BETHEL HIGH NOW CLOSED

Secondary School of Occoquan District Held Commencement Exercises Wednesday.

The second session of Bethel High School was brought to a fitting close Wednesday evening before the largest crowd that has yet assembled in the school auditorium. Featuring the evening was the address by Hon. C. J. Meetze, of Manassas. Many other interesting and entertaining features were also given. Four medals were presented before the exercises were closed.

POTATOES NEED POTASH

Lime Will Release Some Potash Use Wood Ashes if Such Are Available.

(Karl Langenbeck, Chemist, Lime Service Bureau)

"Do not put barnyard manure, lime or wood ashes on the potato ground." This is American experience, with an average production of 150 bushels to the acre. "Lime potato ground moderately and use wood ashes, if available." This is German experience with an average production of 350 bushels to the acre. What is the meaning of this contradiction? It means only that scab-infected seed develops scab faster than potatoes in a sweet soil, although the healthy potato in a healthy soil only grows generously when the soil is sweet.

Why is this true? Because the potato is a heavy potash feeder. Potato fertilizers contain ten per cent potash. You cannot get such this year, and are, therefore, compelled to get the potash from the soil board. This is only possible with lime. The American farmer is, therefore, "between the devil and the deep blue sea," and he must steer a middle course. Lime moderately and be sure to kill all scab and "little R. Bridwell at the home of his brother, A. L. Bridwell, on the southeastern edge of town early Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held Wednesday and interment was in the family burying ground near Aden.

Mr. Bridwell, who was a farmer by occupation, was 45 years of age. He was unmarried and is survived by his mother and brother, A. L. Bridwell, of the town of Manassas. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bridwell near Aden.

THE CUR DOG OR SHEEP?

Politicians Afraid to Discourage Dog Industry—Sheep Raising Suffers.

(The Times-Dispatch) The Wilmington N. C. Star says: "We might have a sheep and wool industry in the South if it would not interfere with our 'possum and rabbit and dog industry."

And in the meantime, here in Virginia and a half a dozen or more other Southern states, thousands of worthless curs roam the land, and the politicians have not backbone enough to put a good tax on dogs in order to lessen the number, but fearing that they may incur the displeasure of some worthless loafer with his more than worthless cur, they make it impossible to adequately develop the sheep industry throughout the South.

Every negro hut, it matters not how poor or how worthless may be the occupants, as well as the home of every poor white countryman, must have one or more mangey, worthless curs or hounds hanging around. The sheep grower is thus made to suffer, and this industry, which should flourish in the South, is hampered and held back because some useless dog or hound makes sheep-raising, except here and there, unprofitable. A good tax on every dog in the South would produce a considerable revenue, and at the same time it would tend to lessen the number of sheep.

Prosperity in the sheep industry will increase in proportion as the number of dogs decrease. But politicians are not sheep raisers, they are merely vote-seekers, and for fear of offending some voter they are afraid to encourage the sheep industry by discouraging the dog industry.

HERBERT R. BRIDWELL

Brother of A. L. Bridwell, of Manassas, Victim of Bright's Disease.

After many months of suffering from Bright's disease, death came not unexpected to Herbert R. Bridwell at the home of his brother, A. L. Bridwell, on the southeastern edge of town early Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held Wednesday and interment was in the family burying ground near Aden.

Mr. Bridwell, who was a farmer by occupation, was 45 years of age. He was unmarried and is survived by his mother and brother, A. L. Bridwell, of the town of Manassas. The funeral was held at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bridwell near Aden.

BILLY SUNDAY'S BIBLE

TWENTY-TWO years ago, with the Holy Spirit as my guide, I entered the wonderful temple of Christianity. I entered at the portico of Genesis, walked down through the Old Testament art galleries where the pictures of Noah, Abraham, Moses, Joseph, Isaac, Jacob and Daniel hung on the wall. I passed into the music room of Psalms, where the Spirit swept the keyboard of nature until it seemed that every reed and pipe in God's great organ responded to the tuneful harp of David, the sweet singer of Israel. I entered the chamber of Ecclesiastes, where the voice of the preacher was heard; and into the conservatory of Sharon, and the Lily of the Valley's sweet-scented spices filled and perfumed my life. I entered the business office of Proverbs, and then into the observatory room of the prophets, where I saw telescopes of various sizes, pointed to far-off events, but all concentrated upon the bright and morning star, which was to rise above the moonlit hills of Judea for our salvation.

I entered the audience room of the King of kings, and caught a vision of His glory from the standpoint of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John; passed into the Acts of the Apostles, where the Holy Spirit was doing his work in the formation of the infant church. Then into the correspondence room, where Paul, Peter, James and John, penning their epistles. I stepped into the throne room of Revelations, where towered the glittering peaks, and got a vision of the King sitting upon the throne in all His glory, and I cried:

"All hail the power of Jesus' name, Let angels prostrate fall, Bring forth the royal diadem, And crown Him Lord of all!"

The summary shows that on April 1 the organization had on hand supplies valued at $97,233 destined for relief in the war zone.

RURAL PLAY COMING

Best Local Talent in Near Future Will Present Play at Manassas.

Some time within the next few weeks a large cast of the best local talent will present an excellent rural play in Conner's Opera House for the benefit of the Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church. Announcement of the date will be made shortly. In next week's issue the entire cast will be given.

Mrs. G. T. Lyon, of near Manassas, is now training the actors. Mrs. Lyon has had a great deal of experience in this line of work and it is expected that the forthcoming play will be one of the best ever given on the local stage. Special scenery is now being prepared, which will add much to the play. Be on the outlook for the date. You can not afford to miss this play.

OUR ERROR

Last week we gave an item in regard to six sugar maples planted recently on Lee avenue. In giving the names of those in whose memory the trees were planted, we inadvertently omitted the name of Mr. W. H. Johnson.

THADDEUS DAVIS DEAD

Member of Washington Police Force and Related in This County.

Thaddeus T. Davis, of Washington, related and well known to many in the lower part of Prince William, died suddenly from an attack of heart disease at Washington last Saturday. Funeral services were held Tuesday by Elder Smoot and interment was made at "Oak Grove," near Hoadley.

Mr. Davis, who was 49 years of age at the time of his death, was for a great number of years a member of the Washington police force. He might have retired with pay but he preferred to remain in active service. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage, was Miss Ella Mayhugh, daughter of Mr. F. G. Mayhugh, of Clifton; four brothers, Wade and Edgar, of Washington; Elijah, of Hoadley, and Maurice, of Clifton, and four sisters, Mrs. Alice Marshall, of Clifton; Mrs. Fannie Reid, of Stoneleigh, Fairfax county; Mrs. Hattie Davis, of Washington, and Mrs. Bettie Carter, of Occoquan.

FARM HEALTH INSURANCE

State Board of Health Says It Can Be Purchased in Sundry Labor.

"Farm health insurance" can be purchased this summer by any citizen who is willing to pay the price. The rates are fixed according to the residence of the insured and the degree of protection desired, and the premiums are to be taken from one pocket and put in the other. Such, in brief, is the theme of a special bulletin just printed by the State Board of Health and now available for general circulation.

Freedom from filth-borne diseases, the board explains, is now a purchasable commodity. The farmer who wishes to protect himself and his family against typhoid fever and hook worm disease and his baby against the communicable diarrhoeas can get just the amount of protection he is willing to purchase by labor spent in improving his well and his outhouse. The board emphasizes the fact that these diseases are carried by the improper disposal of filth, by water contaminated with the germs from this filth and by the feet of flies that have been in contact with human filth. When the body wastes are so disposed of that they cannot get into water or be carried by flies to the person, the food or the drink of human beings, filth-borne diseases in the country are largely conquered. Where a case of typhoid is "imported," additional precautions must be taken at the patient's bedside.

The bulletin describing this "health insurance" is brief and is illustrated with drawings showing how wells and outhouses can be protected and how disease-bearing flies are to be combated. Copies will be sent free upon request.

HARRISONBURG NOW CITY

Beginning Monday Morning Harrisonburg Became a City Instead of a Town. Judge T. N. Haas Signed the Court Orders Saturday Night.

A recent special census showed that Harrisonburg had a population of 5,280, or 280 more than the law requires of a city of the second class. No separate court will be formed and the present officials will continue to serve. It is claimed that under the city form of government Harrisonburg will save about $6,000 a year, which will help make up the loss of saloon licenses when the statewide prohibition law puts the five liquor houses out of business on November 1. The city will be divided into wards in the near future.

EWELL CAMP ENTERTAINS

Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., and Ladies Memorial Assn. at Camp Fire and Dinner.

One of the most delightful social functions remembered in Confederate circles here was a camp fire and luncheon given last Friday at Ruffner Building by Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, the invited guests being members of Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the Ladies' Memorial Association.

The address of welcome was made by Commander Westwood Hutchison, of Ewell Camp, who served during the war with Co. A, 39th Virginia Battalion, courier to General Lee. Mrs. Hutchison, president of the Ladies' Memorial Association, gracefully accepted the hospitality on behalf of the guests. Mrs. C. M. Larkin, president of Manassas Chapter, later expressed the pleasure of the ladies in being the guests of Ewell Camp.

Three long tables were set in the Ruffner auditorium, which was attractively decorated with flowers and Confederate flags. The white linen and red decorations formed a pleasant picture with the gleam of silver and glass. Dainty cards in the Confederate colors announced the menu which was prepared and served by one of the Manassas High School classes under Miss L. D. Metz, the instructor in domestic science.

Commander Hutchison presided over the camp fire which followed the luncheon, announcing the program and skillfully calling upon the veterans present to add to the entertainment of their guests. An invocation was pronounced by Dr. H. L. Quarles, chaplain of the camp.

Two duets, "Virginia" and "The Sword of Lee," were charmingly rendered by Miss Isabelle Hutchison and Miss Leabel Kelley, with Miss S. W. Hutchison at the piano. Mrs. B. T. H. Hodge rendered "Dixie" on the piano, eliciting quick applause from the assemblage. The closing music was concert singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

A short address by Dr. Quarles was punctuated by frequent laughter and applause. George G. Tyler upon request related interesting memories of his father, Capt. R. H. Tyler, a distinguished soldier in the Confederate service. Brief addresses were made by the following veterans: W. T. Wharton, of Gainesville, member of the Stonewall Brigade; T. C. Anderson, of Bristow, who served under General Stuart; Peyton Manuel, of Nokesville, Co. B, 49th Va.; L. A. Mooney, of Greenwich, Brook's Battalion, Army of Northern Va.; B. B. Snyder, of Manassas, formerly of Spokane, Wash., 50th Va.; R. Seifeman, of Occoquan, Co. A, 4th Va.; Morrison Holmes, of Manassas, 30th and 4th Va.; John G. White, of Haymarket, Co. C, 2d Md. Inf., 5th Va.; J. J. Gough, of Tappan, fare, 17th Va. Pickett's Division.

At a business session held previous to the luncheon, the camp elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Commander, Westwood Hutchison; first lieutenant, W. T. Wharton; second lieutenant, A. H. Conner; treasurer, G. W. Nutt; adjutant, G. H. Smith; quartermaster, J. W. Hall; officer of the day, J. P. Manuel; chaplain, H. L. Quarles; vidette, T. C. Anderson; color bearer, T. C. Anderson; executive committee, W. T. Wharton, G. H. Smith, and J. P. Manuel.

Other veterans present were Prof. B. T. H. Hodge, J. L. ...

ONE BOTTLE BRINGS RELIEF
Tanlac Helped Norfolk Lady in Short Time and With No Delay.

It has been told so often of one bottle of Tanlac helping men and women that it is nothing new. But people like to be convinced and we will tell you more of the wonders that Tanlac daily accomplishes until, you too, try it and join the vast army of people who praise and are thankful for what it has done in their case. In Virginia Tanlac has done a great deal towards bringing health and happiness to thousands. One Norfolk lady benefited by this new medicine is Mrs. W. Henry Turk, living at 429 Bank street. In a recent interview she said: "I suffered from indigestion, nervousness, stomach trouble and catarrh. I had heartburn and lost sleep on account of my nervousness. My head and throat constantly bothered me. "I read of so many people that Tanlac had helped I thought it was what I needed. I have taken one bottle and seldom have symptoms of indigestion. My stomach trouble is a great deal better and I am not nervous and I sleep well. My hearing, which was becoming impaired, is alright now. I know it is a good medicine and shall continue its use as I feel it will relieve me of all my troubles."

Another person helped with only one bottle. Why suffer if one dollar will bring you back to health and let you enjoy life as it should be enjoyed? Go today to Dowell's Pharmacy, Manassas, Va., and throw the cares of ill health from your shoulders. Adv.

A GREAT BARGAIN

I have 150 feet along the South side of the railroad, nearly opposite the Davis Brothers Ice Plant, at Manassas, and extending South between parallel lines nearly 180 feet to College avenue. This will make six 25-foot lots, with double fronts, one on College avenue for business and one on the railroad for factory site. I will make a deed to the first individual who sends me $100 for 25 feet or $500 for the whole 150. Who will be the first to recognize this opportunity?

MANASSAS, Va., FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1916.

A FEW FINISHING TOUCHES NEEDED

That Manassas is now cleaner than it has been for many a mison none will deny, for to the eye of even the easy going the town has taken on a dressed up appearance and things are shining.

Manassas in order to be thoroughly sanitary must see first, that every privy within the corporate limits conforms to the ordinance drawn up last year which requires all privies to be of fly-proof construction; second, that the manure accumulating in every stable and shed in the corporation is moved every ten days or else treated with some chemical prescribed by the Health Officer;

The above named steps must be taken if Manassas is to put the finishing touches on the good work which has been done recently by the majority of the citizens of the town working in co-operation with the Manassas Civic League, an organization which is accomplishing work worthy of the commendation of every citizen of Manassas.

BAD DAYS AHEAD FOR OUR CURS

There are encouraging signs that the dogs of Manassas will be a little more dignified looking from now on. Somehow a collar and license tag hanging around a canine's neck elevates that canine in the opinion of the average citizen.

For the past few years, especially, many dog owners of Manassas have neglected to pay the required tax. Others have paid the tax and failed to put the tag on the dog. A town ordinance which has been in existence for many years requires that a tax be paid for every dog and that the license number be kept on the dog.

PAYING TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

No matter how debauched the man, no matter how debased the woman's character there is one word that will always arouse thoughts of the noble in life and that word is mother. What memories it brings up! What sacrifices were made for us by the one who suffered, worked and planned and finally sent us out on life's highway with a heart full of anxiety and eyes full of tears!

employed a care-taker at $10 per month and house rent. The man was experienced and high-class. An Illinois school board employed a girl to teach school. She was young and inexperienced. Salary, $30. Pupils, 25. Care of one animal, $70. Care of 25 human beings, $30. Same men hired both girl and man. The joke was not on the teacher or the horse."—A. P. Sanders, President of Ohio Agricultural Commission.

Here we have a vivid illustration of what is going on all over the country. We are very particular about the care given pedigreed stock but easily satisfied with the instruction afforded our children. We are willing to spend liberally for the bettering of our horses and cattle but are content to let poorly-paid and inexperienced teachers attempt to guide the future generation in the paths of knowledge.

Would you expect good services from a poorly-paid lawyer, doctor, minister or other professional man? In teaching as in other vocations you pay for good work. On what basis could you expect the average public school teacher to be efficient and well-trained? With the niggardly salary now paid the public school teacher, especially of the country districts, it is surprising that there are as many good teachers as there are.

We talk of the need of more consecrated teachers; we wonder how we can show our appreciation of the good work now being done by many. The best and perhaps the only way to get more consecrated teachers and to show our appreciation of faithful services is to pay the public school teacher a salary commensurate with his or her worth.

AN INTERESTING SUIT UNDER WAY

Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, is being sued for $100,000 by the Navy League. The suit is based on alleged libel. Mr. Ford reiterated and gave great publicity to the charges made against the Navy League by Congressman Clyde H. Tavenner, of Illinois. This body of so-called "preparedness" advocates evidently did not deem it financially worth while to sue Mr. Tavenner, but once Mr. Ford "put his foot in it" the chances of getting damages looked more promising.

ENCOURAGE THE BOYS TOMORROW

The people of Manassas and vicinity are showing greater and greater interest every year in the various track and field meets held here. Seven years ago when Manassas saw its inaugural graded and high school track meets, a mere handful of spectators was present on each occasion to encourage the boys. But every year the number attending these meets has increased, until the crowd which witnessed the meet of the county public schools held on County Day was a large and representative one.

THE CAMP FIRE GREATLY ENJOYED

The camp fire and luncheon given by Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, at Ruffner Building last Friday was a pleasant trip into the past, a trip enjoyed alike by both veterans and visitors. The occasion was one of good fellowship and many a glorious event of the Southland of '61 to '65 was recalled. Such meetings not only brighten the declining days of the Boys in Gray but also inspire in us a deeper love for those who followed Lee, Jackson and the other leaders of the Lost Cause.

Your Wife Should

have a bank account and pay her bills by check. It's the modern, business-like, economical way. It tends toward careful management, gives a better idea of the relation of income to outgo, provides a receipt for each payment, as well as a record of date, amount, etc. And it often leads to the creation of a substantial reserve fund with which to realize a fond ambition or meet an emergency. The lady of the house is invited to call and learn how easily she may open an account in this strong bank, and the conveniences which we place at her command absolutely without charge.

Our slogan is, "It is a pleasure to serve."

5 pounds of apples, 3 pounds of peaches, 1 large onion, 1 red pepper, 1 pound of seedless raisins, 1 pound of currants, 2 teaspoonfuls of ginger, 2 teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, 2 teaspoonfuls of cloves, 2 teaspoonfuls of salt, 1 quart of cider vinegar, 1/2 pounds of sugar.
Stone, pare and cut peaches into small pieces; chop apples fine; put sugar in a kettle with some water to dissolve; then add peaches and apples. Dissolve spices in vinegar. Add all other ingredients and boil together until about consistency of good chili sauce.

APPLE CHARLOTTE NO. 3.
1/2 box of granulated gelatin, 1/2 cupful of cold water, 1 pint of cream, 1/2 cupful of powdered sugar, 1 tablespoonful of lemon juice, 3 good sized apples, grated.
Soak gelatin in cold water for one-half hour. Whip cream and chill. Add powdered sugar, lemon juice and grated apples. Dissolve gelatin over hot water and strain into mixture. Stir quickly and pour into mold. Set on ice to chill and serve.

CIDER EGGNOG.
To each quart of cider allow four eggs. Beat the yolks until creamy. Beat the whites until stiff. Stir the cider and beaten yolks together and sweeten to taste. Stir in one-half the beaten whites and season slightly with grated nutmeg. Strain on ice until cold. Serve in punch glasses with a teaspoonful of the mixture on top of each glass.

CIDER CAKE.
2 cupfuls of sugar, 1 cupful of butter, 2 eggs, 1/2 of a cupful of cider, 4 cupfuls of flour, 1 teaspoonful of cloves, 1 teaspoonful of cream butter and sugar; beat in yolks of eggs, sift together the flour, soda and spices; mix alternately with the cider; lastly add the beaten whites of the egg.

CANNED APPLES.
Wipe, quarter, core and pare apples; then weigh. Make a strip of burlap for ten minutes one-third their weight to sugar with water, allowing two and one-half cupfuls to each pound of sugar. Cook apples in steam until soft, drain a few at a time. Fill jars and seal.

CHIPPED APPLE.
3 pounds of sweet apples, 4 pounds of sugar, 1/2 pound of Canton ginger, 1 lemon.
Cut apples into small pieces, do not pare. Add sugar and ginger and let stand twenty-four hours. Add lemon cut into small pieces. Cook slowly for three hours.

CANNED BOILED CIDER.
Place five quarts of sweet cider in a porcelain lined kettle over the fire; boil it slowly until reduced to one quart, carefully watching it so that it does not burn; take into glass jars while hot and seal tightly.

TAKING NO CHANCES	ROLL OF HONOR
A freckle-faced girl stopped at the postoffice and yelled out: "Anything for the Murphys?" "No, there is not." "Anything for Jane Murphy?" "Nothing." "Anything for Ann Murphy?" "No." "Anything for Tom Murphy?" "No." "Anything for John Murphy?" "No, not a bit." "Anything for Terry Murphy?" "No, nor for Pat Murphy, nor Dennis Murphy, nor Peter Murphy, nor Paul Murphy, nor for any Murphy, dead, living, unborn, native or foreign, civilized or uncivilized, savage or barbarous, male or female, black or white, naturalized or otherwise, soldier or citizen. No, there is positively nothing for any of the Murphys, either individually, jointly, severally, now and forever, one and inseparable." The girl looked at the postmaster in astonishment. CHAPTER XVIII.
The Storm Passes.

Cranford released the enemy, stared at him, at Diana, at the other young woman he had never seen before.

Her brother! He laughed, toppled into a chair and bent his aching head to his knees. He was hanging on to things by a mere rag of nervous energy. The daughter of Michael Smead! That morning, by the aid of what remained of his last candle, he had discovered a loose plank in the side of the cistern, and all day long, with but a few intervals of rest, he had frugged and twisted and pulled and kicked. The plank gave outward at 5 o'clock of forenoon. But two more were necessary to admit of his passing out into the cellar and thence to freedom.

Followed a stumbling, staggering journey in the dark, ignorant of how far he was away, persistently onward to the west, still crimson and purple. In all he had come six miles—to find that this man was her brother and that she was the daughter of Michael Smead!

"I'll be getting on my way." The younger Smead straightened his collar and the mechanically. With Cranford at liberty, he sensed the danger in which his father and companion stood. He must at least give them fair warning.

"Do you mean it all, Don?" "About going away, of trying here after my walk straight! From the bottom of my soul, girl—It doesn't pay, South America. Will you wish me good luck?" "Yes, yes! Good luck!—I shall always be thinking of you."

She stretched out her hand. Donald would always be to her the fair, handsome, charming, whimsical, merry, Diana had never seen her father till the day of her arrival in New York, but Donald had visited her at the convent many times.

The young man offered his hand to the other woman, while Diana gazed at the eyes of the hooded man in the chair. "Not yet," said Frances, shrinking back. "God speed you and God guard you, Donald! I can't touch your hand just now! There are so many black things between it and mine."

"True enough. But if I win out?" "How shall we know?" "Warily." "When I come back it will be written on my face and in my eyes." He picked up his hat, looked down at Cranford, smiled oddly, passed across the room and gently shut the door.

No sooner was he gone than the woman who had denied his hand flew wildly to the door and stopped before her hand touched the knob.

He snipped the wine, and suddenly the glow of it permeated his veins. He got the glass under the chair and smiled. Diana was not expecting that smile. It was warm and friendly.

"You were to call me Cran," he said. "Cran, I am sorry."

"Sorry for what? Who was that young woman?" "My brother's wife."

"You told me you were married." "No, Cran, I told you that I could not marry any man—any man I might wish to marry. Can I Michael Smead's daughter—a notorious gambler, a man without feeling or kindness or truth or honor—my father?"

He got up and steadied himself by holding on to the chair. "I must look pretty well banged up. Will you marry me, Diana?"

"No"—quietly. "Smead's daughter cannot marry a man of your station." If only he knew how desperately she was fighting! She wanted him—wanted his head on her breast, close to her heart—wanted to run her fingers through his tousled hair—wanted him!

"Come, supposing I took you at your word and married you. Could you introduce me to your friends? I am proud."

"In heaven's name, why not?" His hand slipped from the chair and he crossed the room unsteadily. "Look at me—in the eyes, Diana, and tell me you will not marry me."

"I will not marry you, Cran." Her eyes looked up into his, bravely and unwaveringly. "It is rather cruel of you. I'm helpless, I cannot get up and leave you."

"Do you want to leave me?" "Yes." "Repeat after me," he said. "I do not love you."

She was silent. "What is your father to me—friend? Out of the world somewhere you have come to me, and I shall not let you go. Will you wreck your life and mine over such a silly phantom?"

"Please go," she begged. "I'd be a fine lover, wouldn't I?—I shall stay here till the sun rises unless you tell me one way or the other."

Love! The kind a woman dreams of—was for. A smile quivered on her lips, and he saw it. He seized her hand, turned it palm upward and pressed it against his face. After a moment he looked up.

"You can't say it?" "No." "You don't want me to go?" "No."

"Will you marry me?" "I ought not to, but I will—whenever you wish." And to make the surrender complete she drew his head tightly to her heart and laid her cheek upon it.

Smead turned the apte over and over in his hand. His cigar went from one corner of his mouth to the other. Occasionally a small wave slipped mischievously against the stowards and splashed his knees.

His teeth sank into the tobacco. The young fool would be back quickly enough when his money gave out. Still he ought not to have been so rough with him that day in Kingston. But the cool banter of the boy had maddened him.

Suddenly his teeth met with a click, and the cigar bounced and rolled down his chest to the bottom of the boat. "Played! He knew now. The boy had them. Possession had given him this courage. A quarter of a million, and South America, where no one would ask questions! Played! Diana should tell him where the boy had gone, and if it was the last thing he ever did, he would find him. Played all along; actually made sport of!"

HAYMARKET HAPPENINGS

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES
The boys and girls of the Haymarket School are looking forward to Monday night with joyous anticipation, for in the bright lexicon of youth no word is hailed with more delight than "commencement." To our youthful friends commencement means freedom from the grind of the schoolroom and the chiding voice of the teacher urging them on to some irksome task. It means, further, the glorious privilege of tossing that odious textbook on a shelf where it may remain until called forth by the tolling of the September bell. After all, can we blame the dear boys and girls when the song of the birds, the droning of the bees, the murmur of the brooks and the whispering wind in the tree tops, all say "Come out and forget your books in the frolic of sunshine and gladness?"

Now, gentle reader, if you read the following you will see how the Haymarket School expects to entertain the public Monday night. Quite a lengthy program is in store and one that shows rare promise in its entertaining features. But let us pause a moment to say a word about the school play that is to be presented Saturday night. "The Masonic Ring," a three-act comedy, is one that is sure to please and it is not exaggerated exaggeration to say that it is by far the best thing ever undertaken by the school. We will not delay you longer. Here is the Monday night program which we trust you will appreciate enough to be on hand to lend inspiration to our lads and lassies:

TURNPIKE PROGRESS

Mr. Jordan reports satisfactory progress with the preliminary arrangements for beginning work on the Warrenton and Fairfax turnpike. A meeting of the stockholders will be called in the near future, and immediately after that meeting the work will start. Two gangs will probably begin simultaneously—one at Centerville and one at Gainesville—and each gang will work in both directions.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES
There will be services at Antioch Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a. m., and at the Haymarket Baptist Church at 8 p. m. The pastor, Rev. W. L. Naff, will conduct both services.
The Haymarket baseball team will cross bats with the Catharpin team on the latter's grounds tomorrow (Saturday) at 2:30 p. m.
Rev. Robb White preached at the union services held at Haymarket and Gainesville last Sunday. The program for Country Church Day, as recommended by the extension department of the University of Virginia, was followed. A large number of people attended each service and the sermons were spoken of as excellent ones.
We are glad to note that Capt. Jas. R. Rust, who has been very ill for several weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to sit up.
Miss Christine Bragg, who has been quite ill the past week, is very much improved.
A large crowd was in attendance upon the musicale and play given at Catharpin on Friday evening of last week. The entertainment was given under the auspices of Bull Run Camp, No. 12, 603, Modern Woodmen of America, for the benefit of Mr. J. B. Croson, a patient at Catawba Sanatorium. It is expected that the play will be put on at Greenwich in the near future.

The wholesale cost of such goods has advanced very materially and the market is advancing rapidly, but we will be governed only by the original cost and will sell for less money than the same goods can be bought on even the wholesale market at this time. For SPOT CASH we will sell you:

As soon as we can complete our contracts and procure egg and chicken crates we will pay the highest price possible for all kinds of country produce, or handle your produce shipments for you without commission. We do not ask any radical change of your trading places, but solicit a portion of your business. We will carry a large stock—but if we haven't what you want we will get it for you, and we will add other lines to our stock from time to time till we carry everything that is usually found in country stores. We pay spot cash for our goods and get every possible rebate and discount off that the cold cash will command and depend upon a "quick turn-over" for our profit. If we only get 1 per cent on each sale and turn it over twice a month that's 24 per cent a year for us and considerably more for you—get the idea and the habit too, it will make your bank account grow.
