COMBINATION AGAINST WILSON

Half-way between presidential campaigns, the republican party is without a candidate or an issue and the progressives have a candidate and an issue, but no party. There is an old tale of a man who could not walk, who climbed upon the shoulders of a man who never acquire—the gift of silence. could not see, and one furnishing the motive power and the other the power of direction, the two cripples reached their destination. find comfort on Monday morning. Naturally, some of the republicans and progressives are now hoping to mount the farseeing Roosevelt upon the shoulders of the blind republican party, and so best Mr. Wilson in the next race. We don't believe the combination will prove as successful as the combination of the lame man and the blind in the fable. It is easy enough for politicians to frame a terrible indictment against the all lifelike. It hasn't got a cigar in its mouth democratic administration today, but will it look like a true bill two years hence? The new tariff has not flooded the country with foreign goods, and when the railroads get the freight advance they ask-for. or begin to feel the stimulus of the huge crops, they will not have done much better in the brewery business. buy freely, and the very moderate dullness of the present moment will be forgotten. CAUGHT IN THEIR OWN TRAP

When the Panama canal tolls bill was laid before the senate for action the senators in that body who represent the buccaneers of world concluded they would checkmate President Wilunfinished. These senators entered upon a long debate, well knowing that all the talk would not change the votes of the senators either way. However, Buccaneer Business wanted delay, so the senators have killed weeks of time. Now they find that President Wilson has kept track of them and appreciates the motives of those responsible for the delay. He did not suggest that as the canal bi had taken up so much time congress had better adjourn. Instead. he instructed his leaders that as soon as the canal tolls bill was disposed of congress could get busy on anti-trust legislation and keep faith with the people. Over in the house three anti-trust bills have real work. The administration, and the opposition too, for that matter is pledged to enact drastic anti-trust laws, consequently the representatives of the buccineers in the upper house find they have in their own trap, as the president has no thought of adjourning congress. The Mellen exposures has strengthened the administration in its determination to enact some law which will make it dangerous for directors of public service corporations to misapply funds. There is all the difference in the world between on a legitimate basis and the big business conducted by financial pirates who control railroad securities and who camble in the margine caring nothing for the manner in which the property is being operated. Neither the Credit Mobilier or John Law's South Sea exploitation has anything on present day high finance as Four-year College Course and an Academy Course, the Equivalent shown up by Mr. Mellen and by the lobby exposures. However, the lobby still does business at the old stand, according to the speeches made by members of congress.

FIRST FOR HIMSELF

Carranza has made it plain that he like Huerta, is in Mexican polities for what the polities bring him. For all his insistance that FOR REPORMATION. all he wants is the restoration of the constitution, the righting of the people's wrongs and the establishment of peace, he has avoided conceding to the demands and the persuasions of the A.-B. Madero may have been the disinterested patriot he is described by his biographers. But in that he was alone. All other Mexican politicians have been in the game for the look that went with it the authority and the gold-lace and side-arms of office. No one credits Huerta with possessing any true love of country. No one thinks that Zapata is anything more than a bloodthirsty villian Giving Carrange and Villa reputations for benevolence and knight errantry has been as grave a mistake as relying upon Huerta and Zanata to bring peace and prosperity and happiness to their country. And now, Carrange has demonstrated that his professions: and claims to humanitarianism have been as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal.

We will understand the Mexican statesman best if we think of him as first in war and first in peace only if that pays him.
