FARM LOAN BANK BILL

Rural Credits Joint Committee Considers Report to Congress.

The joint committee on rural credits Tuesday considered a report on the farm loan bank bill to be submitted to Congress this week.

The bill, which will provide for the establishment of twelve farm loan banks with a capitalization of $500,000, and for a farm loan board to govern the system, has practically been agreed upon. There are some differences in the committee, however, over whether postal savings funds should go into the system, whether the banks should be made government depositories and whether they should be permitted to accept public deposits. The maximum rate of interest on loans would be fixed at six per cent. — Washington Star.

MARRIED TO J. H. REXRODE

Miss L. May Wenrich Now Wife of Well Known Railway Mail Clerk.

A beautiful and impressive wedding was solemnized at high noon Wednesday when Miss L. May Wenrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wenrich, became the bride of Mr. J. Harry Rexrode at Grace Lutheran Church, Washington. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. A. Doerman.

The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of mid night blue, with hat and gloves to match. The wedding was a very quiet one, only a few friends and relatives of the contracting parties being present. After luncheon with Rev. and Mrs. Doerman, the happy couple left for Hot Springs, Va., where the honeymoon will be spent.

Those in attendance upon the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Wenrich, Mr. W. N. Wedrich, Miss Mary Rexrode, Miss Marie Miller and Mr. W. A. Clem, all of Manassas; Mrs. Laura Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Watkins and Miss Watkins, all of Alexandria; Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Bingham, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Noel, Mr. R. D. The bride is well known in Manassas, where she was born and reared. The groom is a government mail clerk who has lived near Manassas for several years. The newly-married couple wish them a long life of unalloyed happiness.

A Dye Plant For Lower Prince William.

A rumor, which appears to have a very good foundation, is to the effect that the DuPont people have purchased 2,000 acres of the old Lansburgh tract near Quantico, which for several years has been owned by Dr. H. B. Hutchison. To close the deal, it is said, that $1,000 has been paid on the purchase price, which is in the neighborhood of $125,000. The rumor is that a dye plant will be erected upon the property. Should such a plant be established in lower Prince William it will mean a great thing for the county.

FOR SUMMER WHITE HOUSE

"Beverly Heights," Near Broad Run, Suggested for President's Summer Home.

Perhaps the latest suggestion for the location of a summer White House is one which asks that the senators and representatives in congress from the state of Virginia will recommend that "Beverly Heights," near Broad Run station, in Prince William county, be presented as a suitable place at which to erect a summer home for the President of the United States. A petition, reproduction of which is given below, was circulated in Manassas this week, and a number of signers were obtained. Any others who would like to sign this petition can do so by applying at THE JOURNAL office. The petition reads as follows:

To the Honorable Senators and Representatives of Virginia, of the Congress of the United States:

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned residents and voters of the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia, having been advised that the Congress of the United States contemplates making an appropriation for the purpose of establishing a summer villa or White House for the President of the United States, do most respectfully recommend and submit as a suitable and ideal location for such a point on the Manassas Branch of the Southern Railway, at the celebrated Theophane Gap, in Bull Run mountains, on what is known as "Beverly Heights."

"Beverly Heights" has an elevation of over eight hundred (800) feet; is located on the branch of said railway, forty (40) miles from the National Capitol, and is connected by public highway now being constructed between said point and the said city of Washington, by a modern and up-to-date macadam road. This point is supplied by water from a celebrated spring which has a wide reputation for its purity.

"Beverly Heights" has for its western view the beautiful valleys of Fauquier, Loudoun and Rappahannock counties, with full view of the Blue Ridge Mountains, for many miles; as an eastern view it overlooks the counties of Prince William, Fairfax and lower Fauquier, to the banks of the Potomac, and from this point a good view of the Washington Monument is had, and will make an ideal summer home in point of altitude, purity of its water and air, surrounded by beautiful scenery which is not surpassed within the borders of our Union.

Having to offer these facilities as an ideal summer home for the Chief Executive of our Nation, we respectfully request that you exert all honorable means to have "Beverly Heights" selected as a summer home for our Chief Executive.

"GREENVILLE" DESTROYED

Old Meredith Homestead Near Nokesville Burned Down Sunday About Noon.

The dwelling house at "Greenville," the old Meredith homestead, about two miles from Nokesville, was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday about 12 o'clock noon. The origin of the fire is unknown since Mr. Ewing McMichael and his family, who lived there, were away from home at the time. It is said that the fire originated in the garret and it is supposed it was caused by a defective flue. When discovered, the roof was ready to fall and nothing to save the dwelling or its contents could be done. The dwelling was insured for $750 and the contents for $250.

The history of this old dwelling is an interesting one. Dr. J. C. Meredith's grandfather, Capt. "Billy" Payne of the Revolution, bought "Greenville" from the Ewell family who owned it at that time. The dwelling which burned on Sunday was the one on the place at the time of its purchase by Captain Payne. The records show that the house was built in 1762. In searching amid the ruins the first of the week a brick in one of the old chimneys, which was built a little later, bore the date 1769. It is claimed that the bricks used in this dwelling were brought here from England.

This dwelling, in which Dr. J. C. Meredith was born and reared, was built of bricks, mortared together with clay, and was a story and a half high. The walls were of great thickness and the labor expended upon building this house must have been very great. The exterior of the brick walls was covered with weather boarding which was worked out by hand. The nails used in fastening together the heavy sills and the wood work were of wrought iron. A shingle roof covered the house until a few years ago when it was replaced by a slate one. The sills in this old roof, it is said, were fastened to the framing with wooden pegs. One of the huge chimneys in this old house had a window clear through it.

The old Meredith home, because of its quaintness and reminder of olden times, was viewed with interest by all in the neighborhood of Nokesville and its burning is greatly regretted.

—Shortly after 2 o'clock Monday afternoon the cry of "Fire! Fire!" was again heard in town. The volunteer fire-men made quick response but by the time the engine was gotten out it was found that everything was all right at the home of Mrs. A. P. Davis on Grant avenue, where a flue had burnt out.

ALUMNI ARE THE WINNERS

Got Last Basketball Game Of Holiday Season on Saturday By 26-17 Score.

The playing of the basketball teams of the alumni of Manassas Institute and Manassas Agricultural High School during the holidays of 1915 will go down in history as being of a very creditable nature. Two out of three games in which alumni teams participated went to the credit of the graduates. The winning of the game between a team of alumni men and a team composed of past players of the high school (who did not graduate) on Saturday afternoon last proved a fitting close to the contests of the holiday season of 1915.

The game, which was scheduled for 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, did not get under way until after 4 o'clock, because of the lateness of arrival of some of the players. Once the "scrimmage" was started it proved lively, however. At the beginning the contest gave the appearance of being a very evenly-matched one, the odds slightly in favor of the "quitters." At the close of the first half the score stood 7 to 6 against the alumni.

With the opening of the second half the alumni seemed to get second breath and at the same time the playing of the "quitters," while strong and vigorous, did not have the snap and coherence necessary to compete with the playing of the graduates. The consequence was a piling up of 19 points by the alumni and just half that many by the other team. Both halves were characterized by much rough playing.

For the alumni Round did the best playing, when everything is taken into consideration. While he had to his credit only two field goals still he was a big factor in making possible many of the field goals of his comrades. He seemed to be everywhere and with telling force. His quickness and the accuracy with which he handled difficult situations marked him out as a fine player.

Other good players for the alumni were Harrell and W. Johnson. Harrell's ability at throwing field goals is borne out by the five he made in the second half and W. Johnson gathered new laurels by caging three field goals and four fouls.

W. Meetze and E. Roads stood out as the best players for the other team. Meetze displayed his old form in getting four baskets from the field. Roads placed to his credit one field goal and seven foul goals. These two players were the only top winners on the team of the "quitters." C. Williams played well during both halves. Very amusing, however, were the "stunts" done in all earnestness, by Leith. Towards the last a great deal of fun was gotten out of the antics of this "spectacular" basketball player.

The line-up and score follow:

Manassas Institute—Leith, Right Forward W. Johnson, W. Meetze, Left Forward Harrell, E. Roads, Center B. Johnson, C. Williams, Right Guard Round, W. Athey, Left Guard H. Johnson. Substitutions—P. Hayden for H. Johnson. Goals—Meetze (4), Roads, W. Johnson (3), Harrell (5), B. Johnson, Round (2), Fools—Roads (7), W. Johnson (4). Officials—Referee—Mr. Green, Timekeeper—F. Williams. Scores—Olth Lyach and Watson. Time of halves—22 minutes. Score—26 to 17.

—At the Sunday morning service in Manassas Baptist Church Dr. H. L. Quarles very graciously thanked the members for the excellent "pounding" given him on December 27th.

Good As Wheat

"His word is as good as his bond," they say of the man who is straight; and e'en when his overcoat's pawned, and tuck doesn't swing on his gate, the merchants are eager to trust the man with so healthy a fame; they know when he's earning the dust he'll come and unbosom the same. And when he is walking the street the citizens turn and exclaim, "That man is as good as new wheat, there isn't a crook in his game." The banker who's stern and austere to most of the jays in the grad is smiling from ear unto ear when meeting this excellent lad. Wherever he goes there are smiles, the smiles of approval and trust, and greetings and lifting of tiles—'tis thus men behave to the just. The maidens are glancing his way; perhaps to a ring they aspire, for who couldn't marry the jay, whom all men respect and admire? At last, in the fullness of time, he goes to the golden beyond, and seraphim say, "He's sublime—his word was as good as his bond!"—WALT MASON.

DO YOU WANT A JOB?

Uncle Sam's New Service Will Help You Get Employment.

In the Woman's Home Companion Secretary of Labor William B. Wilson says:

"If you want a job, ask Uncle Sam. If you want an employee, ask Uncle Sam. The service is free. Distance is no object. Your postmaster will act as employing agent, and the Government will do the rest."

"The National Employment Bureau, operated under the auspices of the Department of Labor, will receive applications for employment from any individual in the United States. It is ready to find help for employers. The object is not only to bring the 'personless' job and the 'jobless' person together, but to put the right person in the right place. It is one of the biggest things the Government of the United States has ever undertaken."

"I earnestly commend the facilities of this Bureau, not only to any and all employers, but to all individuals seeking work. Women can make use of it as freely and readily as men. The success of the entire plan now depends upon the willingness with which the average wage-earner seeking a position will make use of the Government's aid in getting the job."

"The Department of Agriculture and the Post Office Department are both cooperating with the Department of Labor to make the project a success. Employment blanks have been sent to all postmasters of the country and to every field agent of the Department of Agriculture. These blanks may be had upon request. Employers will state upon them the number and kind of employees they are in need of, and employees will specify in turn the kind of work they want. It makes no difference what kind of work it is; it may be housework, stenography, farming, bookkeeping, cooking, domestic help. The blanks will, upon their return, be assorted and classified, and then the Department of Labor, through its division of information, will make its effort to bring the wage-earner and the job together."—N. Y. Evening Post.

T. P. Taylor, Prominent Local Druggist, Makes Interesting Statement

T. P. TAYLOR

"The greatest health insurance in the world is the simplest," he said. "I never could quite understand why people are so negligent in the use of the simplest of all preventives of illness. It's all a matter of keeping the bowels open. The man who carries a little box of Rexall Orderlies has got a good health policy in his pocket. I believe they are the best laxative ever prepared, and their pleasant taste appeals to men, women and children alike."

GRIP SWEEPING COUNTRY

Widespread Epidemic of Influenza Ever Known to Exist in This Country.

The most serious epidemic of influenza ever known to exist in this country was disclosed in reports before Surgeon General Blue of the public health service Tuesday.

The reports from public health service officers show that the disease is spreading at an alarming rate, and is causing many deaths. Of the larger cities, influenza is widely prevalent in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Seattle, Cleveland and Detroit. The two latter cities have probably 100,000 cases.

The federal authorities explain that they are practically helpless to aid in stemming the tide of the epidemic. It must be dealt with by local authorities, who in turn are relying on cooperation from the public.

In the hope that publicity will stimulate this cooperation, Surgeon General Blue has called for reports from all parts of the country.—Washington Star.

THE SERGEANTSHIP YET IN THE AIR

That the town council will finally select a sergeant seems to be nearly assured. Several times this matter has been brought before the body, the last time being at Monday evening's meeting. Then it was decided to hold the matter over for still another week. The council is expected to take definite action on the proposition at its meeting on Monday evening next.

The council, we are glad to note, sees the very great importance attached to the office of town sergeant. There has been no need of hasty action, but there has been and is yet urgent need of wise action. As we have said several times before, the council owes it to the citizens of the town to give the town the most efficient policing possible for the money spent. This, as we all know, can only be assured when a man capable of rendering good service is selected.

From one or two of our former articles dealing with the selection of a town sergeant, some have gained the impression that we were, in an indirect way, assailing Mr. R. M. Weir, who has served as sergeant for several years past, but who resigned his position in November, after he went into the livery business. We endeavored in each article to make it plain that we were not fighting Mr. Weir or supporting any other candidate for the office. We knew not then nor do we know now what the council is going to do in the matter.

Our aim all along has been to express what we seemed to be some of the important qualifications a town sergeant should have and some of the rules he should be expected to conform to. These statements have been made without regard to personalities and were intended to be suggestions that the council might see fit to follow when making a decision. We trust and feel confident that our position in this matter has been clear to the majority of our readers all along. To those who have misconstrued the purport of our suggestions we hope this explanation will suffice.

There is one other point about which there is some misunderstanding and which it might be well to get straightened out on. We refer to the provision in the Virginia Code, 1904, where it is positively stated that every officer of the town shall be a resident of the town. Section 819 of this code reads in part as follows: "and every town officer shall, at the time of his election or appointment, have resided for thirty days in the town next preceding such election or appointment." Then section 820 of the same code says that "if any officer, required by the preceding section to be a resident at the time of his election or appointment . . . of the corporation, . . . remove therefrom . . . his office shall be deemed vacant." Our insistence upon this point is solely for the good of the town and is neither for nor against the application of any or all who aspire to the office of town sergeant.

SUCCESS OF MAIL ORDER HOUSES

One of the dull seasons of the year with the small town and country merchants is now at hand. When these merchants view the shipments which come into their territory by parcel post and freight from distant mail order houses they do not experience the most pleasing of sensations. During the busy seasons the home merchant does not feel so keenly this competition, which is going on all the time, nevertheless. But just let business slacken up and the local tradesman puts up a big howl about mail order houses and how wrong it is for the people of his neighborhood to patronize them. That they are patronized is very evident from the following yearly report of one of the largest concerns of this sort:

Chicago, December 31.—The annual report of — made public today, shows receipts of $112,665,725 for the year of 1915, an increase of $11,544,071, or 14.4 per cent over 1914, a new high record for the concern.

The mail order business has gotten to be an enormous one in this country. When we see that the receipts of just one of these concerns amounted to $112,665,725 in the year of 1915 we are brought face to face with the fact that the total receipts of all such mail order concerns is hard to estimate, because of its magnitude. Of course, any man or woman who sits down and studies the whole matter carefully will come to the conclusion that it pays to buy at home. But so few of us reason the thing out. The fellow who makes the biggest noise gains the attention of the crowd and in like manner the concern that goes to the trouble to keep its name before the public beats out the less diligent competitor.

There is a reason for everything, so there must be a reason for the big success of the mail order houses. There must be a reason why a man will take the trouble to search a catalogue, write an order, send cash in advance, wait two or three weeks or longer, finally to receive something which may not measure up to his expectations or which may, after some use, prove to be defective. If there is a reason or reasons why so many men send their money away from home, it is the home merchant's business to locate the reason or reasons and see what can be done to better conditions. Let us see why mail order houses are succeeding in such a great way.

First—The mail order house succeeds because it conducts its business in a business-like manner. Every mail order house of any size advertises persistently, giving specific prices for its goods. By getting out elaborate catalogues and sending them into nearly every home and by advertising in country magazines the mail order house invests for sure returns. The mail order house keeps its name before its customers the year around. What is the country merchant doing to compete with the situation?

Second—The mail order house succeeds because it fills a need of the country buyer. The man and woman on the farm need above all others to be kept posted on where such and such an article can be bought and at what price. The mail order house gives this information whereas the home merchant does not, as a rule. The town and country merchants could fill this need were they to take the trouble to invest in good advertising wherein the people of the community were shown that they will profit in the end by dealing at home. Buyers are more interested in prices than anything else. Next comes quality. The country merchant must advertise the price of his article and then tell why it must bring that price. People who deal with mail order houses are not satisfied with the quality of goods received, but they continue to send their money away from home because the home dealer does not present his claim sufficiently strong and explicit.

Third—The mail order house succeeds because the home merchant lets it succeed. Such powerful institutions as are many of the mail order houses today need to be fought with their own methods. Not until the town and country merchants are ready to advertise wisely and persistently, are ready to emphasize the quality of their goods and to give prices, and are ready to put up a lengthy fight along right lines, will there be any hope of getting the country people to deal at home exclusively. Every man deals where he thinks he gets the most for his money. The mail order houses have gotten many country men and women to believe that they get the most by sending their money away; it now remains for the home merchants to correct this impression.

All this talk about boosting home trade, telling people time and again that they should deal at home is good but it bears little fruit. Mr. Home Merchant, you must show the people of your community that they really will be benefitted by dealing with you, and the great emphasis is on the word "show." The mail order houses have not amassed their fortunes by trying to appeal to the buyer's sympathy. They have studied the needs of man, woman and child and have given that most interesting thing about every article, its price. When town and country merchants are willing, year after year, to show the people of their communities how (not why) money can be saved in every way (when an average is taken) by dealing at home, then will the pendulum slowly but steadily swing in favor of home trade.

PROHIBITION LAWS TO BE MADE

The Virginia Legislature, which convenes on Wednesday of next week will find a big task before it. Perhaps the greatest work before the body will be the making of laws for the adequate enforcement of statewide prohibition, which will take effect on November 1st. The part the legislature will play in bringing about real statewide prohibition is soon to be shown. If the Senate and the House make good laws for the carrying out of prohibition they will have built a foundation upon which the police officers of the state can work with telling force; if they make poor laws it were better that the election of September, 1914, had never been held. The responsibility now resting upon each member of this governing body of the Commonwealth is great; it is hoped each have at heart the interests of the Old Dominion in this important matter.

Members of the local W. M. C. are urged to attend the last of the "week of prayer" services which will be held at Asbury M. E. Church this evening at 7:20 o'clock. These meetings have proved to be full of interest and very beneficial. They have been union in their appeal and in the matter of attendance.

Gordonsville experienced a disastrous fire early Monday morning. More than a dozen buildings, containing storerooms, residences above, were burned. The Alexandria church will not choose a pastor until after several have conducted services in the church.

"The Goose Girl," by Harold MacGrath, the author of "Piggin Island," the serial that begins in next week's Journal, will be shown at Dixie Theatre this evening. Schultz, a Chicago artist, in the city of Alexandria on March 6, 1909, has escaped from the state convict farm. A reward of $20 has been offered for his apprehension. Reports to the effect that Dorsey was in Alexandria one night this week have been circulated.

Former Police Judge R. Gordon Finney, a well-known attorney of Alexandria county, who was defeated for the office of commonwealth attorney in the past election, has been appointed a United States bank examiner for Virginia. He has been assigned to the Richmond district. The local friends of Mr. Finney congratulate him upon his receiving such a good office.

The alumni of Manassas Institute and Manassas Agricultural High School spent a very enjoyable evening at "Clover Hill Farm," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, last Friday. The occasion was the annual Christmas meeting and social of the organization. More than twenty-five young people were in attendance and all reported having spent a pleasant evening.

Auntie Olivia Anderson Wednesday morning found a pocket book, containing about twenty-five dollars, lying alongside the railroad track. Special guests at the luncheon will be members of Ewell Camp, the ministers of the town and their wives and the faculty of the Manassas High School.

The silver tea given by the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., on Thursday of last week, and which was reported in last week's Journal, was a very enjoyable "Confederate Evening." The program committee, Mrs. J. L. Bushong and Mrs. Snow, deserve much credit for the excellent features given. War-time stories by Ewell Camp Commander Westwood Hutchison, who appeared in his uniform of Confederate gray, made very real to the audience many laughable and pathetic incidents—several of which were from personal experience.

Mr. May's departure from Manassas is greatly to be regretted, but his many friends wish him great success in his future work. The histrionic ability displayed by Mr. May upon several local appearances augurs well for a successful debut in the field of motion picture acting.

League Meeting And Box Party At Greenwich.

Don't forget the next monthly meeting of the Civic and School Improvement League to be held on Friday Jan. 14., at 7:30 p. m. Special efforts are being made by the committee to provide a better program than usual. The most interesting number will probably be the debate postponed from last meeting between the Greenwich and Catharpin Leagues on the following subject: "Resolved: That the women in Virginia should vote under the same qualifications as men." We will have the debate without fail also plenty of good music. At the conclusion of the program a good old time box party will be held for the benefit of the Civic League. Every lady seeing this notice is requested to come and bring a box or basket filled with—well you know what. "Come to Greenwich and you will come again."

NO POTASH FOR FARMERS

A gloomy view of prospects for fertilizing next year's crops is presented in a statement issued Sunday by Secretary Houston, of the Department of Agriculture. Relief measures undertaken by the department since the European war disrupted the American phosphate industry and cut off potash imports from Germany will help, the statement says, but they offer slim possibilities that the American farmer will get a small part of the fertilizing materials necessary for his needs. Nitrogenous fertilizers alone will be available in the quantities needed. The Secretary sounds a warning to farmers to conserve all fertilizing materials on the farm. He urges crop rotation, proper use of fertilizers and also use of lime to increase productivity of the soil.

Starting to Help Farmers' Wives

Twelve million dollars is to be spent during the next eight years to provide education in home economics for the farmers' wives, under the Smith-Lever act. "The chief needs in the average farm home are more money (the average American farmer's income is but $1.00 per day) less drudgery and relief from the social isolation of farm life," says C. B. Smith, who is in charge of the Home Economics for the United States Department of Agriculture. Resolutions on Colonel Berkeley's Death.

WHEREAS, It has pleased an all-wise God to remove from our midst a time-honored friend and neighbor, Col. Edmund Berkeley, be it Resolved—First. That this chapter mourns the death of one of its staunchest friends and helpers.

Second. That this chapter feels that his native state has sustained a great loss in the passing of this post-soldier, who was ever brave and true in the time of peace and who, when the call came to defend his country's rights, hesitated not to sacrifice all save honor.

Third. That the survivors of the old Eighth Virginia Regiment will miss from their august remembrance this familiar face, the last of the four Berkeley brothers, whom the regiment ever held in the highest esteem, and who were among the cherished leaders of the Sixties, the time that tried men's souls.

Fourth. That this chapter extends its heartfelt sympathy in this sad hour.

Fifth. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family.

Sixth. That these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and be sent to the county papers for publication.

Done by order of the Eighth Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., in regular session December 16, 1915.

THE GRAVELED HIGHWAY.

The graveled highway is rapidly making friends. In the first place, its cost is within reason, and if it is properly put in shape and maintained with a drag it will in the course of one season make a surface upon which an automobile can be run without chains at any time and under all conditions of weather. Real friends of road improvement will endorse the plan of the Iowa highway commission in requiring that roads be graded before they are surfaced. There has been money wasted in the past in dumping a load of gravel here and another there to make mudholes passable, but in the end this plan has been at least 90 per cent pure waste. The first thing to do under all conditions of road improvement is to get rid of the water, and this can best be accomplished by throwing up a good grade. — Iowa Homestead.

PART OF PREPAREDNESS.

Several States Urge Upon Congress Need For Military Highways. That military preparedness for defense includes extensive road construction, viewed from the standpoint of the country as a whole, is made apparent in sentiment which comes from the Atlantic seacoast, the Pacific slope and even the gulf of Mexico. Recently the Alabama legislature unanimously passed a joint resolution, prepared by John Craft of the state highway department and assented to by Governor Henderson, which calls upon the president and congress of the United States "to take such steps as in their wisdom appear to be most expedient to bring about at the earliest possible moment the construction of a national system of good roads." It is set forth in the preamble that "a great war now being waged in Europe demonstrates that a national system of good roads is essential to the successful protection of a country in the event of war." At the recent pan-American roads congress in Oakland, Cal., among the resolutions adopted was one in which the congress recommended "to the congress of the United States the advisability of investigating the necessity of building a hard surface highway along the Pacific ocean side from Mexico to British Columbia and other national highways to be used as military and commercial highways." Earlier in the year, at a meeting of the Marine Automobile association, the chairman of the state highway commission contended that the first federal money spent in that state should be in connection with a system of roads paralleling the coast, to serve particularly in case of military necessity. At a meeting of the executive board of the American Automobile association, with President John A. Wilson presiding, a resolution was passed, at the suggestion of Chairman Diehl of its national good roads board, "that the A. A. A. respectfully asks congress, in its consideration of federal aid in good roads to the several states, to bear in mind that highways constructed in seacoast and border states should possess a relationship to the military preparedness of the country which is demanding such widespread attention." The state and local clubs of the American Automobile association are calling to the attention of their representatives in congress this action of the national automobile body and also asking that a bill shall be passed providing for an annual federal appropriation, divided among the several states on the basis of area, population and road mileage, to be supplemented by a like amount of money from the states and the total to be expended on post and military roads, selected through the co-operation of the respective state highway departments.

A GOOD ROAD IS PART OF MILITARY PREPAREDNESS.

To Link North and South.

A trunk line highway linking the strait of Mackinac with the gulf of Mexico—2,306 miles from Mackinac, Mich., to Miami, Fla.—is the dream of good road enthusiasts that promises to come to early realization. With the enthusiasm already awakened by tours and meetings that are being held along the route a very few years are expected to witness the major portion converted into modern and substantial roadway.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES

Twelve deaths from accidents and suicide marked the first Sunday of 1916 in New York and its vicinity.

The betrothal of Miss Mary Early Davison, of Warrenton, Va., and Lieutenant Frank H. Dev Joyce, of the British East Africa Regiment, was announced at London, Eng., last week.

The report of the librarian of Congress recently submitted to Congress shows that the library now contains 2,363,873 volumes and pamphlets, 147,553 maps and charts, 727,808 volumes and pieces of music, and 385,757 prints.

Friends of Harry St. George Tucker, former Congressman, who was a candidate for Governor against W. H. Mann, are endeavoring to have him enter the race for the gubernatorial nomination, according to rumors in Richmond.

With three aeroplanes on the ground, an aviation school established at Newport News, has 50 Canadian and several American pupils. Among the latter is Vernon Castle, the dancing expert, who has already made several ascensions.

Joseph Rucker Lamar, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at his home in Washington Sunday night after an illness of several months. He was fifty-eight years old, and had been on the Supreme Bench four years.

Governmental reports of increased oil production and Wall Street figures on augmented values of oil properties are coming out simultaneously with the lifting of the price of gasoline to the fellow who in the end has to foot the whole bill.

Seven more states joined the dry column with the beginning of 1916. They are Arkansas, Iowa, Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Oregon and South Carolina. These states add a population of 8,254,048 to the dry ranks, according to the 1910 census.

George Cameron, one of Petersburg's wealthiest and most respected citizens, died suddenly last Saturday morning of heart trouble at his home, "Mount Erin," in the southern section of the city. Mr. Cameron was seventy-six years old, and a native of Scotland.

President Wilson held his first official New Year's reception Saturday evening last in the lobby of the hotel at Hot Springs. He shook hands with about 500 persons and later was host at a public tea. The line of callers were people from a radius of thirty miles about Hot Springs.

"General" Jacob S. Coxey, wealthy manufacturer of Massillon, Ohio, who led the "Army of the Commonwealth" to Washington in 1894, last week outlined plans for his campaign as an independent candidate for United States Senator from Ohio, to succeed Senator Pomoren next year.

Food prices in the United States during 1914 were higher than at any time during the last thirty-seven years, with the exception of the year 1882, when they were four per cent higher than 1914 prices; 1883, when they were on the same level, and in 1912, when they were one per cent higher.

An idea of the immensity of the operations at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company's plant may be gained when it is stated that during the past twelve months the payroll of the yards has aggregated about $3,700,000, and there are now 6,700 men employed in the various departments.

The officials of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company have given orders that all red cedar trees along its right of way in the apple-growing sections of Virginia be cut down at once and destroyed, and it is expected that other railroads operating in the state's apple belts will shortly follow the same example.

It is stated that the Richmond Virginian has changed hands and beginning Monday of this week the control of that publication passed to a former newspaper publisher, now a well known magazine publisher. The paper is to be the national daily organ of the prohibition party and will wage a fight for nation-wide prohibition.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in a statement published last Friday, announced that of 361,572,114 passengers carried over the entire system during the past two years not a single one was killed as the result of a train accident, while it was the third successive year without a fatal accident to a passenger on the lines east of Pittsburgh.

Imports of diamonds and other precious stones at New York during the past year are estimated by William B. Treadwell, the government's diamond expert, at $25,000,000, a gain over last year of about $6,000,000. The increase in the consumption of gems by the United States is regarded by dealers as showing that the United States is rapidly becoming the chief of the world's markets for jewels.

The British liner Persia, with 160 passengers and a crew of 250 to 300, was sunk by an unidentified submarine at 1 o'clock on Thursday afternoon of last week off the Island of Crete, in the Eastern Mediterranean. Messages received from various sources say that nearly all on board were lost. Robert McNeely, of Monroe, N. C., American consul at Aden, and Robert Grant, of Boston, were on the liner.

The books now used by the school children of Virginia are more costly than any other class of books, according to Senator-elect Harry F. Byrd of Winchester, who will represent that city and the counties of Frederick and Shenandoah in the next legislature, which will convene in Richmond January 12. Mr. Byrd stated in an interview recently that during the past year many of the books were changed again, imposing an unnecessary financial burden upon the people.

CLIFTON DOINGS.

School opened Thursday of this week, after being closed for two weeks' vacation. Tuesday night, December 21st, the teachers gave their play, entitled "A Case of Suspicion," which was pronounced a success and quite a good sum was raised. All the ice cream was sold.

Among the visitors during the holidays were the Misses Buckley and Miss Quigg, from the Harrisonburg Normal; Mr. John Marshall, wife and baby; Miss Antonia Ford, of Keyser, W. Va.; Mrs. Effie Gheen, of Baltimore; Miss Ruth Richards and brother, Walter, and Miss Esther Brock, of Washington.

James Buckley, youngest son of Mr. D. W. Buckley, had the misfortune to break his leg just above the knee, December 23rd. From late reports he was getting on as well as could be expected.

Mr. Claud Evans died Sunday morning, December 26th. Mr. Evans had only been a resident of Clifton for a few years, and was married a little over a year ago. His wife and a baby son, about three months of age, survive him. The widow and baby have gone to live with her people.

Rev. Alfred Kelley and sister were down Thursday last. They made a few calls. They took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Kemper and supper with Mrs. Bulard and daughter, Mrs. Woody. Afterwards they attended the Aid Society at Mrs. Quigg's.

The Presbyterian Sunday School held their Christmas entertainment Monday night, December 27th. It was very much enjoyed by all present.

Mr. Buckley has been at Fairfax C. H. on tax review Tuesday and Wednesday. Today (Friday) the board of review meets at Clifton.

Mrs. Quigg and son, Irvin, went to Fairfax C. H. one day this week on business.

When the Quigg boys went out December 23rd to find a Christmas tree, they made quite a procession coming back. They not only had the tree but one boy had a squirrel he had gotten out of a hollow log and the other one had a good-sized snake of the brown moccasin type, which they found sprawled out in their path. Evidently his snakeship had forgotten to look at the calendar and thought it was either spring or autumn again.

Miss Whitton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Clyde Mathers, has returned to her school near Harrisonburg.

The Baptist Sunday School held their entertainment Thursday night, and it was enjoyed by a large audience.

Mr. Nuff preached in the Baptist Church Sunday morning and night. At the morning service he administered the Holy Communion.

We are glad to say that Mrs. J. L. Fristoe, who has been on the sick list, was able to attend these last two services.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hart have had a young visitor who has come to stay. It is a young lady.

WOODLAWN NOTES

Woodlawn Sunday School held its Christmas tree and exercises on Tuesday after Christmas. The tree and decorations were beautiful. Many nice presents were given.

The work of the school was considered very creditable.

Mrs. Rhoda Harless and children, of West Virginia, are spending the winter with Mrs. C. E. Emawiller.

Miss Eva Miller spent a few days during the Christmas holidays at Bealeton.

Mrs. Amelia Broadus and Mrs. Laura Whitehurst, of Washington, visited at Mr. Joseph Gough's during the holidays.

Miss Sallie Samson, of Madison county, is making her home with her sister, Mrs. Addison Crumet.
