KIWANIS CLUB FOR CLEAN-UP

Want Citizens to Clean-up Premises, Buy at Home, and Pay Their Bills.

The suggestions that the people of the town co-operate in a movement to clean-up their premises and the streets, and that the benefit of buying at home be brought to the attention of the residents of the community, and the advisability of observing a pay-up month each year, won first prize as the three most important things which the local Kiwanis Club could accomplish for Manassas, at the regular weekly meeting of the club held in the parish hall of the Episcopal Church Friday night. The suggestions were offered by Fred R. Hynson, who outlined the methods which the club could adopt to accomplish tangible things for the town.

Mr. Hynson, in behalf of Hynson & Bradford, who he represented, offered a $20.00 prize for the person whose premises were the cleanest, and most attractive in the town. The prize will be awarded by a board of judges composed of the president of the Woman's Club and others appointed by the president of the Kiwanis Club. At the conclusion of the talk made by Mr. Hynson, Eli Swavely offered an $18.00 prize for the second best kept business or residential lot in the town.

Raymond Ratcliffe, president of the club presided at the meeting. Misses Ray Leachman and Mabel Cooke were sponsors.

Dr. Moore practiced his profession for a number of years at Paris, but for several years had made his home at Marshall. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Pauline Settle, of Paris, and one son. He is also survived by his father, Nicholas B. Moore, of Berryville, three brothers and six sisters.

Knevels, who for about six years has managed the orchard on the Ben Lomond farm, will assume the management of the entire farm.

ARMISTICE DAY IS OBSERVED AT SCHOOL

Dr. Swavely Delivers Address at Brief, but Impressive Exercises Held Here.

"Although we are too close to the war to measure its real and permanent effects, we could not help but agree, that our country has proved itself among the nations," declared Dr. E. Swavely, principal of Swavely School, in a talk delivered during the course of the Armistice Day celebration at the local school. The ceremonies were brief, but impressive.

"The glorious heritage," he said, "belongs to the younger generation, who must realize that ours is a country of greatest opportunity. To take advantage of the opportunities, every young man should take a lively interest in public affairs, should realize that with opportunity comes obligation for which there must be earnest and intelligent preparation."

The exercises at the school were held in homage to those who made the supreme sacrifice in the world war.

HOMAGE TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER

(By Lieut. Colonel Thomas A. Jackson, Chaplains Corps, United States Army, Ret., of Washington, D. C., delivered on the occasion of the Pilgrimage of the Survivors of the First Division, American Expeditionary Forces in the World War at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery, Sunday morning, October 6, 1924).

The History of the First Division is a closed book. I am not worthy to loose the seal thereof! In the Chancery of Heaven, known to God alone, Is the record of those whose duty was to cover with flowers. Ours is a pilgrimage of love and reverence— A pilgrimage safely guarded by unseen legions. We see forms and faces from the place we call home; Anxious for loved ones through long days and longer nights. The dark shadow fell on almost every home. Our homage to Woman who suffered most of all! This is neither time nor place for us to acclaim. Leave that to others! Leave it to the pilgrims— To those who dwell on mountains topped with emotion— To those who smell the raging battles afar off. Children will here clasp their hands in prayer. Silence! Profound veneration should this presence! Attend all from the valley of the shadow of death. Attend the dim shadow of a once mighty substance. Since all of Earth will come, will cause, will read— It is well to speak the language God first gave man. Oh leaves of oak! Come form our winding sheet. Leaves of strength! Come from the oak that defies the storm! Come rose leaves. See the place where dauntless valor sleeps. Come leaves of beauty. Leaves of beauty rest on Beauty's breast. Comes leaves of laurel. Mount high the Unknown Soldier's brow! Soldier! You rose from these ranks! Receive our homage vow. Come emblem of every hope. Come light painted flowers. Come those who first told man there is a God. Come flowers of Easter. Come immortal Spring. Come! Tell again the old, old story of His love. Come bless our leaning crosses. Come to our veiled Calvary. Come! Tell loud the Story! Let all the Earth rejoice! Come. Oh welcome Night. Cover us with thy star cloth. Catch every tear that falls—those beautiful bugles of Beville.

DEDICATE NEW CHURCH SUNDAY

and at Centreville. con

With all the solemnity of the Catholic ritual, the new church near Centreville, St. Timothy's Memorial Chapel, was dedicated on Sunday by the Right Rev. D. J. O'Connell, bishop of Richmond, in the presence of a congregation that overtaxed the capacity of the edifice.

The high mass which followed the blessing of the chapel was celebrated by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas F. O'Connell; the music of the mass being rendered by singers from Warrenton and Manassas, with Mrs. M. J. O'Connell, of Warrenton, at the organ.

After the mass, the congregation assembled around the huge boulder directly in front of the chapel where to the music of a band from Washington, they sang the chorus, The Star Spangled Banner and America, after which the draperies covering the boulder were withdrawn by Corporal Daley's father and the bronze tablet commemorating the dedication was shown at the front of the stone. This reads:

"Erected by the class of 1917, Holy Cross College, to honor the memory of its beloved classmate, corporal Timothy Joseph Daley, U. S. A., killed in service, February 26, 1918."

These ceremonies form an epoch in Catholic annals of Northern Virginia. The new structure, erected as a memorial to a soldier of the World War by ninety of the dead hero's classmates of Holy Cross College, Worcester, Mass., is one of four chapels respectively linked with locations reminiscent of four wars; the other being, the Sacred Heart Chapel on Braddock Road along which Braddock set out on his ill-fated march in the French and Indian War; St. Mary's at Fairfax, where are many reminders of Washington and of Revolutionary days, and All Saints' Chapel at Manassas on the Battlefield of Bull Run.

The bishop of Richmond administered the Sacrament of Confirmation, on Sunday afternoon, to about 62 children and adults, in All Saints' Church, Manassas.

Assisting the prelate were Rev. Father Charles, O. S. B., of St. Maur's Priory, Bristow, and Rev. Father Roche, C. S. S. R., of Annapolis.

The interior of the crowded edifice was brightly illuminated. Golden Chrysanthemums and burning wax tapers adorned the main altar, and the scene with the sanctuary was most devotional as the little ones entered, two by two, and knelt before the bishop who confirmed them. The services closed with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given

EDUCATIONAL WEEK FIXED

Next Week.

Next week, November 17 to 22, is American Education Week, when all the people of the United States are urged to dedicate themselves to the great task of universal education, as the vital need of democracy and of civilization. Newspapers are asked to publish articles on education, ministers to preach sermons, organizations of all kinds to give educational programs and parents to visit the schools.

Next Wednesday, November 19, is School and Teacher Day. The teachers and pupils of the Manassas schools especially invite the parents and all interested to visit the school that day. The boys and girls in every class room will be happy to welcome their friends and show their work.

The people should visit their schools from room to room, see the happy life of the little folk as they pursue the three R's in the newer and better ways. They should observe the fine, practical training given in the high school vocational courses, in home making, in agriculture, in shop work and in the commercial branches. They should observe a session of the student council helping with the school government, and note the vigorous life on the school playgrounds. Every indication will be found of the careful training going on in practical efficiency, in health and in citizenship.

Pupils will be detailed during the day to receive visitors and to show them the work. All are welcome.

REPORT OF BRADLEY SCHOOL

A report of Bradley School for the month ending October 31, showed an enrollment of 26 pupils, school being taught 23 days. The following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the month: Clarence Burk, Oral Cox, David Dove, Frankie Dove, Lillie Belle Cox, Viola Franklin and Doris Robinson.

TO HOLD POULTRY SHOW

Prizes will be offered to winners at a Community Poultry and Grain Show to be held at the Agricultural Department of the local High School December 6. Lunch will be served to those attending the show which will begin at 10 o'clock.

Entries for the exhibit will close December 3, and must be made with Abner Myers, secretary.

by Father Roche. The music in the afternoon was beautifully rendered by the same choir that furnished the music of the mass at Centreville.

D. J. TAVENNER, AGE 99, QUITS AS POSTMASTER

Philomont, Loudoun County, Man Was Oldest Postmaster in the Country.

David J. Tavenner, 99 years old, submitted his resignation Saturday as postmaster of Philomont, Va., a little town near Bluemont, to Postmaster General New.

Mr. Tavenner, who for years has held the record of being the oldest postmaster in the service, declared in his letter of resignation that infirmity of age made this step necessary.

Postmaster Tavenner was appointed to office at Philomont, January 9, 1882, and served until August 11, 1885. He was reappointed March 27, 1889, and served to July, 1892, and four years later was again selected for the office in which he has served to the present time.

It was said at the Post Office Department that Mr. Tavenner's resignation undoubtedly would be accepted by the Postmaster General.

DAIRYMEN HOLD MEETING HERE

Prince William County Dairymen Discuss Production and Marketing Problems.

John McGill, Jr., of Washington, assistant manager of the Virginia-Maryland Milk Producers' Association, and Dallas Berry, of Fairfax County, field agent of the association, made the principal talks at a meeting of the Prince William County branch of the state organization held here Monday night in the Town Hall.

Over-production of milk in the trade territory, and the marketing of this product by the producers, and competition of non-dairymen, were subjects discussed. About 25 members of the association attended the meeting.

The maintenance of prices at a level affording the producer an equitable return on his investment was successfully accomplished by the association, it was shown at the meeting, despite the efforts of dealers to depress the market.

Mr. McGill and Mr. Berry both expressed their confidence in the future of the dairying industry, and explained the many problems which the parent milk producers organization had to work out.

R. S. Hynson, president of the Prince William County branch of the association, presided at the meeting.

Bierne, who served for several years as a member of the State Industrial Commission, assumes the editorship of the Manassas Journal.

Mr. Land has served on the editorial staff of Richmond dailies, as city editor of the Petersburg Evening Progress, and The Journal regards itself as fortunate in securing his services.

EXPERIMENTING IN NEW METHODS

Supervisor of Vocational Education Selects Local High School as Model.

Experimental work in new methods of instruction in the Agricultural High Schools is to be conducted at the Manassas High School under the direct supervision of W. S. Williams, regional supervisor of Vocational Education of all Northeastern states, it was announced this week, following a visit to the local school by Mr. Williams on Monday. Mr. Williams was very favorably impressed with the work in the local school, and announced his intention of making this a model school for experiments in new methods of teaching. Courses offered in the school will be mapped out by Mr. Williams and executed by J. Powers Pullen, instructor of agriculture.

A detailed survey of northern Virginia farms is now being made with a view to studying the actual conditions and methods of cultivation and growing of crops. This survey is being made for the purpose of making the agricultural course a more practical one, and better adapted for conditions existing in this particular locality. It is expected that as a result of the survey and experimental teaching, that the agricultural courses will be far more practical than at present, and will go more fully into actual conditions existing on northern Virginia farms. After trying out the instruction methods in the local school, these methods are expected to be adopted by other Agricultural High Schools in the state.

RURAL MAIL CARRIERS HOLD DISTRICT MEET

Discuss Legislation and Other Here Saturday.

Rural mail carriers from the district composed of the counties of Arlington, Fairfax and Prince William, and the city of Alexandria, met here at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the home of J. L. Gregory, on Centre Street, for the purpose of discussing matters affecting rural mail carriers. H. J. Baker, of Alexandria, president of the district organization, presided at the meeting. W. T. Carter, of Fairfax Courthouse, vice-president, and 12 other members of the association were present.

Following the business session, the visiting rural mail carriers were served light refreshments by Mr. Gregory, who is secretary and treasurer of the association.

The rural mail carrier's equipment bill, which was passed by Congress at its last session, but vetoed by President Coolidge, and which will be brought up again when Congress convenes in December, was discussed by the carriers.

HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS AN ASSEMBLY PERIOD

Discuss Work of Student Council and the Value of Athletics in the School.

(Contributed)

An interesting assembly program was held by the High School last Friday morning at the courthouse, which had been lent by the county officials. The purpose of the assembly was to put the value of the athletic work before the school, and also, to explain the organization and workings of the student council to the new pupils.

The assembly opened with a prayer. This was followed by a reading of the constitution of the Athletic Association by Hawes Davies. Wilmer Jasper next read a history of the school athletics and concluded his paper with an account of the game which the High School soccer team played with Upper Marlboro last Wednesday. In this game Marlboro won by the score of 11 to 1, but this one point which was made by the Manassas boys was the first to be scored on Upper Marlboro on their home field in eight years.

Very interesting talks by Mr. Pullen and Miss Johnson on the value of athletics were then given. Miss Elizabeth Coleman next read a history of the high school student council, and Miss Osborn concluded with a description of the workings of the council and its meaning to the school.

OUR NEGLECTED ASSET

A community's greatest asset is its citizens; and too often in our agitation for street improvements, an electric lighting system, or possibly a water or sewer system, we neglect the development of our greatest asset—our citizens. The recently organized Kiwanis Club will fill a long felt need in this respect.

Many men have latent traits, many of them admirable ones, but which are often subdued, or suppressed through lack of opportunity for them to find expression. Still others possess qualities of which they themselves are ignorant. The business of developing men is a far more serious one than that of more material things, for it is only through the development of men that material things are accomplished.

The motto of the Kiwanis Club is, "We Build," meaning, of course, that its members as individuals and as an organization interest themselves in extending the helping hand to underprivileged children, thus building for the future generation, but in the building as it is meant by the motto, there is another very important factor which steals unaware upon those who associate themselves in this work, and that is the factor of building self. In the work for the unfortunate these men are building up their own character and their value to the community, and it is in this way that a Kiwanis Club becomes an asset. It helps to develop the community's

With our hurry for the material things we often do not stop to think of that great asset, our fellow citizen. If we develop him, through association and a renewed interest in his welfare, then the material things will follow in the natural course of events. One of the best means of securing street improvements, a better lighting system, or any other material community benefit, is to first develop our citizens. An awakened citizen, and one that is instilled through the closer personal touch with his fellow-townsmen as accomplished by work in such an organization as the Kiwanis Club, is a community asset. He is the most important asset, and yet the one most often neglected.

OUR VETERANS

The sixth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice which resulted in the silencing of guns along the battle lines in Europe in 1914, and the return to Prince William of hundreds of young men from the trenches and the replacement centres in Europe and the training camps in this country, was not as fittingly observed in Manassas Tuesday as it should have been. Throughout the country the day was accepted as one that had been set apart to render homage to the valiant dead of our latest war, and nowhere should this duty be neglected.

Manassas is richly endowed with a historical background the equal of that of any spot in the entire country. Here is where the ideals of chivalry should have reached their pinnacle, and certainly, the obligation to uphold our traditions should not be neglected.

Memories of the world war are possibly too fresh in the memory of our people for a true appreciation of the sacrifices made by the young men who answered the call to arms just a little over seven years ago, but as each succeeding armistice day rolls around, this appreciation will grow. In the years to come our veterans of the world war will take the place in the hearts of our people that is now shared by veterans of other wars. They will probably become the only surviving veterans of a war in which our people have participated, and from them as well as from the history of the deeds of others, our young will receive their aspirations. Why neglect them?

DISRESPECT FOR LAW

Should the ruling of Judge Morris A. Soper, of the United States District Court, in Baltimore, in the case of Representative John Philip Hill be upheld by the United States Supreme Court either the Volstead act will have to be amended, or persons making beer and wines for home consumption will be immune from arrest. Judge Soper held that the one-half of one per cent clause in the Volstead law does not apply to beverages made in the home for home consumption, and Representative Hill was acquitted of the charge of violating the Volstead act, even though it was shown that his "home-brew" contained 11 per cent alcohol.

Should the Supreme Court uphold the ruling of Judge Soper, then everyone could have their own "still." It is through such subterfuges that disrespect for law is bred, and the Volstead act should either be amended so as to admit of no misinterpretation or be repealed.

Excavations made under the direction of Oxford University at the ancient Sumerian city of Kish have disclosed the fact that the modes of feminine adornment in 3000 B. C. were very similar to the modes of today. Many of the same things are assuredly their ways are the same. They have found in the tombs of women, vanity cases containing red, black and green pigments. Jeweled hairpins, silver band rings, beads of lapis lazuli, ear rings and bracelets have also been recovered. While the flappers have had their counterpart in history, no signs have yet been found of a counterpart of the "cake-eater."

With divorces increasing at the rate of 11 per cent last year while marriages increased only 8.4 per cent throughout the country last year, it appears that if the present proportionate rates were maintained there will ultimately be more divorces than marriages. However, we suppose there will be a halt in the proportionate increase in divorces, after all couples have been divorced.

Our streets need cleaning not because others might get a bad opinion of us, but, because we might finally have a bad opinion of ourselves if we are satisfied with such conditions.

Fish and game need plenty of fresh, cool air and water for their protection, but they get only hot air and water in our State Department of Game and Inland Fisheries.

The Republican administration plans to make up the loss of $500,000,000 through the Tea Pot Dome lease by a reduction in expenditures of a similar amount.

LAUGH AND LIVE

(With thanks to our exchanges)

Johnny—"Well, what did you say to that new girl last night?"
 Archie—"Er, I asked if I could see her home, and she said she'd send me a picture of it."

"I never jump at conclusions," said the preacher. "No," replied the elderly member of the congregation, who is very frank, "I have noticed that from your sermons; you reach a conclusion very slowly."

Two men, once great friends, had lost sight of each other for years. One night William, who had come down in the world, entered a small and very cheap restaurant. As he took up the menu a waiter came toward him and looking up, William recognized his old friend James. "James!" he cried. "You a waiter! And in a place like this!"

"Yes," said James, caustically, "but I only work here—I don't eat here."

An old man once visited his daughter, who had antinacassars on the backs of all her chairs. While he was sitting by the window he caught sight of the minister coming to visit Jean. As the latter went to the door her father, not being accustomed to such finery, snatched all the antinacassars and hurriedly threw them under the sofa. After the minister had gone, John said to Jean:

"Ay, Jean, I was glad I was able to get yer washing out of the way before the parson came in."

"When I was at grandma's," grumbled Bobby, "she used to let me have two pieces of cake."

"Well, she shouldn't have," said his mother. "I think two pieces of cake are too much for little boys. The older you grow the more wisdom you will gain."

Bobby was silenced, but only for a moment.

"Well, ma," he said, "grandma is a good deal older than you are."

Physician—"Your digestion is bad. Make an effort to be happy. Don't worry—especially when you are eating. Laugh at your meals."

Newlywed—"Even if my wife has cooked it?"

Two colored men came to the outskirts of a crowd where a politician was making a campaign speech. After listening a while, one turned to his companion and asked, "Who am dat man, Sam?"

"Ah, doan' know what his name is," Sam replied, "but he certainly do recommen' hisself most highly."

STATE NEWS NOTES LATEST WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

State Education Week.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—"Visit Your Schools Today"—this is one of the slogans for American Education Week, November 17-23, and the parents of Virginia are requested by W. T. Sanger, Secretary of the State Board of Education, to act upon this slogan, for visiting the schools will react helpfully upon pupil, teacher, school and home, Dr. Sanger stated.

State C. of C. Meeting.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—Further unification of effort in the development of all Virginia will be asked by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce at a conference of all the secretaries of Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade, of similar organizations, in Virginia, which has been called to meet in Richmond on December 4. The meeting will be a one day affair and will be held at the Jefferson Hotel.

Appeal Allowed Mrs. Lee.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Mary M. Lee, widow of Colonel Robert E. Lee, of Fairfax, has scored a substantial advantage in her controversy with Dr. George Bolling Lee over the partition of the estate of the late General W. H. F. Lee, when she was awarded an appeal and supersedeas by the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Lee appealed from the decision of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county, where she contested a partition suit filed and asked for its dismissal on the ground that an identical suit was already pending in the Law and Equity Court of Richmond. The question the Supreme Court is asked to decide is whether jurisdiction for a settlement of the estate rests with the Fairfax Court or the Richmond Court.

Two Convicts Escape.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—Eighteen inches of steel-reinforced concrete, a three-quarters of an inch steel plate, sundry steel bars and a twenty-foot wall proved no barriers to two convicts in the Virginia State Penitentiary, who, late Saturday night, with an array of improvised tools, picked and sawed their way to freedom.

The convicts are Ernest Harper, 25, and Frank McGee, 30, both colored. Harper was serving a twenty-year term for first degree murder and McGee was serving fifteen years for housebreaking. Harper started serving his sentence in May, 1923, and McGee in June, 1923.

The getaway of the two men was effected after weeks, and perhaps months, of preparation, according to penitentiary officials, and the manner of their escape establishes a record for uniqueness.

Gasoline Condemned.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—Gasoline inspectors are requiring that shipments into this city be up to standard. In one day eight cars of the stuff were found to be low and were condemned. The stuff was not taken from the tank cars, but was ordered out of the State. It is reported that the companies which shipped in the gasoline ordered it returned to the refineries for the purpose of having it refined a second time.

This was the largest shipment captured so far, the inspectors picking up several cars at intervals. The war against the prices charged in Virginia is receiving attention, the difference in price being about 4 to 5 cents a gallon to that charged in North Carolina.

Make Big Liquor Haul.

Harrisonburg, Va., November 13.—Eighty-four gallons of Bacon Hollow moonshine, in half-gallon glass jars, was the record haul made by local officers early Saturday when they halted a car on the Spottwood Trail near Swift Run, and arrested the two occupants. The men gave their names as Pat Shifflet and Harris Frazier, both of Nimrod, Greene county.

This is believed to be the largest single seizure of moonshine ever made in Rockingham county. The men told the officers it was manufactured in Bacon Hollow and was destined for consumption at Martinsburg, W. Va. They said they expected a brisk Saturday night trade in the West Virginia city.

Sheriff C. W. Dove headed the party of officers which included John Funk, Jake Lam and Robert Caricofe.

Inspect National Park Site.

Luray, Va., Nov. 13.—A great crowd at Luray greeted the commissioners who came to Luray from Washington Saturday to inspect the Blue Ridge section with the view of locating a national park. Despite a dashing rain, the crowd took it all good naturedly, and had several pictures taken before the departure of the commissioners for "Skyland" on top of the Blue Ridge, seven miles from Luray. In the event that this section is selected for the national park, "Skyland" will be one of its central points. It is proposed that the national park be in the left side of her chest.

Cabinet Changes to be Made

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Changes in the Cabinet by next spring are looked for in Washington as a result of reports that some members intend to retire to private life for personal reasons and a belief that President Coolidge after next March 4 will prefer a Cabinet entirely of his own selection.

The Post-Office Department portfolio, long regarded as an office for the President's campaign manager, is mentioned as a post that may be offered to William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Democrats Rally Forces.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Recovered somewhat from the crushing defeat at the polls Tuesday, Democratic leaders have begun to gather up the remnants of their party, with the view of rehabilitating the old machine for future contests. As a first step in that direction party leaders are discussing the advisability of selecting a chairman of the Democratic National Committee to succeed Clem L. Shaver, of West Virginia, who was given the post at the request of John W. Davis, defeated Democratic candidate for President.

Senator Lodge Dies.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The death of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge caused profound sorrow throughout the national capital. In all walks of life, as well as in official and executive circles, the passing of the distinguished legislator, author and scholar was genuinely mourned.

President Coolidge was deeply affected by the loss of the Senator, and in a formal statement, characterized him as "one of the great men of our times."

The executive was unable to attend the funeral on Wednesday, at Christ Church, Cambridge, Mass., but designated Secretary of State Hughes, Secretary of War Weeks and Captain Adolphus Andrews, the secretary's naval aide, to represent him at the services. Bishop William Lawrence, college-mate of Senator Lodge, officiated at the services, assisted by Rev. Prescott Everts, rector of Christ Church.

Secretary of Labor Quits.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, has informed President Coolidge he wishes to retire from the Cabinet after March 4 next.

Mr. Davis is the only cabinet member who has indicated he desires to retire, it was said officially at the White House.

Meanwhile, it was said, President Coolidge has given no consideration to other possible changes in his cabinet, and has expressed the hope that Mr. Davis will remain.

Mrs. Harding Near Death.

Marion, Ohio, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Warren G. Harding was reported as hovering between life and death by her physician, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, who reported her condition as unchanged. Little hope was held for her recovery.

Smallest Crop in Years.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The smallest corn crop since 1913 was the reward of American farmers this year who planted the fifth largest acreage to that crop in the history of farming. Not only was the harvest substantially below those of the last four years, but the merchantable quality of this year's crop is the lowest in thirty years, with the exception of 1917.

Preliminary estimates of production issued Monday by the Department of Agriculture placed the crop at 2,470,538,000 bushels, the acreage at 105,604,000 or 1.4 per cent more than last year, and the merchantable quality of the crop as 63.2 per cent. Corn production during the last four years has averaged more than 3,000,000,000 bushels.

The white potato crop, estimated at 454,119,000 bushels, is slightly larger than the big crop of 1917 and 1922. Per capita production this year is 4.08 bushels compared with an average of 3.76 bushels per capita during the last twenty years.

Pay Homage to Wilson.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Friends and admirers of Woodrow Wilson gathered Tuesday around his tomb in Bethlehem Chapel of the National Cathedral to pay a brief but loving Armistice Day tribute to America's wartime President.

The ceremonies, quiet and impressive, recalled by contrast those of a year ago, when the cheers of thousands greeted the former President as he delivered a brief Armistice Day address.

President Names Robinson.

Manassas Milling Company Making Many Improvements for Handling Grain.

The Manassas Milling Company, established in 1916 by B. Lynn Robertson, with a capacity of 35 barrels of flour daily, and which was increased to a 90 barrel capacity mill in 1920, has recently increased the capacity of the elevator for handling grain, and installed automatic scales for weighing grain as it is unloaded and loaded from cars. The mill also now has a daily capacity of two carloads of feed.

Business of the concern has shown a constantly increasing growth, and the brands of the local mills have now become a product well-known throughout Virginia and surrounding states. Wheat grown in Prince William, Fairfax and Fauquier counties is used in the manufacture of "White Rose" flour under which name the product of the mill is marketed. The Manassas Milling Company, taking as it does a large proportion of the wheat crop of this and adjoining counties, offers a local market for local crops. Better prices are thus obtained by the farmers in many instances through the saving of freight charges.

Within the past two years the Manassas Milling Company has introduced a self-rising flour under the name of "Bull Run Self-Rising Flour", which is used and recommended by many housewives as an exceptionally fine self-rising flour.

The feed manufactured by the local mills is made of Corn, Oats and Bran, and marketed under the patented name of "C. O. B." feed. A Batch mixing machine has recently been installed for the manufacture of the feed.

Since its establishment the Manassas Milling Company has purchased from farmers 240,000 bushels of wheat, and sold the product manufactured from this wheat, to consumers in this and adjoining states.

The Manassas Milling Company, with a payroll of about $1,000 per month, is an industry that is contributing a great deal to the up-building of the town.

CHURCH LECTURER HERE

The Rev. M. B. Lambdin, for 11 years pastor of the Montgomery, W. Va., Presbyterian Church, and who spent two years in touring Palestine and Egypt, making a study of biblical history, preached two excellent sermons at the local Presbyterian Church Sunday. Mr. Lambdin is now living in Washington and contributes articles on biblical history to church publications.

Leaders of Southern Churches Plan for Religious Teachings of Children in the Holy Lands

DR. JAMES I. VANCE, NASHVILLE, TENN.

BISHOP JAMES CANNON, JR., BLACKSTONE, VA.

CHURCH leaders from every part of the South are taking a large interest in the post-war problem of religious education for the remnants of the Christian races in Bible Lands. This interest recently crystallized in the departure for Palestine and Armenia of Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal Church and Dr. James I. Vance, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Nashville.

Dr. Vance, who is spending his entire summer in the Near East, was sent as the official representative of a large committee of churchmen, to formulate a scheme for religious education, which the Near East Relief will put into effect in its Golden Rule orphanages throughout Bible Lands. In a preliminary report just received here, Dr. Vance says:

"I have visited Cairo and ridden a camel around the pyramids. I have prayed where Jesus was born. I have spent a night in Nazareth. I have knelt on the traditional site of Calvary and the tomb in the Garden. I have rowed across the Jordan; stood on the shores of the Dead Sea; visited Bethany, Misphah, Jacob's Well, and many other places whose names are familiar to every student of the Bible.

"But the great stupendous fact in Bible Lands to-day is the work of our American philanthropy. When I think of the Bible teachings as to the care of children, I realize that the finest sight in the Near East is in the American orphanages, where thousands of smiling children are being brought back to life and hope.

At the morning service Sunday, Mr. Lambdin delivered a lecture of "Moses." At the evening service he spoke on "The Visible Power."

REPORTS ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

W. C. Aylor, of Milford Mills, reported to local authorities that while returning from Washington in his automobile about two o'clock Sunday morning, November 2, that he was fired on by occupants of another car which followed him for some distance as he neared Centreville. Mr. Aylor stated that he noticed that he was being followed after passing Centreville, and that he speeded up his car in order to outdistance his pursuers. He states that the occupants of the car following him fired four shots when they saw that he was attempting to get away.

Nearing the Portner farm near Manassas, Mr. Aylor slowed down to offer his pursuers an opportunity to pass, but when they failed to take advantage of this opportunity, Mr. Aylor states that he speeded up leaving them far behind. FOOD

TO BE HEALTHY, HEARTY AND HAPPY EAT WHOLE GRAIN WHEAT.

"It is intended by nature to sustain and maintain the normal human body in a normal state. But it also tends powerfully to restore to normal the body which has had its functions altered through the use of foods which do not supply the blood with the necessary vitamins and minerals. It begins its work of replenishment with the first serving and it keeps it up day by day until you are normal. If you are troubled with any ailment, not due to violence or pre-natal influences, Whole Grain Wheat can aid you in overcoming it, in fact, do more than any other factor in nature to make you normal, because it puts back into the blood what you have used up day by day as the blood feeds the nerves, bones, glands, muscles, teeth, tissues. You cannot take something away from the blood and have the blood the same unless you put similar elements back. Food supplies these elements."

SCIENCE SERVICE SANITATION

In selecting a place to dine several important factors must be considered, namely: SCIENCE — SERVICE — SANITATION. These three words being our daily motto, our goal is not reached until we complete our motto. Selecting this as our slogan, it is necessary for us to devote our entire time to the Restaurant business in which we specialize. Our help must be the best. We must buy the best that money will buy. Another very important factor is cost. This, of course, shows for itself. We invite and welcome your criticism. We brag on our low prices, but first we must complete our slogan—we must not reduce quality for price. SCIENCE — SERVICE — SANITATION. With these three words fulfilled, your worries are ours and you know just where to take your next meal. We can serve you well for less.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of gripe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseous Calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomel, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

VIRGINIANS---READ THIS

VIRGINIA SHOULD BE A PURCHASER OF HER OWN PRODUCTS

"In the state of Virginia there should be a fertile market for the products of her soil and of her manufacturing industries. Virginia farmers and Virginia industries are entitled to expect the patronage of their own people. All things being equal, certainly there is no legitimate reason why Virginians, for instance, should not buy flour manufactured by her own mills, or canned goods produced on her own soil and packed by her own canneries and numerous other things it may not be necessary to mention.

"All Virginians should be boosters for their own state. If we patronize our own industries those industries will grow and produce greater wealth. Why not adopt a motto, "Made in Virginia," and when we journey into other sections of our country impress upon those we come in contact with that we produce sufficient for our own needs and that our surplus is available for those who want quality.

"There are many undeveloped resources in our state. Agriculture is making an honest effort to place itself upon a more solid foundation. Co-operation among farmers in the marketing of their products is going forward in a satisfactory manner, yet there is still much to be done in this field of endeavor. Her streams afford magnificent water power which only needs development, and opportunities for industrial development are unlimited.

"What would become of your business if Virginia farmers purchased all their needs from other states or countries? Why deal in or buy farm products from out of Virginia when those who trade with you have them for sale? If you are a Virginian and depending on people in Virginia for your business, then why not give them your patronage? Merchants, manufacturers and business men rightfully claim the patronage of those in their city, community and state, when price, quality, etc., are equal to that of goods from mail order houses, while many of them at the same time are dealing in and consuming farm products from other states and countries while better products in Virginia are available.

"It isn't necessary to buy flour manufactured from western wheat and by western mills, or tomatoes and other vegetables grown and canned in some other state. These things and many others are produced in Virginia in sufficient quantities to supply our own needs.

"It is up to Virginians to pull together. We are getting a good system of roads, tourists are being attracted within our borders, there is now a movement on foot for the establishment of a National Park in the western section of our state. Only through the co-operation of every section can we hope for this park to be located in Virginia. Other states are offering very attractive inducements for the establishment of this park in their own wonderful mountains. The development of Hampton Roads, the unparalleled natural port on the Atlantic Seaboard, is dependent upon the full and complete co-operation of every section of the state, and every section will derive its benefit when it is made a real world port with ships entering and departing from and to every country of the world."—Taken from Virginia Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 203.
