

Manassas Journal

Thursday, November 8, 1928

Fragment of page 1 & 2

SMITH

Small

... an-
... when
...
... in this case
... and respected by

... August 6, 1846, and
... of James and Ann M.
... at the age of 16 he joined
... command in which
... the close of the war.
... and fearless soldier,
... in many encounters
... in 51-64.

... married Annie M. Foley,
... fall, where they lived
... a family of four children.
... besides his children, 13
... and one great-grand-
... brother, J. B. Smith,
... of Grand Junction, Colorado.

... Mr. Smith served as justice of the ... more than 30 years, his
... testifying to the
... the people as to his
... to fill the office.

... the past five years he has been
... and a great sufferer, but ... he has been bright and
... and bore his troubles as a
... of the Cross of Christ.
... much missed in the com-
... was a man of superior
... faithful friend and
... in the Antioch bury-
... joining the church of
... consistent member.

... was conducted by his
... V. H. Council, assisted
... rainum, a former pas-
... and Rev. Westwood
... commander of E
... flags of both
... Eighth Virginia
... at the service.
... natives attended
... side grave
... Sowers, a
... in the cen-
... small con-
... by the

... the pa ng.
... were the gray,
... God. Soon,
... will be
... and

and Publisher

to a year in Advance

Office at Manas-

also mail matter

NOVEMBER 8, 1918

SMITH.

the election is we wished it to be, but undisputable result. Mr.
is elected President of United States a clear and unmistakable decision of a majority of the American people.
The Journal salutes the winner.
It salutes the next President. It wishes him health, strength and good fortune.

"To Governor Smith we say that he can look backward upon his campaign with a good conscience," says the New York World. He has fought an honest, clean and candid battle for ideas which will surely prevail.

The odds against him were insuperable; his gallantry in face of them will long be remembered. The American people love a brave man, and among public men Al Smith is the bravest of our time. He has lost the election, but he retires with flags flying. It has been a privilege to fight with him with such humble facilities as we possessed.

RED CROSS ROLL.

The Red Cross is seeking to increase its membership to five million. Opportunity to join is presented by the Red Cross throughout the country; November is Red Cross Day. It is in this great thing around with the nat-