IMMIGRATION BILL PROGRESSING

The immigration bill is making rapid progress in Congress and the few test votes taken show that Congress is in favor of the bill by four to one.

MEXICAN CRISES APPROACHING

The most sensational thing that has happened in Washington for many weeks was the lifting by President Wilson of the embargo on arms and ammunition exported into Mexico.

COMPETITION IS LIVELY

On February 1 the lowered express rates went into effect, and the express companies declare they are going out after business on the new rates.

PARAGRAPHS

A man should not be judged by his income tax alone. Loquacious persons are not necessarily full of information.

However, the self-made man never seems to suffer from remorse. Lots of good intentions have been postponed on account of the weather.

One-half of the Washington officeholders wonder how the other half got in. It is generally safer to count on your fingers than to count on your friends.

Most strongest arguments are made while he keeps the buttered side of his bread in view. Women may practice law in every state in the Union except Virginia, Arkansas and Georgia.

Probably there are very few married men who ever kiss the hired girl. Tradition is unreliable. Perhaps it is no more than natural that the average man should feel himself a little above the average.

There may be men who love the devil for the enemies he has made, but they are reluctant to admit it. Goethals for Governor of the Canal Zone and Gorgas for Surgeon-General will be good tickets for Panama.

If Congress will be tight and attend strictly to business it can have a holiday to enjoy the Fourth of July. Mr. Envoy Lind has managed to preserve a remarkable amount of Mexican silence without being called a sphinx.

President Wilson seems determined to leave the progressive party with nothing much to do but endorse his wise acts. "Good music," says a philosopher, "makes a man homesick for something he never had and cannot attain." Maybe it's heaven.

South Americans have found out one thing we never suspected about "T. R." They find he is diplomatic. It may become necessary to unscramble all those cities that are seeking the new Government regional reserve banks.

Ford employees are rushing into matrimony. Probably on the theory that two can live on one salary, providing it is large enough. The woman who wants "divorce made easier," and "marriage more difficult" must not have noted the surplus of old maids and grass widows.

Tiger skins are the latest fad in Paris. New York has one it would be willing to dispose of cheaply, but unfortunately it is still on the Tammany Tiger. "Each individual has a temperamental color," says a psychologist, "and a red husband should pick a blue wife." When that system is followed there is going to be a lot of trouble for people who are blind.

Woman suffragists in New York state are advised to wear mourning for six months if they fail to get the vote. The promised saving in dressmaker's bills has given New York husbands a new incentive for stubbornness.

Printers as a rule are a pretty decent sort of a bunch and here is something that adds glory to the craft. When a prison monthly edited and written by the convicts in the Illinois state penitentiary was recently established it was found that not one printer was among the 1,500 convicts and outside help had to be hired.

ENTERTAINMENT AT HIGH SCHOOL MOST ENJOYABLE OF SEASON

One of the most enjoyable entertainments given at the High School this season, was listened to by an appreciative audience last Friday night. The students of Miss Kirk's Sophomore English Class participated in it and under the title of "Greece and Rome" a series of fine numbers followed each other in smooth succession, songs and readings alternating in pleasant variety.

THE funeral services were held last Sunday afternoon and the remains were buried in the Episcopal Church graveyard, Rev. Earle, rector of that church, officiating. Mrs. White is survived by her husband, John G. White, and seven children, two daughters, Fannie and Nora; five sons, Wintham, Carter, Marion, John and E. N. White. Mrs. White has for many years been a resident of this county and many friends in the vicinity of Haymarket mourn her death. She was well-known to a number of people in Manassas.

MRS. JOHN G. WHITE PERISHES BY FIRE GREAT SHOCK TO MANY FRIENDS

A fatal accident which resulted in death happened to Mrs. John G. White at her home in Haymarket last Thursday morning. While sitting near a fire her clothing caught and before the flames could be extinguished by her daughter, she had been terribly burned. Medical aid and all possible relief was given the injured woman, but to no avail and death followed on the next morning, which was a great shock to her many friends in Haymarket and vicinity.

State Senate at First Deadlocked, but Lieut. Gov. Elyson Came to the Rescue and Votes With the "Drys." Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Elyson, president of the Senate on Friday last, cast his vote for the conference report on the enabling act, and forced the deadlocked Senate to yield a narrow victory for State-wide prohibition. The roll call showed twenty Senators in favor of adopting the conference report and an equal number enrolled against it. Under the rules of the body it was left to the chair to break the tie, and he voted in favor of adoption. The recorded vote on the report of the conference committee follows: For adoption—Senators Blanka, Bowers, Buchanan, Crockett, Echols, Edmondson, Featherston, Fletcher, Gayle, Gravatt, Mapp, Moncure, Paxton, Rinehart, Royall, Saunders-Smith, Tavenner and Wenderburg—19. Against adoption—Senators Brock, Cannon, Carton, Drewry, Early, Garrett, Harmon, Hobbs, Hols, Lesner, Massie, Montague, Farr, Paul, Risson, Sowder, Thornton, Watkins and Wenderburg—19. Senator Hart announced that he was joined with Senator Walker. If Senator Walker had been present he would have voted "aye" and Senator Hart would have voted "no."

LEGISLATIVE FIGHT OVER THE vote in the Senate was taken at 2:10 o'clock one hour before the House of Delegates had finally disposed of the question by a vote of 64 to 31. The action of the two branches in uniting upon the same schedule of amendments formally ended the prohibition fight as far as the General Assembly of Virginia is concerned, and from now on the Williams enabling act is out of its hands. Both houses had already passed the bill, the question of the amendments alone being the point at issue. The conference committee appointed jointly by both branches were charged with the duty of reporting amendments which would cure this disagreement. The adoption of the report by a majority vote in the House and Senate wiped out the remaining differences, and the amended enabling act stood approved without further action. In both houses members voting with the prevailing side moved to reconsider the vote by which the conference report was adopted, and the motion failed to carry in either branch. The refusal to reconsider was the parliamentary way of sealing the General Assembly's action. It cut the last guy-ropes that bound the measure to the Legislature, and set it adrift to shift for itself in the office of the Governor, before the people and possibly before the courts.

END CAME WITHOUT WARNING. The end came without warning. It had been currently reported that the conferees would Friday morning make an effort to bring the bill out of committee, but not even the members of the Senate themselves believed that everything would be settled before adjournment for the day. There were few people in the gallery to witness the final. DELEGATE WHITE ATTACKS BILL. Charging that the enabling act as finally passed by both branches of the General Assembly Friday

SCARF WRAP HAS COME BACK

Elaborate and as highly colored as Watercolor. Washable. Have Given Warm Welcome. Between the mantle and no wrap at all there is often an incongruity which does not all. This has brought back the pretty fashion of the scarf wrap, to be more correct, it should be called a scarf shawl. It is so wrapped around the neck and fastened at the waist. These scarfs are generally two and a half yards long and a yard or more wide. Sometimes they are the width of the material used, which may be even as much as 51 inches.

POCKET TO HOLD SLIPPERS

A decorative and dainty slipper pocket is shown in the accompanying sketch. It is made in pale pink linen and may be cut out in two pieces, one piece forming the back, and the other the pocket; the latter piece of material is seamed down the center so that it forms two separate divisions into which the slippers may be placed. The material is turned over at the top and hemmed down and either this piece of wood or a piece of cane run through. This is done in order that the pocket will retain its shape when hanging upon the wall. It is edged throughout with a pink and white cord, and again at the base where the ends of the cords hang downwards and are knotted together and frayed out into tassels. The pockets are also edged with some of the same pink and white cord which is arranged in three little loops in the center. On the front of each of these pockets a simple floral design is embroidered consisting of a white daisy with yellow center and leaves in various shades of green. At the top a loop of cord is provided for suspending the pocket from a nail or other support. Other colors in which this useful article might be carried out are

DESIGNS FOR SACHET CAPS

Selection of Material an Important Thing for This Latest Very Popular Fancy. Should be of handkerchief linen or muslin, the heavier the better, for the odor of the sachet must be safely confined within the cap's dainty limits. It would escape through a thin material. Cut from the goods a round piece about 12 inches across and mark out the edges with a thimble and pencil for scallops. Buttonhole the scallops and edge with a narrow valence ribbon to relieve the corners and give appearance of the cap. Sew a narrow casing about an inch and a quarter above the scallops for the elastic. In the center work a solid design in white punch work, for eyes and a wide border, and use the material used in the cap. Fasten with handskerchief linen with cotton applique design. Use a hasting stitch, with very tiny stitches on the edge with large ones inside, so that the fastenings will not be conspicuously prominent on the outside. Place a twisted ribbon about the cap over the elastic casing and a small ribbon bow in the center. Sew the sachet cap in the cap. The sachet cap is then ready for "business." Worn for an hour or so the cap will impart a delightful, if somewhat fragrant, perfume to the hair and will continue clinging to the hair for several days.

WILL ERADICATE CATTLE TICK

Southern Cattlemen Organize to Conduct Active Campaign for More and Better Live Stock in the South.

WILL IMPROVE THE BREEDS

Cattle Tick the Greatest Hindrance to Stock Growing in South—Post Costs Over $100,000,000 Annually—Prominent Man at Convent—Dick Must Go.

The Southern Cattlemen's association was organized at Montgomery, Ala., July 9, 1913. A hundred or more cattle growers and shippers, national and state live stock officials and representatives of the stock yards and railroad interests were present and took an active interest in the organization of the association by the stockmen.

The association has been organized for the following purposes:

1. The eradication of the cattle tick.
2. The development of a profitable cattle industry.
3. The promotion of effective and uniform national and state live stock sanitary legislation.

GROW MORE CATTLE

Prominent Cattle Grower Urges Southern Farmers to Raise Cattle—Conserves Soil Fertility, Increases Grass and Feeding Cattle.

By A. L. FRENCH, Prominent Cattle Grower

As our country grows older other problems besides securing the present dollar thrust themselves upon the man who handles the soil, and to the thinking farmer and stockman the solution stands in a class by itself as our most pressing problem and practical means looking to this end demands from us to raise ever increasing proportion of our thought.

The crop that is indigenous to a country is not always the crop that continues to be held in the highest esteem by the people of that country. For instance, in the finest blue grass section of Indiana a leading live stock raiser and feeder who is discarding blue grass very largely for timothy, clover and sprigging clover as pasture crops, because of the greater amount of feed the new pasture crops are producing. So while the great has not been much in evidence upon the farms over much of the south up to this time the change of sentiment that is everywhere present among our people regarding the care of the soil leads us to believe that the matter will be tried out in a large way during the next ten years.

Grow More Grass—And when the soil is intelligently made grass will flourish; for abundant rainfall, much sunshine, a fair quality of soil and lime makes grass growing. We have the rainfall and sunshine with us, the quality of a good soil is ours yet and a million or two tons of lime are within our borders awaiting our awakening.

CATTLE TICK MUST GO.

Special Agent in Charge of Tick Eradication Work in Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee Discuss Plans—Urges Co-operation of All Organizations.

By DR. J. A. KIERNAN, Bureau of Animal Industry, Nashville, Tenn.

The further we look the more the greater importance of increased stock we find. The best method of tick eradication now is the arsenical solution in the dipping vat.

Professor Holden, director of Agricultural Extension Department of the International Harvester Company of New Jersey, addressed the convention. He considered the organization of the southern cattlemen the beginning of a large stock raising industry for the intelligent diversification of crops in the cotton belt. He was very enthusiastic in the remarks relative to the future of the stock raising industry of the south and every work possible to carry out the objective of the association.

Officers elected at the convention:

President: D. S. Combs, Hickory Valley, Tenn.

Secretary: Dr. J. B. Baker, Hickory Valley, Tenn.

Vice-presidents: Dr. C. A. Cary, Alabama; McQueen, Alabama; Dr. P. F. McQueen, Alabama.

DEVELOP TICK

Dipping Vat has Proved to be a Good Method—Other Methods Which Will Help.

The arsenical solution in a concrete dipping vat has proved to be the most effective remedy. The extermination of the tick is the objective of the dipping vat.

The dipping vat should be constructed of 2 1/2 inch concrete. The walls and floor should be 4 inches thick. The wooden frame should be constructed of 2 1/2 inch lumber. The dipper should be 1 1/2 inches wide at the top and 1 1/2 inches wide at the bottom. The dipper should be 1 1/2 inches wide at the top and 1 1/2 inches wide at the bottom.

With a mixture of 1 part cement and 2 parts sand. The walls of the vat should be built one foot above the surface of the ground. The side where the cattle go into the vat should be three feet long with a fall of two feet. The concrete should be as follows: Cement, 1 part; sand, 2 parts; water, 1 part; rock, 3 parts, all thoroughly mixed.

The dipping vat should be covered with a shed and provided with convenient pens, chute and dipping pen.

The following formula is most commonly used:

Sodium carbonate (sal soda), 25 lbs.; white, water, 500 gallons.

Other Methods of Eradication.

In undertaking measures for eradicating the tick it is evident that the pest may be attacked in two locations, namely, on the pasture and on the cattle.

In freeing pastures, the method followed may be either a direct or an indirect one. The former consists in excluding all cattle, horses and mules from pastures and areas within a fenced area. The latter consists in permitting the cattle and other animals to continue on the infested pastures and dipping them at regular intervals in the arsenical solution and thus preventing engorged females from dropping and reinfesting the pasture.
