SUPERVISORS CONSIDER LEVIES ON PROPERTY

Special Meeting at Courthouse on Tuesday—Appropriating for Road Work.

The board of supervisors held a special meeting at the courthouse on Tuesday for the purpose of reconsidering the levies made at the April meeting. The only change made in the first decision was an order rescinding the 5-cent levy imposed on the $100 worth of all tangible property, real estate and capital in business, for pensioners, an unrestricted levy of 5 cents on the $100 being substituted. The fund so raised is to be apportioned as the board may from time to time direct among Confederate soldiers and their widows now pensioned by the state from Prince William, provided they are not pensioned by another county in the state.

The board appropriated $100 for the purpose of changing and putting in traveling condition the highway over the right of way contributed by agreement in writing filed by L. Sullivan and others along old Warrenton and Dumfries road connecting with Independent Hill and Joplin, money to be paid when satisfactory information of the work done is received.

The following accounts were approved and ordered to be paid for by the County Fund:

GARRETT GETS SIX MONTHS

Charged With Appropriating State Funds—Appeal Noted.

Harvey Garrett, in a hearing before Justice S. M. Hallip, Wednesday night was given a sentence of six months on the road for having stolen $100 in his possession, Joe Johnson being the owner of the household neighborhood, arrested on the same charge, was adjudged not guilty and released. Garrett, who has engaged the services of Attorney C. J. Meetsie, noted an appeal and the case doubtless will come to trial here at the June term of the circuit court.

Garrett, according to the warrant sworn out by Special Officer L. C. Rector, of the Southern railway, who appeared against him, Monday night, appropriated two dozen towels valued at $1 each which were stolen from a freight car at Burke and left in the woods in that vicinity. Railroad hands fighting forest fire near Burke declared that persons who broke into cars sidetracked on account of embargoes had left various packages in the woods. The towels, according to Justice Hallip, who tried the case, were found in a trunk on the second floor of Garrett's home.

ATTACKED BY MAD CAT

Mrs. Adams Has Desperate Tussle in Business Street of Town.

Mrs. E. J. Adams had a dangerous experience last week when she was attacked, near her millinery store in Centre street, by a mad cat. The animal when first discovered was viciously attacking Mrs. Adams' foot, which fortunately was protected by a rubber over shoe. She had a desperate fight to free herself from its clutches and succeeded only by kicking it into the air with all her force and retreating into the store. Her over shoes had been allowed to shred from the top of the foot to the sole, and deep scratches were visible on her leather shoe.

The cat appeared later in the colored settlement south of the railroad and after attempting to attack a child was killed by "Uncle" Ben Gaskins.

J. R. B. DAVIS KILLED BY KARL J. AUSTIN

Slayer Pleads Wife's Wrongs and Self-Defense—Fatal Shooting in Main Street Monday Night—Austin Now in County Jail.

J. R. B. Davis, manager of the Davis Brothers Ice and Fuel Company, was shot and almost instantly killed by Karl J. Austin, insurance agent, about 9:30 o'clock Monday night on Main street a few feet north of the Farmers' Exchange.

The only known witness of the tragedy was Clarence Gordon, a sixteen-year-old boy employed on the farm of Mr. W. T. Thomason, near town. Young Gordon gave the alarm at Coche's Pharmacy and, frightened by what he had witnessed, sped back to the country on his wheel. Men in the pharmacy rushed to the scene and found Mr. Davis lying where he had fallen on the pavement—in a dark area just beyond the exchange, the street lights having been cut off that night. Dr. S. S. Simpson, who was hastily summoned, ordered the wounded man carried into the exchange, and in a few seconds after his body was lifted into the building Mr. Davis expired. Two shots were fired from a .32 calibre revolver, one bullet inflicting only a flesh wound in the abdomen and the other passing through his body, injuring the aorta over his heart.

Mr. Austin immediately surrendered himself to the authorities and was placed under arrest by Sergeant Wine. An inquest was held on the following morning by Dr. W. Fewell Meetsie, coroner, the coroner's jury reaching the decision that Mr. Davis "came to his death by a pistol shot fired from a pistol in the hand of Karl J. Austin." The jury also recommended that the charge in the town of Manassas about 9:30 o'clock on May 3, 1920. The jury was composed of Messrs. Sedwick Hynson, E. R. Conner, R. L. Gaither, S. S. Galleline, J. H. Burke and W. F. Hibbs. After the inquest Mr. Austin was brought before Justice S. M. Hallip at the instance of Commonwealth's Attorney Thos. H. Lion and remanded to jail to await the action of the grand jury at the June term of the circuit court.

Young Gordon, in a statement made at the inquest, declared he came to town on a wheel and stopped at the Farmers' Exchange. He "heard a fellow say 'you better get away and leave me alone,' heard the shots and saw the man fall." He did not know who they were, he said, but knew the "man in the chair did the shooting." He did not know which man spoke.

Dr. L. F. Hough, who was seated on the hotel porch opposite the scene of the shooting a short time before the tragedy was enacted, was summoned as a witness and in a sworn statement told of seeing Mr. Austin appear on the street, pushed in his wheelchair by Mr. Frank L. Cannon, and moving down the street toward Hynson's corner. Presently Mr. Austin appeared on the National bank corner alone and went around the corner toward the Farmers' Exchange where he remained for several minutes. Dr. Hough stated, and when an auto came up the street he returned to the corner and later rolled to the entrance of Conner's Hall. Leaving the hotel, Dr. Hough made his way to Coche's drug store, he stated, meeting Mr. Austin at the Conner's Hall entrance and stopping for a moment's conversation before continuing on his way.

About two minutes after he entered the drug store, according to Dr. Hough's statement, "the Gordon boy came in the drug store and said that a man in a chair had shot another man."

"On my way to the scene of the shooting I met Karl and inquired what was the matter," Dr. Hough said, "and he replied that he had had an argument with a fellow, and I went on."

Mr. D. E. Lewis, manager of The Journal, another witness summoned for the inquest, stated that he was in Coche's drug store about 9:30 o'clock, when young Gordon came to the door and stated that "a man had killed a man near the Farmers' Exchange."

"I started around there and directly in front of The Journal office met Karl Austin," Mr. Lewis stated. "What happened? I asked him, and he answered, 'P-p-e-e-w-w! I've just had to kill a man.' Later I met Austin and remarked to him that he (Austin) had made a good job of it, he's dead, to which he replied, 'Is that so?'"

Sergeant Wine testified that the pistol in evidence was the one Mr. Austin had in his possession when he was taken into custody. "He did not admit to me that he had shot Davis," Mr. Wine said.

Mr. R. M. Weir, newly appointed town sergeant, testified that about 9 o'clock "young Leachman came to me and stated that Karl Austin wanted me. I later met him and he stated he wanted to give himself up; that he had shot Bailey Davis. I inquired why he did it. He replied, 'We had an argument, there were some words and Bailey started toward me and I shot him.'"

Mr. Austin, in a statement made to Mayor Brown, before, whom he was brought after his arrest on the night of the shooting, declared the shooting was unprovoked. Davis had caused a separation between himself (Austin) and his wife, he said. "She was true to me until she met Bailey Davis," he declared. "She has been a good woman since our separation, although Bailey has made attempts to see her."

Mr. Davis, he said, had failed to keep an agreement to leave town. Having heard that Mr. Davis was negotiating for property here, Mr. Austin when they met on the night of the shooting asked Mr. Davis about his plans for the future, which, he says, angered Mr. Davis, who replied by asking what Mr. Austin meant.

"I reminded him of his promise to leave town, and he began to curse and abuse me, and said that if I did not like it here I could get out," Mr. Austin stated. "I was very angry and said that I told him I would secure a divorce from my wife."

"I told him that was none of his affair. He seemed to lose his head completely and called me a vile name, starting toward me in a threatening manner. When he was upon me I drew my revolver and fired."

Here Mr. Austin sought to make it clear that he did not carry the weapon for Mr. Davis, but that he had carried one for his own protection ever since the death of his father several years ago. He was obliged, on account of his physical condition, he said, to call upon friends or strangers to assist him in his travel about the community and was often obliged to carry sums of money on his person, and considered the pistol necessary for his protection.

Mr. Austin, who is thirty-one years old, came to Manassas thirteen years ago from Carthage, N. Y., where he spent his early life. His father opened a harness shop here, which for a short time after his death was continued by the son, who later engaged in the insurance business.

Mrs. Austin, who has been living in Washington since the separation, arrived in Manassas yesterday to be with her husband. She has been employed as a telegraph operator and has supported herself and her baby.

His step-mother, by whom he was practically raised, and who came back from New York to live with him after the separation, returned to Manassas yesterday after a month's stay at their former home in New York, assisting his aged grandmother in packing to come to Manassas to make her home with them. THE POETRY CORNER

Modern poetry comes to the front again this week in our poetry corner. The poem is "Plans," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and it is the favorite sent by Roy E. Roxrode, a reader in Detroit, Mich., who is enjoying with Virginia "back home" the new poetry corner which is being edited by the readers of The Journal. Mr. Roxrode is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Roxrode, of Manassas. Send your favorite today.

Plans.
I thought to make a peaceful home,
Earth's sweetest gift, and hast;
But fate said sternly, "Go and roam
On highways of unrest."

I planned to help a soul in need
With open heart and purse;
It only woke ignoble greed
And proved the moral's curse.

I tried to cast a radiant way
On sorrow's shadowy path;
But sorrow turned her face away
And cursed me in her wrath.

I said, "I will walk on alone
In ways toll fills with flowers."
Fate answered, in an undertone,
"Nay; you shall walk in ours."

Quoth I, "In service all attain Contentment, I am sure."
Fate lunged me on a bed of pain,
And simply said, "Endure."

Though all my plans have been laid low,
The choicest and most dear
Will yet be realized, I know;
Fate cannot interfere.

I shall meet Death down the road,
Who tells us, as he lifts our lead,
That life has just begun.

I shall go with him to the place
Where spirit comrades wait;
Again shall I behold the face
Of my eternal mate.
Yea; Death and I shall win the race,
O, impatient, stern Fate!

Rev. J. H. McLeod preached at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning on the parables of "The Lost Sheep," "The Lost Coin" and "The Prodigal Son."

The jubilee meeting, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the Presbyterian Church, is to be held on Sunday, with services at 11 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Members of the congregation and visitors are invited to bring their lunches and stay all day.

Rev. Edward Tabor preached at the Baptist Church Sunday morning, afternoon and evening, the subject of the evening sermon being the healing of the ten lepers and the ingratitude of the nine.

Miss Rittenberg has resigned her position in the public school and Miss Holmes, a sister of the principal, has consented to fill the vacancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferguson have gone to Orange, N. J., to visit relatives. The real-estate company has sold the properties of Mr. Charles Ferguson and Mr. Hanna Fairfax.

The Add Society of the Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adams Tuesday evening, with a good attendance. After the business session the Misses Sauber gave some enjoyable music, several songs were sung and a dialect reading was given.

Mr. D. W. Rutledge is quite ill with an attack of asthma.

Miss Ruth Richards is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richards, in Columbus, Ga.

It is reported that the Bull Run Talc and Soapstone Company is about to close the mills for an indefinite period. If the report is true, many men will be thrown out of employment and it is hoped that some of them will help to relieve the great need of labor on the farms.

Farmers are preparing the ground and planting corn this week. The weather is very cold for this season of the year and things are growing very slowly.

Hay, Grain and Feed

Mr. Farmer, much of your success this year depends on the way you treat your stock. Don't let the price worry you, but become a "crank" about quality, and demand it. A cheap feed in price may be very expensive in results. Let us fill your requirements with a product of quality, and insure you against an unsuccessful year.

Increased Values!

ARE YOU CARRYING sufficient insurance to cover the present value of your property?

IN THE PAST THREE YEARS THE VALUE OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY HAS NEARLY DOUBLED.

HAVE YOU INCREASED your insurance by an amount that will correspond with the advances in REPLACEMENT VALUE of your property?

HAVE YOU CONSIDERED how much money you MIGHT BE OBLIGED TO CONTRIBUTE in case of loss, because your insurance may not fully protect you UNDER PRESENT VALUE CONDITIONS?

IT IS GOOD BUSINESS FORESIGHT TO DISCUSS THESE POINTS WITH YOUR INSURANCE AGENT.

THE COST OF INSURANCE HAS NOT INCREASED—THE ONLY THING WE KNOW OF THAT HAS NOT.

Why You Should Buy Guaranteed Roofing

When you buy roofing you want durability as well as shelter. You want to know that it will last long enough to make its average cost per year a reasonable figure.

That is why Certain-teed should appeal to you. For, when properly laid, Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to weight.

The guarantee adequately protects your investment, but it does not accurately measure Certain-teed's life. In fact no one knows just how durable Certain-teed is, because in no case has it ever been known to wear out on the roof.

And Certain-teed is more than durable. It is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof. It effectively shelters your property.

With all these advantages, Certain-teed Roofing costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain, than any other type of good roofing.

See your dealer about Certain-teed. He either has it or can get it quickly from a nearby Certain-teed distributing center.

The Women's Auxiliary will meet at the high school building on Friday, May 14, at 2:30 o'clock for a discussion of plans and arrangements for the auxiliary's participation in the county fair in August. All members of the auxiliary and presidents of the various clubs in the county are especially urged to be present.
A cordial invitation is extended to all women in the county.

WE'RE FOR IT

The big idea back of the overall club is economy

The desire for economy in clothes seems to be widespread. We are for it. It is something we have been trying to encourage in our advertising. We consistently urge economy. We believe that people who do not need clothes should not buy them. There have not been enough clothes in the country to go around and anyone who can get along with the clothes he has, is rendering a public service. Wear your old clothes; don't make the wearer of overalls pay more. We have also said that if you do buy clothes for reasons of self-respect or other aesthetic feelings, you should buy the kind of clothes that will be the least wasteful. Economy in clothes is not simply in paying a low price for them; it is not getting a certain amount of cloth and tailoring, for clothes are something more than a mere covering for the body.

You'll find here economy in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes, we guarantee that they'll give all the value, wear and style you expect to get in any clothes—if not, money back.

DAUGHTERS WILL HONOR GEN. BEE TOMORROW
U. D. C. to Hold Memorial Service on Battlefield—Plans for Memorial Day

Mrs. James E. Farrell entertained the monthly meeting of Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Wednesday afternoon at her home in Battle street.

Mrs. Maggie Barber, chairman of the committee on memorial trees, reported that permission had been granted by the town council for the planting of trees along Lee avenue in Manassas. About forty trees will be required, the trees to be set 25 feet apart.

Memorial trees for the purpose have been contributed by Dr. W. Fewell Merchant, Mrs. Robert A. Hutchison, Mrs. Barber, Mrs. W. M. Rice and Rev. Westwood Hutchison. Dr. Merchant's tree will be planted in memory of his mother, the late Mrs. Benjamin D. Merchant, who was the first president of the Ladies' Memorial Association of Manassas. Mrs. Hutchison will plant a tree in memory of her father, the late Thomas Holden, who served with the 8th Virginia regiment during the war between the states. Rev. Mr. Hutchison's tree will be planted in memory of his wife, who is president of the local chapter.

Announcement was made of the district meeting at Alexandria May 12 and 13. All members who desire to attend are requested to forward their names to Mrs. Westwood Hutchison, president of this chapter, who will make arrangements for their entertainment.

Further arrangements were made for the exercises on Memorial day, when Confederate veterans will be entertained at luncheon and public exercises will be held.

Members of the chapter made plans to go to the battlefield tomorrow to hold a memorial service in honor of Gen. Bernard E. Bee, who fell in battle there. A Confederate flag presented a few years ago by the Bernard E. Bee Chapter, San Antonio, Tex., will feature the ceremony.

A contribution of $10 was sent to the general relief fund of the Virginia division, a fund dedicated for the benefit of needy women of the Confederacy, and $5 was voted to the endowment fund of the Confederate museum.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held by invitation at the home of Mrs. E. LeRoy Byrd in Centre street.

A Reminder!

Washington, March 7.—Plans for reducing the American family's meat bill were announced today by the Department of Justice, which will urge housewives to turn from the high-priced cuts to less costly portions of the steer.

Fair price commissioners in every state will be asked to direct educational campaigns with the co-operation of retailers and wholesalers; and the department will undertake to see to it that the consumer receives good meat at low prices and that no abnormal profits are taken on the low-priced portions.

"The housewife holds in her own hand the remedy for very high meat prices," said the department's announcement. "By turning from the expensive to the inexpensive cuts she not only will lower her own meat bills, but will drive down the price of the choice cuts and make it possible for meat to be merchandise more economically."

May we not be pardoned if we say, "I told you so?" Let us show you some of our meats that you can save big money on. We know you'll not be disappointed for SAUNDERS' SANITARY SERVICE SATISFIES

1/3 Less Coal 1/2 More Heat

You can save from a third to a half of your fuel and have a much warmer home than ever before if you will install a CALORIC.

The CALORIC is the remarkable furnace that heats without pipes, through only one register. It circulates heat by Nature's own method, forcing warm air up into the entire house and drawing cool air down into the furnace to be reheated and pushed.

The CALORIC heats practically all types of houses, bungalow or three-story houses, up to eighteen rooms. It heats kitchens and bath bedrooms just as comfortably and warm as the rest of the house. Also heats churches, schools, stores and other business buildings. More than 50,000 already installed.

The CALORIC can be installed in new or old houses—no cutting of walls for pipes and no interference with present systems of heating. It burns coal, coke, gas, wood or lignite, and costs from one-third to one-half the fuel.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN AROUSES COMMUNITY

Truck Hauls Thirty Loads of Garbage Away From Town

The Clean-Up day for Manassas and Prince William County, scheduled for Wednesday of last week, although handicapped by rainy weather proved a real and gratifying success. A truck was used to haul the refuse collected and about thirty loads were carried to the dumping ground.

Householders co-operated without exception and the trash in most cases was placed where it could be easily collected when the truck arrived. The fee charged was enough to defray about half the expenses. The remainder will be paid by the town council.

The clean-up throughout the county is particularly noticeable around the schools. Many have acted upon the suggestions offered in the campaign. Many families have had their homes screened and have done other things to make the home more attractive and healthful.

"A clean-up amounts to little unless things are kept clean," is the last word of the campaign, as spoken by Dr. Edgar C. Harper, county health officer, who instituted the movement and served at the head of the civic league committee in charge of the campaign in town.

NARROW ESCAPE OF BIRDMEN

Aviators Forged by Mechanical Trouble to Land in Field Near Here.

Lieut. Lyman Patterson and his mechanic, Corporal Bert Hammer, of Bolling Field, had a miraculous escape from serious injury or death Monday afternoon when they were obliged to land their Curtiss biplane in a field on Dr. E. F. Ide's farm near town. When mechanical trouble forced the landing Lieut. Patterson selected the most promising spot within reach and the machine struck the earth in a soft muddy part of the field. The wheels sank in the mud, their spinning motion suddenly brought to an end, and the plane took a nose flop, landing in an inverted position. The aviators came out without a scratch, and the machine, beyond its original trouble plus a generous mud-bath, was unscathed.

Lieut. Patterson was returning to Washington when the accident occurred, after making a recruiting trip to Warrenton. When the machine was repaired a day later he resumed the trip. The plane passed over Manassas again yesterday en route to Warrenton, where the recruiting work will be continued.

Ten miles used to be a long way

WHAT a difference in these motor-car days, when every point in the county is hardly more than "just around the corner."

People's ideas are changing, too.

They're beginning to figure out how much it is costing them to keep a car. And the man who is doing the greatest amount of figuring is the man with the moderate-price car.

There still seems to be a notion in some quarters that any tire is good enough for a small car.

That's not what the man who owns it thinks.

In recommending and selling U. S. Tires we are trying to see his side of the proposition—finding out what he wants in a tire and giving him that.

Large or small, U. S. Tires are built to only one standard of quality—the standard that produced the first straight side automobile tire, the first pneumatic truck tire.

Every tire that bears the name "U. S." is built the best way its maker's know how. It isn't the car, but the man who owns the car, that counts with the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

As representatives of U. S. Tires in this town, we offer you the benefit of our experience and advice in settling your tire problem.

Select your tires according to the roads they have to travel: In sandy or hilly country, wherever the going is apt to be heavy—The U. S. Nobby. For ordinary country roads—The U. S. Champ or Ucon. For front wheels—The U. S. Plain. For best results—everywhere—U. S. Royal Coats.
