Congratulations are due the Hamilton Enterprise, which has just attained its thirtieth birthday. The Enterprise was established by the late W. H. W. Moran, who later established the Manassas Journal, which he edited up to the time of his illness and death several years ago.

The announcement that the public schools of Richmond will not be closed if another influenza epidemic comes this year, will be of interest to parents and school authorities here. Arrangements will be made for a daily inspection of students immediately after school opens and pupils showing any signs of illness will be excluded.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?
 It is not idle curiosity which prompts the country to insist upon the truth and the whole truth regarding the sickness of the President. It is the profound interest and anxiety which all decent Americans feel over the infirmity of the great official who not only stands at the head of their government, but in whom centers the vital affairs of the whole civilized world.

For days wild and irresponsible rumor has been busy. It has been said and repeated again and again that Mr. Wilson is suffering from disorders which have unbalanced him mentally as well as caused his utter physical collapse. These rumors have been circulated by hostile United States Senators in communications to constituents for the apparent purpose of eliminating Mr. Wilson as a factor in national and international affairs.

The attending physicians have been reserved in their confidences to the public. They have declined to make answer to the uneasy reports, and have stood unflinchingly upon their brief and somewhat unlightening bulletins. From a professional standpoint they can scarcely be blamed for their reticence, but the time seems to have come when more frankness is needed at the White House in order to give the country such reassurance as it obviously is entitled to have.

There can be no question that Mr. Wilson is a very sick man. The doctors themselves have said as much in so many words. They have added that he probably will be an invalid for many weeks to come. If this much is true, something more definite than "nervous exhaustion" seems to have been suffered by the President. And it is that "something" that the American people feel that they have a right to know. It would be far better, in the circumstances, if the physicians and the President's immediate household authorized a candid and somewhat detailed publication of the exact diagnosis in the case. This might relieve much of the anxiety now prevailing generally, but if it only increased that anxiety, it would still be better for the people to have the facts. —Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"WHEN A FELLOW NEEDS A FRIEND"

There are moments in the whirling of this callous world of ours
 When a fellow needs a friend—needs him BAD!
 He has run across some unexpected thorns among the flowers,
 He has wasted opportunities in Fortune's golden hours,
 And he's sore—or in the dumps; or he is sad.

There is nothing in such moments that will make a man forget.
 Like the comfort in confiding to the end
 All the nagging little tangles that are wove in the net
 That enmeshes him, and holds him in his prison of regret—
 Just confiding on the shoulder of a friend.

And it isn't that our troubles interest that one we choose
 As the One whose cheering confidence we seek—
 But it's just a great big lonesomeness—the overwhelming blues—
 And a yearning for some balsam for our aching spirit's bruises,
 For the heart that's fall must die of grief, or speak!

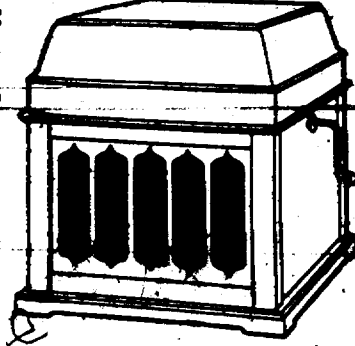

And it's when we're sick and lonesome that a Friend alone can hold
 That full cup of sympathy that understands;
 And a cheering whisper warms us, and the world is not so cold
 When the sun of sympathy shines with its rays of purest gold
 In this world of weary hearts, but grasping hands.

—Henry Edward Warner in Times-Dispatch.

THE NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

¶ No product can be bigger than the brain that evolves it. No other brain in the world today has the inventive ability of Edison's. That fact alone is sufficient proof of the absolute superiority of the Amberola.

FREE TRIAL OFFER

PRICES $41.00 and up

¶ We will place an Amberola in your home for 3 days' Trial, which will not put you under the slightest obligation or expense. Come here, select an Amberola and a number of records and we'll send them to your home. At the end of 3 days, if you do not want the Amberola, we'll call and take it away. If you do want it, we'll arrange terms of payment to suit you.

¶ But the Amberola can quickly and easily prove its own superiority. Its tone—oh, what a revelation, compared to metallic "talking machines" and shrill-sounding phonographs! None but Edison could work that miracle of tone.

¶ Then the Amberol Records, made for the Amberola alone! They are practically unbreakable and everlasting—what a contrast to the costly fragility of other phonograph records.

¶ And for range of music—the widest in the world—all the best, all the latest. An endless feast of fascinating melody.

¶ Yet the biggest surprise of all is the price! This wonder phonograph costs less than inferior competitors! There is not a single drawback to your owning an Amberola right now!

¶ Don't listen to the claims of other manufacturers—listen to their machines. Then come in and compare the matchless tone of the Amberola. Edison's wizardry will win you every time.

¶ We'll expect you in today—now don't forget.

GROVETON LEAGUE MEETS

Supt. McDonald Speaks and Reads Program

A successful meeting of the Groveton Community League was held at the school house on the evening of October 8. Superintendent Charles R. McDonald presided and delivered a splendid talk. An enjoyable program, consisting of songs and poems, was given by the school.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. George H. Ayres; vice-president, Miss Florence L. Pettit, teacher; secretary, Mrs. J. D. Harrover, and treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Ross. Mrs. McDonald, wife of the division superintendent, was one of the guests of the evening.

THE SOUTHERN GIRL

The lines given below are so beautiful and so aptly express the sentiments of every chivalric Southern man and boy that we conclude they were written during the Civil War by some poetical soldier lad, as in his tent at night or on the battlefield by day he dreamed and thought of "the girl he had left behind in Dixie." But read for yourself: "Someone has said that when God made the Southern girl He sent His angel messengers throughout all the star-strewn realms of space to gather all there was of beauty and brightness, of enchantment, of glamour. When those angels returned from their harvesting of beauty and threw down their glittering burden at His feet, He began in their presence the fashioning of the Southern girl. He wrought with the gold and the glimmer of the stars, shifting glories of the rainbow hues, and the pallid silver of the moon. He wrought with the crimson, which swooned in the rose's rubied heart, with the pure, sweet snow of the lily's petals and the fires and flames which flash and leap from jewel's depths. Then, glancing deep into His own bosom, He took of the love which gleamed there like some rare pearl beneath the wind-kissed waves of a summer sea, thrilled into the form He was fashioning, and all heaven and earth rejoiced, for lo, He had wrought the Southern girl."—Reprinted by request.

A STRANGE COINCIDENCE

At the battle of First Manassas the residence of Wilmer McLean in Prince William county was between the two armies and several cannon balls passed through the house. In order to escape a repetition of so dreadful an experience, he resolved to move to a part of the state where he would be secure from such another calamity, and he accordingly moved to Appomattox county. But, strange to say, at the surrender his residence was again between the two armies, and when General Lee and General Grant met to agree upon the terms of surrender it was in his residence that the terms of surrender were written out and signed. There is not an instance of so remarkable a coincidence recorded in all the annals of history from the days of Herodotus, the father of history, down to the present day.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO ENROL IN RED CROSS

Juniors of America to Conduct Special Campaign During Last Week in October.

With the endorsement of teachers, city, county and state superintendents, and the eager participation of the children themselves, the Red Cross Junior Enrollment Campaign for 1920 is well under way. During the last week in October an intensive effort will be made to enroll all schools before the Senior drive.

The Junior Red Cross News, a publication sent monthly to all Junior Auxiliaries in order to keep them in touch with one another and to bring them information regarding foreign activities, is being sent to all schools during the months of September and October. Posters have also been mailed. If schools, not having received this material, want it they can write to the Department of Junior Membership of the Potomac Division of the American Red Cross at Washington.

With a war record of more than one hundred thousand camp and hospital supplies for our soldiers—sweaters, scrap books, furniture, and afghans—and the contribution of $28,000 to the National Children's Fund, the Potomac Division Juniors are undertaking a program of continued service. They will work now for those children in their own communities who are in need, and for those vast numbers of children in foreign countries who are still suffering from the effects of the war.

It is hoped to secure 100 per cent enrollment of schools before the Senior Roll Call. Thus, having paid their twenty-five cent membership fees, the school boy and the school girl become co-members with their mothers and fathers in the American Red Cross.

"JUNK HEAP" IN STOMACH

Dog Chain, Razor and 180 Other Articles Removed.

Discovery of a "human junk heap" has been announced by officers of the House of Correction at Deer Island. Charles W. Buzzell, of Montreal, serving a sentence of one year for forgery, complained of indigestion.

A surgical operation resulted in the recovery of two pounds of miscellaneous articles from his stomach. The collection, Dr. L. C. Rockwell said, included parts of a dog chain two feet long, a safety razor blade nearly whole, a suspender-buckle and 179 fragments or pieces of glass, hay wire, staples, nails and screws. Relieved of these substances, Buzzell almost entirely has recovered, it is said.

The prisoner had been accumulating the collection with suicidal intent, according to Dr. Rockwell, since last December. He had previously made a similar cumulative attempt to end his life, but it was frustrated by an operation performed in New York, he said. Buzzell told the surgeons that he was a former clergyman, having held several pastorates in Canada, and had been convicted of worthless check operations in Michigan, New York and New Jersey.

Now Is The Time TO SHOW YOUR TOWN SPIRIT

— and from there we went to Japan —

Talk about adventures! Men in the Navy come home with the kind of experiences that most chaps read of only in the books. Here's your chance! Uncle Sam has, as you know, a big Navy and gives red-blooded young fellows like you an opportunity to step aboard and "above off". What will you get out of it? Just this: A chance to rub elbows with foreign folks in strange parts of the world. The chance for good honest work on shipboard—the kind of work that teaches you something real; the kind of work that puts beef on your shoulders and hair on your chest. You will get 30 care-free vacation days a year, not counting shore leave in home or foreign ports. You will have the kind of comradeship in travel that sailors know. You will have regular pay, over and above your meals, lodging and your first uniform outfit—good stuff all of it. You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS. There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

To any Father and Mother—In the Navy your boy's food, health, work and play, and moral welfare are looked after by responsible experts.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY:

Being a Democrat, I have consented to offer as an Independent Candidate from Prince William County for the House of Delegates, to be voted for November 4, 1919. I have always been a true Democrat of the Jeffersonian type and am still of that type, but I see so many departures from those principles that I feel that I am an American and advocate American principles, first, last and all the time. I have lived under Democratic administrations, also under Republican administrations and I found patriotic men in both parties. I also have noticed that party name does not signify very much when a man has selfish motives. So far as the masses of people are considered, what is good for a Democrat is good for a Republican, and vice versa.

So if I be elected, I shall aim to work for the good and betterment of our people regardless of political affiliations. We are here Americans, and we should mutually aim for what our forefathers founded and fought and many of them died, viz., Liberty. When the world war started the cry came across the waters for help to suppress tyranny. When the drive was made for money it was called the "Liberty Loan." Then why shall any class, or clique, try to deprive us of our God-given and blood-stained liberties handed down from the Revolutionary period to the beginning of the 20th century? It is not for personal or money gains that I am in this race, as the money consideration is less than most all ordinary occupations pay employees. The old adage, "Let the office seek the man, rather than the man seek the office." Many candidates spend many times more to be elected than their office will pay if elected. Poor men can't afford this, consequently the moneyed men usually get elected.

I am a poor man, an ex-Confederate soldier, served during the civil war from 1861-65, and lost several horses in service that I had to pay for after the war closed. Besides four years of the prime of life, went in the army at 18 years old and came out at 22 years old. I feel that I have a claim on Virginia, the Mother of Presidents, and also which its sons formulated and founded, the beginning of this American nation. When any of our people take our liberties from us they cast a reproach on the Flag and on the Constitution of these United States.

My means of making a house to house canvass is such that I have to forego a large part of the task. I shall make known to the voters that I am a candidate for this office, and will trust the result into their hands under the circumstances.

I wish to speak at several places after the middle of this month, and have been requested to meet my opponent, C. A. Sinclair, in joint debate, if he cares to do so.

Will possibly make several announcements for speaking at different places in the near future.

Since I have consented to be your servant to do the best I can, will be glad for your support on the 4th of November.

Mark out the name of C. A. Sinclair and vote for C. Fitzwater, of Nokesville, Va. We have enough lawyers in the House of Delegates now, as we propose to cut out some of those tyrannical laws now on the statute books.

Respectfully, C. FITZWATER

FARM REPRESENTATIVES MEET AT STATE CAPITAL

Plans for Establishing Co-operative Unions Discussed.

In response to call issued by J. Frank Foose, Director, Division of Markets, and Chairman of committee appointed by the State Farmers' Institute, nearly one hundred men attended the conference on co-operative associations in Richmond on October 7.

A number of those present entered into the discussions and everyone expressed willingness to co-operate with the various organizations that are working for the betterment of the marketing of farm products and the purchasing of supplies.

The most important feature of the conference was the presentation and discussion of the plan for a co-operative exchange to be organized in Richmond. A. H. Ochauer presented the plan adopted by the conference held in Murphreeville, September 27, and it was thoroughly discussed from every angle.

It was moved and carried that the plan be heartily commended and that the same committee be instructed to take a report of this conference to the state convention of the Farmers' Union and present it, and ask that the Union work out a plan along this line.

the members of the Farmers Union. It was very strongly emphasized by F. S. Ruggles, of the Bureau of Markets at Washington, that before undertaking such an organization, a careful survey of the conditions should be made.

The discussions also brought out the fact that the time was not ripe for a state-wide exchange. However, it was pointed out that such an exchange might be organized to serve the adjacent territory, and be operated successfully.

Indiana Tractor and Plow

The INDIANA TRACTOR AND PLOW can be used in any field regardless of size or shape and will completely plow a small lot as well as a large field.

The operator is in position to see operation of plow as well as Tractor.

The Tractor runs level with one wheel in furrow, subsoiling each furrow with spade lugs and making it self-steering.

The plow has power lift so that it is not necessary for operator to stop control plow in turning, there being but one small lever which causes plow to enter ground in a very short distance.

This outfit being sufficiently light to allow the farmer to have his plowing nearly done by the time he could go on the ground, should we build this outfit twice as heavy.

THE INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR

The INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR is the nearest perfect power unit for farm purposes. It delivers the maximum of tractor efficiency with the minimum of tractor weight.

One man can operate the INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR in connection with farm implements. This saves the wages of one man for the reason that it is possible to operate both tractor and implement from the implement seat.
