HOPE OF EASTERN TO SHATTER ROCK HILL

BIG GAME HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Last Appearance of Red and White on Eastern Gridiron This Season—Easy Victory Over Catholic University.

By J. R. HAYES
Manager Eastern College Foot Ball Team

Rock Hill College will bring its strongest team here Saturday to play Eastern College.

Rock Hill, with one of the fastest teams in Maryland this year, defeated Catholic University last Saturday by a score of 34 to 0.

This showing insures a great struggle on Eastern field, and the management expects a big crowd. Foot ball enthusiasts should not miss this game, as it will be Eastern's last appearance home this season. Game called promptly at 3 p. m.

EASY VICTORY

The Eastern College aggregation of foot ball stars succeeded in lowering the colors of Catholic University last Friday in Washington by a score of 22 to 0.

SUPERIOR TEAM

When you consider that only one half of the game was played, and that Eastern did not score in the first quarter, but made all 22 points in the second quarter of twelve minutes, scoring almost two points a minute, you may understand the superiority of Eastern College. If the game had not been stopped by darkness, Eastern would have piled up an overwhelming score.

FIRST QUARTER

In the first quarter Eastern had to play in the face of a heavy wind and could not try any trick plays, or kick to advantage. Several times Eastern had the ball within striking distance, but would invariably lose, and then C. U. would punt with the wind to carry the ball. Every time Eastern would bring back the ball into C. U. territory, but could not score.

It was in the first quarter that C. U. made the two points. Hinckman, for C. U., made one of the longest punts ever seen on a foot ball field in Washington. Standing on his 5-yard line he punted the ball high in the air, and carried by a heavy wind it passed Carroll and Cooper, who were playing back for it, and rolled across the goal line, a distance of 105 yards. It was then that C. U. made its only score.

Cooper started out with the ball and was thrown behind C. U. goal line for a safety. Had Cooper let the ball remain behind the goal line it would have been a touchback and Eastern would not have scored. The quarter ended with the ball in Eastern's possession on Catholic University's 15-yard line.

SECOND PERIOD

The second period began with the wind favoring Eastern. It took only two plays for Eastern to carry the ball over. Carroll kicked goal.

C. U. then kicked to E. C. and Carroll brought the ball back 20 yards. Norris and Ross took the ball for off tackles, which netted from 5 to 20 yards every time. Norris carried the ball over for a second touchdown, but failure to catch the ball resulted in no goal.

Eastern kicked to C. U., held them for downs, and took the ball on C. U. 50-yard line. Eastern was given for a punt formation on the third down and Eastern had 13 yards to gain. Boufford took the ball and in a trick play shot through the C. U. line for 48 yards, being downed on the 2-yard line. In the next line-up Cooper took the ball over for the third touchdown. Carroll kicked. Score: Eastern 22, Catholic University 2.

Eastern kicked to C. U., Ross the referee called the game off, downing McIntire in his tracks. Eastern won a series of crosses from a back formation and gained a yard. Eastern took the ball in the field. Norris gain-

MRS. GEORGE BELL DIES OF PNEUMONIA

END GAME SUNDAY EVENING

Stricken Tuesday—Condition Not Considered Critical Until Few Hours Before Death.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Bell died of pneumonia in her home near Sinclair's Mill, Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. She had been in excellent health until Tuesday afternoon when stricken, and her condition was not believed to be critical until Sunday noon when she sank rapidly to the end. The funeral Tuesday afternoon from the Bradley church was largely attended. The services were conducted by the Rev. Ritter. Interment was in Bradley churchyard.

Mrs. Bell is survived by her husband, George Bell; two sons, Charles W. Bell and Frank P. Bell, of Manassas; and four daughters, Mrs. J. I. Randall, Miss Myrtle Bell, Miss Anna Bell, Manassas; Mrs. Max Gold-rose, Johnson City, Tenn.

Mrs. Bell was born in Warren county, Tenn. She was married to George Bell January 1, 1888. She was a member of the Methodist Church. Her death has caused widespread sorrow among her many friends.

ed 20 yards through tackle when the ball was knocked from his arms. Curry caught the ball on the bound, and dodging several C. U. men ran 35 yards for the fourth touchdown in this quarter. No goal was kicked.

THE THIRD QUARTER
The third quarter began with Eastern making one substitution, Garrison at quarter. Eastern kicked to C. U. and Ross and Norris downed the man in his arms. Eastern took about five minutes on account of darkness. Eastern went in the second determined to run up a large score, but darkness saved the C. U. team.

DINNER AND BAZAAR

Turkey and cranberry, sauce, mince pies, all the good things to eat that make a Thanksgiving feast worth while, will be served by the ladies of the Baptist church in the Newman building. Many attractive and useful articles will be offered for sale in the bazaar. The proceeds will be devoted to the church.

RAISE FUNDS TO COMPLETE CHURCH

The Ladies' Missionary Society of Embray Chapel Church will hold an auction sale and serve an oyster supper in the afternoon at 4 o'clock to raise money to complete the edifice. A lady in the neighborhood has given a Bible valued at $14, which will be offered for sale to purchase lights for the church. The public is invited and everyone who can is requested to bring a pound of something. Embray Chapel Church is south of the Old School Baptist Church at Chappawamsic.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE AND CORN SHOW

The Farmers' Institute and Corn Show to be held tomorrow in Manassas, promises to surpass any similar event in the history of the Eighth Congressional District. Products of the field and farm are to be placed on exhibition in competition for liberal prizes and honorary ribbons. Addresses are to be delivered by L. C. Corbett and G. Walter Jones. The exhibits will be placed in the library of the Ruffner Building, while the speaking will begin promptly at 10 o'clock in the Court House. The corn-growing contest among the boys and the domestic science competition by the girls promise to be of unusual interest. Charles J. Maphis, state examiner of schools, will be present. Luncheon will be served by the Domestic Science class under direction of Miss Lulu D. Metz.

NOKESVILLE TOWN BUILDERS

NOKESVILLE citizens are town builders of the most progressive type. They have set out with the determination to make their town the most attractive commercial and residential point of its size in the state and they are realizing their ambition. Nokesville has a strong bank and enterprising business firms, and is the site of Hebbon Seminary. The demand for business and residential realty in Nokesville has been so very brisk that W. R. Free, Jr., who is active in building up the community, has instituted an auction of lots in his property adjoining the depot, a central location and a most desirable site. The auction will take place next Wednesday, November 23, beginning promptly at 10:30 a. m., under direction of W. L. Barnes, representing the Southern Realty and Auction Company, of Greensboro, N. C. A brass band will entertain the crowd and valuable presents will be souvenirs. It is expected that as a result of this sale Nokesville will enter a new era of building activity, by attracting investors to the town. Many inquiries are being made regarding the property, and it is expected that the sale will be one of the greatest town-building enterprises ever held in this section of the state.

TINY SPARK CAUSES $4,000 DESTRUCTION

HEAVY DAMAGE AT HAZEN FARM

Barn, Stock Shed and Silo With Contents Destroyed by Flames—Loss Partly Covered by Insurance.

A tiny spark from a stationary engine Friday afternoon kindled a blaze that caused damage to the extent of $4,000 on the farm owned by Melvin C. Hazen, of Washington, one and one-half miles southeast of Nokesville. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The miniature firebrand sifted through a crack in the stock shed, and before the men who were shredding fodder by power machinery at the barn close by were aware of any danger, the interior of the shed was a mass of flame. From the stock shed the flames were carried by a strong breeze to the silo and the barn, totally destroying the three buildings and their contents. A cornshed was saved by considerable effort, but the gorn was parched by the intense heat. For a time it was feared that the residence would be destroyed, but finally the wind shifted and carried the flames in another direction after threatening the structure. Much valuable machinery was destroyed. The loss also includes 35 tons of hay, 50 bushels of oats, 25 barrels of corn, and a large quantity of shredded fodder.

PRINCE WILLIAM VOTES DOWN AMENDMENTS

AGAINST CONSTITUTION CHANGE

Cons On Record With Overwhelming Majorities Against Tampering With Organic Law of Commonwealth.

By overwhelming majorities citizens of Prince William county voted down the four proposed amendments to the Virginia constitution. That they oppose an indefinite tenure of office, affording opportunity for the building of a machine is shown by the following official returns:

On extending session of Legislature: For 71
Against 311

On changing Legislative procedure: For 91
Against 277

On election of Treasurers and Commissioners of Revenue in cities: For 179
Against 190

On election of Treasurers and Commissioners of Revenue in counties: For 121
Against 217

For Congress: Charles C. Carlin $78

HAYMARKET NEWS

Mrs. Ellie Jordan, who has been visiting Mrs. C. E. Jordan, left on Monday for her home in Baltimore.

Services will be held every night next week at the Haymarket Baptist Church, by the pastor, Rev. T. D. B. Clarke.

While Miss DePaaw and Miss Belle Price were out riding last Friday morning, Miss Price lost her riding crop. While down to get it her horse turned suddenly and kicked her, breaking her left thumb below the knee. She was taken to "Waverly" and a surgeon was summoned immediately. We are glad to state at this writing Miss Price is doing very well.

DEATH SUMMONS DR. J. F. GARDNER

END GAME SATURDAY MORNING

Soldier, Scholar, Physician—Attained Eminence By Performing Many Cures During Cholera Epidemic.

Dr. John Flagg Gardner, soldier, scholar, physician, died of old age early Saturday morning in his home on East street. He was 86 years old, and had been in feeble health for the last ten years. The funeral was held Monday morning from Trinity Episcopal church, the Rev. Grinnon, of Haymarket, officiating. Interment was in Manassas cemetery.

Dr. Gardner came to Manassas in April, 1909, from Nelson county, the family home for at most thirty years. About a year ago despite extreme age and feeble health, he successfully underwent an operation on his eyes.

Dr. Gardner was a man of wide learning and high ideals. He attained eminence as a physician early in his career, during the epidemic of cholera in Richmond in 1852, when he made cures that attracted attention of medical scientists throughout the entire country. But he healed others at the sacrifice of his own health, and after a few years of medical service he was compelled to abandon a practice promising a most brilliant future and move to the country in hopes of recuperating.

Dr. Gardner was graduated from Harvard with A. M. degree in the class of 1847. He also was graduated from Richmond College and from the Homoeopathic College in Philadelphia. He became interested in homeopathy in Paris, during a tour abroad.

Dr. Gardner was a Confederate veteran. During the last two years of the Civil War he fought with the Hanover troop, Fourth Virginia Cavalry, enlisting as a private, but being detailed to duty as surgeon, before the close of the war.

In 1867 he married Miss Isabelle Nelson, of Albemarle, who died in 1863. Their children still living are Mrs. Nina Walpole, of Charlottesville, widow of the Hon. Clare Walpole, of England; and Frank N. Gardner, of Covington.

In January, 1867, Dr. Gardner married Miss Alice Mosby, of Nelson county, who survives him with their children, Miss Virginia Cavill Gardner, of Manassas; Mrs. W. K. Moss, of Markham, Fauquier county, and J. C. Gardner, of Valdosta, Ga. All the surviving children were here for the funeral.

He was born in Ipswich, Mass., Oct. 12, 1825, and spent his childhood in Lynn, Mass. He was a model citizen, held in the highest esteem by all with whom he came in contact and his death is widely mourned.

SHRETSVILLE NEWS

Frank Swartz is visiting his old home in page county for a week. On his return he will move to Compton, where he will act as manager.

Aden Council, O. F. A., will present a flag and Bible to the new graded school at Aden on November 18 at 1 p. m. A good program will be presented. The public is invited.

There was a large crowd at the funeral of John Holsinger at Valley Church. Mr. Holsinger was born in Pennsylvania and came to Virginia about 15 years ago. He was a successful farmer and miller. He was about 81 years old.

BUILDING THE HOME

PAPER READ BEFORE MASSACHUSETTS UNION, W. C. T. U.

By MRS. G. D. BAKER
The subject is one of importance to us, for it is through the homes that come the people to fill this land of ours, and if we wish civilization to improve, so must the home improve.

BUILDING OURSELVES
The first building is with ourselves. If each one would build self, a great good would be accomplished. 'Tis in ourselves that we are thus or thus. So to thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man.

AIM OF HOME
The aim of the home should be both social and religious. The home should not be a cheap hotel, where a man can get his board cheaper than elsewhere and have the darning of his socks thrown in.

NEGLECT CAUSE OF CRIME
It is estimated that the causes to a large percent of the criminals are traced back to neglect in the homes, where intelligence, religion and thrift and a more or less degree of prosperity are supposed to guard against wrong.

IMPORTANCE OF HOME
Homemakers need self-control, power of organization, unselfishness, insight into character and ever-ready sympathy with all. Yes, all these qualities, and many more, are required in building the home.

IMPORTANCE OF HOME (continued)
The home owes its importance to its power and its purposes. It is not the only one who realizes these facts, but the progress of moral and physical culture bears witness to them. It has been said: "Show me the nations whose homes are decaying, and I will show you the thrones that are tottering."

HAPPINESS IN SIMPLICITY
Moralists and philosophers are constantly telling the world that the best elements of human happiness are in the simplest and most sensible. There is a constant cry for simplicity of living.

BUILD AGAINST INTemperance
Then there is the awful Demon of Intemperance that the home has to build against. It is pitiful to know how every plan is used to tempt, entrap and destroy the honor of the home, how so great an army of young are dumped every year into the ways that lead to the anguish of shameful death.

STOP LIQUOR TRAFFIC KIDNAPPING
Has not the time fully come when an aroused nation should demand that wretched kidnaping of youth by the liquor traffic under sanction of the law should be stopped at once? When men think so and say so at every opportunity by their vote and their voice, then a great way will be opened to the building of the home.

As we all know, health is one of our best blessings, and cleanliness is a great principle in health preservation. There is a joy, a sensation of delight, in all pure states of life and living. As cleanliness is next to godliness, so purity of thought and purity of surroundings we can bring the order of Heaven into the home.

If it is very essential that the boys and girls who will some day establish homes of their own know the blessedness of the first quality home whose foundation rests upon purity, principle and high ideals.

It is a very important fact in home building to remember that what adds to the well being and well doing of men is good, what lessens or detracts is bad. No one can be happy if the world's laws are broken, or its gods misused. So comes the importance of the well-managed home and its power to make people happy, as well as the impossibility of happiness in any other way.

GREAT PURPOSE OF HOME
The great purpose of a home is that there young lives may be nurtured and trained for living. It is the greatest agency of character development in the life of today. It is the principle school of life.

PLEA FOR GOOD HOMES
The captain at sea takes his bearings carefully when breakers roar and fearful tempests gather, though his ship may not be in danger, one mistake may wreck unnumbered barke that follow. So we should be careful, then, who go before, for there are others who may follow in our footsteps, or whose good intentions may be destroyed by some act of carelessness whose bark of life that follows in our wake may be wrecked.
