AN ERROR CORRECTED

Major R. S. Keyser Native of Thor oughfare, Not Front Royal.

We wish to correct an error made in The Journal of last week in which we stated that "Major R. S. Keyser, of Front Royal, was recently pre ented with a distinguished service cross by Major-General Lejuene, com-mandant of the Marine Corps at Quan-tico, for bravery in action."

We have since been informed that

Major Keyser is the son of Mr. Eugene Keyser, of Thoroughfare, and was born and reared in this county. We learn with pride that so distinguished a soldier is a native of Prince William.

Major Keyser is now the possessor of six medals: A Congressional Service Spanish War medal, an Interna-Case continued to eleventh day of tional Sharpshooters' Rifle medal, won in the World War in France, a Loyal Leopold, and two French Honor mittee of the person and property of medals, won in battle, and the one recently presented at Quantico.
