VIRGINIA

In all the great wars in which this country has been engaged this old Commonwealth has taken a prominent and conspicuous part, either in the forefront of battle or in the council of the government. In the Revolution she had her Washington, Henry, Ma son, Jefferson and others, who have won immortal fame. In the. r of 1812 her Madison was President and commander-in-chief. In the Mexican war of 1846 she was represented on the fields by Generals Scott and Taylor. In the great war between the States she had her Lee, Jackson, Johnson. Stuart and many other great leaders in that gigantic and titanic struggle. And now in this present unfortunate Mexican matter a native-born Virginian is President and commander-in-chief, the father of the Secretary of an order from Justice Giegerich in New York permitting him to State and the great grandfather of the Vice-President were natives spend $24,000 a year from his income, instead of only $17,000, as of her soil. The chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations and the chairman of the Military Committees of Congress are Virginians. So, the old State never tires in giving her sons as leaders where great leadership is required.—Free Lance.

I bacon, meat and fruit, eysters, vegetables and peanuts then the farmers of the State will begin to side in as good automobiles as Are Your Hands Tied? Richmond to Luray Caverns, to Natural Bridge and Mountain Lake for the first real outing of their lives.

For years the brewers and distitlers of America have browbeaten the men of the soil by shaking clenched fists in their faces and shouting: "If you shut up out what will you do with your grain?" Today our educated agricultuists are shouting back the answer "We will feed it to the cattle to make the beef your liberated slaves will be able to buy."

We in Virginia have never had cause to worry about the grain nor need we worry if whiskey and beer are made of hay, instead of rye and bariey, for never have we been known to supply our own demands for any sort of animal provender except corn!

What the farmer wants to insure his greatest prosperity is a red blooded, healthy, hearty population, affluent and happy working singing and demanding the purest and freshest of foods. This we should get in a dry State, by a process of rapid evolution. And the farmer of Virginia is a patriot; he will stand forever by the citizenship of the State in its demands.—Free State

PUTS END TO RESORTS

Alexandria's segregated section must be evacuated by June 15. The order came from Judge Barley, of the Corporation Court, after conference with Mayor Fisher, Chief of Police Goods, and ther city officials, and to make assurance doubly sure and shouller his share of the task, the mayor accompanied the chief police to nine resorts in North Lee street, when notice of the court's determination was served upon the proprietors and inmates

The news was a distinct surprise to the women affected, bu not to citizens who have been watching the trend of events since the Kenyon bill became op erative in Washington. In spite of notice to the effect that no acessions to the population of the red-light district would be tolerated, and the utmost vigilance on the part of the police to carry out this program, it is said that a number of women have located there recently.

The matter was brought to a nead by repeated overt acts on the part of men who visited Alexandria. A number of arrests nave been made and heavy fines mposed, but this has not had the expected deterrent effect.

A canvass of the district made recently by Judge Goods showed hat there were nine resorts with total of 58 inmates. Representatives of the Florence Crittenton Mission have offered their good offices to the women when the houses are closed.
