The funeral took place from the home Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. V. H. Council of the Baptist Church of New Baltimore officiating, and interment was in the family lot in the Manassas cemetery, at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The pallbearers, honorary, were: Messrs. John M. Hooe, son; J. P. Mangel, Geo. W. Johnson, H. F. Lyon, W. T. Whitson and Capt. Jas. E. Herbell.

and the active pallbearers, all of whom were young and other near relatives, were: Messrs. John M. Hooe, Robert V., Daniel F. and Howson B. Hooe, Thomas S. Meredith and Dr. J. Cabell Meredith.

The deceased is survived by three sons: John M. Hooe, Deputy sheriff for Prince William county, and Robert V. Hooe and Daniel P. Hooe, of near New Baltimore, and by four sisters: Mrs. Whitfield Nutt and Mrs. B. F. Iden, of Manassas, and Mrs. Thos. J. Smith and Mrs. W. G. Iden, of Washington, and by two brothers: Messrs. Howson Hooe, of near Nokesville, and Peter Hooe, of Buckingham county, this State.

Besides his efficient services as Commissioner of the Revenue for upper Prince William county for a number of years, Mr. Hooe filled many other offices of public trust with marked ability, untiring energy and courtesy.

His uniform kindness and personal magnetism placed him in the position of a most formidable competitor for any office within the gift of the voters of his native county, for everyone liked, and spoke in the highest commendation of "Bob" Hooe.

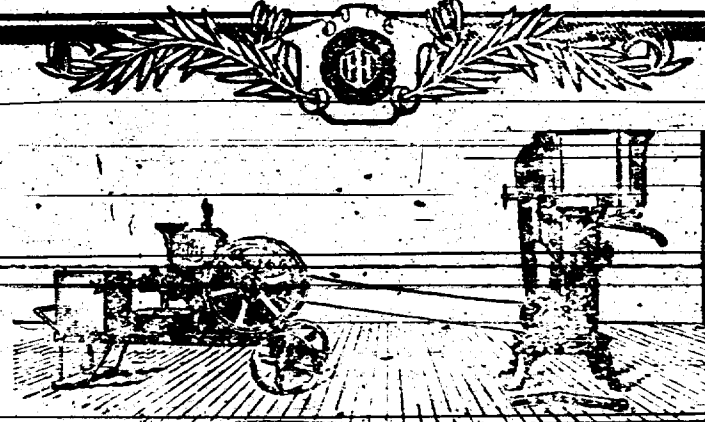

The Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., and Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, attended the obsequies in a body, and among the floral tributes laid upon the grave was a handsome wreath of Magnolia leaves, tied with ribbons of the Confederate colors—the tribute adopted by the Virginia Division of the U. D. C.—was tenderly placed thereon by the hands of Mrs. W. W. D. D. D., president of the Manassas Chapter of the first named society.

When Company A. (Ewell Guards) commanded by Capt. J. B. Norville, was organized in Brentsville, in June, 1861, Mr. Hooe joined that company as a private for one year, at the expiration of which time he re-enlisted at Yorktown in the spring of 1862 for the remainder of the war and served with distinction in many bloody

"That's Just What I've Been Looking For"

While we were getting the opinion of farmers on our new cream separator power outfits, one of them said: "I have been looking for such a combination as this. I need an engine with that kind of a gear on it to slow down the speed. There are a dozen small machines on my farm for that engine to run. I want that outfit."

This is a sample of the enthusiasm with which our new power outfits have been received. The outfit consists of an

IHC Cream Separator

Dairymaid, Bluebell, or Lily

and a one-horsepower back-gear IHC engine. The engine is mounted on a portable truck, and can be used for any farm-work to which power can be applied. The back gear adjustment runs at the proper speed to operate any hand turned machine.

The working parts on IHC cream separators are accurately made and the bearings are well lubricated. The shafts and spindle are the strongest used in any separator. The shaft and spindle are made of the best material, but have no contact with the milk. The fact is between the steel spindles and phosphor bronze bushings. The gears are spirally cut so that there is no lost motion between them. They are entirely protected from grit and milk, but are easily accessible for cleaning.

See the local dealers who handle these machines. You can get catalogues and full information from them, or, write

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Secures Eminent and Influential Members On Its New Board of Trustees.

To the Editor of The Manassas Journal, Manassas, Va.

The Manassas Industrial School for Colored Youth is most fortunate in having secured as members of the proposed New Board of Trustees, Mr. George Gordon Battle, and Mr. Christian E. Gudebrod, both of New York city, and both warm personal friends of Dr. Percy Stickney Grant. Mr. Battle is one of the leaders of the New York bar, and member of the firm of Marshall, Battle & O'Gorman. Mr. James O'Gorman, one of Mr. Battle's business partners, is the Junior Senator from New York state, and a very influential factor in the present political administration, while Mr. H. Snowden Marshall, the other partner, has just been appointed by President Wilson, United States District Attorney for New York. This brief statement of Mr. Gordon's legal connections is a sufficient guarantee to the school of the wisest advisement in all matters of policy and administration. But better than this is the fact that Mr. Battle is a Southern gentleman with large land holdings near Orange, Va., and understands perfectly our local conditions and the best Southern sentiment. He is also closely connected with the leading men of this state.

Mr. Christian E. Gudebrod is widely known throughout the country as a manufacturer of high grade silks, and has, on this account, an enviable business standing and reputation. Fortunately, he also, like Mr. Battle, has two extensive estates in Virginia, not far from the school, and is intensely interested in the agricultural work of our institution. Mr. Gudebrod is himself a very successful apple grower, disposing of thousands of barrels of this fruit annually.

Inasmuch as these two gentlemen spend a part of each year in Virginia, and are identified with the best interests of the Commonwealth, they will be able to come with some regularity to inspect the work of the school.

Two of the new colored Trustees are Mrs. Emma P. Diggs, of Leesburg, Va., and Mr. Edward Howe, of Catlett, Va. Mrs. Diggs is a vigorous and successful worker among the colored societies and fraternities of Northern Virginia and has by very practical help given evidence of a sincere interest in the progress of the institution. She is moreover a woman of personality, and clear-minded enthusiasm, well considered by both white and colored.

Mr. Howe has been for years one of our most earnest and consistent friends, although not officially connected with the work. His labors for a score of years for our young people through the colored Sunday Schools of this part of the state have been unremitting. A tax-paying citizen of unimpeachable character and a trusted government employee, Mr. Howe has the unqualified confidence of the community. Withal he is a man of high principle, full of the spirit of progress.

As long as we can continue to find friends like these, we shall not fail of success.

Respectfully yours,
LESLIE PINCKNEY HULL

The appointment of Mr. Samuel Jordan Graham, of Pittsburg, as assistant Attorney-General for the state of Pennsylvania is of interest to Virginians. Mr. Graham is a native of Lexington and was graduated from Washington and Lee University.

MANASSAS, VA., FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1913

SAVE OUR LAND FROM THE JAPS.

Representative Thomas U. Sisson, of Mississippi, who made such a favorable impression upon his hearers when he delivered his magnificent oration upon Memorial day in Manassas last year, in warlike tones defended in the House, Monday, the right of the state of California to prohibit Japanese from becoming landowners in that state, and asserted that this nation should maintain "with our sacred lives and honor" its principles regarding the admission and restrained rights of aliens.

Mr. Sisson is, unqualifiedly, a State Rights Democrat of the deepest dye and his speech was greeted with an outburst of applause from the Democratic side of the House and from the galleries. His speech bristled with criticism of the Japanese protest. He contended, in sublime eloquence, that the Federal Government had no right by treaty or otherwise to attempt to abolish the land laws of any state. One of the most sacred obligations of the Federal Government, said Mr. Sisson, is to protect the states in their rights. No citizen of any other country, said he, has a right to own land in Japan; they lease it, but the title to it will never pass from a Japanese to the subject of another nation. It will become Japan, said the eloquent speaker, to protest against the enactment of similar legislation by the good people of California.

Rather than surrender the rights involved in the California controversy, Mr. Sisson dramatically exclaimed, "I would spend the last life and the last drop of blood, and would rather impoverish our country for one hundred generations."

"If we are to have the alternative of war or submission to Japan's arrogant demands," indignantly exclaimed the speaker, "then I am for war. What would Washington say were he confronted by this same proposition? Shall the Japanese enjoy our prosperity, the fruits of our land and the learning of our institutions and yet not be forced to defend and sustain them?"

"No greater misfortune could befall California or any other state than to have our lands pass into the hands of aliens. If we throw down the bars of immigration and permit the yellow race to enter, with equal rights, China and other nations in a few years would match citizenship with our people with a greatly increased number."

GIVE DEMOCRATIC TARIFF A TRY-OUT.

Efforts are being made in Congress to embarrass or modify the tariff program as laid out by the Democratic party along the lines suggested and urged by President Wilson. There should be no such hindrance or sympathy with any such restraint, whether by high tariff Democrats, Republicans or Progressives. The Democratic party was swept overwhelmingly, into power on a platform pledging a reduction of the tariff on Free Trade principals as near as would be consistent with a lack of utter disaster to the industry, the business and the wage earnings of this country.

The tariff question is a difficult proposition to solve, to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, but if it can be so far solved as to shift the burden from the masses, those least able to bear it, and place the main weight upon the chosen few who have grown and fattened on the present high schedule mark, the effort will have been well worth while.

NEW EAR, EYE AND THROAT INFIRMARY.

In the presence of a great number of persons prominent in the business, professional and social life of Washington, together with many others, the Washington Ear, Eye and Throat Hospital in the old Logan Home, No. 4, Iowa Circle, was formally opened Saturday night. Much interest is manifested in the new institution, which now has beds for ten patients. The opening was a brilliant affair. The walls of the reception and other rooms of the institution were banked with palms, ferns and cut flowers, a... American flags were festooned about the building with pleasing effect. This institution doubtless will be hailed with much satisfaction by those people of Prince William county who may feel the need of such an up-to-date specialist institution within such short distance of their home.

FRIEDMANN CURE GROWING IN FAVOR.

The faith in Dr. Friedmann's tuberculosis cure has been strengthened to such extent as to induce the Eisner-Mendelssohn Company of New York to pay the German savant $125,000 cash and $1,800,000 in stock for the exclusive control of the Friedmann culture. The stock is to be in a capitalization of $5,400,000 for the establishment of thirty-six Friedmann institutes in a like number of states in this country.

One of the principal provisions of the contract with the Eisner-Mendelssohn Company is that those who are not able to pay a moderate charge for treatment shall be treated absolutely free.

The institutes will be established in every state except such in which tuberculosis is practically unknown, and they will be conducted along the same line as the Pasteur institutes, in that patients will merely come to them for treatment and not remain at the institution.

In this state the Virginia Reel invariably follows a too copious indulgence in mint juleps.

SENATOR OVERMAN treats the Civil Service rather uncivily.

HE who takes advantage of one's past misfortunes for selfish gain, will sooner or later meet his just measure of dire retribution.

MIXING oil and water is quite as difficult as comenting friendship between balmy spring and the frigidity of winter.

THE newspaper periodicals of Lynchburg suffered loss by fire for the second time in two weeks, when the Virginian office was damaged Monday, to the extent of $20,000.

PERHAPS President Wilson, to even up matters, will offer the disappointed applicants for the Manassas postoffice a job of picking the blossoms off the century plant at $10,000 a year.

SENATOR THOS. S. MARTIN has introduced in Congress a bill providing for $50,000 for a monument in Washington to the memory of Mathew Fountaine Maury, eminent Virginia scientist and "path-finder of the seas."

THAT Omaha man who was divorced from his artist wife last week, and who now asserts that marriage is a failure, should congratulate himself that he was not prosecuted for bigamy for living with a woman already wedded to art.

WHEN the Manassas Agricultural High School boy assures his father this spring that he is going to make two ears of corn grow on the old farm this year where only one has, heretofore grown, the assurance doubtless will be shocking news to
"the old man" this fall.

PERHAPS the chief reason why editors of country newspapers are overrun with spring poetry is the popular misconception of what poetry really is.
The average bard thinks that all he or she has to do is to make heart rhyme with cart and maid rhyme with lemonade, and so on, and the poem is complete.

MR. D. F. O'NEIL, who is in charge of convict camps for State Good Roads Department, has arranged for the establishment of a camp in Stafford county near Hartwood church, on the Warrenton road. After work has been completed in that locality the camp will be moved to Garrison-ville. Get busy brother Meeze and have the camp keep moving in the direction of Prince William county.

THE Fredericksburg Free Lance announces the fact that two years ago Mrs. Charles Mowbray, of Albemarle county, this state, presented her husband with two girls and a boy, and that on last Saturday the stork again visited the mowbray home, leaving two boys and a girl. The father, as the story goes, is a prosperous apple grower of Albemarle. We think it would be well for some of Mr.
Mowbray's influential friends to advise him to quit the apple industry and engage in the pair business.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, of Chicago, Ill., son of the author of "The Uncle Remus" stories, has purchased the Loudoun Mirror, of Leesburg, and will assume charge of that periodical on May 15. Mr. Harris, who has been the manager of the Uncle Remus Magazine of Chicago for the past few years, and who is a son-in-law of the late Col. E. B. White, of Leesburg, will occupy the editorial chair under the new management of the Mirror. Should Mr. Harris prove a good newspaper man as his illustrious father a humorist, the Mirror will not suffer any loss of prestige by the change of its ownership and management.

conflicts until he lost his left arm in the second battle of Cold Harbor, where his company lost heavily in killed and wounded on May 30, 1864. After spending three months in Winder hospital, in Richmond, he was detailed as Quartermaster-Sergeant of his regiment, serving in that capacity until honorably discharged for disability, February 1, 1865. When his company went to the front it was assigned to the "bloody" 49th Virginia Regiment, Pegram's Brigade and "Stonewall" Jackson's Corps. Besides numerous minor engagements he participated in the famous battles of First and Second Manassas, Williamsburg, Seven-days-fight around Richmond, Cedar Mountain, Antietam or Sharpsburg, the bloody engagement at Marye's Heights at Fredericksburg and the bloody conflict at Cold Harbor.

Soon after the close of the war Mr. Hood married Miss Bettie Meredith, one of Prince William's most accomplished and popular young ladies, who was a daughter of the late Thos. S. Meredith and a sister of the late Congressman E. E. Meredith and of Dr. J. Cabell Meredith, of Manassas, Thos. S. Meredith, of near Gainesville, and Richard Meredith, of Texas.

In the death of R. H. Hood his sons have lost a kind, sympathetic and indulgent father, whose counsel was their guide; the community in which he resided a warm-hearted and faithful friend and neighbor, and the county a useful citizen who was alive to every important issue affecting public interest for weal or for woe. When the large concourse of admiring friends and relatives stood, with bared heads, around the open sepulcher and saw all that was mortal of their faithful friend and companion lowered to its last resting place, the thought was uppermost in the minds of all that a good man had gone to his last reward. May he rest in peace.

VERY ENJOYABLE EVENT

Commencement of Occoquan School Well Attended And Much Interest Manifested.

The first annual commencement of Occoquan school was held in the presence of an immense audience on Thursday evening of last week.

The students, patrons and friends of the school manifested much interest and enthusiasm towards the school in every way possible, much to the gratification of the teachers who have labored so faithfully and earnestly for the advancement of their students and for the general welfare of the institution.

The program was replete with interesting features, evidencing the fact that much pains had been taken with the view of making the entertainment a success. One of its chief features was the strong and well-chosen address to the students by Hon. Tyson Janney, his subject being, "Lay up for a rainy day."

Baptized in Partner's Pond.

Fifteen colored persons received the rite of baptism by immersion in Partner's park pond in the presence of a large number of spectators Sunday morning.

The drizzling rain which was falling, together with the chilly atmosphere, was not very auspicious for the occasion, still the ardor of the candidates was not dampened as they stepped bravely into the turbid waters and were led by assistants to the awaiting clergyman.

Those who received the sacred ordinance were: Shirley Haley, Nanne Strother, Emma and Cegie Brooks, Mary Mitchell, Maud Fields, Phelix Pinn, Thomas Payne, Clark Brooks, Jos. Brown, John and Ernest Twine, George Scroggins, Jasper Tyler and Oscar Powell. Rev. Williams, just before immersing the last-named candidate, took occasion to speak solemnly upon the step which the candidate was taking in his old age and after Divine Providence had taken from him those he loved.

COUNTY SPELLING MATCH

Deplorable Climax Results in Words Pronounced Alike But Differently Defined.

Continued From First Page tions and were therefore not present to take action at the time. It is to be further understood that no reflections upon officials or contestants should be countenanced by any who wish to be fair and impartial.

Both Miss Hammill and Mr. Smith deserve all credit for their splendid performances, and it is to be regretted that the matter could not have been decided by an absolute miss on either side, still it must be recognized that this match was a new undertaking and therefore more liable to hitches than will be those of the future.

In the crowd and the excitement it would have taken more than human poise to have kept the machinery running with absolute smoothness. Next time, with this experience to learn from, the spelling match should be a joy and pride to the whole county.

The committee having the contest in charge was composed of Miss E. H. Osborne, principal of Manassas High School; Mrs. E. May Dogan, principal of Grove-ton, and Miss Bessie Brower, principal of Haymarket school.

The pronouncer was Miss Ella Heatwole, teacher of the normal training class of Manassas High, assisted by Misses Jennie Ewell, of Hickory Grove, and Miss Ruth Foster, of Occoquan. At the conclusion dinner was served by the Domestic Science Class to over 150 persons.

BREAKS BOTH LEG BONES

Roscoe Strother, Remington's Star, Sustains Serious Injury in Sliding to Home Base.

An exceedingly interesting and fast game was played on Eastern diamond, Saturday afternoon, between Remington Athletic club and Eastern College, which resulted in a shut-out for the former. The feature of the game was the stick work of Roscoe Strother for Remington and the timely connection with the sphere of Glascock and Leith for Eastern.

Strother, while attempting to stretch a three-bagger into a home run, slid to the plate and broke both leg bones at the ankle. This is the third serious injury sustained by the young man on the diamond, he having sustained a broken nose and a broken finger. Drs. Cottingham, of Remington, and Merchant, of Manassas, rendered the necessary surgical attention and the young man was taken on a cot to his home on train No. 15.

Score by innings: Remington 000000000-0 Eastern 021103001-9 Summary: Struck out—By White, 15; by Strother, 9. Batteries: Remington—Strother and Cottingham; Eastern—White and Russell. Time of game—1 hour and 30 minutes.

MRS. E. T. WRIGHT DEAD SANITARY DRINKING CUPS

After Long and Tedious Illness She Succumbs to Paralysis, in Staunton Tuesday.

Southern Railway Company Will Provide Them at Once For Their Passenger Service.

Mrs. Julia Wright, wife of Mr. E. T. Wright, died after an illness of over three years in the Western State hospital, in Staunton, last Tuesday afternoon, the immediate cause of death being paralysis.

Arrangements have been made by the Southern Railway to furnish sanitary individual drinking cups to passengers on all trains and a large supply of cups of the collapsible paper type have been ordered. As soon as the cups have been received each conductor will be furnished with a supply and any passenger desiring a cup will receive one free of charge on application to the conductor. Notices to this effect will be posted in each coach.

The body reached Manassas by C. & O. train No. 4, at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and was conveyed to Independent Hill where the funeral took place from the Primitive Baptist church at that place. Rev. John Priest, officiating, and interment was made in the family lot in the churchyard.

Furnishing drinking cups to passengers on the large number of trains operated by the Southern Railway will involve a substantial expenditure which is being undertaken to provide for the convenience of patrons of the railway. All common drinking cups have been removed from trains in compliance with United States Government regulations and the statutes and ordinances of many states and municipalities.

Besides her husband the deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mabel Wolfenden, of Kopp, this county, and Miss Leah Wright, who resides with her father, and by one son, Mr. Grover C. Wright, of near Minnieville.

Hereafter passengers on Southern Railway trains will be put to no inconvenience or expense in regard to drinking water and at the same time will not be subject to any possible infection through the use of the common drinking cup.

Those who knew Mrs. Wright before the hand of affliction was laid heavily upon her, will bear testimony to her many amiable characteristics, and will remember her as a devoted wife, affectionate and indulgent mother and a kind and sympathetic neighbor. The family has the sympathy of a host of friends.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

FROM TRACKHAND TO BANK

John A. Marshall, Vice-president of Alexandria Bank, Drops Dead in Store Saturday.

Mr. John A. Marshall, vice-president of the Alexandria National Bank, of which Judge C. E. Nicol, of Manassas-Alexandria, is president, and who for many years was quite prominent in business and political circles in Northern Virginia, dropped dead in his shoe store on King street in Alexandria from heart disease, Saturday morning, in the 65th year of his age. Mr. Marshall had been in declining health for about two years, and only a few weeks ago he returned to his home from Hot Springs, Ark., where he spent the winter in the hope of beneficial results.

Mr. Marshall entered his store about 11 o'clock Saturday morning, and as he passed up the aisle he spoke pleasantly to his chief clerk, Mr. Maury Gains, and continued towards the rear of the storeroom. Mr. Gains heard his employer's cane drop and upon investigation was horrified to find Mr. Marshall in extremis. Dr. Arthur Snowden was hastily summoned, but the dying man expired before the physician arrived.

The deceased is survived by a widow, who was Miss Jane Woodard, of near Burke station, in Fairfax county, and by four daughters, Mrs. Mary A. Pease and Mrs. Julia Maggerty, of Philadelphia; Mrs. E. F. Cook, of New York, and Miss Daisy Marshall, of Alexandria.

Mr. Marshall was born in Fairfax county, near the county seat, and started in life as a poor man. In the spring of 1866 he worked as a trackhand on the Manassas section of the W. C. V. M. & G. S. railway, now the Southern, under Section Boss John Fitzgerald, and the writer frequently saw him with pick and shovel working on the tracks in his blue overalls and jacket.

Subsequently he engaged in the grocery business in Alexandria, and from his wide acquaintance his store was the most popular one with railway employes, whose monthly pay checks he cashed deducting the amount of the payee's monthly grocery account. He also amassed a large portion of his fortune from railway ties, both through buying and selling and from those cut from various timber tracts purchased in this and other counties in the state. Recently he was elected to the office of vice-president of the Alexandria National Bank, which position he held at the time of his death.

The funeral took place Tuesday morning from the home, 508 Wolfestreet, Rev. W. F. Watson, D. D., pastor of the first Baptist church, assisted by Rev. J. W. Deffey, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, officiating, and interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery in Alexandria.

The pallbearers were: Honorary, S. B. Rice, of Ashland, L. A. Clarke, of Washington, Col. Francis L. Smith, Julian T. Burke, Judge C. E. Nicol, Dr. Arthur Snowden and Samuel G. ...

Same To Be In Operation Within Next Few Weeks—Output Eight Tons Per Day.

The Hopkins Company was busily engaged with carpenters this week in making arrangements for the installation of an ice plant together with a cold storage room in connection with their candy manufacturing business. The cold storage room was made necessary by the addition to their manufacture of a candy requiring such, and the operation of an ice plant in connection therewith was a necessity which followed. The natural conclusion of the company was that as an ice plant was needed to reduce the cost of the cold storage room to a minimum, it would be better to put in a plant which could not only supply the cold storage but the demand from the consumers of this and adjoining counties.

The plant which will be installed, it is said, will be of an 8-ton a day capacity and up-to-date in its appointments.

The public doubtless will be gratified to learn that there is apt to be no dearth of ice in Manassas this summer if arrangements, now said to be under way, are carried out.

NOT LOADED USUAL PLEA

Weapon Goes Off and Youth Will Carry Bullet For Life—Playmate Much Distressed

As the result of the careless handling of a pistol, supposed not to be loaded, Marvin Simpson, the 16-year-old son of widow Simpson, of near Manassas, will carry a leaden bullet in his face for the rest of his life.

The shot was fired accidentally by Simpson's playmate, Winfield Athey, son of W. S. Athey, the Manassas delivery man, Monday evening, in Mr. Athey's store near this place. Drs. Lewis and Merchant were summoned and worked till midnight trying to extract the ball, finally abandoning their efforts to avoid further serious injury to their patient. The ball entered the upper lip under the right nostril and passed through the jawbone just above the root of the right lateral incisor tooth and lodged somewhere above the hard palate.

Mrs. Simpson had sent her son after supper to the Athey store, and while there young Athey said he had a pistol which he wished to show him and stepped into an adjoining room to get it. As he reappeared in the doorway, which is quite near the counter, he raised the weapon and aiming at the Simpson lad, who stood in front of him at the counter, pulled the trigger. The muzzle of the weapon was so near the face of the victim as to fill his face and eyes with powder specks. The wounded lad did not realize that he was shot until after wiping the powder from his eyes he discovered that blood was trickling down his cheek. Young Athey, who is about the same age of the Simpson boy, is greatly distressed over the accident and has been devoted in his attentions since the shooting occurred.

MINNIEVILLE SCHOOL CLOSURE

The public school at Minnieville held its closing exercises Friday night, May 2, which proved quite a success, much to the credit of friends, pupils and teacher, Mr. W. Y. Ellicott.

The program, consisting of songs, dialogues and recitations, was well rendered.

Quite a large number were present and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Thirty-five dollars was taken in which will be applied towards the new school building. Cake, candies, oranges and ice cream were served.

HIS EFFICIENCY RECOGNIZED

ARTHUR W. SINCLAIR

NEWLY APPOINTED POSTMASTER OF MANASSAS

The remark made by President Wilson that efficiency would be the principal reason for appointment to office seems to fit the nomination of Mr. Arthur W. Sinclair to be postmaster at Manassas. Certainly, the efficiency shown by this widely-known gentleman in other positions of trust and honor is evidence that the President's remark is well founded in fact.

Mr. Sinclair has been a practicing attorney for more than thirty years, and his professional training makes him well qualified to be the executive of the post-office.

Mr. Sinclair was born at Brentsville, this county, was admitted to the bar there and there began his professional career, coming to Manassas with the change of county seat; and in addition to a lucrative practice was appointed commissioner in chancery by Judge Keith and continued in that office by Judges Nicol and Thornton. He was also examiner of records for a number of years.

His father was at one time in the mercantile business in Baltimore, and later had a store at Dumfries, which was, however, destroyed when the Southern forces fell back from Bull Run. The elder Sinclair was also a member of the Prince William Cavalry during the war.

BRADLEY SCHOOL CLOSURE

Basket Picnic Marks the Happy Event—School Boasts of Library and Museum.

Bradley School, No. 6, after a very successful session closed its term last Friday with an enjoyable basket picnic in an adjacent grove. The day was spent in games, ball playing and music much to the delight of all present. Miss Sarah E. Johnson, the popular and efficient teacher of the school, who has spent the greater portion of her life in its interest, has done much towards elevating the school to a respectable standing within the Prince William circuit.

The school boasts of a library of 308 volumes, suitable for all grades of the school, which library was obtained through state aid and private donations among which was a substantial one from H. H. Weedon, of New York, formerly of this county. Besides this it boasts of a museum in which may be found some rare and interesting curios.

SAYS HE IS CANDIDATE

Alexandrian, Formerly a Resident of Manassas, Announces Himself For Legislature.

Perry Angelo, an extra freight engineer in the employ of the Southern Railway Company, who formerly was a resident of Manassas, occupying the residence subsequently owned by H. D. Wenrich on Center street, and recently removed to northwest Manassas on Grant avenue, has announced himself a candidate for the House of Delegates, subject to the Democratic primary to be held July 8. His opponents will be: J. Fred Burrell, of Alexandria city, and E. W. R. Ewing, of Alexandria county.

This is Mr. Angelo's first appearance in the political arena, and as he is quite popular both in local and in railroad circles the outcome is looked forward to with much interest by his numerous friends.

"Perry" was a "dead game" sport when he was a resident of Manassas, and nothing suited him better than to engage in a discussion on the important issues of the day.

When the weather was propitious "Perry" was a familiar figure on our streets of a Sunday afternoon, with his silk hat, kid gloves and cane, taking a stroll with "the boys."

THE NEW LAW EFFECTIVE

Chicago Thief Arrested and Placed Under Heavy Bond for Facing Express Package.

The first violation of the new Federal Law—known as the Carlin act—was the stealing of an express package in one of the Chicago depots resulting in the arrest of the offender and placing him under a $5,000 bail.

This act imposes a maximum fine of $5,000 or imprisonment of not more than ten years for any person convicted of unlawfully breaking into any railway car containing interstate or foreign shipments of freight or express or of stealing or obtaining by fraud or deception from any car, depot, platform, vessel or wharf any freight, express or baggage which constitutes or is part of any interstate or foreign shipment. While the Carlin act in no way infringes on the jurisdiction of the state courts, it puts the whole power of the Federal Department of Justice behind the detection and prosecution of persons guilty of stealing from cars or depots since it will be practically impossible for states to distinguish between interstate and interstate shipments.

As the Carlin act becomes better known and understood, the petty crook will look upon an express package in transit with the same reverence and awe as he has been taught to respect all mail matter, however tempting its purloining may be to his criminal instincts.

The Carlin act in no way infringes on the jurisdiction of the state courts, it puts the whole power of the Federal Department of Justice behind the detection and prosecution of persons guilty of stealing from cars or depots since it will be practically impossible for states to distinguish between interstate and interstate shipments.

UNVEILING NEXT MONTH

Of Monument At Arlington In Commemoration Confederate Soldiers Buried There.

According to expectations the monument to the memory of Confederate soldiers will be unveiled in Arlington cemetery some time next month.

Sir Moses Ezekiel, the noted sculptor, who has been for many months at work on the monument, writes that he has nearly completed the handsome memorial which will be one of the finest ever seen in a national cemetery.

The chief figure of the monument will be a beautiful female representing the South, while there will be numerous other suggestive figures.

Mrs. Thomas P. Bocoek, the honored widow of the revered speaker of the Confederate house of representatives, has issued the following letter to the president of the state chapters, United Daughters of the Confederacy:

"May I urge you all to renewed effort this year for the Arlington memorial. May I ask you to begin anew your labor of love for this shrine of the Confederacy? It is with the greatest pleasure in urging you to further work that I thank you for what has already been done in the cause.

"Virginia is the banner state of the South in its support of Arlington memorials. You have done more than the daughters of any other state. You can do still more. Of course it will take strenuous continued work, concentrated thought and ready action, but these, I know, you are willing to give in behalf of so noble a work.

"Let Virginia, the battleground of the war, prove to the Southland and to the world that she is determined to honor her noble sons who gave their lives in defense of their rights.

"May I beg that each chapter president will determine to make this the fourth year of effort, by far the most successful of all. Map out your plans in wisdom and execute them in love.

"The state committee which I represent, will, I am sure, support and encourage your every effort. Remember that you are working for the honor of Virginia, the monument we hope to unveil late in June or early in July. It will be a grand reminder for future generations."

TWO ACT COMEDY PLAY AT HAYMARKET

Refreshments will be sold after the conclusion of the play and the proceeds will go towards augmenting the sidewalk fund. The committee, Mrs. O. C. Hutchison, Miss Etta Rector and Mrs. J. W. Dunbar will be glad, on behalf of the league, to receive such donations as the public-spirited and progressive citizens of Manassas and vicinity may feel disposed to make towards the enterprise with.

Death of the Founder of the Manassas Industrial School

JENNIE SERIEPTA DEAN

Jennie Dean, founder of the Manassas Industrial School for Colored Youth, died from paralysis in her home near Catharpin, this county, Saturday morning. The funeral took place from Mt. Calvary Baptist Church, colored, near Catharpin, Monday afternoon, Rev. Marshall D. Williams, pastor of the Manassas Baptist Church, officiating, and interment was made in the family lot in the Mt. Calvary Baptist Church cemetery near the late home of the deceased. Only one brother and one sister survive: Robert Dean, who lives in the West, and the wife of Rev. L. H. Bailey, of Occoquan.

In the death of Jennie Dean the world has lost one of its most enthusiastic yet unostentatious benefactors who never permitted obstacles nor personal discomfort to bar her efforts towards the uplift and general welfare of her race.

Born in slavery on the historic plains of Manassas near the place where the lamp of her useful life went out, a few years before the great civil war, she heard the roar of musketry and the booming of cannon in the first great battle of that war, and when peace was declared and the public free schools inaugurated she obtained her limited education in the first school house built for colored children in Prince William county, and known as Mandley, No. 5. From her early youth she manifested a deep interest in religious affairs and organized her first Sunday School in her humble home in the early eighties, from which developed her first mission church, Mt. Calvary Chapel, nearby, and from which edifies her lifeless body was taken to its last resting place.

Three other Baptist churches were organized and put on a firm basis through her efforts, namely, Wellington Mission, Pilgrims Rest, in Prince William county, and Conklin, in Loudoun county. All these churches are now in a prosperous condition. Her great work, and which will ever live in the hearts of her people, was the founding of the Manassas Industrial School for Colored Youth. Her conception of this work was the offspring of her love-labor in her Sunday School work. Her heart ached, as she often expressed it, for the poorly fed and poorly clothed children who came to the Sunday Schools, and she organized industrial classes in cooking and sewing and taught them on Saturday afternoons. Realizing the inadequacy of these to meet the crying needs of the children, she conceived the thought of an industrial school where they would be afforded the opportunity of being taught the ordinary manual pursuits, and from this thought the institution, which will stand as a monument to her memory, was established. It was the energy and acumen of Jennie Dean and those whom she fired with her own zeal that made the Manassas Industrial School possible.

This worthy woman spent her declining years in the neighborhood in which she was born and enjoyed the fullest respect of her white neighbors. Her work will live after her and make her name for many generations an inspiration to those of her race who would emulate her difficult achievements.

Jennie Dean had an abiding faith in the Christian religion, and to that fact is largely due, her friends maintain, the accomplishment of her meritorious objects under adverse conditions. Numbered among those who were her numerous friends and supporters of her work, outside the county were: the late Crosby S. Noyes, Revs. Edward Everett Hale, S. M. Newman, Percy S. Grant, U. G. B. Pierce, Mrs. Burton Harrison, Representative Francis Burton Harrison, Bishops Potter and Greer, Mrs. M. C. Whitman, Miss Emily Howland, and Mrs. C. B. Hackley. Among those within the county, white, were: Dr. H. M. Clarkson, the late Capt. R. H. Tyler, Geo. C. Round, the late Henry J. Ayres, the late Representative E. E. Meredith, who was attorney for the school, Judge C. E. Nicot, the late W. H. W. Moran, Rev. Abram Conner, the late Mrs. Howard P. Dodge and Mr. Dodge, F. H. Sanders, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hundley.

State Septs. of Education Massey and Eggleston gave substantial encouragement to the institution by being present upon numerous occasions and delivering interesting and instructive addresses.

The large concourse of both white and colored people who were present at the obsequies was mute testimony of the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Many prominent white people of the Catharpin neighborhood made brief addresses in commendation of the life and character of the deceased benefactress.

MEMORIAL TO JENNIE DEAN
Plans are being formulated by the faculty of the Manassas Industrial School for Colored Youth to erect upon the school grounds a small, beautiful, permanent chapel in memory of Jennie Seriepta Dean, the founder of the institution. These plans will take more definite shape and the object given fresh impetus at the Commencement exercises of the school on May 30, when committees will

READ WHAT THE WORLD'S GREATEST ARTISTS SAY ABOUT THESE Kimball Pianos

IN THIS NOTABLE Great Introductory Sale "DIRECT FROM FACTORY TO HOME"

The World's Largest Piano and Player-Piano Manufacturers have Shipped Direct to Makers a limited number of these Celebrated Instruments in order to more fully introduce these Beautiful and Everlasting Kimball Pianos to the Music Loving People of this vicinity—we are here to demonstrate and sell A REAL BARGAIN OFFERING IN NOT MERE PIANOS, BUT GENUINE KIMBALL INSTRUMENTS

A BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF HOW KIMBALL PIANOS ARE MADE IN OUR FACTORY
Case and all parts are made of five thicknesses of the best thoroughly seasoned lumber, glued together, the grain of each thickness running at right angles to the one next, thus rendering it impossible for any portion to shrink, swell or split, in any climate or through any variation of temperature.
Brackets, mouldings and the entire arm are veneered the same as the case, the usual method being to make these of white wood and grain them to match the case.
Pin-blocks are composed of many layers of thoroughly seasoned hard maple, so joined together that the grain of each layer is at right angles to the grain of the adjacent layer, thus providing a pin block that cannot be split and affording sturdy rigid support for the tuning pins. The brass covering protects the pin-block from the effects of dampness and reduces the strain on tuning pins to the minimum, thus combining the advantages of both the old system of construction.
Sounding-boards are made of the best quality of mountain spruce, and are so shaped and fastened to the frame of the piano as to produce the tone qualities of the violin. Each rib is firmly glued to the sounding-board and the ends are securely fastened under the frame, hence they cannot loosen.
The Scale is so drawn as to afford a tone quality absolutely even, smooth and of great release, purity and duration throughout.
Springing—The best grade of steel wire is used, and particular attention is paid to graduation, thus contributing materially to the production of a rich, smooth and even tone.
Voicing—The hammers are so made and treated as to further contribute to perfect evenness and durability of tone.
Action contains one of the most valuable improvements of the present day—This is a combined hammer and damper flange of brass, instead of the old wooden flange. It is not affected by changes of atmosphere, thus avoiding loosening of hammer and damper flanges on rail, and consequent rattle.
Necessity of spacing hammers. Necessity of adjusting travel of hammer.
Working out of flange center pins. Warping of spring flange.
The important points save a large percentage of expense of keeping a piano in order.
All action materials are the very best, and the construction finish and regulating of same, require patient, easy and responsive touch, insuring precision and great power of repetition.
Key-Stock is selected with the most scrupulous care, the best iron being used.
Third Pedal produces a tone quality equal to one-half that of the soft pedal, making it especially desirable in practice work. It also saves wear of the hammers, and in its use the usual effects are obtained.
Finish—Seven coats of the best Zanzibar polishing varnish are used, thus enhancing the natural beauty of the wood.

The Wonderful Kimball Player-Piano is Being Exhibited Here

Come to the store day or evening—bring the children if you wish and see and hear this marvelous instrument play all the old Southern melodies as they used to be played—the old love songs and the more recent popular music, as well as the most classical!

COMMUNICANTS AND THE LORD'S TABLE.

How many there are who fail to comprehend fully the real qualifications of communicants. In many instances the invitation to commune is not heeded with that earnestness and sincerity of heart which the invitation implies: "Ye who do truly and earnestly repent you of your sins and are in love and charity with your neighbors and intend to lead a new life, following the commandments of God and walking from henceforth in His ways; draw near with faith and take this holy sacrament to your comfort, and make your humble confession to Almighty God, devoutly kneeling." This is the invitation, and unless it is fully comprehended and the communicant measures fully to its requirements, it is nothing short of hypocrisy for such communicant to partake of the symbols of the body and blood of Christ. "The body of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was given for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Take and eat this in remembrance that Christ died for thee and feed on him in thy heart by faith with thanksgiving." "The blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee, preserve thy body and soul unto everlasting life. Drink this in remembrance that Christ's blood was shed for thee and be thankful." It is commanded that all persons diligently examine themselves before they presume to eat of that bread and drink of that cup. For as the benefit is great if with a true, penitent heart and lively faith we receive that holy sacrament, so is the danger great if we receive the same unworthily. "Judge therefore yourselves, brethren, that ye be not judged of the Lord; repent you truly for your sins past; have a lively and steadfast faith in Christ our Saviour; amend your lives and be in perfect charity with all men; so shall ye be meet partakers of those holy mysteries."

INDIGENT VETS AND GETTYSBURG.

The board of supervisors of Fauquier county has recently made provision for a committee to secure applications for an appropriation for expenses of indigent Confederate veterans who may be desirous of attending the anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg and reunion on July 1.

This is a commendable move upon the part of the Fauquier board and will no doubt meet with the hearty approval of every tax-payer of the county, especially as the action is clearly within the provision of law.

So far as we have been able to learn no such action has been taken by the supervisors of Prince William county, though we have no doubt that such will be taken. It will be necessary, however, that such action be taken within the next week as no provision can or will be made in camp for those who apply after May 15.

All veterans who purpose to attend the great celebration either by brigades, camps or individually, must send their names to the respective headquarters through the division quartermaster Col. David A. Brown, 605 E. Main street, Richmond, if member of United Confederate Veterans, if not, then through Col. Joseph V. Bidgood, Travelers' building, Richmond.

An authentic credential is required of every veteran, which must be either his honorable discharge or a certificate of a commander of a U. V. G. camp, or a certificate of service from the adjutant-general of the grand camp of Virginia or from the adjutant of any camp.

Two pleasing features of the regulations are that all Confederate veterans will wear their uniforms of gray in camp and elsewhere and march under the Stars and Bars in the grand parade.

Adjutant Westwood Hightower, of Fourth Camp, we understand, will champion the cause of the old vets who come within the provision law, before our county board of supervisors, and it is to be hoped his efforts in their behalf will meet with favorable action.

At the Senate pie counter, pie is still ten cents a slice, and it seems that some Senators can't get any from the White House counter at any price.

THE CENSORSHIP OF NEWSPAPERS.

Senator Works, of California, has introduced a bill having for its object the censorship of newspapers. We can readily comprehend the danger of newspaper misrepresentation and exaggeration, but we are convinced that this is but a small matter compared with the advantages that accrue to society by the exposure of wrong doing and the concentration of public opinion for good purposes that are accomplished by means of the press. We note that the commissioners of the District of Columbia, in the immediate atmosphere of congressional legislation, have placed the seal of disapproval upon the bill. Among other reasons for their objection are the following: "That the dread of publicity has a deterrent influence upon those disposed or tempted to the commission of crime may reasonably be inferred from the fact that most of the offenders against the law earnestly seek to avoid exposure of the circumstances of their misdeeds in the newspaper report of their trials, and although a reasonable surveillance of such publication might be advisable the commissioners do not believe that the enactment of the radical legislation contemplated by the bill is advisable."

Not only is the possibility of newspaper publicity a deterrent in the case of crime, but it also operates upon public officials who may be inclined to cover up favoritism and neglect of duty. It has a wholesome effect upon those members of society who may be tempted to violate the code of social propriety. It is a weapon of defense to a great many of the poor and helpless specimens of humanity who have no other means of defense. Pray give the editors and reporters some small chance to tell the people the truth.

OBSERVANCE OF MOTHERS' DAY.

"Mothers' Day." How many realize what this means in the way of a celebration? We have our patriotic anniversaries and the fire of patriotism inspires our hearts with a richer glow as we recall the deeds of valor which has made this nation the greatest on earth.

The Church has her festal periods and the spiritual strength in man is renewed, refreshed and encouraged by them.

"Mothers' Day" calls for the "unveiling of memory's most sacred paintings" and the rekindling of all the highest impulses of patriotism and religion which were nurtured and fostered by mothers' untiring efforts and sweet influence.

The first word the prattling tongue attempts to utter is mother, and it is at her knee when the curtain of night is drawn that the lisping child is taught to reverence the God who gave it being. It is mother whose blessed influence is the power that governs the child and guides it through years of maturity, comforts it in adversity and rejoices with it in its prosperity.

It is mother who watches in the still hours of the night when the fevered brow and parched lips need her ministrations. Then let us reverence her memory by appropriate annual observance of "Mother's Day."

We have been asked: "What is the matter with the roads in Manassas district?"

The person who always says the right thing at the right time has only a very slight acquaintance with the truth.

MATHEMATICS is a science of profound depth, but the greatest mathematician can't divide 1,100 offices among 50,000 seekers.

We are advised that the road fund for Manassas district for the current year has already been overdrawn. What has become of the money?

WITH a $2,000 road fund already exhausted there will be no funds available for use on the roads of Manassas district before November, 1913.

Gov. JOHNSON and the California legislature think that the "open door" may be all right, but insist that the "golden gate" shall be kept shut just the same.

At a meeting of the Grand Old Lawyering Society last week three Virginians came in for rewards as follows: A silver medal to the estate of Peter W. H. Finney, deceased, Hillsville, for trying to save John Thomas, a farmer, from suffocation in a well; Charles G. Davis, Danville, a silver medal and $2,000, as needed, for educational purposes, for saving the life of W. F. Gorman, a well digger, from suffocation in a well, and to William M. Orr, Grade Springs, a bronze medal and $1,000, as needed, for saving the life of 10-year-old W. McDonald Morris from drowning.

Brown school No. 2, closed its term Wednesday night with an entertainment replete with interesting features. The program was excellently rendered and was greatly enjoyed by the immense audience. The receipts amounted to, approximately, $40, which will be applied toward the improvement of the school building.

Mrs. M. C. Farquhar and her little granddaughter, Agnes, who have been undergoing a four months' treatment in Washington for a complication of diseases, have returned to their home, near Buckhall. Last summer Mr. J. A. Long, who purchased the Bell place at Simons Mill, purchased a small canning outfit with a capacity of 250 cans a day, for taking care of the surplus vegetables raised on his farm. He canned 125 cases of tomatoes, besides several cases each of corn and apples. He expects to can over 500 cases of tomatoes alone this season besides a goodly number of cases of other vegetables and fruits. Mr. Long says he washes all his tomatoes thoroughly before sealing them. This is an object lesson to other farmers of the county.

School Electoral Board

A called meeting of the School Trustee Electoral Board was held in the office of Mr. Thos. H. Lyon, in Manassas, on Saturday, May 3, to consider the resignation of Mr. C. E. Jordan, as school trustee in Gainesville District. Mr. Jordan's resignation was reluctantly accepted, he having stated that he found it impossible, on account of his business duties, to get sufficient time to serve the schools.

Mr. Robt. A. Rust, of Haymarket, was then unanimously elected to fill the vacancy.

We earnestly hope that Mr. Rust will decide to accept this honor and responsibility; for there is no position that affords a better opportunity to serve and bless the public generally, and especially the rising generation.

THE JOURNAL, $1.00 a year.

"Thirty-Six" $1950. Fully equipped. F. O. B. Detroit.

You Can Buy

an automobile for less than the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" price, but you cannot get Chalmers "Thirty-Six" features and quality in that automobile

We mean that. And we can prove it.

For any less price than $1950 you can't get, for instance, a four forward-speed transmission and all ground gears. Four forward speeds mean utmost flexibility. All ground gears mean freedom from noise, friction, wear. Insist on a four forward-speed transmission. Once you have used this wonderful improvement you will never be satisfied to drive a three-speed car.

You can't get, for less than the "Thirty-Six" price, a motor of equal quality. Big and sturdy, with 4" bore and 5" stroke, this motor delivers to the driving wheels full 36 actual horse power - day in, day out, summer and winter. It hangs on.

For less money, than $1950, you can't equal the "Thirty-Six" convenience; Chalmers compressed air self-starter; Gray & Davis electric lighting system; power tire inflater; demountable rims; carburetor dash adjustment.

Comfort equal to that of the "Thirty-Six" you can't possibly secure for less than the "Thirty-Six" price. In fact, we doubt if you can get the same complete restfulness in any car - at even higher prices. Turkish cushions and 11-inch upholstery; long wheel base (118"); big wheels and tires (36"x4"); long flexible springs - make Chalmers riding a delight.

For less than the Chalmers price you inevitably get less than the Chalmers quality. It pays to buy good quality at the start. Don't try to "save" money at the cost of permanent satisfaction.

Let us show you the Chalmers "Thirty-Six" today.

The above picture illustrates the tendency towards the high cost of living should the most effective weapon of monopolistic business prevail against the smaller independent home dealer, our Manassas merchants, and others, patronized in person by our home people. Price-cutting of the large chain-stores or mail order houses in offering well known standard goods at less than our own nearby dealer can afford to sell is a scheme to freeze them out and subsequently make their own exorbitant prices.

By reference to the business houses mentioned we do not mean to include those houses in the nearby cities, which are known favorably to the customers going there from the adjacent Virginia counties. This condition of affairs has induced THE JOURNAL to advise against such chain-stores or mail order houses, selling by catalogue, in order that our own dealers may have a square deal and be able to offer to their trade fresh goods at a living profit.

This price-cutting on nationally advertised standard brands of products is only an unfair method of taking away the trade of our local merchants on such goods and make up the loss by sales of unbranded articles of fluctuating value. The picture also tells a story that is well worth figuring out.

MANASSAS WINS MEET

Round Starred For Manassas, Winning First in Three Events, Scoring Fifteen Points.

The Eighth Congressional District Athletic League field and track meet which took place here Saturday afternoon was by far the most largely attended of any heretofore held here. The weather conditions were excellent and the atmosphere full of enthusiasm. The eight schools contesting for honors were Manassas, Alexandria, Warrenton, Orange, Culpeper, Calverton, Plains and Gordonsville. Manassas won first in five of the ten events and scored thirty-seven of the aggregate one hundred and ten points. Alexandria came in second with 24-1-3; Plains third with 19 points; Orange fourth with 16 points; Culpeper fifth with 5 points; Warrenton sixth with 4-5-6 points; Calverton seventh with 2 points and Gordonsville failing to make a score. In justice to Gordonsville it is proper to state that only one entry from that school put in an appearance at the meet.

In six of the events the records of last year were broken, and in the one-mile race the time was faster than that made in the same event at Lexington one week before. Manassas on the same date, beat Norfolk in the one-mile race 6-4-5 seconds; in the shot-put 2 feet 2 inches, and came within 2 inches of tying in the pole-vault.

Round, of M. H. S., was the point star, scoring in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and the 120-yard hurdle, 15 points, and Pohl, of Alexandria, starred for that team with ten points winning first in the one mile and in the half-mile runs. Other features of the game were the broad jumping of Poss, of A. H. S., and the pole-vaulting of Green for the home team.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS.

- 100-yard dash—Round, Manassas, first; Charles Spilman, Plains, second; Morris, Culpeper, third; Poss, Alexandria, fourth. Time, 11 seconds.
- High jump—Winslow, Orange, first; Schwalbe, Orange, second; Benner, Warrenton, third. Height, 5 feet, 2-3-4 inches.
- One-mile run—Pohl, Alexandria, first; Button, Manassas, second; Herrell, Plains, third. Time, 5 minutes 5 seconds.
- 120-yard hurdle—Round, Manassas, first; Spilman, Plains, second; Williams, Manassas, third. Time, 16-4-5 seconds.
- 12-pound shotput—Moon, Manassas, first; Spilman, Plains, second; Haydon, Manassas, third. Distance 39 feet, 4 inches.
- 220-yard dash—Round, Manassas, first; Spilman, Plains, second; Nalls, Alexandria, third. Time 24-4-5 seconds.
- Pole vault—Green, Manassas, first; Schwalbe, Orange; Benner, Warrenton; Thompson, Plains, tied for second. Distance, 9 feet, 1 inch.
- 440-yard dash—Schwalbe, Orange, first; Moon, Manassas, second; Raisin, Alexandria, third. Time, 59-3-5 seconds.
- Broad jump—Poss, Alexandria, first; Williams, Manassas, second; Landon, Plains, tie. Distance, 19 feet, 2 inches.
- Half-mile run—Pohl, Alexandria, first; Sullivan, Alexandria, second; Weis, Calverton, third. Time, 2 minutes, 19 seconds.

DON'T BE MISLED

Manassas Citizens Should Read
And Heed This Advice.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal. Don't experiment with something new and untried. Use a tested kidney remedy. Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills. Used in kidney troubles 50 years. Recommended here and everywhere. A Manassas citizen's statement forms convincing proof. It's local testimony—it can be investigated.

Mrs. W. McCuen, Quarry St., Manassas, Va., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy. A member of my family had kidney complaint of long standing. Doan's Kidney Pills were the one remedy that did the work, in fact, they brought relief after other preparations had failed. I feel that I can do great service to kidney sufferers by recommending this preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The joyous spring is close at hand, the spring that renovates the land! And once again the birds will sway on bending boughs, and sing all day; the skies will be serene and fair, and we shall breathe the fragrant air, and girls will swing on garden gates, and there'll be swarms of candidates. The world will wear its garb of green, but we will not enjoy the scene; the birds shall sing their songs in vain, for we can't hear the gentle strain; the candidates will get us all, and back us up against a wall, and twist their fingers in our coats, and tell us that they need our votes. In vain the fragrant breeze shall blow, in vain the twinkling stars shall glow; we won't have time for things like these; we'll listen to the same old wheeze from patriots who tell us why they come once more to bleed and die. And so I dread the gentle spring; I like the zephyrs she will bring, I like the bees, I like the bowers, I like the what-you-call-'em flowers, I like the bluebirds and their mates, but oh! I hate the candidates!

Finally Discovered That She Had No Cause.

By LAWRENCE ALFRED CLAY When Adam Perkins, farmer's hired man, came courting Roxey Smith, farmer's hired girl they told her that he was a good-natured, lazy young man. That was about the best that could be said of him. He got less wages than any other hired man in Medina county, but he didn't kick about that. He realized that he didn't earn any more than he was paid. Miss Roxey was a hard-working young woman, and she detested a lazy man. She married Adam because she believed she could reform him. She was told that such a reform had never been worked in this world, but she was a woman of self-confidence. When the marriage came off they retired to a little farm of their own. For three years the wife had hopes. She pleaded and she argued and she led the way, and now and then Adam would take a spurt and work like a horse for half a day at a time. Then his ambition would be gone. He readily acknowledged his laziness, but he just couldn't help it. If he was found in a shady fence corner while the corn needed hoeing his argument was: "The Lord made corn to grow wild, and it was never intended that man should get the backache chopping out the weeds. Nothing can hurt if we leave things as the Lord made 'em."

"Gaul darn 'em!" was the vigorous answer. "Very well; it shall be divorce!" Aunt Roxey, as the wife was now called, she must either back down or go ahead. It didn't take her a minute to decide. Shoving back from the table, she said: "Well, as I am to be divorced I will leave the dishes for you to wash." "All right." She got dressed to go down to her sister's, three miles away, and as she was departing she said to her husband: "Adam, I set emptings last night and you'd better take a look at them pretty soon. They may sour on you." He sat on the doorstep and watched her go down the road, and when she could not longer be seen he went into the house and went to bed and slept the day through till sundown. "What's the matter?" asked Aunt Roxey's sister when the house was reached. "Divorce!" was the brief reply. "For what?" "Adam's broke away at last." "Shoo! You don't say!" "I said I'd have the teeth or a divorce, and he said gaul darn the teeth!" "Well, if it's come, then it's come." Did you leave him with clean sheets and pillow-cases?" "I was going to change 'em today. Better go back the first thing in the morning. I knowed a woman who talked to win a divorce because she left the house with the bed all tousled up." After a rest Aunt Roxey went on to the next farmhouse to tell the news. "Going to git a divorce, eh?" exclaimed the woman. "Yes; I'm drove to it." "What drive ye?" "Adam gaul darned my teeth!" "Stars and garters! Well, I've felt for the last four weeks as if something was going to happen. Did you notice what time it was when he gaul darned you?" "Bout eight o'clock, I guess." "Not exactly." "Then you may lose your case. A woman has got to swear to the very minute when she's been sworn at. You ought to have got up and stopped the clock." Aunt Roxey passed on to the next house, which was occupied by a farmer, who was also a blacksmith. When the wife was told that a divorce was to be applied for, she asked: "Did you offer to kiss Adam when you came away?" "No." "Then you'll git beat. The Family Almanac says that the wife must show a readiness to make up." "But the husband ought to, too." "He was probably too overcautious. Wait 'till I call Henry in." The farmer-blacksmith came in and heard the news, and, after looking wise for a time, he asked Aunt Roxey: "Did Adam gaul darn your eyes?" "Nay, my teeth." "The false teeth you were to get?" "Yee." "Then you've no case. Under the law you've got to gaul darn a livin' object, and false teeth are not alive. Better give it up." It was candle light when Aunt Roxey opened the gate and walked up the path. Adam sat in the doorway, hungry and lonely and wondering. She sat down beside him and his arm stole around her. "I don't want a divorce," she said. "And gaul darn my bones, I'm going to work in harness in the morning!" (Copyright, 1912, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CHARLES J. COLLIER DEAD

Passes Away After Brief Illness In his Home in Los Angeles, California, Saturday.

Charles J. Collier, eldest son of Mrs. J. B. Lynn, of Manassas, died after a brief illness of typhoid fever in his home in Los Angeles, California, Saturday, in the forty-fifth year of his age. The announcement of Mr. Collier's death came as a surprise to his mother who had just received a letter from his wife stating that her husband was not feeling well but was still attending to his business affairs at his paint supply store. Besides his widow and his mother the deceased is survived by two sisters: Mrs. Fred Snook, of Bristol, this county, and Mrs. Alice Ellis, of North Mountain, W. Va., and by one brother, Andrew J. Collier, of the United States Military service in the Philippines. Another brother, Joseph S. Collier, was drowned in the Patapsco river, near Baltimore, about four years ago while in bathing with some comrades of one of the Fort Myer Cavalry Companies to which he belonged.

"But what have I done?" but it's no use thinking of success. I am going to leave you." "Yes, going to get a divorce." "But what have I done?" "It's laziness. I'll get a divorce and work out again." Tears came to Adam's eyes and he made promises. It hadn't been the square thing for him, to loaf around the way he had, and he would do better. He would begin that very minute, and he went out and got the tools and about the headhouse door to prove that a great change had happened came over him. Next morning he built the breakfast fire for the first time in two years, and for half a day he wielded the hoe with great vigor. Then his wife came down to the corn field and found him asleep. It had been discovered, however, that any talk of divorce scared Adam, and the wife planned to use the weapon. About once a month for year the matter came up. Now it would be that her sister advised her again it would be what the tin peddler said—that what she had concluded. Those "talks" were always good to push Adam along for a week; but as the years went on and the "talks" went on they lost their force and got to be an old story. And, too, the wife made a mistake by not confining them to laziness alone. It got so at last that when she wanted a new pair of shoes, she would have to travel a distance of three miles to get them. The weapon wore out at last, as she might have anticipated. At present last one morning the wife hastily asked: "Adam, what about my teeth?" "Got 'em, didn't you?" he replied. "I've got to have a false plate." "Come sit along mighty well with only one set." "I shall go to the village tomorrow and get that plate of a divorcer!" "Want a divorce, do you?" "I do." "Then you kin have it!" The rope had broken at last, and the wife was so astonished that minutes fled away before she could ask: "Adam, don't you care about my teeth?" "Gaul darn 'em!" was the vigorous answer. "Very well; it shall be divorce!" Aunt Roxey, as the wife was now called, she must either back down or go ahead. It didn't take her a minute to decide. Shoving back from the table, she said: "Well, as I am to be divorced I will leave the dishes for you to wash." "All right." She got dressed to go down to her sister's, three miles away, and as she was departing she said to her husband: "Adam, I set emptings last night and you'd better take a look at them pretty soon. They may sour on you." He sat on the doorstep and watched her go down the road, and when she could not longer be seen he went into the house and went to bed and slept the day through till sundown. "What's the matter?" asked Aunt Roxey's sister when the house was reached. "Divorce!" was the brief reply. "For what?" "Adam's broke away at last." "Shoo! You don't say!" "I said I'd have the teeth or a divorce, and he said gaul darn the teeth!" "Well, if it's come, then it's come." Did you leave him with clean sheets and pillow-cases?" "I was going to change 'em today. Better go back the first thing in the morning. I knowed a woman who talked to win a divorce because she left the house with the bed all tousled up." After a rest Aunt Roxey went on to the next farmhouse to tell the news. "Going to git a divorce, eh?" exclaimed the woman. "Yes; I'm drove to it." "What drive ye?" "Adam gaul darned my teeth!" "Stars and garters! Well, I've felt for the last four weeks as if something was going to happen. Did you notice what time it was when he gaul darned you?" "Bout eight o'clock, I guess." "Not exactly." "Then you may lose your case. A woman has got to swear to the very minute when she's been sworn at. You ought to have got up and stopped the clock." Aunt Roxey passed on to the next house, which was occupied by a farmer, who was also a blacksmith. When the wife was told that a divorce was to be applied for, she asked: "Did you offer to kiss Adam when you came away?" "No." "Then you'll git beat.
