

MANY SECTIONS
GROW IN DECADE

Manassas, Prince William County and Eighth District Show
Decided Gains Since 1910.

Prince William is second among the leading counties of the eighth congressional district, which now has a population of 169,714, according to figures just announced by the Census Bureau. The population of the district has increased 10,000 in the decade between 1910 and 1920.

Arlington County (formerly Alexandria) leads in the gain, with an increase of 56.8 per cent, probably due in large measure to the overflow from wartime Washington. The Arlington population has grown from 10,251 to 16,988.

Prince William county has grown from 12,026 to 13,060, an increase of 8.5 per cent, over 1,000 of her 1,600 people being attributable to the Marine Corps Quantico. Her population in 1910 was 11,112. Fairfax county, growing from 20,586 to 21,943, has a net gain of only 6.9 per cent, owing over 1,000 of her gain to Camp A. A. Humphreys within her borders. Loudoun county has a gain of 3.1 per cent, amounting from 16,578 to 17,089 and Stafford shows the small gain of 4 per cent, having grown from 8,070 to 8,404.

All other counties in the district are listed among the losers. King George, having gained about 250 by the Naval Air Station, leads the losers with a gain of 9.7 per cent, dropping from 12,702 to 13,972. Fauquier county, with a gain of 2.9 per cent, fell from 22,526 to 23,200. Loudoun county dropped from 21,537 to 20,577, a loss of 2.8 per cent. Culpeper, with a former population of 13,472, fell to 13,292, a loss of 1.3 per cent, and the neighboring county of Orange has a net loss of 1.3 per cent, the figures registering 13,320 instead of 13,486. The city of Alexandria, however, had a gain of 17.8 per cent, amounting from 15,329 to 18,060.

Manassas has a population of 1,305, as against 1,217 in 1910 and 817 in 1900. The town of Dumfries has grown from 188 to 182. Haymarket suffers a loss, dropping from 162 to 133, and Occoquan is listed likewise, having fallen from 244 to 231. Brentsville, listed for the first time, has a population of 120.

Dumfries district, including Quantico, registers the largest gain of the county, having grown from 1,723 to 2,301. Its population was 1,457 in 1900.

Manassas district has grown from 3,006 in 1900 and 2,381 in 1910 to 3,585. Brentsville district, listed at 1,549 in 1900 and 1,699 in 1910, now has a population of 1,948. Occoquan district has a population of 1,370 in 1910, having fallen to 1,199 in 1910 and a population of 1,200.

Coles and Gainesville districts have lost considerably. Gainesville, with a population of 2,565 in 1900 and 2,609 in 1910, has dropped to 2,359. Coles in the ten years ending in 1910 had grown from 1,385 to 1,415, but in the last decade was reduced to 1,251.

The town of Fairfax has a total population of 516 as against 413 in 1910, while Herndon has 953, compared with 988, and Vienna has 773, compared with 573 in 1910. Clifton has a population of 300.

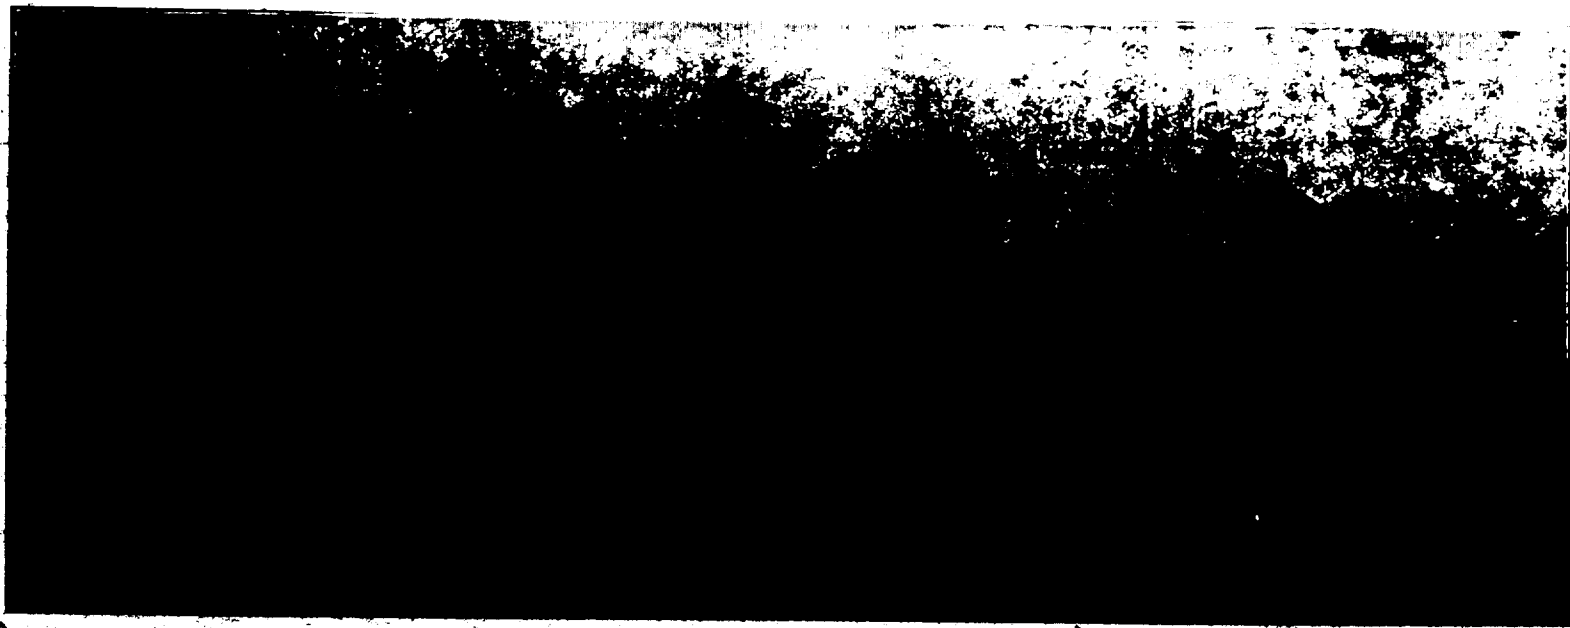

While this preliminary announcement of the Census Bureau is subject to correction, the figures in the main are thought to be correct.

BRIDE-BROTHERS WEDDINGS

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Benhoff, of New York City, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sylvia Helen Benhoff, to Mr. Clarence Robert Meetez, of Manassas. The wedding was quietly celebrated in New York City on Tuesday in the presence of a small company of relatives of the contracting parties.

The bridegroom is the younger son of Hon. C. J. Meetez and Mrs. Meetez. He was a member of the Students' Army Training Corps here at Eastern College during the war and there he met his bride, who was also a student of the college.

The young couple will be at home after August 17 at 1013 Baldwin street, Chester, Pa., where Mr. Meetez is employed.

THE LONG GRANDSTAND COMMANDS A FINE VIEW OF THE RING

MANY EXPECTED TO ATTEND FAIR

Visitors From Far and Near to Be Welcomed in Manassas for Annual Event.

All the countryside is on tiptoe to greet the second annual Prince William Fair next week. With the arrival of Wednesday morning it is expected that a record crowd of visitors will be there to storm the gates. Dusk will begin to fly along the country roads long before breakfast time. Everybody in sight will wear a real Fair smile, which may be interpreted for the three days without further guessing as "Meet me at the Fair!"

Unless all reliable signs have gone into the discard and the usually genuine community pulse has registered a false alarm, there will be meetings without number, for the whole countryside, from the mountains to the sea, will be right there. There will be three full days and nights of education and wholesome fun for every member of the family. The old folks will not be afraid to venture out, for the shady grounds and abundance of restful seats will conserve their strength. The mother of the household will not be afraid to bring the babies and young children, for the Manassas woman's rest room committee has provided amply for their comfort. The men of the family will feel the urge of civic pride and every man's desire to see how his work compares with his neighbors, and no discomfort, minor or major, could keep them away. And the children—well, you will never believe Prince William has such an aggregation of future citizens until you see them at the Fair!

There will be attractions to draw and hold the attention of every visitor. There will be exhibits of agriculture, dairy and beef cattle, swine, sheep, horses, poultry, pigeons and pet stock, every department of household science and domestic manufacture, machinery and manufactures of every description, and of boys' and girls' and home demonstration club work. There will be a real horse show, a grand parade of live stock, amusements of every character and an old-fashioned tournament. Music will be furnished by a twelve-piece colored band. You have your choice—and maybe you'll see it all. You'll want to, anyhow!

All persons who are entered in the ticket selling contest have been requested to report to the secretary as soon as possible after the closing date, tomorrow. If it is not convenient to see him in person mail the receipts of your sales promptly in order that the prizes may be awarded as soon after the close of the contest as possible.

The closing days of the contest promise to be exciting ones for the contestants as a large number of purchasers are waiting until the last day before buying. Rumor has it that Miss Bertha Herring, of Nokesville, is going to give all other contestants the race of their lives for the first prize of $25 and that Miss Maxine Stoeger, of Manassas, is leading the locals with good prospects for second if not first prize. But you never can tell who will be the winner until the finish line is crossed, and every sale will count in the final score.

Admission fees have been reduced to a minimum. Season tickets, good day and night (non-transferable), may be bought for $2. These tickets will admit a vehicle on one day of the fair. Single admission tickets, good day and night, will be 75 cents, and tickets for the night only, 50 cents.

Children's tickets (ten to 15 years included) will be 25 cents, for day or night or both. Children under ten will be admitted free.

Single admissions to the grandstand seats will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children. A grandstand box of six seats for the period of the Fair will be $5. Admission for automobiles or other vehicles will be 50 cents.

The grounds will be well lighted every night and exhibits will remain open to visitors.

And perhaps when the Fair is over you will want to offer your congratulations to Mr. B. Lynn Robertson and Mr. H. W. Sanders, president and secretary of the fair association, and to the many subordinate officials who have devoted themselves unflinchingly in the interest of the exhibition.

TOURNAMENT BALL FRIDAY

Victorious Knight Will Crown Queen of Love and Beauty Here.

An old-fashioned tournament in which knights in gay colors will ride in a spirited contest is a special feature of the final afternoon of the Fair. Mr. Rolfe Robertson, of Haymarket, is in charge of this event. The prizes will be $25, $15, $10 and $5.

At ten o'clock in the evening the victors, accompanied by a host of friends will repair to Conner's Hall in Manassas, where the Queen of Love and Beauty will be crowned at the tournament ball. Music will be furnished by the Meyer Davis orchestra from the Willard Hotel in Washington. Admission cards will be sold to gentlemen at $2 each.

The chaperons will be: Mr. and Mrs. B. Lynn Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond Hatcliffe, Dr. and Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ransdell, Dr. and Mrs. W. Fowell Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lyon and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Giddings.

MR. WAGENER OPENS OFFICE

Says Rapid Development in Sight
Makes Prince William a Good Field.

Mr. Clarence W. Wagener has opened real estate offices in the Wagener building near the railway, making his announcement to the public in this issue of The Journal. Mr. Wagener is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wagener, of Manassas, and a native of the town. He was graduated from Manassas High School in 1908 and four years later was a graduate of the University of Virginia. He edited the Manassas Journal in 1915 and 1916 and since that time has been engaged in advertising and sales promotion work for the Allen Motor Company, of Columbus, Ohio. A few years ago he completed a short course in agriculture at Cornell University.

"Northern Virginia has been selected as my field of operation on account of the many inducements it offers the home seeker and farmer, who are looking into the future when this portion of the state will be much more highly developed," Mr. Wagener said. "It is a growing country, and as such is attracting the most desirable type of citizenship."

Mr. Wagener will be joined here later by Mrs. Wagener and their baby daughter, Miss Marguerite Wagener, who are spending the summer with Mrs. Wagener's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George J. Russell, of Marshall.

WATERFALL CLUB

(Nonie Gosson, Reporter)
The Waterfall Agricultural and Home Economics Club met at the school house Saturday, July 17. Miss Gilbert, our home demonstration agent, was present and exhibited the county club banner and gave the girls a lesson in bread making.

We decided to have an ice cream social August 6 to raise money to go to the Fair. We had the social and cleared a small sum, so we expect to be there.

BIG LOSS FROM LIGHTNING

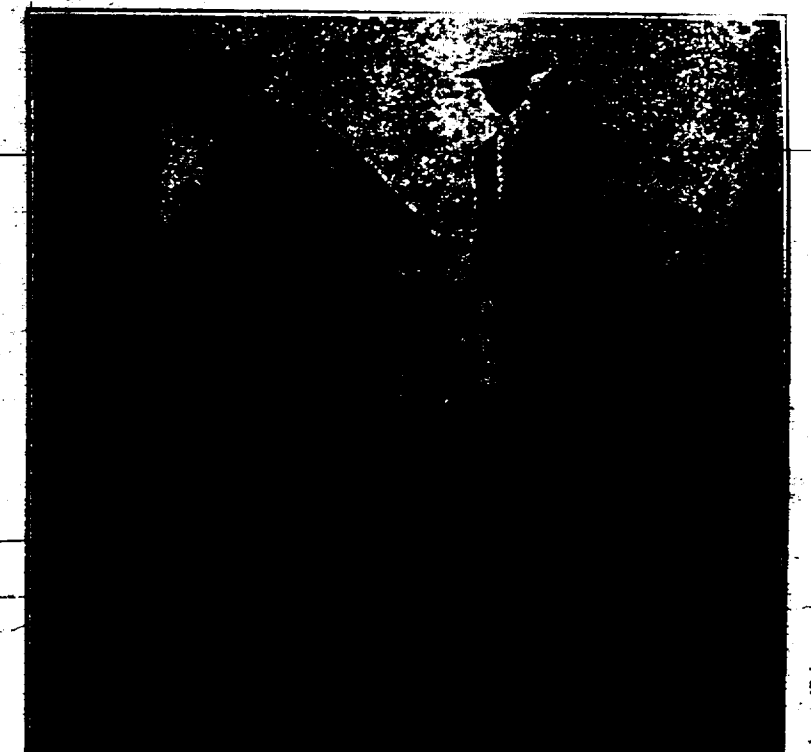

The barn, ice house and dairy on the farm of Mr. McKay, near Bristow, were struck by lightning yesterday afternoon and completely destroyed. The barn is said to have contained 60 tons of hay and 50 bushels of wheat. Mr. McKay purchased the farm a year ago from Dr. F. L. Smith.

(W. B. Bullock, Superintendent)
The management of the horse department does not hesitate to say that the horse show feature of the Fair is expected to equal any exhibition on the Virginia circuit this year. Entries have continued to arrive since the first issue of the catalogue and all indications point to a highly successful show. The management of this department, including the valued assistants, Messrs. George Herring and E. E. Hale, of Nokesville, has spared no effort to make it so. The horse show will be in progress all three days of the Fair.

Other exhibitors are: Miss Flora M. Bullock, Manassas; Mrs. W. B. Bullock, Manassas; W. M. Buckley, Haymarket; Walter M. Crunden, Middleburg; J. F. Cokerille, Nokesville; John W. Waller, The Plains; Samuel Fitzwater, Nokesville; A. F. Wardell, Rectortown; C. V. ...

Hazen, Washington and Nokesville; Spencer Halsey, Middleburg; H. W. Herring and Sons, Nokesville; S. L. Larrabee, Warrenton, and Mrs. D. N. Lee, Middleburg. A striking feature of the exhibition will be the Roman races in which army horses from Fort Myer will take part, one man riding four horses back-to-back. Among the officers and men who will accompany the Fort Myer

BRILLIANT EVENT SCHEDULED

Manassas Yegger Set Will Hold
Dance at Conner's Hall Thursday.

The old dance club has been able to secure Seideman's celebrated orchestra for a dance to be held at Conner's Hall on Thursday of Fair week. This affair promises to be one of the biggest and most attractive social events ever held in Manassas and a large and brilliant out-of-town assemblage is expected to attend. The main attraction of the evening will be a selection of five pieces of music, including a saxophone, from the orchestras of the Hotel Shoreham and Wardman Park Inn, the most exclusive hotels of Washington.

The hall is to be profusely decorated with orange blossoms and palms, which will give a distinct and pleasing tropical effect.

The committee in charge is composed of Messrs. Gilbert E. Spies, J. Carl Kincheloe, John L. Hynson, Howard W. Jamison, Paul S. Williams, Peyton B. Larkin, Laurence W. Walton and Charles R. ...

BRETHREN MEETING CONTINUES

Bradley Services Begin at Close of Series at Cannon Branch.

(Contributed)
After an interesting and inspiring evangelistic effort at Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren, Rev. I. J. Gibson, of Girard, Ill., closed his services Saturday evening. From evening to evening he proclaimed the message of salvation with forcefulness and, as a direct result of his efforts, fourteen were brought into a saved relationship with their God.

Rev. Mr. Gibson is now at Springs, Pa., helping to advance the cause of Christ there by preaching the Word.

Yes would enjoy attending the evangelistic services which began yesterday at the Bradley Church of the Brethren. Rev. Mr. Showalter presents the message with undoubted power and is welcomed each night by a well filled church house. He will speak for a few nights on the subject of "Why I Am a Member of the Church of the Brethren."

The services will continue the remainder of this week and next. You are welcome. Come.

GROVETON CLUB MEETS

Gather and Can Blackberries and Have Lessons in Bread Making.

(Edna Kidwell, Secretary)
The Willing Workers of Groveton public school had a very enjoyable time Thursday morning. When Miss Gilbert arrived at Groveton it was ten o'clock and she gave us a lesson in breadmaking and a lesson in canning.

About twelve o'clock we went black-berrying. We got enough to fill two quart jars. After we canned our berries, ice cream was served by the vice-president, Miss Katherine Harrover.

In the afternoon we had our meeting with four members present. Those who were present were: Miss Edna Kidwell, Miss Katherine Harrover, Mr. David Harrover and Miss Rena Rittenour. Those who were not present cannot imagine what they have missed.

A called meeting of the Alumni Association of Manassas High School will be held at the home of the president, Miss Ruth Smith, this evening at 8 o'clock.

A Word From the Mayor
TO THE CITIZENS OF MANASSAS:
The Street Committee having been especially instructed to clean up the streets in the town on Monday and Tuesday, August 16 and 17, the citizens are also requested to co-operate in a general clean-up of their premises and make the town most attractive and inviting to the visitors who may attend our county Fair.

OUR FAIR

The dawn of August 13 will usher in the first of the gala days of the Prince William Fair—a bigger, better, broader, brighter and more attractive exhibition than our initial venture last year and one that bids fair to set a mark for future effort.

Prince William has everything necessary to the staging of such an exhibition. The management, many members of which saw their first experience in launching last year's fair, has supervised arrangements in a masterly way, leaving no stone unturned in their effort to make the Fair an event long to be remembered. Prince William produces prize winners in every department and entries would indicate that Prince William folk are not afraid to put their products to the test.

Although the contest is open to all our neighbors, it is natural to expect that Prince William will furnish the greater percentage of exhibitors—and it is natural to hope that Prince William will capture a major share of the laurels.

What the Fair means to the county, from an agricultural standpoint, from an educational standpoint and from a social standpoint, only a progressive population is able to estimate. If you have labored for the Fair, each in your own separate sphere, regardless of its limits, nothing can mar its success.

THE POETRY CORNER

An old favorite recited from the school platform many times perhaps in the recollection of every reader of the Journal holds the place of honor in the poetry corner today. Yes, you have guessed it right away—it is surely the ever popular, "Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight." The author is Rosa Hartwick Thorpe, whose name has hardly attained the fame of her poem. The poem, which followed, was submitted for publication as the favorite of Mr. Mason Mayhugh, of Haymarket:

Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight.

England's sun was slowly setting
 O'er the hills so far away,
 Filling all the land with beauty,
 At the close of one sad day,
 And the last rays kissed the forehead

Of a man and maiden fair,
 He with step so slow and weakened,
 She with sunny, floating hair,
 He with sad, bowed head, and thoughtful,

She with lips so cold and white,
 Struggling to keep back the murmur,
 "Curfew must not ring tonight."

"Sexton," Bessie's white lips faltered,
 Pointing to the prison old,
 With its walls so dark and gloomy—
 Walls so dark and damp and cold—

"I've a lover in that prison,
 Doomed this very night to die
 At the ringing of the curfew,
 And no earthly help is nigh.

Cromwell will not come till sunset,"
 And her face grew strangely white,
 As she spoke in husky whispers,
 "Curfew must not ring tonight."

"Bessie," calmly spoke the sexton—
 Every word pierced her young heart
 Like a thousand gleaming arrows,
 Like a deadly poisoned dart—

"Long, long years I've rung the curfew
 From the gloomy, shadowed tower,
 Every evening just at sunset,
 It has told the twilight hour;

I have done my duty ever,
 Tried to do it just and right,
 Now I'm old I will not miss it;
 Gilt, the curfew rings tonight!"

Wild, her eyes and pale her features,
 Stern and white her thoughtful
 brow,
 And within her heart's deep centre,
 Bessie made a solemn vow;

She had listened while the judge
 Read, without a tear or sigh,
 "At the ringing of the curfew,
 Basil Underwood must die."

And her breath came fast and faster,
 And her eyes grew large and bright—
 One low murmur, scarcely spoken—
 "Curfew must not ring tonight!"

She with light step bounded forward,
 Sprang within the old church door,
 Left the old man coming slowly
 Paths he's trod so oft before;

Not one moment paused the maiden,
 But with cheek and brow aglow,
 Staggered up the gloomy tower,
 Where the bell swung to and fro;

Then she climbed the slimy ladder,
 "Dark without one ray of light,
 Upward still, her pale lips saying:
 "Curfew shall not ring tonight."

She has reached the topmost ladder,
 O'er her hands the great dark bell,
 And she has struck beneath her

See, the ponderous tongue is swinging,
 'Tis the hour of curfew now,
 And the sight has chilled her bosom,
 Stopped her breath and paled her
 brow.

Shall she let it ring? No, never!
 Her eyes flash with sudden light
 As she springs and grasps it firmly—
 "Curfew shall not ring tonight."

Out she swung, far out, the city
 Seemed a tiny speck below;
 There, 'twixt heaven and earth suspended,

As the bell swung to and fro;
 And the half-deaf sexton, ringing
 (Years he had not heard the bell),
 And he thought the twilight curfew

Rang young Basil's funeral knell;
 Still the maiden clinging firmly,
 Cheek and brow so pale and white,
 Stilled her frightened heart's wild beating—

"Curfew shall not ring tonight."
 It was o'er, the bell ceased swaying,

And the maiden stepped once more
 Firmly on the damp old ladder,
 Where for hundred years before
 Human foot had not been planted;

And what she this night had done
 Should be told in long years after—
 As the rays of setting sun
 Light the sky with mellow beauty,
 Aged aires with heads of white
 Tell their children why the curfew
 Did not ring that one sad night.

O'er the distant hills came Cromwell;
 Bessie saw him, and her brow,
 Lately white with sickening terror,
 Glows with sudden beauty now;

At his feet she told her story,
 Showed her hands all bruised and torn;

And her sweet young face so haggard,
 With a look so sad and worn,
 Touched his heart with sudden pity—
 Lit his eyes with misty light;

"Go, your lover lives!" cried Cromwell,
 "Curfew shall not ring tonight!"

BLUE RIDGE VETS TO HOLD REUNION

Residents of State Capital Prepare to Accord Them a Rousing Welcome.

The first annual reunion of the Eightieth (Blue Ridge) Division in Richmond, September 4, 5 and 6, following immediately after the American Legion state convention which begins on September 2, will offer World War veterans of the Old Dominion unusual opportunities for spending a vacation with dugout buddies at a minimum cost and one in which practically every city organization is co-operating in an effort to add to the entertainment of the veterans.

Women's organizations of Richmond and Petersburg, headed by Mrs. G. T. W. Kern, chairman of the women's committee for the Welcome Home celebration, have taken over the work of arranging the mammoth ball and reception with which the reunion will be closed, and at which Mrs. Christine Miller Clemens, the nationally known soloist, who devoted much time toward entertaining the Eightieth Division while it was training at Camp Lee, will attend. The women also are to provide the lunches to be served all veterans at Camp Lee on Saturday afternoon, September 4, when the picnic and reunions of small groups are to be held.

In addition to the activity shown by women's organizations toward making the first reunion one long to be remembered by those attending, civic organizations have provided for the decoration of the city, the use of the City Auditorium for the reunion meetings, and otherwise are co-operating with the general committee, which has secured use of the armories for billeting the men and feeding them at small cost, and for securing reduced railway rates to Richmond.

Numerous families, both in Richmond and Petersburg, that entertained Eightieth Division soldiers in their homes during the training period, plan to have them again during the reunion, and have asked that they be notified of probable attendance, while one Richmond officer expects to entertain in his home every member of the company in which he served. The "Salute and Ride" rule will be in vogue during the convention week, motorists giving all veterans a lift upon the salute signal. More than one hundred automobiles already have been promised the committee for use at Camp Lee, and special trains will take the visitors there on Saturday.

Several thousand veterans of the Blue Ridge Division in Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania already have expressed their intention of attending the reunion and many will observe the week of August 8 to 14 as "Write Your Buddy Week," confident that many other men can be gathered together for the reunion.

Each man has been asked to write his Buddy, whether the lasting friendship was made in the barracks or in the trenches, and to urge him to journey to Richmond for the reunion. There will be a renewal of old friendships, the swapping of stories and experiences, and a resurrection of that comradeship that existed among the men of the Eightieth while they were in action.

"No matter whether your Buddy lives in West Virginia, Pennsylvania or the Old Dominion, write him and urge him to meet you in Richmond," the veterans are told. "Perhaps your letter will be the one thing that will bring him to Richmond, where as much time as possible will be given for unit reunions. Tell him also that arrangements may be made for you two to bunk together, and when he remembers the old days surely he will come along. The expenses while in Richmond, through the arrangements being made by the reunion committee, will be next to nothing to those who cannot afford an expensive trip, for $5 will cover their expenses for the three days they are in the city."

Second only in importance to the permanent organization of the Eightieth Division Veterans' Association, which will be completed at the business meeting on September 6, will be the election of one-half of the Executive Council, which is composed of eight members. Four will be elected this year and four at the next reunion. One member of the Council will be elected this year from Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and a fourth at large.

Stuart Gibson, vice-chairman of the chapter, presided over the meeting.

THE INCREASED RATES

The interstate commerce commission recently handed down a formal decision authorizing railroads to increase freight, passenger and Pullman rates approximately $1,500,000,000 annually. The same authorization was given to interurban lines and certain passenger and freight steamship trade. The increased rates will add approximately $3,080,000,000 to commodity prices generally, according to the economic principle laid down by former Rail Director Walker D. Hines, who declared that freight rate increases are reflected from three to five-fold in commodity prices. Railroad officials contradict this saying the reflection will be less than two-fold.

How Increased Rates Are Divided.
 Freight rates—Eastern territory, 40 per cent; western territory, 35 per cent; southern territory, 25 per cent.
 Passenger rates—All lines, including interurban, 20 per cent.
 Pullman rates—50 per cent surcharge to go to the railroad and not to the Pullman company.
 Estimated total increase is $1,500,000,000. This will mean $3,000,000,000 added to commodity prices generally, according to principles involved. These rates are effective five days after the roads have filed a report with the commission and until March 31, 1922.

RED CROSS NURSE CLOSURES WORK HERE

Miss Drake's Resignation to Be Effective September 1—Nursing Classes Over.

Miss Audrey V. Drake, Red Cross public health nurse for Prince William county since September of last year, tendered her resignation to the nursing committee and left last week on her vacation. Her resignation is effective September 1.

Miss Drake recently completed the instruction of two classes in home hygiene at Bethel and Catharpin and a dental clinic was in progress.

Those who took the nursing course at Bethel were: Mrs. Mellie Dewey, Mrs. Josephine Davis, Mrs. Eva Fairbanks, Mrs. Annie Calvert, Mrs. Ro-villa Dewey, Mrs. Daisy Fairbanks and Misses Eva L. Kidwell, Nancy Edson, Mary Pearson, Audrey Calvert, Aline Davis, Mabel Fairbanks, Mae Hill, Mildred Harrell and Lulu Reynolds.

The Catharpin class was composed of Mrs. Freddie Harrover, Mrs. Fred-rica Spencer, Mrs. Sue Swart, Mrs. ica Spencer, Mrs. Sue Swart, Mrs. Hulda Collins, Mrs. Lottie Moss, Mrs. Maggie Hundley, Mrs. Annie L. Col-lins and Miss Mattie Matthew.

About seventy children had received dental attention during the dental clinic which began May 4. Dr. V. V. Gillum and Dr. L. F. Hough, Manassas dentists, having set aside an after-noon each week for the free treatment of children who were unable to pay for the work. In addition to prophyl-axia and numerous extractions of temporary teeth 168 permanent fill-ings had been completed by the den-tists, according to records kept by the nurse.

Although many counties in the state have attempted such a program in the follow-up work after medical inspec-tion, Prince William is the only coun-ty whose dentists offered or agreed to do the work free of charge where chil-dren's teeth needed attention and pa-rents were unable to pay for it.

Special Notice To Farmers

One of the most important things ever done by the Agricultural Experiment Station of North Carolina was a test to determine if National Hog Remedy has any value to the Farmer. A bulletin issued about June first tells that in a series of tests some figures were brought out that are startling.

Fifteen pigs of similar weight were bought for a test that was continued at the Raleigh test farm 88 days. One lot of these pigs were given National Hog Remedy and another lot was given the same feed but no remedy.

In the lot where the National Hog Remedy was given the hogs gained .70 of a pound each. In the lot where nothing was given but the feed the hogs gained only .47 of a pound.

Two hogs on National Hog Remedy increased in weight on the same ration as much as three hogs did without it.

Furthermore this test showed and stated that by using National Hog Remedy a saving was realized of approximately $9.00 on each hundred pounds increase in live weight.

National Hog Remedy is sold by all dealers at One Dollar a package. In case your dealer cannot supply you kindly send us your name and we will see you get it. We do not use a filler to enlarge the package and we use high grade chemicals only.

WOMEN EXHIBITORS BUSY

THEIR CANNED GOODS AND COOKERY WILL MAKE YOU LONG FOR DINNER TIME AND THEIR NEEDLEWORK WILL MAKE YOU WANT TO LEARN.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, Superintendent Boys' and Girls' Club Work and Home Demonstration Work.)

Just a few more days and our Second Annual Fair will open. The management of the department for women and girls is working hard to make this feature a great success. Without your help it will be a failure, and with your help success is assured. We look to you.

Be sure to attend the Fair and see what the boys and girls and women are doing. You will enjoy it, and you will enjoy it doubly if you exhibit, so don't fail to get your exhibits in.

The biggest bread contest ever put over in Northern Virginia is expected. Will you help to make it so? Women and girls who have not yet planned to enter the contest are urged to think it over.

Bake your bread on Monday, August 16, and bring it in to the Fair on Tuesday. The bread contest will be the first thing taken up by the judges, so it is important for you to bring your exhibit before the opening day of the Fair.

Don't forget that there are opportunities for girls and women not doing demonstration work to win prize awards. See Department G of the Fair catalogue. Among the coveted prizes is a half barrel of flour offered by Mr. W. C. Aylor, of Millford Mills, for the best loaf of bread made from White Loaf flour. Any woman or girl in the county may compete for this award.

Women and girls engaged in demonstration work should enter the contests of Department H. Be sure to make this contest a success. No special kind of yeast is required for this work.

Get busy and be one to help put over a successful contest. Women who are especially interested in gardening have a splendid opportunity at this time to interest others in the value of good gardens. Show your products. Department H gives an opportunity for all to make garden entries. In selecting your exhibits don't forget that uniformity in shape and size counts many points. Don't pick for the largest beets, carrots, turnips, etc., but get those that are uniform.

Be sure to exhibit your canned goods. While it is early in the year for this line of exhibits, a most creditable exhibit can be worked up. See that your goods are in the exhibition hall at the Fair grounds before sundown on Tuesday.

Prince William county leads the state this year. Ours is the first fair in the state. Let's make it one of the best.

In the poultry department, Department F, you will find the section and class for your poultry. Don't think for a minute that because the chickens are not well developed it is not worth while to enter them. Just remember that no one has chickens in fine shape at this time of the year.

Classes are open for both cock and hen and cockerel and pullet. Boys and girls are urged to show their birds. First year club members are expected to show cockerel and pullet. Second year members will show cock and hen and one dozen eggs. Third and fourth year members will be expected to exhibit four hens and cock in pen; also four pullets and cockerel in pen and two dozen eggs.

Boys and girls, help make this department one of the best in the Fair. Smooth out the feathers and give the birds a little special attention.

Section one of Department G is devoted to domestic art. Bring out your sewing, crocheting, knitting and embroidery, and see how your work compares with your neighbors'. Some handsome prizes are offered in this department.

And now a word of encouragement to the canning and sewing club girls: It is early for your canning exhibits, but do your level best. Get the exhibits you have in good shape. Remember you are to put your name and the name of your club on your exhibit. See how nicely you can do this. Get your sewing in good shape; press it out nicely on the wrong side and fold it neatly so that no creases will be folded in. Be careful to launder your caps nicely. And be sure to get everything in on time.

Interesting features demonstrating methods of canning, sewing, etc., may be seen in the agricultural hall each day. Don't fail to see these. Ask questions and get the full benefit of them.

A comfortably equipped rest room will be annexed to the agricultural hall. Here women will find a place to check packages, look after the children and get a good rest when tired out.

Every one gets hungry. Don't fail to remember the rest room committee for Prince William county will have a booth in the exhibition hall and will be ready to serve all who care to patronize them. Lunch will be served quickly and right in the hall.

Come to the Fair every day. Bring your neighbors. And bring your exhibits Tuesday, August 17.

MIDWAY OFFERS THRILLS

WILD MAN FROM BORNEO, CHIEF WHITE CLOUD, COMMODORE TOM, THE MONKEY FAMILY AND CHAMPION WRESTLER WILL HELP TO ENTERTAIN.

(J. P. Lyon, Superintendent of Midway)

The midway this year promises to excel in every feature the midway of last year's exhibition. The Flying Moores, John Reh's circus side show, Commodore Tom, the educated pony, Harry Bartino's jungle band of the happy monkey family, the Wild Man from Borneo and his boa constrictor and the Oriental Girls are only a few of the attractions scheduled.

The Flying Moores will give a sensational aerial trapeze performance daily. John Reh's circus side show will introduce Welch, a man who mystifies and baffles the entire world, escaping from handcuffs, chains, ropes and straight jackets in front of your own eyes.

Chief White Cloud, a full-blooded Iroquois, will give Indian songs and dances and a mystic Indian magician will puzzle and mystify you with the cunning of his race. Reh's performing doves will charm you with their clever stunts.

Commodore Tom, the educated pony, will perform wonderful tricks, such as picking out colors, playing the chimes, dancing the tango, kneeling down to say his prayers and climbing in bed and covering himself up.

In addition to Harry Bartino's jungle band of the monkey family the monkey gentleman will have his pet pup and there will be other animals of all kinds, including bears, lions and tigers.

The Wild Man from Borneo will exhibit his pet boa constrictor, eleven feet long, associating with this terrible monster from the African jungle with the same friendly abandon which might be expected with a pet dog.

Robert Lee will meet all comers in his athletic arena, wrestling or boxing. Any one who stays five minutes will receive a cash reward.

The plantation show is composed of famous colored singers and dancers who have played all the larger theatres and fairs throughout the United States and Canada.

The Oriental Girls are a clever troupe of dancing beauties, who will entertain you from the moment you enter the canvas. Their program will include a mighty clever exhibition of the snake dance and the Hawaiian moonlight dance.

Pain's famous fireworks will be shown every night. This is a wonderful exhibition, the same fireworks being shown at the state fair and all other large fairs throughout the United States.

A merry-go-round, tango swings and ferris wheel and forty other attractions that will surely please make up the week's program for the midway. Meet me there.

BIG AGRICULTURAL SHOW

NEXT WEEK'S EXHIBITION TO EXCEL IN EVERY RESPECT THE FIRST PRINCE WILLIAM AGRICULTURAL SHOW—MANY PRIZES OFFERED.

(J. M. Kane, Superintendent Agricultural Department)

If every Prince William farmer does his bit, we will have a great agricultural show. Everything is in full swing for the opening day of the Fair and we are looking forward to one of the greatest exhibits in the history of a Virginia fair. This is your fair. Bring your exhibits and see what your neighbors have produced.

The prizes in the agricultural department will be offered in a large array of classes under six divisions, the largest of which carries thirty-seven classes. These sections are (1) products of a single farm, (2) corn, (3) small grain, (4) forage crops, (5) potatoes and (6) vegetables.

The special award which many fair adherents in Prince William hope to see captured by a Prince William exhibitor is a handsome silver cup offered by Mr. B. Lynn Robertson, president of the fair association and president of the Manassas Feed and Milling Company, for the best exhibit of products of a single farm. This contest, which carries in addition to the cup first honors amounting to $40 and three other prizes for second, third and fourth awards, is open to farmers from any section of Virginia or adjoining states. In such a competition this silver cup will be a trophy much to be desired.

If you neglected to get your entry in before the time expired, select some of that great big corn on the stalk, some of your fine grain, either in sheaf or threshed, or both, and some fine bundles or bales of select hay. Then how about some of those fine vegetables—cabbage, beets, tomatoes, beans, peas, onions, etc.? Any fine samples of garden products should be exhibited. Then there are those large pumpkins, squash, cucumbers and many other fine specimens of your truck garden.

While it is a little early for some varieties of apples, be sure to bring the best of every variety you have.

Exhibits should be on the Fair grounds as early as possible on Tuesday, the 17th.

Fair visitors were unanimous in commending the fine agricultural exhibit last year. Indications are that last year's exhibit was only the shadow of the complete and gratifying exhibition promised next week.

MANY CATTLE ENTERED

(J. J. Conner, Superintendent Cattle Department)

A feature of the second annual exhibition of the Prince William Fair, and one which was rendered conspicuous by its absence last year, is the very creditable list of entries in the beef cattle department. Special stalls have been provided for the large beef animals which will be on exhibition. Among the exhibitors in this department are the Byers Brothers, of Harrisonburg, Gatewood and Glascock, and Mitchell Harrison. Prince William will also be represented by a number of exhibitors, such as Miss Emily Glascock, M. L. Soutter, A. L. Emmons and B. L. Robertson.

Owing to the fact that this section of Virginia is particularly adapted to the dairy industry, it would be natural to expect that entries in this department would be well filled. This is the case. Entries just closed show that all of the 160 stalls provided for dairy cattle will be occupied this year as compared with the sixty stalls of last year. The largest single entry in this department is that of Hooker and Appleton, of Nokesville, consisting of forty-three registered Holsteins. These animals will be sold at public auction on the Fair grounds on the second day of the Fair. Other entries of dairy cattle vary in size from one or two animals to twenty-two, the last number being that of the entries of Clover Hill Farm. Don't fail to see this show herd of Jerseys as well as the Holsteins. We regret that limited space prevents the publication of a complete list of the exhibitors in this as well as other departments. This list, however, will appear in the official program of the Fair and Horse Show and can be obtained on the grounds during the three days of the Fair.

NO WONDER HE'S A PROUD BIRD

A mighty proud looking bird, isn't he? Experts assert that roosters as good should head every flock. Specialists assert it is easily possible to double the production of eggs and meat by raising better birds and giving them care. To encourage this much emphasis is being given the poultry show to be held at the Prince William Fair, Manassas, Va., Aug. 13 to 20.

INSTRUCTIONS TO EXHIBITORS

When you bring your entries to the Fair be sure that the Superintendent of the Department in which the animal or article is exhibited has included all your entries on the entry tag. The entry tag will have a duplicate with the heading "Prince William Fair Property Check." This tag will be given you as a receipt for your entries. Keep it and bring it with you at the close of the Fair when the exhibits are returned to their owners, which will be Saturday, August 21. This does not apply to entries in the Horse Department.

Sometimes exhibitors bring more articles to be entered than are listed on their original entry blank. This should never be done unless the entry is recorded with the secretary. Do not wait until Wednesday morning to bring your entries to the grounds. Three days is a very short period for holding any fair and it is essential, in this case, that everything be in place and ready for inspection of visitors early Wednesday morning. Watchmen will be on duty Tuesday night to protect your property.

Look over your catalog once more before bringing articles to the Fair and be sure that you have arranged them in the proper form, or that you are bringing the required number or amount of the articles required in the class in which they are entered. The proper observation of these simple points will greatly facilitate the arrangement of exhibits and enable the superintendents to keep accurate and complete records in their respective departments.

BOYS' CLUB EXHIBIT

(W. L. Browning, Superintendent)

While at the Fair be sure to see the dairy calf club exhibit, and if you will inquire we can tell you some gains these boys and girls have made on their calves that will open your eyes.

We will have in this department seventeen highly bred pure-bred Holstein calves that have been on feed and records kept since May 7. These calves will compete for a silver cup offered by the Southern Planter and $50 in prizes offered by the fair association. Look us up and see if you do not want one of your boys or girls to have one another year.

We will also have a pig club exhibit consisting of Berkshire and Duroc pigs. These pigs are all of late farrows and have not the size we would like to have on them to show at the Fair. In this class we will have some close competition, as in the Duroc class all the pigs were obtained about the same time, and all of the members being good feeders we will exhibit a class of very uniform pigs.

We will have among the club members this year a stock judging team that will go to the Richmond fair and compete for prizes and also compete for a trip to Atlanta and to England. This team will do some judging the second day of the Fair. Classes of all kinds of animals to be judged at the Richmond fair will be selected from our entries and a judging contest will be conducted by several competent judges.

Notice to Calf Club Members.—Get your calves out of the pasture at once and put them in the barn where they can be protected from flies and well bedded and where you can get them gentle so they can be handled. Spend a few minutes morning and evening in getting them curried and brushed. You will want them to get used to eating good hay instead of breaking them in at the Fair.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT NEWS

(J. H. Dodge, Superintendent)

In spite of the fact that the fair is held at a time when poultry is in an unfavorable condition for show purposes, exhibits in this department are well filled and poultry breeders and fanciers are promised an opportunity to see a representative variety of the popular breeds. This is as it should be, even under the adverse circumstances, as the poultry industry is rapidly growing in popularity among the farmers and housewives of the county.

The Association wishes to announce that the prizes which will be awarded for pens of birds at the fair will be $3, $2 and $1. Through an oversight in making up the premium list, the first prize was stated as $1, the entry fee being the same amount, which made it impossible for exhibitors to profit by making entries in these classes.

MANY SHEEP EXPECTED

(R. L. Lewis, Superintendent Sheep Department)

It is the primary purpose of the Fair to foster the development of all the useful breeds and classes of live stock. For this reason, it is gratifying to note that more interest is being evidenced in the breeding and exhibition of sheep. This department shows a greater percentage of increase in entries than any other department of the Fair and will, in a moderate way, serve as an index to the progress of the sheep industry in the county. Look for the sheep at the Fair and determine that you will help to make this department larger next year.

THE NEW DE LAVAL

THE worth of a separator depends very largely upon its bowl. A separator bowl must be scientifically designed, properly constructed and perfectly balanced or it will not only lose some cream to begin with, but will soon get out of balance and lose a great deal more cream, besides wearing out the bearings and gears in a short time. That is why the average life of a cheap separator is only two or three years.

The bowl of the NEW De Laval is self-centering

The new De Laval bowl is so constructed and so balanced upon its detached spindle that it will run true and do perfect work even after the machine has been in use for a long time.

The De Laval bowl has always been noted for its close glancing under all conditions, but the new De Laval patented milk-distributing device, together with the larger discs, makes the new De Laval bowl an even closer skimmer than the old one and gives considerably greater capacity into the bargain.

The new De Laval bowl has been called by people who ought to know, "the greatest improvement in cream separator construction in the last thirty years."

Come in and see one of the new machines. We'll be glad to explain it to you in all its details, and we know you will be impressed in examining the new bowl, the ball speed-indicator, and the many other improvements.

OVERLAND MAKES ANOTHER RECORD

Light-Weight Car Completes Ocean to Ocean Journey on $39 Worth of Gas.

Across the United States, 3,442 miles from New York to San Francisco, with an average of 27.2 miles to a gallon of gasoline! Twenty-five different drivers handled the car.

That's the new trans-continental economy record established on Monday morning, July 26th, when the Overland "How Much Gas" car found the end of its trail before the Overland in Van Ness avenue, San Francisco.

The run was started from 50th street and Broadway, New York, at midnight, July 18th. Just 179 hours or roughly 7 1/4 days, this light-weight car had completed one of the most interesting and unusual trans-continental journeys in recent automobile history. Eleven States crossed, all their variety of rough country roads, broken mountain trails, stretches of mud and weary wastes of desert-land; yet the car arrived in San Francisco ready and fit to make return trip.

This great record is all the more remarkable because of the conditions of this economy test. Spanning the continent has usually been a contest against time. The Overland run was set against high costs of gas, oil, and upkeep.

The object of the run was to determine a national standard of economy for the light-weight car, a class in which the Overland has created a sensation because of its many new features, including the duplex springs, designed to ward off the jars and jolts of the roughest roads and thus prolong the life of the car while protecting passengers from usual road discomforts.

These days of increasing talk about the scarcity of gasoline, the Overland record of 27.2 miles to the gallon of gas in a continuous night-day punishing drive of 3,442 miles, not fail to have a pocket-deep interest for every man and woman who owns a motor car. This run establishes the light-weight Overland as not alone for its economy in city traffic but for its combination of economy and economy in the most severe test that could be devised.

The Overland record was not made by experienced drivers, selected by lottery. The company wishes to find out what the car could do under the best conditions of operation. Accordingly, each distributor and dealer in the territory was crossed furnished a driver. There were good drivers and bad; men who saved the car and men who punished it.

In crossing the eleven states on the route this Overland was driven by 25 different men, none of whom had ever seen or handled the car before it arrived in the town where they were told to meet it. Thus the average of 27.2 miles to the gallon becomes a measure of performance for the ordinary man's ability in driving, rather than what record trained crews of experts might have accomplished.

Night and day, this Overland was always westward. The car was stopped only for the refilling of the gasoline tank and change of drivers. On the sides of the car were printed the words: "Overland Economy Run. New York to San Francisco. How Much Gas?" The question: How Much Gas? started a guessing contest throughout the United States. Wherever the car there was an enthusiastic reason for the new light-car standard.

Throughout the run the most careful check was kept of the gasoline and consumed. Study of the log of the car indicates that this Overland was giving in performance all the way to the continent. There was a variety in the weather for drivers—cloudy, fair, warm, hot, cold and rain. The averages between legs tell a consistent performance that a year ago would have been considered an incredible motor car performance.

Pittsburgh, Pa., to Lima, O., averaged 28.7 miles to a gallon. Cedar Rapids, Ia., over sand and ordinary dirt roads, the car averaged 30.4 to the gallon. From Cheyenne, Neb., to Cheyenne, Wyo., stretch that tests the heart of any car, the average was 27.2 to the gallon. There were miles of second speed work on heavy sand.

Cheyenne, Wyo., to Rock Springs, Wyo., the Economy Car averaged 32.8 miles to the gallon. The state of Nevada, always a cross-country drivers' nightmare because of the terrific grades to be pulled, but the car averaged 27.2 miles to the gallon. From Reno, Nev., to a strong head-

CLIFTON

Rev. Thomas MacLeod preached a splendid sermon Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church on the Savior's three miracles of healing, giving graphic pictures of the healing of the mother of Peter's wife, the blind man by the wayside and the leper. The Civic League met at the home of Mrs. Mantiply Friday evening with a large attendance. Ice cream and cake were sold.

The Red Wing Club went on a weekend expedition to their camp on Bull Run. There were more than thirty in the party, including Mrs. Upp and Mrs. Poindexter, chaperones, with Mr. Upp as manager of the boys' club.

Among the Sunday visitors to the camp were Mr. and Mrs. Sauber, Miss Xenia Holmes, Mr. Swen Elgin and Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Miss Xenia Holmes is visiting in the neighborhood.

Mrs. M. E. Quigg and Mrs. R. E. Buckley left Wednesday for a trip of several weeks, including visits to Wilmington, Del.; Philadelphia, Reading, Parkersburg, Norristown, Harrisburg and other places in Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Adams are expecting a visit from their son, Mr. Charles Adams, who has been in the Navy since war was declared, visiting foreign waters and many foreign countries.

HAYMARKET

"Ignorance" was the topic of Rev. Edward Taber's sermon on Sunday at the Baptist Church. "There are a great many enemies with which the human race has to deal," Rev. Mr. Taber declared. "Sin, disease, weakness, are among these. But one of the greatest enemies of the world is the enemy of ignorance. Until ignorance is dethroned war, famine and pestilence will be the rule rather than the exception."

"Ignorance distorts," he continued. "It makes men pursue shadows instead of things that are worth while. Education is not an enemy of the church; education is her friend."

"It is perhaps true that a great many scientists of today have little or no faith in the church," he said, touching on a very vital topic of the present, "but this is due to shallow, rather than deep thinking. A little learning may lead to doubt, but extensive thought leads to faith, and to a realization of our dependence on God."

Many Attend Reunion.

Camp No. 800, Sons of Confederate Veterans, left the village Tuesday to attend the Confederate reunion at Culpeper, returning yesterday. Members of the party included Messrs. J. C. Wise, R. A. Rust, Philip Smith, A. B. Rust, James Pickett, Philip Pickett, Cary Smith, O. C. Hutchison and John White.

A new cement floor is being placed in the new garage, which will soon be ready for occupancy.

Mr. C. H. Seely and son Roland, of Manassas, are here this week while drilling a well for Mrs. J. E. Beale near her tenement house. Work is also in progress at Mrs. Beale's residence here.

Miss Flora Brown, of the Groveton neighborhood, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Harry Degan, Sunday.

Mr. A. B. Rust, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. John E. Rust, motored to Fairfax Courthouse recently to visit his brother, Mr. John W. Rust. While on the trip Mr. Rust and his brother motored to Washington.

Mrs. Shirley Love Carter and her daughter, Miss Jennie Carter, who formerly resided near Thoroughfare, are moving to the Tulloss Apartments.

Mrs. Wesley B. McGunigal and her daughter Helen, of Washington, Mrs. Henry S. Herrell, of Snow Hill Farm, and Mrs. Lulu M. Talley and her granddaughter, Miss Mildred Talley, of Washington, were entertained at luncheon on Friday by Mrs. John W. Lyons.

Mr. G. E. Armet went to the Shenandoah valley on a fishing trip last week. The fishing was good, he says, one of his catches weighing over five pounds.

Mr. T. J. Murdy, accompanied by his brother, Mr. C. E. Murdy, and his niece, Miss Ella Murdy, are making a tour of the surrounding neighborhood, while Mr. C. E. Murdy and Miss Murdy, who live in Inman City, Mich., are visiting at the Murdy home here. It has been a long time since Mr. Murdy has visited this vicinity and his daughter is on her first visit to her Virginia relatives.

Get Your Money's Worth in a Lighting Plant

MEASURE what you get just as you'd measure wheat. Not by the bushel, however, but by the price. How many watts will the plant furnish per dollar of cost? And see that the rating is based on the generator output, not generator and batteries combined. Remember the batteries are something they only start what the generator produces, just as a truck starts a car, but the car is the motor that does the work.

MATHEWS

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER PLANTS. The "Automatic Caretaker," based on a Mathews, automatic, fully equipped regarding the batteries, is the only one that is self-maintaining. It is the only one that automatically stops recharging when the batteries are full. Also, when the batteries are full, it automatically disconnects the generator from the batteries, preventing the generator from overheating. The "Automatic Caretaker" is the only one that does this. It is the only one that does this. It is the only one that does this.

A Double Responsibility

—"Good morning, Mrs. Armstrong! What shall it be—some really nice soap? We—"

—"No, thank you. I have plenty. What I want is two bottles of Nujol."

—"Oh, that you'll find at the next counter. This is the toilet goods, you know."

—"But that's why I came right here. You have soap and tooth-paste and wash cloths in this show case—every single thing to keep our precious outside clean and fresh. But our insides must get along as best they can until some fine day there's trouble—and then we cry for a doctor."

—"I'm afraid we are liable to forget what is not right under our eyes."

—"That's just it. But I've learned my lesson. I'd no more think of forgetting my tablespoonful of Nujol than I would my bath or my tooth brush. Two years ago, just before my little girl was born, I had almost every kind of constipation a woman can have. Of course I tried all the "cure" laxatives—pills, salts, mineral waters, etc.; but they only made matters worse. I needed a stronger dose every time. Finally my doctor came in one day after I had one of my bad spells and took things into his own hands."

—"How, Mrs. Armstrong?"

—"He said: 'Your body is not getting rid of the food waste properly. It gets as far as your lower intestines—your colon—and there it stops and decays. The poisons arising from this waste are then carried by the blood throughout the body and do terrible harm. Those remedies you've been taking are drug medicines. The more you take the more you need. You have a double responsibility now and must be gaining strength, not losing it. Now I'm going to put you on a new treatment—the Nujol treatment!'"

—"How interesting! And the effect?"

—"None—for the first two days. Then I began to be regular as clockwork."

—"Why, that's wonderful!"

—"It is wonderful. You see, Nujol works by an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system. It prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals, which is certainly the healthiest habit I know of. And besides that, it's absolutely harmless and pleasant to take."

—"It sounds like such a reasonable way to treat your system, Mrs. Armstrong."

—"That's it. I don't mind telling you privately that I'm just as proud of a clean system as I am of a clean face. And a clean system means a clean face, Miss Grey."

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 20 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".
