WEST VIRGINIA SETTLES DEBT

$1,000,000 in Cash; Over $15,000,000 in Bonds in Richmond for Distribution.

Request by the Virginia Debt Commission, of which Judge William F. Rhea is chairman, for a decree of reference to a master commissioner to take and state necessary accounts for the distribution of more than $14,000,000 in cash and securities was made Wednesday morning in the circuit court of the city of Richmond, when the case instituted by the commission through Attorney-General John R. Saunders came up before Judge R. Carter Scott for a hearing.

This amount represents the principal and interest of the debt which West Virginia owed Virginia, final settlement of which was made Tuesday. The commission now has in hand in the vaults of the First National Bank of Richmond $1,000,000 in cash and the remainder in West Virginia bonds.

This means that after more than half a century of controversy, West Virginia has finally paid in full her share of the debt incurred by Virginia in the period between 1821 and 1861, when West Virginia was still a part of Virginia.

The debt was originally for railroads, canals and turnpikes and other internal improvements by which that part of Virginia which afterward became a separate state benefited as much as Virginia proper.

The amount of the debt at that time was about $40,000,000. West Virginia was admitted to the Union in 1863 on condition that she assume a just and equitable portion of this debt. Virginia assumed two-thirds of the debt in 1871.

First Debt Commission.
In 1894, the Virginia Debt Commission was created by act of the General Assembly of Virginia for the purpose of bringing about a settlement with West Virginia. The act was introduced by Congressman Hal Floyd, then state senator.

The Virginia Debt Commission should be made up of the chairman of the Finance Committee of the House of Representatives, and the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, one member appointed by the Governor and that two members each should be elected by the House and the Senate.

Unable to bring about a settlement with West Virginia, suit was brought by the commission in the Supreme Court in 1898, in the name of Virginia, and judgment obtained against West Virginia.

SHALL PRINCE WILLIAM HAVE PAINT CAMPAIGN?

Farm Magazine Suggests "Paint Your Home" Week in Every Community by Spring.

We found a county agent the other day who is planning a very useful and important movement for his county—a "Paint Your Home" campaign. Meetings will be held in each farm community and an effort made to have the whole county concentrate its thought on painting for a certain definite period.

As part of the program, merchants will be asked to sell paint at cost while the drive is on. If they are at all far-sighted, the merchants will do this. Even though they have the trouble of filling paint orders without profit during the brief period of this particular campaign, they will be making valuable customers for future years. Moreover, the good example set by men who paint their houses during this campaign period will encourage other neighbors to paint and to insure an additional number of future paint customers for the merchant.

Both for prudential and patriotic reasons therefore, every merchant should join in a paint-selling movement of this kind when he is asked to do so. And certainly every county agent should feel happier if he can drive over the county and see farm residences which once appeared dead, dreary and depressing at last blossoming into life, color, beauty and cheerfulness. And whenever a farmer paints his house, the whole family will absorb something of the spirit of brightness and progress which a neatly painted house suggests.

Why can we not have a "Paint Your Home" campaign in every county in the South between now and spring?—The Progressive Farmer.

U. D. C. MEET AT TAMPA

Virginia Daughter Made Corresponding Secretary General.

The annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was in session this week at Tampa, Fla. Miss Mary B. Poppenheim, of Charleston, president-general, in her address stated that the organization now has a membership of 63,479, in thirty-four states and the District of Columbia. "Membership in a U. D. C. chapter is the most eloquent tribute a woman can pay to her Confederate ancestry," said Miss Poppenheim. The president-general said that during the year the organization had awarded 790 scholarships to dependent and Confederate veterans and had purchased $12,500 of liberty bonds.

SENATOR MARTIN DIES IN HOSPITAL

Distinguished Virginia Statesman Succumbs to Long Illness at Charlottesville.

Thomas Staples Martin, senior senator from Virginia, died early Wednesday afternoon at the University of Virginia hospital. While his condition had been critical for several days, he died unexpectedly. He had slept very well the night before and at 10 o'clock in the morning Dr. John Staige Davis said his patient was resting very comfortably. Shortly after one o'clock it was noticed that the senator was breathing with considerable difficulty. The house physician was summoned, and the patient asked to be raised up in bed. As soon as this was done respiration suddenly ceased.

Senator Martin's illness dates from last February, when a severe cold developed into an attack of bronchitis. This weakened his vitality and an attack of influenza followed in May. Soon afterwards he entered the University Hospital. He suffered from kidney trouble and a leaking heart valve.

Senator Martin as head of the senate committee on appropriations during the war period had laid upon him burdens which could well have worn out a younger man, said the Washington Post. The manner and the volume of expenditure were both matters of grave concern to a man whose methods were exact and whose desire always was to protect the taxpayers of the country.

As soon as the armistice was declared he urged reduction of expenditures and more economic management. This was probably his last message to the great public he served. Beginning his career as a lawyer, Senator Martin quickly gained a large acquaintance throughout the state, became a member of the democratic state committee, and was soon one of its chief advisers and leaders.

Senator Martin's nomination for the United States Senate over Gen. Fitzhugh Lee was one of the political sensations of the early nineties. The caucus of the democratic members of the legislature was held December 7, 1893. Gen. Eppa Hunton, the appointee of Gov. McKinley for the unexpired term of Senator John S. Barbour was chosen by acclamation to serve out the remainder of the term, and Thomas S. Martin was nominated on the sixth ballot for the senatorial full term, beginning March 5, 1895. Mr. Martin was placed in nomination by James Hay, of Madison, then state senator and now on the Court of Claims. The nomination was seconded by Hal Flood, of Appomattox, now a member of congress from the tenth district. The final ballot stood: Martin, 66; Lee, 56; McKinney, 1; Hunton, 1. His formal election followed.

He was reelected by the legislature in 1899. In 1905 he was opposed unsuccessfully by former Governor Andrew J. Montague, and in 1912 by the late William A. Jones, of the first Virginia congressional district. He was unopposed in 1918 and entered upon his fourth term March 4 last.

Senator Martin was born at Scottsville, Albemarle county, July 29, 1847, and lived in that village until, about ten years ago when he bought a handsome estate, "Monte Santo," near the University of Virginia. He was educated at the Virginia Military Institute and at the University of Virginia. He began the practice of law in the fall of 1869, two years after the death of his father. He was one of the cadets from the Virginia Military Institute who marched to New Market and took part in the battle of that name. For many years and until his death he was a member of the board of visitors of the Miller Manual Labor School, of Albemarle, a foundation created for the education of orphan children of that county, and for some years was a member of the board of visitors of the University of Virginia.

Soon after his first election to the Senate, Senator Martin married Miss Lucy Chambliss Day, daughter of Col. Charles Fenton Day, of Smithfield. Mrs. Martin died about two years ago. They leave two children, Miss Lucy Day Martin and Thomas S. Martin, Jr. He is also survived by two brothers, John S. Martin, of Fairview, and Samuel T. Martin, of Richmond. The death of Senator Martin was announced to the Senate by his colleague, Senator Swanson, and the Senate adjourned after a recess of one hour. The body will meet again on Wednesday.

Senator Swanson, in a brief eulogy, said Senator Martin's death was "a sacrifice on the altar of public service" superinduced by heavy duties in the Senate during the war.

Senator Swanson paid high tribute to Senator Martin's character and service. "In his death," said Senator Swanson, "a sturdy character has passed from public life. As minority leader, as chairman of the appropriations committee during the war, he assumed burdens and responsibility far exceeding his strength. Despite warnings of physicians and friends he remained at his post."

"In the death of Senator Martin," Senator Swanson continued, "the nation lost one of its wisest and most sagacious leaders."

Republican Leader Lodge also declared Senator Martin had "worn himself out in public service."

"I have been in service with Senator Martin for more than a quarter of a century," said Mr. Lodge. "He was a high-minded, honorable man who devoted all his strength and all his ability to the public service. At this moment I can think only of the personal loss that has come to me."

Messages of sympathy have poured into Charlottesville. The following from President Wilson was addressed to Miss Lucy Day Martin, the Senator's daughter: "May I not express my deep sympathy and sense of personal grief in the death of your distinguished father? I regarded him as one of my warmest friends and feel that Virginia and the country have sustained a real loss. Woodrow Wilson."

MANASSAS U. D. C. HOLDS BUSY MONTHLY SESSION

Christmas Fund for Lee Camp Home, Prize Offer and Other Matters Discussed.

A regular meeting of Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was held last week at the home of Mrs. Albert Spalden in Battle street. Announcement was made that the chapter's apportionment for 1919 had been completed.

Mrs. Spalden, chairman of the Christmas fund for the Lee camp home, reported several contributions and asked the members to send their donations promptly without waiting for further reminders.

Announcement was made that chapter badges had been printed and the treasurer was authorized to sell them to members at fifteen cents each. Three names were proposed for membership: Mrs. Thomas S. Meredith, of Gainesville, to be transferred from a Maryland chapter; Mrs. F. P. Chapman, a former member, and Mrs. W. Fewell Merchant.

A report of the chapter's war work was read and announcement was made that sixty-one records of soldiers of direct Confederate lineage had been received.

The offer of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, of a prize of $100 for the best essay on peace written by a high school student in one of the southern states, was presented through the chapter to Manassas High School.

Mrs. Spalden, chairman of the local relief committee, was authorized to send a box of clothing to a needy veteran.

The report of Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, chapter delegate to the Virginia convention at Staunton was received with a vote of appreciation, and the delegate's report of the chapter to the convention was received with applause and commendation.

A vote of thanks was given to the hostess, Mrs. Spalden, and the invitation of Mrs. Arthur W. Sinclair, for the December meeting, was accepted with thanks.

DEATH OF DR. GEO. W. COCKE

Father of Manassas Pharmacist Dies in North Carolina Hospital.

Dr. George W. Cocke, of Mooresville, N. C., died Wednesday afternoon at a hospital in Statesville, N. C., following an operation. Funeral services took place at his late home today and his body will be brought here tomorrow morning for interment in the Manassas cemetery. Brief services will be held at the grave at nine o'clock.

Dr. Cocke was fifty-eight years old and is survived by his wife, who is living at the family home in North Carolina; a daughter, Miss Alice Cocke, of Kansas City, Mo., and a son, Mr. Geo. S. Cocke, of Manassas. Mr. and Mrs. Cocke were called to Statesville last week by Dr. Cocke's illness. He returned to his home on Wednesday and died on Friday.

HIGH SCHOOL OBSERVES SIGNING OF ARMISTICE

Patriotic Program Rendered By Students—Resolution of Appreciation to Mr. Lyon.

(By the High School Reporter.)

Tuesday morning at fifteen minutes of eleven the Manassas high school students assembled to celebrate the signing of the armistice. Promptly at eleven, the hour of the signing, the high school body sang the Doxology. After this, Rev. DeForest Wade gave a most interesting talk on the signing of the armistice. He said it was fitting that all of the nations of the earth should give thanks to our Lord, because without Him on our side we could never have won. He also said that when Congress had finished settling the many after-the-war problems they would probably adopt the eleventh of November as a national holiday.

"Carry On," by Robert Service, "In Flanders' Field," by Macrae, and "America's Reply to 'In Flanders' Field,'" by Tallard, were read by Miss Bertha Watts. The school chorus then followed the reading of these famous war poems by a group of the war songs of the Allies.

At the close of the program the following resolutions were offered by Mr. Ralph Larsen:

"Resolved, That in appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by Mr. Joseph P. Lyon in the raising of the fund for the painting of our school, we, the faculty and student body of the Manassas High School do offer our heartfelt thanks, both to him and to all those patrons who so generously responded to his appeal, and

"Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to Mr. Lyon and to each of the county papers."

These resolutions were unanimously adopted by the student body and faculty.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL RETURNS UNAVAILABLE

Some Sections of County—Quantico Enrolls 538.

Although the Third Roll Call of the Red Cross officially closed on Tuesday, the anniversary of the signing of the armistice, returns are not available and the campaign probably continues in some places where the weather, roads and other causes made it impossible to complete the canvass within the required time.

The failure of many Red Cross members to realize that the present work of the Red Cross is locally and nationally as important as in the days of the war makes it doubtful whether Prince William will be able to report the renewals of every one of her 3,000 members, who stood squarely behind her war work program, but it is expected that a good percentage of this number have or will respond to the call.

Quantico has reported the enrollment of 538 members, the financial receipts amounting to $582. The canvass at Quantico, on behalf of the Prince William Red Cross chapter, was made by a medical officer and four nurses from the Marine Corps Hospital.

Rev. DeForest Wade, county roll call chairman, continues busy with the work of the campaign and is putting forth every effort to make it a complete success. Many volunteer workers have given considerable time to the benefit of the drive.

JOSEPH FETZER DEAD

Funeral Services Conducted at Grave by Rev. DeForest Wade.

Joseph Fetzer died early Saturday morning at his home on the Davies place east of Manassas, after an illness of less than twenty-four hours. Mr. Fetzer was stricken suddenly on Friday afternoon, while busy with his usual farm work. He was sixty-four years old and leaves his wife and eleven children.

Burial was made at Sudley Monday afternoon, near his former home, funeral services being conducted at the grave by Rev. DeForest Wade, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. Among the relatives who attended the funeral were his two married daughters from Washington, his sister, Mrs. Mattie Tryon, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Fetzer, all of Washington.

BOYS AND GIRLS TO KILL THE RAT

County Agent Inaugurates Campaign in Interest of Food and Public Health.

Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent

Boys and Girls of the Prince William County Schools:

Here's your opportunity to help your country, show your school spirit, and earn a little money!

Prince William County will hold a Kill-the-Rat campaign from November 15 to December 1.

Rats are of no use to anyone and you know how much corn and other stuff they destroy. They also carry diseases and are the cause of many deaths.

Let's get together and see how many rats and mice we can kill during the campaign. Use traps, poison (if you can get some older person to show you just how to use it), dogs, cats—any means you can think of—to catch the rats and mice. Ask your teacher to help you think of ways to get rid of rats and mice.

If there are old, tumble-down buildings on your farm which are of no use, get your father to pull them down, for they are merely big rat nests. Have your dogs ready and see how many rats you can catch.

Now you will want to know what to do next.

First kill the little animals, then get off the tails.

Then take these tails to school with you and give them to your teacher, who will keep a record of the number you bring in throughout the campaign.

At the end of the campaign the following prizes will be awarded:

1. The boy or girl who brings in the greatest number of rat tails in the whole county will receive a prize of $5.

2. A second prize of $2 will be awarded for the next largest number of rat tails.

3. A prize of $3 will be awarded to the school reporting the largest number of rats and mice killed by people not in the schools. Of course the tails must be brought in to school, and the pupils are on their honor to submit for their own credit the tails of rats killed only by themselves.

4. The school reporting the largest number of rat tails brought in, in proportion to the enrollment of the school, will receive a prize of $10. This gives the one-room school an equal chance with the larger schools.

5. The Agricultural and Home Economics Club member in good standing, in the county, bringing in the greatest number of rat tails will receive a prize of $5.

Show your school spirit, boys and girls, and make your school win!

NIMRODS WELCOME DAYS OF HUNTING SEASON

G. W. Merchant, Jr., Kills Red Fox Along Bull Run—Wild Turkeys Bagged.

Prince William Nimrods have been busy during the first two weeks of the gunning season. The county clerk has issued 540 county licenses, 84 state licenses and three non-resident licenses, the sportsmen paying for the respective privileges $1, $3 or $10. The season will close January 1 unless the time is extended by the board of supervisors.

G. W. Merchant, Jr., and his guest, T. A. McAlister, of Stanley, have the honor of bagging the most unusual game reported here this year. While hunting along Bull Run they shot a red fox weighing twelve pounds and measuring four feet six inches from nose to tail.

A party composed of Messrs. G. G. Allen, G. W. Merchant, C. A. Sheehy and R. M. Weir brought home four wild turkeys Monday after hunting along Bull Run. Mr. Allen's was the lucky shot in two cases. Mr. C. C. Carter got a big wild turkey one day last week on Yorkshire farm.

FIRST OF WAR DEAD BONE

The first of America's heroic bones to be returned from the battlefields of the great war reached New York last week, when the transport Darago arrived with 111 bodies of soldiers who gave their lives in the Archangel sector while being in the Archangel sector while in Russia.

The bones were returned to the United States by the Red Cross.

U. D. C. CONVENTION

Report of Meeting Prepared by Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, of Local Chapter.

The following report of the recent state convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy, held at Staunton, was made by Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, president of Manassas Chapter and delegate to the convention:

The Virginia Division, U. D. C., held its twenty-fourth annual session in Staunton, October 14-17.

The convention was formally opened the evening of the 14th in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Building, with "Welcome" program, Mrs. A. M. Howison, president of the J. E. B. Stuart Chapter presiding. She extended the greetings to the convention in behalf of her chapter. Dr. A. M. Fraser made the invocation.

Mayor J. Harry May, on behalf of the city of Staunton, welcomed the hundred delegates from all over Virginia.

Next on the program came an address by Col. S. Brown Allen, adjutant Stonewall Jackson Camp, Confederate Veterans, welcoming on behalf of the camp the delegates. An example of the true southern gentleman, Col. Allen was a pleasure to the eye of every southerner present. Judge Richard S. Ker, representing the Sons of Veterans, welcomed the guests in a few well-chosen words.

When Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, state president, U. D. C., arose to deliver her response to the addresses of welcome, the assembled delegates likewise arose. Marked affection was in evidence for the president. Mrs. Flournoy's address was typical of the true southern woman. Her words were words of faith, hope and love for the cause for which she is working. Space will not suffice to tell of the many excellent things the president said during her address. It was excellent and a fitting climax to the evening program. Following the conclusion of her address, Mrs. Flournoy and Col. S. Brown Allen clasped hands and stood for a moment, hand in hand, representatives of the living and dead soldiers of the south who fought as valiantly when the call came to defend American rights as did they in the civil strife.

Following the program a reception was given the delegates. At 10 o'clock Wednesday the convention was called to order by the president. After the opening exercise of reading the U. D. C. ritual and singing "How Firm a Foundation," the farewell address of Mrs. Flournoy was the principal feature of the evening program. Mrs. Flournoy retired from the presidency at the close of the session.

The credential committee reported 395 delegates answering present. A resolution was passed by the Virginia Division, requesting the National U. D. C. to make arrangements to erect a fireproof building in Richmond which shall be used as a depository of historical records, a meeting place for the divisional U. D. C. and finally a connecting link and memorial of the Confederate and World War.

At 5 o'clock the Daughters were entertained by the Daughters of the Revolution at the residence of Mrs. Henry W. Holt.

Thursday morning, Dr. Henry L. Smith, president of Washington and Lee University, made a very impressive address, going back to the day of the "sillies," telling of the dark days of reconstruction when the gloom seemed impenetrable. While it seemed as if the south was ruined beyond repair, she was producing a race of physical, mental and spiritual heroes, men and women, who after passing through the furnace of adversity were glorified in every way, so that there appeared—are still appearing—great examples of sacrifice, love of country, comradeship, glorious womanhood, purified and ennobled manhood, preserving the Anglo-Saxon civilization.

Dr. Smith ended his address by asking the Virginia Division to take part in appointing and maintaining a custodian for Lee Mausoleum in Lexington. The speaker said he would make a similar resolution at Tampa, Fla. The Virginia Division resolved to provide for this work, and there is time for joint action, by asking each member of every chapter in Virginia to give twenty-five cents by January, 1920, sending the money to the Division treasurer, Mrs. Tate, through the chapter treasurer.

There was a conference of the delegates from the fourth and fifth districts. There was unanimity in the advisability of endowing a scholarship in the Fredericksburg Normal School as a memorial to Matthew Fontaine Maury. The delegates resolved to return home and secure their apportionment at an early date. This is the quarterly report presented by Mrs. Hamlet, the treasurer of this fund:

Mrs. Lucy Carmichael, $1; Arlington Juniors, $8; Culpeper Juniors, $20; Miss Margaret Shepherd, $5; Manassas Chapter, $41.

A beautiful and most enjoyable reception was given by the C. R. Mason Chapter at Tinkling Spring from 4:30 to 6. A delightful automobile drive of seven miles to the community house was the contribution of many gentlemen of the city.

The historical evening Thursday was a decided success. The Daughters again had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Smith who discussed "The Requisites of Christian Democracy." The delightful evening was enlivened by "The Rebel Yell" by Miss Rose Rice, of Manassas, daughter of Manassas Chapter's historian, who was declared to be the star of the evening.

Friday morning the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Cabell Smith, Martinsburg, W. Va.; first vice-president, Mrs. James A. Lee, Lynchburg; second vice-president, Mrs. Yates McAlpin Wilson, Portsmouth; third vice-president, Mrs. Edwin Coffigan, Cape Charles; fourth vice-president, Mrs. Lloyd T. Everett, Arlington; recording secretary, Miss Annie Mann, Petersburg; treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Tate, Pulaski; registrar, Mrs. Guthrie; historian, Mrs. A. M. Howison, Staunton; custodian, Mrs. George St. Clair.

The twenty-fourth annual convention adjourned to meet at Petersburg, October, 1920.

Invitation came for the convention in a body to visit the home in which President Woodrow Wilson was born. Another invitation was received from the president of B. & D. Institute to visit the school at 5. A splendid demonstration was given by both blind and deaf pupils. The Western State Hospital extended an invitation to the convention to visit this institution at 8:30 p. m. and see the pastimes of the inmates.

Luncheon was served each day from one to two in the reception hall of the Y. M. C. A.

Saturday morning found the delegates and state officers leaving for home and voicing their appreciation of the hospitality extended to them while guests of J. E. B. Stuart Chapter.

A WORD FROM MICHIGAN

It's like a handshake across the mountains and rivers and miles between some of our old friends from Prince William, now far away from the old county, send us their good wishes and express their appreciation of the weekly "letter from home" that The Journal tries to be.

Do you blame us for smiling a little around the corners of our mouth, and looking out to see if the sun has just burst out from behind a cloud when we get a letter like this?—

"I want to thank you for the privilege of being one of your subscribers, for it is like getting a letter from home to receive your paper each week, and we all look forward to it. I certainly hope all your subscribers think as much of The Journal as we do. I hardly see how we could give it up."

Isn't it a grand and glorious feeling to get the roses now?

A BOUQUET TO OURSELVES

It should be most gratifying to us to learn that we—we people of the fifth federal reserve district—have saved in the last two years $127,631,000. This is not what we have invested in land or stocks or business of any kind, not even what we have placed in bank subject to check at any hour, but what we have saved and set aside in our banks as a little savings account for a rainy day. The war and the thrift habit seem to have impressed themselves very strongly on this spendthrift nation of ours. Nor are we hoarding the almighty dollar, as the millions flowing into the Red Cross and other welfare organizations will testify.

Mill Park School, which has inaugurated the hot lunch movement, is to be congratulated upon its progressive step into welfare work. Just how the movement started is not known, but whether it is chiefly fostered by teacher or patrons matters little, so long as all are working together and the plan promises to prove popular as well as beneficial. What Prince William school will be the first to follow Mill Park's lead?

CO-OPERATION

"Help one another," the snowflakes said, As they knitted down in their fleecy bed;

"One of us here would not be felt, One of us here would quickly melt; But I'll help you, and you help me, And then, what a big white drift we'll see."

"Help one another," the maple spray said to his fellow leaves one day; "The sun would wither me here alone, Long enough ere the day is gone; But I'll help you and you help me, And then, what a splendid shade there'll be."

"Help one another," the dewdrop cried, Seeing another drop close to its side; "The warm south breeze would dry me away, And I should be gone ere noon today; But I'll help you and you help me, And we'll make a brook run to the sea."

"Help one another," a grain of sand said to another grain just at hand; "The wind may carry me over the sea, Then what, oh! what, will become of me?"

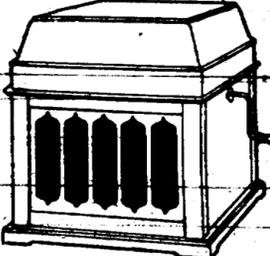

But come, my brother, give me your hand, We'll build a mountain, and there we'll stand."

And so the snowflakes grew to drifts, The grains of sand to mountains; The leaves became a pleasant shade, The dewdrops fed the fountains.

THE NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

No product can be bigger than the brain that evolves it. No other brain in the world today has the inventive ability of Edison's. That fact alone is sufficient proof of the absolute superiority of the Amberola.

FREE TRIAL OFFER  PRICES $41.00 and up

We will place an Amberola in your home for 3 days' Trial, which will not put you under the slightest obligation or expense. Come here, select an Amberola and a number of records and we'll send them to your home. At the end of 3 days, if you do not want the Amberola, we'll call and take it away. If you do want it, we'll arrange terms of payment to suit you.

But the Amberola can quickly and easily prove its own superiority. Its tone—oh, what a revelation, compared to metallic "talking machines" and shrill-sounding phonographs! None but Edison could work that miracle of tone.

Then the Amberol Records, made for the Amberola alone! They are practically unbreakable and everlasting—what a contrast to the costly fragility of other phonograph records.

And for range of music—the widest in the world—all the best, all the latest. An endless feast of fascinating melody.

Yet the biggest surprise of all is the price! This wonder phonograph costs less than inferior competitors! There is not a single drawback to your owning an Amberola right now!

Don't listen to the claims of other manufacturers—listen to their machines. Then come in and compare the matchless tone of the Amberola. Edison's wizardry will win you every time.

We'll expect you in today—now don't forget!

NOW IS THE TIME TO MAKE WAR ON RATS

Grain Eaten and Wasted by These Pests Would More Than Pay Farm Taxes.

Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Agent Help us make war on rats! Men and women, boys and girls, will you help rid Prince William of rat pests?

The rat is the worst animal in the world. From its home among filth it visits dwellings and storehouses to destroy human food. It carries bubonic plague and many other diseases fatal to man and has been responsible for more untimely deaths among human beings than all the wars of history.

In the United States rats destroy grain and other property valued at over $200,000,000. This destruction is equivalent to the gross earnings of over 200,000 men. It is estimated that out of every hundred bushels of corn ten bushels are destroyed by rats. On many a farm if the grain eaten and wasted by rats and mice could be sold the proceeds would more than pay the farmer's taxes.

The common brown rat breeds six to ten times a year and produces an average of ten young at a litter. Young females breed when only three or four months old. At this rate a pair of rats breeding uninterruptedly and without deaths would at the end of three years (eighteen generations) be increased to 359,709,482 individuals. For centuries the world has been fighting rats without organization and at the same time has been feeding them and building for them fortresses for concealment. If we are to fight them on equal terms we must deny them food and hiding places. We must organize and unite to rid communities of these pests. The time to begin is NOW. Will you help?

Sullivan, in Washington, the Luray caverns and other points of interest.

Music and a general good time featured the evening's entertainment. Miss Lillian Ennis presided at the organ. There was also a generous pounding of the pastor.

Recovering a Lost Nose.

An unusual story has recently come from King Edward VII. Hospital at Windsor, England. A stable boy named William Roberts was preparing a horse to run in a race, when the skylight fell and cut his nose clear off. He was taken to the hospital without his nose. The arteries were tied and the surgeon then asked for the nose, and was told that it had been left behind in the stable at the race course.

A messenger was immediately dispatched to the stables, where the nose was found in the straw. It was carried to the hospital, an operation was performed and the nose was put on again. It had been off for about an hour.

GEN. LEE'S FAMOUS LETTER ON "DUTY"

"Sublimest Word in Our Language," He Tells His Son—Frankness a Virtue.

The original of the following private letter from General Lee to his son was found at Arlington House: Arlington House, April 5, 1852.

"My Dear Son: I am just in the act of leaving home for New Mexico. My fine old regiment has been ordered to that distant region, and I must hasten to see that they are properly taken care of. I have but little to add in reply to your letters of March 26, 27 and 28. Your letters breathe a true spirit of frankness; they have given myself and your mother great pleasure. You must study to be frank with the world; frankness is the child of honesty and courage. Say what you mean to do on every occasion, and take it for granted you mean to do right. If a friend asks a favor, you should grant it if it is reasonable; if not, tell him plainly why you cannot; you will wrong him and wrong yourself by equivocation of any kind. Never do a wrong thing to make a friend or keep one; the man who requires you to do so is dearly purchased at a sacrifice. Deal kindly, but firmly, with all your classmates; you will find it the policy which wears best. Above all, do not appear to others what you are not. If you have any fault to find with anyone tell him, not others, of what you complain; there is no more dangerous experiment than that of undertaking to be one thing before a man's face and another behind his back. We should live, act and say nothing to the injury of anyone. It is not only best as a matter of principle, but it is the path to peace and honor.

"In regard to duty, let me, in conclusion of this hasty letter, inform you that nearly a hundred years ago there was a day of remarkable gloom and darkness—still known as the dark day—a day when the light of the sun was slowly extinguished, as if by an eclipse. The Legislature of Connecticut, was in session, and as its members saw the unexpected and unaccountable darkness coming on they shrank in the general awe and terror. It was supposed by many that the last day—the day of judgement had come. Someone, in the consternation of the hour, moved an adjournment. Then there arose an old Puritan legislator, Davenport, of Stamford, who said that if the last day had come he desired to be found in his place doing his duty, and therefore, moved that candles be brought in so that the House could proceed with its duty. There was quietness in that man's mind—the quietness of heavenly wisdom—an inflexible willingness to obey present duty. Duty, then, is the sublimest word in our language. Do your duty in all things like the old Puritan. You cannot do more; you should never wish to do less. Never let me and your mother wear one gray hair for any lack of duty on your part. Your affectionate father, "R. E. Lee."

"To G. W. Custis Lee."

NOKESVILLE

The oyster supper given by the ladies of St. Ann's Episcopal Church on the evening of November 4 was well attended. Over $50 was realized, clear of expenses, which will be used for installing lights in the church.

The combined prayer circles of men and women met at St. Ann's last Thursday evening, with the rector, Rev. Alexander Stuart Gibson, as leader. The next meeting will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. E. Wise. Mr. Appleton has bought the Mellon property and will move there with his family in the spring.

Mr. George Beahm has moved here from Midland to his farm recently purchased from Mr. M. G. Early.

Mr. John Hedrick, who has been very ill, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. McDuff Green have returned from Atlantic City and are with the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Green.

Lightning Starts Church Organ.

Lightning played a queer trick some time ago in Harrisonburg. After a storm had subsided and the sun was shining brightly, a resounding clap of thunder was heard, and upon investigation it was found that a bolt of lightning had struck the top of the tallest tower in the United Brethren Church, knocking off two of the smaller capstones. The bolt had entered the church, presumably on the electric wires, turned on all of the lights in the church and started the electric motor to operating the organ, which began playing a tune all by itself. The organ could not be stopped until after an electrician had been summoned, and even then before the motor and music could be cut off, the electric wires had to be cut.

USTUS LIMOUSSETTE FOR FORDS BECOME POPULAR

Is Light and Inexpensive and Easily Fitted to Any Model of Ford Machine.

Universal Motor Company, Inc., local representative of the Defoe-Eustice Company, Inc., of Detroit, manufacturers of the Ustus Limousette for Fords, is finding that the coming of cold and more unsettled weather is affecting their business in much the same way that the weather influences the purchases of closed cars.

The Ustus Limousette is a light, inexpensive, all-weather top for Fords, which can be quickly fitted to any model. Its most distinctive feature is that it is built along the lines of the Ford itself, simple and durable enough to outlast several pairs of side curtains, and yet complete and compact enough to meet the exigencies of all weathers and seasons.

One important feature of the Ustus Limousette is the method of handling the windows, which is always a hard one in ready-made open car tops, because of the difficulty in keeping them from rattling. Another feature is the fact that it can be used in connection with the body and top of a Ford car without alterations.

The Ustus Limousette utilizes the principle of the window shade to its best advantage. Every window is made of a high grade rubber fabric and durable DuPont Pyralin. Its construction is such that constant vibrations cannot loosen any joints, and even with the hardest usage it will not rattle or come loose.

Another advantageous feature of the Ustus Limousette is its light weight. The entire weight of the top is only forty pounds, so that it does not entail a further drag on the consumption of gasoline of the car, as is the case with heavier closed bodies.

The Ustus Limousette is becoming very popular with farmers and business and professional men, who use their cars constantly in their business in all weathers and under all conditions. It is quickly attached and removed, and its adoption means the advantages of both the closed car and the open car when it is desired.

RUMFORD THE WHOLESOME BAKING POWDER

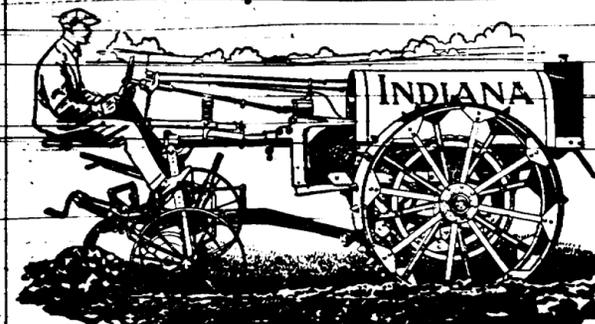

Indiana Tractor and Plow

¶ The INDIANA TRACTOR AND PLOW can be used in any field regardless of size or shape and will completely plow a small lot as well as a large field. The plow hooks very close to the tractor, making it light in draft, also pulling plow from center of tractor, eliminating all side draft and allowing plow to turn even furrows.

¶ The operator is in position to see operation of plow as well as Tractor.

¶ The Tractor runs level with one wheel in furrow, subsiding each furrow with spade lugs and making it self-steering.

¶ The plow has power lift so that it is not necessary for operator to stop to control plow in turning, there being but one small lever which causes plow to enter ground in a very short distance; the same lever raising plow. This outfit being sufficiently light to allow the farmer to have his plowing nearly done by the time he could go on the ground, should we build this outfit twice as heavy.

THE INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR

¶ The INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR is the nearest perfect power unit for farm purposes. It delivers the maximum of tractor efficiency with the minimum of tractor weight. It couples to all horse-drawn top-working, planting, seeding, cultivating and harvesting implements already in use on the farm. It also does light belt work and will perfectly plow all the ground that it is possible to successfully plant and cultivate.

¶ One man can operate the INDIANA ALL-ROUND TRACTOR in connection with farm implements. This saves the wages of one man for the reason that it is possible to operate both tractor and implement from the implement seat.
