ADVISE USE OF KING DRAG ON ROADS

WOULD SOLVE LOCAL PROBLEM

Members of Farmers Institute Discuss Benefits of Device—Suggest Corn Growing Contest.

By PROF. H. F. BUTTON
Director Manassas Agricultural School.
The February meeting of the Farmers Institute was held last Friday with an attendance of about fifty members. The officers elected for the coming year are President, Westwood Hutchison; secretary, Prof. H. F. Button; directors, J. J. Conner, W. B. Doak, Geo. C. Round.

The vice presidents are by districts. They are Gainesville, Geo. G. Tyler, Haymarket; Brentsville, S. H. Flory, Nokesville; Centerville, Fairfax county, A. F. Moon, of Burkes; Scott District, Capt. J. B. Beverly, of The Plains; Coles District, L. F. Merrill, of Independent Hill; Providence District, Fairfax county, Robert Miller, of Vienna; Occoquan District, Corbin Thompson, of Woodbridge; Manassas District, Wm. T. Monroe, of Wellington.

CO-OPERATION
A general discussion lasted until noon in which plans for the advancement of the Farmers Institute were outlined by members. Co-operative buying and selling agencies were discussed by W. B. Doak, of Clifton, who advocated an Agricultural Fair as the natural outgrowth of the Horse Show.

KING ROAD DRAG
The use of the King road drag was fully discussed by Messrs. Doak, Heuser, Hutchison and Meetze, who advised its frequent use in muddy weather to keep the ruts filled and allow the water to run off quickly. Mr. Heuser told the Institute that a law now in effect requires the supervisors to drag the road. It was moved, seconded and carried that a committee be appointed to inform the supervisor of this fact and urge them to act accordingly.

CORN GROWING CONTEST
A suggestion made by Mr. Heuser, of Haymarket, was that the older men challenge the boys to a corn growing contest, twenty-five on a side. The idea met with general favor, and probably will be carried out.

CANNING OF VEGETABLES
In the afternoon Mr. Breasale spoke on the home-canning of vegetables, giving a demonstration of methods and results in preserving in glass cans all the common garden vegetables. The methods are so simple that any housewife can apply them with implements they now possess.

The method is, in brief, to heat the can for two consecutive days for an hour in a receptacle filled with boiling water. The first heating kills the active bacteria, the second kills those that were in the spore form on the first day.

A large number of ladies attended the afternoon session. Professor Button showed specimens of San Jose scale under the magnifying glass, and gave an account of the methods by which it can be killed. Now is the time to spray for the best results, and either lime, sulphur or oil preparations are effective if thoroughly applied.

The meeting adjourned to March 17.

There will be morning prayer and sermon in Trinity Episcopal Church, Sunday morning, February 26, at eleven o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Kennedy, of the Theological Seminary, will conduct the services.

RECITAL DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

EASTERN STUDENTS SCORE HIT

Artistic Interpretation Monday Night Under Direction of Mrs. Frances Thomas Gordon in College Chapel.

Approval, the highest test of artistic worth, was so apparent in the audience that greeted the recital by the students of the Music School of Eastern College, under direction of Mrs. Frances Thomas Gordon, in the College Chapel Monday evening, that a general request is made for a public recital at least once a month.

STRONG PROGRAM
The program of heavy classic numbers, was rendered with ease that marks masterly training, and was enjoyed and appreciated by every person present.

Noteworthy is the progress of Mrs. Marie Clarke and Miss Stewart Hynson, while Miss Margaret Temple Hopkins, Miss Louise Mather and Miss Anna M. Mather, gave evidence of much talent. However, every number on the program was excellently presented, and is worthy of special mention.

Among students appearing, who are new to Manassas audiences are Miss Inez Helen Martin, of Logansport, Ind., and the Misses Gary, of Nanjemoy, Md.

TOLKS UP WILLOW CREEK
"Tolks Up Willow Creek," a rural drama, will be presented by local talent in Conner's Hall, tomorrow night for benefit of the Manassas band. A strong presentation is promised under direction of Frank S. Davidson, who made a decided hit here in "Old Farmer Hopkins." Elaborate scenic effects is a feature.

DIES OF GRIEF OVER DEATH OF HUSBAND

MRS. BETTIE NELSON PASSES AWAY

Follows Life Companion to Grave on Eve of Their Golden Wedding Anniversary—Funeral Tomorrow.
Heartbroken over the death of her husband, Lieut. Edwin Nelson, less than a fortnight before, Mrs. Bettie Nelson has followed him into the beyond. She will be laid to rest beside him in the Confederate cemetery tomorrow afternoon. Less than a month ago both had planned the celebration of their golden wedding anniversary on March 26.

DIES OF GRIEF
Mrs. Nelson died Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. Physicians say death was caused by collapse resulting from overtax on her strength during the last illness of her husband, but it was grief more than she could bear, that brought the end. Death, to her, came as a ministering angel, soothing in sleep the suffering of separation. But to those left behind the dual death visitation is the saddest ever witnessed in Manassas.

STRICKEN AS HUSBAND DIES
Mrs. Nelson was stricken shortly before the death of her husband, when she realized the approaching of the end. Hope at first held out for her recovery was given up early in the week when it was apparent that she gradually was passing away and death momentarily was expected all through the night of Tuesday and the morning of Wednesday.

RICHARD A. FOLEY DIES AT WATERFALL

FUNERAL MONDAY FROM ANTIOCH

Among First To Enlist in Cause of Confederacy With Prince William Rifles Old Age Cause of Death.

Richard A. Foley, 87 years old, died Sunday morning at 6 o'clock in his home near Waterfall. The funeral was held from Antioch church Monday afternoon, the Rev. T. D. D. Clarke officiating, and was largely attended. Interment was in the Antioch churchyard.

Mr. Foley was one of the first to enlist in the cause of the Confederacy, with Company F, Prince William Rifles, Seventeenth Virginia Volunteers. The company in command of Captain George S. Hamilton, left Haymarket early in May, 1861. He was the last survivor of a large family of children. His father, William Foley, was a large land owner and slave holder. Mount Atlas, the ancestral home, contained about 1,000 acres, and was noted in the ante-bellum days.

Mr. Foley was twice married. His first wife was a daughter of the late Sanford Pickett. By this union there were seven children, only one of whom survives—Miss Agnes Foley, of Haymarket. His second wife was a daughter of the late Joshua Owens. There were seven children born to them, four of them are living, two sons and two daughters.

STATE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

The Danville W. C. T. U. has arranged for the State convention to be held here in September. Strong emphasis will be given the newer methods of temperance, in that the broad foundations of preventive work, and conserved energy in saving the young, will be brought forward. Besides a good attendance of State workers, the Danville convention hopes to have well known speakers of the National W. C. T. U.

With new territory added each year, better trained workers, experienced and trusted leaders, the Twenty-ninth Annual Convention gives promise of excellent work done and abundant aid and wise outlines for future effort. The Virginia President, Mrs. Howard M. Hoge, of Loudoun county, assisted in forming plans for the convention.

The Davis-Wenrich Motor company of Manassas and Bristow, representing the "E. M. F. 30" "Flanders 20" and Studebaker gas and electric cars, sold four of the 1911 models here on Wednesday and expect to sell a great many this season. A clipping from The Washington Post of November 10, says one of these E. M. F. 30 automobiles started a 110 ton locomotive from a standstill and hauled it into Los Angeles, Cal., a remarkable demonstration of power.

Members of Prince William Lodge No. 271, I. O. O. F., celebrated Washington's birthday with a banquet in Nicol Hall Wednesday night. An excellent menu was served, and responses to toasts were appropriate and witty.

H. H. Koontz has bought the Antiseptic barber shop from F. E. Saunders, who remains in charge. Mr. Koontz expects to make a number of improvements in the shop.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Spinks died Friday, February 17.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE POWER FOR UPLIFT

J. L. KIBLER OUTLINES PURPOSE

Declares for United Effort in Part of Mothers to Help Win Fight for Triumph of Movement.

By J. L. KIBLER
Principal Stanardville Graded and High School
To members of the American Woman's League.

The success of the League is assured. The Founders Chapter, will, no doubt, soon be announced as completed. This will mean an army of women 100,000 strong, scattered all over this Union—a force that must be reckoned with in the struggle against the evils in society that hinder the progress of the country. Women's influence will be more potent because she is now about to occupy a position that has never before been her privilege to hold—that of having an unique business organization, which founded on the principle of co-operation makes her able to accomplish what otherwise could never be brought to pass.

A united effort on the part of all League members to help win the fight for the triumph of this movement at this particular time is important. No one should falter when the fruition of all hopes and desires is about to be realized. The assaults of mercenary foes upon the founder of the League ought to have no influence upon the independent, freedom-loving and intelligent men and women who know that these defamers of one of America's best and truest men would do nothing for the advancement of womankind—they only plot to ruin.

LITERARY SOCIETY MEETINGS

The weekly meeting of the Literary Society of the Manassas High School last Friday was given by the juniors. The following is the program:
Chorus—"Spanish Cavalier."
Debate—"Resolved, That teaching is the best profession for women."
Judges, Miss May Leachman, Miss Ruth Smith, Bonnie Johnson. Critic, Mrs. Mott. Affirmative, Miss Elnora Mayhugh, Miss Mattie Nash. Negative, Miss Othello Williams, Miss Mary Lee Chapman.
Recitation—"Sunday Fishing," Miss Nettie Leyburn.

Both sides of the debate were well discussed and contained good points. The judges after quite a long consultation gave the honors to the affirmative, upheld by Miss Mattie Nash and Miss Marion Mayhugh. All declared it one of the best meetings ever had by the Society.

Our friends can help us through the well-known real estate firm, Nicol and Randall of Manassas. They have agreed to donate to the League for a lot, one-half of all their commissions on sales made by or through the influence of any League member. Any League member who can help secure a buyer for this agency will thus be helping us at no expense to herself. The above gentlemen are progressive, wide-awake and can suit people who are looking for homes or farms in or near a live, growing town—such as Manassas in. And, above all, let us not forget that a chapter house to cost about $2,000 will be an honor and a benefit to Manassas, an institution to be proud of.

Let every true man and woman who is interested in the bettering of the condition of womankind stand by E. G. Lewis until he has succeeded in defeating the foul designs of his defamers, and a glorious day will dawn for the noble army of noble women who have so far fought and labored under his leadership.
Let every League member do her utmost to maintain the good name of the organization, and with a "square deal" for the great genius who conceived the plan of the American Woman's League he will win for all—yes, the greatest battle since 1776—the battle for the free press, the only hope of a free country.

Meanwhile—while we are Aaron and Hara to uphold Mr. Lewis' hands till he "cinches" the victory and triumphs over those who would rob us as well as him of all fruits of a battle almost won—let us strengthen the local league and get ready for a chapter house at Manassas.

Let every League member do her utmost to maintain the good name of the organization, and with a "square deal" for the great genius who conceived the plan of the American Woman's League he will win for all—yes, the greatest battle since 1776—the battle for the free press, the only hope of a free country.

COMING CHAMPS BEGIN TRAINING

COACH MABRY IS OPTIMISTIC

Promising Recruits Appear—Eastern Shows Strength on Firing Line—Candidates Round Into Form.

By J. E. HAYES
Manager Eastern College Base Ball Team
Coach George Mabry arrived in town last week and after the conventional hand-shakes and greetings, he immediately went over the base ball situation with the College authorities. Coach Mabry expresses satisfaction over the prospects for base ball at Eastern this year.

As soon as the weather will permit the candidates will be in the field, and then the coach will know just what men he has to work out. In the meantime some ball in town may be engaged, and the pitchers and catchers will be put to work. As the new gymnasium is not complete, this will be the only way of getting the batteries in good condition.

Among the old men back who played on the varsity last year and who will be strong varsity material this year are Curry, Brechin, White, Kibler, Hynson, Rector and Hayes.

NEW MEN
A new man in College who will put up a stiff fight for the varsity team and who is up in the game is Billings at third. In Billings Eastern believes it has the strongest third baseman that has played here in some time.

Clearly, another infielder is showing up well, and should be a strong candidate for second base. Bouffard, who is a candidate for first base, is a good player and should be strong material for the varsity.

There may be a strong fight for the initial sack between Bouffard and Curry, who played here last year. Spencer, from A. & M. College, will add strength to the outfield, having every quality to make a valuable man. He hits the ball hard, and should add greatly to the team, in a place where there was a weakness last year.

Baker and Pettit, the latter who has been the star catcher for Furman University for several years, are out for the back-stop position and both are likely candidates.

Sexton, star pitcher for A. & M. College for several years, is in College, and will pitch some of the important games this year. With such men as Sexton and White on the firing line, Eastern College should be well fortified.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL

There are a number of others in College who show up well, and will be given a thorough tryout. Among them are Schwab, Garrison, Kelly, Ellis, Hays, Moffett, Davis, Sontag, Marine and Germaine. From this array of material Coach Mabry should be able to select a good team to uphold the reputation of Eastern College on the diamond.

Russell, last year's star catcher, was in town a few days visiting friends before he reports to the New York Americans at Athens, Ga. Russell left here for Hampton, where he will have a week's tutoring under Joe Dietzel, a former Eastern League star, and who recommended him to Scout Arthur Irving, of the New York American League team.

Russell reports at Athens, Ga., March 4 for a spring training tryout under the famous Nat Chase, leader of the New York Americans.

VIRGINIA NEWS

News has reached Norfolk from Washington that Floyd Hughes has again landed as collector of the Norfolk port.

The Phantom Wagon Train

Shortly before the buffalo disappeared from the western plains I joined a hunting party to get a last look at this noble game. We took the old wagon train from St. Joseph, Mo., to Denver, on which many a wagon train had passed before the completion of the Denver-Pueblo road...

I laughed incredulously. "My god! to hear the story," he replied, "I'll tell you." But you won't believe it now.

"The wagon lumbered along westward and disappeared. The old plainsman told me the yarn.

"Forty eight years passed, and I met the Ringier family again in Utah. There wasn't one of 'em that didn't look like a skeleton, there wasn't a bit of fat on 'em, and the other two was skin and bone.

"The last time I ever seen Ringier's outfit was after another year had passed. It was on this road, the family had just been murdered by a party of Indians.

"That day we met some plains people. I told them about our visit and the story he narrated. They had evidently heard the story before and seemed to believe in its ghostly character.

Mrs. Emily C. Round on behalf of the committee of arrangements, states that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union desires to thank the citizens of Manassas for their assistance and patronage at the supper Thursday night and dinner Friday of last week. It was very greatly appreciated. There seems to be an impression abroad that everybody was not admitted to the speaking at the Laymen's Missionary meeting which followed the supper. This is erroneous as the doors were open to the public as soon as the supper was over. We regretted the necessity of closing them even for that short while, but we feel assured that the generosity of our people will help them overlook what seemed an impossibility, the practical side of serving such a great supper in the midst of a multitude.
