

UP TO THE JURY

DOWN in Chesterfield Court House today twelve men are weighing the issue of life and death in the light of evidence in one of the most sensational human dramas ever presented before a Virginia tribunal.

Beattie's defense was shattered when he failed to answer the crucial question, the last before he left the stand: "How did the gun bought by Paul Beattie three days before the murder happen to be in the hands of the man who shot your wife, and how do you account for the fact that in every detail of the shooting it is always the gun bought by Paul Beattie that is in evidence?"

"I cannot account for that," replied Beattie. His counsel has also failed to account for it. As a matter of fact, counsel completely failed to establish either a logical or reasonable defense. They directed most of their efforts toward impeaching the veracity of Paul Beattie, principal witness for the prosecution.

Beulah Binford, the alleged "other woman" in the case, claimed by the prosecution to be the motive for the crime, was not asked to testify. She probably will be released from jail today.

If Beattie is pronounced guilty, as it is generally believed he will be, the extreme penalty of the law should be exacted. There are no mitigating elements in the Beattie tragedy, so far as disclosed by the evidence.

Back of the murder of Mrs. Beattie lies a sinister, perhaps a mercenary motive. No highwayman, however cruel, would shoot down a woman in the manner it was claimed Mrs. Beattie was slain. It is evident that the slayer was one who wanted to put her out of the way. Why? That is for the guilty conscience of the slayer to confess. Once guilt is fixed upon him, there is no punishment too severe for the perpetrator of that terrible deed, whoever he may be.

You're strong and well? That's pleasant. You hope to remain so? That's possible. You need protection now? That's evident. Start a Savings Account... That's wisdom.

You want the Best Bank? That's proper. The National Bank of Manassas That's it. $1.00 will start you. That's ALL. The National Bank of Manassas Resources Over $350,000.00.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The Rev. R. M. Sims, a native of Louisa county, for the past year pastor of the Harrisonburg Church of Christ, has resigned and left for Lexington, Ky., where he will take a three years' course in Biblical theology.

Alleghany county's handsome new granite courthouse which has just been completed at a cost of $50,000, will be dedicated tomorrow. The exercises will be held in the morning, preceding the unveiling of the Confederate Monument.

Cecil Hogg and C. H. Hudgins, residents in the lower end of Middlesex county, having previously had some difficulty, met Friday in a renewal of the trouble. Hogg fired a gun at Hudgins, who seized one from a bystander and fired at Hogg, killing him instantly. Hudgins claims self-defense.

The first bale of new Virginia cotton was received Saturday in Petersburg by a firm of commission merchants. The cotton was sent by R. T. Purdy, of Brunswick county, classed as middling, and was sold at 12 cents per pound. Brunswick county has been in the market with the first bale for many years.

The Board of Supervisors of Spotsylvania county will direct that a special election be held in November to decide whether or not broad tires shall be used on vehicles which travel the new permanently improved roads. An election on this question was held a year ago and the broad-tire measure defeated by only one vote.

Up to this time about $2,000 of the requisite $7,000 has been subscribed to the cause of the Catawba Relief Association, organized for the purpose of caring for patients discharged from the Catawba Sanatorium by operation of the new six months' rule. Although discouraged with the rather slow response from the public, President Charles E. Brauer hopes that the remainder will be secured.

Arrangements are being made for the meeting of the Virginia Educational Conference, the sixth annual session of which will be held in Norfolk on November 21-24. The body is made up of the Conference of Division Superintendents, the State Teachers' Association, the Co-Operative Education Association and the School Trustees' Association. The gathering will be one of the most noteworthy since the wave of educational enthusiasm struck Virginia.

Levia Hooff, formerly secretary and manager of the defunct Mercantile Railway, Building and Loan association, was arrested in Alexandria at noon Monday as he was about to board a train for Washington on a warrant sworn out by Commonwealth's Attorney S. G. Brent. The warrant charges Hooff with obtaining $1,500 from the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation and with obtaining a certificate of stock valued at $3,300 from the defunct building association. Bond was fixed at $10,000.

With the primaries out of the way, Virginia politicians are ready for the fall campaign. There will be several contests for state legislative offices between the republicans and the democrats, and interest in political matters is a little lessened now that the senatorial nominations are settled. The democratic nominations for the State Senate and the House of Delegates have been made in most of the districts. County conventions will, however, name a few candidates for state offices within the next few days.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's ointment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days. For sale by all dealers.

Lying on a couch in the sitting room of his home at "Burgundy," Fairfax county, Thomas Walsh, a well-known resident of Fairfax county, was found dead Wednesday morning. Apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause of his death.

Governor Mann will head a happy party of youngsters in his march from the Capitol to the Fair Grounds on Tuesday, October 10, the occasion of the parade of the Corn Club Boys of the State, who will be in Richmond in attendance upon the fair.

The handsome banking house of the defunct Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation in Alexandria was sold at public auction at noon Saturday, in compliance with an order of the corporation for the special commissioners of sale, and was knocked down to the Alexandria Gazette Corporation for the sum of $8,000. The building was bid in by J. M. Hill.

Efforts being made by the committee in charge at Richmond to so modify the plans for the Confederate Memorial Institute as not to detract from its beauty and majesty, nor from its permanency, seems near success. New plans are being prepared by the architect, the details being carefully considered at every turn. When they are complete, new bids will be called for.

Robert Shipe, a farmer, is dead at his home, eight miles east of Woodstock from a bullet wound in his forehead, received in some mysterious way. Shipe and his son were hunting squirrels and became separated. The son heard a shot, and went in that direction and found his father unconscious. How the shot was received cannot be known, and an investigation is being made.

James Cassel was the name of the man who jumped from the ferry steamer Alexandria near her slip in Washington Friday afternoon and was drowned. Several men at the harbor precinct police station saw Cassel jump into the Potomac and disappear in the eddy produced by the side wheel. The steamer was signaled to stop, and several men hurried to it in a rowboat. A search for the body was instituted immediately, but it was not recovered until several hours later.

The Rev. D. P. Tate, for many years a minister in the Western North Carolina Methodist Conference, but recently in the real estate business in Danville, was on Saturday indicted by the grand jury on six charges of fraud. Tate vanished from the city several months ago, leaving alleged debts amounting to $10,000, and nothing was heard from him until he was arrested in Knoxville, Tenn., about six weeks afterward and brought back to this city. He had shaved his long beard, off. Tate was a great church worker in Danville, and obtained considerable of the money which he is said to have embezzled from his religious associates.

As soon as all the official returns are received, Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, expects to call a meeting of the committee to canvass the returns. He thinks all the returns will be in hand by the end of the week, and in such an event it is likely that the meeting of the committee will be held during the last week in September. From present indications it looks as if the total vote cast in the senatorial campaign will be in the neighborhood of 90,000. At the same meeting, when the returns are canvassed, the committee hopes to receive a report from the subcommittee investigating Norfolk county conditions.

"I have a word of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md. For sale by all dealers.

CHILD'S DRESS.

This simple little frock is one of the popular round yoke models, very easy to make. The material is gathered across the lower edge of the yoke in front but is left plain in the back. It is gathered in both at the waist line. The long French style is used for the body of the dress and a tiny skirt is frilled around the lower edge beneath a belt. A handsome shaped bertha is used to trim the outline of the round yoke and this has its outer edge pointed in handkerchief effect. The dress may be worn either high or low in the neck. Batiste, lawn, organdie, swiss, challis, cashmere and even a fine serge may be used in making this little dress, with embroidery or lace as trimming.

The pattern (4890) is cut in sizes 3 to 8 years. Medium size requires 3/4 yards of 36 inch material.

To procure this pattern send 10 cents to the Department of this paper. Write name and address plainly, and be sure to give size and number of pattern.

Account the Appellate Exposition that will be held at Knoxville, Tenn., from September 11 to October 1, 1911, the Southern Railway has authorized greatly reduced round trip tickets from all principal points in Virginia including Washington, D. C. Dates of sale Sept. 9 to Oct. 1, 1911 inclusive, final limit to reach original starting point returning not later than midnight of tenth day from, but not including date of sale, except that no tickets will be limited to reach original starting point later than midnight of October 7, 1911.

Tickets sold on dates above named good in Pullman sleeping cars. The Exposition includes every line of thought and has divided its buildings so as to receive every line of exhibits that the manufacturing, mechanical, agricultural, mineral or mercantile interests could demand. The topography of the Exposition park, its hills and valleys, make an ideal spot for the holding of this second great industrial event.

It Itched Off. A young man called on a doctor, complaining of pains in his stomach. The doctor diagnosed the case as dyspepsia, and advised the patient to go home and try a pickle. If he could keep that on his stomach he was to report to the doctor in the morning. The next day the patient returned, and when the doctor asked him if he could keep the pickle on his stomach, he replied: "I could as long as I stayed awake, but when I fell asleep it rolled off."

A lax liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weakens the whole system. Doan's Regulets (25 cents per box) correct the liver, tone the stomach, cure constipation.

HAS MADE MILFORD MILLS FAMOUS

Why not keep your money in the County? Why do you buy flour from other mills that never deal a penny's worth with you? Why not buy from your home mill and your own customer, who spends all he has to spend in the county? Our flour has made good, and if you will only try it, you will find out for yourself. If our flour was not up to date, why would we be grinding and selling it all the time and to the same trade. I have regular customers for White Loaf who had been using all kinds of spring wheat and fancy patent flour. We must spend our money with those who spend their's with us.

TO THE PUBLIC

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA BUREAU OF INSURANCE. Richmond, Aug. 30, 1911.

Mr. Karl J. Austin, Manassas, Va. Replying to your inquiry of the 27th instant as to whether W. N. Lipscomb, of Manassas, Va., was licensed as an agent of the Virginia Fire & Marine Insurance Company for the year beginning July 15, 1911.

The law provides that every person soliciting or procuring applications for insurance, must first secure a Certificate of Registration for each company proposed to be represented by him.

The above letter in connection with letter from the Virginia Fire & Marine Ins. Co., published two weeks ago, in which they state that they are not represented in this territory, should be sufficient proof that Mr. Lipscomb does not represent them, even if he states that he does.

Mr. Lipscomb seems to think that I ought to have consulted with him before I stated that he did not represent the Fire & Marine. I do not see why. I positively knew that he did not represent them and anything that he might have told me would not have changed it.

Be Happy!

Happy the girl, or woman, who has never suffered from any of the diseases of womanhood! Or, if she has been a sufferer, happy is she if she has learned of the wonderful benefits of Cardui, the woman's tonic!

TAKE THE CARDUI Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Mary Neely, of Denver, Tenn., says, "I think there is no tonic on earth as good as Cardui. I used it with the very best results. I had backache and nearly everything a woman could suffer with, until I took Cardui. Now, I feel better than I have for two years. I shall always recommend Cardui to other suffering women. I can't praise it too highly. As a medicine for weak, tired, nervous women, Cardui is safe and reliable. Try it today."
