WEIR PROPERTY SOLD TO FARMERS

Exchange to Get Possession New Quarters October—Mr. E. L. Lewis General Manager.

The Farmers' Exchange, in order to increase its facilities for the handling of business, has purchased the Weir property on Centre street, starting at the western corner of the storeroom now occupied by S. S. Gallehue and continuing eastward, including the dwelling rented by Wm. McManis and family. The property extends back to the tracks of the Southern Railway. The consideration was $9,000, it is understood.

Possession of the new property will be given October 1. Improvements in the store building are contemplated, after which, for a while at least, this structure will serve as the store for the Exchange. Later on an entirely new store building may be erected on this property. The railroad facilities are splendid, the laying of a private siding being a simple matter.

The lease on the present storeroom, the Sprinkel Building on Main Street, does not expire until February, and it is quite probable that this building will continue to be used as a warehouse anyway for several months.

A change in the management is also announced. J. J. Conner, who has been acting temporarily as general manager, recently tendered his resignation. Robert L. Lewis, president, was chosen as his successor. Mr. Conner continues as one of the directors of the Exchange.

DAUGHTERS HOLD MEETING

Forty Trees Needed to be Planted as Memorial on Lee Avenue.

The regular monthly meeting of the Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton, Wednesday afternoon, September 8th, in the absence of the president, Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, Mrs. Sinclair took charge of the meeting.

The first issue brought up was the question of planting Lee Avenue with memorial trees. Forty trees are needed for this purpose, a few of which have already been donated. The organization wishes to secure these trees from anyone who is desirous of commemorating some relative or friend by a living memorial. The donor is privileged to specify in whose memory they wish to plant the tree, names of Confederate veterans, heroes of the World War and women who have "carried on" being preferred. If the plan of planting a plate on each tree, signifying in whose memory it is planted, is carried out, these trees will not only be a means of beautifying the avenue, but will be of historic interest as well. Mrs. Margie Baskin was appointed a committee of one to arrange the time and program for the planting.

The attention of the Daughters was next directed to the suggestion that they each put aside canned and dried provisions for the Christmas boxes, which the Chapter is planning to send to the Lee Camp Home for Confederate Veterans and the Home for Needy Confederate Women, both of which are located at Richmond, Virginia.

By invitation, the next meeting of the Chapter will be at the home of Mrs. James Birkett on Wednesday afternoon, October 6th.

ENLARGING PEOPLE'S BANK

Extensive improvements are under way at the Peoples National Bank building. In order to give more working space for the bank proper, the old hallway opening on Battle street is being replaced by a new one at the battle street end of the building. The bank will in turn be moved back, giving the banking room an addition of 20x30 feet. The big window on Battle street side is being converted into a large door, while the front door will be turned into a window. The cashier's office will occupy the space into which the present door opens. The plans for these improvements were drawn by Mr. Albert...

JOHN D. BELL DIES IN WASHINGTON SUNDAY

Popular Young Baker Succumbs When Thought on Road to Rapid Recovery.

John D. Bell, nephew of J. M. Bell, and for several years past an employee of Bell's Bakery, died Sunday at Sibley Hospital from stoppage of circulation caused by the formation of a blood clot, following what was considered a very successful operation for appendicitis. Mr. Bell, less than a half hour before his death, informed a relative that he was feeling fine.

Since he became an orphan about ten years ago, "Johnnie," as he was affectionately known to Manassas people, had lived with his uncle, Rev. J. M. Bell, who looked upon him as his own son. He was born near Sinclair's mill in November, 1898. He was an active member of the M. E. Church, South, and was secretary of the local council of the Order Fraternal Americans.

JOHN D. BELL

Mr. Bell was taken ill with acute appendicitis on Monday, August 30th. The following day he was carried to Washington and that night operated upon. There seemed to be no indication of complications until the sudden formation of the blood clot, which so quickly cut off life. His death was a great shock to his many friends.

Surviving members of the immediate family are two sisters, Mrs. Jeremiah Trexler, of Sinking Springs, Pa., and Miss Alma Bell, of Brentsville; and two brothers, Benjamin, of Sinking Springs, Pa., and George, of Manassas. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. William Stevens at the M. E. Church, South, at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, burial being at Bradley and in charge of Ball Run Council, O. F. A. The pallbearers were Burdett Athey, German Pence, Claude Hickson, John Maloney, Gilbert Merchant and Burshell Leachman.

BORISON-NELSON

Miss Mildred Nelson, daughter of Mr. Fred H. Nelson, of Vienna, formerly of near Manassas, was married August 31 to Mr. Walter S. Borison, of Laurel, Md. The ceremony was performed at St. Mildred's Catholic Church, Laurel, at 7:30 in the evening. The bride was becomingly attired in a dark blue satin dress with large black hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Borison will make their home in Laurel, Md., with the parents of the groom.

A monument dedicated to the memory of the late Jennie Dean, founder of the Manassas Industrial School, will be unveiled at her grave in the Mt. Calvary Baptist cemetery, near Catharpin, on Wednesday, Sept. 15th, promptly at one o'clock in the afternoon. The committee in charge extends an invitation to all to be present. An appropriate program has been arranged.

A meeting of the republican standing committee of the 9th congressional district was held in Conner's Hall Wednesday, Sept. 8, at 12 o'clock. Delegates were present from each city and county and reports from each were read and approved. Dr. F. M. Brooks, republican candidate for congress, addressed the meeting. The next meeting of this committee will be held at Fairfax Court House, Thursday, Oct. 7, 1920.

There will be religious services at the hall at Independent Hill Sunday, Sept. 13, at 3 p. m. and 8 p. m. also. There will be preaching by well known ministers at 8 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday nights of next week. An old fashioned love feast will be held on Sunday, Sept. 19th, at 10 o'clock and...

RAIN DOES NOT STOP RACES AND PROGRAM

Attendance Cut Down Account Bad Weather But Receipts Nearly Pay Expenses.

One may venture the surmise that rainy weather holds no charms for officials and stockholders of the Prince William Fair Association, for on Labor Day the inclement weather of the last two days of the recent county fair again put in its appearance, and held down the attendance upon the races and tournament, which had promised to draw large crowds from all nearby communities. Fortunately, the rain stopped about noon, permitting sufficient attendance to pay within one hundred dollars of the actual expense.

Despite the somewhat slippery condition of the track, the races were run off and later in the afternoon the tournament was held. The winners were as follows:

Farmer's Race—1st, "Scout," Bob Robertson; 2nd, "No Name," Robert Lewis.

Mule Race—1st, Victor Hayden; 2nd, Victor Hayden.

Pony Race—1st, "Harry," E. B. Wagoner; 2nd, "Teddy," Edwin Nelson; 3rd, "Prince," Houghton Nelson.

Mill Race—1st, "Madelle," Major C. L. Stevenson; 2nd, "Robert L.," Irvin Beavers; 3rd, "Nastasha," Leith Bros.

Steeplechase—1st, "Capt. Cassett," Blakely Lodge; 2nd, "Balloon," J. R. Lightfoot; 3rd, "Pocahontas," Louis Leith.

Officers' Race—1st, "Cheri Babe," Major C. L. Stevenson; 2nd, "Panacea," Major Stevenson; 3rd, "The Tank," Lieut. Williamson.

Roman Race—1st, Private Gaberty. Tournament—First, tie between E. H. Sherman, of Catlett, and E. R. Sherman, of Calverton; third, E. H. Swart; fourth, F. A. Turner.

THE "GLITTERING SWORD"

Imperious man! Imperial slave of power!

"The day" you proudly boasted at the banquet board, And wrought with feverish zeal to usher in, Has come to mock the Prussian "glittering sword."

Your madman's dream that might alone is right, That Prussian "Kultur" speaks the final word. Concerning order in the world's advance, By fearless flashing of the glittering sword.

You took bad counsel of your hideous dream, And headlong, heedless, bathed a world in blood.

Your vaunted "Kultur" threw the mask aside, And moved remorseless as the raging flood.

You gave the word, the savage fateful word, That kindled fire which fire alone could quench;

That filled the measure of your Christless creed, A measure foul with every baleful deed.

The glittering sword has lost its sheen, And lies dishonored at your craven feet;

Your tinsel pomp and pageantry have gone, Where all vainglorious, passing shadows meet.

But it may be that conscience still survives, That your proud will may some day kiss the rod;

The sword of Christ be your transfigured trust, That sword which is the perfect word of God!

—So may it be.

—PAX.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

On next Sunday night at 8 o'clock, Dr. E. A. Cook, of Washington city, will deliver a free lecture in the Presbyterian Church on "The Life and Teachings of Jesus Christ." This lecture is illustrated by thirty-six stereopticon pictures, beautifully colored slides, reproducing paintings of Tissot and other masters. The stereopticon will be operated by Mr. Hamilton, of Capitol Heights, who accompanies Dr. Cook. The lecture and pictures will occupy about forty-five minutes and will take the place of the regular preaching services. The public is...

PRETTY WEDDING LAST SATURDAY

Miss Mabel Lynch Becomes the Bride of Mr. Frank McNamara, of Washington.

A pretty wedding was witnessed Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at All Saints' Catholic Church when Miss Mabel T. Lynch, daughter of Mr. M. Lynch, became the bride of Mr. Frank W. McNamara, of Washington. Father William Gill officiated, being assisted by Mr. Thomas Lynch, a cousin of the bride. The wedding was preceded by a breakfast at the home of the bride's father.

Mr. William Lynch, of Alexandria, and Miss Elizabeth Pope, brother and niece of the bride, were the attendants. Mrs. William Compton sang "Dawning" before the ceremony and two other songs during the celebration of the wedding. Mrs. McNamara wore a traveling suit of dark blue and a corsage of yellow tea roses.

The happy couple left on Southern train No. 10 for Norfolk via Washington and boat, returning to Washington Wednesday where Mr. McNamara is in the contracting business with his father.

Among those in attendance upon the breakfast and wedding ceremony, outside of the immediate families, were Misses Grace Ryder and Gertrude Mulcare, of Washington; Ruth Noonan, of Patten, Pa.; Lillian Hutcheson, of Haymarket; Mamie Shoemaker, of Tartletown, Pa.; Mrs. G. G. Allen, of Manassas, and Mr. Mannel Sabater, of Cuba, a former student of Eastern College.

DELIGHTED WITH VIRGINIA

Pennsylvania Visitors Impressed by Northern Virginia Motor Trip.

That Prince William and Northern Virginia rank second to no other section of the country is the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra T. Schade, of Shoemaker'sville, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Troutman, of Reading, Pa., who returned to their respective homes Monday after a pleasant stay of several days at Oakenshaw Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Young, south of Manassas. Both Mr. Schade and Mr. Troutman are long time employees of the Philadelphia & Reading depot shops at Reading, Pa.

On Sunday Mrs. Young and her visitors were guests of Mr. F. R. Saunders, who drove the party to the Bull Run battlefield, then on to Centreville, Fairfax Falls Church, Arlington, Fort Myer, Washington and back to Manassas. This trip was voted the most interesting ever taken by the Pennsylvanians in their three score years, not excepting several trips to California.

Mr. Schade, who is greatly interested in farming in general and especially in fruit growing, was attracted by the growing crops on the Young farm. He praised the fine ensilage corn, and on his return home carried specimens of cow peas and several choice varieties of apples to show his friends what the Old Dominion is capable of producing.

WOMEN BE CAREFUL!

In Philadelphia quite a few humorous developments have arisen from the enfranchisement of women. One young woman asked the registrar if she could vote in November as she was registering as a Miss, but that she would be a Mrs. before then and her name would not be the same. Some of the registrars have warned the women voters that they had better not resort to bobbing their hair or tinting it with henna between now and election day or they might experience difficulties, since their descriptions would not then agree with those recorded at the time of registration.

Richmond Fourth Southern City.

Richmond, with the 1920 census giving it a population of 171,467, now ranks as the fourth largest Southern city, the first three in order being New Orleans, Atlanta and Birmingham. For the country at large, in ten years it has crawled up from thirty-ninth to thirty-seventh city, and in the decade just passed has outgrown Syracuse, N. Y., New Haven, Conn., Memphis, Tenn., and Scranton, Pa. Richmond's numerical increase was 44,039, or 34.5 per cent. Its previous largest numerical increase was for the decade ending with 1910, when its gain was 42,578, or 50.1 per cent.

HOLD SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE WEDNESDAY

Delegates From Ten Churches In Session at Methodist Church, South.

The Sunday School Institute of the southern section of the Alexandria district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was held here Wednesday. Delegates from ten churches were present and the general attendance was good.

This institute, which is generally held each year, is a training school for Sunday School workers. Addresses are made by experts and the delegates return to their work with renewed inspiration and new ideas.

Rev. H. P. Hamill, presiding elder, presided at the institute. The program was in charge of Mr. W. H. Best, Sunday School secretary of the Baltimore conference. Addresses were made by Mr. Best, Mr. Brannon, of Fredericksburg, and Mrs. Burgdall, of Warrenton.

Officers elected were—Mr. Brannon, president; Rev. E. C. Beery, of Clarendon, secretary; Miss Willetta Myers, superintendent of missionary department.

STATE AIDS VENEREAL FIGHT

Merchants to Report Sales of Remedies—Not Prescribed by Physician.

Following up the work inaugurated during the European War, the U. S. Public Health Service and the Virginia State Board of Health urge a vigorous attack on venereal disease. The question is asked, "Shall we finish the fight at home, that the Army and Navy were compelled to wage against venereal disease, which was largely brought into the service from civil life?"

Virginia merchants are just in receipt of a letter from the State Board of Health, in which is quoted the following sections of a law which was passed by the General Assembly of Virginia just before the close of its last session:

"6. Any druggist or other person who sells any drug, compound, specific or preparation of any kind used for, or believed by the druggist or person to be intended to be used for, the treatment of any of said venereal diseases, shall secure and keep a record of the name and address of the person making such purchases, except when such drug, compound, specific or preparation is used in filling a written prescription by a physician licensed to practice medicine under the laws of Virginia. A copy of said record shall be mailed, or otherwise delivered, each week to the State Board of Health. Such record shall be kept inaccessible to the public as provided in Section 9 of this Act."

The letter from the State Board of Health goes on to say that many general stores carry stocks of patent medicines for sale and that some of them sell considerable quantities of nostrums for the treatment of venereal diseases. All reputable physicians are agreed that these self-prescribed remedies do positive harm in some cases, and in most other cases they prevent the patient from getting proper treatment through the exaggerated claims and misleading promises found on their wrappers.

GIVES SELF UP

Quantico's Exchange Officer Reports at Buffalo Recruiting Station.

Maj. Henry S. Green, U. S. M. C., who a week ago reported he had been robbed of $10,000 belonging to the post exchange of Quantico, Va., and then suddenly disappeared, has surrendered himself to the authorities at Buffalo, N. Y., it was learned here last night.

Maj. Green's original story was that he was knocked unconscious and robbed in his Quantico home by a man who had been hiding in a closet. At the time, he said, he was dressing preparatory to taking the money to a bank at Fredericksburg, Va.

When a board of inquiry was called Green suddenly disappeared, his wife leaving also.

According to information from Buffalo, Green entered the recruiting station, said he understood he was "wanted" and desired to give himself up. He left Buffalo for Quantico last night in company with another Marine officer.—Alexandria Gazette, Sept. 8.

DAMAGE TO TWO HOUSES MONDAY

No One Injured When Explosive Is Touched Off at Austin Home—No Known Clue.

About twelve thirty Monday morning Manassas was shaken by an explosion that damaged two homes and frightened the occupants of many more. Very fortunately, no one was injured.

Karl J. Austin, local insurance agent, who is under bond to appear at the October term of court to answer indictment of the murder of the late J. E. B. Davis on the evening of May 8, was awakened about eleven o'clock Sunday night by the barking of his dog. Again shortly after midnight the dog started barking, whereupon, Mr. Austin says, he became uneasy and sat up in bed, and was preparing to get up when a terrific explosion took place just beneath his bed room window, almost directly under the head of his bed. From the result, it seems that the explosive was placed carefully against the stone foundation.

About five feet of the masonry was blown out, two windows were shattered, a quantity of plaster knocked down and the weatherboarding just above the damaged portion of the foundation was ripped loose.

That no one was even scratched seems well nigh miraculous, when, as Mr. Austin says, the plaster and broken glass fell with great force into the room occupied by Mrs. Austin and baby and himself. In the room overhead, Mr. Austin's mother and venerable grandmother were badly shaken up but received no injuries.

Across the street, about ninety feet away, the house of Mr. W. P. Shaw was so badly shaken that thirty-eight large window panes were broken and the latched front door blown open. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and children were badly frightened, their first thought being that someone was shooting into the house, which quickly filled with smoke.

At the time of this writing there seems to be no clue whatever leading to the perpetrator of the crime, and no direct indication as to why the crime should have been committed.

THREE SCHOOL AMENDMENTS

Voters at Coming Election to Pass on Constitution Changes.

Voters of Virginia this fall will pass on three amendments to the constitution relating to the public school system, according to local school officials.

In a note accompanying a folder on the amendments to be voted on in November, Harde Hart, State Superintendent of public instruction, says: "There seems to be three fundamental factors in an efficient school system: First, sufficient funds to guarantee trained and thorough teachers for the children and adequate facilities; second, a simple and direct plan of administration with duties and responsibilities of officials clearly defined and surely fixed; third, the children of the state placed in schools and kept there long enough and regularly enough to secure at least an elementary training. The amendments proposed served to adapt the present constitution to meet these needs. A favorable vote on them in November is vital to the school system."

One amendment provides for a possible reduction of trustees and permits women to serve. On the basis of this amendment, it is understood, the legislature of 1922 will be free to pass a statute, if it be deemed wise, reducing the number of trustees and forming the county rather than the school district as the unit of operation.

Another amendment provides that the General Assembly may, in its discretion provide for compulsory education but gives the Assembly in its discretion, the right to make such provisions as may be deemed wise and expedient.

Local Schools Open Wednesday

Manassas high and graded schools will open next Wednesday, Sept. 15th, with the promise of unusually good attendance in all departments. This session the first year high school students, as well as those in the upper classes, who come in daily on the ten o'clock trains, will be accommodated in practically all of their work, owing to the division of the classes into sections. The special business courses, for which tuition fees are charged, are also to grow persons desiring to...

HUNT DOWN THE GUILTY
 Manassas was shocked in more than one sense Monday. The explosion at the Austin home jarred the nerves of many. The crime itself hurt the finer sensibilities of the citizens of a town that has always prided itself upon its reputation for peace and home life. It is hard to believe that such a deed should have been committed within our corporation. But the evidence in the form of two damaged homes is at hand. And now no effort should be spared to hunt down the guilty. The Journal will contribute twenty-five dollars toward a fund to reward whoever supplies the evidence that will apprehend and convict the perpetrator.

DO WOMEN WANT TO VOTE?
 Up to yesterday afternoon the County Treasurer's office recorded but one woman who had paid her capitation tax, which is a preliminary step to registration to vote at the coming election. Is the slowness with which Prince William women are preparing themselves for registration any indication of their attitude toward woman suffrage?

There are three steps to be taken before a properly qualified woman can have her name placed on the voting list. First, she must have the Commissioner of Revenue (for Prince William, W. S. Rinaldus, Manassas, or his deputy, B. T. Cornwell, Agnewville) assess her for the capitation tax. With the assessment notice, she must pay the County Treasurer $1.50. Then the receipt showing the payment of the capitation tax must be presented to the registrar for the prospective voter's district, as published in last week's issue. Thus ends what to many a woman no doubt seems a thoroughbred red-tape process of getting inculcated to compete with the sterner sex in running these United States.

How many Prince William wives and daughters are going to register? The second of October is the last day. With the three necessary steps to be taken, dear madam or miss, you must soon decide—not right now how you would vote, but whether you will be properly qualified to vote at all. The preliminary process is the same for man or woman, but so new and troublesome appearing to women that many seem little inclined to avail themselves of the privilege to vote.

WHAT CAN WE SUBSTITUTE?
 There is not a man, woman or child in this country whose very existence is not dependent upon petroleum. No machinery of any kind can run without frequent oiling.

Deprived entirely of petroleum products, man would almost immediately be forced back to the cave period mode of sustaining himself upon the barest necessities. And in reverting to such a primitive life the greater portion of us highly pampered individuals would succumb without much ado.

Thinking people are becoming much concerned over the growing scarcity of petroleum in this country. The Bureau of Mines, in a report covering the first six months of 1920, shows that while the gasoline production for the half year, under the stimulus of high prices and great demand, increased 13 per cent over the production for the corresponding period in 1919, the consumption increased 32 per cent. The demand is growing apace; the sources of supply are fast being depleted. Who will be the Edison of the lubrication world?

While "necessity is the mother of invention" and we can with hope, at least, look forward to a solving of this difficult problem, it is the duty of every one, from the truck driver to the housewife oiling her sewing machine, to conserve the petroleum products of this country—while we have them to conserve.

PARAGRAPHS

Who will be man enough to knock the skids from under the increasing cost of gasoline and kerosene?

Old Jupiter Pluvius, much to the disappointment of holiday makers, did not "lay off" on Labor Day this year.

With school opening next week, several inches will be added to the face of every boy; and little sister will again carry her big red apple for recess.

A miller in Kansas recently broke the record when biscuits were made from grain that less than an hour previous was standing in the field. Wheat harvested and threshed by a combination harvester and thresher was rushed to a mill where it was quickly ground. The flour was made into biscuits in five minutes.

A number of our colored people attended the races and horse show at Manassas Tuesday. Dr. W. F. Keller, who some time ago purchased the Rust homestead about one mile from Haymarket, has sold it to Mr. H. S. Herrell, and is moving with his family to the southern part of New Jersey, where they will make their home. All who know them regret their departure and extend best wishes.

Mr. Herrell, the new occupant, has been for several years manager of the Snow Hill farm about three miles distant on the Carolina road. "Snow Hill" will now be in charge of its owner, Mr. Harry Lynn.

Mr. G. H. Claggett, who during the past year resided on the Bert M. Bridwell Farm recently purchased by Mr. Piery, has purchased of Mrs. H. M. Clarkson the farm recently occupied by Mr. F. M. Dodson and has moved there. We are glad to welcome them as neighbors.

REV. J. F. BRITTON WRITES

Mondovi, Wis., Sept. 4, 1920. Editor Manassas Journal:—Many of my friends have asked me to write about my trip to Wisconsin. While I would be glad to write them a personal letter my time is all taken up with our work, so I must beg a little space in your valuable paper.

Mondovi is in Buffalo county, which is about the central part of the state. This is a great agricultural country. Immense crops of oats and other grains are raised here. As it has been quite dry this summer, corn is not quite up to its usual standard. And while it is quite hilly here in places, as a whole the country is very level. The soil is exceedingly sandy, but very productive. There is considerable swampy land which grows wild grass that is cut for hay. Not much timber is seen but a great deal of brush and scrub oak.

This is not a fruit country. While they grow quite a lot of apples and millions of wild goose plums there are no peaches, pears and very few grapes. There are no sweet potatoes, but great quantities of Irish potatoes.

Dairying is quite an industry here. The cream separator, telephone and organ are found in almost every home. You see very few stock cattle here, but many fine horses and hogs are seen everywhere, and automobiles almost without number. Many beautiful homes adorn the countryside. The people as a whole are very friendly and sociable.

Eau Claire is a city of 22,000 people, and as it is a great manufacturing place, there is a great deal to be seen there. They have the largest street cars there I have ever seen. Eau Claire is the county seat of Eau Claire county.

On account of scarlet fever and several machines threshing in the neighborhood, we did not have large crowds at the Chippewa church, but splendid interest. We are in a series of meetings at this writing at Rock Falls, quite a little town in Dun county, but a part of the Chippewa Valley congregation. Our meetings here are well attended and much interest shown. We will return to the former place Sept. 11th to attend the Communion, then go to Walkerton, Ind. My head is still giving me some trouble, otherwise I am standing the work fairly well.

While it gets quite warm in the day, it turns cool at night. I wear my overcoat from church every night and sleep under heavy cover. We have already had two frosts.

J. F. BRITTON.

Special Notice To Farmers

One of the most important things ever done by the Agricultural Experiment Station of North Carolina was a test to determine if National Hog Remedy has any value to the Farmer. A bulletin issued about June first tells that in a series of tests some figures were brought out that are startling.

Fifteen pigs of similar weight were bought for a test that was continued at the Raleigh test farm 88 days. One lot of these pigs were given National Hog Remedy and another lot was given the same feed but no remedy.

In the lot where the National Hog Remedy was given the hogs gained .70 of a pound each. In the lot where nothing was given but the feed the hogs gained only .47 of a pound.

Two hogs on National Hog Remedy increased in weight on the same ration as much as three hogs did without it.

Furthermore this test showed and stated that by using National Hog Remedy a saving was realized of approximately $9.00 on each hundred pounds increase in live weight.

National Hog Remedy is sold by all dealers at One Dollar a package. In case your dealer cannot supply you kindly send us your name and we will see you get it. We do not use a filler to enlarge the package and we use high grade chemicals only.

As a key to all present day labor troubles he pointed to Christ.

The death of Mrs. Sarah C. Edwards, which occurred last week at her home in Yonkers, N. Y., was a great shock to her many friends here. She will be remembered as the wife of the late Rev. Wm. H. # THE WOMAN VOTE IS VERY PUZZLING

Newly Franchised Virginians Urged to Avail Themselves of Opportunity to Vote.

(Contributed)

How will women vote in the coming election? That is the greatest puzzle of all. The plea, "stick to your party," has gone forth from various headquarters to the feminine wielder of the ballot, and yet the probability that women may vote with complete independence of party-affiliation or predilection is the nightmare of the campaign managers. Every known device and system of political strategy has been used and is being used to hold the woman balance of power in line, and yet no man—and no woman—can foresee what the political outcome of the enfranchisement of women will be.

The total vote cast will be nearly doubled. This fresh vote may determine the course of the nation in these troublesome times and for years to come. The fallacy that in political matters the minds of women go along with those of their husbands or other masculine relatives was exploded at the recent conventions, when husband and wife delegates frequently supported opposing candidates. Women will use their new freedom in an independent manner and he will be a brave man indeed who attempts to dictate the way his wife shall vote.

The ballot is more than a fad to most women. It is the means to the end of better government, better homes and towns in which to live and to rear children, better schools and in general a better world in which to live. Women think of politics in the terms of the home and family. They care little for political arguments or technicalities. This is shown in the attitude of women toward the vital question of the high cost of living. Women are absolutely uninfluenced by economic explanations in this matter, as long as the debilitated dollar does less and less toward filling the family market basket.

As home managers, women are aghast at statistics of malnutrition among school children, and they have a first hand knowledge of the difficulty of maintaining American standards of decent living under the pressure of present high prices. Women want the profiteer punished, not merely threatened, and they are intolerant of a watchful-waiting policy toward these twentieth century robber barons.

The steady increase of Americanization committees in women's organizations is a sign that women realize that there is no half-way house in patriotism, and that the paramount task of the hour is making America All-American. They know that democracy and education go hand in hand, and that the Americans of tomorrow must be taught not only to think of what they can get from America, but of what they can give to her in the form of intelligent citizenship and right living. Therefore, it seems assured that the woman vote will line up behind those who try to remedy the deplorable defects in the educational system.

Generally speaking, women have shown a disposition to prepare intelligently for the duties of citizenship. As the new partner in the firm of Uncle Sam & Co., woman realizes that she must familiarize herself with the fundamentals of government, its history and operation. She feels, in addition, that it is a double duty, representing as she does the children of the nation, and that it is incumbent on her to see that the goodly heritage of the next generation is not dissipated or reduced. American women have not come easily into the rank of lawmakers and they take with them into the new estate a keen sense of obligation. More and more women are coming to understand that the restoration of the home element in American life is vitally necessary. The American home with its benign influences and simple, healthful living must flourish again, and it will come back if the women of the country will but lead the way.

The state of world unrest and the possibility of fresh wars are regarded with the keenest interest by women. They are not insensible to the lessons of the past, which show that war can come with frightful suddenness. They know that when it does come the sons of America must and will go forth to fight at their country's call.

Every mother would rather that her sons should go out and fight in great ships and behind great guns and in great armies equipped for service and victory than to see them go like sheep to the shambles to be slaughtered by a power prepared for conflict.

There will be more support from women, than might be supposed from a superficial survey of the question, for a national policy which shall give to the sons of America, rich and poor alike, a fighting chance for their lives in case of war, and endow the young manhood of the nation in times of peace with a spirit of efficiency, service and patriotism, and thus contribute to the moral and physical well-being of the country's man-power.

Since the enfranchisement of the whole and entire body of American women is now a recognized fact and no longer a mere promise or future prospect, it is the duty of every southern woman, and especially our Virginia ladies, to carefully consider their rights under the nineteenth amendment to the Constitution and see to it that the vote of their male relatives is not placed overwhelmingly in the minority by the combined male and female voters of other states. There is not the least doubt that in the majority of cases women's vote will be cast with the side which stands for the greatest protection and preservation of the American homes and American principles.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of our dear daughter and sister, Ruth L. Kincheloe, who fell asleep in Jesus February 22, 1920. Ruth we miss you, miss you more and more, but we've found a comfort, for we seem to hear you say:

I wandered in the shades of night,
Till Jesus came for me,
And with the sunlight of His love
Bid all my darkness flee.

I've crossed the wide extended fields,
I've journeyed o'er the plains,
And in the sunlight of His love
I reap the golden grain.

At These Prices Can You Afford Not to Paint?

When you think of painting—you first think of quality; then of price per gallon.

Longman & Martinez Semi-Paste Paint, for which we have just been appointed representatives, is guaranteed pure, and the equal of any paint made. In price, for a product of such purity, no other brand of paint really competes with the Longman & Martinez. And here is why—

COST WHEN USING THE ORDINARY L. & M. SHADES

To four gallons L. & M. Paint @ $5.20	$20.80
Add three gallons Pure Linseed Oil @ $2.00	6.00
Making seven gallons pure paint cost	26.80
Dividing by seven—THE COST PER GALLON	3.82 6-7

If your house is of average size, say 25 feet wide, 36 feet long and 20 feet high, you can paint it two coats with but 5 gallons of L. & M. Semi-Paste Paint and 8 gallons of pure Linseed Oil, making the total cost of material only $32.00.

Can you afford NOT to give your house, barn and other permanent buildings longer life when the finest quality paint can be had at such a reasonable price?

The Certain-teed Guarantee as a Basis for Estimating Roofing Cost

The Certain-teed guarantee provides a basis for estimating the approximate cost per year of your new roof. Certain-teed Roofing, Number 3 Heavy, is guaranteed for fifteen years. It usually lasts longer.

Taking fifteen years as the assured life and dividing the unusually low cost of Certain-teed, as compared to most modern types of roofing, by this figure, you readily see how economical Certain-teed is.

The light and medium weights of Certain-teed are also guaranteed, five years for the former and ten years for the latter.

In addition to its durability, Certain-teed is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

And it costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing.

See a Certain-teed dealer about roofing. If he hasn't enough of the weight you want in stock he can quickly get more from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or distributing center.
