$1.00 PER YEAR

NEW $10,000 EDIFICE FOR GRACE CHURCH

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION THIS FALL

Fine Improvement for M. E. Church, South, at Southeast Corner of Main and Church Streets.

Committees will meet tomorrow, Friday night, to determine plans for the beautiful new edifice of Grace M. E. Church, South, to be erected at a cost of $10,000.

An ornament to Manassas, a house of worship in architectural design and beauty, and in appointments and arrangement unsurpassed in this section of Virginia, will be the handsome new edifice erected by Grace M. E. Church, South, at an approximate cost of $10,000, on the site owned by the church at the southeast corner of Main and Church streets and including the lot occupied by Foote's wall paper establishment.

The edifice will be brick with cut stone trimmings, and will occupy 55 feet on Main street and 105 feet on Church street. The main auditorium will be diagonal to the site, with the main entrance at the intersection of Main and Church streets. An entrance from Church street will open into the Sunday school room and another from Main street will lead to the pulpit and choir.

The church will have a seating capacity of 600, the main auditorium and the Sunday school room, each 45 feet square, communicating with disappearing doors, and providing additional seating capacity. Modern heat and lighting systems will be installed. The appointments will be of the finest.

Present plans contemplate the beginning of construction this fall that the edifice may be finished for occupancy early next year.

Plans will be formulated tomorrow night at a meeting of committees with the pastor, the Rev. C. L. DeLong. The building committee comprises W. M. Wheeler, chairman; Walter A. Clem, C. E. Nash, E. Wood Weir and R. S. Hynson. A committee of ladies is to be appointed by Mrs. R. S. Hynson, president of the Woman's Home Missionary Society. Grace M. E. Church, South, has a membership of 213.

FINISH WATER SYSTEM FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

TURN WATER IN MAINS TUESDAY

Tank Has Capacity of 3,000 Gallons from Deep Artesian Well—Bubbling Fountain System in Buildings.

The water system for the Manassas public schools was placed in service Tuesday when the tower was completed and connection made with the engine which will force the water through the mains, supplying each building and the grounds. The tank has a capacity of 3,000 gallons and the water, the purest in town, is from an artesian well. The bubbling fountain system is installed in each building.

The Suffolk Board of Health Saturday began a systematic anti-fly crusade. Mayor-elect Holladay, a member of the board, caused the town to be flooded with fly literature. Dr. Douglas Freeman, of Richmond, a member of the Anti-Tuberculosis Commission, was secured to make an address next week on "The Fly and Other Causes of Disease."

TWO NEW BUILDINGS IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

IMPROVEMENT ON CENTER STREET

Hibbs & Giddings Plan Two-story Business Block—H. D. Wenrich to Erect Concrete Building.

Two new building improvements to be made this summer are: A business block by Hibbs and Giddings, cost, $7,000; and a business block by H. D. Wenrich, cost $1,500.

Two handsome, modern business blocks, structural improvements evidencing the progress of Manassas, are planned for immediate erection on sites occupied by frame buildings in the south half of the block on Center street between Battle and West streets. The announcement is one of the most important of the year in line of building activities.

HIBBS & GIDDINGS' NEW STORE. A modern, two-story brick or concrete block building is planned by the firm of Hibbs & Giddings to occupy the site owned by the firm at the southeast corner of Center and West streets. The residence on the property is to be moved to Grant avenue. The new building is to be erected at a cost of $7,000 and completed by January 1. The first floor will have plate glass front, will be occupied by Hibbs & Giddings' clothing establishment. The second floor will contain offices.

AUTOMOBILE SHOPS. H. D. Wenrich plans a one-story, modern, concrete block building on the site now occupied by Ira Reid's hotel. Work will be started after removal of the hotel to the new building erected by Mr. Reid and nearing completion on Main street. The frame building will be moved to Grant avenue. The new block will contain two store rooms, one to be occupied by automobile shops. The building will cost about $1,500.

TIGERS DEFEAT ATHLETICS, 7 TO 2

Cubs	0	1	0
Athletics	0	1	0

COMING WEEK GAMES
Saturday—Tigers vs. Cubs.
Monday—Cubs vs. Athletics.
Tigers, 7; Athletics, 2.

When Dr. W. Fewell Merchant, president of the association, tossed the first ball over the plate on Eastern field yesterday afternoon the initial season of the Manassas City League was formally opened. The Tigers defeated the Athletics by a 7 to 2 score.

The game promised to be fast and strong but Hynson on the mound for the Tigers could not see it in that light and began to mow down in one, two, three or four and pitched in superb form throughout the game. His support made but few errors but they were costly and gave the Athletics their runs. Woodyard pitched a creditable game for the Athletics.

The law requires all candidates in the recent primary election to file with the clerk of the circuit court an account of all money expended in the campaign within thirty days from the primary election. Not only the successful candidates, but the defeated ones also, must file the account. The primary election was held June 1, and the last day for filing the report will be next Saturday, July 1.

3 p. m. Forty-eight young ladies, representing States of the Union, clasp hands and forming a circle, sing Manassas National Jubilee Anthem.

4 p. m. Addresses by President of the United States and Governor of Virginia.

6:00 p. m. General reception of visitors by citizens.

CLOUDS of war have lifted from the scene and on the semi-centennial commemoration of the memorable conflict Manassas will open her gates in welcome to the surviving veterans in Blue and Gray who will march in love and peace on the historic Bull Run battlefield. The remnant of the gallant, warring hosts who marched on Manassas fifty years ago will be so royally entertained that their mission of peace will never be forgotten. In contrast the scenes of peace will be impressed upon memory as vividly as recollections of war.

The President of the United States, the Governor of Virginia and other distinguished statesmen will be present and deliver addresses, with Commanders-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate Veterans, and distinguished soldiers and statesmen from every State in the Union.

The celebration will be the most elaborate in the history of Northern Virginia. The press of the country is giving the event wide publicity. The committee comprising George C. Round, Westwood Hutchison and G. Raymond Ratcliffe requests that persons outside of Prince William County submit the following preliminary program to their local newspapers for publication:

PROGRAM OF PEACE JUBILEE

All surviving veterans of the Great War of 1861-1865 are invited to assemble on Henry Hill on the morning of July 21, 1911, at 9 o'clock. The Henry House yard will be reserved for the veterans who will be welcomed at 10 o'clock by Colonel Edmund Berkeley, of the Eighth Virginia and by Senator Thomas W. Martin. General John E. Gilman, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and General George W. Gordon, Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, have accepted invitations to be present and have been asked to speak. Members of the Senate and House Military Commissions, who served in the war, have also been invited. These include Senators Henry A. DuPont, Francis A. Warren and Joseph Forney Johnston, and Representative Thomas W. Bradley. General John S. Carr and Major D. R. Lowell have been invited to represent the organization known as "The Blue and the Gray and their Sons."

Colonel Robert M. Thompson, of New York, has signified his intention to present every veteran with a souvenir badge, and is expected to accompany his generous gifts with appropriate remarks. The time will be taken up with five and ten minute talks from veterans until noon. Then the veterans will be asked to form into two lines and march to Henry Hill, 200 yards distant and each will clasp the hands of his former comrade. Such a scene has never been witnessed in the history of the world and the committee is arranging to reproduce it into a living moving picture by the best photographic art. The State will be represented by its finest militia companies and the United States army by two troops of cavalry.

There will be a General Picnic and Love Feast at 1 o'clock. The Daughters of the Confederacy and other ladies will serve coffee and other refreshments. Those who can conveniently do so are requested to contribute toward the commissary supply.

Between 2 and 4 o'clock the veterans and their friends are asked to return to the Town of Manassas, where a stand and seats have been provided under the shade of the trees. Here the veterans will be met by forty-eight young ladies, each representing a State in the Union, standing with hand clasped in hand, forming a circle representing the Re-United States, and singing the Manassas National Anthem known as the "New America." Addresses will be made by the Governor of Virginia and the President of the United States and the proceedings of the great day of the Jubilee will come to a close at 5 o'clock.

HOW TO REACH HENRY HOUSE

Three ways are suggested to inquire:
First. By private conveyances from Washington and points in Northern Virginia to the Henry House and thence to Manassas before 4 o'clock, and after the addresses of the Governor and the President return via the Centerville road.

OPEN ATTRACTIVE RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT

COLLEGE PARK NEW BUILDING SITE

Beautiful Addition of Forty Acres—Open Two New Streets—Reserve Eight Acres for Eastern Athletic Field.

College Park, a new and most desirable residential district, will be formally opened with a spectacular celebration on Monday morning, July 10, at 11 o'clock.

Forty acres of as pretty a tract of land as ever the sun shone on, has been divided into building sites and on Monday, July 10, will be christened College Park. The attractive new residential district lies east of South Main street and south Main street, and was known as the Haydon tract until purchased recently by Eastern College. Eight acres of the original tract are reserved for a modern athletic field for Eastern College.

This transformation of a field into a residential district with pretty homes and well-kept streets is a splendid demonstration of the growth of Manassas. Already several investors are negotiating for the purchase of sites with the intention of erecting modern residences. Two streets, each 40 feet wide, are being surveyed through the property—one connecting South street with Fairview avenue, and the other extending from South Main street to Fairview avenue. The sale of lots on Monday morning, July 10, at 11 o'clock, will be the most spectacular of its kind ever witnessed in Manassas. The twin Penny and Thomas Brothers who each speak at the same time and in the same tone of voice propose to sell the lots at the rate of one a minute. These auctioneers hold the world's record for selling lots. A band concert will be given while the sale is in progress.

RESUME DRILLING IN PENN-VIR OIL WELL

MAGNETIC ORE POINTS TO FIND

M. B. Nicol, General Manager of Company—Directors Appoint John A. Nicol, Secretary and Treasurer.

Drilling was resumed last week in the Penn-Vir well in the Nokesville oil field, with four expert operators at work under W. C. Myers. As soon as the hole is straightened drilling will progress rapidly and it is reported that stock then will advance to $1.50 a share. Magnetic ore encountered in the well is said to be a strong indication of the presence of oil, and the drillers declare that it exists in greater quantities in Nokesville than in other wells. The drill, when raised to the surface is so highly magnetized that it will lift a three pound hammer and one can string chains of nails all around it.

The office of the Company has been moved to the residence of John A. Nicol, clerk of the circuit court, on Battle street. M. B. Nicol is general manager of the Company, and at a meeting of directors last week John A. Nicol was appointed secretary and treasurer.

MASS MEETING FOR CIVIC LEAGUE

A mass meeting of citizens will be held in Conner's Hall next Wednesday evening, July 5, at 8 o'clock to perfect organization of the Civic Improvement League. It is expected that R. C. Stearns, Secretary of the State Board of Education, will address the meeting.

MANASSAS CITY LEAGUE OPENS SEASON OF 1911

THREE STRONG TEAMS IN RACE

Business Men Back Organization—Games on Eastern Field—Fans Rejoice Over Assurance of Classy Ball.

The Manassas City Base Ball League has been organized with three strong teams. The games will be played on Eastern Field. The general admission will be ten cents.

Fast, classy base ball will be the offering this season by the Manassas City League organized this week by local talent and backed by business and professional men. A general admission fee of ten cents will be charged for the games, which will be played on Eastern field. Three strong teams composed of experienced players are in the race for the pennant.

Fans are rejoicing over the assurance of superior base ball in Manassas this season, and the Manassas City League, one of the strongest amateur organizations in Northern Virginia will fulfill expectations. The games should be liberally patronized to encourage the players, and to maintain an organization that will be a splendid advertisement for the town. There is no doubt but that the season will be brilliantly successful.

OFFICERS

For the initial season the following officials have been elected: President—Dr. W. Fewell Merchant Secretary—R. W. Adamson Treasurer—R. W. Waters Directors—Dr. C. E. C. Johnson, Dr. W. F. Fowl, R. S. Hynson, D. M. Pitts, G. Ratcliffe. Official Scorer—Karl J. Austin. Official Umpires—W. H. Lipscomb and O. D. Waters.

MINSTREL MELODIES SWEET AS MOLASSES

MERRYMAKERS HERE SATURDAY

Real Man Carry Melodie on Elm Car—Musical Gymnastics on Slide Trombone—Show in Canvas Theatre.

Old-time New Orleans minstrel shows with melodies sweet as molasses, with funny end men whose mouths are so big they have to slip them on flat-cans, and with a merry-making that will make you laugh until your sides ache, will appear in their canvas theatre in Manassas next Saturday, July 1. A. G. Allen's big minstrel show is one of the best on the road.

Traditions of minstrelsy will be observed in the street parade, when a proud player performs musical gymnastics on the slide trombone and the drum major twirls the baton into marvelous revolutions. It will all be like the old-time minstrel shows when the troopers in red hats and light drab frock coats with blue pearl buttons with mirth and merriment cast your eyes away.

VIRGINIA NEWS

T. W. Tinadale, of Orange county, went out in his field to catch a horse. Not returning, a search was made by his family, and he was found dead in the field. It is supposed he was kicked by the horse.

The water supply of the town of Woodstock is very low, owing to the increased demand, and the water is cut off all day, with the exception of an hour in the morning and an hour in the evening. A new reservoir in course of construction will be ready for use within two weeks.

The close last Saturday of the first week of the summer school at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, finds 1,000 registered students, about 200 ahead of the number matriculated last summer at this time. Registrar Maphis stated today that he expected the registration mark to be 1,500 within the next ten days.

The wife of Col. R. F. Leedy of the Second Virginia Regiment, has discovered in her henery in Luray a hen egg measuring 9 1/2 inches in circumference in length and 7 1/2 inches the shorter way. On the inside of the egg, which is only two ounces short of a half pound, was found an egg of ordinary size and having a perfectly hard shell.

Joe Wright, for whom officers say there was $200 reward, escaped from the chain gang at Suffolk and is being followed by bloodhounds in the heart of Dismal Swamp. The fleeing man was fired upon by guards, but they could not stay his flight. Officers could not follow the hounds through the swamp, and if they overtake Wright his capture cannot be effected.

The up-country folks in Virginia know but little of the value of the fishing industry of the lower part of the State, and it must be said they do not care very much about it. But all the same they ought to be informed. Here are some facts: Virginia has thirteen factories for the conversion of menhaden or alewife fish into oil and fertilizer. In these factories more than $2,000,000 is invested, and their aggregate payroll is about $1,600,000 a year. They employ fifty-six steamers and about 2,200 men.

Continuing its policy of quickening and instructing the public mind on the subject of the prevention of typhoid fever, the State Health Department has issued another bulletin on the subject. The prevention of typhoid in cities and towns is summarized as follows: First, good water and good milk. Second, the supervision of cases of typhoid so that all the infectious material may be destroyed at its point of origin—the bedside of the patient. Third, sanitary arrangements, so that human excrement may not be spread by any means whatever in the community.

While Robert Turner and Jacob Williams were in an old house built over a spring near the Shenandoah River, at Harpers Ferry, where they had taken refuge during a storm, lightning struck Turner, killing him instantly, and badly stunned Williams. When the latter recovered consciousness, he found that Turner had fallen on him, and some time elapsed before he could summon sufficient strength to remove the corpse from his own body. Turner, who was fifty years old and unmarried, was a native of Warren county. He had been engaged in business a number of years in Martinsburg. Turner and Williams had been fishing in the river, and the former was cleaning a fish with a penknife when killed by the lightning.

Whooping cough is not dangerous when the cough is kept loose and expectoration easy by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has been used in many epidemics of this disease with perfect success. For sale by all dealers.

Farmers all over Rockingham county are busy harvesting wheat and hay. Careful inquiries in all sections show that the wheat crop is fully up to the average. Hay will be short, being the worst sufferer from the fearful drought that held on for five weeks. The corn crop, too, has held up well, though the farmers generally had to plant the crop over two and three times as a result of the killing dry weather. As a contrast last year it was the big flood that ruined corn and made replanting necessary.

Returning from a trip to the trucking regions of the State, Commissioner of Agriculture Koiner reports big prices being received this year for potatoes. From $3.50 to $5 per barrel are the prices realized. Of course, there will be a reduction in the market later on, but it is anticipated that the price will remain far ahead of last year. The crop is affected to some extent by the drought, but the farmer is better off. If he loses 25 per cent. in this way, he bids fair to receive 100 per cent. more in price than in 1910, when the market remained low throughout. Then, too, the grower is better off with 1,000 barrels at $2 than 2,000 at $1, since he is saved the cost of handling and packing.

The statement given out this week at a meeting of the board of directors of the Virginia Horticultural Society at Staunton, to the effect that the apple crop of the State will not be more than 30 per cent. of a full crop this year, will not hold good in Frederick county, according to experienced orchard men. Reports received from all sections of the county indicate that the crop of 1911 will be fully as large, if not larger, than that of 1910, when 250,000 barrels were shipped out of Frederick county. There are hundreds of trees, ranging from five to seven years old, which will bear fruit in large quantities this season, and thus far none of the young fruit has been injured.

Denominating the late United States Senator John Warwick Daniel as Virginia's Cicero, Speaker Champ Clark, in the House of Representatives today, paid a notable tribute to "the Lame Lion of Lynchburg," as Virginians fondly called the late Senator. The day was set apart in the House for the delivery of eulogies upon the life and character of the late Senator Daniel. Mr. Clark said in part: "John Warwick Daniel ranks high among Virginia's worthies. So far as the public is concerned, he appeared in a fourfold character—soldier, lawyer, author, orator. The universal testimony of his companions in arms is that he was a fine soldier. His brethren of the Virginia bar bear witness that he was a successful practitioner of the noblest of professions. Lawyers and courts everywhere cite his law books as standard authorities. All the world knows that he was one of the foremost orators of his time, and it is his oratory, more than anything else, or all things else, which will perpetuate his fame to coming generations. He was richly blessed with the divine gift of moving men's minds and hearts by the power of spoken words. He was lavishly endowed by nature with the elements and qualities which constitute an orator. Some men are so ugly and ungainly that it is a positive advantage to them as public speakers by reason of the pleasurable surprise which their eloquence creates. Others are so handsome and prepossessing that they win the hearts of their audience before they have opened their lips. To the latter category John Warwick Daniel undoubtedly belonged.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months, viz. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? For sale by all dealers.

BEST COLORED MINSTRELS

In Manassas next Saturday, July 1.

A. G. Allen's Big Minstrel Show was here Wednesday and Thursday and gave four performances under their canvas theatre, which is equipped with all the scenic and stage effects and conveniences as used in regular theatres. The minstrels were indeed a success from start to finish.

The Allen's Minstrels have the reputation of being one of the finest minstrel shows on the road and produce a show that will make you laugh.

Their street parade is something fine and is headed by Prof. McCammen's superb brass band, and was acclaimed the most talented brass band that has been heard in Charleston for several years.

The performance was clean and free from any objectionable feature and was liberally applauded by the large audience. The orchestra was exceptionally good and, in fact, all the singing numbers on the programme.

We take pleasure in stating that the performance, as a whole, was by far the best ever given by colored performers in this city. Daily Messenger, Charleston, S. C.

It is worse than rheumatism to take any medicines internally for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by all dealers.

DEATH OF MISS LULA N. LARKIN

Miss Lulu Norvell Larkin died Friday morning at 10:15 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. C. M. Larkin. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Trinity Episcopal Church, the rector, the Rev. Phillip Arthur, officiating. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were Welby Rice, Dr. W. F. Merchant, Dr. Mayr Lewis, John A. Nicol, Samuel Weir and C. A. Sinclair. Interment was in the Manassas cemetery.

Miss Larkin had been ill for a month, and three days before death no hope was held out for recovery.

Miss Larkin was a daughter of the late Lucien A. and Sarah Norvell Larkin, both of whom died in Manassas about eight years ago. She was born in Alexandria, and after brief residence in Lynchburg moved with her parents to Manassas in 1889, and had since lived here.

Miss Larkin is survived by two sisters, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, of Manassas, and Mrs. J. T. Ashford, who lives near town; and four brothers, William Larkin and Rozier Larkin, of Manassas; Norvell Larkin, of Washington; and J. K. Larkin, of Clarendon.

Miss Larkin was a member of the Daughters of the Confederacy and was active in church work. She was a noble Christian woman and her death is deeply mourned.

DEATH OF JAMES P. HULFISH

James P. Hulfish, 68 years old, died at his home in Haymarket, Friday morning at 10:15 o'clock. He had never fully recovered from a stroke of paralysis with which he was afflicted about fifteen years ago. The funeral was held from the Baptist Church in Haymarket last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted by the Rev. T. D. D. Clarke. The pallbearers, all Confederate veterans, were Captain James E. Herrell, John Hall, Henry Lynn, Dr. H. M. Clarkson, J. P. Smith, and James Bell. Interment was in Antioch churchyard.

Mr. Hulfish is survived by his widow, three sons, Randolph, of Latrobe, Pa., James A. and Lawrence, of Alexandria; a daughter, Miss Ruth, and a niece, Miss Irene Demory, of Haymarket.

Mr. Hulfish was born in Alexandria and had always resided there, with the exception of a short time that he lived in Alexandria. He was one of the prominent farmers and contractors of the county. During the Civil War Mr. Hulfish served with the Fourth Virginia Cavalry.

CURRENT EVENTS

Dan Rice's circus, a one-ring show, which started from Charlottesville, Va., recently, and which had been exhibiting in the Virginia Valley during the past week, made an assignment at Charlottesville several days ago. The trustee, C. N. Campbell, executed bond in the penalty of $20,000.

Appropriations made by Congress of the Sixty-first Congress amounted to $1,027,889,800, according to a joint statement by the House and Senate Appropriations Committees. This was $1,218,747 less than the appropriations of the previous session. In addition, however, contracts were authorized to be entered into for certain public works calling for future appropriations of $43,454,145.

Praying his sermon with a recitation of "Casey at the Bat," Rev. Franklin Baker, pastor of the First Unitarian Church of Sacramento, Cal., last Sunday spoke to a large congregation in defense of Sunday baseball. He declared that the $15,000,000 spent for base ball last season was better expended than the sum in foreign missions, and that the game is "America's mental shower bath."

On being told just after she had awakened of her own accord that she had been asleep 70 days, Miss Hazel Schmidt, daughter of former Alderman Schmidt, of Vandalia, Ill., rubbed her eyes as if she had awakened from a night's slumber and remarked laughingly: "That's a long time for one to sleep, isn't it? I suppose it is true, but I can't believe it." Miss Schmidt is gradually coming out of the trance, according to attending doctors. She was awake more than two hours before any of her family knew it. She partook of food and said it tasted good.

With his right leg broken in two places, Peter Holyoke, owner of two California gold mines, crawled for 15 miles through a rugged and volcanic mountainous region to seek help. He was picked up by teamsters on a beaten desert road. He was hurried to Daguerre, and after receiving temporary medical aid was taken to Los Angeles by train. Holyoke was located a mile site for his mining property on Copper Mountain, and stumbled while crossing a ridge. He fell to the bottom of a gulch 20 feet below. When he recovered consciousness it was night and his right leg was useless. Coyotes were howling around him. He then dragged himself the long way to the road.

Harold Shiles and Robert Webster, students of Washington and Lee University, got jobs as farm hands about ten days ago at Atchison, Kan. Today they were discharged. Shiles had $6.50 due him. "Six dollars is for the fun I have had watching you and 60 cents is for the work you did," John Price, the farmer, told Shiles. "Well, sir," Shiles replied, "this is the first money I ever earned. I am prouder of it than I will be when they hand me my diploma." Both Shiles and Webster brought dress suits and a complete dress outfit in their suit cases. "We thought we might be invited to one of the country dances," Webster said. Shiles' father is a wealthy merchant in Norfolk, Va., but the world-farm hand will not telegraph for money.

A live opossum of the largest size was the rather remarkable find made in the very heart of Washington by negro workmen engaged in tearing down the old Riggs House, just across the street from the Treasury Building. In the cellar was found what appeared to be a rat of terrifying proportions. The sight was too much for the nerves of the negroes, and they made for the street. When a policeman had discovered the true character of the animal there was a wild scramble of negroes for the cellar. O. S. Staples, former proprietor of the place, when told of the find, said that nine years ago three of the animals were to have been served at a special feast. They made their escape, and at times one of the wild creatures had been seen in the cellar.
