

VETERANS FOR BULL RUN

Nebraska G. A. R.'s Pass Resolutions to Aid in Getting Battle Park.

The Grand Island (Nebr.) Independent published a large edition during the Grand Army encampment of that department which was extensively circulated among the Nebraska veterans.

We quote the following from its columns:

"Among the resolutions that will be presented will be one memorializing the Nebraska contingent in Congress to vote for the purchase of the farms known as the Henry and the Dogan farms, the historic grounds of the battles of Bull Run, at Manassas, Va. The United States Government has monuments on both sites, commemorating the first and second battles.

The owners are willing to sell, but ask a price based on a value historically aside from the intrinsic, fertility price of the land. Small as the difference is, there is apparently some division of opinion in Congress, some haggling about the price.

To hundreds of thousands of Americans of younger generations as well as to the veterans who have a more direct and acute interest, the conviction will come instantaneously that there should be no hesitation on the part of Congress in the acquiring of the sites and their protection, beautification and perpetual retention.

The following was the action of the veterans, regarding Bull Run:

"Whereas, a bill to protect the monuments already erected on the battlefields of Bull Run, Va., and other monuments that may be there erected, is now before Congress;

"And whereas, the fate of this proposition which has been unanimously endorsed by the National Encampments for nine years, seems to rest largely with our senator, Gilbert M. Hitchcock, and his committee in the Senate of the United States at the present session.

"And whereas, these are the only monuments built by the veterans themselves and were built to the memory of the 10,000 common soldiers who shed their blood on the battlefield nearest the capital of the government, they saved and were dedicated in the most solemn language the English language can record, and have stood on private ground up to this time.

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That it is the best judgment of this Encampment of the Nebraska Grand Army of the Republic that this bill have our hearty endorsement, and it is the hope of this body that our senators and representatives in Congress may see their way clear to support this bill and to vote for its passage when it shall come up for final action.

"We understand that the bill recommended for purchase by the army board, was in 1861, owned by two widows, Elizabeth Henry and Mrs. Elizabeth Logan. The former was killed by a shell from Ricketts' Battery on July 21, 1861, when confined to her bed in her 85th year. The grandchildren of these ladies still own the land, including the monuments referred to.

"The Lee family were paid $240,000 for Arlington, which was taken in time of war. Could it be thought extravagant now to pay $20,000 (the price asked) for 'Henry Hill' where two great battles ended, and where in 1911 the first jubilee of the Blue and the Gray was held in the presence of the President of the United States?"

"Surely the United States does not propose to tear down the monuments, plow up the ground and raise corn and potatoes on soil soaked with the blood of the brave. Hence we submit that the government should not expect to buy such land at agricultural prices."

"Be it further resolved, That the assist adjutant general of this department be instructed to send a copy of these resolutions to our senators and representatives in Congress."

Forest Fires Harm Soil Fertility.

A definite relation between the amount of humus, or vegetable matter in the soil, and its crop-producing power as shown by yields of corn, is given in figures just issued by the department of agriculture.

Experts of the forest service state that the soils of the whole country, and particularly of the South, have lost and are losing immense amounts of this source of soil fertility through forest fires which apparently do little immediate damage, but rob the soil of accumulations of humus.

In many parts of the South land is being cleared for farming, and where such forest land has not been burned there is a large percentage of vegetable matter, which provides considerable fertility and a good texture. Moreover this soil has a greater capacity to absorb and retain moisture, and thus is less likely to be washed and gullied under heavy rains.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Manassas People.

One kidney remedy has known merit. Manassas people rely upon it. That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Manassas testimony proves it reliable.

Mrs. W. McCuen, Quarry St., Manassas, Va., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy. One of my family had kidney complaint of long standing. Doan's Kidney Pills were the one remedy that did the work. They brought relief after other medicines had failed. I feel that I can do great service to kidney sufferers by recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

The above statement must carry conviction to the mind of every reader. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy - ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. McCuen recommends - the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Largest Passenger Movement in Its History.

With the handling of 48 special trains into Atlanta and 35 special trains out bearing Shriners who attended the annual meeting of the Imperial Council of the Ancient Arabic Order, and in addition many extra sections of regular trains and extra equipment on all regular trains, all without an accident of any kind and on practically schedule time, the Southern railway has just completed the largest passenger movement in its history and what is believed to have been one of the most successfully handled movements ever accomplished by any American railway.

Arrangements for the departure of the special trains were so arranged that this was accomplished absolutely without congestion or confusion and as the result of the protection given by the large force of special officers which the Southern had on duty at the Atlanta Terminal Station and at places where cars were parked, not a single robbery or attempt at robbery was reported. The parking places were occupied by 150 Pullman cars in which between 3,000 and 4,000 Shriners lived while in Atlanta, being given every comfort and convenience afforded by the most modern hotels.

These results could only have been secured by a railway system with an adequate plant and an efficient organization and they followed the most careful planning, extending over months and absolute attention to every detail when the plans were being carried out.

Every special train was accompanied by an operating officer and a passenger representative and the crew of every train was personally inspected by division and general officers before going on the run. The entirely satisfactory handling of this extraordinarily large movement to Atlanta by the Southern railway should aid all Southern cities in their efforts to land large conventions in the future.

Experiment in Feeding Cattle

President Harrison, of the Southern railway company, has received from Messrs. R. C. Curtis and L. W. Shook, animal husbandmen in charge of beef cattle and sheep investigations at the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station, a report of an experiment in feeding two lots of beef cattle on the farm of Mr. R. A. Derby, in Richmond county, N. C., which will be of interest to those who contemplate feeding beef cattle in the South and are deterred by the assumption that a large initial investment is necessary in the way of barns and sheds.

One lot of sixteen steers was fed in an open shed and given a run of a space sixteen feet by thirty feet. Another lot of sixteen steers was fed in a five-acre field. The report shows that the cattle fed outside made $1.5 pounds more gain per head than those fed inside and their final market condition was equally as good as those fed under cover.

The feed for each lot of cattle consisted of 1,140 pounds cotton seed, 250 pounds cotton seed hulls, 1,230 pounds of corn, 12,915 pounds of corn stover and 42,776 pounds of corn silage.

CIVILIANS HAVE DUTIES.

Soldiers and sailors accept their work with the full understanding that it may fall to them to lay down their lives for the common good. It is a redeeming trait in the necessary work of making ready to defend the nation against its foes. Those men who died in Mexico were but fulfilling an always possible call of duty. Should there be no corresponding elements in the call and duty of the civilian citizen? Are we not, too, the children of the nation, pledged to her honor and living in her service? It is easier sometime to die than to live for a devotion. The marching orders for the fight, the sense of comradeship, the excitement of the battle, bring all the powers of the soul to unity and blow our courage to a flame. The quiet, workaday courage of unselfish citizenship is quite as needful for the nation's life. Without it the soldier's heroism may go for naught, or be employed in unjust causes. While we honor our dead of Vera Cruz, let us dedicate ourselves anew to the service of the nation for which they so bravely gave their lives.—The Congregationalist.

SCHOOLBOOK PRICES.

Superintendent Stearnes and the members of the State Board of Education have undertaken the task of securing schoolbooks at a lower cost to the patrons of the public schools. The energetic manner in which they have gone about the work and the methods which they are employing promise success. That seems assured.

But Superintendent Stearnes and those working with him need time. The work cannot be done in few weeks nor in a few months. There are the prices in other states and in Canada to be studied. There are methods of purchasing to be learned. There is the system of plate renting on the royalty basis to be investigated. Even state publication, its advantages and disadvantages, are to be learned, that all may be in readiness for undertaking it as a last resort, as was done in California. We know now that schoolbooks are secured in other states at lower prices than in Virginia, but we do not know fully all the reasons. We know there is a way to give Virginia the benefits other states enjoy, but we are not fully acquainted with the best means to give it to her. In short, there is a wide field for investigation, and a thorough investigation will take time. The school board must give the time.

In the meantime the people of the state should be spared the expense of further change in textbooks. The adoption, which has already been postponed twice, should be postponed again, this time for a year, as suggested by the book committee.

There is no need for hurry. The books now in use are giving satisfaction, and while the "tentative" list already prepared is doubtless an improvement over the present list, another year's use with so much at stake will do no harm.—Times-Dispatch.

PARK CONCERTS.

Music in the parks is one of the features of Washington life in summer. Every afternoon except Sunday throughout June, July, August and September citizens throng the green and tree-grown squares and circles and listen to good music excellently played by bands. Such has an international reputation, and the others a fame which extends throughout the military service of the United States. In addition to the Marine Band, the Engineer Band, stationed at Washington, and the Cavalry Band, stationed at Fort Myer, there are the bands of the public parks, that of the Soldiers' Home and of the Arlington Gun Club, which play their share of music for the citizens of the capital and capital visitors. The result is that during the three months of summer and the first month of autumn, though the concert schedule of the officer of public buildings and grounds provides one park concert for each week day, there are as a matter of fact a higher number than six open-air concerts a week.—The weekly concert of the Marine Band at the east front of the capitol is also in addition to those given under the direction of the officer in charge of public buildings and grounds, the capitol grounds being under the authority not of that officer, but of the superintendent of the capitol. The Cavalry Band on the evenings when it does not play in the parks of Washington gives open-air concerts at its post. To the concerts in the White House grounds, Potomac Park, Dupont Circle, Franklin Park, Garfield Park, Iowa Circle, Judiciary Square, the Smithsonian grounds, Washington Circle, Logan Park, McMillan Park and Montrose Park, all under the authority of the officer in charge of public building and grounds, should be added the frequent band recitals in the grounds of the Soldiers' Home, on the parade at Washington barracks, on the lawns of the navy-yard and at Fort Myer.

A glance at the programs of these bands and their numerous concerts shows that they embrace the whole field of music from gay to grave, and from the flippant to the tragic, and that nearly all composers who have won recognition and some to whom popular recognition has not yet come are represented. These government and semi-public bands have had much to do with the formation of musical taste in Washington, and as that is high a great deal of credit is due these musicians. While the public appreciation of park music is as a rule ample, complaint is often made that the enjoyment of the respectful auditors is sometimes marred by the conduct of unappreciative persons. Perhaps this is true of most musical entertainments, whether out-of-doors or indoors. The best of order should be maintained during the progress of a park concert, and the police charged with the protection of auditors against unnecessary disturbance will no doubt perform their duty with firmness and tact.—Washington Star.

IRELAND TRIUMPHANT.

The calm with which the House of Commons accepted the inevitable emphasized more than riot could have done the importance of yesterday's passage of the home rule bill.

A great historic event for more than Ireland, it may foreshadow further devolution; home rule for Wales, Scotland, England; the lifting from Parliament of a burden of local legislation all too heavy. Britain already has delayed overlong to gain federal advantages with which Germany, the United States and, to some extent, France are familiar.

To have triumphed where Gladstone and Parnell failed puts Asquith and Redmond securely among Britain's great statesmen. Mr. Asquith works with so little appearance of effort, he speaks so seldom, so smoothly and so briefly, that his power has scarcely yet received due recognition. John Redmond, political descendant of Parnell, has combined strength with sympathy and force with moderation. The British habit of conciliation and compromise finds its leading example in the "fiery Celt."—New York World.

ADVICE—THOUGHTLESS AND DANGEROUS

There is nothing so dangerous as advice, and yet we hold it, whether given or taken, cheaper than most things of life.

Yesterday a girl tried to kill herself because some friends advised her that an operation which doctors thought necessary would probably kill her.

Most of us are so thoughtless in advice. Some man or woman confronted with a problem meets us on the street and in distraction asks our advice. It isn't often that we realize how dangerous the answer may be.—Evening Sun.

Improvement of Sandy Soils.

(By Karl Langenbeck)

It is important in sandy soils to plant clover or legumes in short rotations frequently and plow the green vegetable matter under. These soils are not only lacking in nitrogen, as a rule, but particularly in vegetable mold. This is very essential for them, as it enables this type of soil to hold water. In themselves, they dry too rapidly even in average seasons, for good crop yields. Lime is almost invariably necessary, both for the green clover crop and for its after effect on succeeding growths. But it is essential to use more time than the analysis of the soil calls for. Some producers will have this analysis made for the farmer at a nominal cost.

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION.

(Concluded from last week.)

It was ordered that an Act of the Assembly of Virginia approved February 27, 1914, entitled "An Act to amend and reenact fifth subdivision of Section 8349 of the Code of Virginia, authorizing the Board of Supervisors of each county of the State to levy a tax on dogs and to enforce collection of said tax, etc.," and the act approved March 21, 1914, "An Act to prohibit the running at large of dogs, and to provide a penalty for the violation thereof," be and the same are hereby adopted by this Board.

The sections follow:

I. "The treasurers of the respective counties shall collect the tax above mentioned as other taxes are now collected by law, and may levy upon and sell any personal property belonging to the owner of the dog on which the tax is levied; and he and his sureties shall be accountable for them as for other funds now committed to him by law, and he shall make an annual settlement which the board of supervisors of the said county, and said treasurer shall disburse the said funds arising from the said tax according to orders from the said board of supervisors, and any balance due after the said disbursements shall likewise be covered by him according to orders of the board of supervisors."

This act shall be in force from the passage, as an emergency enactment, to have in force before the first day of February, nineteen hundred and fourteen.

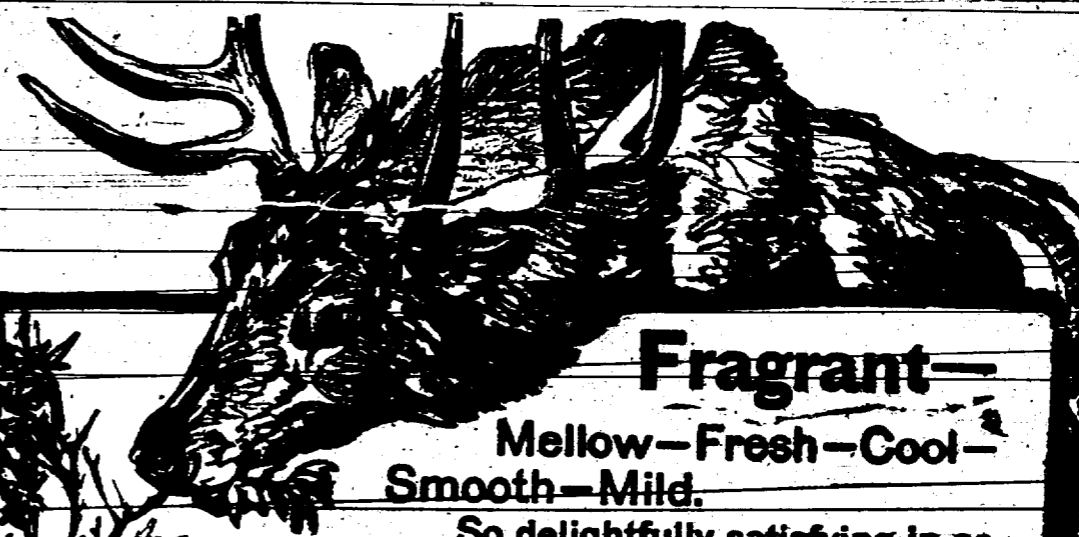

II. "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia, That it shall be the duty of every person, owning or having in charge any dog or dogs, to at all times confine such dog or dogs to the limits of his own premises or the premises on which such dog or dogs is, or are, regularly kept. "Provided, That nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the owner of any dog or dogs, or other person or persons, having such dog or dogs in his or their charge, from allowing such dog or dogs to accompany such owner or other person or persons elsewhere than on the premises on which such dog or dogs is, or are, regularly kept. "Any person violating this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than two nor more than fifty dollars."

"This act shall not apply to the running at large of any dog or dogs within the corporate limits of any city or town in this State that requires a license tag to be kept on dogs. But this act shall not apply in any county in this State until the same has been adopted by the board of supervisors of such county."

Ordered that the Board be adjourned until Thursday, June 25, 1914.
