RECITALS CLOSE ANOTHER YEAR

Miss Hopkins' Students Win Plaudits of Many Friends at Commencement Here.

The annual commencement recitals of the Temple School of Music drew crowds of interested families and friends to Conner's Hall Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, when the young pupils, about sixty in number, demonstrated the results of another successful year under Miss Margaret Temple Hopkins, director of the school, and her assistant, Miss Frances Elisabeth Spies.

The commencement proper took place last evening, Rev. DeForest Wade making the address to the students. Rev. Mr. Wade spoke of the place of music in life and of its power and influence from ancient times up to the present. He commented most favorably on the progress of the school and congratulated the young pupils upon their creditable performance, particularly those who had earned certificates and diplomas.

Miss Mary Elisabeth Pope, daughter of Mrs. Lawrence E. Pope, received a diploma of graduation for completing the full piano course of the school. She will return next year to take up post-graduate work under Miss Hopkins. Certificates of promotion from the intermediate to the advanced department were awarded to Misses Muriel Norvell Larkin, Garnette Travers Brown, Helen Newell Cannon, Margaret Cornwell and Rose Latimer Rice.

Miss Pope was assisted by Miss Rose Latimer Rice, who gave a series of readings, all of which were well received, and by Mr. Frank W. McNamara, tenor, of Washington, who sang "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile," responding to an encore at each appearance.

The pupils of the elementary department won laurels from every member of the large audience that greeted their appearance Wednesday evening. Twenty-six little people took part in a musical play entitled "A Garden Cinderella," in which they were attractively costumed to represent flowers. The cast of characters included the Spirit of the Garden, Miss Margaret Cornwell; the West Wind, Miss Virginia Nelson Speiden; the Green Worm (Iuna moth), Miss Lucy Athey; Rose, Miss Anna Weir Waters; Lily, Miss Helen Cannon; Forget-Me-Not, Miss Madeline McCoy; Buttercup, Miss Etta May Hottle; Daisy, Miss Emma Ellen Ledman; Moonbeam, Miss Winnie Wenrich; Butterflies, Misses Kathryn King and Rose Ratcliffe; Page, Master Charles Webster Hopkins; Sweet Peas, Misses Audrey Steele, Frances McDonald and Marion Galleher; Carnations, Misses Annie Laura and Louise Merchant; Crocus, Miss Virginia Cross; Daffodil, Miss Anna Sinclair; Dahlias, Misses Mildred Mills, Laura Beale and Marion Broadbuss; Wild Rose, Miss Mary Ryland; Blue Bells, Misses Virginia Conner and Elisabeth Hutchison, and Panay, Miss Hazel Sanders. QUESTIONNAIRE ISSUED TO RETURNED SOLDIERS

Prince William Red Cross Engages in Final Effort to Help Service Men.

(Mrs. W. L. Browning, Executive Secretary)

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Prince William chapter of the Red Cross I was elected executive secretary in charge of the home service work of the county. In connection with this I shall be delighted to serve any one in any possible way, and trust that everybody in the entire county will feel interested in this branch of the work and bring to the attention of the Red Cross here any case in which they could possibly be of service.

There will be sent out this week to all the returned soldiers a questionnaire which we hope will be promptly filled in and returned, and we urge the families in case of the boys' absence from home either to answer the questions and return to us or mail the blank to the boy himself to be filled out.

Every Tuesday afternoon I shall be in the Red Cross office, but while my work will take me out into the county quite often, there will always be someone at our home to answer any inquiry you might want to make.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Calling Demonstration Held at Mr. Lowe's—Others to Follow.

The county agent held a calling demonstration at the home of Mr. S. R. Lowe last Thursday morning, at which time several neighbors who were interested in getting rid of their boarder chickens were there.

I shall be glad to cull the flock of chickens for any farmer in the county, if you are interested in keeping only the best and only those that will return a profit, provided you will advise me who you are and where you live.

The calves which were received here and distributed to the members of the calf club in May have about all been weighed and show a good gain. We expect to weigh these calves every thirty days to see if they are gaining what they should.

HOUSEKEEPERS MEET

Mrs. Haines Entertains Members of Bethlehem Demonstration Club.

The Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club was entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. E. Haines in Lee avenue. Mrs. M. D. Brown presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. A. Stuart Gibson, who arrived in time to take part in the discussions of the afternoon. The meeting was chiefly devoted to arrangements for the approaching Prince William fair, the members deciding to provide a booth on the fair grounds and exhibit as a club.

The usual monthly collections were made for the support of orphans in the Near East. Delightful refreshments, consisting of ice cream and cake, were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be entertained on Friday, July 16, by Mrs. J. B. Johnson, of Clover Hill Farm.

A SALUTE TO OLD GLORY

By Rev. J. A. Golihew.

Wave, glorious banner of Red, White and Blue,

O'er the land of the free, the brave and the true;

Wave, glorious flag of our country so dear

And teach us to honor the God whom we fear.

Thy bars of crimson are symbols of life

Thy field of blue betokens the strife in which thy dear sons engage to defend

The white stripes of Truth and Right to the end.

DELEGATES HEAR MR. DIGGS SPEAK

State Sunday School Secretary Addresses Convention at Cannon Branch.

The Prince William County Sunday School Association held its annual convention Sunday at Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren, an all-day meeting being held. Mr. Thomas C. Diggs, state Sunday School secretary, made an interesting and helpful address on Sunday School work, giving an account of his visits to two Sunday Schools and pointing out in a constructive way the defects which prevented them from being model schools. Later in the day Mr. Diggs conducted a round table discussion, in which many delegates took part.

Mr. S. C. Harley, retiring president, called the meeting to order and devotional exercises were conducted in the morning by Rev. E. E. Blough, pastor of the church, and in the afternoon by Rev. J. M. Bell. Mr. Harley also made an address on the value of united work, with particular reference to Sunday School activities. Rev. T. D. Clark, pastor of the Manassas Baptist Church, spoke on "The Service of Song," illustrating the value of music in the meetings of the Sunday School. Rev. J. W. Leedy, in the absence of Rev. DeForest Wade, spoke on "How the Sunday School Helps the Home" and Hon. C. J. Meese spoke on "Why the Sunday School Needs the Boys and Girls and Why the Boys and Girls Should Go to Sunday School."

Rev. J. M. Bell, of Manassas, was elected president, Mr. R. C. Linton, of Independent Hill, vice-president, and Mr. R. A. Rnst, of Haymarket, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Powell M. Metz was made Manassas district superintendent to fill a vacancy. The nominations were recommended by a committee composed of Prof. J. H. Dodge, of Manassas, chairman; Mrs. J. A. Hill, of Coles district; Mr. J. J. Conner, of Manassas; Mr. R. A. Epat, of Haymarket, and Mr. E. C. Linton, of Independent Hill.

The flourishing Presbyterian congregation there is planning to build a handsome new stone church with modern equipment, including a pipe organ.

The Presbyterian pastor has been identified with public movements in Manassas during his comparatively brief residence here and in addition to the members of his congregation has many friends who will wish him well in his larger field.

AUTO MIRES IN BRANCH

Messrs. Spies and Walton Have Narrow Escape from Death.

Mr. Gilbert E. Spies, of Coche's Pharmacy, and Mr. Laurence W. Walton, of the Manassas Ice Company, had a miraculous escape from serious injury or death Wednesday evening in an automobile accident at Cannon Branch. They were traveling toward Milford at a high rate of speed and, striking an obstacle, were thrown from the road to the old road bed some distance below. When efforts were made to right the machine it struck a tree which had fallen across its path and with a burst of speed continued its way up the embankment and into the branch, miring itself in the far bank under the weight of the tree which it carried along.

Mr. Spies jumped out as the car struck the tree and fell headlong a distance of several feet, skimming his face and injuring his shoulder. Mr. Walton remained in his seat until the car stopped in the waters of Cannon Branch. The car was considerably damaged, but beyond bruises, cuts and jars the occupants were uninjured.

TWO CHILDREN DROWNED

Walter and Athena Searl, of Philadelphia, Fall in Occoquan River.

Walter Searl and his sister, Athena Elizabeth Searl, aged ten and eleven, were drowned Wednesday at Occoquan bridge while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Searl, of Philadelphia, were preparing lunch a short distance away. Mr. and Mrs. Searl were returning to Philadelphia from a motor trip to their former home in Williamsburg and stopped at the bridge over the Occoquan river for lunch. The children had started out to fish nearby and twenty minutes later when they were called to the picnic spread no response was heard. In half an hour their bodies were found together in the water near the shore where their fishing rods lay still unwrapped. It is thought that one of the children fell in, dragging the other. No outcries of any kind were heard.

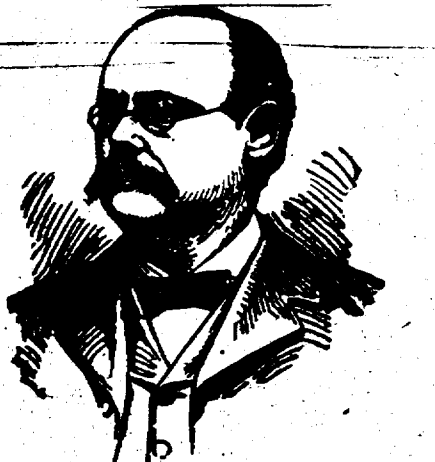

Mr. and Mrs. Searl were assisted by persons living in that vicinity but all efforts to revive the children were of no avail. The bodies were prepared for burial and accompanied to Philadelphia by their parents.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church held its monthly meeting at the church on June 17. A very unusual and delightful program had been arranged by the president, Mrs. Lucy Coche, the subject being "The Responsibility of the Church to the Negro." All the readings and talks were along that line and much of startling interest was told of the work done by the church in the past and the wide field open for the future. Many earnest prayers were offered and all those present felt it had been a real blessing to be there. —Mrs. W. L. Browning, secretary

JOHN A. CANNON BURIED MONDAY

Former Resident Laid to Rest With Masonic Honors in Manassas.

John Andrew Cannon, retired contractor and builder and a well-known native of Prince William county, died Saturday evening at his home at Kensington, Md., after an illness lasting several months. Funeral services were conducted on Monday at his late home in Kensington by Rev. Dr. Windiate, of the Episcopal Church, and the remains were sent to Manassas for interment.

Burial was made here with Masonic ceremonies under the auspices of Manassas Lodge, No. 182, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, of which the deceased became a member forty years ago. The pallbearers were Messrs. Thos. H. Lior and G. Raymond Ratcliffe, members of Manassas Lodge, and Mayor W. W. Skinner, of Kensington, and Messrs. Snyder, Green and Andrews, representing the Masonic lodge of Kensington.

Mr. Cannon was born near Manassas on September 4, 1846, and made his home here until removing to Kensington in 1905. Three years later he was elected mayor of Kensington, a position he held for eight years. He was a son of Francis J. and Catherine (Woodyard) Cannon. He was married in Alexandria, March, 1868, to Miss Helen Maria Varns, also of Manassas, who survives him.

Mr. Cannon successfully followed his profession here and in Kensington, and a great many homes in this section were erected under his supervision, including Tudor Hall, now the home of Dr. B. F. Idon, and the home of the late Representative E. E. Meredith, now owned by Mr. J. C. Parrish.

As a boy of fourteen he entered the Confederate service near Manassas during the first year of the war and served as a courier under General Richard S. Ewell and as an aid on the staff of General "Stonewall" Jackson.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Blucher D. Hooe and Mrs. Charles B. Campbell, of Washington; three sons, Messrs. Ira E. Cannon and Frank L. Cannon, of Manassas, and J. William Cannon, of Kensington. His youngest son, Robert A. Cannon, died five years ago. He also leaves thirteen grandchildren—Miss Helen Newell Cannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Cannon; Carlton, Virginia, John, Catherine, Francis and Mary Aileen Cannon, children of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cannon; Mr. Gordon Hooe, son of Mrs. B. D. Hooe; Helen, Charles and Olive Campbell, children of Mrs. Campbell, and John A. and Theresa Cannon, children of the late Robert A. Cannon.

Among the relatives and friends who came to Manassas to attend the funeral were Mrs. Hooe, Mrs. Campbell, Mr. Cannon, Dr. Windiate, Messrs. Skinner, Andrews, Green and Snyder and Dr. Frank W. Hornbaker and Mr. Frederick R. Hynson, of Occoquan.

Miss Stuart is a highly gifted woman who has spent much time in her chosen profession, a study of birds and their protection. She had a beautiful collection of stuffed specimens and many beautiful nests and much information to give her audience.

THE POETRY CORNER
 The favorite poem of the week has the hopeful title, "Opportunity." This favorite, unlike other favorites in previous weeks, is composed of two poems, the first being J. J. Ingalls' notable and familiar sonnet of that name and the second being the splendid reply and vindication of Walter Malone. These poems were submitted by Mr. Charles E. Ruffner, 328 Indiana Avenue, Washington, D. C., who taught in the public schools here fifteen or twenty years ago.

"I am very much interested in the Poetry Corner," Mr. Ruffner wrote, "and inclosed two short poems which I consider very beautiful and helpful, so much so that I carry them in my pocket and often read them."

"I attended a banquet here in Washington some years ago, at which Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, was the principal speaker. In his most wonderful address he recited the second poem. Mr. Bryan, then secretary of state, also Secretary Daniels, of the Navy, were talking to Mr. Ashurst about his address and I was standing near enough to hear Mr. Bryan say to the Senator, 'Where did you get that poem?' The Senator told him, when Mr. Bryan replied, 'I thought probably you may have gotten it out of the Commoner, for I once published it in my paper.'

"I knew that I had seen it somewhere, and I wanted it," Mr. Ruffner continued, "so I started a search. I went to the libraries, but could not find it. I looked up an old scrap book of mine which I had while teaching in Manassas, and there it was where I had clipped it from the Manassas Journal."

The two poems follow:

Opportunity.
 Master of human destinies am I,
 Fate, love and fortune on my feet steps wait.
 Cities and fields I walk; I penetrate
 Deserts and seas remote, and passing by Hovel, and mart, and palace—soon or late
 I knock unbidden once at every gate.
 If sleeping, wake—if feasting, rise before
 I turn away. It is the hour of fate,
 And they who follow me reach every state
 Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
 Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate,
 Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
 Seek me in vain and uselessly implore—
 I answer not, and I return no more.
 —J. J. INGALLS.

Opportunity.
 They do me wrong who say I come no more
 When once I knock and fail to find you in;
 For every day I stand outside your door,
 And bid you wake and rise to fight
 and win.
 Well not for precious chances passed away,
 Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
 Each night I burn the records of the day;
 At sunrise every soul is born again.
 Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
 To vanished joys be blind and deaf
 and dumb;
 My judgments seal the dead past with
 its dead,
 But never bind a moment yet to come.
 Though deep in mire, wring not your hands and weep;
 I lend my arm to all who say,—"I can!"
 No ashamed outcast ever sunk so deep
 But yet might rise and be again a man!
 Dost thou behold thy lost youth all agone?
 Dost rest from righteous retribu-tion's blow?
 Then turn from blotted archives of the past
 And find the future pages white as snow.
 —WALTER MALONE.

As a Good Farmer Treats His Farm That's the Way Each of Us Ought to Treat This Community

In a sense, this community is like a farm—it pays according to the way in which it is treated.

The successful farmer co-operates with his farm. Knowing that certain soil elements are necessary to healthy crop growth, he sees to it that these elements are maintained.

The same principle holds good in community development. Our community is composed of two closely-related elements—town and country. They are both essential to healthy community growth. Neglect or mistreatment of either of them by the other affects both—it injures the whole community. Both elements must be maintained.

Accomplishing this is simply a matter of sincere co-operation among all of us in this community.

Our idea of our own part to play for community good in a business way is—

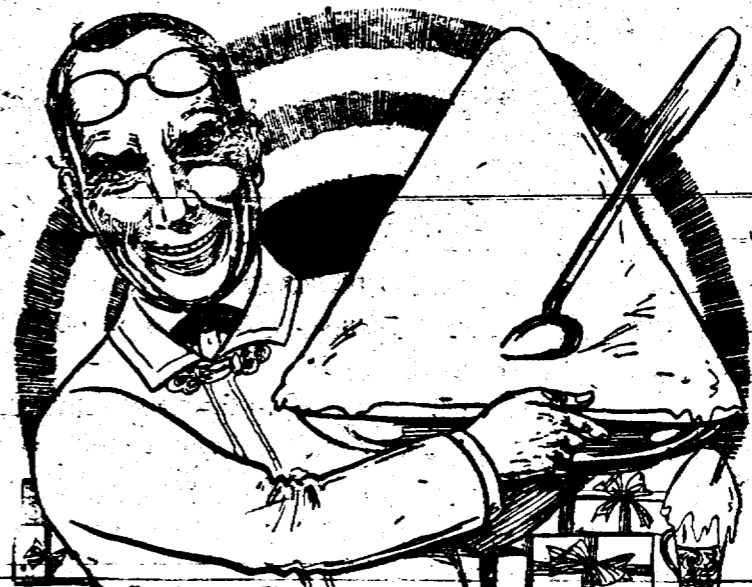

- 1. To have a FAIR that will be a credit to Prince William county.
2. To bring the people to this county and adjoining counties together, so that they can see the products of their neighbors, and enjoy a few days of wonderful entertainment.
3. To advertise the products of Prince William county to her own people and to those outside of the county.

To do this, we ask the co-operation of every person in Prince William county. Write for PREMIUM LIST.

Poor Old Bill

Three "knights of the grip" are swapping experiences. "Bill" Simpson, the oldest member of the group has just taken a pill, followed by a swallow of water.

JIM BAILEY: (the youngest of the three) "What's the idea, Bill? Got to tone up the old digestive organs?"

BILL SIMPSON: "My trouble isn't with digestion—it's with elimination. I've tried every pill from New York to Frisco—can't quit and don't seem to get any better."

"Why don't you take care of yourself? Exercise, get some sleep once in a while, eat the right food. That's the trouble with you."

"Exercise! Sleep! Eat the right food! Holy catfish! Say—when you've been toting a sample grip for about ten hours a day for twenty years, sleeping on a Pullman shelf, and eating the stuff any hash-slinging restaurant-waitress is willing to bring you—then you can talk. My system has stood for more punishment than a back-curtain in a hit-the-nigger-in-the-eye side show. It's a wonder it is working at all."

JOHN GILFORD—(who has smilingly observed this interchange) "Poor old Bill! You have just summed up the reasons for practically all the digestive disorders and intestinal troubles that so many traveling-men suffer from—with the exception of myself and some others."

"Yourself and some others? What sort of hokum is that?"

"Listen. You have both seen Nujol advertised, haven't you?"

OTHERS: "Sure."

"Well, Nujol has saved me from more lost days through illness than I can thank it for. When I started on the road, three years ago, I had a talk with my doctor. He told me that the things a traveling man has to put up with, like irregular eating, poor food, change of water, and so-forth, usually make him constipated. "Oh, a laxative now and then will help me through that," I said. That sure did get his goat. He told me that laxatives and purgatives would ruin me quicker than anything else. He showed me that they weaken the bowel muscles and make them less able to work—the more pills you take, the more you need. "Nujol is the stuff for you," he said. Then he explained how it works, and you can bet when I left on my first trip, I slipped a bottle in my bag. I've never been without it since. It's kept me regular as clockwork."

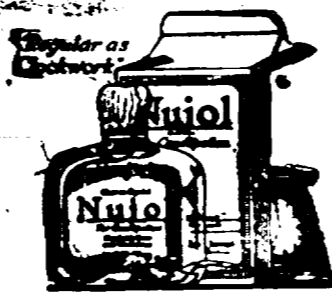

OTHERS: "How does it work?"

"On an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This helps the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding as they should, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system. Nujol prevents constipation because it helps the body to evacuate at regular times—the healthiest habit in the world. It's absolutely harmless and pleasant to take."

FARMERS BUSY ON WOOL POOL PLANS

County Agent Explains Form of Organization and Urges Others to Join.

(W. L. Browning, County Agent)

If you have not sheared your sheep, get at it for the sheep's sake, and to save the wool it has taken a year to produce. I am anxious to help you get all the wool it is possible to get after producing a crop, and the first thing we are going to undertake to help the farmer market on a large scale this year is the wool crop. If you will send your wool to me or to the farmers' co-operative store in Manassas, and consign it to the wool pool, we will do our best to get you what it is worth as far as it is within our power.

The plan of the wool pool is to have a government wool grader here to grade the wool clip and to sell the wool (not as a single pile of wool) selling each grade at the market price of that grade, thereby getting what your wool is worth and your neighbor getting what his is worth. We want all the wool growers that can be at that wool-grading demonstration to be there and learn how you can improve the quality of your wool. Let us have your wool as soon as possible.

I am anxious to hold some chicken-culling demonstrations in different parts of the county, and help you to cull out and get rid of those hens that are not laying, that never did lay and never will lay enough to pay for what they eat. You can learn to do this very quickly yourself. I will be glad to hear from a number of farmers and farmers' wives who would like to have this done, and where we can get some of the neighbors in to learn to do this culling of their own flocks. If we can eliminate the boarders from the average flock of hens we can increase the net returns by 50 per cent to 100 per cent.

Of interest to the boys in the Duroc pig club: The National Duroc-Jersey Record Association, of Peoria, Ill., will give the boy in the county making the best record with his pig this year a silver Eversharp pencil. This will be in addition to the regular prizes offered at the fair, and will be worth while for the members to try for. One thing we are going to insist on is a record of the growing of your pig, so do not neglect this record work. To the calf club members: Be sure that your calf has not lice. Some of the calves had some lice and you cannot afford to feed lice. Be sure your calf has plenty of good, clean water to drink, and in addition to pasture a good grain ration of corn, oats and bran. We want to make the calf and pig club exhibit at the fair the big feature of the fair, so everyone will have to do his best with his animal.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Model T One Ton Truck is in reality a necessity to the wide awake retail grocer, not only for the economic solution of the delivery problem, but for the bringing of goods from the docks or stations to his place of business, and for traversing the country and bringing in produce. For years the Ford One Ton Truck with its splendid manganese bronze worm-drive, powerful Ford Model T Motor, strong Vanadium steel frame, has been serving in every line of business activity, and we have yet to hear the first complaint as to rear axle trouble or motor trouble. It has the lowest purchase price on the market, and the cost for operating and maintaining is exceedingly small. In fact, the Ford One Ton Truck has become a business necessity. Leave your order with us without delay. We will give you prompt attention and assure you reasonably prompt delivery, and give you an after service that will insure your continuous operation of the Truck.

The most sensible way to invest your money is to keep your property in good condition and to have a home which will make your family comfortable and other buildings which will properly house your belongings.

You get the direct benefit from money invested in this way from day to day, in addition to the actual increase in the value of your property.

There have been some reductions in the price of lumber by the mills and we are reducing our prices to meet these, regardless of the cost of the different items we have in stock.

MAKE it easier to get around and you make healthier and happier communities. No one any longer questions the worth of the automobile — or begrudges any legitimate expense connected with it.

But millions of car owners are rebelling at the idea that running an automobile has got to mean waste.

Every now and then you hear a neighbor complain that "he doesn't seem to have much luck with tires."

Send him to us.

The minute a man begins to question the service his tires are giving him, he's ready to listen to reason.

Our business is built on the principle that the only way to get better tire service is to get better tires to start with.

That's why we have taken the representation for U. S. Tires.

U. S. Tires have a reputation for quality.

Built up through years of creating better tires. Such as the straight axle automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire

It is not by chance that U. S. Tires are made by the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

We are proud to represent U. S. Tires in this community.

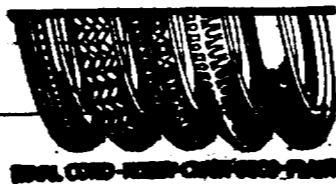

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel:

In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby.

For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Chain or Usco.

For front wheels—The U. S. Plain.

For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Cord.
