

FOUND ROUND TRACK MAN TO HIS HOME

Arthur Robinson, Suspected of Burglarizing Hynson Dwelling Tracked to House.

The residents of Manassas were treated to a man hunt on Saturday of last week when Capt. Glascock, of the Ocoquan work house, was called here with his trusty blood hound for the purpose of attempting to run down the party or parties who burglarized the home of Mr. Richard S. Hynson during the early hours of Saturday morning. Mr. Hynson was aroused about 2:30 o'clock on Saturday morning by some one opening his bed room door. He immediately jumped from his bed, scaring the intruder, who fled down the main stairway and out of the house. Mr. Hynson, having secured his revolver, gave chase, firing at the man several times after he had gained the street. All of the shots went wide of the mark and the man disappeared in the direction of Portner's park. Early the next morning Sergeant Wine found the track of a bare foot man leading from Mr. Hynson's on East street and Church street and going across lots into the park. After following this track a short distance in the park it was discovered that the man had stopped and put on his shoes. The new track was then taken and followed to the home of a negro by the name of Arthur Robinson on West Center street. Robinson was placed under arrest and locked up in the town jail. Capt. Glascock was sent for and arrived at Robinson's with one of his blood hounds about four o'clock Saturday afternoon. The dog was taken into the park, at the point where the burglar had stopped to put on his shoes, and taking the scent from there followed it to the home of Robinson and from his house to the town hall where the negro had been locked up earlier in the day.

About $10.00 was stolen by the burglar before Mr. Hynson was aroused. None of the money was found on the arrested party. Robinson was given a hearing before Mayor Wagener and sent on to await the action of the next grand jury.

INCOME TAX DODGERS

Department Plans Drive to Round Up Delinquents.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper is drawing together final plans for a drive to round up tax slackers. His special income tax committee has found that many who should have filed income tax returns before April 1 failed to do so, either through carelessness, ignorance of the law or in defiance of it.

He is preparing a statement covering instructions to internal revenue agents; it is understood, calling on them to compel all who failed to file their reports; to make out delinquent returns. They will also call on delinquents for payment of the proper penalties.

It is the intention of the Internal Revenue Bureau to make the law plain to delinquents and to enforce penalties in such a way that when time comes for the payment of income tax assessments in June, the number of tax-dodgers will be kept at a minimum.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Evans visited relatives in Manassas on Wednesday.

DEATH SUMMONS W. N. LIPSCOMB

Prominent Man Dies After Brief Illness—Entire Community Shocked.

W. N. Lipscomb, a life long resident of Prince William county, and a man prominent in county affairs, died at the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, in Washington, D. C., at 4:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, after a brief illness. The primary cause of his death was diabetes.

Mr. Lipscomb was carried to the hospital a few weeks ago for treatment for what, at the time, was thought to be an acute attack of ear trouble. It was not realized by the community that the general condition of his health was not good, and, therefore, the announcement of his death came as a distinct shock to the town and county.

The deceased, who was fifty-seven years of age, was the eldest son of Judge Wm. E. and Mrs. Henrietta Lipscomb. His mother is still living and is now in her seventy-eighth year.

Mr. Lipscomb had been prominent in the business affairs of Manassas and Prince William county for a number of years.

When a young man he established a mercantile business here and conducted it with success for a long period. He discontinued this business some twelve years or more ago to devote all of his attention to his thriving cross tie and fire insurance business. At the time of his death his fire insurance agency was the largest in the county.

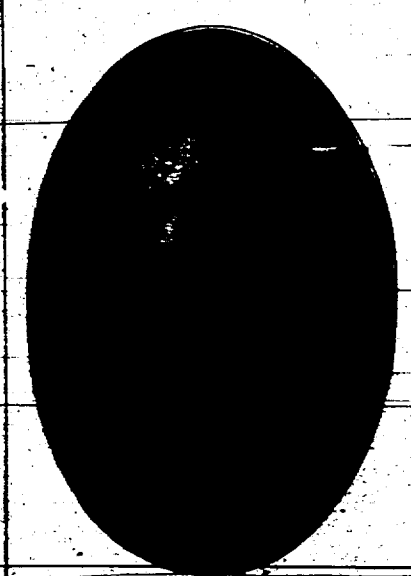

He held the office of commissioner of accounts for this county for a number of years. When the Peoples National Bank of Manassas was organized in 1903, Mr. Lipscomb was made one of its directors, and had been elected a member of each succeeding board.

He has also been a director of the Manassas Journal Publishing Company since it was incorporated.

Mr. Lipscomb took an active interest in politics, and was a member of the county electoral board and chairman of the county democratic committee.

Before automobiles came into such general use, Mr. Lipscomb was a great fancier of horses; and it was largely through his efforts and interest that the Manassas horse show came into such prominence in Virginia and adjoining states.

W. N. LIPSCOMB

In 1908, Judge J. B. T. Thornton appointed Mr. Lipscomb examiner of records for the 16th judicial circuit of Virginia, and this important office he held at the time of his death. The duties of this position carried him into the adjoining counties of Fairfax, Alexandria and Alexandria city and he made many warm friends throughout the entire district.

When his death was announced, the circuit court for Alexandria county was in session; and a resolution of the Alexandria county bar was immediately passed requesting Judge Thornton to adjourn his court out of respect for his memory. This resolution was made a part of the court's records. The work of his office necessarily brought him in contact with the lawyers in the circuit. The high esteem in which he was held by the practicing attorneys was evidenced by a resolution passed by the Alexandria county bar that the members attend his funeral in a body. His popularity was abundantly attested by the many beautiful floral tributes laid upon his grave.

Funeral services were held at Trinity Episcopal Church at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the pallbearers being Messrs. O. D. Waters, R. Weir Waters, D. M. Pitts, H. Thornton Davies, Geo. Jennings, Aubrey Clark, Sen. E. E. Thornton and Judge Wm. C. Gloth.

Mr. Lipscomb is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary W. Lipscomb; two children, Mrs. Howard W. Jamison and Lieut. W. H. Lipscomb; his mother, Mrs. Henrietta Lipscomb; two sisters, Mrs. Ella Weedon and Mrs. F. E. Garrison, and two brothers, Messrs. Chas. E. and Philip A. Lipscomb.

Among those out of the county attending the funeral were: Geo. H. Rucker, H. R. Thomas, Howard Fields, Harry Crack, and Wm. Duncan, of Alexandria; Frank Mulhall and wife, Mr. Herrie, E. R. Tompkins and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Tompkins, and Aubrey Clark, of Washington; R. Weir Waters, of Culpeper, and Senator R. E. Thornton, of Fairfax.

In Mr. Lipscomb's death Prince William county has sustained the loss of a valued citizen. He was a staunch democrat—true to the best interests of his county, state and nation; he was loyal to his friends and fair and just to his enemies; he possessed the courage to express his convictions, without fear or reservation. Such a public community can ill afford to lose.

His epitaph might well be written in the words of one of the many sorrowers at his grave: "He was the poor man's friend."

Colored Men Called to Camp.

The Local Board for the County of Prince William has sent calls to the following colored men to report at the clerk's office, Manassas, Virginia, at 4:30 p. m., on April 25th, to be examined on the morning of the 26th, at 8:00 o'clock, for Camp Lee, Va.:

AN APPEAL TO VIRGINIA'S PRIDE

State Far Behind in Her W. S. S. and Thrift Stamp Quota—Special Efforts Needed.

Reports filed recently with Thomas B. McAdams, Director of War Savings in Virginia, indicate that the greatest activity will be necessary during the next few months if Virginia is to live up to her responsibilities in this important work; for, after three months of campaigning, the per capita sales in the state amount only to ninety-nine cents, less than one-twentieth of the $20.00 per capita sales apportioned the Commonwealth as her share. With one-fourth of the time already gone, it is evident that only the most concerted efforts and the greatest cooperation can bring about the results necessary if the record made in other campaigns is to be upheld.

To Richmond workers, one of the greatest disappointments yet experienced is the fact that the capital city is far down on the list. While the largest amount of Stamps has been sold there, the city has the greater number of people from which to draw and the sales have in no way mounted up as it was believed they would. However, the present standing has not tended to cause the Director to lose heart or to lessen his efforts. He and his committees, once having glanced through the report of sales, have realized the amount of work before them and have gotten seriously to work and all predict that the next report will show Richmond well up among the very leaders.

Radford leads both cities and counties with per capita sales of $5.80. Bristol holds second rank among the cities with per capita sales of $4.55. Buena Vista stands third with $4.32, Richmond fourth with $3.15 and Fredericksburg fifth with $2.78. Portsmouth, with per capita sales of only twenty cents, rests at the bottom of the list and with Newport News and Petersburg, is the only city whose per capita sales are less than one dollar.

Several counties have made excellent progress in the work and are keeping up fairly well with the schedule which, if maintained, will insure them selling up to the minimum apportionment. The banner goes to Page county whose per capita sales amount to $4.99. Fauquier stands second with per capita sales of $3.00; Rockbridge third with $2.47; Prince Edward fourth with $2.47; Henry county ranks fifth with $2.31 per capita sales; Roanoke county sixth with $1.92; Halifax seventh with $1.79; Cumberland eighth with $1.76; Appomattox ninth with $1.61 and Frederick tenth with $1.56.

Greene county holds the bottommost position of all communities in the sale of War Savings and Thrift Stamps, having per capita sales of only thirteen cents. Botetourt is next in last with per capita sales of fifteen cents and Fairfax is third from last with sales of only seven cents per capita.

Director McAdams recognizes the fact that the early months of the campaign necessarily have been devoted, to a large extent, to the formation of societies and to organizing other forces for the Stamp sales. These organizations now should

PATRIOTIC MEETING AT HAYMARKET

Hon. C. C. Carlin Speaks to Large and Enthusiastic Gathering.

In spite of the condition of the roads, which prevented many from attending, the announcement that Hon. C. C. Carlin would speak brought a large crowd to the patriotic meeting at the parish hall on Sunday afternoon. The meeting, which was held under the management of the local branch of the American Red Cross, was opened with the singing of "America" and prayer by Mr. Lee, a student of the Theological Seminary, Alexandria. Mr. Geo. G. Tyler then introduced the speaker, Mr. Carlin, who made a forceful, instructive and inspiring address. Commencing from the time the Lusitania was sunk, he made a clear and comprehensive statement of conditions which made war with Germany imperative; explaining much of interest and importance, and arousing the patriotism of his hearers to its highest pitch, as was evidenced by frequent and hearty applause. He spoke of "critics," so anxious for war, who are "now content to view it from a safe distance." And of those who "sit around the stores on soap boxes and talk," doing nothing to help in the great struggle.

The singing was led by the Junior School Auxiliary, American Red Cross, who marched with the flag and their school banner. After the closing of the exercises a short business meeting was held, with Mr. C. R. McDonald as acting chairman. Mr. Rolf Robertson was elected chairman and Mr. W. M. Jordan vice-chairman of the Haymarket Branch, American Red Cross. Mrs. Charles Allen has recently been appointed chairman of membership of the branch.

Mr. Carlin was the guest of Mr. Mc Cave and attended service at St. Paul's Church on Sunday morning.

The United States collier Cyclops has been reported lost with all on board. The vessel has not been heard from since March 4, when she left the Barbadoes, in the West Indies. The collier carried a valuable cargo of manganese, and the theory is gaining ground that a German spy, realizing the extreme value of the shipment succeeded in getting aboard the vessel and placed a time bomb in her cargo. A number of Virginians were on the lost ship.

A new and distinctive feature will be introduced in the Third Liberty Loan campaign, and every city or town in the country which subscribes more than its quota of Liberty bonds will be awarded by the Treasury Department an Honor Flag. The flag will be 36 inches wide and 54 inches long. The body of the flag will be white with a broad red border, and three broad blue vertical stripes denoting the Third Loan.

be in excellent shape and their work should make itself evident during the next few months. New organizations are to be formed, additional drives are to be made and every effort exerted to increase the state sales from now on. While many of the cities and counties are doing good work, others are experiencing difficulties and these weaker sisters will be assisted in every possible way.

PROPERLY TRAINED TEACHERS NEEDED

Department of Public Instruction Simplifies Teachers' Certificates and Examinations.

Those who are planning to take the regular state examinations on May 3rd and 4th and on July 25th and 26th will be among the first to enjoy the plan of simplification as instituted by the Department of Public Instruction.

Some of the chief features in the simplified plan of the examination for teachers are as follows:

1. Examinations are limited to two days.
2. Only one report is required from the superintendent.
3. The number of subjects is reduced to about nine, and the number of questions reduced from one hundred and fifty to seventy-five or eighty. The standards of requirements, however, have not in any respect been lowered, but have been raised to a reasonable degree in order to guarantee a higher type of teaching.
4. The papers will be examined by the local superintendents as heretofore and will be reviewed or re-examined by the supervisors in the Department of Public Instruction.
5. The State Board of Examiners has been discontinued.
6. For the extension of certificates, five books of the Reading Course are required to be read as heretofore and the examination will be based on only one book instead of two; namely, Lincoln's "Everyday Pedagogy."

From the above it may be seen that the Department of Public Instruction is attempting to handle teachers' certificates and examinations in the most direct and economic manner possible. Credits secured by teachers under former regulations of the department will receive full value under the new regulations. No retro-active measure will be passed which will embarrass any teacher who has formerly received certificate credit.

There never has been a time in the history of the state when properly trained teachers will be so essential to the conduct of the school system as next session. Great emphasis will be put upon the matter of teaching training in order to guarantee to the children of the schools as high grade instruction as possible.

It is hoped that all who may be qualified and eligible will enter the teaching profession next fall. Summer institutes and normals will be held at practically the same points as heretofore, and these schools will offer excellent advantages for the training of teachers. Those who can not possibly attend and who do not hold teachers' certificates will have to depend upon the state examinations. The training at the summer school will be so valuable for the inexperienced applicant that it is, of course, very much better and safer for him to attend one of these schools when possible.

The Department of Public Instruction appreciates to the fullest extent the serious situation of securing teachers for next year. It is undertaking to meet this emergency in three very definite ways: First, by encouraging a reasonable salary scale over the state; second, by simplifying and making more direct the whole matter of teachers' certificates, as indicated above; and, third, by the establishment of a teachers' bureau or exchange for the use of teachers and superintendents and without cost to either.

THE LAST FOE OF LIBERTY

Somewhere in France is a field, now unknown, which is destined to be trumpeted by fame to remotest ages as the field of Armageddon, the field where mankind dealt the final blow that liberated it from oppression by autocrats claiming divine rights and supported by millions of fanatical worshippers. The warfare now in progress leaves nothing to the imagination, so far as the forecast of events is concerned. With the punctuality of fate itself, German militarism marches to its annihilation. The unseen hand of God is driving the enemy forward to destruction. The German emperor and his satellites and slayers so literally follow the program of fate that they fulfill every detail, down to the manifestation of the pride that goeth before a fall. In their blindness they now think they are reaching the peak of victory, from which they expect to see broad pastures of fat plunder and illimitable indemnities.

Many a battle has been fought on the soil of France, some of them turning points of the world's history. At Tours the hordes of Islam were stopped, and the cry of defeat echoed in Cordoba and Damascus. The Moslem armies were magnificently brave, more intelligent than the Germans, chivalrous and honorable, but the natives of France would not have them as masters.

At Lepanto the Turks gathered an armada of unprecedented size, and prepared to swoop down upon and ravage civilization. John of Austria, supported by a fleet of allies and by such hearts of oak as that which throbbed in the breast of Miguel de Cervantes, dealt a killing blow to the infidel. The Germans of today are not better armed or more numerously supported than the Turks of Lepanto, in proportion to the strength of the respective intended victims.

The task of conquering the civilized world is too complicated and too difficult for any ruler to accomplish, no matter how bloody his mind, how wolfish his lust of spoils, or how numerous his armies. When men fight for their altars and their fires, for their wives and babies, they fight like angels and devils combined. France, being free and determined to remain free, is immortal. Free nations will not harm her, and they will see that other nations do not slay her. England is a land of men who made themselves free a thousand years ago, and they have spread freedom over the earth. England, like Prometheus, is undaunted and unconquered, because she knows she cannot die.

The German hordes batter against British and French breasts and allied guns. The barbarians make some headway—another step toward their own destruction. But their progress deceives them and lures them on, just as it deceives faint hearts in allied nations and whispers defeat in timorous ears. If the rulers of Germany were in their senses, instead of being committed to destruction, they would regard their progress in the enemy country in its true light as a step toward the annihilation of the German Empire. But they plunge forward to their doom, according to the decree of fate.

The allied nations gather fresh strength with every disappointment. They were never as strong as they are at this moment, and never as harmonious in council. The magnitude of their dangers arouses the spirit that is required to marshal their forces and make them walls. Every hour increases the assistance which the United States is sending from its inexhaustible resources of men and material. The Germans have provinces to draw upon; the allies have a world. From America the allies are beginning to hear the unmistakable note of war—not an academic set of phrases, but the shrill scream of the eagle robbed of her young.

During this week in April, in 1775, the colonists of America gathered with 12 field pieces and 17,000 pounds of salt fish and resolved to fight for liberty. On the 19th of the month the embattled farmers "fired the shot heard round the world." The reverberations of that shot are still echoing in the robber castles of autocrats. Berlin hears it. America, blessed by the divine favor as the home and guardian of liberty, has reopened the battle of Lexington in order to defeat the last challenger and assailant of freedom.

When this battle is ended there will be no further attempts in this world to prevent men from governing themselves. —Washington Post.

LIBERTY LOAN DAY SET

President Wilson last night issued a proclamation designating Friday, April 26, as Liberty Day and requesting the people to "liberally pledge anew their financial support" to the government. He said: "An enemy who has grossly abused the power of organized government and who seeks to dominate the world by the might of his sword, challenges the rights of America and the liberty and life of all the free nations of the earth. Our brave sons are facing the fire of battle in defense of the honor and rights of America and the liberty of nations. To sustain them and to assist our gallant associates in the war, a generous and patriotic people have been called upon to subscribe to the Third Liberty Loan.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do appoint Friday, the twenty-sixth day of April, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Eighteen, as Liberty Day. On the afternoon of that day I request the people of the United States to assemble in their respective communities and liberally pledge anew their financial support to sustain the Nation's cause. Patriotic demonstrations should be held in every city, town and hamlet throughout the land under the general direction of the Secretary of the Treasury and the immediate direction of the liberty loan committee organized by the Federal reserve banks. Let the nation's response to the Third Liberty Loan express in unmistakable terms the determination of America to fight for peace, the permanent peace of justice.

"For the purpose of participating in Liberty Day celebrations, all employees of the Federal government throughout the country whose services can be spared, may be excused at twelve o'clock noon, Friday, the twenty-sixth of April."

RURAL MOTOR TRUCK POSTAL SERVICE

Through the efforts of Congressman C. C. Carlin, Prince William county will in the near future have the benefit of the Rural Motor Truck Postal Service. This service will mean much to the merchants and shippers in enabling them to get their small produce to good markets without delay.

The two routes mentioned in the letter below will be the first to be established in America and will mean not only cheaper transportation facilities but the maintenance by the government of the roads over which the routes will run.

U. S. Post Office Department
 Washington, D. C.,
 April 9, 1918.

Hon. C. C. Carlin, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

"Dear Mr. Carlin:—In accordance with your request of several weeks ago, I beg to advise you that the department has decided to establish in the immediate future Parcel Post Motor Truck Service from Leesburg, Va., to Washington, D. C., and from Warrenton, Va., via way of Manassas and Fairfax Court House, to Washington, D. C.

"With a view of putting this service in operation at the earliest date practicable, your suggestion that Mr. Harry T. Harrison, of The Loudoun Times, and Mr. Henry Hutton, of Warrenton accompany myself or my assistant on a tour of inspection of the proposed routes, will be adopted.

"This service will be of great benefit to the farmer in getting his small truck and parcels speedily to the Washington and Baltimore markets, bringing back to them on return trips such articles as they need for household and farm purposes.

"Please have Messrs. Harrison and Hutton advise this office as to what days next week they will be able to go over these respective routes.
 Sincerely yours,
 James I. Blaklee,
 4th Assistant."

More Than 100,000 "Smiths" in United States Army.

The army has more than 100,000 "Smiths," 1,500 William Smiths, 1,000 John Smiths and 200 John A. Smiths. It has 15,000 Millers, 15,000 Wilsons and 262 John J. O'Briens, of whom 50 have wives named Mary. There are 1,000 John Browns, 1,200 John Johnsons, and 1,040 George Millers.

These figures on identical names were cited by the bureau of war risk insurance as a reason why applicants for government soldiers' insurance or for allotment and allowance payments should sign their full name rather than initials only. —Exchange.

Farmers Advised to Sell Hens Gradually After May 20.

The United States Department of Agriculture again advises farmers to sell their hens gradually and not to glut the market immediately after April 20, when the restriction against sale of hens is removed. Hens should be sold gradually. This will stabilize the market and bring better prices for them. It also will mean more eggs. Every laying hen at this season produces eggs at far less cost for feed than during the winter.

BIRTHS ARE STILL NOT WELL REPORTED

Apparent Decrease in Birth-rate Caused by Failure to Comply With Law.

Richmond, Va., April 17.—If statistics are to be taken at their face value there has been a marked reduction in the birth rate in Virginia this year as compared with the early months of 1917.

For the months of January and February, 1918, there were reported to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics 1,070 fewer births than in the corresponding months of the previous year. However, no one in Virginia, much less the well-informed officials of this important branch of the State Department of Health, believes there has been any falling off in the number of births in the state this year.

What is believed to be true is that numerous physicians and midwives are failing to comply with the law requiring prompt reports of all births. The value of these reports has been remarkably demonstrated especially in the past few years in proving not only the age but the citizenship of persons whose vital interests were affected when these fundamental facts became subject of legal inquiry. Parents should require prompt compliance with the law in this important matter, the State Department of Health declares.

Yesterday Dr. W. A. Plecker, chief of the Bureau of Vital Statistics and State Registrar, said that he laid much of the failure to report to the fact that many hundreds of the most active physicians had gone to the war, and many of those who were filling the places of the absent doctors excused their failure to comply with the law on the plea that they were already overburdened with work. Dr. Plecker regards this excuse in the nature of stalling.

COMMUNITY WORK'S VALUE RECOGNIZED

General Assembly Increases Financial Support of County Sanitary Inspection.

The people of every Virginia county will be interested to learn that the campaigns for better community sanitation and for medical inspection, conducted by the State Department of Health in co-operation with the International Health Board, have been of such evident value to the communities in which they have been carried on, that the General Assembly has voted to increase the appropriation for this purpose from $7,200 to $15,000 a year. There is believed to be no doubt as to the favorable attitude of Governor Westmoreland Davis, in whose hands the bill now is, with reference to the appropriation.

Under the program which will now prevail with reference to the financing of community campaigns, the State Department of Health and the International Health Board, contributing equal sums, will match dollar for dollar the amounts provided by counties or communities for this work. So beneficial have these campaigns been found that in several of the counties movements were at once set on foot to make them permanent by the employment of whole-time health officers, the lesson having been learned that the ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure.

Under the plan now to be used there should be $60,000 a year spent in the medical inspection and sanitation campaigns throughout the state for the next two years, the State Department furnishing $15,000, the International Health Board a like amount, and the communities $30,000.

These campaigns are conducted under expert supervision and applications will be considered from the counties in the order in which they are made. Community efforts are now in progress in Prince Edward, Fairfax, and Rockingham counties, while the Appomattox and Shenandoah boards of supervisors have made provision for campaigns.

The interested citizen or local official will ask himself why should communities engage in such efforts as this? The experience of the State Department of Health is that at least one-third of the deaths in Virginia are due to preventable causes. The community campaigns uncover danger spots, they show the sanitary needs of each locality, and they point the way to improved conditions along every health line. Hookworm is exposed and the sufferers are released from a terrible burden upon the mental and physical vitality of uncounted thousands of innocent children in our rural districts. Other ailments and physical defects among the children in the school are ascertained and steps encouraged for adequate remedy. Constructive steps are taken to improve home surroundings so that the handicap of disease may be removed from every household, to the end that finally every interest in the community is helpfully touched by improved health and added efficiency.

Not only is the immediate result of these co-operative efforts of splendid value but in them lessons in disease-prevention are taught which leave lasting impress on almost every family, the general health is improved, the death-rate lowered, and every man, woman and child is given better title to his heritage of health and happiness. That the work may be well done wherever undertaken it is proposed that six-months' campaigns shall be the rule this year, in order that every section of every county in which the work is inaugurated shall have full benefit of the lessons sought to be taught, as well as enjoying the benefits such as a three-months' campaign cannot insure.

The shortage of physicians in so many sections of the state this year makes health really a patriotic duty. Every community which undertakes sufficient early a campaign of medical inspection and sanitation will save far more in drug and medical bills than the cost of the work, to say nothing of precious lives saved, and the sickness, suffering and sorrow prevented.

Those counties which are most prompt in making application will receive first service at the hands of the department. As a matter of fact each county in the state, which has not already begun this work, should determine that this year, not to get on the list for the State Department's work, it will conduct a health campaign.

ONE HUNDRED AND ONE GERMAN LIES NAILED

Kaiserite Is Busy in America Spreading German Propaganda.

Washington, D. C., April 19.—German propagandists have been busy since the entry of the United States into the war. Falsehoods of every character have been spread over every section of the country with the idea of abusing the confidence of the American people. So persistent has been the circulation of these carefully moulded pro-German lies that an official exposure of them has been issued as a pamphlet, entitled "The Kaiserite in America" by the Committee on Public Information, 8 Jackson Place, Washington, D. C. A copy of this pamphlet may be had free if inquiry will be directed to the Committee.

German Counterfeiting.
Tales have been current about interned German prisoners about Red Cross supplies being sold to shopkeepers by dishonest officials, by criminal waste of food at training camps and many other like falsehoods either designed to discourage volunteer Red Cross work and the loyal efforts of housekeepers to save food or calculated to create a troublesome distrust of the Government.

The circulation of these stories is often due to the folly of a citizen who wishes to appear to have "inside information" and who either innocently or intentionally starts a lie that rapidly grows worse as it spreads. A collection of such lies and their refutation has been made by the St. Louis Republic. A hundred of them are included in

SMALLPOX SPREADS IN MANY COUNTIES

Those Not Recently Vaccinated Should Lose No Time Seeking Such.

According to information received by the State Department of Health smallpox continues to spread in a large number of counties of Virginia. Fortunately the disease seems generally to be of a mild type, and no deaths have as yet been reported this year. However, there are some cases in which the disease has taken serious turn and all the localities affected will be earnestly urged to take the most energetic steps possible to eradicate the contagion.

Upwards of fifty new cases were reported last week, twelve being in Pulaski county, one in Lee, one in Smyth, two in Caroline, several in Russell, several in Spottsylvania, one in Middlesex, one in Wise, one in Pittsylvania; sixteen in Carroll, six in Newport News, and one in Suffolk.

All persons who have not been recently vaccinated should at once seek this the only known means of protection from the disease. While the type does not appear virulent, in any event it is a disease no person willingly will expose himself to, as it means quarantine, serious loss of time, and often very considerable expense. For a few cents protection can be secured, making one practically immune from the disease and certainly from any serious type thereof.

CRITICAL PERIOD OF NATIONAL EXISTENCE

Great Number of People Do Not Fully Realize This Very Important Fact.

(By H. C. Russell)

We are now face to face with the most critical period of our national existence and still we find a great number of our people that do not fully realize this very important fact.

In some communities the sole topic among the young men is how they can avoid their duty to their government. Can this be due to the lack of patriotism or a lack of realization of the seriousness of our cause to the human race? We have launched forth on one of the greatest missions for the safety of future generations and this mission to be a success or a failure depends on the patriotism of this great people, and the sacrifice that they are willing to make for the safety of ourselves and that of all free-thinking mankind.

Our brave allies are locked at the present moment in a death grapple with one of the greatest destroyers of freedom that the world has ever produced, and it is due to these brave defenders of future liberty that we have been given time to prepare to do our great part in this struggle.

We must hurry to their assistance, for over three years they have sacrificed their blood and money without stint or complaint until such time that we could see with clearness our own duty.

Now that we have entered the war for the cause of freedom let us put forth our greatest effort to bring justice and righteousness to all mankind.

It is not our duty to discourage but it is our duty to come forward manfully and patriotically in every way possible to assist in this great cause for human rights.

Very true not all can join the fighting forces, nor is it necessary, but there is plenty to do for all, even the feeble, as they may find if they desire a way to lend encouragement to their more fortunate compatriots.

Great encouragement must be given to the farmer, not encouragement alone, but they must have help to produce as much food as possible. Our armies cannot live nor can the great industrial centers without the greatest co-operation of the farmer in producing food; therefore, we must render every assistance required to attain this end.

The problem of production will be lessened to a considerable degree if, in our hour of need, the people will comply with the wishes of those who are directly in charge of the government machinery.

We must all sacrifice, and in so doing the burden will be distributed so that the load will not fall on a few.
