VIRGINIA CROPS DO WELL

Potato Yield Aggregates 15,000,000 Bushels. Big Increase in Hay. The government crop report, so far as it refers to Virginia, is somewhat encouraging. The report up to August 1, and so far it is largely guesswork, indicates that Virginia this year will bring forth something more than 60,000,000 bushels of corn; 17,000,000 bushels of wheat; 6,000,000 bushels of oats and other grains, including rye, about 1,500,000 bushels...

SMILE OF GREAT VALUE

Carries a Person a Great Deal Further Than Anything Else on Earth.

What better thing is there than a smile? Whether it be the smile of a baby, of a mother or a friend it is the best way of greeting and meeting. But it is hard to smile when you are harboring some sorrow or are in ill health. When sickness is driven out of your system you will once more smile. And it is not such a hard thing to be healthy. Here is the way James Whitehurst, of 1605 Brambleton Avenue, Norfolk, Va., related his return to health. "I had inflammatory rheumatism in my arms and legs, mostly in the ankles. I suffered from a lump in my stomach and a full feeling all the time. My nerves were bad and my heart fluttered. Since taking two bottles of Tanlac I am well of rheumatism and have no indigestion. My nerves are good and I sleep fine and my heart does not flutter any more. I know it is the best medicine I have ever taken and I have tried almost every medicine on the market. I suffered from constipation but the tablets inclosed with Tanlac relieved that quickly. I recommend Tanlac to everyone."

ONE OF THE MIRACLES

The gasoline engine, which made possible the flying machine and the automobile, has arisen and come to perfection within the lifetime of men who are still in college. Will there be any other wonders equal to this for the generation who are babies now to see? One day last month, in Indianapolis, a young man moved upon the earth at the rate of 90 miles an hour for several hours. Barring an occasional stretch of a few minutes on a few miles of railroad, this is the fastest motion of a human being on the surface of the earth. For time measured in hours, this generalization is certainly true. Compared to what this modest young American did, the chariot races of Rome were the awkward playing of babies. Ralph de Palma's official record on the Mercedes car was 500 miles in 5 hours 33 minutes and 55 1/2 seconds, the average speed being 89.84 miles an hour. The minute mechanical perfection that has been achieved by the automobile makers during the past few years is suggested by the fact that only four years ago, in 1911, the record was 74.59 miles an hour. In the race this year the tenth car beat the fastest car of 1911. Among these ten cars, six were American built. The young man who did this unprecedented thing at Indianapolis is Italian born. He came to America when he was six years old, never drinks alcohol, never smokes and leads the life of clean restraint which makes his nerves and muscles possible. Compared to him, the fat Neros who used to plug around the Coliseum were pikers.—Collier's weekly.

HOME TOWN

Home Town is around the bend on the road to Yesterday. It is mellowed by memories and painted with sunshine. Among the inhabitants are the fat boy called "Skinny," pigtailed sweet-hearts who turn up their noses and run away, the preacher who asks after the health of every member of the family by name, the schoolteacher, the gang and grandma, and the dog. Rose bloom there in gardens behind the fence palings along the street. Folk walk leisurely and speak to each other in passing. The church bells of a Sunday morn call youth and innocence to come and sit in a square pew with a door to it and eat peppermint drops and doze and sleep on the edge of a starched collar. It has a "deepo," to which go small boys to watch the trains roll up grandly and snort and pass on. It is usually summer there, although there are blustering days when the sleighbells jangle—"chink! chink! chink!"—and the sleighs pass with incredible swiftness, the small boys standing on the extended runners in the rear and riding off to glory. The seasons for doughnuts and marbles and "punkin" pie and kites and Christmas cookies and hoop-rolling and Halloween and Valentine day and raisin bread and shiny are religiously observed.

Yes, Home Town is around the bend on the road to Yesterday. It is well and favorably known to most of those who live in cities and apartments. Home Town is a wonderful heart-ache.—Kansas City Star.

A MESSAGE TO YOUNG MEN

Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, is better understood by most of us today than he was in his lifetime—though some of us were keen enough to appreciate his qualities then—Minister to Belgium Brand Whitlock for one. This year Secretary of State Woods, of Illinois, places in his "Blue Book" Governor Altgeld's message to young men—a ringing invitation to service and to ideals:

"Young men, life is before you. Two voices are calling you—one coming from the swamps of selfishness and force, where success means death, and the other from the hilltops of justice and progress, where even failure brings glory. Two lights are seen in your horizon—one the fast fading marsh light of power, and the other the slowly rising sun of hope in brotherhood. Two ways lie open before you—one leading to an ever lower and lower plain, where are heard the cries of despair and the curses of the poor, where manhood shrivels and possession rots down the possessor; and the other leading off to the highlands of the morning, where are heard the glad shouts of humanity and where honest effort is rewarded with immortality."—Collier's.

PUBLISHERS FACE DISASTER

The price of paper, which has advanced from 100 to 200 per cent or more over prices prevailing a year ago, seriously threatens the life of a large number of publications throughout the country and greatly lessens the profit of others. It is doubtful if any other large industry in the United States has had to face so serious a situation, because when prices of raw materials have advanced the manufacturers of the finished products have advanced their prices and thus thrown the burden on the ultimate consumer. In the newspaper business this has not yet been done. The newspapers, from the largest dailies to the smallest weeklies, have been bearing the burden, which, to many publications, will mean complete construction and to many others the wiping out of all profit. Had the newspapers of the country been as prompt to defend their own interests as they have the interests of others, they, too, would before this have undertaken to save themselves by an advance in subscription price and in advertising rates. Under existing conditions they will be forced to do this sooner or later, and they cannot postpone it much longer without serious financial embarrassment to many of them. Hundreds of the smaller weeklies, including the religious papers, which have had but a very narrow margin between loss and profit, will, we fear, suffer most seriously, and many of them disastrously, unless the public promptly recognizes the situation and accepts an advance in subscription and in advertising rates and thus saves the situation.—Manufacturers' Record.

THE MOVIES A GIANT INDUSTRY

The moving picture, our latest industry, is fast assuming giant proportions. Few appreciate its real magnitude and its influence on our present life and society. In New York alone statistics show more than 40,000 employed in the industry. In the country at large these figures would easily reach 100,000, or one-thousandth of our entire population. Eighteen thousand theaters are devoted to showing the picturization of the scenarios in the silent drama, and more than 15,000,000 persons daily attend a movie performance. One million dollars a day is said to pass into the box offices, and 150,000 operate the machines for producing the films on the screens.

Our latest infant industry seems never to have worn swaddling clothes. It sprang into manhood at a bound, and its growth is tremendous daily. The success of the movies comes from the fact that the action is swift, tense, moving. It depicts all classes and conditions, not through the eye of the dramatist, but through the truthful, never-lying eye of the camera. The people realize that this is life in its stern realities and conditions as they really exist.—Philadelphia Press.

SLIGHTLY INCONSISTENT

The republican indictment of Wilson's European policy is based on the charge that it was lacking in firmness. If we had been prompt and determined, we should have saved Belgium from the horrors of invasion, prevented the sinking of the Lusitania and made Germany and all other foreign powers observe the rules of international law and the principles of civilized war. If Mr. Wilson's policy has given Germany a free hand, why should the German hyphenates be so dead against him? On the face of it, it is just the sort of "weak" policy that should please them. Yet they are supporting Mr. Hughes. Which makes everybody wonder whether the Wilson policy's strength is not the thing that sets the hyphenates against it, and whether they do not expect a flabbier hand at the helm, if Mr. Hughes should be elected.—Sun.

Speaking of veteran editors, you might cast your eye at Col. William C. Church. He is eighty years of age today. He was publisher of the New York Sun in 1860; Washington correspondent of the Times, 1861-62; and established the Army and Navy Journal in 1863, which he has ever since edited, and is still going strong. Col. Church is a militarist of the deepest dye, and we suppose that the Evening Post ought not to like him—but it does. The absurd notions about youth in the army which prevail today prevent him from taking the field, like another Dandolo, but we would express to him, on his birthday, the hope that he may keep on leading the editorial charge for many a day.—New York Post.

BOY PROBLEM

The latest is an organization "to solve the boy problem." As if there can be any solving the boy problem so long as there are boys!—New York Herald.

NECESSITIES OF LIFE!

With oil and gasoline prices falling the cost of high living may take a tumble, too.—Philadelphia Ledger.

FARMERS

Look at the Price of Wheat

See how all the fertilizers have advanced, though now they have very little potash in them. You know how essential potash is to your crops. Don't despair—there is plenty of potash in your soil, if you can only make it available. The one and only way is to use LIME. You can't afford to farm any longer without LIME. You know it costs just as much to raise 10 bushels of wheat as 20; or 5 barrels of corn as 10. If you want to double your crops, wake up—get busy and LIME FREELY. The LIME that has been used for the past 30 years with best results is the LIME for you and that is, of course,

THE CELEBRATED LEESBURG LIME

Because it contains 10 to 15 per cent magnesia. The U. S. Department of Agriculture states in the Year Book for 1901, on page 164, that magnesia in combination with lime is absolutely necessary for plant growth, and there is nothing that will take its place. What better authority have we than this? Only one—that is actual results—and of these we can give you ample proof, backed by hundreds of testimonials from the best farmers of both Loudoun and Fairfax counties.

Don't Lose Any More Time—Place Your Orders at Once With

F. O. B. TOLEDO

This Overland is the world's most powerful low-priced car. It has a 31 1/2 horsepower en bloc motor that is a perfect marvel for speed, power and endurance. By increasing the bore of the motor from 3 1/8 to 3 3/8 we are able to offer a power plant which at 1950 R. P. M. develops full 31 1/2 horsepower. Tests under every condition in all parts of the country demonstrate that it easily develops better than fifty miles per hour on the road. Speed of course varies under different conditions, but in practically every instance it has been getting fifty miles an hour and with ease. We have scores of telegrams showing that twenty to twenty-five miles per gallon of gasoline is not unusual. The performance of this car is almost beyond belief.

Take any other low-priced car on the market. Pit it against this new Overland. Compare them for sheer speed, for abundance of power, for riding comfort and economy, and you'll find this car will back anything else clean off the boards. That's a strong statement, but a fact nevertheless. Try it yourself and see. Here are more important facts.

It has four-inch tires which are more than generous for a car of this size. Not only has it a large and roomy body, but it has an attractive, up-to-date streamline body. It has the latest and most improved system of ignition. It has the cantilever springs—the easiest riding springs in the world.

What's more, it's complete. Not a thing to buy. You get the finest Auto-Lite electric starting and lighting system, magnetic speedometer, one-man top, demountable rims and practically every accessory found on the highest priced cars. It only goes to prove how big production can cut cost and save you money. First come, first served. Place your order now.

THAT COMMA AGAIN!

The misplacement of a comma in a tariff bill once cost the United States about $2,000,000 of revenue. Certain articles were to be admitted free of duty, including "all foreign fruit-plants." A clerk, in copying the statute, accidentally changed the hyphen to a comma, making the sentence read "All foreign fruit, plants," etc. For a year lemons, grapes, oranges and bananas were admitted free of duty.—London Evening Standard.
