MANASSAS, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1923

$1.50 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

ACTIVITIES PAST YEAR AT M. A. H. S.

Detailed Account of What Has Been Accomplished By the Agricultural Department.

(By H. W. Sanders)

Extension activities promoted by the Agricultural Department of the Manassas High School during the year 1922 and 1923:

In co-operation with the county agent and the dairy extension division of Blacksburg a farmers meeting was held and the County Cow Testing Association reorganized. By personal visits to the dairymen of the county the membership was materially increased and the organization is now one of the strongest of its kind in the county. The teacher of agriculture is secretary-treasurer of the Cow Testing Association and the equipment of the association, including glassware and acid, is kept at the Agricultural building of the high school.

Two important meetings of the above association have been held during the past year. At the latter a speaker was secured to talk on the subject of Bull Associations and in the spring of 1923 a local organization was completed. The association contains four blocks and four bulls have been purchased and delivered to the members at a cost of $1,050. An effort is being made this month (June) to add another block to the association, as other farmers are beginning to realize the value of the organization. All of the members of the Bull Association, with one exception, are members of the Cow Testing Association.

The fourth annual fair of Prince William county was held in September, 1922. Improvement of livestock, farm crops and farm life in general has resulted from these fairs. They will be discontinued, however, owing to the difficulty of financing them and the growing popularity of community fairs in the county. The teacher of agriculture acted as secretary of the fair for the four years of its existence.

The Prince William County Farm Bureau was organized in the fall of 1922, the county agent, State Farm Bureau and local farmers co-operating. The organization contains 30 members and since the first of the year has done a gross business of approximately $9,000. It has recently been incorporated under the laws of the State of Virginia. The state director of extension work appointed the local teacher of agriculture director-at-large of the organization.

During the late winter and spring of 1923, 3,600 ears of corn were tested at the agricultural high school for root rot by the modified rag doll germinator method. The germinator, valued at $45.00, was built by the boys of the agricultural classes, who also assisted with the work of testing the corn, both during and after school hours. This germinator is one of the four in use in Virginia and is under the direction of a plant pathologist from Blacksburg. As a result of this test it was found that an average of 35% of the seed corn of the county was unfit for planting. This work will be continued next year on a larger scale, even though it will probably be impossible to meet the demands of the increasing number of farmers who are becoming interested in the work.

In order to demonstrate conclusively the effect of the root rot disease of corn a demonstration plot consisting of 20 rows has been started on the school farm. Plantings consist of five rows each of good and bad yellow and white corn and astonishing results are already evident to those who visit the plot.

A soy bean variety demonstration is also being conducted on the school farm, one of the boys having it as a part of his home project. The plot contains 554 rows—six rows each of six varieties of certified seed and three varieties that failed of certification. The seed and inoculating material for the demonstration were furnished by the Virginia Crop Improvement Association.

Extension teaching of agriculture was begun during the past year with very satisfactory results. Twenty-three boys and girls of Haymarket high school were enrolled in a class that met three times a week for two periods throughout the year, excepting the two winter months of January and February. This work will be continued next year and considerably improved.

DEATH OF CLAYTON HERNDON

Deceased Was Forty Years of Age—Buried at Fayman.

Mr. Clayton Herndon, of Kopp, died Monday night of this week from the effects of drinking the larger portion of a quart of corn liquor at one draught. It is said that Mr. Herndon had been drinking and that he came home with liquor in his possession. After going into the house he produced the can of corn and drank until the retainer was almost empty. In a few minutes after taking the last drink he fell over dead.

Mr. Walter Woolfenden was immediately dispatched for Dr. Merchant, who hurried to the Herndon home and found the unfortunate man well beyond medical assistance.

The deceased man is survived by a wife, who was Miss Wright, and three young children. Mr. Herndon was about forty years of age. He was buried at Fayman on Wednesday.

VAN DUZER WANTED BY POLICE

Charged With Giving Check for $1100 Which Was Worthless.

Washington authorities and private detectives began a search yesterday for Clarence D. Van Duzer, former representative from Nevada, who is charged with giving a check to a woman of this city for $1,100 which proved worthless.

The woman is said to have deposited the check, which was drawn on a Western bank, and upon being informed ten days later that the check was good began to issue her personal checks on the amount. Three days later, however, she was informed that the check was worthless.

A warrant for Van Duzer's arrest, on the complaint of Alice Decker was issued yesterday and the case turned over to Headquarters Detectives Cullinane and O'Dea.

Records show that Van Duzer was first arrested here in August, 1921, on an indictment found in Baltimore charging the sale of worthless stock in several mining and investment companies which he promoted. Justice Stafford dismissed a writ of habeas corpus for which his attorney applied and an appeal was taken. District Supreme court records show that the appeal is still pending. In April, 1922, Van Duzer was again arrested on a worthless check charge issued by the police of Knoxville, Tenn. Local records do not show the disposition made in this case.—Washington Post, Tuesday.

Van Duzer will be remembered by the citizens of this county as the gentleman who purchased the Prince William News from Mr. J. R. Meadows.

ALL-DAY MEETING JULY 29

There will be an all-day meeting at Buckhall, in the grove on Anton Lund's place, on Sunday, July 29.

Rev. D. T. Gregory, President of Shenandoah Collegiate Institute of Dayton, Va., will preach. He is a preacher of magnetic power. Special music will be a feature of the day.

It is the desire and intention to make this a great home-coming day for former residents of that community. Also a great rally of all the members of Manassas charge, United Brethren Church.

All Christians and others are cordially invited to worship with us.

of agriculture, was conducted in the eighth grade at Bennett school. This class was held twice a week for six months and met with such success that it will probably be made a nine months course next year.

Especially mention should be made of the close co-operation extended the agricultural department of the high school by the county agent through whose efforts several of the projects mentioned above were brought to a successful conclusion.

During the year eighty-five farmers were served in addition. This individual service included balancing rations, culling and castrating poultry, securing registration of livestock, testing milk, cream and skim milk, treatment of diseases, demonstration and information concerning pruning and spraying, testing soil samples, testing seed, and the construction in the school shop of articles for the farm and home. Such service as this, in addition to the regular instruction in agriculture, justifies the existence of the department of agriculture in the high school. You are invited to help increase its usefulness by urging boys to take advantage of the course offered in agriculture and calling on the teacher and students of agriculture for individual service.

The committee arranging the big bazaar and picnic that will be held on the Henry Farm tomorrow announces that everything will be in readiness for one of the biggest days Prince William county has ever had. Many visitors from adjoining counties and the city of Washington are also expected to lend interest to the day by their presence and co-operation. So large a crowd is expected that the Hon. C. J. Meetez has been requested to act as marshal to see to the parking of machines and to see to the comfort and convenience of those who will be in attendance.

Many prominent men, among whom will be Hon. R. Walton Moore, Thos. R. Keith and Hon. Walter Tansil Oliver, of Fairfax; Hon. C. S. Briggs, member of Congress, of Galveston, Texas; Hon. W. McDonald Lee, of Richmond; Hon. C. O'Connor Goolrick, of Fredericksburg, and Robert S. Barrett, of Alexandria, will be present.

RICE—LEACHMAN

On Sunday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Leachman was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Miss Sarah, daughter of Mr. Leachman, became the bride of Mr. Emmet Rice.

The bride and bridegroom entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Catherine Weir, and took their place before the officiating minister, Rev. Eutsler, of the local M. E. Church, South. The bride was attired in a printed French voile with trimmings of fur, and wore a close fitting hat. On her arm she carried a bouquet of brides roses. The decorations were potted plants and roses tastefully arranged.

After the impressive ceremony, congratulations were extended by the large circle of relatives and friends in attendance, and immediately after, delicious refreshments were served.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Frederick H. Cox, of Washington, sister of the bride; Mr. Shirley Leachman, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leachman and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice are attended by the hearty good wishes of the community where they are so well and favorably known, and it is to be hoped that at the end of the bridal tour, they may be found at home in Manassas.

The ladies of the Railway Postal Clerk's Wives Club held their July meeting in Del Ray on Tuesday with Mrs. R. G. Craver and Mrs. John Gary as hostesses.

After the business session, the ladies were invited to the dining room, tastefully decorated in pink and white, where a delightful luncheon was served. After this a surprise "show-er" was given baby William Blake-more, which was gracefully acknowledged by his mother, Mrs. Roy Blake-more, president of the club.

Those in attendance besides the hostesses were Mesdames Allen, Harry Blakemore, Clem, Compton, Rex-rode, Bowers, Stephenson, Roy Blake-more and infant son, of Manassas, Mrs. Paul Cooksey, of Brentsville, Mrs. Walter Clem and Mrs. Goode, of Rosemont.

The ladies of the Baptist Church wish to thank those who attended the lawn party last Tuesday night and helped to make it a success.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT CLIFTON

Louis Wells Falls Under Truck and Is Crushed to Death.

Louis Wells, eighteen-year-old son of Mr. Claiborne Wells, of Centerville, Fairfax county, was instantly killed on Saturday of last week by being run over by a heavy road truck from which he fell. The young man was employed on road work between Centerville and Clifton, and was riding on the truck from Clifton in the direction of Centerville and his home. In attempting to change his position on the moving truck, Mr. Wells lost his balance and fell lengthwise between its wheels. The rear wheel of the truck passed over his chest and head causing instant death. There were several other men on the truck, and in falling Mr. Wells grabbed one of them, but his hold was broken by the tearing of the shirt of the companion. Interment was made at Centerville on Monday, Rev. V. H. Council conducting the funeral services. The father and mother of young Wells survive him.

LAWN PARTY AT BELLEHAVEN

Senator Oliver and Mr. George W. Herring Make Short Addresses.

The ladies of the Bellehaven neighborhood held a very enjoyable meeting on the school grounds Saturday afternoon and evening of last week. Refreshments were sold, the proceeds to be applied to expense of working the road from Bellehaven to Holmes' corner.

Senator Walter Tansil Oliver, who had come from his home at Fairfax Courthouse, was invited to speak, which he did briefly. Senator Oliver referred to his service as a former member of the Virginia House of Delegates and as a member of the Senate. He said that he felt sure the voters would not turn a person out of office without some good reason and he knew of no such reason as applying to his case.

After Senator Oliver had spoken Mr. Geo. W. Herring, candidate for the House of Delegates against Hon. C. A. Sinclair, was introduced and invited to speak. Mr. Herring referred briefly to his candidacy and touched upon the bond issue question. He stated that he was for a bond issue as he believed the present generation should not bear the entire burden of road building, but that a part of the burden should be passed along to succeeding generations as they would derive a benefit from the construction of permanent roads.

The next entertainment held at Bellehaven will be given for the benefit of the church.

COUNTY AGENT PLANS MEETINGS

Urges All Who Are Interested in Marketing Poultry and Eggs to Attend.

(W. L. Browning, County Agent)

Those of you who are raising poultry for what there is in it realize that a few cents per dozen one way or the other means the difference between profit and loss in your poultry operations. It is impossible for the average small poultry producer to go on the large markets with a small volume of eggs and get any recognition. The average store and huckster purchasing eggs pay the same price for eggs four days old as for those four weeks old. Large eggs do not bring any more than small pullet eggs, so the result is we get paid for the poorest quality that the buyer may be on the safe side.

Recently, through the Division of Markets, there has been formed a State Marketing Poultry Association. This organization has been fostered by a group of commercial poultrymen with the aid of the Division of Markets and marketing specialists from Washington. The object of the association is to market its members eggs to the very best advantage, these eggs to be graded as to size and color and candled by men who are qualified to do the work. This association should mean to the poultry industry of the state what the New Jersey Poultry Producers Association means to that section of the country.

I have arranged with our poultry husbandman, Mr. A. F. Treagle, from Blacksburg, to be with me this coming week and meet those who are interested in getting more for their eggs. Our meetings will be held at a number of farm houses where we are anxious to have all those in the particular sections to assemble. Mr. Treagle will explain the plan and aim of the association with the idea of getting Prince William county poultry producers to join and participate in its advantages. It is our plan to have a sufficient number of poultry producers in this county join the association to entitle us to a representative on the board of directors. If you are interested in getting a proper price for your product meet us at one of the following places:

Minnieville cheese factory, Tuesday, July 24, 9 a. m.

Manassas, in courthouse, Tuesday, July 24, 2 p. m.

A. L. Emmon's home, Bristow, Wednesday, July 25, 10 a. m.

Wm. L. Lloyd's home, Nokesville, Wednesday, July 25, 2 p. m.

A. W. Amphlett's home, Haymarket, Thursday, July 26, 10 a. m.

Chas. R. McDonald's home, Catharpin, Thursday, July 26, 2 p. m.

If you are interested in more profit per bird you are interested in these meetings.
