Those who attended the beer garden at the coal bins Tuesday afternoon, although the affair was of short duration, report having had a dandy good time.

BEFORE the Senate investigating committee gets through with Jamesay he will feel as though his name should have the letter D added to its beginning.

INFORMATION, through the Postmaster General, is to the effect that Oscar S. Woody, of Clifton, used his best efforts to the last to save the Titanic's mail, carrying the pouches to the upper deck.

According to latest reports it appears that a railroad strike is imminent, and unless the railroad officials consent to an arbitration, a strike will follow within the next few days.

"WHAT you dug go lef' de henhouse do' open fo'" Silas," said the old darkey woman to her husband. "Oh, chickens will cum home to roost, honey," replied the old man. "No day wont, Silas, day will sure go to da gwn home."

There appears to be some doubt about that placard that is so prominently displayed in the window of "Everybody's Doing It" on the fourth floor. Price nine cents."

MR. BAKER'S HANDSOME FUNERAL CAR

In the Grand Cottolene and Senator Flour Cake-Baking contest held by Messrs. W. R. Free Jr., & Company of Nokesville, last week, the first prize, of a barrel of flour, was awarded to Mrs. C. Q. Wise, the second prize, of one-fourth barrel of flour, and the third prize, of one-eighth barrel of Senator flour going to Mrs. W. R. Weather.

George D. Baker received, Saturday, the title of handsomest and up-to-date funeral car that the market affords. The car, which was purchased in Sterling, Ill., is provided with adjustable door and rear seats, a platform automatic door, and other convenient appointments, and cost $1,000.

Mr. Baker deserves credit for placing himself, at much cost, in the same brand of flour going to Mrs. Wade, and the third prize, of one-eighth barrel of Senator flour going to Mrs. W. R. Weather.

Comeing here from the west nearly twenty years ago, Mr. Baker ventured in the undertaking business with limited knowledge of the vocation, and with small means.

Twenty-three cakes were in the contest, and when the judges went through with their judgements, it was found that there was no country town in the state which can boast of more complete funeral requirements than can be provided by Mr. Baker, or which has a more thoroughly informed and legally authorized funeral director than he.

His anxiety to have the Titanic's crew returned to England at the earliest possible moment, and his urgent messages to Franklin to that end, almost amounting to a demand, was not without a ministerial rebuke, and that such has been brought out quite clearly by the committee.

The crew which he so much desired to spirit away from the jurisdiction of the investigation committee, was cognizant of a great deal more of his perfidy and culpability than he cared to have brought into the public eye.

It has been practically established that the great vessel was rushing on through the mighty deep at the rate of twenty-four miles an hour in spite of wireless warnings that had been received, indicating that tremendous ice fields lay directly in her pathway. It also has been established that Captain Smith, in the face of these warnings, was not on the bridge, nor was there any one in the crew's nest at the time of the collision.

It has been shown that J. Bruce Ismay, who lost no opportunity to look after his own safety despite the prior claims of rescue by longing to women and children, and the wireless apparatus of the rescuing ship, Carpathia, to send private messages while the whole world was waiting with breathless interest for the details of the horrible disaster. It has also been shown that these messages, intercepted by the Government operators, pointed to the fact that Ismay was using every effort at his command to put himself, at the earliest possible moment beyond the immediate jurisdiction of the Senate's court of inquiry.

What a marked contrast between this virtue of the sea and Major Archibald Butt, whose name will go down in history as one of the greatest heroes the world has ever known.

Major Butt was the real leader in all that rescue work, said Mrs. H. P. Hardin. He bravely, though courteously, made the men stand back and helped the women and children into the boats, said she. Mrs. Hardin was one of the last women to leave the ship, and she asserts that she learned of the carelessness with which the Titanic was handled and that the sinking of the giant liner was not a mere misfortune, but a grave crime for which some one is responsible and should be made to pay dearly therefore.

DEATH OF HUBERT SNOWDEN

HUBERT SNOWDEN, one of Alexandria's most prominent and highly respected citizens, and a veteran newspaper man, died in his home Monday, last week. He leaves a widow who was a daughter of the late Turner Ashby, who over half century ago was postmaster of Alexandria. He was next to the youngest son of the late Edgar Snowden who succeeded his father, Samuel Snowden as editor of the Alexandria Gazette, the oldest periodical in America.

The deceased has filled various offices of public trust in his native city, and from a compositor in his father's office, where unable to reach his case except by the aid of a box to stand on, he gradually ascended the ladder of journalism until he reached the position of chief editor.

With the death of Mr. Snowden there remains but one representative of the Snowden family living, Mrs. Mary Wallis, wife of Rev. Dr. Wallis, who is well-known and beloved by a host of friends in Manassas.

NOW IS THE "EXCEPTED" TIME.

Now is the time that Nature wakes from her long winter sleep, shakes off the icy bands that have so long bound her, and puts on her light and beautiful robes of spring.

Now is the time when the birds begin to warble their sweet melody, and the trees to bud, the flowers to bloom, and the hills and valleys to assume their loveliest aspect.

Now is the time that the good housewife attends to her annual house cleaning when windows are washed, paint scrubbed, carpets shaken, repairs made, and all the rubbish of the premises removed; the back-yards put in order, and the entire premises made sweet, clean and healthful before the heat of summer comes on. All this is done while her husband is looking after the political situation of the country and is not around to bother and interfere with her in her innocent and useful pleasures.

adapted to the growing of sugar cane, fruits, vegetables and an abundant yield of grass. There is also an abundance of timber suitable for building, fencing and other purposes.

All Cuba needs, in my opinion, to make it a ideal place in which to live is a better form of government, bringing into its population a better class of people.

While the American is safe and can pursue his avocation without molestation, still there is something which is checking immigration to the Island. It may be somewhat on account of religious and social conditions which are not satisfying unless one goes into a colony, and even then there is more or less dissatisfaction.

I am hopeful that such conditions may be brought about as will make Cuba noted for her financial prosperity, educational facilities, morality and Christianity.

After spending four months in Omaha, we went to Santo Domingo, about 100 miles east of Havana, where there has been requested to represent the World's Fair. Mrs. Sparks was started a colony of Americans, mostly from the Dakotas, and train, but she declined to go where we spent Sunday, leaving request saying: "I will go there the next day by train for the Stars and Stripes and Virginia is 'Dry' and New Jersey is made whiter."

Mrs. Sparks is a native of Dumfries, this county, and her mother, formerly Miss Alice Brown, was a schoolmate of the writer.

It would surprise you to know of the extra food that is being done by Chambain's Tablets. Darke Dowsey, of Newberg Junction, N. H., writes: "My wife has been using Chambain's Tablets and finds them very efficient and doing a great deal of good. If you have trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers."

Judge James Ellison, of the Kansas City court of appeals, handed down the following decision in the case of O. D. Austin, of the Butler (Mo.) Record. Burge, other members composing, and published in 387 S. W. Reports, 618:

The preparation and publication of a newspaper involves much mental and physical labor as well as an outlay of money. One who accepts the paper by continuously taking it from the post office receives a benefit and pleasure arising from such labor and expenditures as fully as if he had privatized any other product of another's labor, and by such act he must be held liable for the subscription price."

There never was a time when people appreciated the real merits of Chamberlain's Tablets more than now. This is shown by the increase in sales and voluntary testimonials from persons who have been cured. We hear him say, "Dr King's New Discovery has given him a new life plus surely put new life and energy into a person. Wife and wife every into a person. Wife and wife are the best made."

reached a snag in the way of a senator invited him to come over to the Senate chamber and show him how to tax on moving picture and other shows, and on fish vendors.

He told the Mayor a sailor told him to lower the tax on shows, and the increased tendency to frequent entertainments, thus depleting the banks of small change.

Councilman Nash championed the cause of the fish vendors when a disposition seemed imminent to increase their toll claiming that higher license meant higher fish, and the latter he strenuously objected to as he was raised on them in a country where they could be had with only the expense of a little time and your own seine or gillnet.

Finally these questionable items in the schedule were adjusted so as to make the showman's burdens a little less oppressive and the fish vendor's license to remain in status quo.

A motion was made to allow each of the county papers the sum of $1.50 per column to publish the tax schedule but Mr.

Wheeler and others objected upon the grounds that it would be establishing a dangerous precedent, besides it had gotten so now that people hardly ever read anything in county papers except society news and editorial paragraphs.

Mr. Spender thought that the people should know the provisions of the tax schedule and favored its publication but before he was through speaking the most of the members were filing out the door leaving the most important part of their arduous duties undone.

EXPLAINS AN AWFUL FATE.

A thousand tongues could not express the gratitude of Mrs. J. E. Cox, of Joliet, Ill., for her wonderful deliverance from an awful fate.

"I had such awful coughing," she writes, "sometimes I thought I would die. I could get no help from doctors' treatment or other medicines till I used Dr. King's New Discovery. But even then I was not ready for it. I scarcely cough at all now." Quick and safe, it's most reliable air throat and lung medicine.

J. M. Weaver, representing the Frick Manufacturing company, was in Waynesboro, Penna., on business, Monday.

Mrs. Lucretia Johnson arrived here from Orlando, Florida, last week, for an indefinite stay with her son, Dr. C. R. C. Johnson.

W. E. Lynch has moved into the George W. Natt property on West Center street.

Harry Thorpe and Delie Cornwell have opened a Blacksmith shop near Springs' Ford.

Howard Hulthel, clerk in the Manassas post office, visited his home at The Plains, Sunday.

The stock visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Swank, of near Nokesville, yesterday, and a bouncing boy.

Mrs. Virginia D. Holt, of Lynchburg, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. Fowell Merchant, on North Battle street.

The many friends of Mr. Michael Lynch will regret to learn that he has returned to his home through a severe attack of rheumatism.

N. E. Evans, of the Mill department of the Southern Railway company at Ashburn, was a guest of the Misses Bonner, Saturday.

Capt. Samuel Sisson, of the Government's transport boat between Washington and Occoquan was at his home in this place this week.

In making a copy of the Roll of Honor of the Manassas Graded School for this office the name of Elizabeth Clarke, of the fifth grade was inadvertently omitted.

Partee Weir, who was operated for appendicitis in the University hospital, Charlottesville, Va., is reported improving with prospects of leaving the institution within the next ten days.

Miss Sallie Lewis, who has been spending the winter with friends and relatives in Clarke and Fauquier counties, has returned to her home near Manassas looking exceedingly well.

No doubt the mountain scenery and the recreation did much to help recuperating the health of Miss Lewis who felt the need of freedom from home cares and a need of rest.

What is the Reason for This?

Pasteur Russell's answer is, in the cause the teachings of Jesus and the Apostles, in the teachings of the Prophets, the teaching of his own example, begets a love of man, which is greater than their own life.

He had a contention for it. "We are to come to justify himself" (v. 30), but when he told them plainly that both he and his brethren had not done what they taught, he was scorned and reviled, and beaten by the multitude.

What is the reason for this?
