ALVIN W. HARRIS SURRENDERS

Gives Self Up to Commonwealth Attorney—Taken to Richmond for Safe Keeping.

After having been pursued since the night of Wednesday, July 19, by sheriff's posse and bloodhounds from the District work house at Occoquan, Alvin Harris, the negro who killed Thomas S. Meredith in the public road at the Lane home, near Gainesville, surrendered to Commonwealth Attorney Thomas H. Lion early Sunday morning and was at once conveyed to Alexandria and from there to Richmond to escape any possibility of mob violence.

When he surrendered Harris was nearly famished for water and food. According to his statement he had eaten but three meals in the time intervening between the murder and his arrival in Alexandria.

During the early hours of Sunday morning Commonwealth Attorney Lion received a call in person from Henry Norris, a negro living near Manassas. Norris informed Mr. Lion that he knew where Harris was and that the latter was ready and willing to surrender, provided he was assured he would be protected from violence.

Harris, it appears, stayed in the proximity of Manassas all day Saturday and until the hour of his surrender. After having left the home of William Lewis, near Middle Station, Friday afternoon he kept to the woods in the vicinity of the Lewis home until after dark. He then made his way around Manassas to the Porter farm, and was near the Annaburg house all of Saturday afternoon and night.

Harris expressed regret that he had not killed his wife and his father. It is said that he blames the latter for the trouble that caused a separation between his wife and himself.

William Harris, father of the murderer, fearing that the son would make his way to his home and be caught there, left the county on Friday, taking his family with him.

SUPPORT THE BASEBALL TEAM

White Rose Wins on Saturday—Lose on Wednesday—Keys Hits Home Run.

In an effort to provide a clean, wholesome sport for the people of Manassas and Prince William County a few of the business men of the town are giving a portion of their time to the management of the White Rose Baseball Club. Other younger men of the town and county are providing the sport by doing the actual playing without a cent of remuneration. The agreement between the management and the players is that the latter shall share equally in any net proceeds at the end of the playing season.

The visiting teams have to be paid something for their expenses, and this payment usually takes the form of a division of the gate receipts, the larger percentage going to the winning team. Manassas up to this time has not been breaking even on the home games, and but for the money received when the team was playing away from home the White Rose Club would have been financially swamped long ago.

WEDDING AT THE PLAINS

Pretty Ceremony Takes Place Last Thursday Evening. Grace Church, The Plains, Va., was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday, July 20, at 7:30 p. m., when Miss Edna Louise Moore, daughter of Mrs. S. S. Moore, became the bride of H. H. Hulsh, Jr., the ceremony being performed by Rev. S. A. Botter, rector of Grace Church. The church was artistically decorated with hydrangeas, black-eyed daisies and ferns. To the strains of Lohengrin rendered by Mrs. John E. Lewis, of Blinnmont, Va., sister of the groom, the bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. James W. Moore, of Orange, Va., who gave her in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and best man, his brother, Mr. Frank N. Hulsh, of Washington. The bride was becomingly attired in white net over silk, with a court train and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Eva Moore, as maid of honor, who wore orchid organdie with hat to match, and carrying pink roses. Miss Dorothy Moore, another sister, as flower girl, wore white organdie and carried a basket of pink roses. Miss Mattie Athey, of Manassas, in yellow organdie and Miss Maude Lee, of The Plains, in green organdie, wearing hats to match and carrying yellow roses, were bridesmaids. The ushers were Mr. Herbert Moore, brother of the bride, and Mr. Julian B. Hulsh, of Washington, brother of the groom.

NEWS FROM THE COUNTY AGENT

State Farmers' Institute to Be Held at Blacksburg on August 9, 10 and 11.

(W. L. Browning, County Agt.) The State Farmers' Institute to be held at Blacksburg this year August 9, 10, 11, is more important, probably, than any institute held for several years. It will deal especially with the farmers' greatest problem of today—that is, marketing his products. On the program dealing with this marketing question are some of our leading successful marketing experts. It is the time of the year for the farmer to take a little vacation, and there would be no better way to spend that vacation than by making a trip either by rail or in auto to the Farmers' Institute. Can't we get a big crowd of Prince William farmers to take this trip as a delegation representing this county? If you are at all interested in this trip with a group of farmers, please communicate with your county agent.

From the reports of those who have threshed the quality of wheat throughout the county is very poor. The yield is poor also because of the poor quality. Wheat is a crop that must be raised on every well-regulated and well-planned farm that is farming with a rotation of crops. It is true that we must get a reasonable yield if this crop is going to pay in proportion to the other crops in this rotation, and unless we use the very best seed obtainable we will not be doing our part in getting this yield. Through the county agent's office we are very anxious to hear from every farmer in the county who wants to get better seed wheat and whether smooth or bearded. It is our plan now through the seed certification department at Blacksburg to locate either in our own state or a neighboring state a section noted for its high quality of wheat, and to bring into this county several cars of seed wheat that is known to be nothing but the best. Are you interested in getting the best seed wheat obtainable for seeding this fall?

The ushers were Mr. Herbert Moore, brother of the bride, and Mr. Julian B. Hulsh, of Washington, brother of the groom.

After a reception for the immediate families, at the home of the bride, the young couple left by motor for Washington, to go to Boston by sea. The bride's going-away gown was of blue Canton crepe with hat to match. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. Hayden, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Athey and Miss Athey, of Manassas; Mrs. John E. Lewis and family, of Blinnmont; Mrs. W. B. Smith, of Manassas; Mrs. A. L. Lewis, Miss Lottie C. Lee, Mrs. Mary Hulsh Treth and Mr. Worth Hulsh, of Alexandria.

MOTOR TRUCK RUNS WILD

Colored Man Injured When Emergency Brake Fails to Act.

Cornelius Johnson, colored, was injured and the workshop and storeroom of Adolphus Roy damaged by a peculiar accident on Monday morning of this week. Johnson, who is in the employ of Mr. W. E. McCoy, cranked up a truck in a garage of the Manassas Motor Company, and as the engine started the emergency brake slipped, throwing the motor into "high." The truck rolled out of the garage building with Johnson clinging to the front of the machine between the bumper and the fender. The truck headed for the Roy building and smashed head-on into the plate-glass window facing Center street. The window was shattered, and the frame knocked out of position. Johnson escaped with minor cuts and bruises. Had it not been for the bumper on the machine he would probably have been crushed to death. The damage done to the Roy building was repaired on Tuesday afternoon.

COUNTY BOARD IN SESSION

Supervisors Order Bills Paid and Transact Other Business. The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the county was held at the courthouse on Tuesday of this week. In addition to ordering the payment of the customary long list of accounts the following other orders were entered: D. N. Davis granted permission to erect a radio aerial across and 40 feet above Telegraph Road, at Rufus Davis' store, in Occoquan District. J. P. Leachman appointed paymaster on road improvement project from Blandford bridge to Manassas, the pay roll to be met by him when approved by Supervisor Jas. E. Larkin. A duplicate warrant was ordered drawn in favor of J. P. Smith for warrant No. 898, which was lost or destroyed. James R. Larkin appointed inspector on construction of road from Chappal Springs to St. Joseph's.

Upon complaint being made that noxious substances flowing into the Potomac River from the refuse plant at Cherry Hill are causing the destruction of fish, it was ordered that the Commissioners of the District of Columbia be requested to take the necessary steps to remedy the evil. The sum of $100 was ordered drawn from the county fund to meet a like sum raised by citizens for road and street improvements at Quantico. A warrant of $120 was ordered to be drawn on the county fund in favor of Thomas H. Lion, the money to be used by him in paying expenses incident to Alvin Harris' capture.

J. L. Dawson was appointed a committee to negotiate the purchase of a truck loader and to confer with the State Highway Commission relative to obtaining supplies for road construction and maintenance. The following justices of the peace appeared before the board and produced their receipt books, showing all fines collected by them properly accounted for: T. H. Marshall, M. A. Bell, L. E. Oortley, R. E. Smith, J. S. Storke, S. M. Haislip and Thomas Sheppard. J. R. Larkin, C. A. Sinclair and L. Ledman appointed committee to settle with county treasurer, J. P. Leachman.

The clerk of the court laid before the board a list of all fines collected from January 1, 1922, to July 1, 1922, which list was ordered certified to the Auditor of Public Accounts. The next meeting of the board will be held Tuesday, August 22.

LIONS VS. WOODBRIDGE

Home Team Is Victorious in Both Games—Look at the Score. The Lorton Canaries played two games with the Woodbridge Lions on the home diamond—one on Saturday, July 8, and the other on Saturday, July 22. The Lions won the first game by a score of 21-3 and the last 21-4. The great jungle cats could have easily made two or three times as many runs, but their paws got sore running around the bases. The Lions' lineup was—G. Wigglesworth, cf.; H. Burdette, 3b.; P. Burdette, c.; C. Burdette, p.; W. Smith, rf.; S. Dawson, lb.; B. Davis, 2b.; C. Ellis, ss.; C. Eley, if. —Primary election on Tuesday, August 1.

STATEMENT FROM HON. THOS. H. LION

Attorney for the Commonwealth Thanks All Who Took Part in Search for Harris.

Editor Journal:—By reason of the deplorable murder resulting in the death of a most respected citizen, Mr. Thomas S. Meredith, at the hands of Alvin W. Harris on Wednesday afternoon, July 19, and owing to the many wild and erroneous rumors afloat as to the efforts being made to apprehend the accused, also in justice to many who took an earnest and active part to see that the law was properly upheld and enforced, I trust you will grant sufficient space to the undersigned to permit the following statement: On behalf of the officers of the county it must be said that they exerted every means within their power to apprehend the accused, and by reason of the aid volunteered and freely given (in some instances at considerable expense) by citizens of the county it prevented the escape of Harris, owing to the vigilant watch which was maintained in and around the vicinity in which the accused was believed to be located; and in this connection it must be said that the authorities of the work house at Occoquan gave valuable aid and what might be termed the best assistance of any by freely and without charge the use of their bloodhounds. Harris was finally worn down with dodging and running from one body of woods to another, and he finally realized it was impossible for him to escape, and with the assistance and upon the advice of some of his race he surrendered to one of the county officers about 1:30 Sunday morning of the 23d instant. There has been a tendency to criticize and some threats made toward some of the colored race under the misapprehension that they were harboring Harris and preventing his capture; but, in justice to the colored race, it must be said that so far as the county authorities have learned, with one exception, each one who came in contact with Harris reported that fact to some of the authorities, and William Jackson, Worth Berry, William Lewis, Roscoe Lewis, Ally Finn, Charles Roy and Henry Norris did all within their power to see that word was received by the authorities that Harris could be apprehended. Harris' father and mother (which was rather unnatural), when questioned by the authorities, freely gave information concerning their son, and should not be criticized for their acts in that particular. As far as known, Harris was seen by but two white persons, which was at night, and they were unable to recognize him, and Harris when called upon gave a fictitious name and was allowed to pass. Arrangements had been made for certain of the authorities and citizens to surround a certain dwelling just before daylight on Sunday morning, and the plan was to leave Manassas about 2 o'clock a. m., and when one arose that morning to prepare for this trip, he was informed by Henry Norris that Harris had requested him to say that he would give himself up if he were allowed to have a trial, and he would take his punishment, which was agreed to, and in company with Henry Norris went to the orchard of Mr. F. E. Ramsdell, just outside of the town of Manassas, and there Harris surrendered himself unconditionally, but with the request that he be protected against violence. Whereupon he was taken to Alexandria, and, after a conference with Judge Brent, conveyed to Richmond for safe-keeping until the October term of the court, which is the next term, when the law will be upheld and enforced. Too much praise cannot be given Mr. Robert Glasscock for his efforts and untiring work with his bloodhounds; and, in the judgment of the writer, had it not been for these bloodhounds Harris would have made his escape, and his apprehension would have been made at great cost, because Harris feared the bloodhounds more than he did the individuals hunting him; and it is respectfully submitted that what has occurred will, when we take time to consider, prove to be the best, and Prince William will preserve her reputation for orderly enforcement of the law. Respectfully submitted, THOS. H. LION. —Miss Frances Spies is visiting her sister, Mrs. Beulah Whitman, of Richmond.

LAW AND ORDER RULE

The Journal congratulates the people of Prince William County upon the fact that a lynching was averted in connection with the Harris case. Now that the murderer is behind prison bars and will be given a trial at the October term of the circuit court all fears for a miscarriage of justice can be laid aside, and the county can rest content in the thought and assurance that he will be given a fair and impartial trial by a jury of his peers—in a calm, deliberate and just way—and that the law will mete out to him such measure of punishment as the nature of the crime warrants.

During the progress of the hunt for the criminal many threats of recourse to lynch law could be heard, but such threats were, no doubt, due to the prevailing excitement rather than to the cool, deliberate judgment of the populace. The Journal believes that the vast majority of the people of the county only desire to see justice done and the law vindicated, and it further believes that any who might have entertained a notion of taking the law into their own hands are now glad that the county has been saved the stigma of mob violence.

Had Harris been shot down in his effort to escape arrest, we feel that the shooting would have been fully justified. But, now that he has surrendered to properly constituted authority, every orderly and law-abiding citizen owes it to the Commonwealth to see that the law is allowed to take its course.

It was the sworn duty of the officers of the county to use their every effort to effect the capture of the guilty man. It was likewise their sworn duty to see that he was protected once he was under arrest. Commonwealth Attorney Thos. H. Lion and Deputy Sheriff J. P. Karlin, who led the search for the criminal, are to be commended for the manner in which they discharged both obligations.

PASSING OPPORTUNITIES

The citizens of Manassas are either not alive to their opportunities or, realizing them, are willing to let them pass without making an effort to convert them to their own advantage.

No project that has been undertaken in recent years would so largely tend to aid Manassas as the conversion of the Henry farm into a Confederate Battlefield Park.

The Journal believes the success of this project would mean material success for Manassas and for Prince William County.

That portion of the old Warrenton-Alexandria pike that lies between Bull Run bridge and Buckland is now a part of the Lee Highway, and the establishing of the park would almost surely mean the building of this portion of Lee Highway ahead of any other portion of that thoroughfare.

A battlefield park would necessarily prestage the building of a permanent road from Manassas to the Stone House. Manassas would then be in daily touch with not only the citizens of the county in that section, but also with a large population in Fairfax County.

Not only that. A Confederate park at the Henry farm would annually bring thousands of visitors to the town of Manassas. While the individual visitor would probably not leave a great deal of money in the town, yet it is reasonable to believe that in the aggregate the amount would be worth while.

And yet the people of Manassas apparently are not interested in the matter at all. With them it is a case of "Let George do it." But if George is left to shoulder the entire burden and falls under it, what excuse will the citizens of Manassas have to offer for their neglect and indifference?

JOCKEYING WITH THE DEBT

Nothing could be more apparent than that the nations of Europe which are indebted to the United States are consistently and systematically avoiding the issue involved in the proposed settlement. Perhaps they are merely playing for time, but it is certain they are maneuvering as adroitly as they know how against facing the situation as it exists.

More than six months ago the Congress of the United States passed legislation creating a debt refunding commission. The commission was authorized to negotiate with debtor nations for the refunding of all outstanding demand notes held by this Government. The commission in the course of time was appointed, confirmed by the Senate and organized for business. Immediately invitations were transmitted through diplomatic channels to the governments of Europe to which the United States had extended credits.

These governments were invited to send commissioners to Washington with power to refund the unpaid obligations, agree upon an interest rate which these obligations were to bear, and fix a maturity date for the refunded bonds. America does not expect any debtor nation to pay what it owes here and now. It is well understood that this is impossible. But it is expected that the debtor powers will enter upon negotiations for the funding of the temporary notes into long-term securities.

To date not one government has taken any decisive step in the direction of refunding. The French have sent an envoy to Washington, but it was announced before he left, and has been announced again since his arrival, that he has no authority to do more than lay before this Government a statement of France's financial situation, a statement which is designed to show how impossible it is for that nation to pay either the interest or any part of the principle of the French debt.

There was no occasion to send this Frenchman to Washington for so formal a proceeding. France might have made such a statement from Paris, and it is necessarily disappointing to the American Government and the American people to find France evading an issue in this childish way.

Nor has the course of the British government been much more reassuring. It was stated in London months ago, and with much ado, that provision had been made in the current British budget for the payment of interest on the debt to America. The soldier bonus advocates took this program seriously that they were prepared to appropriate the amount of the British interest fund for soldier gratuity, without waiting until it had actually been received.

The British also let it be known that they would send commissioners to Washington just as soon as the American commission could be organized. But March, April, May and June passed without action. Not until the middle of July did the London government do anything about the matter. Then it was that Ambassador Harvey was informed that the British negotiators would arrive in Washington "some time in September."

Neither Italy, Belgium nor any of the smaller nations indebted to the United States has paid any apparent attention to the debt question. Perhaps they are waiting to see what terms the British and French make with this Government.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

While such persistent efforts are being made by so-called social welfare workers to legislate morals and morality into the public, it might be well for sociologists to endeavor to ascertain the fundamental underlying causes of the crime wave that is sweeping the country. If the causes for the widespread social unrest could be ascertained, legislation directed along the proper channels would no doubt prove beneficial. Until the cause or causes are found haphazard, hit-or-miss laws will accomplish little.

Slamp says he won't. His friends in the Ninth District say he shall. He probably will.

PERK UP!

Your nose may be battered, your jawbone nicked,
 Your visage may be a sight,
 But always remember you're never licked
 While still you can stand and fight.
 No matter how badly they mess your map,
 It won't be beyond repair.
 And there still is a chance that you'll win the scrap
 As long as the punch is there.

You'll make mistakes and you'll do things wrong,
 The best of them always do;
 But as soon as you get to going strong,
 Your grit will see you through.
 They smashed Paul Jones to a fare-you-well
 But he didn't observe "good-night."
 He merely paused in his tracks to yell
 That he'd just begun to fight.

There'll be plenty of folks to peddle gloom,
 There'll be plenty of folks to say -
 That they see the terrible day of doom
 Hurrying on its way.
 But the fellow who knows that the fight is hard,
 And still has the nerve to grin,
 And never gets rattled and drops his guard,
 Is the fellow that is going to win!
 —James F. Montague.

LAUGH AND LIVE

HERE TOO

There has been much discussion recently about a fitting motto for the coin of the realm. We suggest, "Abide with me."

DAD WAS DOLLED UP

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who wore a gown of charmeuse satin trimmed with Venetian point lace and with a veil of the same.

INSANE

Owner of Car—Why did you leave your last place?
 Chauffeur—The guy I worked for went crazy. Started shingling his house when the car needed new tires.

NO OPTIMIST

Crawford—He doesn't seem to be very optimistic over the second-hand car he bought.
 Crabshaw—No. If you're looking for the optimist in the case, you'd better hunt up the fellow who sold the car.

CASE-HARDENED

"Papa," said a small boy to his parent the other day, "are not soldiers very, very small men?"
 "No, my dear," answered the father. "Pray, what leads you to suppose that they are so small?"
 "Because," replied the young idea, "I read the other day of a German soldier going to sleep on his watch."

SOLDIERS TAKE A SHOT

Bobby, five years old, passed by a cemetery on his way home from school. One day there happened to be a military funeral in progress there. Bobby climbed up on the cemetery wall and watched the solemn rites and listened to the firing of the salute over the grave.
 When he reached home he breathlessly related to his mother the wonderful and interesting sight he had just seen. "But," he ended, "he wasn't quite dead, so the soldiers all took a shot at him."

EXPLAINING SWANSON'S VOTE

Carlin's Paper Comes to Rescue of Senior Senator; More Votes to Explain.

The Fauquier Democrat, presumably controlled by ex-congressman Carlin, contained some six or eight columns in "explaining" some votes of Senator Swanson against the farmer and in favor of the profiteer. Thousands upon thousands of copies of the paper have been mailed to the voters all over the State.

The "explanations" consist of a pious attempt to show that Governor Davis was disloyal to the Wilson administration because he opposed, at the request of thousands of business men and farmers, a half-baked revenue bill, calling for nearly eight billions of taxes after the war had ended.

Swanson refused to tax the profiteers from 75% down to 50% after they had been allowed 1% profit on their capital, water and all. Needless to say that several billions were out of this bill at the protest of the people.

Governor Davis was an original Wilson man and contributed largely to his campaign. Swanson's slogan then was "anything to beat Wilson."

The measures which Senator Swanson supported and which crushed the farmer were: $1 wheat; refusal to regulate the price of fertilizers; refusal to punish food hoarders; failure to regulate the price of farm implements; opposed to taxing profiteers and voting to take the tax off luxuries (furs, diamonds, etc.)

The "editorial" closes with a charge that Governor Davis failed to prosecute the trusts. His failure to do so was because an Anti-Davis Legislature and a lobby, headed by his present Richmond Campaign Manager, emasculated the law. Governor Davis asked for by killing the bill sentence and failed to appropriate money with which to prosecute its violators.

Here are a few more votes (See Congressional Record) which perhaps the Fauquier Democrat or Senator Swanson will seek to explain.

Corrupt Practices

To prevent corrupt practices in elections of Senators and Representatives in Congress. Senator Swanson voted "Nay" on an Amendment to extend the application of the bill to the Primary Elections. (Vol. 50, Page 2722.)

Government Contracts

Not voting on a substitute to Amendment prohibiting under penalty any person from attempting to procure contracts in which they would have a financial interest and from participating in any recommendation to any council, board of commission concerning such contract without full disclosure in writing of their interest therein. (Vol. 58, page 2321.)

Food Speculation

On Thomas Amendment to authorize the President to close for the duration of the war Boards of Trade and Exchanges where speculation in food products is permitted and providing a penalty for continuance of such speculation thereafter. Senator Swanson voted "Nay". (Vol. 55, page 2261.)

Committee on Conduct of War

On Amendment offered by Senator Owen to create a Joint Congressional Committee to safeguard war expenditures. Senator Swanson voted "Nay". (Vol. 55, page 2264.)

(The Attorney General recently asked Congress for five hundred thousand dollars to prosecute contractors who robbed the Government during the war.)

Enemy Property

On an Amendment providing that sales of enemy property (except to the United States) should be by public auction to citizens of the United States only and to the highest bidder. Senator Swanson voted "Nay". (Vol. 56, page 2322.)

RICHARD MONTGOMERY JONES

In the early morning of July 21st, 1922, R. M. Jones, Confederate veteran, answered the last roll call. Mr. Jones was born in Stafford County, Virginia, July 30, 1844. His early life was spent on his father's farm "Ludlow," in Stafford County, Va. He was a person of a quiet, generous nature; but when the war between the States began, he answered the call of his native State, and at the early age of sixteen years, he enlisted as a private soldier and served with honor throughout the war. His war record, of which he was justly proud, follows:

R. M. Jones, enlisted from Stafford County, Va., in February, 1862, and was mustered into the Confederate States service at Stafford Courthouse, Virginia, February, 1862, as a private soldier of Company A, Ninth Regiment Virginia Volunteers, cavalry, under Capt. Thomas Waller and Col. W. H. P. Lee, Second R. L. T. Beal Third, to serve during the war. The regiment was assigned to Fitz. Lee brigade, Stuart's division, afterwards Stuart's Corps, Army of Northern Virginia, and participated in the following engagements, viz: "Seven Days Battle around Richmond," "Manassas," "Brandy Station," "Barnesville," "Boonesborough," "Sharpsburg," "Wilson's Race," "Hatcher's Run," "Bellefield," "Dinwiddie Courthouse," "Five Forks," "Sailors Creek," "Seven Pines," "North Anna," "Rapidan," "Middleburg," "Spottsylvania Courthouse," "Wilderness," "Hanover Courthouse" and "Morton's Ford." Received final discharge May 4th at Fredericksburg, Va., on account close of the war.

Mr. Jones was the son of Amos and Eliza Botts Jones. In 1871 he married Miss Mary Ellen French, who died in February, 1917. In December, 1917, he came to live in Manassas at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. Y. Meetze.

Mr. Jones was laid to rest in Manassas Cemetery, wearing the Confederate uniform he loved so well. The pall-bearers were Eugene Davis, W. H. Bennet, P. F. Weedon, A. B. Carr, C. J. Meetze, R. M. Meetze, all sons or grandsons of Confederate veterans.

Mr. Jones is survived by four sons, Garland F. Jones, of California; L. Hugh Jones, of California; J. Amos Jones, of Texas; Charles R. Jones, of Arizona, and one daughter, Mrs. H. Y. Meetze, of Manassas.

FALSE REPORT CIRCULATED

Money Placed to Company's Credit at Peoples National Bank.

Mr. Editor: Will you be so kind as to allow me a space in your columns to contradict a false statement that has been made in regard to the premium money that was awarded the Gold-Ridge Cheese Company last year at Roanoke, Marion, Bluefield, W. Va., Richmond and Lynchburg Fairs?

The total amount was $37.50. All second premiums, with the exception of Richmond, where we won third.

As secretary and treasurer of cheese company at that time I received the money and placed it to the company's credit at the People's National Bank, and have vouchers from bank to show for these deposits.

The report has been circulated that Mr. Bowers and I had gone 50-50 on this.

This is a falsehood, and can be proved. If the party or parties who circulated this will work as hard as some of the rest of us do to make an honest living, stay home and attend to their own business and be honest and square themselves, they will not find time to run other people's character down.

If we could only see in ourselves what the other fellow sees in us, we would not be so quick to down our fellow-man.

The question has been asked, "Do you expect to make exhibits at the State fairs this year?" Most assuredly "yes," and we hope to win some ribbons.

Let this be a reminder: Do not accuse the secretary-treasurer or anyone else of misusing the money. We are honest, if we were born and reared in "the sticks."

If the party who started this will come to me, I will be only too glad to prove to him that Mr. Bowers and I did not use the money.

Respectfully,
W. Y. ELLICOTT.

HAYFIELD CLUB MEETS

(Elsie Copen, reporter)
The meeting was called to order by the vice-president Thursday morning (July 13) by singing the song, "Smiles." The Lord's prayer was repeated by all, after which the roll was called and minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and approved. Recitation by Nellie Copen. The following songs were sung by all: "Our Club Will Shine," "4 H Workers" and "Beet Your Club." Several club songs and yells were practiced.
Miss Gilbert was present and gave a very interesting talk about the "States Short Course." She also talked on "Bread Making." Two of the girls have decided to join the "Bread Club." We hope they have good success.

We also talked of the picnic we are planning to have at our next meeting. We hope to have every member present and some visitors also. Committee to get up program for next meeting are: Nellie Copen, Bertha Luck and Louise Weber. The motion was made and seconded to adjourn and meet again next month.

MISSIONARY MEETING

(Mrs. J. H. Dodge, Sec'y)
The Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. Emmons, a well-represented meeting. The hymns sung were "Make Me a Channel of Blessing" and "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." The prayer service was spent in reading the 16th Psalm, followed by some thoughts on friendship. The topic for the afternoon was "Review of Missions." The work on mission field was encouraging, and in regard to home missions, on account of obstacles put in the way of Christian religion, made the home mission work all the more necessary. A very pleasant social hour was spent, the hostess serving delightful refreshments.

30 x 3 1/2 - $10.90 No Tax added
on Sale Now

USCO set the high value mark for 30 x 3 1/2 tires when it originated the $10.90 price last Fall.

USCO today betters that mark with a new and greater USCO—an USCO improved in many important ways.

For instance, a thicker tread—with a surer hold on the road—thicker side walls, adding strength and life to the tire.

And the price is $10.90—with the tax absorbed by the manufacturer.

Men have always looked to USCO for the biggest tire money's worth on the market.

They always get a bigger tire money's worth than they expect.

A TRIBUTE TO CHAS. A. BEAVERS

On Friday morning, July 14, at 1:20 o'clock, Mr. Charles Beavers passed quietly into his peaceful sleep, after a period of six months of intense pain and suffering, which he bore with extraordinary patience, to await that grand awakening to which all true and noble-hearted Christians look forward—regardless of their creed or faith—at the age of 50 years 3 months and 5 days. So quietly did he fall asleep that even those who were keeping constant vigil and administering such physical aid and comfort as was within their power could hardly realize that he was gone.

Mr. Beavers was a native of Prince William County, having been born near Token, April 9, 1872. He was a son of Samuel and Sophia Cooper Beavers. He spent his entire life in his native county in the useful and diligent pursuit of agriculture. He was considered a most practical farmer by everyone who had an opportunity to watch the success which crowned his efforts with almost every crop he planted, and his methodical system and mature judgment based on actual experience rendered his advice invaluable, which was often sought by farmers of his neighborhood and which was always so cheerfully given.

The phrase, "His word was his bond," is so frequently used as well as so often abused that it has become common, but if ever those words were applicable to a living human being they should have been applied with exceptional fitness to any promise ever made by "Charlie" Beavers, as he was so familiarly known by all of his most intimate friends and associates. His record for promptness and punctuality in matters of less importance as well as important business transactions was as closely associated with his name in the minds of those who best knew him as if it had been his middle name or an official title attained on merit.

Aside from this particular and important characteristic just referred to, there was still another more pleasing and more popular side of the man, more noticeable, perhaps, by reason of the fact that it was always apparent to everyone with whom he came in contact regardless of whether or not they had ever had any business relations with him: That is, he was of a very jolly and jovial nature, possessed a congenial disposition, which enabled him to always spread sunshine where others could not help but create a cloudy, heavy atmosphere, so to speak, by their very presence, even though they remain silent.

Mr. Beavers was endowed with a peculiarly gifted talent for music, and that he could wield the bow of a violin with extraordinary and exceptional skill will always be attested by everyone who was so fortunate as to have heard this genius of music. To those lovers of old-fashioned music, such as hornpipes, etc., his notes made a tender and touching appeal to certain chords that have never been awakened by the strains of any other musician.

"A class student of human psychology, while once delivering an able address at a banquet some years since, quoted the following lines, which have never before been seen in print:

Who can judge a man by manners?
 Who can know him by his dress?
 Paupers may be fit for Princes,
 Princes fit for something less.
 Crumpled shirt and dirty jacket
 May belie the golden ore
 Of the deepest thoughts and feelings.
 Satin vests could do no more."

That this man was a true Christian at heart was an evident fact to those whose pleasure it was to be with him in his last moments, as indicated by his readiness and willingness to welcome the will of his Heavenly Father, and notwithstanding his terrible agony due to a malignant malady of the stomach, which was slowly sapping his life away and which was pronounced beyond all human aid by his physicians, he retained that sweet, agreeable and obliging disposition evidenced by his desire to cause the least trouble to his ever-ready and anxious attendants, and retained his faculties in full rationality to the end.

Mr. Beavers was married December 7, 1899, to Miss Lovella Hottenstein and proved all that his matrimonial obligations implied—a most kind, dutiful and protecting husband and a kind, loving, considerate father. Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter, Miss Christine Beavers, two sisters, Mrs. Hillman Keys, of Brentsville, and Mrs. Riley, of Warrenton, and four brothers, James, George, John and Levi, all of this county.

The funeral was held from the family residence on Centerville road Saturday evening, the 15th, at 4 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. T. D. D. Clark by former request of the deceased in the event the Rev. Mr. Clark survived him, and interment was made in the Manassas Cemetery. The many floral tributes here a silent message of sympathy and love. The pallbearers, who were intimate friends of the deceased, were Messrs. J. J. Randall, W. B. Bullock, Edgar Parrish, Levi M. Nalla, Geo. C. Brenton and Martin D. Lynch.

While we sorrow with the family in the loss of this kind friend and neighbor, we rejoice with them that he was fully prepared to enter the better home "beyond the river."

His life was truly an example to all those who would achieve greatness and nobility with unassuming effort.

For—
 True is in being, not seeming;
 In doing each day that goes by
 Some little good—not in the dreaming
 Of great things to do by and by.

A FRIEND.

To Maintain a Standard—

is not always an easy task. In these times when the public is clamoring for something cheaper, it's a great temptation for merchants to cheapen their products. We have always refused to do this for the quality here must be kept up. We buy only the best and sell only the best—and at prices that are consistent with standard quality. Selling only meats we have no "baits" to throw out. Our only inducement for you to buy is: Quality plus Service and Sanitation. Our steadily increasing patronage warrants us in our belief to fight along this line and not be tempted to resort to the line of the least resistance. Your children will receive every kind attention here. May we serve you?

DO YOU WANT A VACATION?

A real vacation, that builds you up in strength and energy, that puts a new gladness in your step? It is a vacation that you can prolong for week after glorious week, always gaining in health and efficiency. You want such a vacation? Then try the

Cantilever Shoe

Give your feet a Cantilever vacation. Your whole body will feel better. Ordinary stiff-soled shoes restrain the foot muscles, check the circulation, weaken the arch, upset the nerves, and subtract from your strength and your vitality. But the Cantilever Shoe gives the foot perfect freedom. It has a flexible shank that bends WITH the foot. It encourages the foot to exercise. Cantilevers correct and prevent flat foot by strengthening the muscles surrounding the bones of the arch.

The natural shape of the shoe and the well-set heel encourage correct posture. With the weight properly distributed, you can walk or stand for a long time in Cantilevers without the fatigue experienced in other footwear. The style of Cantilever Shoes is correct for daytime wear.

Trim Oxfords in several leathers or white linen; also high shoes. Sold in Washington only by us.
