Barbers Urged to Report

Barbers in the State are urged by the State Board of Health to forward their names and addresses to the Board and to receive official copies of the regulations adopted for the sanitation of barber shops, bathing resorts, manicurists and chiropodists. As these regulations have the force of law, barbers and others affected by them are advised to send for the regulations in order that they may conform to them and avoid the liability of prosecution. A full list of barbers is being compiled by the Board but this list is to be checked up by names forwarded to the Board.

Remarkable Escape of Small Children.

A severe electrical storm passed over this county on last Sunday morning before daylight. It was especially severe in the lower end of Prince William. A bolt of lightning struck the residence of Mr. James Luck, knocking down the chimney and passing through the sleeping rooms of the family passing around the iron bedstead where two small children were sleeping and passing downward through the floor from the legs of the iron bedstead.

Death of Mrs. Wolfenden.

The people of the lower end of the county were grieved to hear of the death, on Monday last, of Mrs. Mabel Wolfenden, the wife of Thomas Wolfenden, from heart failure. She was the daughter of Mr. Edward Wright and is survived by her husband, Thomas Wolfenden, jr., and seven interesting children, one of whom is only one week old. She was the center of a large group of relatives and friends who are deeply afflicted by her loss.

Rev. A. J. Cummins, the pastor of the Belle Haven Baptist church, conducted the memorial services on Tuesday afternoon which were largely attended.

"RENDER UNTO CAESAR"

A Great Patriotic Address by the Oldest Temperance Orator Living.

Hon. Michael J. Fanning, the noted Irish Temperance orator, who will speak at Manassas on Friday, July 10th, in the Methodist Episcopal church at 8 p. m.

Mr. Fanning has made more temperance addresses than any other man living. Those who heard him recently in Loudoun county, say he ranks with Governor Glenn, of North Carolina. The address will be under the auspices of the W. C. T. U.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mrs. Annis Dorothy Halpenny, a native of Quebec, but of New England and Huguenot ancestry, was born Nov. 2, 1827. She was living in 67th year at the time of her death. Being very ambitious she so overtaxed her powers by overstudy that while yet in her girlhood she seriously, indeed, permanently impaired her health. Becoming in youth a member of the church she remained steadfast to the end. She was an affectionate wife and a most devoted mother.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the fire department for the splendid effort made to save our home and its contents yesterday, and especially to the many friends who assisted, and also to those who have so kindly offered assistance and invited us to their homes.

MR. AND MRS. JNO. A. NICOL.

WHITE RIBBON CAMPAIGN

Fauquier and Prince William—Large Additions to the Ranks of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Emma H. Howland and Mrs. Emily C. Round continued their meetings in lower Prince William during this week. On Sunday at Occoquan and Bethel they were accompanied by Hon. C. J. Meetze who on invitation followed Mrs. Howland's address. A Union was organized at Occoquan with the following officers: President, Miss Mary Wagener; secretaries, Misses Lulu Beach and Irene Ledman, and treasurer, Mrs. Lou Seelman. At Bethel an organization was effected with the following officers: President, Miss Lucille Merrill; secretary, Miss Mollie E. Glasscock; treasurer, Mrs. C. N. Snapp.

On Monday night a Union was organized at Belle Haven. Miss Maud Norman was made president, Miss May Luck, secretary, and Mrs. Stella Dewitt, treasurer.

Before Mrs. Howland's address stirring recitations were made by Morris Groff and Miss Myrtle Merrill.

On Tuesday night Woodbine church was crowded for Mrs. Howland's last meeting. Her address was particularly effective. It was preceded by recitations by Worth Stark and Miss Daisy Purcell, the former entitled "The Potter's Field," and the latter "A Vision" of the era when righteousness and temperance should prevail. These recitations were thrilling and deeply impressed the audience. Mr. George C. Round, who accompanied the ladies, made brief talks at Belle Haven and Woodbine urging the circulation of the petitions to the governor.

The results of the White Ribbon campaign and the 15 addresses of Mrs. Howland are 7 new Unions in Fauquier and Prince William, 88 new members, with promises of further increase. A bi-county convention will be held early in August, probably in our town.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING CLUB

Catharpin Club Holds Its Usual Monthly Meeting—The Club Paper a Feature.

The ladies of Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club held their usual monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. F. H. Sanders, June 25.

In spite of the extreme heat there was a goodly gathering, including a number of the masculine gender.

The program consisted of music beautifully rendered by the Misses Sanders; a club paper written by Mrs. McDonald and a prophecy of the future of the club.

W. L. Sanders. The club paper was full of witty sayings and jokes on the members and was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

The prophecy carried the club forward to the year 1930 and dealt with the changes that took place in the intervening period. The refreshments served by the hostess were unusually dainty and appealing to the eye and appetite as well.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to extend my sincere thanks to the Manassas Fire Department and friends for their efforts in saving my residence from fire on the occasion of the burning of the adjoining property.

ALBERT SPEIDEN.

NICOL'S HOUSE DESTROYED

Residence of One of Our Citizens Burns—Mr. Speiden's Property Threatened.

What at noon yesterday was an attractive spot in our town is now a scene of desolation. One of the cosy homes of North Battle street is now in ruins and another sadly damaged. About 3:30 o'clock a dense smoke arose in that region actually shutting out the view. The residence of Mr. Jno. A. Nicol was found to be on fire, and soon the adjacent building, the home of Mr. Albert Speiden, was burning. The former could not be saved and is now a total loss; the damage to the latter proves to be not so serious. Both of these properties were insured in companies represented by Mr. Karl Austin who, before the crowd had fairly dispersed, was on the ground and adjusting the claims. Mr. Nicol had $2,500 on his house; Mr. Speiden had $1,200 on dwelling and $700 on furniture, the damage to the former being estimated at only $100 and that to the latter at $200.

The fire originated in Mr. Nicol's kitchen and burned so rapidly and silently that although the family were occupying the adjoining room they knew nothing of it until on opening the door they were met by a blinding smoke. So rapid were the flames that Mrs. Benton, a Northern lady, who was on the second floor, had to be rescued through a window by a ladder.

Our alert fire brigade was on the job in an amazingly brief space of time and did the very best that could be done under the conditions. They surely deserve credit and gratitude for their daring and laborious efforts. Meantime, quick and willing hands were busy saving such household goods as could be brought out. And, while the fire was yet burning, the transfer wagons were conveying the rescued furniture to the M. I. C. building.

PROMISES BETTER STATION

New Building to be Extended Fifteen Feet With Concrete and Curbing.

The action of our Business Men's League for securing a better station at Manassas, the effective work of the committee, the visit of the Division Superintendent and some pleasing assurances he gave, were chronicled by us in last week's issue. Since that time Supt. Hudson has again visited the town and, under the persistent, magnetic, mesmerizing appeals of our we-are-going-to-have-it League has given more definite assurances of still better things.

The building is to be extended fifteen feet on each end, making a total addition of thirty feet to its length. A roof the whole length of the building will cover the space between the main body and the tracks; a concrete pavement will cover the ground space thereunder, being finished along the track with a curb, the same curb to be extended completely around the building, the walk on the rear side to be filled in with some material other than concrete. A separate apartment is to be provided for the express business, and a ladies' retiring room is to be added.

CARD OF THANKS.

To all who, in any way, rendered service before or after the death of our loved one.

J. HALPENNY AND FAMILY.

FREE SCHOLARSHIP.

District No. 4 of the Virginia Division of the U. D. C. will give a scholarship at the state normal school in Harrisonburg, with board and tuition.

The applicant for this scholarship must present a certificate stating that her family cannot afford to pay for her education. She must be a daughter, or lineal descendant, of a Confederate veteran of honorable record. She must be endorsed by a president of a chapter in Virginia; must be at least 16 years old; must pledge herself to teach two years in Virginia after graduation at Harrisonburg; must send testimonials concerning her health and moral character, and must have some one to testify to her Confederate eligibility.

No applications received after July 8.

Address: Mrs. YATES MCALPINE WILSON, Portsmouth, Virginia.

Any young lady of this county wishing to apply for the scholarship must send application to Mrs. Thornton, president Manassas Chapter, at once.

TOWN COUNCIL MEETS

Important Business Transacted—Office of Town Treasurer Created, Etc.

The town council at its meeting this week with a quite full attendance (one absentee) transacted a rather large budget of business. Building permits were granted as follows: To Dr. J. M. Lewis, to add a shed to his barn; to Dr. C. K. C. Johnson, to make addition to his dwelling for bathroom, etc.; to M. J. Hottle, to erect a garage, and to Dan Lomax, to remove to the opposite side of the street the partially burned building on Eastern College grounds, known as the laundry building.

An electric light was ordered to be placed on the water tank. Two injectors for the boilers on the power plant were ordered to be purchased, not to cost more than $9 apiece.

The office of town treasurer was created, the incumbent, the salary and the bond to be decided hereafter.

The office of "engineer and fireman" was created at a salary of $50 a month, and Frank Nickens was elected to fill that place.

The office of "superintendent and electrician" was created with a monthly salary of $75, the incumbent to be hereafter chosen.

It was decided to add one square (eastward) to the length of the sewer pipe on Quarry street and to shorten the same on Prescott avenue in like degree.

The power plant was repaired for $6,000.

The electric light poles were ordered to be extended from the point on South Main street, originally intended as the terminus, along and around the county road to a point opposite Mr. Westwood Hutchison's residence.

NOTICE.

Within the next month the electric current will be ready for use by subscribers. In the meantime the question of the distribution of transformers will arise, and it would aid the committee materially in making such distribution if those citizens of the town who intend using electric lights would so advise the committee at once. For this purpose a postal card may be used and addressed to:

C. R. C. JOHNSON, R. S. HYNON, Committee.

A CHARMING RECITAL.

The Young Pupils of Miss Hopkins Receive Well-Merited Applause from Audience.

Two things in this world that always interest the people are young folks and music, and the younger children are the more attractive are their performances. The classic line "music hath charms to soothe the savage breast," has been translated into modern style and sentiment in the couplet:

"Music hath charms to soothe a savage, To rend a rock or bust a cabbage."

Miss Margaret Temple Hopkins has just celebrated the close of her School of Music by giving in Conner's Hall a series of most pleasing recitals. The interest with which these were regarded beforehand was attested by the attendance of a considerable number of visitors from Washington, Alexandria and other points on the lines of the Southern Railway, while the town and community attended so numerous that several judges estimated the crowds at between 400 and 500 people.

It would be impracticable to give a detailed report of the three evenings, rendering in all so very many numbers. Only some salient features can be noticed. While this school has three departments, advanced, intermediate and primary, embracing students from grown young women to little tots, and while excellent work has been done by students of the two higher grades, it is only in the primary department that medals and prizes are offered—medals, for faithful work during the whole year, and prizes for the same grade of work done by students attending only a part of the session.

Nine medals were awarded to the following: Beulah Baker, Muriel Larkin, Catherine Weir, Margaret Cornwell, Ruth Hutchison, Rose Rice, Garnette Brown, Eloise Giddings, Helen Cannon, and prizes to Catherine Helen Payne and Betsy Payne.

Some features of the performances, whose excellence attracted special attention and elicited enthusiastic applause, may be here noted: The technique of the pupils and their general knowledge of musical principles; the ease and grace of their stage deportment, and more especially the "accompanist" work done, some of it by quite small children. This was unique, remarkable—well, we cover the whole ground and say the most that can be said by avowing that it was not awfully cute. THE JOURNAL will not be responsible for any injudicious distinctions, but the audience did assume that responsibility by their repeated accolades for little Miss Helen Cannon in her work as accompanist.

Ticket Collectors to Remain

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—Statements to the effect that the Southern Railway Company purposes to dispense with ticket collectors on its passenger trains are entirely without foundation, declared Comptroller A. H. Plant today.

Mr. Plant said: "Recently published reports alleging that this Company intends to abandon its system of ticket collectors on its passenger trains are incorrect. While collectors have been taken, for the present, from some of the trains on which traffic does not justify their retention, collectors are to be continued on the important trains on the mail lines, and no further reductions are now contemplated."

MAMMOTH CLEARANCE SALE

Begins Promptly at Nine O'clock Monday Morning, July 6, 1914

The Crigler & Camper, Inc., inaugurate their Mammoth Semi-Annual Clearance Sale, for 10 days only, beginning Monday, July 6. Our entire stock of summer goods will be offered to you at greatly reduced prices. Consider this: Summer is not half over, the greater portion of the stock is new and we only give one such opportunity a season. What's the answer? Grasp the opportunity—don't let it slip—be here the first day and look over the biggest bunch of bargains ever offered the public. You know us and you know our methods of doing business and you, therefore, know that no goods are marked up in order to drop them. We merely mention this as some prices have been cut in half. Read everything carefully, bring this "ad" with you and be here the first day, and you will unhesitatingly agree with us—that the values are stupendous and the prices startling.

PUNCTUALITY.

This ranks among the most valuable qualities of character. It has much to do with measuring one's success and efficiency. And this is true even when relation to other people is not concerned. Being "on the point"—for that is what punctuality means—being in the right place at the right time; doing, at just the time that has been recognized as best, the thing that is to be done, so that the many other things that have their respective places may be done in their time—this is a thing that enters very largely into the achievement of success; and is a thing the lack of which goes far toward explaining the failure of many lives.

But it is in keeping engagements with others that the value of this quality is most clearly seen. Indeed, the tests of one's character are made by marking his adjustment to the claims and the movements of other people. The usefulness and excellence of a life consist largely in the proper sustaining of relationships. The admirable characters are always those that make their lives fit into the lives of others. No one's qualities can be estimated except by measuring the degree in which he sustains life's relationships.

A failure to meet punctually an appointment with others is a disregard of the rights of each one of the others. For instance: To be carelessly late ten minutes in attending a committee meeting of five members is ruthlessly to waste forty minutes of the time that sacredly belongs to the other four members. It is not an uncommon thing for a public exercise to be advertised for eight o'clock and to begin at half-past eight, wasting thirty minutes apiece for all that put themselves to the trouble to be on time.

Probably there is no sphere in which the lack of punctuality is working more harm than in that of attending public religious meetings. In two respects the ugliness of this habit is specially seen: (1) When just a brief season—say, one hour—is set apart for the worship of God, a member of the congregation who is avoidably ten minutes late, is plainly saying by such action that he had rather use a part of that hour in gratifying his own inclination than in giving it all to the exalted purpose of honoring God. (2) The early part of the service is sadly interrupted by tardy arrivals. Before the worship begins every worshipper should be in his place and there should be throughout the building a subdued calm, a reverent silence. Instead of this, there is often an unseemly confusion caused by late comers and continued for some time after the beginning of the exercises.

PRIVATE UTILITIES.

Now, that the longed-for utilities are assured, now that the great boon of water, sewerage and lights is practically within our grasp, a very important question that every property holder must be asking himself is: How am I, in getting these public utilities connected with my private premises, to be sure that I am getting the work done in a safe and sanitary way?

We have beforehand chosen a town council of what we conceived to be the best material available. We are satisfied of their competency, integrity and fidelity. To them has been entrusted the responsible duty of making all the arrangements and of letting the contracts for the several departments of the public works. With great care they have conducted the various branches of this important business. The agents and firms that they have employed give evidence of effectively doing their respective tasks. Strict specifications and binding obligations have been enjoined throughout for protection against all unsatisfactory conditions. So far, so good—very good.

But, while these are called "public utilities," the overwhelming proportion of their usefulness is in their application to private homes. So, a very delicate and difficult problem is demanding solution at the hands of every property holder. The average citizen knows nothing about such work. It does not seem practicable for every man to make his own contracts for each of these three separate and different kinds of work, then "accept the job" in each case, pay the bill and let the fellow go. Health boards, insurance inspectors and the like are liable to come along and condemn the work. Then there is no indemnity, no redress.

Should there not be cooperation? Some organized and systemized method of meeting this situation? Could not our excellent town council come to the assistance of the individual property holders by inaugurating some general plan of oversight and inspection?

HOW IMMORALITY IS BANISHED.

A life insurance company has refused to pay a policy of $5,000 written by it upon the life of a Western man who was shot to death by a jealous woman. The company claims that a married man who has an affinity has assumed a great risk. In concealing knowledge of that risk from the company he commits a fraud upon it and therefore invalidates the contract. This particular policyholder, it should be premised, had been asked the question, "Are you engaged in any hazardous undertaking?" and had said that he was not.

Science and business are the great factors making for morality in these times. Gambling is taboo nowadays because employers, even though they have a little game themselves now and then, will not trust gambling employes. Drinking is coming to an end because the railroads and other big corporations will not have drinkers in their employ. Affinities may become unpopular shortly, not because they are immoral, but because they invalidate life insurance. Henry Drummond used to say that advances in mental and psychological study would enable everyone very shortly to read the thoughts in everyone else's mind and that this would banish all crime and immorality, because no one then would dare think an ugly or an immoral thought.

Thus is the millennium achieved.

TO BE LIVING IS SUBLIME.

Aeroplane history is being made daily these days. The carrying of ten passengers in Rodman Wanamaker's trans-Atlantic hydroplane was something never before attempted. It seems to have been most successfully done, and thousands of people who have classed Lieut. Porte with Walter Wellman, and both of them with Dr. Cook, will now begin to believe that the attempt to cross the Atlantic will be seriously made and may be successful.

Aeroplanes, automobiles, steamships; wireless telegraph, wireless telephone, moving pictures; medicine, surgery, bacteriology; discovery, the North and South Poles and the rivers of Brazil; journalism, philosophy, religion—in every department of human activity, or most of them, things incredible and wonderful are being done to-day. Half the thinking men of the world, as they sit down to rest and meditate after a hard day's work, give utterance in one form or another to the thought of good Bishop Coxe's good old hymn:

We are living, we are dwelling,
In a grand and awful time,
In an age on ages telling,
To be living is sublime. —Baltimore Sun.

WILL HE GAMBLE ON THE CHANCE?

Mr. Roosevelt appears now to be listening to the voice of the New York political charmer and to be preparing to change his mind with regard to the Governorship. Like the woman who vowed she'd never consent and yet consented, the Colonel is apt to be found most yielding when he affects to be most coy. If he should run and be signally defeated, his Presidential prospects would be badly damaged by such an early frost. But, on the other hand, if he would win, it would put him in a position of decided political advantage. Will he gamble on the chance? Will he risk the future on a single throw of the dice this fall?

Drives 4,000 Miles Behind a Team of Goats

Washington, July 22—Having driven a team of Angora goats a distance of more than 4,000 miles, Captain V. Edwards, a ranch owner of San Diego, Cal., arrived here from San Diego yesterday. —News Item.

This is almost as ridiculous as the man who recently drove fifteen miles and back, taking almost an entire day, to pay a debt of ten dollars.

Had he been one of our customers with a check account he could have mailed the check for 2 cents postage, saved his time, his horses and still have a receipt for the money paid. A Check Account is a real convenience.

THE LAST VETERAN.

An old man sat alone On a cold, grey stone Near the edge of the silent sea, "Oh, where is that boat That'd take me afloat And carry me over?" said he. "I'm the last of all those Who in blue or grey clothes Fought under Grant or Lee, And I long to cross o'er To that farther shore. Where my comrades are waiting for me. "Mathinks, to my sight, Clothed in garments of white I see both Ulysses and Lee, And great Lincoln, too, Appear to my view. Abo Stonewall Jackson and Bee. "How I long to be there In that kingdom so fair And my beloved comrades to meet, And what joy fills my heart That we ne'er more shall part, But rest at our dear Saviour's feet." E. BERKELEY.

SERIOUS ERROR IN MANASSAS

Manassas Citizens Will Do Well To Profit by the Following.

Many fatal cases of kidney disease have reached an incurable stage because the patient did not understand the symptoms. Even today in Manassas there are many residents making the same serious error. They attribute their mysterious aches and pains to overwork, or worry, perhaps, when all the time their rheumatic pains, backache and bladder irregularities are most probably due to weak and ailing kidneys. If you are ill, if your kidneys are out of order, profit by this Manassas resident's experience. W. L. Rector, tinsmith, Center St., Manassas, Va., says: "I suffered from lame and sore back for many years. At times I could not get through with my day's work. I also had trouble with my kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I have had no more need of kidney medicine. I am glad to recommend the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills after they cured me." Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rector had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 7-3-27

LET EACH COMMUNITY DECIDE FOR ITSELF

Royal E. Cabell Gives Facts and Figures From Actual Experience.

Addressing a meeting of several thousand Virginia citizens recently, in reference to the coming election in Virginia in September, Royal E. Cabell, formerly United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, whose special duty it was during that time to see what the conditions were in the so-called prohibition States, gave some pertinent facts and figures in reference to State-wide Prohibition and its failure. Mr. Cabell said:

"My experience and my observation while I was connected with the Federal service led my judgment to this definite conclusion, that the liquor laws of Virginia, based on local option and local self-government, are as good as the liquor laws of any State in the Union; that the regulations are as strict and that they are as well enforced as those of any State in the Union; and that the situation in Virginia with respect to alcoholic liquors, whether considered from an economic, social, moral or any other standpoint, is as good as any State in the Union, and far better than that obtaining in any of the so-called prohibition States."

PROHIBITION DOES NOT PROHIBIT.

"Records, Federal and local, show that the enactment of State-wide prohibitory laws not only does not prohibit, but that it does not diminish the consumption of strong drink in the area covered by such laws, and that in many sections of such area an actual increase is indicated."

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION INCREASES CRIME, SOCIAL DISORDER AND CORRUPTION.

"That as State-wide prohibition destroys regulation of the sale and handling of liquor, the handling of that business, or the sale of liquor, passes from the hands of responsible persons into the hands of irresponsible persons, the baser and the lower portions of the population, with the result that the vilest kind of liquor and liquor substitutes are sold to people illegally, resulting in increased crime, social disorder and corruption; that use of habit-forming drugs is promoted and increased, and that, instead of improvement in such States, there is instituted a strong probability and evidence of impairment of the social fabric.

"The internal revenue records show that when State-wide prohibition is enacted in a State, the distillers simply go across the line into the nearest wet State, from which there are advantageous freight rates; or, if they go out of business, the distillers in these other States increase their business to include the production of the territory which they would naturally serve, that the increase in output in such neighboring States is as great or greater than the entire former output in the State that has gone dry. It causes increased shipments in dry territory. That it does not even put dealers in alcoholic beverages out of business; but, on the contrary, from two-thirds to three-fourths as many persons qualify under the Federal laws to sell liquor after the State passes prohibition laws as had qualified prior to the enactment of such laws. Bear in mind that every person who sells alcoholic liquor is required to qualify under Federal laws, without regard to State laws. There is an enormous increase in illicit distillation."

ROYAL E. CABELL

President Wilson, at whose feet I had the honor of sitting when a student at Princeton, has put on record his opinion, which has been quoted to you, in which he expresses vigorous opposition to State-wide prohibition as violating fundamental principles of local self-government. "We all need have no fear that if the citizens of Virginia do appreciate the principles involved they will do as our forefathers have done, will meet and overcome this attack even as they have met and overcome every other similar attack, however disguised, and will save to ourselves and to our posterity the blessed heritage of local self-government that has come down to us from our ancestors."—(Ado.)

PRESIDENT WILSON OPPOSES STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION.

"Bear in mind that twenty-four States in the Union have, at one time or the other, enacted State-wide prohibition laws, and that of those twenty-four States only nine have those laws now on their statute books. Fifteen of twenty-four States that enacted prohibition laws no longer have them on their statute books."

BIG SHIPMENTS INTO PROHIBITION TERRITORY.

"In a number of localities railroad shipments are checked up and recorded by State authorities. Thus we find Topeka, Kansas, during one month, received in this manner 90,000 quarts of

Wood's Seeds Seed Potatoes

The planting of Seed Potatoes in June and July is increasing to a wonderful extent. A great many farmers claim that they give better crops planted at this time than they do when planted in the spring. Potatoes planted in June and July mature in the cool weather of the fall, at a time when they can be harvested to best advantage.

The Seed Potatoes we offer are put in cold storage early in the season, so as to keep in first-class, vigorous condition. "Wood's Crop Special" giving prices and full information about Late Seed Potatoes and all other Seasonable Seeds, mailed free on request. T. W. WOOD & SONS, Seedsmen, - Richmond, Va.

LETTER FROM SEATTLE.

SEATTLE, WASH.

EDITOR JOURNAL: I will endeavor to give a brief description of our trip across the continent.

Our party when we left Virginia numbered about forty-two. Traveling up the Shenandoah Valley we found the weather conditions very much the same as at home. The hay crop will, no doubt, be light. In the neighborhood of Roanoke some grain fields were already in shock. Traveling through the mountains of Kentucky and West Virginia during the night we did not see much except the coke ovens. Ohio, Indiana and Illinois seem to be very reasonable. Crops are looking well.

At Chicago our party was swelled to about 120. From this point we had a special train. Our stop in Chicago was short, yet some of the party availed themselves of the opportunity to see the beautiful Lincoln Park and take a spin along the lake front. The lake presented a beautiful appearance, the waves of considerable height rolling in to the shore.

The trip from Chicago to the twin cities of the North was largely made in the night. Here we had a stopover of eight hours. The day was gloomy and damp. However, some of the party visited the immense flouring mills of Minneapolis, one of which has a capacity of over 40,000 barrels a day. Minneapolis Falls was also an attraction of this trip. Others took a trip to the state capital in St. Paul. Sunday morning our party, now numbering about 150, arrived at Condo, N. Dak.

At this point the whole party was taken out in autos, a trip of 25 miles, to see the country. After the party returned there was a religious service held in a tent provided for the occasion. Revs. D. C. Flory, of Virginia, and H. K. Ober, of Pennsylvania, discussed the Sunday school lesson of the day, after which Eld. H. C. Early gave an address on our mission field in China. Bro. Early gave us a very able presentation of the needs and opportunities of this field. It was estimated that 1,000 people attended this service. One pleasing and much appreciated part of the program here was a free dinner for the entire party given by the town of Condo. The party left Condo at 2 p. m.

Our next point of special interest was Glacier Park Station, Mont. Here the party stopped for an hour to visit the famous Park Hotel. This hotel is built as much as possible from material of the region kept in its natural state. The frame part of the building consists of posts from two to three feet in diameter just as they came from the forest. The other parts of the structure are in proportion and of the same character. Here were many specimens of trees, shrubs and plants of various kinds. They sang and danced for the party.

Sixty miles further west, at a point called Belton, we stopped for a trip into this same park. A trip by boat up Lake McDonald for a distance of twelve miles with mountain peaks on either side, still covered with snow, was very much enjoyed by the whole party.

One of the most pleasing experiences of the entire trip was an auto ride over the city of Spokane, Wash., and a free lunch of cakes, strawberries and sandwiches furnished by the chamber of commerce. A most hearty reception and welcome was given our party. An address of welcome by the mayor of the city was a feature of the evening. Eld. J. W. Lear, of Illinois, then gave us an able sermon on the subject, "Christ Our Mediator." Our last reception was given us by the Commercial Club, of Wenatchee, Wash. Here we had a free auto ride through the world-famous Wenatchee orchards. This to me was one of the most beautiful scenes of all. The Commercial Club had arranged for a cherry treat at this place, but our time was too short and the cherries were placed in our cars. We had all the cherries we could use all day.

Our party arrived at Seattle at 5 p. m., June 17, on schedule time. Everyone pronounced our trip entirely satisfactory. It was our pleasure to behold on the waters of Puget Sound the "Minnesota," the largest ship on the Pacific.

Much might be said about the beautiful scenery along the route of the Great Northern, but neither time nor space will permit. Allow me to say that in climbing down the west side of the Cascade Mountains the traveler is permitted to see both ends of the same tunnel on the same side of the mountain, where the road winds in the mountain in order to reach a lower level.

One more thing. One is impressed very much by the push and hustle of the northwest. The manner in which they advertise their country and products is well worth the imitation of those who live in our older eastern sections. You will find exhibits in many of the large cities of this region.

APPENDICITIS, HEADACHES, CAUSED BY TORPID LIVER

Polk Miller's Liver Pills Safe To Remove The Cause.

Biliousness and torpid liver very often cause severe headaches or appendicitis. Go to any druggist and get a 10c box of Polk Miller's Liver Pills, take a few doses, note the immediate relief and the after-invigorating feeling. They may save you a costly operation if taken in time. They act directly on the liver, removing the deadly bile and secretions—the entire system is rapidly toned up. Cabanel, so-called salts and many liquids are dangerous. Refuse them. Ask your druggist or general store for Polk Miller's Liver Pills. They are safe. Free 2c coupon in each box. CRIMSON CLOVER

A bushel of Crimson Clover Seed sown on four acres of ground will increase the succeeding yield of corn 100 bushels. The plant retains for the use of the tree the following season much of the plant food, which would otherwise leach out of the ground during the winter and early spring. A good stand of Crimson Clover not only reduces the amount of the gulching of the field, but on sandy fields, this would otherwise leach out of the ground during the winter and early spring. The plant also serves as a winter pasture for the stock, and its importance and great value of Crimson Clover.
