

ANOTHER WEEK AT CAMP LEE

Private Merrill Writes Interesting Letter to Prince William Friend.

"The monotony of last week's program for company K was broken by a number of events and irregularities," writes Private Earl D. Merrill, from Camp Lee. "We continued on guard duty through Monday so that part of the company not on guard was assigned to fatigue duty, as it is called; that is, they spent the day grubbing stumps, filling in depressions, cleaning up in general and doing police work around headquarters, instead of drills. The weather man sent one of those wet shivery rains on Tuesday and Captain Daahlel was kind enough to permit the company to remain in quarters.

"A number of us planned to go to the station Tuesday after supper to give the third contingent of drafties from Prince William a proper reception to Camp Lee. But due to faulty railroad connections they stole a march on us and came into camp from Petersburg at an earlier hour on an army truck, and ran in on us while at supper.

"The fifteen were examined Wednesday morning and assigned to Company E, in which also are the five who came down on September 5. They received their first drill the same afternoon. So they have lost little time getting into the thing.

"We participated in a little hike into the country Wednesday morning. The roads were muddy, but in this sandy country traveling is far better wet than when the soil is dry. Fields dotted with tall peanut stacks were on either side of the road, for this is the peanut section of Virginia. The wooded areas are covered with scrub oak, sweet gum and Georgia or long leaf pine. We went about half way to Hopewell. The captain says that Hopewell is a bad place and we must hang away, so I presume he did not consider it advisable to talk as such.

"Patriotic exercises in the interest of Liberty Bond sales were held in each regiment Thursday afternoon. The 819th Infantry assembled in an open space and was addressed by Representative C. C. Carlin. He explained why we were here preparing to do our part in this war against German militarism and made clear that it was a soldier's duty—our duty—to himself, to the people at home, to his country, and to humanity to 'buy a bond.' 'America' was sung before the address, and to close the address the men sang 'Kaiser Bill,' a favorite camp song.

"Friday we were officially informed that the Red Cross has offered to help care for the dependent relatives of the soldiers for the period of the war in needy and deserving cases. This aid is not to be looked upon as charity, as it is financed by wealthy men who are too old to fight and who are not doing their part in helping to support the families of the men who are fighting for them.

"Among the Prince William men who visited their homes this week-end were Privates J. H. Corum, O. M. Simpson, C. E. Kayes, G. O. Lynch, F. L. Davis, E. C. Cookwell and E. A. Roads.

"Mr. J. C. Gregory, of Manassas, visited his son, Lawrence Gregory, en route to Raleigh, N. C.

"Miss Gertrude Boston, home demonstration agent of Greensville county, while attending the State Fair, came down to call upon friends in camp Tuesday. Miss Boston formerly lived in Manassas.

"Friday Miss Lucy Kinchelo, of Independent Hill, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Hottel and several friends from Richmond, called for a visit with friends at K. company barracks.

"As a rule everything, even a letter from our best girl, is dropped when the gong sounds for 'chow,' as we call our meals. But beans are forgotten when some one from home calls. "Any one who thinks we are ill fed should have taken Sunday dinner with us—pork chops, fried sweet potatoes, corn on the cob, bread, tea, pump-kin oranges. And for those who are not used to it there were several and every third helpings. Still, we do not say it is so well—we couldn't march if we did."

"The name of Mrs. R. J. Adamson was inadvertently omitted from the list of persons who contributed comfort bags for the soldiers, according to the article prepared for last week's Journal.

Meetze Admits That He Was Too Late

The following photograph of a letter written by C. J. Meetze, entirely in his own hand, shows not only that he was too late in tendering his papers to the chairman of the Democratic committee, but that he knew he was too late when he offered them. He cannot deny what he wrote over his own signature. —Adv.

Manassas, June 9th 1917
Mr. H. N. Lipscomb, Chairman
Democratic Comm.
Dear Mr. Lipscomb:
I am sending you
by Mr. E. R. Cannon, my papers for the Legislative Campaign
These papers should have been filed last yesterday, but on account of the old soldiers reunion and the Patriotic meeting which I have been taking part in I overlooked the date. I should have filed the papers, thinking it was 30 days before election.
However I gave notice on the 6th through the paper that I was a candidate, and I had my paper out on Tuesday.

I called at your office this PM with these papers but you were out, I would leave no person, but have an engagement, and Mr Cannon said he would deliver the papers.
Yours Truly
C. J. Meetze

DR. PETERS IN MANASSAS

Prohibition Commissioner Speaks in Three Churches Sunday.

Rev. J. Sydney Peters, D.D., prohibition commissioner of Virginia, spent Sunday in this section, filling the pulpit of Grace Methodist Church at 11 a. m., the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p. m. and the Buckhall Methodist Church at 3 p. m. Splendid congregations were present at each of these services, and as Mr. Peters is a very forceful speaker he was listened to with both pleasure and profit.

At Grace Church he was introduced by Lieut. George C. Round, with whom he has been intimately associated in educational and prohibition work in the past. Mr. Peters' subject at this hour was "Quitters," based on II Kings 18:18. "And he smote thrice and stayed." The speaker handled the subject with special reference to those who think that all that was necessary was accomplished when the state was voted dry, and have done nothing since.

At the Presbyterian Church his subject was "Devils," based on the second chapter of Mark—the man with the unclean spirit. Mr. Peters spoke at Buckhall from Hebrews 7:19, "For the law made nothing perfect."

Death of Mrs. Nalls

Mrs. Salome Corrwel Nalls, the young wife of Mr. Levi Nalls, died Friday afternoon at her home near Manassas, after a brief illness. Funeral services were conducted Sunday morning at her late home by Rev. H. Q. Burr, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of which she was a member. The body was shipped to Jefferson, Calpeper county, for burial. Mrs. Nalls is survived by her husband, her little daughter, Frances, and other relatives in Calpeper county.

Mr. I. E. Cannon has been elected a director of the National Bank of Manassas, to succeed the late C. A. Heineken.

Quiet Wedding Ceremony Performed Monday Evening at Home of Lieut. Round.

A quiet wedding took place Monday evening at the home of Lieut. and Mrs. George Carr Round, on Bennett avenue, when their second daughter, Miss Ruth Althes Round, became the bride of Mr. Allison A. Hooff. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Burks, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, in the presence of a small company of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a smart suit of taupe velour and a small hat of taupe panne velvet, with accessories to match. After a wedding trip to northern points, Mr. and Mrs. Hooff will be at home at the Hooff residence on Grant avenue.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Bennett and Miss Mabel Bennett, of Washington, relatives of the bride, and Mr. E. R. Hooff, of Charles Town, W. Va., brother of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Manassas High School and the State Normal School at Harrisonburg and a student of Columbia University. She has been instructor of physical education at the Orthopedic Hospital at White Plains, N. Y.; Binford High School, Richmond, and the normal school at Harrisonburg, having made an enviable record in her short period of service. EXCITING DAYS IN CIRCUIT COURT Young Herrell Returns—Trial of Cherry Hill Case—Session Adjourns.

Two cases have attracted widespread attention this week in the closing sessions of the circuit court of Prince William county, Judge J. B. T. Thornton presiding.

Robert E. Herrell, former deputy clerk of Prince William county, who was indicted by a grand jury in December, 1915, for irregularities in the conduct of the clerk's office, and who failed to appear for trial, returned voluntarily with a written confession and was given a sentence of two years in the penitentiary. Young Herrell in his statement completely exonerated his father, the late Capt. James E. Herrell, county clerk, and H. C. Ryckman, a tailor formerly in business here, of all knowledge of the improper issuance of the county warrants. He was primarily responsible," he said, and "the only one who participated in these affairs and had guilty knowledge of the same was W. W. Garrison, who received one-half of the proceeds of the warrants handled by him, and possibly others."

"I make this statement freely and voluntarily," reads the closing paragraph of the statement, "and at a time when there is nothing to be gained thereby, but simply to relieve these not guilty of any and all ones, and with the hope that I may yet be able to make good all losses by reason of my acts, and that my sin may be forgiven."

Young Garrison, who was indicted on the same charge, also failed to appear for trial and is still a fugitive from justice.

Cherry Hill Case. The other case, which drew a large attendance from the lower part of the county, was the case of the commonwealth against Minnie Keyes, charged with burning the school house at Cherry Hill last April. The jury, being unable to agree upon a verdict, was discharged and the case was set for trial on the first day of the December term. The defendant was released under penalty of $1,000 and Lawrence B. Harrison, held as an accomplice, was released under bond of $250.

The attorneys in the case were Commonwealth's Attorney Thomas H. Lion, assisted by Hon. Samuel L. Kelley, of Richmond, for the state, and Col. Robert A. Hutchison, of Manassas, and Mr. C. Vernon Ford, of Fairfax county, for the defense.

Summary of Proceedings. Common Law. Thursday. — C. Owen Spillman against C. T. Bowen, trespass on the case in assumpsit—judgment for plaintiff, $317.95, interest and costs; W. T. Gosson, foreman of jury.

Charles Williams, witness for commonwealth in case against "Dad" Williams, released from jail, and recognized to appear on first day of December term on penalty of $100.

M. E. CHURCH'S PASTOR PRAISES IRON REMEDY

Doctors Had Almost Given His Daughter up to Die—No One Thought She Could Live.

WAS A LIVING SKELETON

Through Use of Acid Iron Mineral Daughter Restored to Health Says Rev.

O. B. Newton.

The following tribute to a medicine from Rev. Dr. O. B. Newton, pastor M. E. Church, speaks volumes for the medicinal value of natural iron as it is now concentrated, tested, and bottled by the Ferrodine Chemical Corporation, under the name of Acid Iron Mineral. He said: "My little girl suffered from gastritis, acute Bright's disease, and developed symptoms of pelagra. For several months she was an invalid and reduced almost to a skeleton. No one who saw her thought she could possibly live. The best medical skill available was applied but with no results. She only grew worse until physicians told us not to be surprised at her death at any time. Our attention was first called to a kidney and bladder pill and we gave her part of one fifty cent bottle, after which we gave her Acid Iron Mineral regularly. She is now well and has all her faculties well developed again and you would not guess she had ever had a sick day in her life by her appearance. We have recommended A-I-M to several friends and do most heartily recommend it to anyone suffering from any trouble which it claims to relieve." Respectfully, (signed) O. B. Newton, Pastor M. E. Church, South, Chatham, Va.

Unlike many prepared remedies containing iron, Acid Iron Mineral does not act as a laxative, but the necessity of keeping the liver and bowels working normally being so apparent, the Ferrodine Chemical Corporation puts up an A-I-M Liver Pill in 25c boxes which are recommended as a part of the treatment when using Acid Iron Mineral. These little pills are the best we can recommend and are very inexpensive.

Note—Acid Iron Mineral is just a highly concentrated form of natural medicinal iron, non-alcoholic and very economical. Whole families should take it. It never injures the teeth, goes from two to six times as far and is many times more powerful and efficient than other inferior preparations. A half teaspoonful in a tumbler of water after meals makes a delightful, invigorating and most unusual tonic, stomach, kidney and bladder regulator. Cleansing the blood, enriching and purifying it, watch how quickly the appetite increases and the user gains weight. Most druggists sell Acid Iron Mineral in both a large and small size bottle. Get a bottle today.

FARMERS TAKE NOTICE

The way to make two blades of grass grow where one does now: Buy the celebrated Magnesium Lime from Leesburg Lime Co., the lime that has been sold in Loudoun and Fairfax for the past twenty-five years, and out produced them all, and the reason for it is because it contains Magnesium and Oxide of Iron in right proportion to Calcium Carbonate, and the United States Agricultural Department in Year Book 1901, page 161, states that Magnesium is absolutely necessary to plant growth and nothing else will take its place. Send orders to Cornwell Supply Co., Manassas, Va.; A. S. Robertson, Wellington, Va.; M. Rollins, Bristow, Va., or direct to us and same will have prompt attention.

FAREWELL GOOD WISHES FOR "OUR BOYS"
 The following poem was read by the author, Rev. T. D. D. Clark, at the public exercises at the Armory on the morning of October 9, at the home of the third contingent of Prince William men sent to Camp Lee:

Good wishes crowd our hearts today
 While we extend farewells to you,
 They move our tongue to mellow speech
 They breathe a prayer to heaven for each
 Who to his state is true.

Good wishes for the righteous cause
 That calls you from loved scenes away,
 It well deserves a worthy place,
 And may it never meet disgrace
 By what you do or say.

Good wishes for Prince William too
 And every county in the state,
 Whose sons like you stretch helping hands
 To halt oppression's alien bands
 And end this war of hate.

But better wishes for the folks
 Who sadly tarry while you go,
 They'll do their "bit" as you do yours,
 And long as this mad war endures
 They'll share and bear its woes.

Good, better, best of wishes please accept
 For after all you risk the most:
 Rejection of your good name,
 Near nothing but contempt or shame,
 And trust the love of hosts.

BOOKS FOR SOLDIERS
 An appeal has been issued from the office of the State Librarian for funds to meet Virginia's share of the $1,000,000 which the American Library Association is raising for the purpose of providing libraries for all the camps and cantonments in this country and for the boys when they go to France.
 The actual need of the library is unquestioned. It will be both recreation and education, filling an important place in the lives of the young men who have given up their homes to go in training to fight our battles in the war against Germany.
 An important feature, which is not to be underestimated, has been emphasized in a letter from Major General Cronkite, in command at Camp Lee, who says, "However intensive the training of these men there must necessarily be certain periods of relaxation, certain periods when, if there be not attractions within the camp the men will seek other amusements not necessarily beneficial in their character."
 The high school societies at Manassas have contributed to the fund and it is hoped that others in the vicinity will be glad to have the same opportunity. Virginia is pledged to secure $25,000.

CHECKING THE WHITE PLAGUE
 Between 20,000 and 30,000 is the estimate of the State Board of Health concerning the number of cases of tuberculosis in Virginia. The number of deaths last year, according to actual record, is 4,000, which should be the cause of alarm to the extent of spreading the doctrine of prevention and arousing the public to the importance of giving proper care and attention to those who have already contracted the disease.
 The report of the draft is expected to show the rejection of 1,000 men, which is a concrete example of conditions in Virginia. The Anti-Tuberculosis Association is making an effort to provide beds at Catawba for some of these men and the Red Cross seal sale this Christmas will be used to establish a War Tuberculosis Campaign Fund for the maintenance of rejected men, tuberculous soldiers and their families at Catawba. At present there is not a single bed vacant in all Virginia except at two almshouses.
 It may be presumed that Senator Swanson knows whereof he speaks when he says the Republicans of Virginia are making no headway in their campaign, and that a more than normal majority will be received by Hon. Westmoreland Davis and the rest of the Democratic ticket, if the voters take the trouble to go to the polls. Precisely there is the rub. Many Democrats, being sure of the election of their candidates, will not make a point of voting this fall. They should remember, however, that this is the native State of President Wilson, and it would be gratification to him if the Democratic majority in Virginia this year, of all years, should be overwhelming.

"BUSINESS IS GOOD"

"Business seems to be good this morning, Mr. Saunders," I remarked, as I stood talking with him. "Business is always good now," he replied. "You see, it's this way: I find that sanitary methods are the least costly, for cleanliness is the cardinal virtue of efficiency. I am becoming efficient; my customers know they can rely on me for good meat and prompt service. When they are entering I never disappoint them. My patrons are therefore satisfied and I don't have to waste time listening to complaints about tough steaks, etc. I put that time in on service." As I left, I could not help but remarking that sanitary methods plus service were the things that make business.

Richmond, Va., October 17, 1917.

Manassas, Va.

It is very important that addresses be delivered by Democratic speakers in your county covering the period from now until the date of the election.

I am requested to earnestly urge you to take an active part in a drive to make Virginia "safe for democracy," by securing for our state ticket a great majority, and the national administration, the endorsement thereby which its patriotic efforts so richly deserve.

Be good enough to advise me if you will speak in your county—when and where?

It is also important that all Democratic voters should go to the polls on election day; apathy should not diminish what should be a great Democratic triumph on November 6th.

On behalf of the committee I bespeak your most active co-operation, which is necessary to a great victory, and which will be appreciated by both our candidates and the party.

Kindly address your reply to the undersigned at P. O. Box 563, Richmond, Va.

With kind regards,

Sincerely yours,

D. H. LEAKE,

Chairman Committee on Speakers.

Wright-Rezrod Wedding.

A pretty autumn wedding took place in Grant county, West Virginia, when Miss Vera Lehman Rezrod became the bride of Rev. James W. Wright, formerly of Prince William county. The ceremony was performed Tuesday morning by Rev. A. S. Hammack, superintendent of the Virginia Conference United Brethren Church, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rezrod, Lehmanville, W. Va.

The bride was charmingly dressed in a suit of blue velvet, fur trimmed, with accessories to match, and carried flowers. The parlor was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers. Mrs. Eva Hull, sister of the bride, played the wedding march from Lohengrin, and during the ceremony played softly "I Love You Truly."

Mrs. Wright is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rezrod. She is a graduate of Shenandoah Collegiate Institute and School of Music, Dayton, Va., and is known as a talented violinist, having taught violin in Old Dominion Academy, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and Shenandoah Collegiate Institute and School of Music at Dayton.

The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wright, of Bristol. He was formerly a student of Eastern College, and is now a pastor in the United Brethren Church.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Wright motored to Cumberland, Md., where they took the train for points East. It is announced that upon their return they will be home to their many friends in the parsonage at Maysville, W. Va., where Rev. Wright is pastor of the United Brethren Church.

NEW COW TESTER REACHES COUNTY

K. R. Webb, of Craig County, Succeeds H. W. Sanders in Important Work.

(C. A. Montgomery, County Agent.) Mr. K. R. Webb, of Craig county, arrived Sunday and has begun work in the Prince William Cow Testing Association. He succeeds Mr. H. W. Sanders, who is now director of agriculture in Manassas Agricultural High School. Mr. Webb is a very efficient young man. He finished his technical training at V. P. I. in the spring of 1916 and since that time has been manager of his father's farm at New Castle, where he received practical experience with both dairy and beef cattle. We feel that he will prove to be a very valuable and profitable man to the association. The association will have finished its first year's record December 1, 1917, and it expects to continue another year. To my mind there has never been a time in the history of the dairy business that doing exactly what each cow is doing has been quite so important as now. Beef is high and so is feed. A cow that does not produce enough milk in a year to pay her board and lodging and other expenses should not be allowed to eat another pound of dairy feed, but put on the market. Dairy cattle are rapidly increasing in value and the dairyman in the future who has a herd with two or three years' record will be fortunate. If he cares to sell he will be able to get his price and if he does not care to sell his price will be the satisfaction of knowing that every cow is a profitable cow.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear little Mabel Lee Kitchel, who died 4 years ago today, October 5, 1913.

The golden gates were opened wide, A gentle voice said, "Come," Mabel answered, "All is well," And calmly entered home.

Safe in the arms of Jesus, Safe in His infinite love, Is our dear little Mabel, With the loved ones above.

Oh, how we miss you, Mabel, In this world of grief and pain, But oh, we must not waken you, Never more to suffer again.

When we leave this world of sorrow, When we leave this world of care, We know we will find our Mabel In our Father's home up there. —Written by her aunt K. M. L.

LETTERS FROM BAPTIST MINISTER IN KENTUCKY

Rev. R. T. Hayes, of Marshall, Writes to His Friends in Virginia

The following letter has been received by The Journal from Rev. R. T. Hayes, of Marshall, who was recently ordained to the ministry of the Baptist Church and left to resume his ministerial studies at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky.

After our very pleasant visit at your office, we left on the C. & O. train at 3 p. m., and after a long and tiresome ride of twenty-one hours, we arrived here safe and sound. All the way along from Charlottesville, Va., until after we passed Covington students kept coming in—some old, some new.

We started in our work at 10 o'clock on the morning of the third. Prof. Mullins made a grand address and gave us some good advice. He outlined our work for the year and said that he hoped that we, as students, would work harmoniously with the faculty, so that this would be a great year in the history of the institution. We met a good many of the old students, which filled our hearts with joy, but there were a good many who were prevented from coming by the draft law. We hope and pray that God will bless them wherever they are and that they will not forget their first love.

Our school is very near up to the standard in numbers. Last year we had something like 425 students, this year we fall 30 short of this number. Some of our professors have double duty this year, as they are taking up work among the soldiers along with their teaching; but it is a time when all men are called on for sacrifice, therefore I think that we should all act as a unit and uphold our presidents, both of this great country and of our institution. We are battling for freedom and liberty and God will bless us in those efforts.

A good many of the students will act this year as supply pastors, Sunday School teachers and mission workers. There is a great work here in the city to be done. Many of our friends have asked us to write to them, so I will write through your valuable paper which comes to us as a letter from home every week, and thereby save time and exertion on our part. I have a right heavy course this year and, God willing, I want to make a good showing. We are nicely located, in a quiet part of the city, near to school and churches.

BOYS OF PRINCE WILLIAM

Boys of dear old Prince William, We bind you a fond adieu, You've answered the colors of your country.

The banner of the Red, White and Blue. You are the pride of our country, Noble, staunch and true; Remember, boys, though you've left us, We shall never cease thinking of you.

You are our country's defenders, And no braver can ever be, Be true as you fight for the colors That float over the land of the free. —H. M. Pearson.

EASTERN COLLEGE NOTES

One of the most unique and interesting features of college life this year is to be seen in the Jeffersonian Literary Society. It is organized like the House of Representatives with floor leader, speaker, clerk and most of the committees such as ways and means, foreign affairs, etc. Prior to each meeting a lecture is given on Parliamentary practice, and the whole is carried out exactly as in Congress. The Congressional Record is read and the same bills that are before the House at Washington are passed on at the Eastern Congress and comparative results noted.

Basketball practice is progressing finely under the able direction of Coach Henry; a large number of candidates are being tried out for positions.

Committees are now at work on the Holloway party.

The Washington Irving Literary Society discusses South America this week.

Prof. Mosher's class in rhetoric and speaking has been practicing the art of after-dinner speaking in a restful way with dinner table and refreshments for local color.

Some men are born idiots, others go crazy, while there are still others who labor under the delusion that automobiles driven by themselves have the right of way at railroad crossings over lightning express trains.—North Virginia Pilot.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Adopted by State Convention, Roanoke, August 30, 1917.

THE POLL TAX.

That Virginia may be safe for republican form of government, guaranteed by the rights of Virginia...

ELECTIONS.

The election laws of our State are a travesty on justice and a crime against democracy. Partisan registrars and electoral boards and corrupt judges of election are used to perpetuate the dominant party in power.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS BY THE PEOPLE.

The people of Virginia have less voice in the affairs of their government than the people of any other state in the Union.

- 1. Members of the State Corporation Commission;
2. Judges of the Courts;
3. School Superintendents and School Trustees;
4. Road officials.

FREE SCHOOLS.

We favor the widest possible extension of our free school system and demand that it be removed from politics and that the selection of school teachers be made on the basis of merit.

DEMOCRATIC EXTRAVAGANCE.

The Democratic party has increased the expenses of the State government over 100 per cent in the last ten years, which is far out of proportion to the increase of population.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXES.

We favor the establishment of a non-partisan tax board for the state whereby the taxes of the state may be equalized and the burdens of the government fairly distributed.

STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION.

We place ourselves on record as squarely in favor of the prohibition laws now on our statute books. We know that the enforcement of those laws will be rendered more certain when placed in the hands of those who sympathize with the cause of prohibition.

GOOD ROADS.

We favor the widest possible extension of our good roads system and the use of convict labor thereon, to the end that the farmer may be connected with the station and the market.

THE CONFEDERATE VETERAN.

We recognize the Confederate veteran as the proper object of the State's tenderest regard. It is a debt due him by the state to see that his declining years are spent in comfort and material independence.

LEGISLATIVE GERRYMANDERING.

We denounce the unfair Democratic system of legislative and congressional gerrymandering whereby a great part of the people of the state are denied their fair proportion of representation in the councils of the state and nation.

LABOR.

We declare our sympathy with the working people of the state and set forth the following principles in favor of labor:

- 1. Reasonable hours of service for employees, together with fair and just wages commensurate with the increased cost of living.
2. That all possible restrictions be placed around the employment of women and children, to protect their health and safeguard the interests of future generations.
3. That whenever women are employed to take the place of men they should be given the same compensation for rendering the same service; and
4. The enactment of a fair and reasonable workmen's compensation law.

ANTI-TRUST LEGISLATION.

We denounce the failure of the legislature of Virginia, controlled by the Democratic party, to enact legislation looking to the suppression of illegal combines and trusts existing within the state which have for their purpose the extortion of high prices for the necessities of life.

ABOLITION OF FEE SYSTEM.

We reaffirm our opposition to the fee system, whereby county and city officials are compensated by fees and commissions instead of by fixed salaries. We believe that the present method is a foe to honest and efficient service.

In conclusion, we, the Republicans of Virginia, true to her best principles and traditions, do pledge to the nation our unwavering and unflinching support in the prosecution of the war to a victorious conclusion, and, as a partial means to that end, we favor such taxation of great incomes and excess profits directly resulting from commerce created by the war, as will tend to lighten the burdens of the poor people of the land and place it where it can best be borne.

Published by the County Committee.

AGENTS EXPLAIN EXTENSION WORK

Describe Functions of Farm and Home Clubs in County Exhibit.

(The following account of the extension work in this county and throughout the state, its object and its place in the schools, with sketches of the boys' corn club and farm demonstration, girls' canning club and home demonstration work, the value of county exhibits and a list of awards to be made at the county exhibit in Manassas on November 23, together with other interesting facts concerning the work, was prepared for publication by the county farm and home demonstration agents.)

Just ten years ago, in 1907, Mr. T. O. Sandy opened up a system of demonstration farms, of not more than twenty, for that year, and these within twenty-five or thirty miles of Burkeville, Va.

The magnitude of the work as it stands today, something like 200 workers in fifty-five counties, as compared with his modest undertaking makes us realize that "tall oaks from little acorns grow."

From the first the object of agricultural extension work has been:

- 1. To encourage and train girls and boys along the lines of the activities of county life.
2. To put into practice the facts of scientific agriculture obtained from books, bulletins, etc.
3. To bring the school life of the girl and boy into closer relationship to home life.
4. To assist in the development of the spirit of co-operation in the family and in the community.
5. To dignify and magnify the vocation of the farmer and housewife by demonstrating the splendid returns which may be secured from farming when it is properly conducted.
6. To enlarge the vision of the girl and boy and give each a definite purpose at an important period in life.
7. To furnish to the aggressive, progressive rural school teacher an opportunity to vitalize the work of the school by correlating the teaching of agriculture with actual practice.
8. An organized effort to help hold the boy and girl to the farm by aiding them to see and realize the beauties of life in the open country and the advantages (as well as the profits) of farm life over the lure of the city.

With the men and boys corn was selected for the first demonstration, because it is a plant that can be so widely grown; also because it is a plant that the boys have a common knowledge of from childhood, and yields more food value to the acre, when properly handled than any other grain crop.

The boys' corn club has become a great institution in some counties, with as many as 200 boys enrolled. The pig and poultry clubs are making rapid strides and today there are about 25 girls and boys in the pig and 50 or 75 in the poultry club in Prince William county.

Just as soon as Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, the originator and promoter of all demonstration work in the South, realized that the work for boys and men was strong enough to go on by its own impetus, he turned his thoughts to the work for girls and women. His vision was a well rounded rural community with all the people working for all the interests. Thus the canning club work was introduced into the state. The first year, 1910, only three counties, 1916, 25 counties; this year 16 more have been added including Orange, Fauquier and Fairfax.

In 1914 about 24,000 girls enrolled in canning clubs in the 16 Southern states. This year 24 new members were enrolled in Prince William. Eight of these are at work and there are about 15 on the waiting list for next year.

All these clubs have for their motto the four "H's" which signifies the training of the Head, Heart, Hand, Health.

In value the county exhibit represents in concentrated form the results of various lines of work. Here one can see in a few hours the fruition of plans and hours attempted by the girls and boys during the year.

Prizes are offered. This is only a means to an end, and stimulates the zeal of the girls and boys. It interests their parents in the work attempted, and this encourages co-operation between the children, parents, demonstration agents and teachers. It gathers up results and gives enthusiasm, encouragement and definite directions for enlargement of their educational, economic and social work. Outline of prize work for the coming county exhibit, November 23, 1917:
