AGAINST STATEWIDE PROHIBITION

Prohibition does not put the bootlegger out of business, but merely causes a shift in his methods. It is a known fact that the present, if not the future, of the alcoholic drink is in the hands of the bootlegger, and that the income derived from this source is greatly increased by the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages. The only real solution of the problem of prohibition is to make it impractical and unprofitable for the bootlegger to engage in this nefarious trade.

Dr. John Doe said it is essential to make informed decisions. He noted that any project must be well-planned and executed to ensure success.
