

PREPARING FOR VETERANS

Committee Progress Arrangements—Visitors Expected June 5.

Arrangements for the reception of the Confederate Veterans at Manassas during the reunion in Washington in June seem to be progressing satisfactorily. The committee meeting on Saturday at Conner's Hall was attended by citizens generally, who on invitation took part in the discussions.

Mayor Wagener presided and Judge Thornton and Messrs. McDonald, Meetze, Ratcliffe and Round, of the committee, were present, Mr. Round acting as secretary. Mr. Hutchison was unavoidably detained.

The date of the visit to the Manassas battlefield having been announced for Tuesday, June 5, in the Reunion Program as published in the Confederate Veteran, that day was fixed for the reception at Manassas, and the Ewell Camp, C. V., was asked to postpone the trip to Washington until after the reception exercises. Mr. James C. Wise, of Warrenton, commander of the Sons of Veterans, announced that they would be in attendance with their Boys' Bugle Corps. Mr. Round announced that the Manassas Picket Post, Union Veterans, would be glad to join in the festivities.

On motion of Judge Thornton, Mr. Meetze was appointed marshal for the day and asked in connection with Mr. Round to arrange for the decorations and parade, appointing his own assistants. Mrs. E. May Dogan, Mrs. C. M. Larkin and Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison were appointed a committee on luncheon.

A letter to the secretary from Senator Martin, regarding securing the attendance of the senators who are war veterans, was laid before the meeting by Mr. Round and he was directed to continue his efforts. There are two Confederate veterans in the United States Senate, Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, and Senator Martin, of Virginia, and two Union veterans, Senator Warren, of Wyoming, and Senator Nelson, of Minnesota. It will be remembered that Senator Nelson accompanied President Taft and Senator Martin to Manassas at the time of the Peace Jubilee. Senators Swanson, of Virginia, and Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, are expected.

Messrs. McDonald, Ratcliffe and Round were named as a committee to consider the transportation of veterans to the battlefield. All persons who can furnish automobile or other conveyances are asked to drop a card to Mr. Round.

It is thought that the veterans and their friends will come to Manassas on the morning trains and by motor cars from Washington. A procession will be formed at the station to march to the Jubilee tablet at the corner of Grant and Lee avenues, when the children of the public schools are asked to turn out with flags and songs to greet the veterans. About 10 a. m. public exercises will be held in the Gypsy Smith schoolhouse on Grant avenue. The exercises will probably be on the school house grounds about noon and the start for the battlefield will be made thereafter.

Announcements will be made next week.

James K. Crater, of the 1st Virginia Cavalry, was married to T. D. D. [Name] at the residence of [Name] on [Date].

GYPSY SMITH, JR., THE EVANGELIST, COMING

Evangelistic services will be conducted in Manassas during the month of June at the tabernacle being erected on Grant avenue. The first service will be held on Sunday, June 3. Cottage prayer meetings and union services are being held in advance of the coming of the Evangelist, Rev. Gypsy Smith, Jr., who has completed a successful campaign at Harrisonburg and is spending the month of May at his home in Noank, Conn.

WOULD DEFEND THE FLAG

Confederate Veterans Recall Wartimes and Pledge Loyalty to the United States.

Mr. John W. Davis, of Hoadley, responding to the call for information concerning the service of Confederate soldiers, writes: "I enlisted July 17, 1861, under Capt. W. W. Thornton, in the Prince William Cavalry, afterward Company A, Fourth Virginia Cavalry. I served under the following officers: Generals Fitzhugh Lee, Wickham and Payne; Captains Zip Williams and Lucian A. Davis and Lieutenants A. D. Wroe, James M. Barbee; George Colvin, A. T. Lynn and Robert Weedon.

"I was on picket duty near Buckhall at the first battle of Manassas, and was stationed near Bristow when the second great battle of Manassas was fought. I was actively engaged in the battle of Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, The Wilderness, Sharpsburg and many other skirmishes and raids that I cannot call to mind just now.

"I followed General J. E. B. Stuart from the time the regiment was organized until I was wounded at Cannon's Landing in Charles City county, May 24, 1864, while on a detail under Fitz Lee to check Grant's advance on Richmond. I was wounded at ten o'clock in the morning and was removed from the field to a place of safety by my comrades, Lewis Pickens and Henry Carter. As soon as I was taken to a farmhouse and kept until the next morning when I was taken to Richmond to the receiving hospital, where my wound was treated during the night hours of the 25th and 26th.

Mr. Clark is survived by his son, Mr. W. H. Clark, who has been agent for the Southern Railway at Manassas for a number of years.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN ON J. P. LEACHMAN, JR., DEAD

Manassas Gets into Spring Dress as Rubbish is Carried Away. Son of County Treasurer Dies Suddenly in New Mexico—Funeral Here.

All Manassas has been accompanied of the season. Every street in town has been dotted with heaps of debris to be carried off by the wagons supplied by the citizens under the committee appointed by the civic league. Mayor Wagener's proclamation was issued last week.

Boy Scouts under Scoutmaster Bibb and others have assisted in the clean-up program. Some difficulty has been experienced in getting teams to carry off the rubbish. Several of the merchants have offered their delivery wagons and others have contributed teams, but much is yet to be done. The league hopes that still others will offer to "do their bit." All offers will be gladly accepted by Mr. H. H. Weepner, chairman of the league committee.

All rubbish should be in barrels or boxes for the convenience of the persons who come to haul it away. No rubbish which can be burned will be removed.

PRICE FOR ICE IN 1817

Eight and a Quarter-Cents a Pound Without Delivery Considered Cheap.

The Charleston (S. C.) Courier has been printing in its columns recently reprints of news first reported 100 years ago, and in one of its recent issues publishes an account from the Courier of March 8, 1817, which contains some interesting data. Part of an article on Ice House Establishment is as follows:

Notice is given to the Inhabitants of Charleston, that a permanent Establishment for the supply of this city with Ice, is now nearly completed. The Ice-House is intended for the supply of this city and Sullivan's Island, as well as Wilmington, Savannah and Augusta. The ice will, it is hoped, be ready for sale by the first of the ensuing month.

This article will be sold in larger or smaller quantities, at the Ice-House, at a price not exceeding eight and a quarter cents a pound, which new rate, it is hoped, will induce the inhabitants to make use of ice, rather as a necessity, than a luxury.

There will also be made, at cost, at the House, a Refrigerator, which may be called "the Little Ice House." It is like a piece of Furniture, and may stand in any part of the House. The cost will be from Ten to Fifteen dollars, and will be found by use in families, to be a great convenience. It may be made large enough to contain from one to three dozen bottles, and may be used for cooling Wine, Water, Butter, Fruit, &c. The quantity of ice wanted to keep this thing in constant operation will not exceed from three to five pounds of ice daily, depending on the quantity of articles to be kept cold; at an expense, therefore, of from seven dollars to twelve dollars a month, families may have all their Liquors, &c., kept constantly cool. Butter may be always in a state of hardness, and the flavor and freshness of all kinds of Fruit increased. With some increase of expense, Fish and meat may be kept in these things.

The arrival of the ice, and the opening of the sale, will be duly announced. Apply to Nath. Bacheider, at the Ice House, Fitzsimon's Wharf.

THE BOY SCOUTS
(A Contributed Editorial)

In the spring clean-up of the town this week, the Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Mr. R. O. Bibb as scoutmaster, took a notable part and contributed very materially to the success of the work. This development of the spirit of good citizenship shown by the boys is only one of the many valuable results obtained by the scout organization. Indeed, too much cannot be said in favor of the Boy Scout movement in general. Dean Russell, of Columbia University calls it the greatest educational factor of the last century.

It has made a special study of the adolescent boy of from twelve to eighteen; gives play to his self-governing instincts, his admiration of athletic development and skill, his love of group and team work, and at the same time sets up a high standard of clean and right living; and so close has been the study of his needs and characteristics that not one point in the standards of conduct is repugnant to any normal boy.

The results of this close and sympathetic study and insight into the boy's needs have been marvelous, so much so that the movement is now becoming world-wide and is fast getting to be a necessity in every school city and town.

Manassas is therefore certainly fortunate in having its organization so well under way.

LET JOFFRE HONOR LEE

The French mission to America has visited the North and many states of the West, but for many reasons the South has not shared honors with these sections of the country. The South, however, is not sulking over a "slight," for the time of the visitors is limited by circumstances which place their plans on a plane above inquiry.

We believe, at the same time, that M. Viviani, Marshal Joffre and the rest, can hardly afford to return to France without a visit to Virginia. The New York Times endorses this suggestion:

Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, has made the excellent suggestion that before the departure of the French commissioners, Marshal Joffre go to Lexington, Va., and lay a wreath on the tomb of Gen. Robert E. Lee. Nothing would do more to emphasize the unity of the North and South than such a tribute from the great master of defensive warfare of the twentieth century to the great master of defensive warfare of the nineteenth century. Marshal Joffre has already visited the tomb of Grant. It would be fitting indeed if he were to do similar honor to that knightly and chivalrous soldier, who led the forces of the South, and whose methods of warfare were the very antithesis of the Prussian methods. The people of the South have shown a splendid spirit in this war and we can think of nothing that would so appeal to their pride and their tenderest emotions as the spectacle of the marshal of France at the tomb of Robert E. Lee.

DESTROYERS ENTER WAR SERVICE

Already a flotilla of American torpedo boat destroyers has safely crossed the Atlantic and assumed its war duty of patrolling the sea. Our navy's actual entry into the war, though not extensive, has been accomplished more speedily than we have dared to hope.

The Americans were warmly greeted by the British. Hundreds of persons lined the waterfront, sending up lively cheers as the fleet steamed into the harbor. After the exchange of greetings the British commander asked:

"How long before you will be ready for business?"

"We are ready to start at once," was the reply of the Americans, which, though characteristically American, is said to have affected the composure of the British, who had not expected them to be ready for immediate service after the long incidentally, the arrival of the squadron in British waters when the great American public had no knowledge of its mission is a triumph for the voluntary censorship established by the American press. While it is clear that the information was common knowledge among the newspaper fraternity they steadfastly suppressed real news which might have been of service to the enemy.

GREAT AMERICAN DENTIST

So far as dentistry is concerned, Germany, with all her boasted efficiency, has to admit her inferiority to the United States. The Kaiser puts on a great many airs until he gets the toothache, and then he suddenly becomes very humble and begs an American dentist to succor him. No scientific German for him; nothing but a Yankee will do in such an extremity as that.

Curious that the Emperor overlooked the fact when he started his U-boat war that Uncle Sam is the best national dentist in the world. He has a genius for pulling teeth. He pulled a good many of King George's in 1776, and again in 1812, he pulled Mexico's teeth later on; then he pulled a number of his own in the Civil war, and he took out a few for Spain in 1898. When he gets through with the Kaiser, the latter will live on mush and milk. He will not be able to bite anybody again. — Baltimore Sun.

MARCH ON, MY SOUL

March on, my soul, nor like a laggard stay;
March swiftly on, yet err not from the way
Where all the nobly wise of old have trod—
The path of faith made by the sons of God.
Follow the marks that they have set beside
The narrow, cloud-swept track to be thy guide;
Follow the honor that the past has gained
And forward still, that more may be attained.

Something to learn and something to forget;
Hold fast the good and seek the better yet;
Press on, and prove the pilgrim-hope of youth,
That creeds are milestones on the road to truth.

Non-Alcoholic Natural Iron in Highly Concentrated Form Makes Fine Tonic.

RECOMMENDS IT FOR HOME USE

"Acid Iron Mineral now being widely advertised for the first time by the Ferrodine Chemical Corporation is a natural iron remedy of exceptional merit. Best of all it contains no dangerous alcohol to disturb and injure the action and efficiency of the kidneys, liver, bladder, nerves and digestive machinery and I firmly believe it is the best iron tonic and system builder as well as blood purifier and nervine possible for the public to secure at their drug store," declared Dr. W. H. Gillespie.

"Acid Iron Mineral is being introduced to the public in a highly concentrated form, and in generous size bottles suitable for home use. It contains on analysis a high percentage of iron in three forms together with calcium, sodium, potassium, magnesium and sulphuric acid in what I believe to be exactly the right proportions for the treatment of the stomach, blood, kidney, digestion and bladder complaints," continued Doctor Gillespie.

"The Ferrodine Chemical Corporation is using the utmost care in testing and maintaining it at its present state of purity and excellence and no one need fear its hurting the teeth, stomach, digestion or causing constipation as many iron preparations are apt to do.

"Taken after meals it increases the appetite. Stimulates the system to renewed activity and by giving the system iron in large quantities makes for richer, better blood and freedom from rheumatic and other uric acid complaints. I often have recommended that families put a 50c. bottle in a five gallon bottle of water for drinking purposes as it makes a splendid mineral water of known medical value. Druggists, dentists, surgeons and doctors have recommended Acid Iron Mineral for thirty years, and now that you may get it at your druggist in quantities and form best adapted for home use I sincerely recommend it."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving but sad remembrance of our beloved wife and mother, Adaline F. Wright, who departed this life one year ago today, May 19, 1916.

If we had seen you at the last
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last sigh from your heart,
We would not feel so bad.

We did not know the pain you bore,
We did not see you die,
We only know you went away,
And did not say good-bye.
By her loving husband,
A. M. WRIGHT, AND CHILDREN.

WOULD DEFEND THE FLAG WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

Richmond, where I remained nine weeks. I came home on a furlough for sixty days, suffered a relapse and was not able to return for more than three months. When I got back to the regiment my company was on detached service, guarding feed, and Dr. Burns ordered me back home as unfit for service. "I report again in the spring of '65 and was sent to the wagon train, not yet being fit for regular service - I was at Lynchburg when General Lee surrendered. "I carried a lead bullet in my left thigh for four months and still have it in my possession a grim reminder of the bitter strife of those days, which is fast fading into oblivion. I am truly glad we stand once more a reunited nation, ready to defend our country against the common foe." Another letter comes from Mr. James R. Pearson, also, of Hoadley, seventy-six years old, who says he joined the army in 1861 at the age of twenty-one, serving under Capt. Nelson, 49th Regiment, Virginia Volunteers, Company B. Other officers were Col. Smith, First Lieut. Lindsay, Second Lieut. Henry Ratcliffe, First Sergeant Red Davis and Corporal David Tyrrell. "We went to Dumfries," writes Mr. Pearson, "and drilled about twelve months, after which we marched to Orange Courthouse. "We were engaged in the first battle at Williamsburg. After this battle went to Seven Pines, marched to Cold Harbor, fought about one and one-half days, then marched to Malvern Hill, fought about two days and nights and then took up the march to Bristow station. "We lay there in readiness for the second battle of Manassas. There we burned the commissary. There were bombs in this building and they went off about midnight. Col. Smith called on us to turn out as the enemy was upon us. The next morning we went down to the old railroad cut. About three o'clock we charged the cut, took it and drove the enemy toward Alexandria. This was the hardest fight we had. "Later we marched to Winchester, engaged in battle and put the enemy to rout, marched on Harpers Ferry, took the arsenal, opening fire about day with our artillery. We crossed the river on our way to Antietam. There we did fight and got whipped. We marched back across the river toward Frederickburg; at Hamilton's Crossing we beat the enemy back across the Rappahannock river and went into breastworks that had been made for us on Maury's Heights. The enemy crossed the river above us and engaged us at Chancellorsville. I was not in this battle but could see the fighting. We then marched through the Valley on our way to Gettysburg. "I fought at Little Roundtop and was shot on the chin. We were whipped and had to leave in the night. We went on to Williamsburg, crossed the river to Richmond and then to Petersburg. While we lay in the trenches there a bomb burst over my head, wounding me in the back. Lem Dudley was killed at my side. "I was home twice during the four years and got shot in the hand on one of my trips. I was with Lee when he surrendered at Appomattox Courthouse. He gave me a roll of honor and a piece of the Confederate flag. "If it were possible for me to call back my life again," Mr. Pearson concludes, "I would fight now just as hard for the Stars and Stripes as I fought for the Stars and Bars. But I am feeble now; my frame is tottering fast. I thought to help make this a great nation and I urge everyone to stand together with all their might to protect this, the greatest on earth."

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

Palmer Are Advised to Improve Their Methods of Handling Bees.

County De. onstration Agent) Dr. W. J. Schone, professor of economic entomology and state entomologist, and Mr. Hawkins, a bee specialist from the United States Department of Agriculture, spent four days last week in this county in the interest of the bee industry. They visited many of the bee raisers here and gave some demonstrations in bee culture—how to manage to prevent swarming, how to increase the production of honey, etc. Owing to the unfavorable weather, it was impossible to get to all of the places. It was surprising to the bee expert to find so many people using such poorly arranged hives. Why not transfer your bees to movable frame hives and use foundation in the brood chambers? It will pay to do this. If you wish to make your hives, purchase one as a model. There are no patents to prevent you from doing this. Give your bees a little more attention. If you wish to know more about them, write to the Agricultural Department at Washington for free bulletins, or write me and I shall be glad to get them for you.

TIME WILL SOLVE RUSSIAN PUZZLE

Mummies May Emerge Before Republic Is on Firm Basis.

AUTOCRACY GONE FOREVER

American Public Delighted at Change, Says Young Russian, but Must Remember That Rome Wasn't Built in a Day—Must Rid Army of Officers Loyal to Old Regime.

By ELIAS TOBENKIN Of the Vigilantes.

"The greatest immediate service the American people can render Russia in the present crisis is to understand it and, understanding it, to be patient and charitable. Rome was not built in a day, and the most archaic of monarchies in the world cannot be turned into the most liberal of republics without friction or disturbance of some sort. To mistake, however, the pangs of childbirth of Russian freedom for a death throe is, to say the least, childish. Autocracy is gone from Russia never to return."

You would expect the man who spoke these words to be elderly and, being a Russian, to have a beard of proper dimensions and, being a former nihilist, to have hair to match the beard. But B. VIADICK has none of these attributes. He is a man in the thirties, clean shaven, his hair cropped short. He speaks English well and thoughtfully and is anxious that no mistake be made with regard to his standing in this country. He is a citizen by choice and a good one. Mr. Viadick was recently appointed news editor of the New York paper Forward. He looks upon things American as an American.

American Public Delighted.

"The American people," Mr. Viadick continued, "have taken the change of governments in Russia with a shout of joy. The American public was delighted to see Russia free itself from czarism and autocracy, but now we in the United States seem a bit peeved because there are disagreements in Russia between various parties and factions. We should not be. That was just the thing to expect."

"The revolution in Russia is the outgrowth of a labor disturbance. First came a strike, then a revolution, then freedom. Immediately after the revolution was accomplished the workmen of Petrograd, who were the backbone of the revolution, organized themselves into the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies. The nucleus of the organization was there since the revolution of 1905. They revived it now. The workmen of Moscow perfected a similar organization, and the workmen of other cities followed suit."

"About two or three weeks ago these councils held a convention, and a national organization was perfected. In the United States we call this Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies a Labor party. It is the first and, to date, with the only organized political labor party in Russia."

"I think it is of greatest importance to America not to misunderstand the issue. The working masses of Russia have forced the revolution. The working masses now demand a say in the government. They demand it through their organization, the Council of Workmen's and Socialist Deputies."

Council is Not Pro-German.

"The Council of Deputies is not pro-German. The Russian masses are not pro-German. The pro-Germans in Russia have always come from the upper classes, the bureaucrats. The Workmen's Council is not flying into the arms of Germany. It is true that this party of working people would like to see a speedy ending of the war, but it would like to see this not out of love for Germany, but because it is afraid of these pro-German bureaucrats of the upper classes."

"The Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies desires peace, but not peace at any price, largely because it wants to see civil and political liberty established on a firm foundation in Russia."

"The revolution of March 12 has left 1,000,000 officials who drew their livelihood from the old regime jobless and ready for trouble. The Russian officers of the army were intimately connected with the old regime. There are half a million of them to be replaced. The judiciary of Russia under the old regime was a farce. Men were appointed to office not to deal justice, but to serve the bureaucracy. These men have to be replaced by men who are democratic, who are followers of the new order. The press of Russia has been turned into a servile and corrupt institution by the old regime. It is now finding itself. It is clearing house and opening its windows wide to sunshine and freedom."

Demand Immediate Solution.

"All of these problems demand immediate solution. The workmen are the men who paid bravest in Russia's battles for freedom, and naturally they would not like to see the fruits of their victory snatched from them."

"This is the pervading wish of the people and their spokesmen. But these people are democrats first and foremost, and they will never consent to a peace for Russia alone, regardless of the dangers which such a peace may bring to the rest of the world."

WANTS 2,000,000 BOYS IN A WORKING RESERVE

United States to Enroll and Call Out All Idle Lads Between Sixteen and Age of Enlistment.

Elaborate plans are being perfected for a mobilization of the idle youth of the country for use in agriculture and other industries vital to national defense. Every boy physically fit for manual labor between sixteen years and the age of enlistment is covered by plans for this mobilization, which is to be made by the department of agriculture through the United States boys' working reserve, a new departmental organization.

There are 5,000,000 boys between sixteen and the age of enlistment. It is estimated that 2,000,000 of these are permanently idle. The government proposes to try to enroll these for national defense work. Outlining the purpose and scope of the plan William H. Wilson, secretary of labor, said: "Several of the states and many of the boys' clubs and organizations have undertaken already to mobilize the youth of the country to assist in promoting an early and successful conclusion of the war. The department of labor has entered upon the work to introduce federal methods of co-ordinating these organizations, to assure that distribution of the labor thus obtained which will give the greatest benefit to the nation, to prevent waste of effort and a duplication of activity and to give the project a national aspect."

"The department, as a result of a survey of the country, estimates that there are 5,000,000 boys between sixteen and the age of enlistment. At least 2,000,000 of these boys are permanently idle, and during the summer months the number of unoccupied boys is greatly augmented. The department proposes to enroll these boys for the performance of the work which each is most capable of doing. The majority of them will be utilized on farms. Those having had experience with tools, boys who have received manual training instruction in the high schools, will be placed probably in the ship-building yards. Many will go to other industries."

"No boy under sixteen years of age will be accepted. Each must pass a careful physical examination made by a qualified physician, showing that he is able to withstand the rigors of the labor which he proposes to perform without detriment to his health and that he has no communicable disease. The consent of his parents or guardian and, if employed, of his employer for the term of his enrollment must be given. No boy will be permitted to enroll for less than a month of service."

PRESIDENT SEEKS RELICS

Inquires For Saddle and Bridle Given by Father to Mother.

Seeking the saddle and bridle that his father gave to his mother as a wedding present, President Wilson has written to F. G. Lyon of Canonsburg, Pa., asking him if he knows in whose possession they now are.

The Rev. Joseph Wilson, father of President Wilson, soon after entering the ministry lived in Washington county, Pa., and he was married there.

President Wilson was under the impression that the bridle and saddle had come into the possession of Mr. Lyon and wrote him asking what financial offer he would consider. Mr. Lyon does not know the present owner of the relics which the president seeks to secure and to preserve.

Grave Problems of Finding Means of Transportation Must Be Met—Canada Hampered by Lack of Storage and Shipping Facilities—13,000,000 Dozen Eggs Lost Yearly by Carelessness.

The committee on statistics and standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, after an investigation nation wide, announced that the United States will be equal to the world food supply demand.

"It is probable," a report from the committee says, "the wheat crop will be normal, but if not other products will save the situation.

"In the last analysis it seems that the real problem of the European food importing countries will be one of sufficient and safe transportation even more than the question of enough food supply."

A statement issued by the chamber said:

"With favorable weather from now on, the total winter wheat yield may, somewhat, though not materially, exceed the harvest of last year. At this stage of the growth of the spring wheat crop all that can be reasonably said is that the law of chance is for a greater production than that of last season.

Other Crops "Running Over."

"If, however, we should not have as much wheat to export as would be necessary, there seems a strong probability that we shall have other available food supplies, such as corn, oats, potatoes and the like, not only in full measure, but running over."

"There is much cheer in the way people in the town and on the farm are awake to the necessity of greatly increasing food products this year," says Archer Watt Douglas, chairman of the committee. "Not only are gardens being cultivated everywhere and vacant lots being used, but lawns, parks, railroad rights of way and flower gardens are devoted to the raising of all manner of vegetables. Of even greater moment is the story of an acreage of corn, oats and potatoes that will break all previous records.

"Reckoning 100,000,000 inhabitants in round figures, we shall need approximately 25,000,000 bushels of wheat for our own use and for feeding, and the remainder will be available for export. These figures will vary according to the amount which we carry over into the 1917 harvest from the 1916 crop, the amount of stocks of flour which we also carry over this year beyond the 1st of July and the acreage which we shall plant next fall and next spring for the 1918 harvest.

"So far as other principal wheat exporting countries are concerned, it is pointed out, it is known that the Argentine crop of wheat is short and that the exports will be much less than last year. It is very difficult to get definite information as to the situation in India. Apparently the Indian crop and consequently exports will not be quite so large as last year, but this is merely an estimate, since the harvest is not yet on.

Australian Crop Ample.

"On the other hand, it looks very much as if Australia will do her bit for her mother country. The Australian crop is harvested. It is of good quality and more than the average production. After supplying the home wants it seems likely that there will be 100,000,000 bushels available for export, in addition to about 14,000,000 bushels already shipped.

"This problem is still further complicated, it is said, by the possible wheat yields in Spain, France, England and in the other countries in Europe to which we are at present able to send wheat.

"It seems quite sure that the English production will be larger than usual, if the energy and interests of the government and the people can bring it about. There remains Canada as the most important factor, because the Dominion is at once a large producing and large exporting country. This is particularly true of the three northwestern provinces—Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan—since especially in these three provinces there is much more grain raised than is consumed.

"Their serious difficulties are the lack of storage and transportation facilities. It is declared. Seeding of spring wheat in Canada is late because of wet cold weather. It is progressing fast in southern portions of the northwestern provinces. With abundant moisture in the soil the acreage seeded will depend upon the weather.

One of the reasons for the scarcity and high cost of eggs in the fall and winter is that through carelessness in handling them more than 13,000,000 dozen receive tiny cracks. The United States department of agriculture is now embarking on a campaign to teach proper packing to those who handle the eggs en route from hen to cold storage.

An eggshell may be cracked slightly if the egg cannot see it and yet be damaged so greatly that germs and molds find ready entrance inside the eggshell and spoil the contents.

EXEMPTIONS MUCH LOWER

Single Men Must Pay on All Over $1,000 Per Year, While Married Men Must Pay on All Over $2,000—The More the Income the Larger the Percentage of Tax.

To settle the confusion over the income tax section of the new revenue, experts of the treasury department have made the following compilation of taxes that will be paid by married men under provisions of the new bill.

Two thousand dollars income is exempt from taxation.

Three thousand dollars income pays $20.

Four thousand dollars pays $40.

Five thousand pays $50.

Six thousand pays $100.

Seven thousand pays $150.

Ten thousand pays $355.

Twelve thousand pays $495.

Fifteen thousand pays $730.

Twenty thousand pays $1,180.

Fifty thousand pays $4,780.

One hundred thousand pays $14,180.

One million pays $400,180.

Ten million pays $4,886,180.

The maximum is reached on $100,000,000. Anybody having that income must pay $49,886,180 in tax, or just under 50 per cent.

In the case of a single man there is an increase of $20 on all these amounts. He will be taxed $20 on a thousand dollar income, $40 on $3,000, $80 on $4,000 and so on.

These computations are based on an interpretation that the proposed law continues the present income tax law and its rates in force and merely superimposes additional war taxes. Therefore to figure out the tax on any particular income it is necessary to ascertain first the tax at present levied and then add the proposed new tax to that amount.

There is further complication on account of lowering the exemption. This problem can be simplified, however, by following the rule that income up to and including $4,000 for married persons and $3,000 for single persons will pay only the present tax rate of 2 per cent.

Their increase is only the single one of lowered exemption and not the double burden of lowered exemption and increased rates that will fall upon incomes above $4,000.

MINNIEVILLE
Saturday, May 12, was celebrated as Flag Day at Minnieville School. The program opened at 2:30 o'clock.

A large crowd was in attendance. Busy farmers and housewives laid aside their work and went with their children to the exercises. Supt. McDonald, who motored from Gainesville, made an address urging the people to realize the serious situation which confronts our own country and the need of the unfortunate in other lands.

Old Glory was hoisted to full mast while the crowd sang the Star-Spangled Banner.

Miss Norman, the teacher, was congratulated by many on the success of the entertainment.

Two of the trustees, Dr. C. Clime and Mr. C. E. Clarke, were present.

The Minnieville School and Civic League held its regular meeting Saturday evening. The usual order of business was carried out, after which the election of officers was mentioned and Mrs. C. E. Clarke was asked to keep the chair until after the debate and program.

The negative argument, supported by Messrs. J. L. Hinton and R. L. Hinton, won the debate. "Resolved, That we should have equal suffrage throughout the nation." The affirmative speakers were Miss Maud L. Norman and Mr. Arthur S. Boatwright.

Mr. R. L. Hinton, of Independent Hill, gave an excellent talk on league work, declaring it to be the duty of the neighborhood to uphold and protect the home school and league. The remainder of the program included songs and recitations and solos by Messrs. J. L. Hinton and George Tacey.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mr. J. L. Hinton; vice presidents, Mrs. C. E. Clarke, Messrs. W. A. Dane and D. C. Alexander; secretary, Miss Lucie S. Clarke, and treasurer, Miss Estella L. Alexander. A vote of thanks was tendered the retiring president, Mrs. C. E. Clarke, for her untiring efforts to make the league a success.
