BUSY TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT

Grand Jury Returns Nineteen Indictments—Washington Youth Obtains Pardon.

Nineteen indictments were returned by the grand jury on Monday when the October term of the circuit court for Prince William county convened here, Judge Samuel G. Brent presiding. Ten charges under investigation were abandoned. The number of persons involved in indictments exceeds the record of any other Prince William grand jury of inquest in the recollection of court attaches here.

The case of Alvin Harris, colored, charged with the murder of Justice Thomas S. Meredith, of Gainesville, two months ago is expected to come to trial some time next week. Public announcement of the time set has not been made, doubtless because of intense feeling which has existed in the county.

F. H. Whitehead, a Washington medical student convicted of violating the prohibition law, was pardoned by Governor Trinkle. Young Whitehead was arrested near Quantico with a quantity of whiskey in his automobile. He assumed full responsibility for possession of the liquor, exonerating two companions, and had received on Monday the minimum sentence, $50 fine and one month in jail. It was shown that he was on a lark and was not engaged in bootlegging or the illicit sale of liquor.

A summary of proceedings follows:

BOY OVERCOME BY GAS

Frederick Hensley, Formerly of Manassas, Dies in Alexandria.

Frederick Hensley, fifteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas B. Hensley, of Alexandria, died Saturday morning when overcome by the fumes of monoxide gas at the Alexandria plant of the National Fruit Products Company. Six other employees of the firm were overcome but soon recovered.

Three of the men, including young Hensley, went into the big wooden tank in the company's plant, which has a capacity of 27,000 gallons. It was half full of skins and cores of apples which were in preparation of leaching or the manufacture of vinegar. Hensley was the first to fall from the effects of the gas and his two companions almost immediately were overcome. Other employees, including those who later were overcome, went to their assistance and after a struggle dragged out the men, one at a time, by means of a ladder.

Young Hensley's body was brought back to his former home near Manassas for burial, interment being made at Backhall on Monday, Rev. William Stevens, of the Methodist Church, officiating.

ASKS LEAGUES TO MAKE EXHIBITS

County President Wants Live League in Every Section of Prince William County.

To the Teachers, Pupils and Patrons of the Schools of Prince William County:

Dear Friends:—Mr. George W. Guy, the executive secretary of the Co-operative Education Association, is urging upon me to exert every effort to see that there is a live patrons', civic, or community league organized in every school in the county just as soon as possible, and to urge each league that has not already done so to send in its annual dues and reports to him immediately. And also to urge upon all of the leagues in the county to prepare an exhibit for the fall institute, which is to be held in Richmond during Thanksgiving week. I sincerely hope that each league will make an effort to send the best exhibit possible to this institute. All of these exhibits will be placed in one room to the credit of Prince William county, with the name of each league sending the exhibit. It means so much for the league that sends an exhibit, and it means a great deal more for the county in which the league exists, because of the fact that other counties in the state are putting forth every effort to bring their county to the fore in this great work.

Superintendent McDonald has kindly set apart a portion of the afternoon of Friday, October 13, at the county teachers' institute to be held in Manassas, for the purpose of reports from the county leagues. Mr. McDonald also calls the attention of all of the teachers in the county to this fact and urges them to have a representative and a report from each school. If we could only get all of the people to realize the great importance of a community league in every school, we would have no trouble in having these reports and representatives ready at any time. It means so much to us to get these leagues started while the weather is good, in order that good attendance may be obtained and the work advanced while conditions are favorable.

With the sincere hope that every school in the county will begin at once to complete these organizations and have their reports for the county teachers' institute and their exhibits and delegates at the state convention to be held in Richmond during Thanksgiving week, I am

Very sincerely yours,
C. J. MEETZE,
President Community Leagues of Prince William County.

FIVE COWS PLACE ON ROLL OF HONOR

Newly Organized Association Completes First Test With Good Record.

(Secretary)

Mr. T. T. Curtis, tester of the Prince William County Cow Testing Association, has recently submitted to the secretary a very interesting summary of the work done by him during September. The newly organized association now has a full membership, as is evidenced by the fact that 425 cows were tested during the month. Of this number, 22 cows produced 40 pounds or more of butter fat and five attained the honor roll by producing more than 50 pounds of fat. This list is as follows:

- Keels, a Jersey cow owned by Clover Hill Farm, heads the list with 871 pounds of 6.4 per cent milk, containing 55.7 pounds of butter fat.
- Wheeler, a Holstein grade, owned by W. T. Thomasson, produced 1,235 pounds of 4.4 per cent milk containing 54.3 pounds of butter fat.
- Toots, a grade cow, owned by J. N. House, produced 1,204 pounds of 4.4 per cent milk, containing 52.9 pounds of butter fat.
- Pretty, a grade cow owned by C. C. Lynn, produced 1,192 pounds of 4.3 per cent milk, containing 51.2 pounds of butter fat.
- Ells's Noble Maid, a Jersey cow owned by Clover Hill Farm, produced 769 pounds of 6.5 per cent milk, containing 50 pounds of butter fat.

The herd making the highest average production was that owned by Clover Hill Farm. The 21 cows on test averaged 666 pounds of milk, containing 34.76 pounds of butter fat. All of these animals are Jerseys. The following grain mixture was used in addition to blue grass pasture and corn silage and hay: Four hundred pounds corn and cob meal, 200 pounds bran, 200 pounds ground oats, 200 pounds cotton seed meal, 100 pounds linseed meal and 100 pounds of middlings.

The "Who's Who" among dairy cows is made up of the list of those animals receiving proper feed, proper care and management, and proper breeding. There is room for many more cows on the honor roll. Practice these three principles, use the cow tester, and help to double the list for October.

DEES IN SOUTH AFRICA

Mrs. M. M. Washington, of Greenwich, has received a copy of the Eastern Province Herald, South Africa, announcing the death of Mrs. M. Catherine Gould, July 23, at Portworth, district of Alexandria, Port Elizabeth, Cape of Good Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould, after a residence of nearly ten years in Prince William county, near Greenwich, on the farm now owned by Mr. John Reid, moved during the early 80's to South Africa.

A son, William Tyler Gould, and two daughters survive.

Mrs. W. H. Matthews, Miss Walker and Miss Agibony have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Aylor.

MANY VISITORS HERE FOR FAIR

Exhibits Declared Superior to Those of Any Former Exhibition in the County.

Last Friday saw the close of the third annual Prince William fair. The three-day exhibition attracted many visitors and it was universally agreed that the exhibits in every department reached the highest standard in the history of the fair association.

The first day of the exhibition was children's day, and practically every school in the county was represented there. Thursday was the busiest day on the fair calendar, when the gate receipts reached the highest mark.

Lt. Crowe and the cavalrymen of Troop E, Fort Myer, proved one of the most popular attractions scheduled during the fair. Their maneuvers included saddle drills, criss-cross jumping and fire drills given each afternoon and night with the exception of the closing night of the fair. The exhibition was especially creditable, according to fair officials, when it was learned that the men gave the performance after only a few days' practice.

The horse show, under the management of Mr. W. B. Bullock and his able assistants, Messrs. H. F. Lynn and M. M. Washington, was declared the usual success, some of the best horses from leading stables of Virginia being exhibited. The judges, who placed the coveted ribbons without a kick throughout the show, were: Dr. W. E. Walker, Sweet Briar; Dr. R. L. Humphreys, Middleburg; Mr. Charles Hamilton, Philadelphia; Mr. Carl Furr, Middleburg; Major A. H. Jones, Fort Reno, Okla., and Major E. S. Cullum, Remount Service, Washington. Mr. John P. Kerlin, of Nokesville, made a most acceptable marshal, calling the classes and getting the horses in the ring on time.

Among the new features which attracted considerable attention in the main exhibition hall were the community exhibits composed of prize exhibits from community fairs and the floral and garden exhibits. Ivakota Farm, the home of the Florence Crittenton Mission at Clifton, while not competing for any award, had an excellent exhibit of the handiwork of the Ivakota girls.

Many visitors were seen at the model kitchen prepared by Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, county home demonstration agent, Mrs. C. F. M. Lewis and Miss Mildred Harrell in the interest of the Better Kitchen movement. The room was ten by twelve feet in size and was equipped according to the latest plans of experts in home management who are backing the campaign. Much of the equipment was loaned by Mr. W. C. Wagener. Twenty-five women, after seeing the equipment and hearing the explanations offered, enrolled themselves in the Better Kitchen Club and will have their kitchens inspected by Mrs. M. M. Davis, head of the home demonstration work in Virginia, when she makes her next visit to this section around October 15.

Amusement features attracted the usual crowd.

WELCOME TO MANASSAS!

Next week Manassas again has her annual opportunity to welcome the teachers of Prince William county, who will hold their usual convention here.

The program announced by Superintendent McDonald is replete with valuable discussions, lectures and demonstrations and is expected to be of inestimable value to instructors in conducting the work of the school year. Public schools will be closed during the sessions of the institute, insuring a full attendance.

The Journal extends a hearty greeting to the county teachers. Welcome to Manassas!

A STARTLING (?) SLIP

A recent report that a cable of the Brooklyn bridge had slipped was accorded much notice in the daily press and was viewed with some alarm as an engineering failure.

The American Machinist, published in New York, takes a different view of the matter, which is both sensible and satisfactory. Says the Machinist:

"One of the four cables of the Brooklyn bridge slipped lengthwise 1 1/4 inches. That is to say that the total effect of uneven loading over a period of forty years was a shift of 1 1/4 inches in more than 4,000 feet. To some people this means that the bridge is faulty, unsafe and should be rebuilt. To others it means increased respect and admiration for the men and the profession who can build a structure which, after forty years of continued service and overload, is still so fit that an almost negligible shift startles the world out of its dream that anything can be made by human hands that will last forever. Surely if this job did not reach perfection, it came near it."

A BRAND NEW AILMENT

Now that Dr. Charles Cross, of San Francisco, U. S. physician during the war, has discovered "automobile foot," Prince William motorists may join a host of others throughout the country in deciding that they are victims of this brand new affliction. "Automobile foot" is caused, according to Dr. Cross, by the driver's holding the foot for prolonged periods on the accelerator button, forming a lesion which is generally located at the second toe. The motorist may feel distress long before he knows what is the matter with him. Dr. Cross declares, pain sensations dancing about the ball of the foot.

Only a dearth of imagination therefore need stand in the way of the motorist who would have this up-to-date ailment, and in time it may become a distinctly popular disease.

Press reports unfortunately fail to quote Dr. Cross as to whether the convenience and pleasure of having a car compensate for the pain of a severe case of auto foot, and they are equally silent as to its cure.

A TRAVELER'S SUGGESTION

A traveler in this section suggests through the Free Lance that farm owners place the names of their farms on signs at the entrance on the public highway.

"This would be of much interest," he wrote, "and would establish the location of the pretty farms in this section in the minds of those passing."

The suggestion is one that should appeal strongly to the farmer, and especially to the farmer who takes a keen delight and pride in his home. The sign need be neither expensive nor gaudy. A simple sign in harmony with its surroundings would be most desirable and effective. Occasional visitors often peer in vain at a mailbox where wind and weather have worn away the name, and in the end stop at any number of farmhouses along the way to make inquiries. In such instances a sign would be a most welcome aid.

Another idea along this line which is already popular with Prince William farmers is that of having printed stationery bearing the name of the farm and the family sheltered there. Such stationery lends distinction to letters leaving the farm, and is particularly valuable in business correspondence.

A STUDENT AT SILVER SEVENTY

A North Carolina woman who has passed the allotted three score years and ten, after "losing her job," has enrolled among the undergraduates of Columbia University. That we are never too old to learn is an axiom which few deny, but such a practical demonstration of faith is comparatively rare.

This little woman—Mrs. Crawford is her name—"lost her job" when her children grew up and established homes of their own. After leading a busy life the serenity of an unoccupied old age held no appeal. She was graduated from Vassar College fifty years ago, and in spite of a fair fund of knowledge and an unusually ripe experience made up her mind to enter the halls of learning once more, hoping, as Socrates hoped, "to grow old learning many things."

A contemporary recalls various historical incidents, eventually concluding that "Mrs. Crawford in her choice appears to us finer than any example in history." Her example should be a spur to the ambition of the younger generation and an inspiration to those of advanced years who live in the past without realizing that the future still holds opportunities for all who keep abreast of the times.

WOMAN JUDGE IN VIRGINIA

Virginians will watch with interest the career of Virginia's first woman judge. She is Mrs. Kerr Morehead Harris, and by appointment of Judge Turner Clement, of Chatham, she became judge of the juvenile and domestic relations court of Danville, where her work began October 1.

Mrs. Harris is a daughter of the late Major Turner Morehead and a granddaughter of Governor John M. Morehead, of North Carolina. Her husband was for many years a lawyer in Danville and her son, Malcolm K. Harris, is also a Danville attorney. Mrs. Harris has shown a signal interest in social welfare work, and her experience will be of inestimable value in her new field.

It is interesting to note that the new judge is not a lawyer. Technical legal decisions from her are neither expected nor desired. She will supervise offenses committed against or by children under eighteen and family troubles, such as desertion and non-support, where common sense and good human insight are more important than legal training. At least this is the view taken by attorneys generally and reflected by Judge Clement's appointment.

This is a good field for a woman of intellect, tact and judgment, and Danville may expect to profit by the innovation.

A TOAST TO THE FLAG

Here's to the Red of it—
There's not a thread of it,
No, not a shred of it,
In all the spread of it
From foot to head,
But heroes bled for it,
Faced steel and lead for it,
Precious blood shed for it,
Bathing it Red.

Here's to the White of it—
Thrilled by the sight of it,
Who knows the right of it;
But feels the might of it
Through day and night;
Womanhood's care for it
Made manhood dare for it;
Purity's prayer for it
Keeps it so white.

Here's to the Blue of it—
Heavenly view of it,
Star-spangled hue of it,
Honesty's due of it,
Constant and true.
Here's to the whole of it,
Stars, stripes and pole of it,
Red, White, and Blue.

LAUGH AND LIVE

AS PER SCHEDULE

Two farmers met on a country road and pulled up their teams.

"Si," said Josh, "I've got a mule with distemper. What did you give that one of yours when he had it?"

"Turpentine. Giddap!"

"A week later they met again.

"Say, Si, I gave my mule turpentine, and it killed him."

"Killed mine, too. Giddap!"

WORSE

One traveling man to another in Thompson's restaurant:

"What's the matter, Bill? You are only eating crackers and milk. Are you on a diet?"

"No; on commission."—The Harringtonian.

LOGICAL

Isabel, aged nine, had just been told the story of Daniel in the lion's den. Then mother asked: "And what do you think Daniel did the very first thing after he was saved from the lions?"

Without much hesitation, Isabel replied: "Why, he must have telephoned home to his wife to tell her he was all right."—The Northwestern Bell.

STILL HOPING

Mrs. Faraway—I beg pardon, but I didn't get it when we were introduced. What is your last name?

Miss Oldsmith—I am Miss Oldsmith. Oldsmith is my surname, but I sincerely hope it is not to be my last name.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

The host was nervous and inexperienced, and he rose hurriedly at the conclusion of a song with which one of the guests had been obliging.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began. "Before Mrs. Smith started to sing she—ah—told me her—ah—voice was not in the best condition and—ah—asked me to apologize for it, but I neglected to do so and—ah—I apologize now."—The American Legion Weekly.

POSSIBLE EXPLANATIONS

Hubby—Of course, dear, it's only a rough idea of mine, but do you think it's possible that there's ever such a thing as a printer's error in that cookery manual of yours?—London Opinion.

BETTER WALKERS

Yankee Visitor—Yes, siree, in Amurrica our hotels have elevators to carry us straight up to our bedrooms.

Sandy—But you'll no' need these contraphansions noo, wi' prohibition.—The Passing Show (London).

The meeting was originally scheduled for October 21. The bright October weather will woo every member to be present and be equipped with fine quotations.—Chloe E. Lay Hodge, Secretary. Miss Grace B. Moran, head of the primary department of the Manassas school, has been a Haymarket visitor this week, having been invited by Superintendent McDonald to observe and supervise the work of the primary department there. Pearson is principal. Mrs. Edna Pearson Thomas has the primary room. An automobile driven by the young son of Mr. C. D. Kline collided with Mr. R. M. Jenkins' automobile Sunday evening about 7:30 when they attempted to pass on the Milford road near Cannon Branch, tearing a fender from Mr. Jenkins' car and breaking the radius rod on the Kline machine. The passengers were unhurt. Mr. Jenkins was driving his car and was accompanied by Mrs. Jenkins and their young son, Bobbie, and Mrs. Wolfenberger and her little son, Bessie. A more serious accident was averted, according to Mr. Jenkins, only because the cars were traveling at low speed. While fishing at Occoquan bay a little boy about eight years old fell overboard and was rescued from death by the quick action of Frank Jones, of Alexandria, according to the Alexandria Gazette. Mr. Jones at the time of the accident was on the opposite side of the stream and saw the child go over. The child's companion of about the same age was terror-stricken and screamed. Mr. Jones arrived quickly and got the child in his arms as he was going down the third time. The youthful fisherman was well filled with water, but after considerable work was brought back to consciousness. The child and his companion thanked Mr. Jones and immediately got out of sight of the water. A floral exhibit of unusual merit was made at the Prince William fair by Mrs. W. G. Covington, as was evidenced by the fact that the judge originally awarded it the blue ribbon, according to announcement of the fair secretary. Unfortunately the secretary, in checking up the judges' awards, found no record of this entry and was compelled to place the ribbons on the exhibits that had been made in the prescribed manner. This unfortunate occurrence was due to a misunderstanding between the exhibitor and the superintendent of the department, as the former had applied for the space several days prior to the fair, and the latter had naturally assumed that the entry had been made with the secretary.

What does this mean to you? You can cut down on your acreage and labor and by the use of Fertilizer make bigger yields and have considerable more net money at harvest time. Your soils are deficient in plant food and if you are not using commercial Fertilizer to feed the plants, you are farming on the wrong basis and losing money every day. Royster's Fertilizers are scientifically prepared to meet just such emergency. Royster's Fertilizers have stood the field test for forty years. To Maintain a Standard-- is not always an easy task. In these times when the public is clamoring for something cheaper, it's a great temptation for merchants to cheapen their products. We have always refused to do this for the quality here must be kept up. We buy only the best and sell only the best--and at prices that are consistent with a standard quality. Selling only meats we have no "baits" to throw out. Our only inducement for you to buy is: Quality plus Service and Sanitation. Our steadily increasing patronage warrants us in our belief to fight along this line and not be tempted to resort to the line of the least resistance. Your children will receive every kind attention here. May we serve you?
