TEACHERS CLOSE BUSY CONFERENCE

Prof. Duke Speaks in Interest of Junior High School—New Officers Elected.

(Miss Lulu D. Metz, County Secretary) Though the bad weather continued, Friday's session of the Prince William County Teachers' Institute opened with a somewhat larger attendance than on the preceding day.

The session opened with the singing of "Jerusalem, the Golden," followed by prayer by Rev. Alexander Stuart Gibson. Rev. Mr. Gibson spoke next upon the teacher's opportunity for service during this great crisis in the world's history, and of the great privilege and opportunity for taking a stand for the high and lofty ideals which are needed by the peoples of the earth as never before.

Dr. H. U. Roop's talk on the value of educational work was divided into four great factors: the pupil, the curriculum, the educational environment and the teacher. The understanding of the part which each factor must play in the educational system was stressed.

Following this, Dr. E. C. Harper, county physician for Prince William, gave a paper on the various necessary phases in the education of the child, and urged the necessity of all teachers doing all in their power to promote health work.

All health work, said Dr. Harper, may be divided into four health agencies: school hygiene, personal hygiene, physical hygiene and medical inspection. Dr. Harper's report of the inspection of a school which is now in progress speak for themselves as to the necessity and crying need of this most important work.

In one school inspected, for instance, out of the number of sixty pupils, but two were found who did not have badly decayed teeth. In another school, of about the same number, but three were found with correct eye sight, not to speak of the large percentage of diseased tonsils, adenoids, etc.

Mrs. W. C. Sanders next gave an excellent lesson on the teaching of English in the grades, and took as a special phase of English teaching the development of the short story.

Mrs. Sanders illustrated her talk by outlining a short story, and her suggestions were most helpful in that they showed that the chief aim and purpose of all English teaching is to bring about an appreciation of the various forms of literature.

Miss Lulu D. Metz spoke next upon the teaching of home economics in the schools, and its important place in the school curriculum. Her definition of home economics as being that form of education which has as its controlling purpose the preparation of girls and women for the occupation of home-making spoke for itself as to the meaning and purpose of all these courses. For if home economics teaching is to fulfill its mission, the courses must include clothing and garment-making, food study and cookery, but besides these there must be the study of household accounts, home sanitation, home nursing and child care—any or all of which courses offer great opportunities in helping girls to develop the right attitude toward work, as well as a spirit of helpfulness and social consciousness.

Moreover, the woman, in order to take her place in the world of today, must have been trained to feel her responsibility as a home-maker, and the relation of the home to the world problems and industries outside the home and the dignity of the tasks which she must perform within her own home. It is in proportion as women feel how fundamental is their work in the home that they will be prepared to make the home all that it should be.

Prof. Duke, president of the State Normal School at Harrisonburg, next spoke on the history of the educational system of Virginia, and also on the work and investigations of the Educational Commission. Prof. Duke spoke further of the wonderful progress in education as a result of the campaign which the commission has recently conducted, and which marks the beginning of a new era in the educational system of our state.

Prof. Duke urged the teachers to adopt resolutions approving the recommendations made by this commission.

Mr. J. C. Snider, of Nokesville, and Mrs. L. J. Larkin and Miss Lulu D. Metz were appointed by Supt. McDonald a committee to consider such resolutions and the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the institute:

Where parting is no more; For my sister, I loved so dear, Has only gone before.

Where parting is no more; For my sister, I loved so dear, Has only gone before.

Where parting is no more; For my sister, I loved so dear, Has only gone before.

Where parting is no more; For my sister, I loved so dear, Has only gone before.

CITY FATHERS MEET IN REGULAR SESSION

Water and Light Consumers Must Pay Promptly—Higher Tax Rate Considered.

The regular meeting of the town council, held at the Town Hall Monday evening, was attended by Mayor W. Hill Brown, who presided, and Councilmen D. J. Arrington, J. H. Burke, R. L. Byrd, W. F. Hibbs, R. M. Jenkins, C. M. Larkin, J. L. Moser, O. E. Newman and H. D. Wenrich.

The regular order of business included the reading of the minutes, which were approved, the approval of bills and the presentation of reports by Superintendent G. L. Rosenberger and Treasurer H. P. Davis.

The application of Mr. J. J. Forrer for electric current for his property on the old Blandford road was referred to the public utilities committee.

The treasurer was instructed to obtain from the former public utilities committee all contracts and papers belonging to the town, all of which are to be presented at the next meeting of the council.

It being apparent that the town finances are not sufficient to cover expenses and that an increased tax rate will be necessary, which will necessitate an amendment to the town charter, the finance committee was instructed by resolution to submit at the next meeting "a report showing the present indebtedness of the town and whether the present rate will be sufficient in connection with the revenue to take care of the town's indebtedness and current expenses, and, if not, what tax rate will be sufficient for such purpose."

The Mayor was authorized to execute the obligation of the town to each of the local banks for $4,000 to cover the present indebtedness.

Supt. Rosenberger was instructed to discontinue the service of water and light to any consumer who is in arrears after ten days' notice, with the exception of the courthouse, jail and two district schools.

LUTHERAN DRIVE CONTINUES

Congregation of Three States Meeting College Endowment Fund.

Interest in the Lutheran campaign for the $300,000 endowment fund for Lenoir College at Hickory, N. C., increases, and enthusiasm grows as reports come in, says a despatch from campaign headquarters in Hickory. The North Carolina congregations are certainly going to do their part, and handsomely, according to the report, and encouraging news also comes from the conference in Virginia.

Mr. George wired from Virginia that two congregations with whom he had worked Sunday and Monday had completed their canvasses and had doubled their apportionment. Rev. O. W. Aderholdt is also doing good work in Virginia. With the preparation that had already been made by Rev. M. L. Pence, of Orkney Springs, and with the active assistance of Rev. Mr. Pence throughout Virginia, concludes the despatch, the campaign office grows in its confidence that Virginia also will go over the top by a large percentage.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, Dorothy G. Harris, who departed this life one year ago today, October 21, 1918.

At the bedside of our loved one, Night by night and day by day, We watched the loving hands grow thinner, Saw her slowly pass away.

We tried so hard to keep her with us, But God willed that she should go, So we yielded to the parting, Though it filled our hearts with woe.

The midnight stars are gleaming Upon her silent grave, The one we loved so dearly And tried so hard to save.

More and more each day we miss you, Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow That lies in our hearts concealed.

By her loving Mother, Brothers and Sisters.

A happy home we once enjoyed, How sweet the memory still; But death has left a loneliness, Which the world can never fill.

'Tis so sweet to know we will meet again, Where parting is no more; For my sister, I loved so dear, Has only gone before.

Has only gone before, Delma.

MASS MEETING ON SUNDAY EVENING

Manassas Will Meet at Baptist Church in Interest of Red Cross Roll Call.

Sunday will be observed throughout the United States as "Red Cross Sunday," in the interest of the Third Roll Call of the Red Cross, which formally opens on the following day.

Manassas will observe the day by holding a mass meeting at eight o'clock Sunday evening in the Baptist Church, all the churches of the town having given up their evening service to the Red Cross. Mr. Walker G. Glenn, of Washington, a successful speaker in the Liberty Loan campaigns, will make an address.

Ministers throughout the county, by resolution adopted at the annual meeting of the Prince William Red Cross Chapter, have been asked to speak on Sunday in the interest of the Red Cross and the influence of the churches is expected to have great value in spreading the news of the approaching campaign.

Prince William hopes to re-enroll her 3,000 members—and as many more as it is possible to enroll. The great program of service which the Red Cross has carried on before the war, during the war and since the war has a strong appeal for every man, woman and child who is unselfishly interested in the development of the brotherhood of man.

Outside of its share in the national and international activities of the American Red Cross, the Prince William Chapter bases its appeal for county-wide support on the comprehensive health program which has been inaugurated within its borders. The Red Cross chapter has pledged itself to support a nurse, who is already at work and who has visited nearly every section of the county. A great deal of satisfaction has been expressed by many parents and others interested in what the health work can do for the children of the county, that we are able now not only to help the children in other parts of the world, but to center our forces at home.

MISS GILBERT IS HOSTESS

(Mrs. C. E. I. Hodge, Secretary)

The Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club was entertained in the auditorium of the high school on the afternoon of Saturday last by Miss Gilbert. This proved one of the most interesting and profitable meetings we have ever attended. Mrs. Stuart Gibson and Miss Metz were welcomed as new members. The business of the meeting centered around the revision of the constitution and some plans to be of material assistance to the destitute and suffering Armenians. Mrs. Round gave an account just recently received of a plan that might be feasible. The social hour was greatly enjoyed. Our hostess refreshed us with delicious chocolate and cake. The time passed quickly, and sooner than we realized we were compelled to make our adieux, after many appreciative words to our hostess.

GREEN-HINEGARDNER WEDDING

Quiet Ceremony Performed at Epiphany Church in Washington.

A quiet wedding ceremony took place Wednesday at high noon at the Church of the Epiphany in Washington, when Miss Winifred Hinegardner, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Hinegardner, of Nokesville, became the bride of Mr. McDuff Green, of Aden, Rev. Percy Foster Hall officiating.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. Benjamin Brown, jr., and Mr. Hinegardner, sister of the bridegroom and father of the bride.

Mr. Green, who is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Green, of Aden, for several years has represented Brentsville district on the county board of supervisors. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Green will make their home at Aden.

The oyster and chicken supper given at Conner's Hall last night by the ladies of Grace Church was largely attended. Although the oysters ordered for the occasion failed to come, chicken and oyster substitutes were eaten with relish and the evening was a success, socially and financially.

Samples of army blazons offered for sale by the government are exhibited at the Manassas post office.

RURAL SCHOOLS WILL HAVE INSPECTION DAY

Thousands of Virginia Children Will Be Examined for Symptoms of Disease.

Monday, November 3, will be an epochal day in the history of the rural public schools of Virginia. It has been named as the first general Physical Inspection Day in the annals of the rural schools of the state and every student in every country, or other school which has not provided otherwise for such inspection, will pass before the teacher for a searching examination for symptoms of disease.

The date has been fixed by Superintendent of Public Instruction, Harria Hart, while Dr. Mary Evelyn Brydon, Director of the Bureau of Child Welfare and School Hygiene of the State Department of Health, and her associates are doing all in their power to make the event an unqualified success.

A card will be filed with the Division Superintendent showing each child's physical condition, and, where a child shows symptoms or evidences of disease, another card will be furnished its parents or guardian on which will be indicated the nature of the disorder found.

Both school and health department officials feel that the real test of success of this inspection will lie in the character of the response the parents of diseased pupils make to the reports of the teachers.

With their hands already full the teachers are not expected to be burdened with follow-up work in connection with this inspection and responsibility for treatment of the children found diseased will rest squarely upon the parents.

GULICK-SMITH NUPTIALS

Marriage of Joseph Gulick Takes Place at Franklin.

The marriage of Miss Annie Ridgick Smith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Smith, and Mr. Joseph Franklin Gulick, of Washington, took place at high noon on Wednesday, October 23, at the bride's home near Franklin, Rev. L. T. Paelette, of New-son, officiating. Just before the ceremony Miss May Belle Edwards, little cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly," after which the bridal chorus from Lohengrin was rendered.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother. She wore a gown of white satin embroidered with pearls and a veil of tulle falling from a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and snapdragons.

The only attendants were Mr. Thos. Gulick, of Washington, who was his brother's best man, and Miss Rebecca Darden, of Franklin, maid of honor, who wore a gown of delicate flesh georgette crepe.

The bridegroom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Gulick, of Washington, residents of Manassas for many years. Mr. Gulick recently returned from France, having served during the war as an army field clerk at general headquarters in Paris. Before the war he was a member of the teaching profession and later studied for the ministry.

How many citizens of Manassas have visited the town's water, light and power plant?

If you are at all interested in the up-to-date little plant which you, as a citizen, are helping to support and which is operated for your convenience and health, take the next spare half hour and pay a call.

You will find everything in good order and the building as carefully kept as your reception hall. You will be courteously received by the men in charge, who will answer any questions asked and show you over the plant.

The plant is operated under the supervision of Mr. G. L. Rosenberger, superintendent of public utilities, by three colored men—Frank Niekens, chief engineer, assisted by Allen Williams and Vincent Johnson—all of whom have a natural pride in giving the citizens an opportunity to see how their mechanical difficulties are managed and how smoothly and efficiently the plant is run. The pumping of water, for instance, has continued without a break except for one stop, of twenty minutes since May.

HALLOWEEN EVENTS

Conner's Hall, through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Conner, will be open to the little folk of the community this evening from seven to ten, in celebration of Halloween. No special invitations have been issued, all the little folk of the town being invited to come. The party will take the form of a masquerade.

James Thornton Davies, Jr., and James Jenkyn Davies will entertain their young friends this evening at a Halloween party at their home on Bennett avenue.

A Halloween masquerade will be given by the young people at Eastern College.

OYSTER SUPPER AT NOKESVILLE

The ladies of the Episcopal Church will give an oyster supper Tuesday evening at Nokesville to raise funds to install a lighting system in the church. Ice cream will be served. All are invited.

FOURTEEN REASONS WHY I WILL JOIN THE RED CROSS

1. Because it is "The Greatest Mother in the World," and the mother instinct is strong in every woman.
2. Because it is organized, material sympathy.
3. Because it is the heart of the American people.
4. Because it served our fathers, husbands, brothers, sons and sweet-hearts when they needed service most. It did what we would have done if we could have been there; it was our proxy.
5. Because it meant home, care and comfort, when these things were out of reach.
6. Because it has made a point of aiding the little ones.
7. Because it has been the center of family life to thousands of families whose main support was taken away.
8. Because it has taught us that the greatest pleasure in life comes from helping someone less fortunate.
9. Because it fills a gap in our national life which nothing else can fill.
10. Because it has opened wide the heart—and the purse—of a people nationally selfish.
11. Because it is always "there" when a call for help comes.
12. Because, to be entirely personal, it is ready to go on teaching us how to be better and more useful in our own homes—home nursing, dietetics, first aid.
13. Because it has become a symbol for good.
14. Because it is ceaseless, untiring, unstinted, un denominational, unprejudiced, far-seeing, and international in its efforts. Of what other agency is this true? No worthy cause is ever too much trouble, too far away, too costly, for it to undertake; it can always be depended upon and it has grown to be a natural part of living and a part which cannot be easily uprooted.—By an American Girl.

TIME TO LEARN

The Edinburg folk have paid a homely and sincere tribute to the home nursing activities of the Red Cross.
 "With smallpox in Harrisonburg, scarlet fever in Timberville and whooping cough in Mount Jackson," they declare, "we need to learn how to prevent the 'catching' of such things."

STOP SHAKING HANDS?

They tell us now to stop shaking hands—the health alarmists, of course, the one in particular coming from Harrisburg, Pa. Shall we take germs or go without the warm, friendly grip that comes like a bracer once in a while? If there is a substitute for hand shaking, we really don't want it. Substitutes during the war were fairly popular, but unfortunately (?) we are not patriotically and self-sacrificingly inclined to stop shaking hands.

Have you seen the new coat of paint on the high school building? Thank you again, Mr. Lyon.

ARMY FRENCH

I learned to speak French like a native
 While wearing the "kack" over there.
 Sapristi! it's rather elative
 To think I'm that clever, I swear.
 Tout de suite I learned beaucoup expressions
 Which pop out in speech, just like that,
 And now I'm back home I just can't overcome
 The habit of calling a hat
 A chapeau, though I strive for repression.

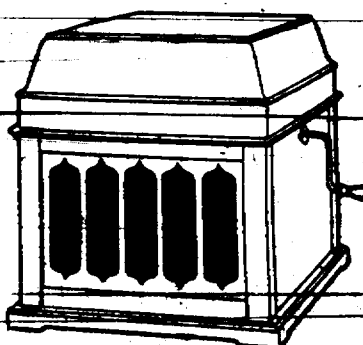

I learned to speak French like a native
 It's not that I wish to "show off."
 Forgetful of facts legislative,
 I absently murmur, "I'm sold!"
 When a feeling of thirst settles o'er me
 (Which happens tres souvent just now.)

And I ask "Qu'est-ce que c'est?" in a quite thoughtless way,
 Unintentional wholly, I vow
 (Ah, oui, "showing-off" simply bores me.)

I learned to speak French like a native
 While off in that war-stricken land.
 So original, I, and creative
 The French, though, could not understand?
 Here at home I find folks far more clever,
 They comprise my French at a glance;
 For, while life was so trench like, I
 Learned to speak French like
 A native—of Kansas, not France;
 Like a true son of Yankiland, forever.
 LEE SHIPPEY.

THE NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

No product can be bigger than the brain that evolves it. No other brain in the world today has the inventive ability of Edison's. That fact alone is sufficient proof of the absolute superiority of the Amberola.

FREE TRIAL OFFER  PRICES $41.00 and up

¶ We will place an Amberola in your home for 3 days' Trial, which will not put you under the slightest obligation or expense. Come here, select an Amberola and a number of records and we'll send them to your home. At the end of 3 days, if you do not want the Amberola, we'll call and take it away. If you do want it, we'll arrange terms of payment to suit you.
 ¶ But the Amberola can quickly and easily prove its own superiority. Its tone—oh, what a revelation, compared to metallic "talking machines" and shrill-sounding phonographs! None but Edison could work that miracle of tone.
 ¶ Then the Amberol Records, made for the Amberola alone! They are practically unbreakable and everlasting—what a contrast to the costly fragileness of other phonograph records.
 ¶ And for range of music—the widest in the world—all the best, all the latest. An endless feast of fascinating melody.
 ¶ Yet the biggest surprise of all is the price! This wonder phonograph costs less than inferior competitors! There is not a single drawback to your owning an Amberola right now!
 ¶ Don't listen to the claims of other manufacturers—listen to their machines. Then come in and compare the matchless tone of the Amberola. Edison's wizardry will win you every time.
 ¶ We'll expect you in today—now don't forget.

He has for the past ten years resided on his farm one mile south of Manassas, where he has followed intensive farming, combining with it, a part of the time, educational work as professor of the chair of mathematics and accounting at Eastern College.

Mr. Dodge is a widely experienced, liberal, broad minded, public spirited citizen. From mere youth he has always taken a very active part in all that tends to the betterment of the communities in which he has lived, and is an active member of the Red Cross, Farmers' Institute, Civic League, etc. He is an officer of the Presbyterian Church and superintendent of Sunday School, a director of the Fair Association, State Forest Warden of Northern Virginia, etc.

Mr. Dodge is forty-five years old, and in 1909 he married a Miss Fitzhugh-Dunaway, of prominent Virginia families. He would make an able, efficient and dignified representative in the General Assembly.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE FOR J. H. DODGE

NEXT TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4

PAID ADVERTISEMENT TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY:

Being requested by friends I have consented to offer as an Independent Candidate for Prince William County for the House of Delegates, to be voted for November 4, 1919. I have always been a true Democrat of the Jeffersonian type and am still of that type, but I see so many departures from those principles that I feel that I am an American and advocate American principles, first, last and all the time. I have lived under Democratic administrations, also under Republican administrations and I found patriotic men in both parties. I also have noticed that party name does not signify very much when a man has selfish motives. So far as the masses of people are considered, what is good for a Democrat is good for a Republican, and vice versa.

So if I be elected, I shall aim to work for the good and betterment of our people regardless of political affiliations. We are here Americans, and we should mutually aim for what our forefathers founded and fought and many of them died, viz., Liberty. When the world war started the cry came across the waters for help to suppress tyranny. When the drive was made for money it was called the "Liberty Loan." Then why shall any class, or clique, try to deprive us of our God-given and blood-stained liberties handed down from the Revolutionary period to the beginning of the 20th century? It is not for personal or money gains that I am in this race, as the money consideration is less than most all ordinary occupations pay employees. The old adage, "Let the office seek the man, rather than the man seek the office." Many candidates spend many times more to be elected than their office will pay if elected. Poor men can't afford this, consequently the moneyed men usually get elected.

I am a poor man, an ex-Confederate soldier, served during the civil war from 1861-65, and lost several horses in service that I had to pay for after the war closed. Besides four years of the prime of life, went in the army at 15 years old and came out at 22 years old. I feel that I have a claim on Virginia, the Mother of Presidents, and also which its sons formulated and founded, the beginning of this American nation. When any of our people take our liberties from us they cast a reproach on the Flag and on the Constitution of these United States.

My means of making a house to house canvass is such that I have to forego a large part of the task. I shall make known to the voters that I am a candidate for this office, and will trust the result into their hands under the circumstances.

I wish to speak at several places after the middle of this month, and have been requested to meet my opponent, C. A. Sinclair, in joint debate, if he cares to do so.

Will possibly make several announcements for speaking at different places in the near future.

Since I have consented to be your servant to do the best I can, will be glad for your support on the 4th of November.

Mark out the name of C. A. Sinclair and vote for C. Fitzwater, of Nokesville, Va. We have enough lawyers in the House of Delegates now, as we propose to cut out some of those tyrannical laws now on the statute books.

Respectfully, C. FITZWATER, Company B, 18th Regt., Va. Cav., U. S. A., 1861-65.

Letters of a Humorist. Ring Lardner, recognized as one of the great American humorists, is writing a series of very funny letters—some of the biggest features ever offered its readers by a newspaper. You won't crack a smile when you read them; you'll smash one all to pieces. Watch for the first letter in the Washington Star on November 2.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money, and a fine family but—
 He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.
 Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!
 Right NOW your Uncle Sam is leading "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you'll ever get to give the world the once over!
 The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squirts at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.
 You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.
 You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.
 There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

Shove off! Join the U.S. Navy

A DECLARATION

By HON. J. H. DODGE
CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATE

To the Voters of the 14th District:
As stump speaking has gone out of fashion, I find it impossible to place myself and the principles for which I stand before the people by a series of addresses given throughout the district, and, as it is a physical impossibility for me to canvass each individual voter of the district to tell him my views and my claims for his support, and, as I am constantly receiving inquiries in such numbers that I find it impossible to answer by private letter for lack of stenographic help, I have decided to issue this circular declaration in the local press to the end that those interested may know how I stand on some of the vital issues of this campaign, though I find it quite impossible in this necessarily brief statement even to begin to mention my views on many public questions and even the few here mentioned are not as clear as if I could go into more detailed explanations.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS

It is nothing less than an outrage on our boasted patriotism that Virginia, the mother of states and statesmen, should be the only state in the nation that has failed to enfranchise the soldiers of the late world war, and if I am elected to the General Assembly, I shall father an act whereby the soldier in times of war be exonerated from the payment of any capitation tax as a prerequisite to voting, thus making it possible for every man who honorably served with the colors during the late world war to have full and immediate franchise.

PROHIBITION

In view of the fact that national prohibition goes into effect on the 15th of January and much of the burden of the enforcement of the dry laws falls to the national state prohibition commissioners, I shall favor the abolition of the office of our state prohibition commissioner and throw the responsibility of enforcing our state laws and of collaborating with the national officers on the local constituted authorities, feeling under the circumstances that this arrangement will be for the welfare of all concerned, and that the $200,000 appropriation asked to sustain a state department can better be expended on our public schools and on our roads.

ABOLISH USELESS OFFICES

It was one of the avowed purposes of the last constitutional convention to eliminate many offices of the state to the end that taxes be reduced. Much was accomplished and we made a new start only to get into the same old rut again. The state has been multiplying its offices until now it has become top heavy with officers and the consequent tax burden is becoming unbearable. It is impossible in this short declaration to specify how and what to curtail, but I know it can be done without violence to the efficiency of our laws and, if I am elected, I shall make it my special duty to get busy and after careful study, I shall favor the abolition of many unnecessary offices, and the consolidation of others to the end that efficiency be increased and the tax burdens of sustaining so many offices and officers be reduced.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

I stand for the widest possible extension and increased efficiency of our public school system.

GOOD ROADS

I favor co-operating with the national government in road construction, and the widest possible extension of our good roads system of both state and county roads to the end that the farmer may more cheaply get his produce to market, thus bringing down the high cost of living.

THE LABORER AND THE FARMER

Upon these two classes of our citizens falls the greater part of the burden of production. I favor laws that shall encourage the production of the necessities of life at the lowest possible cost, and for the governmental regulation of the profits of the middlemen to the end that food, fuel and clothing shall reach the consumer at the lowest possible cost. Being a laboring farmer myself, I propose to do all in my power to see that these interests receive a square deal, and just laws.

MY POLITICS

In this connection I am running as an independent candidate, and as the nominee of the Republicans. After a careful analysis of the August primary vote, I concluded that the nominee of that primary was not the free choice of the people of the district, and with assurances of support from various parts of the district, I concluded to make the race as an independent candidate, should there be no other nominations, and I announced my independent candidacy at the Prince William County Farmers' picnic at Manassas on August 15th. The following week in Alexandria, the Republicans offered me their nomination on a satisfactory platform, which I accepted. Thus I am an independent candidate and the Republican nominee. I am in no way connected with any political party. My alignment in the past, nationally, has been Republican; what it will be in the future depends upon the "men and issues" which are yet to be determined. (I am no beast with a ring in my nose to be led around by any political clique or party—are you?) But what has national politics—the league of nations for example—to do with this election? I fully appreciate the fact that this is normally a strong Democratic district, and I shall duly regard all sources from which I receive support, but I want to go to Richmond "unbound" so I may labor unhampered for the best interests of the district and of the state. I ask your votes on my public record and on my published platform. I appeal to my friends in all parts of the district to get busy and elect me, and I promise never to be true to the trust imposed.

Respectfully submitted,
J. H. DODGE,
Manassas, Va., October 29, 1919.

NOT LIVING BUT LOAFING IS HIGH

Country Is Producing Less Per Hour Per Man Than Before War, Says Paper.

It is the high cost of loafing rather than the high cost of living that troubles America today, is the opinion expressed in a recent issue of the "Corn Exchange," the monthly magazine of the Corn Exchange National Board of Philadelphia. The paper says that the country is producing less per hour, per man, than before the war although the rate of consumption is greater. This being true, prices continue to advance and further advances may be expected until an economic balance is effected between production and consumption.

The solution of the problem as indicated by President Wilson, Governor Harding, of the Federal Reserve Board, and others, is to increase production and reduce expenditures.

Investigation by a large manufacturing plant of Philadelphia, says "Corn Exchange," recently showed that under identical circumstances the production per man per hour was one half more before the war although wages have been doubled. Another investigation which covered several states and which was reported in the same paper showed that while the average wage per man increased 240 per cent the production per man, per hour, had decreased 62 per cent.

"The man who loafes on the job," says the paper above named, "no matter what division of society he belongs to deliberately elects to surrender his claim to be an honest man, for he is pretending to do something that he knows he is not doing. This lowering of the moral standard of the people of the nation * * * menaces the stability of the state."

The paper concludes: "Let us be honest with ourselves by recognizing the high duty of working at maximum speed at whatever task circumstances bring to us. The loafer is father of the liar, and the liar is father of the traitor to all that we hold dear in America. It is the worker who has always won, the shirker who has always lost. Let us stop talking about the high cost of living. Let us put a stop to the high cost of loafing."

CLUB GIRL TESTS MILK FOR FAIRFAX DAIRYMEN

Proves Rich Looking Milk Sometimes Low in Butter Fat—Many Surprises.

A recent issue of the Washington Star contained an interesting account of the Fairfax Dairymen's Association and the cow testing branch of that organization. The cow tester is a former club girl from Chesterfield county who was sent to Fairfax after a short period of training at Virginia Polytechnic Institute. The following extracts are taken from the article in the Star:

A cow testing branch of the organization was organized a short time ago and now has twenty-one members and 468 cows. The tester, Miss McEnally, is doing excellent work and every one is pleased at the results. Her tests have caused a number of dairymen to realize that it is easy to make a mistake in judgment when it comes to judging the quality of cows. In one herd a Holstein that was to be sold for $125 gave a 6.8 per cent test. She is not for sale now. The cow that gave the richest looking milk was 2 per cent lower in butter fat, showing that the color of milk means little in cow testing.

Another dairyman named one of his cows "Butter Ball" due to the rich looking milk. Since making the test he has decided to change her name. In one Holstein herd a number of cows were found to average 4.5 per cent butter fat, which greatly increased their value. In nearly every herd there are surprises such as mentioned.

SUGAR SHIP IN NORFOLK

Captain Bay Even School Buildings Hold Supply in Cuba.

Short of fuel and supplies, the American steamer Lake Disha put into Hampton Roads Friday with a cargo of sugar. She had over 3,000 bags of the precious cargo aboard.

A number of ship captains who have recently been in Cuba and the West Indies express surprise at the sugar shortage in this country, stating that never before have they seen so much sugar in the West Indies. They declare that Cuba is so full of sugar that school buildings are being used to store it.

"THE SANITARY WAY"

"To the Members of the Legislature of Virginia: We, the teachers of Prince William County, on October 24, 1919, realizing the urgent needs of the public schools of Virginia, hereby request you to give most serious consideration to the recommendations of the Educational Commission appointed by the last assembly.

"Especially do we urge the enactment into law of the following recommendations:

1. The creation of a State Board of Education, as recommended by the commission.
2. The appointment of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Board.
3. The creation of a county school board that shall administer the schools of the county as a unit.
4. The increase of the state school levy from fourteen to twenty cents.
5. The removal of the constitutional limitation on local taxation for school support.

"We further request that the secretary forward a copy of these resolutions to the Department of Public Instruction, to our representatives in the General Assembly, and to the local papers."

Supt. McDonald next urged upon the teachers the importance of (a) sending in certificates for his signature, (b) becoming members of the State Teachers' Association by the payment of fees, (c) organization of Community Leagues throughout the county for promotion of all school and community interests, (d) helping the enforcement of the compulsory school law by reporting absent and sick cases, (e) advisability of teachers visiting homes in the communities where they work, and getting list of names of school children and their ages, (f) desirability of teachers attending as far as possible the educational conference to be held in Richmond at Thanksgiving.

The committee appointed by Supt. McDonald to further the interests of the Prince William County Fair—consisting of Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, chairman, Mr. H. W. Sanders, Miss Mary Scott and Miss Mildred Harrell—made the following recommendations:

1. That arrangements be made for admittance of teachers and pupils enrolled in the county schools to the Fair grounds and grand stand one day during the fair without admission fees.
2. That building or space in building be prepared for each school in the county expecting to make an exhibit.
3. That on a school day a parade of school children be arranged for, this parade to be made as attractive a feature as possible, each school using its own plans as to floats, costumes, historic scenes, county development, etc. (Time of parade to be set by Fair Association.)
4. That one-teacher schools and two-teacher schools compete in same class and three and four-teacher schools in one class, all exhibits to be along the same general lines of school work and including the arts and science taught.

The institute was fortunate in having a second address by Prof. Duke on the subject of the junior high school.

Prof. Duke, realizing that the small percentage of students graduating from the high schools is due in part at least to the fact that the usual high school curriculum failed in most cases to meet the needs of the boys and girls, suggested that the remedy could be found in the establishment of the junior high school.

Such schools, changing as they do the present eight and four-year basis to a six, three and three-year division, do much to bridge the big chasm now existing between the eighth grade and the first year high school, and by a rearrangement of the curriculum, more nearly meet the needs of the rural districts especially.

The failure of the high schools to meet the life needs of students, said Prof. Duke, was demonstrated by the recent world war, and the junior high school, making as it does an easy transition from the elementary to the high school, more nearly than any other institution presents a solution to the difficulty.

At the high school conference conducted by Prof. Duke at the close of this address, the daily program for rural high schools and the problems of English teaching were discussed, and many helpful suggestions offered.

While the high school teachers were in session, Miss Grace E. Moran gave a lesson on handwork in the schools. Those who have been fortunate to attend the Prince William institutes always look forward to Miss Moran's lessons on primary teaching. Her suggestions are practical and most helpful to those doing primary work.

Mr. H. W. Sanders in his discussion of the teaching of agriculture urged upon the teachers the great importance of choosing good textbooks, and suggested that they take advantage of the state...

pictures, etc., as aids in their teaching. Mr. Sanders' talk was along the lines most needed by those trying to teach this subject and his offer of help to those calling upon him was appreciated.

At the annual business meeting of the institute the following business was transacted:

Reading of minutes of previous meeting.
 Election of officers, as follows: Mrs. C. M. Larkin, president; Miss L. D. Metz, secretary-treasurer.

Election of delegates to the Richmond conference, as follows: Miss Mildred Harrell, Bethel High School; Miss Louise Rector, Waterfall School; Miss L. D. Metz, Manassas High School.

Appointment of vice-presidents by Supt. McDonald, as follows: Mr. T. J. Foster, Brentsville district; Mr. W. Y. Ellicott, Coles district; Rev. C. L. Beard, Dumfries district; Miss Mary E. Scott, Gainesville district; Prof. W. R. Chapman, Occoquan district; Mr. H. W. Sanders, Manassas district.

The adjournment of the tenth annual conference on Friday afternoon marked the close of one of the most successful meetings of this organization. The program dealt with subjects which were vital to all in the teaching profession, and these subjects were presented in a practical and helpful manner.

And, aside from this, the feeling of good will and fellowship which characterized the meeting speak for themselves of the value of organization in all walks of life. May the spirit fostered by our coming together do much to make old Prince William all she should be.

CLIFTON

The barn of Mr. R. Colton Lewis caught fire Monday afternoon from a spark from the thresher, and barn, thresher and 300 bushels of wheat unthreshed were destroyed. Mr. Lewis had insured his crop, but the insurance, unfortunately, was void a week before. The barn was insured for a small amount.

Mr. Lewis has the sympathy of the community in his loss, as it costs something to raise a crop in these times of the high cost of labor.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Detwiler, jr., and their two daughters, of Philadelphia, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Detwiler, sr., of this place, coming to Clifton by motor.

Miss Edna Mathers was a Sunday visitor at her home here.

Misses Edmonia Randall and Frances Dobbins, who are teaching in the Alexandria schools, spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Payne.

Rev. Alford Kelley was ill part of the past week with a severe cold, but was able to fill his appointment at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Rev. A. Stuart Gibson held services in the Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon.

The Woman's Missionary meeting was held in the Presbyterian Church Sunday afternoon. This meeting closed "The Study of Ancient Peoples at New Tasks," which the society has been studying for some months. "Putting the World to Work" was the special topic of the afternoon—a plan for industrial mission training. This chapter was very ably discussed by Mrs. G. A. Hall and Miss Ruth Richards.

Master Wyck Buckley has been too ill to attend school this week and Miss Elma Beasley failed to return also, so that the commuters to Manassas are reduced in number. They had holiday last Thursday and Friday, as the teachers attended the institute.

 C. F. BAILEY

A CARD
 Nokesville, Va., Oct. 21, 1919.
 Editor Journal and Voters:—As we all know, the farmer is the backbone and sinew of the world. He takes more risks than almost any other class of men; he pays for his labor, his machinery, seed, fertilizer, &c., not knowing what his reward will be. He trusts in God for results. I am somewhat partial to the farmer, because he feeds the world, friend or enemy, and the Bible says we must not muzzle the ox that threshes the grain. Let us not muzzle the farmer who raises the grain, beef, pork, potatoes, &c. I say encourage the farmer. Vote for C. Fitzwater on the 4th of November and you will vote right.
 C. FITZWATER.

A CARD
 In view of various rumors to the effect that, if elected as supervisor from Dumfries district, I will have the route of the prospective state road changed from the Dumfries road to run by Joplin; and that I will spend more than a fair proportion of the District Road Fund on the road at Joplin, I desire to make the following statement:
 First. The route of the state road has already been fixed by the State Highway authorities, to go by Dumfries, and neither the member of the Board from Dumfries district, nor the whole Board, will have any authority to change the route.
 Second. If elected, it will be my earnest aim to see that the District Road Fund is fairly and equitably distributed over all the roads in the district.

JUST BE GLAD
 In these days of work and hurry,
 As along life's path you go,
 Don't stop to fret and worry,
 Just be glad to have things so.
 When you stop and think a minute
 Of the folks whose lots are worse,
 Just be glad you're live and kicking
 When you might be the reverse.
 Just think of all the others
 Who have gone along ahead,
 Just be glad it's the other fellow,
 And not you, that's cold and dead.
 I take it that it's wiser,
 And more sensible, by far,
 To be glad that you're living,
 And that things are as they are.

Indiana Tractor and Plow
 The INDIANA TRACTOR AND PLOW can be used in any field regardless of size or shape and will completely plow a small lot as well as a large field. The plow hooks very close to the tractor, making it light in draft, also pulling plow from center of tractor, eliminating all side draft and allowing plow to turn even furrows.
 The operator is in position to see operation of plow as well as tractor.
 The tractor runs level with one wheel in furrow, subsiding each furrow with spade lugs and making it self-steering.
 The plow has power lift so that it is not necessary for operator to stop control plow in turning, there being but one small lever which causes plow to enter ground in a very short distance; the same lever-raising plow. This outfit being sufficiently light to allow the farmer to have his plowing nearly done by the time he could go on the ground, should we build this outfit twice as heavy.
 THE INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR
 The INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR is the nearest perfect power unit for farm purposes. It delivers the maximum of tractor efficiency with the minimum of tractor weight. It couples to all horse-drawn top-working, planting, seeding, cultivating and harvesting implements already in use on the farm. It also does light belt work and will perfectly plow all the ground that it is possible to successfully plant and cultivate.
 One man can operate the INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR in connection with farm implements. This saves the wages of one man for the reason that it is possible to operate both tractor and implement from the implement seat.
