BETHLEHEM CLUB MEETS AT HOME OF MRS. LEWIS

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Gibson Entertain—Enjoyable Business and Social Session.

The various interesting events of last week culminated in the enjoyable meeting of the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Lewis, with Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. A. Stuart Gibson as hostesses. The usual opening exercises were engaged in, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson led in prayer and the roll call and minutes were read. The treasurer reported a goodly sum collected for the various objects to which the club had pledged itself.

The guests in addition to Rev. Mr. Gibson were: Mrs. J. F. Dogan, who afterwards accepted associate membership; Mrs. W. Willis Davies, Miss Grace Moran and Master Wheatley Marshall Johnson.

The reports of the committee were satisfactory. Mrs. Gibson read an interesting letter from Mrs. T. E. Haines, in which Mrs. Haines stated that the photos of the club were on their way. By request, Mrs. Dogan wrote the inscription in the book that the club is presenting to the high school, the first of an annual gift. Mrs. Davies was elected to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. F. E. Ransdell as a full member. Mrs. Davies graciously accepted. Much regret was expressed that many duties so frequently prevent Miss Gilbert from being present at the meetings.

After the singing of the club song, "Auld Lang Syne," and Rev. Mr. Gibson had pronounced the benediction, the business session closed. Our hostesses invited us to the dining room, where we held cheerful converse and were refreshed by the delicious repast prepared for us by Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Gibson. At sundown, after expressing our appreciation to our gracious hostesses, very regretfully we took our leave.

PUPILS EXAMINED IN SCHOOLS HERE

Teachers Make Physical Examinations Required by State Governing Boards.

(Miss E. H. Osbourn)

The physical examination of the public school pupils ordered jointly by the state board of education and the state board of health to be made by the teachers in all the schools of the state was given in the Manassas schools last Monday and Tuesday. The results for the graded school, which have not yet been fully tabulated, will be published next week. Those for the high school follow:

Of the 120 high school students examined, 16 cases of defective eyesight were found, 5 of defective hearing, 50 cases of diseased tonsils, 42 of defective teeth, and a few decided cases of underweight. While a few were serious, most of the cases were minor, and could easily be rectified by a little attention given in time. Reports of any troubles found will in all cases be sent to the parents.

It may be objected that the teachers have not the training necessary to make an accurate examination of this kind. But, by following the instructions of the state inspectors, sufficiently trustworthy results can be had in the way of detecting troubles. These can be reported upon and followed up later by a physician. The real aim of the state in requiring the teachers to give this examination is to train them into the habit of looking after the physical welfare of the children. This habit, if acquired universally in the schools, would in a very few years raise the whole public health to a much higher plane.

A TRIBUTE

We have just learned with sincere regret that Mr. George W. Bell, R. E. watchman at the Battle street crossing, has been retired from duty. During the past four years his faithful vigilance has ministered to the safety of the public, while the modest but none the less attractive flower garden provided by his unselfish interest and good taste has refreshed the eye of many a weary passerby over the Southern lines. We desire to assure Mr. Bell of our appreciation and best wishes as he passes the signal target to his successor.

Mrs. Laura Watkins and her two daughters, Eleanor and Ruth, of Alexandria, spent Sunday with Mrs. H. D. Wenrich.

Mayor's Proclamation

FELLOW CITIZENS OF MANASSAS:

The week beginning October 9 has been designated as fire prevention week.

Your active co-operation is earnestly solicited in our effort to reduce the fire hazard of our town. We are approaching that season of the year when fires are most numerous, most of which are easily preventable by use of a little trouble and foresight.

This is a matter in your own interest, and if you will make it a matter of conscience many regrets will be saved.

Have all stoves, furnaces, stove pipes, chimneys and fire connections carefully examined, repaired and cleaned before starting fires in them.

Clean all rooms, closets, cellars, alleys and yards of waste, trash and rubbish of every kind, and deposit it near your back gate where it may be gotten by the street cleaning dray.

HARRY P. DAVIS, Mayor.

TEACHERS CLOSE BUSY INSTITUTE

Session Pronounced One of Most Profitable in History of County Meetings.

After an enthusiastic and well attended session lasting three days, the twelfth annual meeting of the Prince William County Teachers' Association adjourned Friday evening. It was pronounced by Supt. Charles E. McDonald one of the most interesting and most worth while meetings ever held under the auspices of the association. Much credit is due Supt. McDonald for the excellent quality of the program.

Friday morning's session opened with devotional exercises by Rev. A. B. Jamison and a musical program, which included "The Star-Spangled Banner," "Over the Summer Sea" and "Dixie." Mrs. B. T. H. Hodge, who had charge of the music department in the Manassas schools for a number of years, presided at the piano throughout the session.

Rev. Mr. Jamison, pastor of the Manassas Presbyterian Church, made an address to the teachers. He stressed the importance of teachers being poetical, possessing the spirit of poetry to guide those under their care to an appreciation of the beautiful in literature, and the importance of being psychological. Enthusiasm on the part of the teacher is most essential if the best work is to be done, he said; great things can be accomplished by being enthusiastic, great difficulties overcome.

"The teacher must have the realization that she is a builder," the speaker declared. "As the work of Miss Sullivan with Helen Keller will always be remembered, so will the deeds of construction of each teacher be remembered and rewarded."

"He who adds a scholar to the world has added riches to the world," he said, quoting the words of John Knox. The teacher must have courage and build firmly, and upon the right foundation, he said, in conclusion, and "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid which is Jesus Christ."

Miss E. H. Osbourn, Manassas high school principal, spoke on "English Preparation for the High School." "There is no subject in the curriculum which holds the place of English, the vehicle of thought," she said. "Unless one's thoughts can be expressed clearly, failure in all walks of life is the result."

In order to do the best English teaching the teacher herself must have a definitely outlined plan and drill upon it, she declared. Composition topics including letter forms, narration, description, exposition, paragraphing, punctuation and reading were dealt with in a skillful and helpful way. Discussing grammar teaching, the sentence rather than the words must be stressed, she declared. Topics discussed under this head included cases of nouns, verb forms, pronouns, adjectives, infinitives and sentence function.

At this juncture little Miss Patsy Craver sang two songs, "Oh, What a Pal Was Mary" and "Blowing Bubbles," both of which were heartily applauded.

Supt. McDonald organized the local branch of the teachers' association, adding a few words of explanation and emphasizing its importance.

MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION NAMES TWO DELEGATES

Selects Its Representatives to Attend Convention at Chattanooga, Tenn.

A called meeting of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Manassas was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henrietta Lipcomb, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Chattanooga convention, October 26-28. Mrs. Westwood Hutchison and Mrs. H. L. Willis were selected, with Mrs. Charles E. Brawner and Mrs. Margaret Barbour as alternates, and Miss Daisy Hodgson, secretary of the C. S. M. A., as proxy.

A letter from Mrs. Wilson, president-general, was read emphasizing the three special objectives of the C. S. M. A. at this time: The Alan Seeger memorial library in France, the Jefferson Davis monument at Fairview, Ky., and the Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park, to all of which contributions have been made by the local organization.

Report was made of work on the Manassas cemetery, which has been disked, limed and fertilized.

The members decided to offer a prize to the county high schools for the best paper on Jefferson Davis and to present a copy of a large picture of the Confederate flags to the Manassas graded school, holding a flag essay contest. The best paper is to be read and the presentation made January 19.

SPECIAL SERVICES HELD

Presbyterian Church and Sunday School Observe Rally Day.

Rally day was observed last Sunday at the Presbyterian Church by special exercises at Sunday School and church services. At the Sunday School hour there were recitations and songs appropriate to the occasion. At the morning preaching services Miss Anna Beebe, who possesses a soprano voice of great range and sweetness, sang "The Penitent" by Van de Water. Miss Evelyn Johnston rendered in a pleasing manner "Prelude" by Chopin. Both Miss Beebe and Miss Johnston are members of the faculty of Eastern College-Conservatory.

At the evening service Miss Beebe sang Tennyson's poem, "Crossing the Bar," the music being by the composer Fearis, and Miss Johnston gave an instrumental selection. The pastor, Rev. A. B. Jamison, preached upon "Thoughts for Rally Day." The church was decorated with flowers, potted plants and autumn leaves.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL OPENS

The Manassas Industrial School for Colored Youth opened last week with an enrollment of 114, which is considerably above the opening enrollment of last year. Eighty-six of the students are girls.

Four teachers each are employed in the high and graded school departments and the usual corps of instructors in the trade shops. All girls are entered in the laundry department and have their choice of sewing or domestic science. Carpentry leads among the trades chosen by the boys, although entries are good in the agricultural department and in the wheelwright and blacksmith and shoe cobbling shops.

Prof. E. D. Howe continues at the head of the school as principal.

Mr. George W. Hixson spent the week in Washington with his daughters, Mrs. L. A. Larkin and Mrs. John C. Adams.

MRS. NEWMAN HOSTESS TO MANASSAS U. D. C.

Important Session Held—Scholarship Awarded—Essay Contest Continued.

Mrs. W. A. Newman, president of Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, entertained the October meeting of the chapter Wednesday afternoon at her home in Battle street.

The scholarship committee reported that a $100 scholarship to Eastern College-Conservatory had been awarded to Miss Mary Covington.

The members voted to continue to offer a prize to the eighth grade of the Manassas public school in an essay contest. The subject for this year's essay is to be "Stonewall" Jackson. The prize will be awarded and the paper read at the celebration of memorial day on June 3.

Preparations were started for the celebration of Lee's birthday on January 19.

Mrs. Westwood Hutchison reported a meeting of the veterans of Ewell Camp at her home on Semmes' birthday, when the veterans were entertained at luncheon.

Mrs. C. E. Brawner presented a piece of the Bartow memorial which was erected on the battlefield about the close of the war. This relic, with another section of the memorial presented a short time ago through Miss Louisa Moxley, will be preserved in the park museum.

Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, historian, read a sketch of the life of the Virginia poet, James Barron Hope, together with his memorial ode to Washington and Lee, and gave the thirty test questions published a few weeks ago.

The November session will meet with Mrs. Newman.

PRETTY WEDDING IN CAPITAL CITY

Miss Walters Becomes Bride of Mr. Francis D. Merchant—Extensive Honeymoon.

Monument Methodist Church in Richmond was the scene, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, of a very pretty wedding when Miss Catherine Raye Walters, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Walters, of Richmond, became the bride of Mr. Francis Dunnington Merchant, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Walton Merchant, formerly of Manassas. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Wesley Jones, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large assembly of guests, every seat in the main auditorium and the gallery being occupied. The chancel was beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants, and the soft light of tapers lent additional beauty to the impressive scene.

Mr. C. H. Ashburn, jr., rendered the wedding marches, and "O, Believe Me" was softly played during the service.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. She was gowned in white satin and chantly lace trimmed with pearls, and her veil of tulle was arranged with a coronet of chantly lace held in place with pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Easter lilies and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. W. N. Beveridge, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of tangerine taffeta with saak of old blue tulle finished with flowers of the same hue, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Elsie Walters, of Rockville, Md., cousin of the bride, was attired in changeable blue taffeta trimmed in silver, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Marjorie Cunningham, in pink changeable taffeta trimmed in tulle, with flowers to harmonize; Mrs. Gordon Penick, in Nile green; Miss May Mills, in apricot, and Mrs. John Kohler II in orchid. They carried variegated bouquets in pastel shades, fastened with harmonizing tulle.

Little Miss Bettie Wright, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Landon Arthur Wright, a niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She was daintily attired in silver lace over pink taffeta, with silver slippers, and carried a basket of tiny sweetheart roses.

Mr. R. Allen Merchant, of Louisville, Ky., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The groomsmen were: Messrs. Fred Ruskell, John Norville, J. A. Schwalm and John Kohler II. Gordon Penick was master of ceremonies.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party and a few out-of-town guests that included Miss Elsie Walters, of Rockville, Md.; Mrs. C. S. Thompson, Mrs. John Lloyd and Mr. L. K. Garrett, of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen Merchant and their little son, Bobbie, of Louisville, Ky., were driven to the home of the bride, 3006 Grove avenue, where an informal reception was held. During the reception vocal and instrumental music, together with the vaudiville antics and jeu d'esprit of John Kohler II, added to the enjoyment of the occasion.

Late in the evening the bridal couple boarded the "Florida Special" for an extended wedding tour South, their main objective points being Jacksonville and Palm Beach, Fla., and Havana, Cuba.

The bride was the recipient of many valuable and useful wedding gifts of silver and cut glass, besides an abundant collection of lines resulting from showers given at the hands of her most intimate friends. A number of entertainments were given in her honor on the eve of her marriage, among which were a bridge party, a luncheon at the Country Club and a box party at the Academy of Music.

THE FAIR SPIRIT

Three community fairs in various sections of the county this month are the surest signs we know of live, healthy community progress. The three communities whose plans have developed into maturity with surprising ease and success are Independent Hill, Gold Ridge and Bethel.

The Journal views the prospect with much gratification and extends its hearty good wishes to the public-spirited citizens who are backing the organizations in their respective communities.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Mayor Davis today appeals to Manassas householders in the interest of fire prevention week. The appeal is timely, on the eve of the season of fires, and, knowing how much may be gained by a little extra precaution, we may well give ready heed to the appeal.

We have been so fortunate for a number of years—and exceedingly fortunate for a number of months, when we have been absolutely without fire protection during the temporary water shortage now happily over—that it would be but natural for us to think less of the danger ahead. For this reason Mayor Davis' appeal is all the more timely, and deserves our best attention.

LEAGUE ACCOMPLISHMENTS

The fine work of the school leagues throughout Prince William county, as shown by the reports to the teachers' institute, will be a happy revelation to all who are interested in seeing Prince William forge ahead. The leagues apparently have drawn the support of a majority of the thoughtful, earnest, enthusiastic and influential workers of nearly every community in the county, and they have accomplished many things.

The league members have provided for school improvement in innumerable ways. They have raised money to dig wells, to install water coolers and drinking fountains, to serve hot lunches, to lay cement walks, to plant trees, to build fences, to paint school houses and even to provide funds toward the erection of buildings.

The reports do not show a spirit of enthusiasm here and there, but a spirit of enthusiasm throughout the organization. The evidence of league activity is universal. If there are sections of the county which have failed to organize in this way—and there are said to be a few—surely these reports will excite their interest, furnishing enough inspiration to make the chain complete.

GETTING AWAY WITH IT

Addressing a group of new consular employes, Secretary of State Hughes said, "I confess that in my experience with young men the capacity I have found least often is the capacity for accuracy." How many employers and those coming into contact with the youth of today can corroborate Mr. Hughes' conclusion? Was it not just this desire to test the accuracy and close observation of applicants that led Mr. Edison to frame his famous questionnaire?

Impatience, with resulting disinclination to go into details, has been declared the besetting sin of the younger generation. The disposition to "get by" with the least effort is incompatible with accuracy. Yet the lack of capacity for accuracy, as Mr. Hughes suggests, is a vital defect. No one need expect to keep forever "getting by with it" and make any sort of lasting headway without the definite knowledge that is the foundation of progress. When jobs were going begging it was possible to make such a pretence, but with the return of sifting selection the man who lacks accuracy, either from incompetence or indifference, will find it increasingly difficult to get by with it.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

VOLIVA AND HIS LIKE

A reward of $1,000 is offered by Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of some extraordinary cult with headquarters at Zion, Ill., for proof that the world is a sphere. Voliva favors the theory, popular some centuries back, that we have our being upon a flat earth. No mere reference to the fact that a flat world would of necessity have to have edges, and that, though his fellows have been wandering about upon it for some thousands of years, none have ever been discovered, satisfies him. No protestation of the truth that one may start west from Zion, Ill., and, by traveling ever west over land and water, return eventually to Zion, Ill., will suffice. Voliva's faith in his theory and his grip on his thousand dollars will remain unshaken.

Voliva's theory will, at most, win for its sponsor a momentary notoriety, arising from the amusement of reasonable men and women over his medieval tenet. It can never do any one any particular harm, unless by becoming adherents to an idea which is obviously preposterous some few lose the confidence of their fellows in matters of larger importance. Voliva, in his assertion of his silly theory, is infinitely less objectionable to society than many who are responsible for the popularity, among certain types, of theories long since disproved yet still proclaimed as truth. Examples leap to the mind. There is the theory that universal happiness would result from the redistribution of the wealth of the world. There is the theory that capital and labor are of necessity, and will ever be of necessity, enemies the one to the other. There is the theory that a different standard of morality is correct for men from that which applies to women. Or that a nation in order to maintain its virility must make war upon its neighbor. Or that government in any form is wrong. Or that a bath more than once a week is injurious to the health.

Adherents to these theories are like Voliva. The world looks flat from the windows at Zion, Ill., and therefore the world is flat. A thousand dollars for proof that it is not—but (and the but is all important) that proof must satisfy Voliva. It is so with the others. That quality of unreasoning stubbornness which originally made possible their belief in the false perhaps renders their enlightenment impossible of achievement. Yet, happily, the bulk of the world, questing only the truth, moves forward in the light of established fact.—Washington Star.

THE JOURNEY

It's a wild night for a soul to go,
Stars shine, but winds blow
And the flood tides flow.

It's a long road to the nearest star
Where the hand of well-beloved are
But I shall reach it, near or far.

A wild night for a naked soul
To cast aside the broken bowl
And start for the distant goal.

A wild night and a lonely way,
And death is terrible, they say,
Yet methinks I like his looks today.

And fling me forth to the windy sky
And glad I'll lay my garments by
When Death rides by.

A long road to the nearest star,
Where the hand of well-beloved are,
But I shall reach it, near or far.
—L. Le Mesurier in The Westminster Gazette.

THE HOME-KEEPERS

A little dream keeps house with me—
Outside, the surge and flow
Of city throngs, of wind, of sea—
The world the great ones know.

But we—we wash the cups and spoons
And make the copper shine,
And knit, on sunny afternoons,
Beside the trumpet-vine.

We smile at many a secret joke;
We weed the lettuce bed;
We sweep the hearth, and pause to stroke
The snow-white kitten's head.

The neighbors hear our songs, and say
"How queer some folks can be!"
They wonder what can keep us gay,
My little dream and me.

But I am wise, and therefore know,
For sewing up a seam,
Or keeping cupboard shelves just so,
There's nothing like a dream!

—Helen Cowles Le Cron in Contemporary Verse.

LAUGH AND LIVE

SOME TREE

"You fellows never saw big trees," said the stranger to the loafers in the village tavern. "Why, when I was out in California they felled a hollow tree over a ravine that was too deep and would cost too much to build a bridge across. One day when I was coming across through this tree with a load of hay I met another man with a load of hay coming through the other end. I couldn't back out nor go ahead; neither could he."
"What could you do?" they asked breathlessly.
"Why," he stammered, "I backed into a hollow branch and let him pass by."

NOT YET

"Do you think that women are forsaking all other interests in order to devote themselves to politics?"
"Oh, I dunno. I don't see any of the fashion magazines going out of business."

TEACHERS CLOSE BUSY INSTITUTE

(Continued from Page One) Miss Dorothy Merrill, of Hayfield, were selected to represent the county at the state conference at Richmond. The afternoon session opened with "Old Black Joe." Miss Emily J. Johnson, representing the high school alumni association, presented before the teachers the alumni plan to offer a $100 high school scholarship by competitive examination to a student living in Prince William outside of Manassas district, and asked for their hearty co-operation in preparing students for high school entrance and in encouraging them to compete for the scholarship which is to be awarded in the spring. Three departmental conferences were held. At the high school conference Miss Osbourn, group leader, explained the junior high school plan and the regular four-year plan of work. Miss Mary J. Cox, a member of the high school staff, gave a very helpful talk on the teaching of algebra. Miss Elsie Lawson and Miss Grace Moran were in charge of the elementary and primary groups, respectively. The elementary conference took up several subjects including detailed attention to course of study and method in number. The primary conference, which took the form of a round table discussion, included many problems relating to primary work, especially devices for busy work, construction work and methods in reading and number. Miss Annie Troth, of Catharpin School, gave some valuable suggestions in number work, and Miss Edith Callan, of Manassas, and Mrs. T. E. H. Dickens, of Bristow, contributed helpful hints for busy work. The remainder of the session was devoted to reports on league work. Hon. C. J. Meetze, president of the junior and civic leagues of the county, who has worked untiringly in their behalf, presided. Mr. Meetze urged the importance of establishing leagues in every school in Prince William county and secured pledges for new leagues from all teachers whose communities have not been organized. "All of the people must co-operate in the work of the league if the best results are obtained," Mr. Meetze said. "The strength of the league work is the co-operation of parents and teachers. No obstacle is too great for the league spirit to surmount." The excellent reports offered are summarized as follows: Manassas—Membership, 55. TWELVE STARS IN CECIL B. DEMILLE'S PRODUCTION "THE AFFAIRS OF ANATOL"

Twelve star players and a supporting cast of unrivalled quality—that's the record set by Cecil B. DeMille's latest Paramount masterpiece, "The Affairs of Anatol," which will be shown at the Dixie Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The roster reads like screen-dom's who's who. The phrase "all-star cast," is a much abused one, but it adequately describes a cast that includes Wallace Reid, famous Paramount star; Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bebe Daniels, Monte Blue, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Agnes Ayres, Theodore Kosloff, Polly Moran, Raymond Hatton and Julia Faye. Nothing like this cast in the way of aggregate talent has ever been assembled before. The drawing power of almost any of the names on the roll has been sufficient to awaken the interest of the discriminating public. Here, for the first time, they are appearing in a single production under the direction of a master producer—Cecil B. DeMille. "The Affairs of Anatol" was written by Jenie Macpherson, author of many notable Cecil B. DeMille productions. Her story was suggested by Arthur Schnitzler's scintillating comedy of the same name.

AMERICAN $ ADOPTED BY LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The League of Nations has adopted American currency as its official medium of payment, because the American dollar is the only stable unit in the world.

A balance of $360,000 in New York is now carried by the secretariat, and all members of the league are required to pay their quotas in dollars.

It is expected that Canada's proposed amendment suppressing Article X of the covenant will be rejected, because it has been pointed out that its passage would not fulfill the object of encouraging the United States to join the league.

FOR MIDSUMMER
 Lyons Velvet Hats

—If history is to be believed, women at one time wore straw hats in summer and velvet hats in winter. Woman is a creature of moods and no means dependent upon the weather man to tell her what to wear.

—In winter she wears hats of straw or lace—in summer, behold, she dons the chapeau of velvet.

—Because it is becoming almost always, and because it seems peculiarly adapted to seaside wear, we excuse the inconsistency of lovely woman fads, and applaud her in her chic velvet hat though the weather be 100 degrees in the shade.

—These new models are in large, medium and small shapes. The color list includes blue, brown, pheasant, cherry, taupe and black.
 —The trimmings are of pin ostrich, in fancy effects.

MRS. HOUSEWIFE

Did you ever stop to think that when you buy your meat from SAUNDERS you are not just BUYING MEAT?

SAUNDERS' SPECIALIZED SANITARY SERVICE gives us another valuable product which we sell with every order ABSOLUTELY FREE. This valuable product offered FREE is PROTECTION.

That meat is highly sensitive to germ infection, and that sometimes the most dangerous contamination is not easily detected, every intelligent housewife knows. No housewife is prepared to judge entirely for herself that the meat she buys for the nourishment of her family has been slaughtered in a 100 per cent sanitary slaughter house and has been cared for in a 100 per cent sanitary way from the time that it leaves the slaughter house to the time that it reaches her home.

THIS IS SOMETHING SHE EXPECTS OF HER MEAT MAN. She wants to be sure that he knows his business, that he attends to it in a 100 per cent sanitary way, providing for her table nothing less than 100 per cent sanitary meat. For the health of her family this is to her a priceless guarantee.

And so, Mrs. Housewife, when you go to market, we shall ask you to remember that SAUNDERS' has studied the business twenty years. Meats have been our one commodity, and our time has not been sacrificed to a study of countless products which would divide or minimize efficiency and thoroughness in our chosen line. Our knowledge and experience are at your disposal—and you are not asked to Pay More.

There are no cheap prices to advertise—we do not sell cheap meats. We cannot reduce the price of old wares and advertise a bargain. Our stock is practically new every day. You do not want old meats. When you market for your family you want strictly fresh, pure, sanitary meat. We have it. Think it over and let us serve you.

Republican Platform

REPUBLICAN NOMINEES FOR STATE OFFICES TO BE VOTED FOR NOVEMBER 8, 1921.

For Governor:
HENRY W. ANDERSON of Richmond.

Lieutenant Governor:
JOHN H. HASSINGER of Washington County.

Attorney General:
HARRY E. WOLCOTT of Norfolk.

The Republican Party in Virginia, by its delegates in State Convention assembled at Norfolk on July 14, 1921, adopt and proclaim the following platform of principles and policies:

REVISION OF CONSTITUTION

The present Constitution of Virginia was conceived in distrust of the people and born of a breach of faith. It was proclaimed by forty-seven (47) men in violation of the pledge of the Democratic Party that it should be submitted to the people for ratification upon the faith of which the convention was authorized. It is founded upon the principle of repression, and is a denial of every principle of popular government. For twenty years this revolutionary mandate of forty-seven men has throttled the political and economic life of this State. We demand that this Constitution be promptly revised upon the principles herein stated, so as to restore the political and economic freedom of Virginia, and re-establish popular government based upon faith in the people, and their right to govern themselves; and that this revised Constitution be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection.

REFORM OF ELECTORAL LAWS

We favor, and pledge the Republican party to, a reform of the electoral laws of this State so that they will encourage, not prevent, voting by competent and qualified persons, and yet protect the State and local governments from any danger of control by ignorant or incompetent people.

We favor the following specific reforms among others:

1. The removal of the electoral machinery from the hands of the judges (who should administer justice not politics) and restore it to the people under proper safeguards.
2. The creation of bi-partisan electoral and registration boards, the majority of each to represent the majority party in the county or city.
3. That the requirements for registration be simplified and clearly defined by law, with right of appeal to the higher courts in protection thereof from the whims or fraudulent purposes of registrars.
4. That the judges of election be really bi-partisan and representative of the best elements of the two major parties.
5. That the iniquitous poll tax as a prerequisite to voting and a penalty on the exercise of citizenship be abolished.
6. That the ballot be reformed to provide simplified voting, with publication of the ballot in advance of elections.
7. That adequate and suitable polling places be provided.
8. That the right of appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeals be given in all cases involving the right to register or vote and all contested election cases except for members of strictly legislative bodies.

REAPPORTIONMENT

The failure and refusal of successive Democratic Legislatures to make or permit any reapportionment of the State Senatorial and House districts, in the face of the express mandate of the Constitution that such reapportionment "shall be made in the year nineteen hundred and twelve and every tenth year thereafter," is a flagrant example of the contempt of the officeholding machine in this State for the constitutional or other rights of the people. We favor a reapportionment of such districts on the basis of population which will give to the people of this State equitable representation in the General Assembly.

WOMEN AS CITIZENS

The full rights of citizenship having been conferred upon women (over the protest of the Democratic party in Virginia), we favor the repeal of any laws which discriminate against them in their rights of person or property; and the selection of women for, and employment in, every branch of the public service, on their merits, on a basis of entire equality with men. We especially favor their selection for membership on the managing boards of, and employment in, those branches of the public service having to deal with public health, child welfare, schools, humane and corrective institutions and like services. We believe that their peculiar knowledge and qualities of human understanding and sympathy will do much to improve the spirit and condition and promote the efficiency of these organizations.

LAWS AND CRIME

We favor the firm and impartial enforcement of all laws as essential to the preservation of the State and that there should be but one standard of justice in Virginia, which should be applied to all the people without discrimination.

We believe that the prevention of crime and lawlessness can best be attained by proper attention to the education, health and moral training of the individual, and by giving to the individual the maximum liberty consistent with the rights of others and the maintenance of public order. The people of this State and country are oppressed by useless laws which are rapidly destroying liberty and bringing all law into contempt. We oppose the enactment of any law unless the necessity therefor be first clearly shown. We favor the administration of penal and corrective institutions on humane principles, having in view correction rather than punishment.

GOVERNMENT AND TAXATION

The present government organization and tax system of Virginia are an appalling burden to the people and a menace to the political and industrial life of the State.

The number of persons officially connected with, or employed by, our State and local governments has reached the astounding figure of over 45,000, while the total vote for Governor in 1917 was 89,000. We are in complete control of an office-holding tyranny which is constantly strengthening its position through the use of the taxing power.

The cost of our State government has increased from $3,700,000 to $18,500,000, or 400 per cent, from 1900 to 1920; while the combined cost of State and local governments has increased from $13,000,000, or $7 per capita, in 1900, to $72,500,000, or $32 per capita, in 1920. The property of the people of Virginia is rapidly being confiscated to maintain an office-holding machine; industry is throttled, capital driven from the State, and our young men forced to go to other States and sections where conditions of life are less burdensome.

We favor, and specifically pledge, the Republican Party in Virginia to (1) a complete reorganization of our State and local governments on business and efficient lines; (2) a reduction of the number of officeholders and public employees to the number actually necessary for a government properly organized and efficiently administered; (3) the conduct of the government, State and local, on lines of strictest economy; (4) a complete revision of our tax system on a basis of equality and equity; (5) the complete abolition of the fee system; (6) the extension of the budget systems to all branches of the local governments; (7) a complete audit of the accounts of this State and its public institutions; (8) a material reduction in taxes, which can readily be accomplished if the government be administered with that economy which the tax-burdened people are compelled to apply to their own concerns.

STATE REPORTS ROAD PROGRESS

Contracts for 325 Miles Let During Fiscal Year—Other Projects Under Way.

Contracts for 324.08 miles of state highway costing $5,709,709.47 have been awarded by the State Highway Department during the fiscal year of October 1, 1920, to September 1, 1921, according to data given out at Richmond by Commissioner George P. Coleman. Resurfacing work—59 miles, to cost $347,380.01—has been undertaken by state forces. Additional allotments on seven projects under way of $68,628.58 brings the total cost of state contracts and resurfacing work on 400 miles of state highway to the sum of $6,071,214.17. In addition to this amount there remains on hand to cover contracts which will be awarded as soon as questions such as rights of way and location have been decided, $1,051,000, making a total of contracts awarded and initiated during the fiscal year, which closed Friday, of $7,122,214.17.

Since January 1, 1919, when the State Highway Department first began to construct the state highway system with state and federal funds, contracts for the construction of 551.44 miles of road has been awarded up to September 30, 1921, in addition to resurfacing work either completed or under way of 123.6 miles.

Surplus Funds from 1921.

That Virginia was able to let to contract and resurface in excess of 60% more mileage of state highway during the fiscal year of 1921-1922 than were let to contract or resurfaced during the two previous years combined, is due to the accumulation of funds left over from 1920 and the loans made by counties to the state under the Robertson Act. In 1919 funds were limited, labor and materials were high and difficult to procure. The State Highway Department had just begun to function with federal and state funds with which to build state highways, and surveys and plans had to be made in advance. In 1920 when prices continued high, a conference was held between Governor Davis and the State Highway Commission, at which time it was decided to hold up construction until prices were lower.

Early in the year of 1921 when materials and labor costs declined, and transportation facilities for materials and an abundant supply of labor were available, the State Highway Department commenced awarding contracts and started road construction all over the state. By June 14, 1921, all of the federal aid due Virginia was taken up in projects in the various stages of final approval by the Bureau of Public Roads in Washington. Likewise, all of the available state funds were taken up either in contracts let or ready to be awarded as soon as details as to rights of way could be settled. The Highway Department has not initiated any new contracts, since that time, being compelled to wait until the 1922 funds are available.

State Now Ready to Go Ahead.

In addition to 551.44 miles of state highways which have been let to contracts since January 1, 1919, surveys and plans have been completed for 583 miles of state highways. The State Highway Department is rapidly adding to the surveys and plans for more mileage of state road construction. On September 30 of this year, the State Highway Department had under way surveys for sixty-eight additional miles. By the time the State Highway Commission will be ready to let contracts in the spring, it is estimated there will be ready approximately 650 miles of road. Notwithstanding the large amount of surveys made for next year's work, the overhead of the State Highway Department, which consists of engineering and administrative expense, has been between six and a half and six and three-quarters per cent. This compares favorably with other states in the union.

What portion of 650 miles of state highway for which the State Highway Department will have plans and surveys ready by March of 1922 can be let to contract, will depend on the funds made available by the General Assembly. The estimated returns from the mill tax, one-third of the automobile tax, value of convict labor, and federal aid under the schedule of the new Federal Aid Act, will produce $4,100,000, out of which must be paid back to the counties allotments to cover portions of loans made under the Robertson Act of $27,837.50, leaving a balance for new construction of only $3,772,162.50. Even if the General Assembly appropriated the entire amount from the general fund as has been available annually for the past three years of $700,000, the state would only have $4,372,163, or $2,780,000 less than the amount of road funds available during 1921 for new construction of state highways. The amount of road funds available in 1921 as recognized as wholly inadequate and $4,000,000 behind the amount being expended for new construction in the state of North Carolina during 1921. According to report from other states just received, the Minnesota highway department has had available $15,000,000 and Michigan $22,000,000 for 1921. Illinois has advertised for bids on 187 miles of road to be let October 4, which will cost between four and five million dollars, in addition to in excess of $15,000,000 worth of roads already let to contract this year.

TO UNVEIL STATUE OF GEN. JACKSON

Equestrian Monument Will Be Presented at Charlottesville on October 19.

The official program of the unveiling of Keck's bronze equestrian statue of "Stonewall" Jackson, in Jackson Park, Charlottesville, on October 19, has been arranged and is worthy of that interesting event and of the great assembly which, it is now certain, will assist at the ceremonies. These will be under the auspices of the Grand Camp, Confederate Veterans of Virginia; Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans, and the Virginia Division, Sons of Confederate Veterans.

A noteworthy phase of the occasion will be due to the fact that the reunion at that time of the Grand Camp, Confederate Veterans of Virginia, and of the Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans, will perhaps be the last assembly of these organizations. Their members are passing away and the memories which cluster about them and their achievements must be preserved by their successors, the Sons of the Confederacy and the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The veterans will be formally welcomed at a meeting to be held on the evening of October 18, at the Jefferson Theatre. The address on behalf of the local veterans, Sons of Veterans, and Daughters of the Confederacy will be by Dr. H. W. Battle, and on behalf of the city and county by Judge R. T. W. Duke, jr. The response on behalf of the veterans will be by Assistant Adjutant-General Carter R. Bishop, of Petersburg, and that on behalf of the Sons of Veterans, by Senator E. Lee Trinkle, Democratic nominee for Governor of Virginia.

The address at the unveiling exercises will be delivered by Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi. The music for the occasion will be discoursed by the famous Stonewall Brigade Band, of Staunton, Va.

On Thursday morning, October 20, the two veteran organizations and the Sons of Veterans will hold their final business sessions. From 11:30 to 12:30 the Veterans and Sons will be taken on an automobile trip to the University of Virginia, followed by a picnic at Fry's Spring, which will bring the reunion to a close.

EWELL CAMP MEETS

Rev. and Mrs. Westwood Hutchison Entertain Confederate Veterans.

Members of Ewell Camp, Confederate Veterans, held a meeting Sept. 26 at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Westwood Hutchison and later were Mrs. Hutchison's guests at luncheon.

The camp elected the following delegates to attend the three-day reunion of Confederate veterans of Virginia, which begins at Charlottesville October 18: Mr. Hutchison and Mr. Geo. H. Smith, of Manassas; Mr. L. A. Mootery, of Greenwick; Mr. John W. Hall, of Gainesville, and Messrs. E. A. and A. B. East and J. C. Wise, of Haymarket.

Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, historian of the local U. D. C., asked the co-operation of the veterans in the historical work of the chapter, and the camp appointed the following historical committee: Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, Dr. W. F. Powell Marchant, Dr. S. S. Simpson, Mr. R. A. East and Mr. A. B. East.

Mr. James Carter, of Fairfax county, was awarded a cross of honor for his father, the late Winston Carter, who was a Prince William soldier.

The next regular meeting of the camp is set for January 19.

GO TO STATE FAIR TO JUDGE BREAD

Three Girls Leave for Richmond to Represent Prince William in State Contest.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent)

Prince William county was represented today in the bread judging contest at the state fair in Richmond by the following girls: Miss Georgie Brockett, Occoquan district, captain of the team; Miss Virginia Garber, Brentsville district, and Miss Helen Arthur, Gainesville district.

The rules governing this work are very strict. Girls must first win out in a county contest, and must have made both loaf bread and biscuits sixteen times before entering the state contest. The girls representing Prince William county have the following record in baking bread and biscuit: Miss Brockett, loaf bread sixteen times and biscuit twenty-four times; Miss Garber, loaf bread eight times and biscuit seventeen times; Miss Arthur, loaf bread nine times and biscuit twenty times. Miss Mae Hill, who was elected alternate to fill any vacancy in the team, has reported making loaf bread nineteen times and biscuit eighteen times.

It was no easy job to win this prize as the county team for work in the state contest, as there were nine teams (27 girls) in the county contest, and 28 loaves of bread were exhibited by the county bread club. The county fair association offered a prize of $12 each to the winning team, which will help to pay the expenses of the girls to the state fair contest.

It was a happy group of girls that went to Richmond yesterday to enter the contest this morning at 9:30. Miss Garber and Miss Arthur left Manassas, accompanied by the county agent, and Miss Brockett joined them in Alexandria.

All the girls taking part in the contest are entertained at the Young Woman's Christian Association. Each girl was required to take one loaf of bread and six biscuits, either baking powder or soda, which were collected Friday morning and taken to the fair grounds.

The girls were given a trip to the Governor's Mansion, going from there to the fair grounds.

The captain of the Prince William team won a half barrel of flour offered by Mr. B. Lynn Robertson, president of the county fair association, for two years in succession, there being 22 loaves exhibited in the first contest and 26 the next time.

WHEN YOU ARE OLD

What will you be doing in your old age? Will you be sitting on the front porch stroking your white hair? Or will you be active, powerful and a leader? This latter you may doubt, for most of us have the false notion that old age means inactivity.

If you have an idea of retiring when you are 60, consider these great exploits by old men:

Titian executed his most famous painting when he was 98.

Von Moltke was in full uniform when he was 88.

Cornelius Vanderbilt did not become a great railroad king until he was 70. At 80 he was the most active railroad man of his day.

Socrates began studying music when he was 80.

Pasteur discovered his hydrophobia cure after he was 65.

Columbus between 50 and 60 made his first voyage of discovery.

Voltaire, Newton, Spencer, Talleyrand and Thomas Jefferson—all were active and in their intellectual prime long after they were 80.

When Galileo discovered the monthly and daily vibrations of the moon, he was 73.

The Earl of Halsbury, 99 years old, is today the leader of the conservative party in the British house of lords, and is supervising the writing of a twenty-volume encyclopedia of British law.

There are tens of thousands of instances of men who did their best work in old age. The world is full of such men today.

In our youth we grope rather blindly. Experience comes slowly. With age comes wisdom—real knowledge of life.

Youth is usually too impulsive. Old age, remembering scalded fingers, is conservative. The two, working together, make the happy medium, the ideal combination.

Nature can make your joints stiff and your arteries hard, your hair white and your face lined with wrinkles. But your brain—your real self—remains young.

Learn to think straight. You would make old age the most enjoyable and the most useful period of your life.—Exchange.

COMMUNITY FAIR DATES ARE NAMED

Three Scheduled to Take Place in Prince William This Month —Plans Complete.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent)

During the month of October community fairs will be held in three sections of Prince William county. The first will be held at Bethel on Saturday, October 15; the second at Independent Hill, Saturday, October 23, and the third at Gold Ridge, Saturday, October 29. Premium lists have been sent out in each case.

These premium lists deserve special mention. The spirit of interest and co-operation is plainly shown by the way the merchants and business men have responded to help make the premium lists possible. Those who have not received premium lists and wish to have them should write to the president or secretary of the fair association. The officers are:

Bethel—President, G. C. Russell, Agnewville; secretary, Frank Milledale, Hoadly; assistant secretary and treasurer, Miss Eva Kidwell, Agnewville.

Independent Hill—President, M. Oleyar, Bristow, Route 3; secretary-treasurer, E. E. Cornwell, Manassas, Route 2; assistant secretary, Miss Dorothy Merrill, Bristow. This fair is open to all Prince William communities below the run.

Gold Ridge—President, W. Y. Elliott; secretary, J. M. Ellcott; assistant secretary, Mrs. Granville Keys; treasurer, Mrs. C. R. Earhart. All officers may be addressed at Bristow. The fair is open to all nearby communities.

Everybody is urged to get busy and help make these community fairs a success. It takes unity to make a success of anything we undertake. Committees have been appointed at each place. Every member of these committees is urged to feel that if he or she fails to do the duty assigned that part of the fair will be a failure. Your county home demonstration agent is ready and willing to help in any way to make these fairs successful.

In each of the fair communities boys' and girls' clubs are organized. It is urged that these organizations be given space and urged to make good exhibits. Mothers are urged not to forget the Better Baby contests at Bethel and Gold Ridge. Read the premium lists and don't fail to enter your baby. It is a splendid opportunity to see that yours is a normal baby. The doctors in charge will take pleasure in answering questions and giving mothers helps with the little folks.

Some time last spring Superintendent of Schools Chas. R. McDonald suggested that communities where fairs were held be urged to contest for a silver cup which he himself would offer in a final contest at the county seat after the fairs were all over and crops had been harvested. Now is a splendid time for Bethel, Independent Hill and Gold Ridge to let it be known whether they wish to enter such a contest. Your county home demonstration agent will be glad to hear about this between now and Friday, October 14.

Let everybody get busy and make these community fairs real little county fairs.

ANIMALS SCENT HARD WINTER

The birds and beasts that live in the Bronx Zoo at New York are preparing for an early and hard winter. Although they live in luxury and don't have to worry about where their next meal is coming from they are instinctively hoarding up food.

All classes of animals spent a stiff winter, keepers say. The squirrels are putting in full days storing up unusually large quantities of nuts. The prairie dogs, a month ahead of time, are secreting lots of food into their underground homes. Robins and blackbirds are flocking together and showing unmistakable signs of preparing for migration to Southern climes.

JUDGE EXILES DANVILLE MAN FOR 30 YEAR TERM

John Dix, charged with four separate offenses on the present docket of the Danville Corporation Court, was sentenced to stay away from Danville for thirty years by Judge D. P. Withers. Dix was convicted and sentenced to serve twelve months in jail and pay a fine of $500. The court suspended the sentence provided he would fulfill the terms of the thirty-year exile, but he must pay the fine and costs. Dix is now thirty-five years old. Charges involved questions of conduct.

VALLEY YOUTH ACCUSED OF MURDER ACQUITTED

Jury Clears John Stevens of Death of Katherine Littleton Last Spring.

John A. Stevens, young Halltown man, accused of murdering Miss Katherine Littleton, 16 years old, of Bolivar, at her home last spring and indicted at the May term of court at Charles Town, W. Va., was acquitted Friday afternoon after the jury had been out with the case for about two hours.

Judge Woods, after all the evidence was in, instructed the jury to consider only the charge of involuntary manslaughter, reducing the seriousness of the blanket murder indictment. Stevens has been out on bail since shortly after his preliminary hearing.

Stevens went on the stand in his own defense today, told a simple story in a straightforward manner and made, it was generally conceded, a good impression. He said he and Miss Littleton, who was a good friend of his to whom he had paid some attention, had been to the Castle, above Harpers Ferry, the evening of the tragedy, with a crowd of young people. Several of the boys in the party had pistols and were shooting them in fun as they came down to Bolivar and Harpers Ferry.

He did the same, he said. He went with Miss Littleton to her home; they sat down in the parlor, as they were wont to do, he testified, and he put his pistol on an organ stool. Not long after they had seated themselves he said he heard an automobile outside. Miss Littleton, he declared, remarked, "I believe I'll shoot myself," and picked up the pistol. Almost instantly it went off, Stevens said, and with it went out also the light in the room, presumably extinguished by the concussion of the explosion. Stevens turned and screamed "My God, Katherine, what have you done!"

However, he said, she was beyond all help. Frightened out of his senses, he picked up the pistol after trying to help the girl, and walked to his home in Halltown, some miles away, where he was arrested the following morning by Jefferson county authorities.

The State put on the stand more than a score of witnesses, many of them young people who were in the party that went to the Castle.—Woodstock Times.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, Charles S. Gray, who died at his daughter's home near Nokesville, September 4, 1921, and was laid to rest in the Oak Dale churchyard.

Gone, but not forgotten, dear husband and father,
Gone from your home here on earth;
But we know you are safe in heaven
And free from all pain and sorrow.

Our home is sad and lonely now,
The one we loved dearly is gone;
But we hope to meet you in heaven
When our days here on earth are done.

When we think how you suffered, dear,
How your whole body was racked with pain,
Though we miss you so much, dear,
We cannot wish you back again.

As we stayed by you day and night,
Trying so hard to relieve,
The angels were waiting near,
Waiting your dear soul to receive.

Now you are safe in the arms of Jesus,
Safe on his gentle breast,
Safe from all pain and suffering,
Safe in heaven at rest.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife,
four sons, two daughters, sixteen grandchildren, three sisters, three brothers, and lots of relatives and friends.

Written by his devoted WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Test this Gasoline for Yourself, on the Road

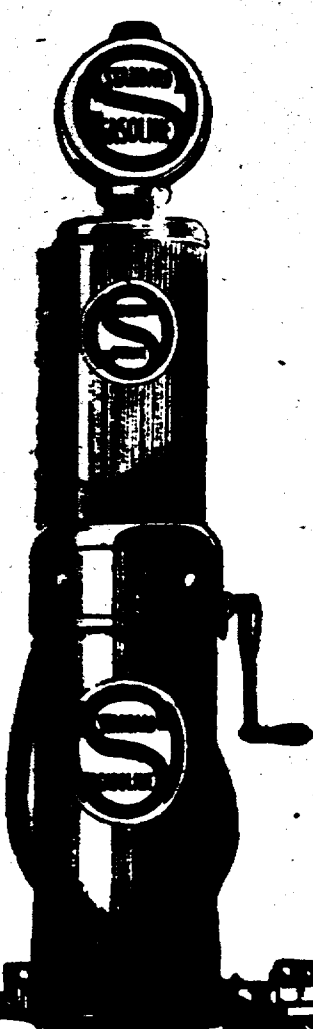

HOWEVER sincere one motorist's statement may be, his experiences with his car cannot be applied exactly to your operation of your car. Most drivers know that individual cars have peculiarities. We do not ask you to use the improved "Standard" Motor Gasoline simply because you have heard that it is the best on the market. We want you to try it for yourself, according to your own requirements. On a basis of results, alone, we would gladly have you decide whether or not you should use it regularly.

"Standard" Motor Gasoline is a light, volatile fuel which enables your car to start easier and run more smoothly. It has extra pulling power. The recent improvements in the product, made possible by the work of our Development Department, have made "Standard" Motor Gasoline the best obtainable.

But remember that the final test of gasoline quality is how it performs in your motor. Try "Standard" Motor Gasoline for yourself under varying road and weather conditions. It will pay you to begin at once.

A great combination is "Standard" Motor Gasoline for power and Polarine for lubrication.

Army Goods!

The government from January to June practically gave away their surplus goods and we were on the job with the CASH the government required and bought a good many thousand dollars' worth of merchandise. We are offering them to you at only a fraction of their real value. They are the best made of their kind and every item was inspected by a U. S. Inspector before they were accepted. You recall the cheap bridles, saddles, etc., we sold you? Well, we are better fixed on the following items:

$1.19. U. S. Army Reclaimed Wool O. D. Shirts; they are Class "B" which is next to new. They are all sanitary and in perfect shape; did you buy a new shirt and wash it, you would have no better; they are in all sizes from 13 1/2 to 16 1/2. There is no limit as to quantity as we have many hundred to offer you. The U. S. has withdrawn all from sale, so when these are gone will have no more.

$2.29. Several hundred pairs U. S. Army New Trench Boots, in all sizes from 6 to 11. Some are all rubber and some are rubber vamps and soles and leather tops. They are worth from $3.75 to $5.50 as to height, but we make price on all the same—$2.29.

$3.98—$4.98. U. S. Army Corduroy Work Coats, in all sizes from 36 to 46. They are new and can not be bought by the 1000 for the price we name. Some are blanket lined and some are reversible. The blanket lined are $3.98 and the reversible $4.98.

25c Pair. U. S. Army Wool Socks. They are new and can not be bought today for less than 50c.

49c. U. S. Army Barracks Bags. They are new; made by the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company and cost the government in million lots several times what we ask. They are wonderful laundry bags; can be used for many purposes. To see them is to buy.

20c Pair. U. S. Army Leather Palm Canvas Gauntlet Gloves. They are new, and as many pairs as you want.

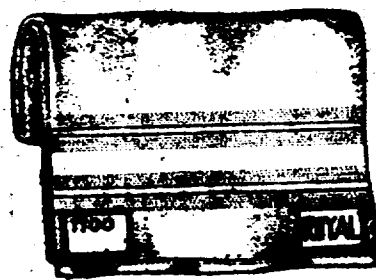

Two Pairs for 25c. U. S. Army Jersey Knit Gloves. They are new; some short and some long wristlets; O. D. and Black. Why pay the other fellow 25c for one pair?

49c Each. U. S. Army Reclaimed Wool Undershirts. These are Class "B" and we consider among the best bargains offered by us. There are several thousand garments; you select the ones you want. If you are looking for the greatest value in underwear you ever saw, this is your chance. They are reclaimed and shirts only, but they are wool.

49c Each. U. S. Army New Fleece Shirts and Drawers. They are new and every garment inspected by a U. S. Inspector; they are the heaviest of heavy cotton fleeced underwear and could not be bought today by the case for less than 62 1/2c each at mill. All sizes, 36 to 46.

$2.98. U. S. Army Oil Skin Coats. New. These are Tower's Fish Brand, in black, yellow and khaki; every one inspected by a U. S. Inspector. They are the Pommel Slicker for riding horseback or walking and can not be bought from A. J. Tower today for less than $4.50 each.

$2.50. U. S. Army Oil Slicker. New. These are full long coats but not suitable for riding horseback; made for foot soldiers only. Can not be bought today and sold for less than $2.75.

$3.98. U. S. Army Gray Wool Blankets. These are new wool blankets weighing from 4 to 4 1/2 pounds and can not be bought for less than $8.00 to $7.50 each. We can not buy and sell you a pair cotton blankets for this price; so you may imagine how cheap these are at $3.98.

$4.98. U. S. Army Wool O. D. Blankets.
$5.98. U. S. Army Wool O. D. Blankets. These blankets are low and weigh over five pounds each.

$2.98. U. S. Army Wool Reclaimed Blankets. These blankets are reclaimed Class "B" and could not be sold if they were used from their appearance. These best blankets are not in our store yet, but have been shipped from the Chicago government warehouse and may come in any day. Several thousand pairs in the lot, so there will be plenty for all.

REMEMBER:—All army goods are NEW except O. D. Shirts, Wool Undershirts and one lot of blankets; every other item is NEW absolutely, so remember this.

STATE NEWS NOTES

Miss Mittie Carey, a prominent resident of Suffolk, was struck by a Seaboard Air Line passenger train and instantly killed Friday night. Miss Carey, who had been in a colored settlement on an errand, had crossed the tracks in front of a freight train and failed to see or hear the oncoming passenger train on parallel tracks. She was struck and dragged for several yards.

Rev. J. L. McCutcheon, pastor of the Baptist churches at Leesburg and Waterford for three years, has ended his pastoral relations there and will leave immediately for Washington to engage in supply work. Rev. Mr. McCutcheon preached at Leesburg as supply last Sunday and will probably continue to act as supply until a permanent arrangement is made. He came to Leesburg from Franklin, Tidewater Virginia, where he was pastor for twelve years.

A conference of milk producers of Virginia is to be held at Lynchburg about October 15, the object of which will be to induce farmers to give more attention to milk cows than has been the case in the past. Mr. A. B. Thornhill, president of the Virginia Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union, who is also state dairy and food commissioner, issued a statement in which he said that the best way for the tobacco grower to curtail that crop is to keep more cows. He argued that a herd of six cows properly kept would be a source of revenue to the farmers, the commissioner adding: "A milk check every thirty days means a whole lot more than what is brought in once a year by the sale of tobacco."

Magdalena Payne, a small negro child, died at Lynchburg a few days ago after drinking concentrated lye, which her mother left standing on a cook stove while at her work. The child died in horrible agony twenty hours after taking the lye.

It gave Mrs. Harding "sort of a creepy feeling" to contemplate visiting the grave where Stonewall Jackson's arm is buried, near Fredericksburg. "But I think I'd like to do it anyhow," the First Lady declared. So she and the President visited the scene.

It had been overgrown with grass and weeds so that the little marker scarcely showed until the Martins came down and cleared away the space, building a fence about it.

Locating the sites of four moonshine stills on the Tye river in Nelson county, the federal revenue raiding squad from Lynchburg was unable to find a still at either place, but about 1,000 gallons of beer was destroyed. Apparently the stills had been moved out of the way of the raiding party, but one or more arrests are expected to result from the raid.

More than 250 delegates from all parts of Virginia will attend the annual convention of the Virginia division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to be held at the Jefferson Hotel in Richmond, October 11. A ritual of the organization will open the session, and will be followed by a memorial service led by Mrs. Newton McVeigh. Mrs. Norman V. Randolph will make a report on the library at this session, and a report on the Lee Mausoleum will be submitted by Miss Annie Mann, of Petersburg. Mrs. Cabell Smith, president of the Virginia Division, will preside at the convention.

The Smiths of Norfolk are coming into their own. The proposed reunion, or convention, of that well-known family is attracting nation-wide interest. The Smiths in Norfolk are receiving inquiries from their kinsfolk throughout the country—north, south, east and west. They all say they are coming. It seems quite certain now that the convention will not meet until next spring, probably in April, since it was on the 26th of that month that Capt. John Smith landed at Cape Henry. The working out of a pageant will require several months of careful preparation, and involve considerable expense. This will call for 100 or more actors and actresses, the principals of which, they say, must bear the name Smith.

Virginia was well represented in the list of medal winners for the month of August in the Winchester Junior Rifle Corps matches. No less than fifteen Virginia youngsters won medals. They are: Mason Richards, Fredericksburg; R. A. Burton, jr., Danville; Gordon Myers, Richmond; H. L. Boatwright, jr., Danville; Elbert N. Trinkle, Wytheville; Drayton Mayers, Greenwood; H. S. Wilson, Staunton; Harold G. Roiphe, Virginia; William Woodley, Suffolk; Finlay F. Ferguson, jr., Norfolk; W. N. Weaver, University; Ernest F. Bohannon, Roanoke; C. H. Davis, jr., Petersburg; Carter Rowe, Fredericksburg, and Randolph Davis, Roanoke.

What is claimed to be the largest crowd that ever heard any speaker for twenty years greeted Hon. E. Lee Trinkle, democratic nominee for governor, when he arose to address the voters of Montgomery a few days ago, according to a report from Christiansburg. Senator Trinkle was in fine spirits and launched into a vigorous defense of the record of his party, both state and national. He made a stinging attack upon the record of the republican party, both state and national, and said he did not blame his opponent or refraining to allude to his party's past. He spoke for nearly two hours and was given the closest attention by the large audience, which was composed of almost one-third women and several republicans. Mr. Trinkle was frequently and loudly applauded.

Walter T. Gore, aged 36, wealthy Frederick county fruit grower and stockman and prominent Mason, was found dead Tuesday night on his farm near Winchester. A tractor nearby indicated he had been run over.

Tuesday, after eighteen-year-old Uera Gallien had been convicted of the murder of eleven-year-old Elsie Lawson on the morning of June 7 in the baseball park at Kingsport, Tenn., she had confessed the crime to his attorney, says a dispatch from Bristol. The youth was given a life term in the penitentiary. Nine of the jurors who tried him voted to send him to the electric chair but finally yielded to the other three, who were for life imprisonment.

With a bullet hole through his neck, Sidney M. Critzer, of Charlottesville, is at University Hospital in a critical condition, the wound having been inflicted by a revolver fired by Benjamin Clements, of Ivy, an engineer on the Southern railway, following a heated argument between the two men, according to a dispatch from Charlottesville. Critzer, it is alleged, whipped out a spring pocketknife and threatened to carve Clements. Though warned to desist, Critzer continued to advance on the engineer. With his back against the wall, Clements drew his pistol and fired. The shooting occurred in the hallway of a Charlottesville boarding house, not far from Union Station. Clements calmly walked to his room and later surrendered to the police, claiming that he acted in self-defense.

WATERFALL CLUB MEETS
Program Committee Selected to Prepare for Next Meeting.

(Nora Mayhugh, Reporter)
The Waterfall Agricultural and Home Economics Club held its regular meeting at the school house on Saturday, September 17, at 2:30 o'clock, with ten members present and the president presiding.
The meeting opened with song, "Darling Nellie Gray." We then had roll call and reading and approval of minutes, after which we had Scripture reading by Miss Nora Mayhugh.

Business was then taken up, also discussion of the Fair. The treasurer reported $5.20 in the treasury, and it was decided to keep that amount in the treasury to help to carry the members to the Fair next year. We then had a song, "Tenting Tonight."
The program committee appointed for the next meeting is composed of Miss Lillian Bell and Messrs. Mason Mayhugh and Omar Kibler. The meeting closed with song, "Long, Long Ago."

Chilly rooms made comfortable in a few minutes

And you don't have to "drive" your coal heater

With delightful autumn days there always come chilly nights and frosty mornings. You dislike to start up the furnace or open heater until it is actually necessary.

Next to the great convenience of the Perfection Oil Heater is its personal economy. It burns the about 18 cents of a single gallon of kerosene which would easily heat half what it did last year.

It is a responsive tendency to keep comfortable rooms and hallways heated all the winter. Hundreds of thousands of families will cut down their coal bills this fall and winter by using the Perfection as an auxiliary heater. Keep the house warm with the coal heater but use the Perfection to make the living rooms comfortable.

The Perfection Oil Heater placed in front of an exposed door or window will make drafts warm and healthful.

Your hardware, housewarming or department store probably carries Perfection Heaters. Ask the salesman to explain their simple, sturdy construction and the method with adjustment.
