

ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETING

Before an enthusiastic gathering of fully three hundred people the proposition of water, lights and sewerage for the town of Manassas was thoroughly discussed and explained at the mass meeting held in Conner's Hall last Monday night.

Mr. Richard Messer, sanitary engineer of the state board of health, was the first speaker of the evening, and his talk was most interesting and educational.

The next speaker was Mr. Harry Stevens, the engineer of Washington, who drew the plans and specifications for our local improvements, and who has done a great deal of satisfactory and reliable work of this kind throughout the state.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was the general opinion that the bond issue had been most favorably impressed on the minds of the voters present.

CHILDREN'S DAY AT SUDLEY A CORRECTION

After a brief session of Sunday School, at which there were 125 present, Children's Day Services were celebrated at Sudley M. E. Church on Sunday, July 13.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was the general opinion that the bond issue had been most favorably impressed on the minds of the voters present.

Among the many visitors from a distance were the Messrs. Croson, of Washington, who are well known in the Sudley neighborhood for their vocal talent.

Children's Day was pronounced by all a most decided success and one of the best that was ever held at Sudley.

HON. L. H. MACHEN IN THE FIELD

ASPIRANT FOR LIUT.-GOVERNOR Strongly Endorsed by an Editorial in the Times-Dispatch as to His Capability and Attainments.

HON. LEWIS H. MACHEN The Richmond Times-Dispatch in an editorial speaking of the candidacy of Hon. Lewis H. Machen for Lieutenant Governor of Virginia says:

"That for three important state offices there is to be spirited competition of intense popular interest is assured by the entry of Lewis H. Machen, of Alexandria, into the Democratic primary for lieutenant governor of Virginia, against Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Ellyson."

"Lewis H. Machen is excellently qualified for the place to which he aspires; if elected he would serve the people of Virginia faithfully, fearlessly and intelligently. He is a man of strong convictions, of fine purpose and of exalted ideals of public service. These things he has already demonstrated, not only in his brief career as a public servant, but also in a longer period of private citizenship. He has never before sought State office. A presidential elector in 1900, he was elected in 1908 to represent the Fourteenth Senatorial District in the Senate of Virginia and served one term. There he vigorously sought the enactment of progressive laws and brought to debate and deliberation—a matter widely informed upon the vital public questions of the Commonwealth.

"Mr. Machen was then as he is now, an unyielding advocate of a strong legalised primary law as the only effective method of guaranteeing a true expression of the people's will. He was then, as he is now, a champion of enlightened and efficient tax legislation to establish genuine tax reform. He was then as he is now, a foremost supporter of local reform so that litigation may be fairer and cheaper and may promote the ends of justice; in furtherance of that work he has served most capably as chairman of the committee on legislation and law reform of the Virginia Bar Association. He was then as he is now, for efficient popular education and for the disbursement of State schools from politics. His public record has been one of constant advocacy of wise and advanced measures."

"A sane progressive for many years in his attitude toward important public issues, Mr. Machen has long presented those principles of Democracy to which a majority of the people have at last committed themselves. He is one who not merely since the Baltimore convention, but for many a long month before it, supported Woodrow Wilson. Mr. Machen has served the Democratic party well and loyally, and it is peculiarly fitting that he should aspire to an office which, while offering little opportunity for conspicuous work, has so generally been considered a reward for party service.

"No criticism of any one else by indirectness is here intended. The Times-Dispatch gladly welcomes Mr. Machen into the field, because his long study of and interest in the government of Virginia, his capacity for public affairs and his excellent party and public service distinguished him as a type of citizen sorely needed in Virginia politics."

FIRST DAY OF THE COUNTY HORSE SHOW

CROWDS ATTEND THE OPENING A Classy Exhibition with the Aristocracy of the Horse Kingdom in Evidence—Large Crowds Present.

Once more the Prince William Horse Show Association has won fame in the field of these open-air entertainments, for yesterday the Manassas Horse Show was a complete success. Aristocracy of the horse kingdom, proud, blue-blooded animals, the nobility of their kind, held dominion over one of the most notable exhibitions which have ever been given under the supervision of the Prince William Horse Show Association.

set a record which few of the towns on the Northern Virginia circuit will or have equaled, and it is indeed doubtful if there has been a classier performance within the boundaries of the state this year. Many expert horsemen declared in enthusiastic terms that it surpasses any recent exhibition they have seen.

Early yesterday morning the big crowds were coming into town and thronged the streets before they departed for the show grounds. All trains were filled with those anxious to reach the scene of the performances on time. When the gates swung back shortly before 9 o'clock a large crowd had assembled at the entrance and these early arrivals were augmented by hundreds of others who came pouring into the grounds from town all during the day, and it is thought that the crowd equaled any that has witnessed the first day's performance in previous years.

In the morning great interest centered in the classes, also in the first part of the afternoon. Every class was filled with horses of the superior type, and excitement and keen rivalry ran high during the day. In the afternoon the races came in for their share of attention. They furnished the requisite tinge of excitement for those who love the contest of speed and agility. It is the general impression that to-day's exhibition will completely outclass all other exhibitions in the history of the show and a record-breaking crowd is expected provided the weather continues good. The horse show grounds have never been in a more complete shape than they were yesterday morning before the opening class, and every possible convenience is afforded.

The public is invited to attend.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. J. A. HARRELL

AT THE AGE OF SEVENTY-THREE Was the Father of Mr. A. H. Harrell, a Leading Grocer of Manassas, and a Prominent Carpenter.

John Alpheus Harrell, a well known citizen of Manassas and Prince William county, died of heart trouble at the home of his son, A. H. Harrell, last Tuesday night at 12:30 a. m.

resident of Manassas and vicinity and was engaged in the carpenter business until a few years ago. He had many friends in Manassas and was always spoken of with the highest regard. He was a Christian of profound faith and a man of high ideals, and his death removes another of our most respected citizens. Mr. Harrell was a Confederate veteran and during the first part of the civil war enlisted with the Sixth Virginia cavalry and during the four years was engaged in many prominent battles and made an excellent soldier. He is survived by four children, A. H. Harrell, who is engaged in the grocery business here; George Harrell, and Mrs. Lee Johnson and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, of Manassas, and a brother, Capt. J. E. Harrell, clerk of Prince William county.

The burial services will be held this afternoon and interment will be in the Manassas cemetery.

MRS. ADA REID WEDS MR. SILAS LILLARD

CHRIST CHURCH, ALEXANDRIA, VA. The Bride a Native of Manassas—The Groom a Well-Known Insurance Man of Alexandria.

A wedding of much interest to Manassas people took place in Christ Church, in Alexandria, last Thursday evening at seven o'clock, when Mrs. Ada Reid, nee Merchant, became the bride of Mr. Silas Lillard, of Alexandria. The news came as a surprise to Mrs. Reid's friends here who had not expected the marriage so soon.

The bride is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Merchant, of Manassas, and has spent most of her life here. She has a host of friends here and throughout the county as well as in Washington and Alexandria. For the past year she has been employed in a large department store in Alexandria, and since taking up her residence there met Mr. Lillard.

This Friday evening, July 26, on the lawn in front of the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory, for the benefit of the Lutheran Church. The public is invited to attend.

BEST MIXTURE FOR GROWING ALFALFA

SOME OTHER POINTS SUGGESTED Treatment of Suckling Cows and Feeding Putting Detailed with Some Explanations.

By W. M. BROWN. Field Agent, Southern Railway Company. Alfalfa will give several cuttings a year. It is not for every one to grow alfalfa, as many do not have suitable conditions for this crop. There are others that we may get almost as much hay from as from alfalfa. Splendid results have been shown this year from a mixture of oats, rye, vetch and crimson clover sowed in August or September. This will yield from two to four tons of good hay per acre, and will come off the land in May in plenty of time for a crop of cow peas or soy beans or even corn.

For this mixture I would recommend one bushel of oats, one-half bushel rye, one peck of vetch and eight pounds of crimson clover. This mixture should be sowed by the middle of September for the best results, and fertilized with 200 to 400 pounds of 12 per cent fertilizer. The hay will not sell on the market, but is much the better for many people because they will feed it on the farm. Farmers, try an acre of this mixture and you will be surprised how much feed you can produce from an acre of land.

SUCKLING CORN "A question that many are asking just now is, 'Shall I pull the suckers from my corn or let them grow?' It has usually been considered that the suckers will take some fertility from the soil by growing and will reduce the crop of corn. Men at some of the Experiment Stations have given this question some thought of recent years and under tests for a number of years, it has proven that it is better for the corn crop to leave the suckers on. The injuries caused by removing them hurts the corn more than leaving them on. The suckers come on the corn on fertile land, and the number of suckers will not cut the yield to any extent.

"FODDER PULLING" The time will soon be here when farmers will begin to save the feed for a few scrub cows by pulling the blades from his corn while they are still green. Of course no up-to-date farmer who owns good stock and knows something about farming will butcher his corn crop in any such way as to strip all the blades off and tie them in bundles to be fed during the winter season. I remember that when I was a small boy, I surely did hate that system of pulling fodder and I well knew the reason for I had to stay up many nights until midnight in order to get the fodder out to the barn without losing so much of the blades. I am glad to say that he has stopped that foolish system, and grows clovers and pea vine hay and hayracks his corn with the corn binder and shredder. I hope to see the time soon when the silo will be a fixture of the old farm. Farmers do not be guilty of this practice for it damages your corn to a much greater extent than you ever dream of. Those green blades are put there by nature to act as laborers for the plant to make the ears. Just as soon as the blades are cut off the supply or source of the further development of the ear is destroyed. Let the crop of corn have a full chance.

THE DEMOCRAT prints the news while it is news.

PARCELS POST CAN CUT RATES

The rate of postage on parcels weighing in excess of four ounces in the proposed first zone will be reduced from 5 cents for the first pound and 1 cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof...

The maximum weight of parcels post packages will be increased from 11 pounds to 20 pounds, the increase of weight to apply only to the first and second zones.

Statistics collected by the department show that quite one-third of the total number of parcels mailed are handled within the proposed first and second zones, and the postmaster-general believes the increase in the weight limit and the reduction of the rates of postage in the first and second zones, as proposed, will benefit greatly more than one-third of the public...

Along this stretch are 19 toll gates, each demanding a tax of 25 cents from each passing automobile. This, tourists say, is a fair example of toll conditions as they exist in the state.

The recent action of Judge J. B. Thornton of the 16th judicial district of Virginia, in upholding the ordinance recently passed by the board of supervisors of Alexandria county, imposing a special county tax on district motorists is also being mumbled at by Washingtonians...

The little stretch of state road which it is necessary to pass over before reaching the government road on the way to Arlington and Fort Myer may come under this law, but if it does a trial case will be made. All Washington automobilists wish to be allowed to get to the government road, and Virginia can do as she likes about the rest of the state and Alexandria county.

The new regulations of Alexandria county impose the following taxes in addition to the regular state tax and are considered absurd by men who have fought out similar cases: Automobiles rated at 20-horsepower and less, $5; rated at 30-horsepower, $10; 40-horsepower, $15; 50-horsepower, $20; trucks carrying a load exceeding 3 1/2 tons, $10.

These taxes are very high when it is considered that they are in addition to the regular state tax, and as the corporation counsel will make no further effort to secure reciprocity with Virginia, it is generally understood that the Washingtonians who cross the river will be few and far between.

After a hearty meal take Doan's Backache and Stomach Remedy, and you will find it a most effective July 1, reduced to 5 cents the fee on parcels insured to actual value up to $25, and a 10-cent fee is exacted only on parcels insured to actual value of more than $25 and not exceeding $50. Under this arrangement the business of insuring packages has more than doubled, particularly in the sending of valuable merchandise.

ASSAIL VIRGINIA ROADS

Veheement condemnation of Virginia roads by District of Columbia automobile owners has followed the refusal of Gov. Mann to permit a reciprocal automobile tax arrangement with the district.

All railroads have made special rates for this occasion and it is hoped that farmers generally will attend.

In addition to an excellent program covering a variety of topics, many things of importance to the farmers along legislative lines will come up.

Among the prominent speakers are Senator Hoke Smith; Dr. Thorne, of the Ohio Experiment Station; Wing, of Alfalfa fame; Hon. E. Nordman, of Wisconsin; Bradford Knapp; and T. O. Sandy, in charge of demonstration work; C. V. Piper and C. B. Smith, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and others.

The Woman's Auxiliary to the Institute will hold its meetings separate from the men and they have a splendid program. The farmer's wife and daughter should also come along.

A certain Manassas man has figured out that he is his own grandfather, and perhaps he's right. Here's the way he figures it: "I met a widow with a grown daughter and I married the widow. Then my father met my step-daughter and married her. That made my wife the mother-in-law of her father-in-law, and made my step-daughter my step-mother. My father became my step-son. Then my step-mother, the daughter of my wife, had a son. That boy was, of course, my brother, because he was my father's son. But he was also the son of my wife's daughter and therefore my grandson. That made me grandfather of my wife's grandson. Then my wife had a son. My mother-in-law, the step-sister, is also his grandmother, because he is her step-son's child. My father is the brother-in-law of my child, because the step-sister is his wife. I am a brother of my own son, who is also the child of my step-grandmother. I am my mother's brother-in-law. My wife is her child's aunt. My son is my father's nephew and I am my own grandfather."

Normal High School of Manassas offers good preparation for vocational teaching. A well organized and well equipped course in domestic science is given which if taken in conjunction with the year's course in chemistry, prepares the future teacher to give a good course in this important and much called for subject. In addition to the domestic science training, good preparation for agricultural and nature study teaching may also be had in the extensive agricultural and botanical courses offered in the school. Again in the large amount of agricultural extension work now carried on by the High School in the shape of farmer's institutes, corn and canning clubs with their yearly exhibits, demonstration work of various sorts, etc., the student has before him a fine illustration of the possibilities before the country school of entering into and moulding the life of its community. Another advantage offered the normal student in the Manassas High School is the good opportunity for practice teaching and for observation work, not only in the rural schools and in the large graded schools of Manassas, but also in the schools of Washington. Through the courtesy of the City Superintendent the class will spend from two to three weeks each year in observation work in the finely organized and equipped schools of Washington where every facility is offered for seeing graded school work under the best possible condition. The Normal Department, however, need not be used only by students going through the High School, but just as much at the service of any of the country or district teachers who wish more preparation or reinforcement in their work. By the provision of the State Board of Education teachers who have not had a high school course, but who hold a first grade certificate may enter the normal course, and upon the completion of the normal training subjects (which can be taken in a year) may receive a certificate renewable upon the same terms as the regular Normal Training Certificate. Holders of second grade certificates may also enter and upon completion of the normal studies together with satisfactory review of the subjects in which the grading on their certificate falls below 75 per cent may receive a certificate renewable upon the same terms as the Normal Training Certificate. In view of the increasing State requirements in the way of preparation and training, the teachers are urged to avail themselves as far as possible of the Normal Course now to be given in the High School for many cases, even if they hold first or second grade certificates, a year of normal work with its accompanying reviews would not only enable them to meet increasing requirements, but would be of great value in reinforcing and strengthening their general school work. NOTICE OF NOMINATION Under and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned by a resolution adopted July 7th, 1913, by The Democratic County Committee of Prince William County, and only one person to wit, Howie Metzke, having filed his notice of candidacy for the nomination as delegate from Prince William County, Virginia, to the next General Assembly, I hereby declare the said C. MOTHER
The one who gave us life, who nurtured us in tiny infancy, whose tender and watchful care cradled and guarded our tottering steps; at whose knee we were taught to hush the name of Jesus, who led us along the path of duty and truth; whose unflinching love filled our hearts with gladness; whose self-sacrificing devotion instilled in us the greatest of all virtues—charity, whose confidence in us strengthened and made us dare to fight. Mother—the indelible impress of whose teaching clings to us through life. We may wander far, travel the dark and stony paths of life, bathe in the polluted waters of crime, and drain the dregs of sorrow from the cup of life, as the fire of hope and faintly flickers in the breast, yet in our deepest despair, mother, the blessed thought of mother, her gentle loving care, her sweet words of counsel, as with bleeding heart she pleads with us to return as she points to the path of rectitude sanctified by her love and prayers. Mother's training leaves impressions upon the child's heart so indelibly stamped, that we may never forget it, that we may fail to appreciate the value of Mother's sacred devotion, but when clouds of misfortune overtake us, when patient anguish wring the brow, we long for mother's sympathy and vividly recall her sweet words of counsel and gentle admonition. Mother's growing old, but the blessed influence she imparted to us in infancy and youth will ever remain a beacon light to our weary wayward feet. Mother is growing old, the bloom of early womanhood has faded from her cheeks. The frost of many winters among her golden locks, but to us, mother will remain our ideal of purity and perfection. Much we cherish the unchangeable embodiment of all that is noble and lovable.

AUDITOR C. LEF MOORE
Tentative plans for tax reform in Virginia are suggested by State Auditor C. Lee Moore. Mr. Moore proposed a definite plan for the segregation of taxes, which will at least serve as a very valuable basis for the consideration of members of the next General Assembly. The need for tax reform in Virginia has been recognized for years, but no definite plan has met with approval heretofore, and in the campaign now pending for election members of the General Assembly it is becoming evident that the matter of taxation will be the great issue before the 1914 session of the legislature.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS
The regular summer examination for public school teachers for the year 1913 will be held in the Bennett Building, Manassas, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 30, 31 and August 1, beginning promptly at 9 a. m. each day. The subjects for the first day are: Geography, spelling, grammar and composition, theory and practice of teaching, civil government and reading. Subjects for the second day are: Drawing, physiology and hygiene, arithmetic, history of Virginia and United States history. Subjects for the third day are: Elementary algebra, science and English history—or general history. The examination in theory and practice of teaching will be based upon Chancellors' Class Teaching and management; in physiology and hygiene upon Ritchie's Human Physiology; in reading and drawing the examinations will be on both methods and subject matter. In order that proper arrangements may be made for the convenience of the teachers, it is highly important that each applicant notify the division superintendent at least ten days in advance of the examination.

The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Private Williams Pharmacy means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill of medicine. Each 50 cent bottle (Private Williams Pharmacy sells for 25c) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst cases of dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble. This remedy is not an ordinary medicine. It is the favorite formula of a well known physician and has the endorsement of hundreds of physicians of eminence in their profession, who prescribe it in all cases of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble arising from experience that it will make a complete and lasting cure.

Retention—automobile taxes
no longer will be levied against motorists of Maryland and Virginia because their States require District residents to pay a high license for taking machines into those States. The District commissioners decided to end their war with motorists of other States, and will formally rescind the order which put these special taxes in effect Wednesday. The rescinding of the order really was brought about by citizens of the District who maintain homes in Virginia and Maryland and who objected to paying a high tax for the privilege of running their cars into the District.

Retrieval of the tax equator plan, which was argued before the last General Assembly, and which contemplated a central board in Richmond to review and revise the work of local commissioners of the revenue. Mr. Moore proposes to set apart certain subjects of taxation for the state exclusively, leaving certain other subjects for the counties, towns and cities. By this plan if a county permits its officials to make a ridiculously low and uneven assessment, that county will be the only loser, and the other counties of the state will not be called upon to make up the deficit.

Last year 29 of the 100 counties in the state paid into the treasury over and above what they drew out $202,546.30, while 71 counties drew out $562,263.37 more than they paid in; 19 cities paid the state $1,804,464.04 more than they drew out for criminal and other local expenses.

Mr. Moore now proposes that counties, cities and towns will not be permitted to tax railroad, canal, water, heat, light, power, express, telegraph, telephone, steamboat, or sleeping car corporations, nor the stock of banks, all these subjects of taxation be
