MANASSAS, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1923

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

WILL ESTABLISH CANNING FACTORY

Enterprise Will Be Started This Year By Mr. H. A. Stanley of Bedford County.

(W. L. Browning, County Agent)
The people of the county will be glad to know that a new enterprise will be started in Manassas district this year. Through the efforts of the county agent, Mr. H. A. Stanley, of Bedford county, will establish a canning factory for the canning of tomatoes.

The establishment of a canning factory will mean a cash market for a crop that will grow to perfection here, and one that will fill a long-felt need for a large number of small farmers who heretofore have had no cash crop.

It is the plan now to have this cannery established somewhere in the neighborhood of Buckhall, where the bulk of the tomatoes for the first season will be raised, and where those hauling tomatoes will not have far to haul them.

Mr. H. A. Stanley is coming here as an experienced canner of twenty years. He has a number of canneries in operation in the state, and has the finances to back his operations. After getting one plant started in the county, it is his plan to branch out another year and establish several more in the county. This cannery should distribute through this section this fall three or four thousand dollars for tomatoes raised and something like fifteen hundred dollars for labor in the operation of the plant.

Everybody interested in planting a small or large acreage of tomatoes for this cannery is urged to see County Agent Browning, who will have seed for distribution for those who expect to grow tomatoes. We want everybody to use the same kind of seed that the crop may be uniform.

While in Fredericksburg several days ago I came across a tag taken from a soy bean mean bag showing a digestible protein content of 50%. I believe that the growing of soy beans for seed will in a few years be a common practice in the county, as it will enable a number of farmers to grow at least the highest priced feed that today they are buying. The growing of soy beans for seed and feed is growing each year by leaps and bounds. We hope to put into several communities of the county this year a soy bean harvester, and around these harvesters to have 50 to 100 acres of beans grown, and from this beginning in several years, to be producing enough that a soy bean mill will be justifiable. If you are interested in growing soy beans for seed production this year and want to get a harvester in your neighborhood, please see the county agent.

MISS KOONTZ IN MANASSAS

State Junior League Secretary Here in Interest of Work.

Miss Frieda Koontz, of Richmond, state junior league secretary, was in Manassas recently, and held a conference with Superintendent Chas. R. McDonald, and Miss Grace B. Moran, in the interest of junior league work. Miss Koontz is desirous of seeing an organization of this kind established in every school in the county.

The junior leagues serve to emphasize many of the fundamental teachings of the school. Instruction in patriotism as the basis for citizenship and the cultivation of a proper school spirit as the preparation for a responsible member of society, can be greatly emphasized through an organization paralleling the work of the school.

The league will also point the way whereby students may co-operate in school government, thus rendering discipline less tedious and routine less exacting.

Leagues have already been organized at Catharpin, Haymarket, Woodbridge and Occoquan and are doing splendid work, while those organized by Miss Koontz on this trip, at Cannon Branch and at Buckhall are planning many activities for the remainder of the school year.

—Mrs. M. M. Davis, of Blacksburg, state agent of the home demonstration work, is expected in Manassas tomorrow to meet the county agent and others in a conference in the interest of a second "Better Kitchen" contest. Mrs. Davis comes here from Henrico county, where she has just put on a campaign of this kind.

MR. GRAFTON L. MCGILL DIES IN WASHINGTON

Last Surviving Male Member of Prominent Family—Sisters Reside at Haymarket.

Grafton L. McGill, well known patent attorney, died suddenly of heart trouble on the evening of March 7, at his apartment in Washington.

Mr. McGill was the last surviving male member of a family prominently identified with the residential life of Washington. He was the youngest son of the late John D. and Mary J. McGill.

His mother died a short time since at the country residence of the family in Virginia. Her death occurred within two years of that of her eldest son, J. Nota McGill, at one time register of wills for the District of Columbia.

On graduating from Georgetown Law School, Mr. McGill went to New York City where he practiced patent law to the time of his brother's death. Then, in partnership with Francis S. Maguire, he consolidated his brother's practice with his own and took again up his residence in Washington. Later, the partnership was dissolved and Mr. McGill continued alone the practice in which he was engaged to the time of his death.

His funeral took place from St. Matthew's Church, in Washington, on Saturday. The requiem mass was offered by the pastor, Father Edward J. Buckley. Father Clarence E. Wheeler, pastor of Holy Comforter Church, and Father Joseph H. Cassidy, pastor of St. Stephen's Church, were in the sanctuary. Interment took place in the family burying lot at Holy Rood cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his two sisters, Miss Inno and Miss Loretta McGill, who reside at "Loingill," near Haymarket, Va.

MANASSAS ON SILVER SHEET

Moving Pictures Made Here Will Be Seen at Dixie Theatre.

(Contributed)

It will be interesting to the residents of Manassas to know that the camera men of the Community Local Pictures, Inc., of Washington, D. C., will be in Manassas next week if the weather permits, to make moving pictures of business enterprises and people of Manassas. This picture will be shown at a later date in the Dixie Theatre. Blank film to be used has already arrived.

The people of Manassas have a treat in store. Many of them have no doubt wondered how pictures were taken for the movies, but now they will have the chance to see the actual work done. It is always interesting and instructive to see new things, but it will be more interesting to the people of Manassas to afterwards see themselves in a moving picture.

The Community Local Pictures, Inc., has met with great success in making beautiful pictures, and it will give to the people of Manassas not only the chance to see their town from a moving picture standpoint, but the unusual opportunity to see it in natural colors. This picture of Manassas will be quite different from the ordinary black and white picture usually seen here, as it will be produced in colors. It is seldom that one sees pictures in natural colors because of the great expense it requires to make a colored picture, but the Dixie Theatre intends to give its patrons that sensation.

HOW TO CONTROL DISEASES OF CORN

Farmers Urged to Have Seed Corn Tested This Year Before Planting Time.

(W. L. Browning and H. W. Sanders)

Up until within a few years ago it was believed by most farmers and others that the corn crop, unlike other grain crops, had no enemies, and that all we had to do was to have a good soil, and a crop would be the result. A great many farmers will remember seeing in their fields of corn this past year, or past few years, a row of corn here and there or spots in their corn field where the corn made very poor growth, had no color, and when it did grow to apparent maturity the stock would fall entirely down, sometimes the field was very marked in that a large amount of corn had fallen, and apparently had no root growth, or the root system had entirely rotted away.

It was with the control of this disease in mind that a seed corn germinator, with the assistance of a member of the plant pathology department from Blacksburg has been built and established in the agricultural high school department of the Manassas school. This was built that the farmers of the county could take advantage of having their seed corn for this year's planting tested before planting, and if infected with this disease, would know in time to discard those diseased ears, thus eliminating this unnecessary loss.

This tester will test at one time samples from 1400 ears of corn, and it is our desire to run it as near its capacity as possible, that as great a number of farmers may benefit from its use as possible.

This tester has been built at a considerable expense, and will be heated by electricity, which will necessitate an additional expense, so that it is necessary to charge a small sum for the testing to cover the actual costs. This cost to be one cent per ear. We are very anxious to get our first samples started not later than March 21.

To give as many farmers as possible a general idea of the condition of their seed corn with respect to the presence of root rot fungi, the number of ears tested for each farmer in the first test will be limited to thirty. Using this test as an indication of the needs of the corn growers of the county, the germinator will be run to capacity until planting time.

MRS. ALEXANDER "FALLS ASLEEP"

Resident of Stafford Dies Suddenly at Home of Daughter in Her Ninetieth Year.

(Contributed)

Died at her home, "Locust Grove Farm," near Bellfair Mills, Stafford county, on Sunday morning, March 11, Mrs. Annie Olivia Lowe Alexander, widow of William Alexander, in the ninetyeth year of her age.

She was born in Richmond in 1834, coming to Stafford in her early girlhood, where she was married to Mr. Alexander in 1855. To this union was born one child, Mrs. William B. Lynn, who survives her. She also leaves four granddaughters, Mrs. Norman Luck, Mrs. Thomas Woolfenden, Misses Lelia and Lizzie Lynn, as well as many other relatives.

The deceased was a most remarkable woman for one of her years, and retained her mental faculties until the last. Her health had been good and she had dined as usual and seemed in the best of health on the evening before her death. When her daughter, as was her custom, went to see how her mother had rested during the night, she found her seated in her easy chair, dead. She had truly "fallen asleep."

Her remains were laid to rest on Tuesday afternoon in the family lot in the old Scotch-English burying-ground at Dumfries, the services being conducted by Rev. Norman Luck, husband of one of her granddaughters.

At the monthly meeting of the County Farmers' Union held at the courthouse last Saturday, resolutions were passed putting the union on record as against a bond issue for the building of the state highways, and endorsing the position taken by Hon. C. A. Sinclair, the county's representative in the House of Delegates.

Letters were also read from Dr. Wayland, who met with the Auxiliary last May, and Mr. G. S. Ralston, state horticulturist, who has been asked to meet with the Auxiliary in April. Beautifying of home grounds will be his subject.

The subject of a second "Better Kitchen" campaign was discussed, after which it was moved and passed that the Auxiliary endorse the work and urge the women to go forward with it.

Entertaining the county supervisors for dinner the fourth Tuesday in March was discussed. Miss Osbourne reported that the domestic science department of the high school had planned for this meeting. Further plans were postponed until the April meeting of the Auxiliary.

The treasurer was instructed to pay to Miss Gilbert $13.42, the amount for the stove given by the Auxiliary as a prize for best community fair exhibit at the county fair; also to pay her $2.50 to be used in connection with the fitting up of a demonstration department in the home demonstration agent's office.

This meeting being the time for the election of officers for the year, the constitution was read by the secretary, after which the election took place. Motion was made and carried that the present incumbents be retained another year, that further results might be seen from the work started under said administration—Mrs. A. E. Spies, president; Mrs. Mae Dogan, vice-president; Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, secretary; Mrs. C. F. M. Lewis, assistant secretary; Mrs. E. E. Blough, treasurer; Mrs. C. F. M. MANASSAS MINISTERS CONDEMN LAWLESS ACT

Call on Local and State Officials to Bring to Speedy Justice Perpetrators of Crime.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ministerial Association, held in the directors' room at the National Bank on March 15, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We have read in the public press, with horror and amazement, of the dastardly attempts upon the life of Rev. H. C. Marsh, pastor of the Methodist Church, of Middleburg, Va., be it

Resolved, That we, the pastors of the several churches of Manassas and the surrounding community, condemn in the strongest terms these lawless acts and call upon the law officers of the county in which these outrages have been perpetrated and the Governor of the State to spare neither pains nor money to bring those guilty to speedy justice, in order that our State may be purged of outlaws and that its citizens may enjoy the "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States to every citizen.

CLUB WORKERS BUSILY ENGAGED

Boys and Girls in 4-H Club Work Hold Meetings Despite Bad Winter Weather.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, County Home Demonstration Agent)

Although bad weather and other hindrances have prevented the county home demonstration agent from doing the field work planned for the last few months, club members have not been sleeping. Officers have been elected in most of the clubs for the year 1923. Regardless of the weather the following clubs have met each month since December first, and sent in reports of meetings: Smithfield, Hayfield, Holmes, Junior Workers, and Bristow Busy Bees. It is believed that by the last of April fifteen organized groups of boys and girls will be working in the county.

During the year 1920 the Peoples Bank offered a banner to the organized club in the county doing the best work during the year—this banner, if won for three successive years, to become the property of the winning club. In 1920 and 1921 this banner was won by the Junior Workers. In 1922 the Hayfield club were winners. It is evident that the Junior Workers are going to make a special effort to regain the banner in 1923. What are the other clubs going to do? The winning club is decided from the secretary's book.

In the spring of 1921 Mr. Clarence Wagener offered a prize to the club reporter doing the best work during the year. This prize was won by the reporter of the Busy Bees, at Bristow. In 1922, although no special prize was offered, some very good work was done—Junior Workers, Busy Bees, Hayfield and Smithfield deserving special mention.

Last week the county home demonstration agent had a most pleasant surprise—a visit from Glen Bowman, president of the Boys' and Girls' County Club Organization. Glen brought with him a membership record sheet, and reported that he had been successful in reorganizing at Aden with a membership of 32 boys and girls, these enrolled for the following lines of work: Canning, poultry, sewing, swine—thirteen for poultry (Barred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and White Rocks), eight for swine, one calf, ten sewing and one canning. This club, the Golden Eagle, has for its president Virginia Garber; vice-president, Hazel Aubrey; secretary-treasurer, Mabel Bell; reporter, Rena Neff; club leader, Glen Bowman. This group, led by our county president, is going to do some good work this year.

Before leaving, Glen, in a modest manner, said that he had left a little gift package in the home demonstration agent's office. It was not what they wanted to do, but it was a little gift, a token of appreciation from the club members. On opening the package, a beautiful clock was found, a very much needed addition to office equipment. The home demonstration agent will no longer have to call upon central to give the time. She wishes through the county paper to thank the boys and girls for this splendid token of appreciation, and wishes for each and every one a very pleasant, prosperous and happy year in club work; she also hopes to be able to thank every one in person at the next county meeting, which we hope to have as soon as the roads get good again.

Former Rural Route Carrier Dies at Home of Son After a Lingerin Illness.

Mr. Howard P. Young died at the home of his son, Mr. W. D. Young, in Washington, last Saturday night at 11:20 o'clock, after an illness of six months.

He had been undergoing treatment at Providence Hospital for two weeks prior to his death, but at his request was carried to the home of his son on Saturday.

Mr. Young was a great sufferer, but bore his afflictions with amazing fortitude and patience. All that human hands could do in loving ministrations was done by his relatives and friends during his long illness.

Rainier, Md.; Mrs. Bertha Young and son, Calvin; Mrs. Emma French and daughter, Gladys; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Newton and son, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbons; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Fowler and son, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Young, Master Earl Young and Mr. Ray Hickey, all of Washington, D. C.

Among the beautiful floral tributes was one from the Post Office force of Manassas, one from the first year high school class, of which his daughter, Hazel, is a member, and one from the ninth precinct of the Metropolitan police force, of Washington, D. C., of which his son, Winfred, is a member.

OCCOQUAN

Prompt defense of the Occoquan workhouse or work farm comes from social service workers acquainted with conditions at the farm. If there is need for an investigation it will be ordered by the commissioners, but it would seem that there is some misunderstanding or exaggeration of alleged evils at Occoquan. The District has believed that it has there a model penal institution, where prisoners are given plenty of wholesome food, where they have a comfortable place to sleep and where each convict has a manual task in the open air suited to his capacity. There is no reason to change that belief. There has never been a penal or correctional institution that has not been the subject of attack. In many instances the attack has been justified, but in most cases the contrary has been found. Often the attack or criticism is due to good motives. Sometimes a visitor, moved to compassion for prisoners, feels that not enough is done for their welfare, and exaggerated tales of evils at the institution come into print. Perfection is as hard to attain in running a penal institution as in doing other things and the best to be hoped for is an approximation of perfection and that the bodily and spiritual needs of prisoners will be well taken care of. When the change was made from the old lock-up workhouse to the present work-farm system it marked a great advance. Not long ago workhouse convicts, or the "chain gang," worked on the streets, under supervision of armed guards, and returned to the locked-in cells after the day's work. The penal farm was a change for the better, both for prisoners and the public. Very little, if any, complaint has been heard that prisoners at Occoquan are underfed or overworked, and there are no charges of brutality toward the convicts. The work-farm is probably not a place where virtuous citizens would choose to spend a vacation, but it is to be accepted as a fine penal institution until the contrary is proved. —Washington Star.

UNCLE SAM DOUBLE-CROSSED

Although America threw the balance of power into the World War that wrested victory from the enemy, financed its associates in that undertaking to the amount of more than $11,000,000, declined to participate in the reparation payments authorized by the Versailles treaty and maintained an army of occupation in Germany, at the request of its associates in that war, for more than four years after the signing of the armistice, it is being shamefully double-crossed by the latter in respect to one item of reimbursement, for which specific first-lien payment was provided in that treaty for its benefit out of first cash collections. By maintaining an army of occupation in Germany during the period indicated, the United States has expended in costs more than $250,000,000 of hard-earned money taken from the pockets of its taxpayers.

The reparation commission has collected already in cash and "in kind" from Germany approximately $8,000,000,000. The United States has received from the collections thus made, or from any other source, not one single penny to be applied to the cost of its army of occupation. Instead, the reparation commission has distributed all the cash collected among those governments entitled to reparations as such, disregarding America's just claim under treaty stipulation of reimbursement for expenses of occupation out of the first moneys received.

In the end, America may be beat out of this money altogether, but should European rivalries bring about another great conflict, America will have learned something about ingratitude and will not be so ready to finance it.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

SIT DOWN AND SIMPLIFY

Once upon a time there was a woman whose house ran badly because she was always getting rattled. Then a change came over her and her environment. Little by little her life straightened out, her house became orderly and her days likewise. A friend likewise of the nervous type, always behind with everything she wanted to do, asked her secret.

"It's very simple," said the serene friend. "In fact, simple is the word. When I get all fussed over the number of things there is to do in a day, I just stop everything, sit down and simplify. I pick out the things that are absolutely necessary, and I arrange time for those first. (Do not forget at this point that time for enough rest of body and soul to keep your own strength up and your spirit sweet is one of the most necessary.) Then I scrutinize the rest with an eagle eye. If they can be cast off entirely, I do so. I try not so much to postpone as to clear out. Postponing is apt to clutter up the future.

"The first thing I know, all the necessary things are done and the day has a margin of pleasantness and peace. It's the unruffled mind that turns the trick. Next time you get yourself into a mess, just stop right where you are, sit down and simplify."—Moorefield Examiner.

SAFETY MEASURES

The House has passed two bills which, if they do not represent a step toward better highways, at least look to the protection of both motorists and pedestrians from violent misadventure. One of these measures, passed without a dissenting vote, is designed to restrain the motorist who attempts the dangerous feat of mixing gasoline and the well-known hooch. The other prohibits the use of dazzling headlights.

Both are important, that aimed at the intoxicated driver being particularly worthy of applause. The provision for revocation of such driver's license for the period of one year certainly reflects no unnecessary harshness. It is likely to prove vastly more efficacious than the infliction of a mere fine. The requirement of a small money forfeit has, in fact, been notoriously weak as a means of converting thirsty drivers to a course of sanity and responsibility. State and municipal governments should unite to protect the public from the constant menace which such drivers represent.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

CONSCIENCE

A conscience is a funny thing,
You don't know it's along,
Until the times you start to do
Something you know is wrong.
And then it hammers at your breast
With all its might and main,
And gives you not a minute's rest
Until you're right again.

For weeks and weeks you travel on
And never know it's there.
It doesn't interfere with you
So long as you are fair.
But when you start some shady trick
That later you'll be rueing,
Your conscience then is very quick
To ask you what you're doing.

You cannot fool your conscience much,
It's always onto you.
It knocks exactly all the time
The things you want to do.
It's just as still as it can be
When you are going right.
But, when you stoop to trickery
It's then it starts to fight.
—Edgar A. Guest, in Detroit Free Press.

LAUGH AND LIVE

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND

A wealthy dry goods merchant of Jewish persuasion, called at his usual cigar counter and remarked, "Jimmie! My friend from New York will be with me today and when we come in, I will call for cigars and you hand out those 5 cent kind and I will say 'Those cigars three for 50 cents.' 'Later I will come in and get my change.' The event transpired, as outlined, the 50 cents was paid but when the W. D. M. called for his change, Jimmie said, you ain't got no change comin'; that New York friend came in and he says I don't want those three for 50 cent cigars! Give me 10 five cent cigars, and I did.

EPITAPH

There was a young rounder named Lou,
Who made up a batch of home brew,
He took a wee nip,
Just a moderate sip,
Funeral—Tuesday at two.

AND AFTER SHE GOT IN—?

Six-year-old Dora returned unusually early from school the other day. She rang the door bell. There was no answer. She rang again, a little longer. Still there was no response. A third time she pressed the button, long and hard. Nobody came to the door, and she pressed her nose against the window pane and in a shrill voice, which caught the ears of every neighbor, called:

"It's all right, mamma, I'm not the instalment man."

THE PROBABLE REASON

The editor of the "heart-to-heart" column of a daily newspaper received the following letter from a young man:

"Please tell me why it is that a girl closes her eyes when a fellow kisses her?"

To which the editor replied:

"Send me your photograph and perhaps I can tell you."

PRO RATA

Mrs. MacDuff—"This life guard saved your life, MacDuff. Shall I give him a dollar?"
Mr. MacDuff—"I was half dead when he pulled me out. Make it fifty-fifty. Give him fifty cents."

AN ELECTION BET

Bean—"I'll bet you anything you want to bet that Henry Ford will be our next president."
Jean—"How do you make that out?"
Bean—"Well, Ford is carrying three-fourths of the people now isn't he? By 1924 he will be carrying them all."

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Bilkins had been a top kicker overseas and had naturally acquired a complete line of profanity, an unfortunate habit which clung to him when he returned to civilian life. He and Mrs. Bilkins consulted together for a remedy and finally hit upon what seemed a likely expedient.

"Bobbie," said Mrs. B. to their young offspring, "Daddy and I have arranged that he shall give you a dime every time he is caught swearing."

"Gee, that's great!" cried the youngster. "When are you going to fix the car, Daddy?"

Said a Mouthful

¶ During war time a lady went into a meat market and asked for 15 cents worth of porterhouse steak. The butcher replied: "Madam, you said a mouthful."

¶ Of course the butcher was sarcastic and not any too polite. If we desired to "say a mouthful" to the people of this community it would be condensed into the statement that the dollar saved and deposited at our Bank will prove one of the best friends you can make in a life time. Just try it and see.

The FUL-O-PEP Way

Gives You 1 Pound of Gain at Cost of 2 Pounds of Feed

Instead of only 1 pound of gain to each 4 pounds of feed, which is the basis of figuring cost of production arrived at by experiment stations covering several years experiments with grain feeding. Why continue to feed this old expensive way when The Ful-O-Pep Way will give you the same gains with only half the feed?

FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH

Costs Less Per Pound of Gain Made Than Any Other Feed

Start your chicks the third day on Ful-O-Pep Chick Starter. Change gradually at six weeks to Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash, keeping it before your chicks at all times. Growing Mash, because of the high feeding value of its Oatmeal, fish and bone contents goes twice as far as grain feeds—every ounce is digested by chicks' delicate digestive organs—there is no waste and when compared with results cost only half as much in pounds of feed consumed for gains in pounds of meat produced. Furthermore, your losses from bowel and digestive troubles that arise from feeding hard indigestible grains will be very much less and your flock will be of even growth and development. Feed in conjunction with the mash.

FUL-O-PEP COARSE CHICK FEED

A HIGH QUALITY GRAIN RATION FOR GROWING CHICKS

That's just exactly what Ful-O-Pep Coarse Chick Feed is—it's just the right size and contains the correct proportions of each ingredient for chicks from four weeks to three months of age—or until they are old enough to consume Ful-O-Pep Scratch Grains.

"Love Is An Awful Thing"

OWEN MOORE IN "LOVE IS AN AWFUL THING"—SELZNICK PICTURES

The story of "LOVE IS AN AWFUL THING" concerns the efforts of a young man to let the dead past bury its dead. But the Past, personified by an old sweetheart, refuses to do so. Mr. Moore, as the young man, then decides to take matters in his own hand as he wants to marry someone else, portrayed by Marjorie Daw. He tells the old flame he is a married man with six children. He hires a lady to pose as his wife and engages six children at a theatrical agency. Everything is going lovely when his fiancée comes upon him in the act of embracing his wife and fondling the young ones. Then the fun, for the audience, begins. Moore encounters difficulty after difficulty and each is more unexpected and amusing than that preceding.

"LOVE IS AN AWFUL THING" is certainly cleverly done and is probably the best thing Moore has appeared in recently. DON'T MISS IT.

CLIFTON

Death has again entered our midst. The first victim, Mrs. G. A. Hall, passed away Sunday morning at 7:45. She had been very ill for more than a week so that her death was not quite as much a shock as it otherwise would have been. Mrs. Hall was laid to rest in Clifton cemetery Monday afternoon after a brief and beautiful service in the Presbyterian Church conducted by Rev. T. H. MacLeod, who has been associated very closely with Mrs. Hall in the work of the church for the past two or three years.

Mrs. Hall had reached the age of seventy-two years, although to her friends and acquaintances she seemed much younger.

She is survived by her husband, two sisters and one brother. One sister, Mrs. G. H. Detwiler and the brother, Mr. W. H. Richards, reside in Clifton, the other sister lives in Ohio. Mrs. Hall will be very much missed in the Presbyterian Sunday School where she has been a teacher and worker for the twenty years or more that she has resided in our village. Although in very frail health for several years, she was regular in attendance, coming many times when she was suffering much pain. She was a great favorite among the young for whom she had great sympathy and love. She was also very much interested in the welfare of the community at large.

Mr. Josh Buckley made a few remarks on the loss the Sunday School had sustained on Sunday morning, and it was decided that the treasurer advance funds for a floral tribute to be placed on her casket.

Mrs. George C. Round and Mrs. T. R. Bywaters, of Manassas attended the funeral. The pallbearers were: Messrs. D. W. Buckley, George Kidwell, W. H. Mathers, A. D. Bauserman W. B. Doak and G. C. Vernon.

The other victims of the reaper death were colored, Mason Campbell, a colored man probably forty-five years old, who lived alone on the old Jacob's place about two miles from Clifton, died one night while alone and was found next morning. The other was Henry Dixon, of Clifton, an older man, probably seventy or seventy-five years of age. His death occurred in a Washington hospital following a stroke of paralysis.

It is reported that Mrs. Burnside, mother of Mrs. George Kidwell, has been stricken with paralysis in Washington, where she resides with one of her daughters.

Miss Ada Robey and Mr. Bryan Johnson were married Saturday, March 3, at Fairfax Courthouse. They are residing at Clifton.

Misses Frances Buckley and Helen Elgin spent the week end at their homes here, returning to their schools in Falls Church Sunday night.

Miss Harding spent the week end with relatives in Washington.

Rev. T. H. MacLeod resumed his morning service Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Church after a vacation of five weeks.

Mr. Anthony Hart is able to resume his duties in the postoffice after several days' illness.

Mrs. Richard Burke is reported quite ill at the home of her son, Mr. John Burke.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudd Fullerton are the proud parents of a new arrival, also Mr. and Mrs. William Crouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Wharton Hunsberger are the proud parents of a son.

The ice and wind last week did much damage to trees in this vicinity, breaking off branches and in many instances snapping off the entire tree.

It is rumored that there will be another wedding here in the near future.

Miss Christine Taylor entertained a party of her young friends on her sixteenth birthday last Thursday night.

Mrs. Curtis and daughters entertained Friday night in honor of John Curtis, who was home on a furlough from the navy.

Miss Helen Quigg gave a taffy pull to a few friends Friday night.

BRENTSVILLE

The ladies of the Brentsville Kensington will meet at the home of Mrs. Louis Mowry on March 22, please notice the change in date. The members are requested to respond at roll call with quotations from Longfellow.

Miss Olive Holsinger, of Washington, spent the week end at her home here.

Mr. Nelson Bradshaw, who attends school in Washington, spent the week end with his parents.

Miss Dora Lam, who has been visiting her sister at Warrenton, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Counts are the proud parents of a baby girl, which arrived last Sunday night.

MINNIEVILLE

From the looks of the weather we feel quite sure that Mr. Ground Hog must have seen his shadow.

Mrs. Fannie Shackelford visited Mrs. James Dane on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Luther Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Alexander and son, Martin, visited Mrs. E. J. Alexander recently.

Messrs. William Neale, George Templeman, Betram Kjdwell, Walter and Paul Clarke, all of Washington, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clarke Sunday.

Mr. D. H. Macaughy was the guest of his sister for a few days this week.

Miss Ocie Bailey was in Washington on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Boatwright and children were the guests of Mrs. Boatwright's mother on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Clarke and little daughter, Marguerite, were the guests of the Clarks on last Sunday.

Several cars have been passing through Minnieville and when they leave the new built road we can imagine they realize what a good road means, for they often have a pushing time. Folks let us try this year to make the road go farther for no person wishes to stay at home all the time or when they go have to get stuck. Our community wishes to thank each and every one who contributed so liberally towards helping to build the road from Neabco Run to Clarke's store. When we look back to the past winters when our roads were in such dreadful condition it makes us appreciate the fact that we are greatly benefited by our present road. We wish to extend our thanks to Mr. Tubbs, who superintended the building of the road. He worked faithfully to make the funds build every foot of road he could. We hope he will work as hard for us this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Clarke and son Jack, motored to Stafford and visited Mrs. Clarke's father and brothers last week.

Mrs. F. C. Florence called on Mrs. Hershey on Sunday.

Little Jack Clarke is on the sick list.

HAYMARKET

Mrs. Rose Alrich Verden, wife of Mr. Joseph Verden, of Baltimore, died at her home in that city on Friday last. She was the sister of Mrs. Bailey Tyler and Miss Sue Alrich, of Haymarket, and daughter of the late Rev. William Alrich, who was the first rector of St. Paul's Church, this village, after the close of the Civil War.

The Misses McGill have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in the sudden death of their brother, Mr. Grafton McGill, which occurred in Washington last Thursday. The funeral took place on Saturday from St. Matthew's Church, Washington.

Mrs. J. Edward Jordan, of the faculty of Haymarket school, met with a painful accident last Friday, at the school building, when by some mischance she lost her balance and fell from the upper porch to the bottom of the first flight of steps. She was badly bruised and cut about her head and face and received other injuries which though causing much suffering were not of a serious nature, and she is recovering nicely.

Mr. G. P. Disoway is spending some time with friends in New York.

News has reached here of the death in New York of Mrs. Annie C. Grinnan, wife of the late Rev. A. G. Grinnan, who was once rector of St. Paul's Church. The funeral took place in Richmond last Wednesday, the interment being in Holly Wood cemetery.

GAINESVILLE

Mr. Gorge Allen and Mr. John Sweeney motored to Washington on Sunday.

Mr. Gwynn Thorpe made a business trip to Manassas on Friday.

Mr. Frank Cockerille, of Green-Greenwich, and Mr. Frank Garber, of Harrisonburg, were in Gainesville the early part of the week to purchase horses for hunters.

Much interest has been awakened by the announcement of a probable cheese factory here and tentative plans are being formulated towards this enterprise.

The newly elected directors of the Bank of Haymarket will hold a meeting at the bank on Thursday next.

The many friends of Misses Inno and Loretto McGill tender their sympathy in the sudden death of their devoted and only brother, Grafton McGill, who died in Washington last Friday. Mr. McGill was an attorney of New York and Washington and was favorably known in this community, having been a frequent visitor to "Loengill," the home of his sisters near Gainesville.

In which we tell a story while not original is, we believe, appropri- ate to our business

¶ In the city of Bagdad lived Hakum, the Wise One, and many people went to him for counsel, which he gave freely to all, asking nothing in return.

¶ There came to him a young man, who had spent much but got little, and said: "Tell me, Wise One, what shall I do to receive the most for what I spend?"

¶ Hakum answered: "A thing that is bought or sold has no value unless it contains THAT WHICH CANNOT BE BOUGHT OR SOLD. Look for the priceless ingredient."

¶ "But what is this PRICELESS INGREDIENT," asked the young man.

¶ SPOKE THEN THE WISE ONE: "MY SON, THE PRICELESS INGREDIENT OF EVERY PRODUCT IN THE MARKET PLACE IS THE HONOR AND INTEGRITY OF HIM WHO MAKES IT. CONSIDER HIS NAME BEFORE YOU BUY."

¶ MY NAME AND MY HONOR ARE BACK OF EVERY PRODUCT I SELL. MY PATRONS MUST BE SATISFIED.
