ON HOSPITAL PLANS

PHYSICIANS UNITE.

Physicians of Prince William and Manassas have united in a protest against the "HOSPITAL PLANS" of the county. A demonstration meeting of the county physicians was held last Saturday afternoon in the Eddy School, and was attended by the following doctors: J. J. Morgan, Dr. J. E. Hachmann, Dr. W. E. Warden, Dr. W. H. Warden, and Dr. W. H. Sanders.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Dr. J. J. Morgan, who read the resolutions of the county physicians in opposition to the "HOSPITAL PLANS" of the county. The resolutions were then referred to a committee of three, consisting of Dr. J. J. Morgan, Dr. J. E. Hachmann, and Dr. W. H. Warden, to draw up a report and present it to the meeting.

The resolutions adopted by the county physicians were as follows:

WHEREAS, The "HOSPITAL PLANS" of the county are a menace to the health of the county.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the county physicians unite in a protest against the "HOSPITAL PLANS" of the county.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the county physicians present their protest to the county commissioners.

The resolutions were then referred to a committee of three, consisting of Dr. J. J. Morgan, Dr. J. E. Hachmann, and Dr. W. H. Warden, to draw up a report and present it to the meeting.

The meeting adjourned until next Saturday afternoon at four o'clock.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS WANT MORE MONEY

At the School Board meeting on Monday, the school board voted to increase the school tax rate by five mills. The new rate will be six mills, and will go into effect on April 1. The school board also voted to increase the school tax rate by five mills in the next fiscal year, and to increase the school tax rate by five mills in the year after that.

GIFT OF $30,000 TO EASTERN COLLEGE TO ERECT SPLENDID NEW BUILDING

Mr. Elizabeth B. Voorhees, of New Jersey, has donated $30,000 to the Eastern College, to be used for the erection of a new building.

The story of a magnificent gift had its début in Eastern College and to Manassas, is told in a letter to the mayor of Eastern College, from Mrs. Elizabeth B. Voorhees, of New Jersey, widow of Ralph Voorhees, noted philanthropist. The letter states that Mr. Voorhees, who was a graduate of Eastern College, desired that his widow should have a monument in the old building.

The building will be erected on the site of the old building, which will be vacated by the students and faculty. The new building will have a capacity of 400 students, and will be equipped with all modern facilities. The cornerstone of the new building will be laid next week.

charges, that it was never the intention of the United States government to exchange it. It was also made known to us that we were to be placed on Morra island, against the wishes of distressed women. Major Murrey was making a speech to Congress to pay an indemnity to us.

We were, accordingly, landed in the harbor of Charleston on the seventh day of September, and started upon our journey to the Federal prisons in Charleston, according to orders of Federal officers.

We had, from the first day of our arrival, been denied the privilege of any kind of com-tact with the Federal prisoners from Charleston, according to orders of Federal officers: free men, of course, four pounds of beef, one-half pound of beef, and one-half pound of hard tack a day; but we were not permitted to purchase anything, nor to receive any kind of food from the Federal prisoners; no books, nor any kind of food.

The Federal officers were in charge of our movements, and control of our persons.

The Mask of the Mask
By HAROLD MAC GRAVE

CHAPTER XXI

As we go up to the slopes, the road narrows and curves. The wind howls through the trees, and the sun is hidden behind clouds. The moon is visible in the sky, casting a pale light on the landscape. The hikers continue their ascent, determined to reach the summit. Their faces are set, and their determination is evident. They are nearing the top, and the view from the peak will be worth the effort. The trail becomes steeper, and the hikers must use their hands to maintain balance. They reach the summit just as the sun begins to rise, casting a warm glow on the mountain. The hikers gaze out over the valley and the mountains, and their faces reflect the sense of achievement and accomplishment. The sky is clear, and the air is fresh. The hikers breathe deeply, savoring the moment. Their minds are calm, and their spirits are lifted. The hikers descend the mountain, knowing that they have conquered a great challenge and that they have achieved something special. The Mask of the Mask is revealed, and the hikers are free to enjoy the beauty of nature.
