

CROWS AND CLOVER

About this time of the year the farmer reaches into the corner for his shotgun and blazes away at the crows flapping down upon his field of just planted corn.

It is hard to believe that the yield of clover in a given district has some relation to the crop population of that same district. It is true, nevertheless. The red clover is fertilized by bumble-bees.

The balance of nature is so well established that there is scarcely a creature you can destroy without giving some other creature a advantage.

A CORRECT ANALYSIS

In one direction, however, the President does see a concrete and real cause for slowing down in the general business gait, and that is in the curtailment in expenditures which the railroads have been forced to make because of their inadequate revenues.

Representatives of big business called on President Wilson and asked him to stop further demands for legislation. President Wilson informed his callers that nothing was more dangerous to business than uncertainty and that was what was needed.

UNCLE SAM WAS LENIENT

In a recent address former President Taft upholds President Wilson in agreeing to mediation. However, he went out of his way to accuse President Wilson of having aided the constitutionists.

STEELE HONOR GRADUATE. Assembly of Patrons and Supporters of School Gather in Conner's Hall to Witness Finals Thursday.

The annual graduation exercises of the senior and normal classes of Manassas High School held in Conner's Hall on last Friday evening, when a vast number of the school-graduates are: Misses Mary Myers, Myrtle Johnson, Mildred Bell, Sara and Kathryn Donnell, and Messrs. George D. Johnson, Herman F. Steele and Rollin Rice.

Young Gough and a helper had been engaged in this work for a few days, and on Friday night after they had finished digging, fired several blasts in the hole, which had reached a depth of about thirty feet.

Help was soon given and the injured man brought to the surface, where upon examination it was found that his head had struck a sharp rock, crushing his skull. He lived but a few minutes.

Conner J. C. Meredith of Manassas was summoned, but upon viewing the body decided that an inquest would not be necessary.

The will of Robert Portner, dated March 28, 1892, was filed yesterday in the Probate Court. His wife, Anna Portner, is bequeathed the Portner residence at 1104 Vermont avenue northwest, with the contents, and a farm in Virginia, till her death or remarriage, after which this property is to go to the children.

The will gives 50 shares each of the capital stock of the National Capital Brewing Company, and the Robert Portner Brewing Company to the testator's sister, Mrs. Folsome Wilkerning.

The residue of the estate is left in trust with the same trust company, also named executor, for the benefit of the widow and others of the immediate family.

Andrew Jackson Montague, incumbent, overwhelmingly defeated State Senator L. O. Wenzelburg for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Third Virginia District in Tuesday's primary.

JOYOUS HOLIDAY SPIRIT PREVALENT

COMMENCEMENT A THING OF PAST. Original Wedding Took Place in Windsor, Broome County, N. Y., on June 16, 1864—Pretty Ceremony.

The spirit of the holidays is upon us. Examinations so dreaded, commencement to which we have looked forward for many months with various emotions, greetings and farewells, have all swept into the great past of our lives.

By C. E. H. A quiet golden wedding was celebrated on Grant avenue in Manassas on Tuesday night, Rev. Jacob Haipen being the officiating clergyman.

The original wedding took place June 16, 1864, at the Methodist Church, in Windsor, Broome County, N. Y., the bride being Miss Adelia Round and the bridegroom Mr. Andrew Pine.

Among other surviving guests at the reception were: Miss Emily M. Griggs of Windsor; Mrs. Emma Smith of Onquaga, the sister of Mr. Pine; and Lieut. George C. Round, of Manassas, the brother of the bride.

Some of the old ones were sung by Mrs. Hattie Burdge and the bride, and "all went merry as the traditional marriage bell."

Mrs. Pine was in charge of the Manassas postoffice for eleven years, beginning in 1871, and in 1873 an election was held among the patrons of the postoffice of which she was assistant up to that time.

At this election women as well as men voted, as far as we know this was the first instance of the kind on record in Virginia.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union have arranged public meetings at the following points in the county to be addressed by a speaker of national reputation, Miss Emma Howland.

At Sodelly, June 21; Manassas M. E. Church South, 7:30 p. m., June 21; Nokesville, Thursday, June 25 at 7:30 p. m.; Occoquan, Sunday, June 28, at 11 a. m.; at Bell Haven Church, in Coles District, Monday night, June 29 and at Woodbridge Church, Tuesday, June 30. The public is cordially invited and interesting programs are promised.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Potts have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Annie Macon, to Mr. Charles Keith Carlin, son of Representative C. C. Carlin, of this District. The ceremony will take place in Duane Memorial Church, Ashland, Va., on Wednesday evening, June 24, at 8 o'clock.

ANNUAL HORSE SHOW ON JULY 29 AND 30

PREPARATIONS WELL UNDER WAY. Three New Classes Substituted in Place of Races, Which are to be Omitted This Year—Bigger Than Ever.

Plans and arrangements are now formulating for the annual Horse Show, which this year will be held on the 29 and 30 of July.

The prize lists are now in the hands of The Democrat, and during the first of the week will be mailed out to a long list of exhibitors, who yearly bring their blue bloods of the horse kingdom here for competition in the many classes.

Other attractions aside from the regular show will as usual be on the show grounds, and management hopes to secure the services of some amusement concern to present a feature form of entertainment during the noon hours, and that time which precedes the opening of the show.

Another very successful season is looked forward to by the association.

Richardson Stock Co. AGAIN VISITS MANASSAS. Presentation of "East Lynne" and "For Humanity's Sake" on Friday and Saturday Nights Attraction Crowds.

"East Lynne," the old and well-known drama, and "For Humanity's Sake," a play with a getting of the west, presented by talent of the Richardson Stock Company, were among the many attractions in Manassas last week, and each performance drew a good house.

There is no cavalry now in Virginia, so the first troop mustered in will be the ranking troop. Therefore, any man wishing to join, please report me promptly, in person or by mail so that I may have them on my list.

An attempt was made last Saturday night to enter the post office at Briston, but the thieves were unsuccessful and failed to reach the inside of the building.

NUMBER OF TIMES TO CULTIVATE CORN

DO NOT CULTIVATE TOO DEEP. Cultivate Every Ten Days, or Oftener if it Rains so That Crust is Formed—Good Dust Much Beneficial.

By W. M. BROWN, Field Agent, Southern Railway Company. How many times are you going to cultivate your corn? Most of the men I come in contact with say that they intend to cultivate three times, and some of them say as four times, and they think this is extra heavy cultivation.

No man can tell when he starts to make a crop of corn just how many times he will need to cultivate. If one expects to get a full crop he must first have the right kind of preparation and then cultivate as often as necessary. Some one may ask how he can tell when it is necessary, and I will answer before I hear him ask that it is a very easy matter.

The cultivation should begin almost as soon as the corn is planted. If a rain comes, the harrow should be used as soon as the ground is dry enough, to keep a hard crust from forming. I saw a field of corn today where the harrow was not used at the proper time. I also saw in that same field a very poor stand with an almost impregnable crust formed. It will take a long time to ever get that field in order, and the corn will never get over being "stunted."

Cultivate every ten days, or oftener if it rains so that a crust is formed. It is best always to keep a good dust mulch formed. It is not wise to cultivate too deep. We do not believe in root pruning and deep cultivation of corn means the severest kind of root cutting. Give shallow cultivation and do it often. As to the number of times to go over the crop, it may take four or it may take ten cultivations to keep the ground in the right condition.

MILITIA CAVALRY WANTED. In the event of the militia (National Guard) being called out, I am authorized by the Adjutant General of Virginia to raise a troop of cavalry.

A call, if it comes, is apt to come suddenly and unexpectedly; therefore I am getting a list of those who will join, so that I may call them, together promptly to be enlisted and organized.

In militia-cavalry each man furnishes his own horse and the government furnishes all uniforms, arms and equipment for man and horse.

There is no cavalry now in Virginia, so the first troop mustered in will be the ranking troop. Therefore, any man wishing to join, please report me promptly, in person or by mail so that I may have them on my list.
