Brown Ennis, who were killed by a train at Bristow a few months ago, when they were coming to town to dispose of rabbits bagged on a hunting trip. Suits were entered for $5,000 each, the railway company pleading not guilty to contributory negligence, and the cases were settled for $500, payable to the fathers of the victims.

PHILADELPHIA SLEUTH RECOVERS STOLEN CAR

New Jersey Boys Attempt to Drive Home in Auto "Borrowed" at Occoquan.

Two 15-year-old boys—Abraham Gass and Jacob Bacher, of Linden, N. J.—were arrested in Philadelphia Saturday with a car belonging to Mr. R. H. Whalen, a merchant at Occoquan. They were to be tried yesterday before the juvenile court in Philadelphia, but no word of the court's action has been received. The company through which the car was insured will take care of its return.

The boys are said to have admitted the theft of the car to the city detective who questioned them on suspicion before making the arrest. He telegraphed to Richmond for the name of the owner of the car and Mr. Whalen and Sheriff Kerlin were notified.

The young strangers were seen in Occoquan on the day of the theft and suspicion was directed to the town when Mr. Whalen missed his car, which disappeared while he was making a call in the town. Indications were that the car had been pushed a short distance before the engine was started.

It is the opinion of those familiar with the case that the boys are not old offenders, but that they were out of funds and seized upon this opportunity to hasten their journey home from a southern trip. Apparently they were "beating" their way along the highway.

RED CROSS TO MEET TOMORROW

Session to Take Place at Haymarket—365 Members Greet Annual Roll Call.

A special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Prince William County Chapter of the Red Cross will be held at the Parish Hall, Haymarket, Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

This meeting is called at the suggestion of the Washington National Headquarters in the interest of the county nursing activities. Miss Dugger, nursing field representative, and Miss James, Red Cross field representative, will be present. This will be the first executive committee meeting of the chapter since the nursing activities were established in the county under the auspices of the local chapter of the Red Cross.

The Eleventh Annual Roll Call has given a total to date of 365 members. This gives the chapter for its 1928 fund the sum of $182.50; considerably less than the goal of 600 members named by the national chairman as the quota for Prince William county. Yet those who labored for the annual drive are to be commended for their zeal. The returns from the various centers were as follows:

Bristow, 11; Buckland, 8; Catharpin, 8; Cherry Hill, 9; Catlett, 1; Gainesville, 21; Haymarket, 50; Joplin, 4; Manassas, 190; Nokesville, 41; Quantico, 4; Thoroughfare, 9; Waterfall, 12; Wellington, 1. Total, 365 members.

APPROVES WORK OF COUNTY NURSE

Kiwanis Sees Its Value And Favors Retention of Nurse Another Year.

Friday's meeting of the Kiwanis Club included the usual supper and a program arranged by Mr. J. E. Bradford in the form of an open forum which resolved itself into a discussion of the work of the county nurse. Mr. F. R. Hynson presided. The matter of retaining the county nurse was discussed at length by Supervisor James R. Larkin, Dr. E. H. Marsteller and Superintendent of Schools R. C. Haydon, while interest and opinions were expressed more briefly by others present.

It was apparently the consensus of opinion of all who spoke that it should be the policy of the club and other organizations formerly sponsoring this movement to give financial support to the county nurse for another year in addition to the year already under way and financially taken care of, the suggestion being made that Kiwanians endeavor to co-operate with the school leagues and various organizations as before.

Several of the speakers advanced the idea that in consideration of the county-wide scope of the work it should finally be sustained by taxation and paid by the county. Supervisor Larkin explained the condition of the county fund for such purposes and stated that in his opinion it would be impossible to get any action from the Board of Supervisors without more evidence from the taxpayers that an increase in the tax levy would be acceptable.

WARRENTON DIVIDES DOUBLE HEADER HERE

Boys Win and Girls Lose in High School Contests—Both Games Exciting.

The Manassas and Warrenton High School basketball teams divided the double header which was played here Friday night. The Manassas boys won by a score of 24 to 18. The girls lost to Warrenton by a score of 17 to 13. The boys' game was a very fine game indeed. It was marked by fast playing and good team work on both sides. While the girls lost, they played a splendid game, giving up their lead and the game in the last quarter. Of course we like for our teams to win, but in basketball, as in every sport, someone has to lose every time. To lose with good grace is one of the best features of sports, and it is not every team that can do it, but our girls' team certainly proved their wonderful spirit.

Tomorrow night the local teams play another double header with Washington and Lee High School. These games are expected to be very fast and interesting. We had the largest attendance of the season, thus far, at the Warrenton game. We hope to see still more at our next game. The school appreciates the interest the community has shown in our sports and we are also glad to see it growing.

Miss Rena Bryant Bevans will entertain a party of young friends at bridge Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart E. Bevans, in East street.

GREENWICH CLUB PLANS PROGRAM

Mrs. Middelthun Hostess to February Meeting—Standard Work Agreed Upon.

The Greenwich Home Demonstration Club met on Tuesday, February 7, with Mrs. N. K. Middelthun. Since the Greenwich Home Demonstration Club was one of the 44 standard home demonstration clubs in the state for 1927, all plans and programs were decided upon with the view of meeting the requirements of a standard home demonstration club. They chose for their community piece of work to continue the hot lunches at Greenwich school, to name their homes and to contribute towards the happiness of others. The following program was decided upon for the March meeting:

Roll call and answer: Best definition of home. A prize to be given for the best definition. Discussion led by club members:

1. How the farm house may be made more attractive for the young people.
2. Music for the home.
3. Co-operative work between parents and children.
4. Value of club work to children in the home.
5. Good books and magazines for the home.

1928 State Wash. Dress Contest.

Demonstration: Spring dress materials and designs.

Shrinking and setting of colors.

Social hour: Games, contests, music and light refreshments.

GAINESVILLE RESIDENT DIES AT AGE OF 80

Funeral of Jos. A. Florance Held at Greenwich Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Joseph A. Florance, a lifelong resident of Prince William county, passed away peacefully on Friday last at the home of his son, Mr. Robert H. Florance, at Gainesville. Mr. Florance was 80 years old and until several years ago was an active, successful farmer. Failing health compelled him to give up his old home, and he had been tenderly cared for at the home of his son.

Mr. Florance leaves three sons, Mr. Robert H. Florance, of Gainesville, Mr. J. A. Florance, of Norfolk, and Mr. William L. Florance, of Berkeley county, W. Va.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday by Rev. J. Royal Cooke in the Presbyterian Church at Greenwich.

DUVALL SIZES TRUCK

A Ford truck driven by R. H. Hampton was seized near Agnewville on Saturday by State Prohibition Officer R. H. Duvall and is held pending decision of the court as to its confiscation as a vehicle used for transporting liquor in violation of the prohibition law. The driver of the car is said to have served two terms—six months and three months, respectively—for prohibition violations in Fauquier county.

SWAVELY BREAKS STREAK OF ALEXANDRIA QUINT

Annexes Seventh Victory of Season After Alexandria Registers Ninth Win.

The most exciting basketball game of the season was staged in the Swavelly Gymnasium Tuesday evening when Swavelly defeated the Alexandria High School team by a score of 23 to 21. This boosts Swavelly's string of victories up to seven, while it ends a winning streak of nine for the Alexandria team.

The Swavelly team, although outscored in the first half by five points, came back in the second half with such a burst of speed and variety of attack that the Alexandrians were swept off their feet.

Swavelly showed evidence of such good teamwork that no one player stood out. However, Aman led in points scored, with 10 points, while Hayes was second with five.

OPERATOR HELPS RECOVER LOOT

Violins and Victrola Abandoned on Freight When Thief Is Chased from Car.

Three old violins and a portable victrola, stolen Tuesday night from the combination grocery and jewelry store of Mr. D. E. Woodyard, Farmers' Exchange building, were recovered this morning on a freight car where they were abandoned by the thief when he was chased from the caboose by the inspector employed to guard the train from trespassers. The remainder of the loot—10 diamond rings and seven fountain pens—was small enough to be carried on his person and no trace of it has been found. The train inspector unfortunately had no suspicion that he was releasing a robber with his haul. The stolen articles had been on display in a window at Mr. Woodyard's place of business, the man having removed a pane of glass to get them.

The clue which led to the recovery of the violins and the victrola was furnished by Mr. O. N. Hudson, night operator at Manassas, who recalled that a strange white man lingered about the station the night of the robbery and probably had hopped the freight which passed through at 2 a. m.

It is said that the identity of the robber is sufficiently well known to aid materially in his capture.

TRUCK SMASHED

A Ford truck belonging to Smith's bakery was badly wrecked near Nokesville Saturday when the radius rod broke. Mr. Joseph Hyde, who was driving it, fortunately escaped injury.

SENATE DEFEATS GAMBLING BILL

Overwhelming Opposition Registered Against Pari-Mutuel Measure.

The Barron-Doughty racing bill to legalize the pari-mutuel system of wagering in counties under local option was voted down in the Virginia Senate on Friday, by the overwhelming majority of 36 to 2. The only favorable votes the bill received were registered opposite the names of the two patrons, Senator James S. Barron, of Norfolk, and Senator George L. Doughty, of Accomac. Senator Wark Swank, of Rockingham, was the only absent member.

After a motion by Senator Frank L. Ball, of Arlington, "to postpone indefinitely," Senator Barron conceded defeat and pleaded first that members be saved the embarrassment of a roll call and then that all members vote against the bill except the patrons. It is stated that several members entered the Senate chamber with the intention of voting aye.

Besides killing the pari-mutuel racing bill the Senate passed 22 measures divided equally between House bills already adopted and Senate proposed laws, most of which were local matters affecting the state capital.

Transmittal of the tax code, a document of 1,000 pages to Congress, was also passed.

The bill, which originated in the Senate, was approved by the House with only two dissenting votes. The upper house at this time was busy with the rejection of the Folkes substitute small loan resolution and the advancement to its third reading of the Price racial integrity bill.

The Porter bill, relieving county treasurers from furnishing corporate bonds, was passed by the House, 64 to 25. A bill is now before the Legislature giving mutual insurance companies the right to furnish fidelity and surety insurance. Walker C. Cottrell, secretary of the Chandler commission, said that when the law requiring corporate bonds from county treasurers was passed, the insurance companies jumped the rates from 30 to 60 per cent.

The House bill making the fee for magistrates the same for conviction as for acquittal, was passed. The vote on its companion measure which would have reduced magistrate fees for issuance of warrants and convictions by one-half, resulted in a tie, 42-42, which, if the former bill is adopted by the Senate, will mean an added charge of $16,000 a year on the state treasury, according to the estimate of Auditor of Public Accounts C. Lee Moore, when the purpose of the legislators supporting both bills was to change the old law without lowering or increasing the fees.

GREAT AMERICANS

For the first time in its history the lower house of the General Assembly of Virginia has adjourned to honor the birthday of Abraham Lincoln.

At the same time comes a similar gesture from the north through the medium of the Schenectady, N. Y., Gazette, which has this to say of Robert E. Lee:

"From the outset Lee stamped himself as a masterly leader, as a gallant foe. At the head of any army, in any place, he would have won equal laurels. And through it all he displayed qualities which gained for him admiration then, and constantly growing as the years passed. For decades Lee was classed as a Southerner, as a sectional leader. As time has healed the wounds of the Civil War his greatness has come to be admitted—it was always recognized—more generally. And now we are coming to look upon him as a great American, as one of our great leaders, deprived temporarily of his proper place in history through the antagonisms created by an unfortunate conflict."

Our old friends who wore the gray will appreciate this generous word of praise for their beloved leader. That General Lee was more than a great Southerner—an American of whom the whole nation may well be proud—is gradually finding acceptance. Many Northerners, though, generous and well informed, agreed to it long ago, but the idea is still novel enough on northern lips for us to read with distinct pleasure and surprise a tribute like this from New York.

Sectional feeling crops out now and then wherever those who suffered have kept its memory green, but it is safe to assume that the last rites may be said over its bier when the South shall accept Lincoln as more than a great Northerner, and the North shall greet Lee as more than a hero of the South.

AMERICAN JUSTICE

From coast to coast—New York to California—a ringing answer has come to those who cry that American courts are making a travesty of justice.

There were many who predicted that Ruth Snyder would never see the electric chair, but New York exacted from the woman the same eye-for-an-eye punishment that was meted out to her co-conspirator, Judd Gray.

And now California has sealed the doom of William Edward Hickman, arch-criminal and fend incarnate, who in the abduction and murder and mutilation of little Marian Parker committed one of the darkest crimes in all American criminology.

Other crimes in recent years and in days gone by have been just as revolting perhaps, but never in the history of crime has a patient public become so aroused in its cry for vengeance; never have the diabolical details so fully awakened in the individual a desire to see such a fiend exterminated, put to death like a venomous reptile whose very presence is a challenge to civilization.

Alienists, according to their separate lights, did what they could to prove him sane or save him from the chair. His attorney, seeing his life suspended by the slender thread of inherited insanity, granted the horrors of the crime and sought to prove that no normal human being could be guilty of it. They tried to prove that his father was queer. They testified that his mother had spent long periods in an insane asylum—had even threatened to take the lives of her loved ones. None of this testimony stood the test of the jury of his "peers." Small wonder, when some of the strongest enemies of capital punishment can accept their verdict with a sense of grateful relief.

And whether capital punishment be wise and human, the certainty that justice will be swift and sure should put fear in the hearts of the criminal-minded—enough fear to stop some of the crime.

WAR AND CRIME

Fritz Kreisler, the great violinist, believes that the World War has made the children of its day a "Bloodthirsty and cold-blooded generation." He expressed this belief on his return from an eight-month tour of Europe when told of the Hickman case and other crimes.

"It is those young people who were children in the war and who heard of the gigantic sacrifice of life and seen to have inherited all the bloodshed and cruelty of war," he said. "I know. I see it in their faces and in their actions. Thank God it is not the soldiers. They came back tired and weary and settled down."

This is at least a thought for those who are appalled by the staggering details of youthful crime. It will not do, however, to forget that there is nothing really new in the history of crime, but news travels faster with each succeeding day. We are hearing what happens in the world over, instead of living in the comparative silence and ignorance of the past.

CURRENT HUMOUR

Sorry For the Queen.

An English professor wrote on the blackboard in his laboratory:

"Professor Wilson informs his students that he has this day been appointed honorary physician to her Majesty, Queen Victoria."

In the morning he had occasion to leave the room, and found on his return that some student-wag had added to the announcement the words:

"God save the Queen."

Mrs. D—decided to move into the country for the summer, and was both surprised and delighted to learn that an old friend of hers resided in the same place. Meeting this friend on the street, Mrs. D—said:

"I am quite a near neighbor of yours now; I have taken a house by the river."

"Oh, I do hope you will drop in some day," replied the friend.

The teacher was giving a lesson on "Snow."

"As we walk out on a cold winter day and look around; what do we see on every hand?" she inquired.

"Gloves," answered the red-haired boy in the rear seat.—Methodist Recorder.

"Any abnormal children in your class?" inquired the inspector.

"Yes," replied the harassed-looking schoolmarm, "two of them have good manners."

From the "Christian Advocate":

Old colored mammy: "Ah wants a ticket fo' Florence."

Ticket-agent (after ten minutes of weary thumbing over railway guides): "Where is Florence, madam?" Old colored mammy: "Settin' over dar on de bench, suh."

He Could Cure It.

Dr. William Osler, of Johns Hopkins and Oxford, tells this story:

An old darky quack, well known in a certain section of the South, was passing the house of a planter whose wife was reported to be dangerously ill. Stopping at the gate he called to one of the hands:

"I say, Rastus, how's the mistress?"

"Well," replied Rastus, "the doctah done say dis mawnin' dat she convalescent."

"Mumph! Dat ain't nothin', chile," said the quack, with an air of superior wisdom. "Why, I've done cured convalescence in twenty-foah hours!"

Not Guilty.

Sunday School Superintendent: "Who led the children of Israel into Canaan? Will one of the smaller boys answer?"

No reply.

Superintendent (somewhat sternly): "Can no one tell? Little boy on that seat next to the aisle, who led the children of Israel into Canaan?"

Little Boy (badly frightened): "It wasn't me. I—I just moved yere last week f'm Miz-zoury."—St. Louis Women at Work.

NEWS OF WEEK IN OLD VIRGINIA

High Lights of Happenings in State Told in Short Paragraphs

Memorial to Dr. Barrett.

Alexandria.—A beautiful ceremony took place in Indianapolis, Ind., when the portrait of the late Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, of Alexandria, past national president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was presented to national headquarters by the auxiliary's southern division. The portrait, a perfect likeness of Dr. Barrett, was painted by Mr. Charles Sneed Williams, of Chicago, and is a life-size study. Mrs. Rathbone Smith went to Indianapolis to represent the Barrett family at the presentation.

Best Virginia Poem.

Thomas Lomax Hunter, of King George, known as "The Bard of the Rappahannock," has been awarded first honors in the "spirit of Virginia" poem contest, according to announcement by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Hunter's poem, "Ode to the Spirit of Virginia," will be the frontispiece in the Virginia number of the American Motorist for April. Mr. A. J. Montgomery, managing editor of the American Motorist, Dr. Wilson Gee, of the University of Virginia, and Mr. Junius P. Fishburn, president of the Virginia Chamber of Commerce, judged the 415 poems submitted. "One Clear Call," by M. Clifford Harrison, of Blackburg, was declared second choice.

Another Cave Found.

Winchester.—Men grading a new state road east of Charles Town have discovered another cave. Reports have it that the cave will be explored with the view of commercializing it after the fashion of other caves in the Shenandoah valley. It is in the same kind of limestone region.

Woman Dies in Fall.

Luray.—Pitched from the horse she was riding up a steep mountain side in Rappahannock county, Mrs. Mamie Dwyer was found to be dead when onlookers reached her side. Mrs. Dwyer was on the way to the home of her mother, Mrs. William Cornell, who was desperately ill of pneumonia, and was within a short distance of her mother's home when she was seen to fall from the horse. It is believed her death was caused by heart disease. She was 41 years old and the mother of thirteen living children.

New Hotel and Theatre.

Fredericksburg.—A new hotel and a new moving picture theatre for Fredericksburg are in the offing. Bids for the construction of a new theatre at a cost of about $90,000 for the building alone have been submitted, and the contract is to be let in a few days. Equipment for the new playhouse is estimated to cost an additional sum almost equal to the cost of the building, which will give Fredericksburg a modern theatre.

Plans for the hotel provide for a building of sandstone construction to be known as the James Monroe Hotel, with 130 rooms at a cost of approximately $550,000. The site has not been chosen.

Your money in a saving account is safe from fire or theft, and is not only performing a patriotic duty but is increasing in value for you every day.

Isn't it strange, we find some people who horde their money in their homes and its idleness profits no one, not even its owner and 5 or 10 years later it has not increased any since first put away.

Do not wait until something happens to make you realize that the only safe place for your money is in the bank.

Little Jean is a regular attendant at the Sunday School and was selected in the role of a "spiritual granddaughter" of all the clergymen so honored. She is a great granddaughter of the late George W. Power generated in Fredericksburg is being supplied to the Marine Corps barracks at Quantico, which have been connected with the system of the Virginia Electric and Power Company. When the line was first put into use current was taken from Richmond because of the work of widening and deepening the canal which curtailed the quantity of current produced by the Fredericksburg plant. With the completion of the line to Quantico, electric service will shortly be available to citizens at Stafford courthouse.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By Senior Class

A meeting of the Agriculture Club of Manassas High School was held on Thursday evening, February 9, all of the high school faculty being invited. The meeting opened with an invocation by Mr. S. C. Harley. During the regular business meeting a name was chosen for the club, the Harry Sanders Club, in honor of a former agriculture teacher here. Mr. Pullen, the teacher in charge of the agriculture department, explained that this club is a chapter of the F. F. V. (Future Farmers of Virginia) state organization, which in turn is a part of a national organization.

The business meeting was followed by a fine program. Miss E. H. Osbourn, principal of the high school, briefly reviewed the growth of the agriculture department and pointed out where in progress has been made until now the Manassas High School agriculture department ranks sixth in the state of Virginia. FEBRUARY 16, 1928

NO. 12.

Mr. R. L. Pearson, who is now operating a modern, sanitary grocery at Warrenton, and one at The Plains, has recently opened a new store at Manassas, which will be run on a cash basis.

At the official opening last Saturday hot biscuits, cookies and waffles, made with Bull Run Self-Rising Flour, were served to the public. Hot coffee was also served. We welcome Mr. Pearson to our town and wish him success. He knows the quality of White Rose and Bull Run Self-Rising, as his customers at Warrenton and The Plains can testify.

He (enthusiastically)—"All my success, dear, I attribute to just one thing—Pluck, pluck, pluck!"

She (wistfully)—"But Arthur, how did you know which ones to pluck?" The little moths are never gay.

They do not dance or shout; What do they do when they attend—Those balls we read about?

Basketball games seem to be coming fast and furious. Get out and "root" for your home teams. An undeveloped body means a poorly trained mind.

Prof. Pullen—Is this perfectly clear now?

Stude—Clear as mud.
Prof.—Well that covers the ground.

Our Bed-Time Story.

There was a chap who conceived the idea of becoming a tight-rope walker.

He practiced. He stretched a wire on the ground and equipped with a balancing pole, attempted to walk the wire. After a little bit he concluded that it was wonderfully easy.

Before long he threw away the balancing pole and, much to his amazed delight, he found he really didn't need it at all.

Full of confidence, he stretched a wire about fifty feet from the ground. Climbing to the top of one of the posts, he struck out across the wire. The funeral was largely attended.

Moral—"Funerals" are being held every day for men who throw away their balancing poles too soon. Confidence is an asset, but overconfidence is a liability.

The subject of Rev. T. H. MacLeod's sermon at the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning was "The Man Lincoln."

The 4-H social held in the hall last Friday evening was quite a success. There were games of checkers, parchesi, bridge, five hundred and solitaire, as well as fruit basket, automobile tours and other games of that description. Miss Lippard and the girls of the club served a delicious butterfly salad with crackers. The net proceeds amounted to about $12.

Misses Opal Curtis and Elizabeth Buckley shopped in Washington on Saturday.

Mrs. Milton Twigg, of Cumberland, Md., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Buckley.

Work Proceeds on Dam.

The Bull Run Power Company's dam and plant are said to be progressing as rapidly as possible.

Mrs. Wyckliffe Buckley is suffering with a badly burned hand as the result of an explosion when lighting a gasoline iron. The wound has begun to heal.

The weather is so spring-like now that the farmers are beginning to plow for spring crops. Looks as if the old ground hog must have stayed out in spite of his shadow this time.

The Home Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Milton Johnson on Thursday, February 23, at 2 o'clock, with menu making as the subject of study.

Thoughtful Precaution.

A woman went to the bank and asked for a new check book. "I've lost the one you gave me yesterday," she said. "But it doesn't matter. I took the precaution of signing all the checks as soon as I got it—so, of course it won't be of any use to any one else."—The Efficiency Magazine.

The POLICY of PROGRESS

A STATEMENT by GENERAL MOTORS

It is the policy of General Motors to maintain continuous improvement, in every one of its car divisions, with no interruption in production.

This means that you enjoy the benefits of new engineering developments promptly—just as soon as they have been thoroughly tested on the 1245-acre Proving Ground.

It means that you can now order the new Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Oakland, Buick, LaSalle, Cadillac, or GMC Truck, and receive immediate delivery.

Behind this policy of continuous improvement is an organization so widespread and resourceful that it can make and sell quality automobiles more economically than any automobile manufacturer in the world.

In the north and south it logs and mills its own lumber. In the east it makes its own ball bearings and radiators. In the middle west it produces its own plate glass. Its plants are busy in 33 important American cities.

From almost 5,000 suppliers, its materials are obtained—steel by the hundreds of thousands of tons—wire by the tens of thousands of miles—upholstery by the acre—nuts, bolts and washers by the millions. Its sales and service take place through 33,000 dealers. More than 275,000 families look directly to General Motors for their livelihood—almost a million and a half men, women and children in every community in the land.

Meaning so much to so many, General Motors has felt a supreme obligation to look ahead.

Are there methods by which General Motors cars can be better built to better serve?

Are there new ideas which can increase the utility and pleasure and safety of motoring?

Are there new materials which can add to owner satisfaction?

Such are the questions that all General Motors engineers have always asked. The answers have made it possible, year after year, to offer an increasing measure of beauty in design, modern performance, riding comfort and distinct style. Thus in every price class, from Cadillac to Chevrolet, purchasers are constantly benefiting from the General Motors policy of progress.

SURGEON SEVERS SIAMESE TWINS

Delectate Operation Is Performer To Save One After Other Dies.

The separation by surgery of Siamese twins a week old to save the life of one of them after the other had died has been reported from Ryburn Memorial Hospital at Ottawa, Ill., says a news dispatch.

The twins were born near Marseilles, Ill., February 1, to Mrs. Frank Keller. They were joined in the lower part of the abdomen in such a manner that the same blood coursed through both bodies. Each weighed 5 1-2 pounds.

Dr. Paul R. Clark said one of the twins named Meta Marie cried lustily at birth. The other, also a girl, showed no signs of life save the circulation of blood pumped through the heart of Meta Marie.

Efforts to start life in the body of the other infant failed. Using a make-shift incubator built by the physician and the father of the twins, Frank Keller, they were taken to Ryburn hospital.

An anaesthetic was used after which the operation separating Meta Marie from her lifeless sister was performed. Oxygen was used for an hour to counteract the effect of the anaesthetic.

Within two days, Meta Marie was returned to her mother, normal and sturdy, physicians said.

It was a dark night, and after the breakdown the motorist emerged from beneath the car, struggling for breath. His helpful friend, holding an oil can, beamed on him.

"I've just given the cylinder a thorough oiling, Dick."

"Cylinder!" howled the motorist. "That wasn't the cylinder; it was my ear!"

Manassas Fisk Dealer Announces New Feature on National Broadcasting Chain.

The Fisk Tire Company has begun to broadcast a musical program from the radio station W. R. C., at Washington, according to an announcement made this week by Mr. W. E. McCoy, local dealer for Fisk tires.

The program is scheduled for every Monday evening at 10:30 o'clock. After reading the advanced information from the Fisk factory on the programs, Mr. McCoy urges as many people as possible to listen in. The Fisk period follows the General Motors Family Party hour over the same station, Mr. McCoy says.

"The music will come to us presented direct from the studio of WEAJ in New York City," Mr. McCoy states.

"The Fisk program is recorded as the most extensive system of radio entertainment in the history of the tire industry," Mr. McCoy declares. "In addition, the simultaneous broadcasting of this program over a minimum of 36 separate stations in 35 different cities constitutes one of the largest networks of chain broadcasting ever effected," he said. "With the cooperation of the five leading stations on the Pacific coast, this nationwide program will enable over twenty million radio fans to hear the Fisk program through their various local stations."

This entertainment will be presented by the Fisk "Time-To-Retire" Boys.

25 YEARS AGO

An interesting visit of County Treasurer J. P. Leachman to Alexandria a quarter of a century ago is recounted as follows in the Gazette's daily column of extracts from its files:

"Sheriff J. P. Leachman, of Prince William county, who was in the city today, was exhibiting a pair of brass barreled duelling pistols which at one time belonged to General Washington. The latter presented the weapons to Philip Dandridge, his private secretary, and at the sale of Mr. Dandridge's effects in Alexandria in 1804 they were purchased by Mr. Philip Marsteller. The pistols were examined with much interest by a number of Alexandrians."
