

PREVENTING FLAT FEET

Wise Advice Given to Those Who Are So Afflicted.

Bathers and vacation campers should not stand around barefooted or in flat-soled sneakers if they want to preserve their foot arches.

These timely hints for the summer vacation season are drawn from a resume prepared on the orthopedic work of the Reconstruction Hospital, New York.

To strap-hangers on crowded cars the advice of the Reconstruction Hospital's orthopedic surgeons is: Stand pigeon-toed, throwing the weight of the body on the outer bottoms of the foot if one has to stand any length of time.

Housewives should don low-heeled shoes upon rising to prepare breakfast. Too many women risk painful flat feet by putting on flat bed-room slippers to prepare the morning meal and then continuing to wear this footwear throughout the forenoon until the morning chores are done.

At this season, with bathers and campers wearing flat shoes or none, the possibilities of developing flat feet are intensified.

Patients at the Reconstruction Hospital are not allowed to wear bed-room slippers when they are able to get out of bed.

While particular treatment is prescribed for each case, the majority exercise on this hospital's specially-constructed walking track.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RED CROSS

Convention Will Be Held in Washington October 9, 10 and 11.

Announcement was recently made from National Red Cross headquarters of the annual convention of the American Red Cross to be held in Washington October 9, 10 and 11, 1922.

This convention is the annual gathering of the representatives of the chapters of the Red Cross, of which there are 8,625 in the United States, each one entitled to at least one seat in the convention.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance owing to the importance of subjects to be considered. While much of the time will be absorbed in plenary sessions of the delegates, devoted to the discussion and the transaction of business, there will be several public sessions devoted to programs of a more popular character.

The afternoon of the first day will be devoted entirely to the interests of the ex-service man and his family, when addresses will be made by General Pershing, Commander McNider of the American Legion, and Colonel Forbes of the Veterans' Bureau.

The evening program will concern itself with the foreign work of the Red Cross, which has just been closed, and will be in the nature of a review of what has been accomplished, addresses being delivered by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Sir Claude Hill, chairman of the League of Red Cross Societies, and Dr. A. Ross Hill, vice-chairman of the American Red Cross in Charge of Foreign Operations.

Another evening session will be presided over by Chief Justice Taft, for many years chairman of the Red Cross, and addresses will be delivered by Solicitor General James Beck, Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell University, and Mrs. August Belmont.

Arrangements are being made for transportation rates from all parts of the country, and reservations are being made for the entertainment of delegates. Sessions of the convention will be held in the Continental Memorial Hall of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

GRADE CROSSINGS

Highways crossing railroads at grade are daily taking their toll of human life. To make accidents avoidable there are certain duties imposed upon the railroads and certain other duties imposed upon the users of the highways, but through the neglect of the employees of the one or the negligence of the other, or both, distressing accidents are of daily occurrence.

It has for some time been a rule of law that users of highways must "stop, look and listen" before going upon a grade crossing. This rule was enacted into a statute law in Virginia by the General Assembly of 1922, the statute making it a fineable offense for any person driving a vehicle on a highway that is crossed by a railroad at grade not to stop, before passing over such crossing, at a distance of not less than ten feet or more than one hundred feet from the nearest rail of the railroad tracks. The law does not apply to cities, incorporated towns, villages of one thousand inhabitants or more, or to crossings over railroads over which nothing but local trains are operated.

Accidents of the kind under consideration result not only in the immediate loss of life and property, but tend to weaken the nerve of locomotive engineers whose trains come in collision with vehicles, thus impairing their efficiency to a more or less extent.

By the enactment of the statute referred to the Virginia legislature had in mind the saving of life and the promotion of the highest efficiency of locomotive drivers.

An observance of the law on the part of users of the highways should make accidents of rare occurrence, as far as Virginia is concerned.

SUPPORT THE FAIR

Who is there in Prince William County that does not remember with pleasure and a pardonable pride the wonderful exhibitions that were staged at Manassas by the Prince William Horsemen's Association?

The association started in a small way, but within a few years grew to such proportions that it was putting on the biggest horse show south of Madison Square Garden. Indeed, at one time the Manassas Horse Show was heralded as the greatest exhibition of its kind in America. Each annual exhibition brought to the local show grounds many of the best horses in the South and East, while record-breaking crowds drew together here to witness the animals perform. The event was looked forward to with keen anticipation by the people of the entire county, and when the show date came, scores of vehicles might be seen coming from every direction to converge at the show grounds in record-breaking attendance. The annual exhibit was a holiday occasion for the people of Prince William, coming as it did at a time when the farmer's busiest days were past and when he might, with his family, enjoy a much-needed rest and recreation.

But the Prince William Horsemen's Association is a thing of the past.

Another organization, however—the Prince William Fair Association—has arisen to take its place and to provide a place of general meeting for the people of the county. It is true that the latter organization has not reached the prominent place occupied by the former. It will, however, be but a matter of time when the one will become as popular as was the other, provided the people of the county will manifest that interest that is so essential to make any undertaking a success.

The Association has an efficient corps of officers who are working to make the Fair one of the very best of its kind. If the people will support them, success will crown their efforts.

The striking shop craftsmen of the Southern Railway will get but little sympathy from the public now that they have failed to return to their jobs on the terms proposed by President Harding on July 31.

After delaying negotiations until August 8, representatives of the shop-crafts have rejected the proposal on the ground that the strike is a national one and must be settled nationally.

The Southern had not employed any outside mechanics to take the place of the strikers, and invited the old men to return to work, with full seniority rights.

The public will, no doubt, adopt the view expressed by Southern Railway officials that it is now time for them to turn to their obligations to the public and the company.

The attention of the street committee is respectfully called to several depressions in the streets in which water stands after every rain. One of the worst of such places is directly in front of C. E. Nash & Co.'s place of business. Such places could be remedied at little cost. "Eventually, why not now?"

SUPPRESSING THE BLOCKADE RUNNER

In the old days smuggling was an illicit adventure which professional romanticists loved to play upon, and a sort of glamor was thrown about the business by the graphic artists who told us the stories of hair-breadth escapes, of wild risks and manifold thrills. But the traffic in contraband goods of other times was mere child's play compared to the rum-running that is now practiced against the prohibition and customs laws of the United States.

Liquor smuggling has become a carefully organized and skillfully executed business. Where thousands of dollars were involved before, hundreds of thousands are now involved. Where cat-boat enterprises then flourished, ocean liner projects are being carried out. Where a few men here and there took their lives or liberty into their own hands, hundreds of men on both sides of the Atlantic are engaged in the delivery to American consumers of vast quantities of liquor.

Rum-running has grown to such proportions that domestic enforcement officers are practically powerless to deal with the problem. They confess their helplessness. Once in awhile they capture a cargo of wet goods after it gets within the three-mile limit and parade the fact with appropriate publicity, but the truth is that large shipments of wet goods are being successfully delivered almost daily along the coast, and the feeble patrol knows that it is unable to cope with the violators of the law.

It was for this reason that the Treasury Department officials appealed to the State Department for help. These officials complained that a niggardly Congress refused to appropriate money enough to guard the coast against liquor smuggling, and that the only means of keeping liquor out would be to stop it at its source. The Secretary of State was urged to negotiate agreements with foreign governments which might discourage liquor shipments if it did not totally stop them.

Secretary Hughes has undertaken these negotiations, but it is doubted if he enters upon them with any great amount of enthusiasm. It is probably mortifying to him to admit to foreign governments that the United States is unable to enforce a domestic prohibition law without international conferences and compacts. And it is probably the more mortifying in view of the fact that a vast majority of the violators are not foreigners, but citizens of his own country.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

THE SWEETEST OF ALL

The sweetest of all is a heart that is true,
 A home that is happy with song,
 A life that looks up through its trouble to you
 As you struggle to help it along.
 It isn't the thing that riches may buy
 That makes us the happiest here,
 But the way that we live and the way that we try
 To comfort our sweethearts with cheer.

The sweetest of all is to have a clean heart.
 As we go through the toil of the day;
 To take up our duty and do our full part
 In a happy and satisfied way.
 It doesn't take much, and the little is great.
 If with it there's wisdom to see
 That truth is the lesson of meeting our fate
 Like the men that God wants us to be.

The sweetest of all is to know in your soul
 You are trying in honor and light
 To keep the temptations of life in control
 And live every day of it right.
 And after the struggle, to walk in the sun
 With a lovely content through the strife
 In the things you have thought and the things you have done
 For the sake of your children and wife.
 —The Boatman Bard.

Cantilever Shoe for men for women
HAPPINESS
Happiness requires a hopeful, easy mind. Women who suffer from foot-troubles find it difficult to retain hopeful, easy minds. Now that comfortable footwear is so fashionable, more and more women are beginning to appreciate how much more hopeful, easier-minded and happier they are in shoes that ease every step.
There is a Cantilever Shoe designed to fit your foot. It is shaped trimly and fashionably, but with consideration of the natural lines of your foot. Like your own foot, it has a flexible arch.
No steel shank-piece such as is inserted in ordinary shoes restricts the free action of your ligaments and muscles. Laced up, it provides just the degree of support you find your arch needs. This flexibility corrects weakened arches, exercises foot muscles as they desire to be exercised, improves your circulation, and adds to your vigor and color. Let us convince you how much comfortable but good-looking Cantilevers can add to your happiness.

OUTING ENJOYED AT BOYS' CAMP

Youth Had Fine Time at Dawson Farm—Played Two Ball Games.

(By W. L. Browning, County Agent)
 One of the greatest get-together for boys interested in agricultural projects of different kinds was a camp from July 25 to 29 on the farm of J. L. Dawson, Woodbridge, Va. This camp was conducted by W. L. Browning, county agent, and H. W. Sanders, agricultural professor, Manassas, Va. Mr. Kibler, father of one of the boys, went along, and he was surely a great help in conducting the camp. Each morning a poster was tacked up with the names of each boy and his particular duty for that day. Each day each boy had a certain job to perform. The boys were always on the job to do their part at the right time and never a grumble about it. A large number of the boys play ball, so they took all kinds of base ball outfits along. Out of this crowd they picked a team, and the boys around Woodbridge were kind enough to give them a game. The first game was played in the pasture field near the camp. This game resulted in a victory for the boys in camp. The Woodbridge crowd not being satisfied with the game on the rough field, wanted another game, so they all went to Woodbridge the same afternoon and played on a good field. This time the results were reversed. Half of the boys did not know the other half, but they had not been in camp two hours until they all were calling each other by their given names as though they had known each other for years.

Each boy was asked to bring a certain article of food or several articles, as it happened to be, so that there would not be a great lot of one thing and nothing of something else. Then the balance was purchased as we needed it. By the boys bringing a large part of the food, the expenses of each boy was very small, $2 covering their entire costs for the five days camp, including truck hire, etc. Each boy pronounced it a great success and is already counting on another one next year.

The following boys were in the party on the camp:
 Omar Kibler, Preston Smith, Nonie Gosson, Ashton Bell, Stanley Bell, of Waterfall; David Harrover, Chas. Lewis, Jr., Henry Lee Lewis, Maxwell Covington, Orrin Kline, Albert Breden, Geo. Bucher, Jas. Bucher, Elmer Hurst, Earle Hurst, of Manassas; J. R. Springer, Max. Springer, of Bristow; Geo. Manuel, of Nokesville; Thos. Potter, Edward Potter, of Bristow, R. F. D. No. 2; and Edgar Brockett, of Agnewville.

What about that seed wheat for this fall's seeding? As I go around the county I find that the crop this year is even worse than it seemed at first to be, especially for seed. We farmers after we go to the trouble of preparing a good seed bed, using a good fertilizer, lime, etc., are absolutely throwing away our time and material if we do not use the best seed to be obtained. The best is not any too good. If we ever increase the yield of the county, we must use better seed. Through the help of the department at Blacksburg we are planning to get into the county for your use this fall a car or two of high class tested seed, to be distributed to the farmers at cost of distribution. If you are interested in your next year's wheat crop, please get in touch with your county agent as to your needs and the variety you prefer.

Rev. H. MacLeod preached at the usual hour Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church.

There was no service in the Baptist Church, as Rev. C. J. Fry has gone to Vermont on his vacation.

Mrs. Blanche Beagen, wife of Rev. H. J. Beagen, died at their home in Chester, Pa., last week. The remains were brought to Alexandria for interment, Mrs. Beagen having been born in Alexandria and spent her youth there. She was formerly Miss Blanche Hunter. Mr. Beagen has the sympathy of his many Clifton friends in his bereavement.

Mr. George Kidwell had a very painful and probably serious accident last Saturday. While building a scratching shed for his chickens a nail glanced and hit him in the eye, causing great pain, and at the hospital where he was carried for treatment it was stated they could not say how serious the effect would be. His friends are hoping that the treatment will be successful and that he will not lose his eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richard and daughters returned to their home in Atlanta, Ga., last week.

Mrs. Moser and daughter returned to their home in Saratoga, Pa., last Thursday.

Mr. Russell Ervine, of McDowell, Va., spent the week-end at the Quigg home.

Miss Eugenia Woodville is visiting at Dr. Ferguson's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hunsburger, of Midland, Va., were visitors in the community last week.

Mrs. Beck and son returned to their home in Philadelphia last Friday.

Misses Frances and Virginia Buckley were week-end visitors to Washington.

Mrs. Carver and children spent the day at Mt. Vernon last Thursday.

There will be an important meeting held in the Presbyterian Church Thursday, August 17, at 7:45 p. m. The object of this meeting is to appoint a committee of three to meet the board in September to advise with the district trustee about local school matters. It is important, and we hope all patrons will be present.

Miss Zonia Holmes, of Luray, is visiting at Mrs. Lucy Payne's.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Myers, also Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Robey, are the proud parents of a young daughter in both cases.

Mrs. Margaret Detwiler and daughter, Margaret, are visiting their cousin, Mrs. Schaffer, in New York City.

Miss Janie Webb returned to her home in Mt. Ranier, Md., Monday of this week.

Another hail storm struck parts of this section Tuesday afternoon. This one was a little nearer the north.

Mrs. Walter Buckley had a horse killed during the storm when the lightning struck a tree to which the horse was hitched in Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson's yard.

BUCKHALL

"I know not what the truth may be, I'll tell it as 'twas told to me."

Mrs. Hays, of Minnieville, visited Meadapes Winslow and Smith Tuesday.

Mrs. J. T. Speakes is visiting her sister and family in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Evans and Mr. Chas. Evans were Washington visitors Thursday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church celebrated their first anniversary at the church last Friday p. m. It was also the birthday of the secretary-treasurer. Refreshments were served and all report an enjoyable time.

Rev. and Mrs. Stevens, of Manassas, spent Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Winslow.

Mrs. Arthur Raymond, who has been quite sick, is reported recovering.

The Nokesville base ball team will play the Buckhall team here Saturday, August 12.

Rev. H. P. Hamam, P. E., of the Alexandria District M. E. Church, South, will preach here next Sunday at 8 o'clock p. m. Come and hear him.

The Wm. Smith family are attending the special meetings at Woodbine this week.

Notice—All persons having relatives or friends buried at Buckhall are requested to meet at the cemetery on Thursday, August 17, to help clear off the grounds. If you cannot come yourself, please send someone or at least see that your part of the grounds are taken proper care of, so not to impose too heavy burdens on the ones that do come.

Rev. Westwood Hutchison preached at the Methodist Church here last Sunday night. A large congregation was present. We extend a very cordial invitation to Rev. Mr. Hutchison to come again.

The Ladies of the Methodist Church will hold a social on the church grounds next Saturday night, August 12. Ice cream and cake will be sold and a short program will be given.

WHICH?

DOES IT PAY TO FERTILIZE?

Tests of Agricultural Stations have proven that by the use of good, commercial Fertilizer you can double your crops, and that one dollar invested in Fertilizer will bring an increase of many times the amount expended.

You can cut your acreage practically in half and by fertilizing produce just as large yields. This means a saving of one-half on your labor, implements, etc. By continuous farming of lands you have worn out the soil, robbed it of its plant food. Then, to grow profitable crops, you must use a good quality fertilizer which contains the necessary plant food. Royster's Fertilizers are specially prepared to fill these needs. Royster's have stood the field tests for forty years with highest results. Ask your dealer for Royster's or write us.

To Maintain a Standard—

is not always an easy task. In these times when the public is clamoring for something cheaper, it's a great temptation for merchants to cheapen their products. We have always refused to do this for the quality here must be kept up. We buy only the best and sell only the best—and at prices that are consistent with a standard quality. Selling only meats we have no "baits" to throw out. Our only inducement for you to buy is: Quality plus Service and Sanitation. Our steadily increasing patronage warrants us in our belief to fight along this line and not be tempted to resort to the line of the least resistance. Your children will receive every kind attention here. May we serve you?
