MODEL HIGHWAYS FOR THIS COUNTY

Lee Highway Association To Make Economic Survey of This County.

PRINCE WILLIAM WILL BE MODEL FOR COUNTRY

Dr. Johnson, of Lee Highway, presents Five-year Plan. Lynn Robertson, Chairman.

Dr. Samuel M. Johnson, president of the National Boulevard Association, and father of the Lee Highway, with Fred E. Schnepfe, engineer and road building expert, attended a joint meeting at Manassas Friday night with the members of the Prince William County board of supervisors and the Kiwanis Club, in the interest of highway development for the farming interests.

Dr. Johnson, who has done a work of national unification in opening up the Lee Highway between the National Capital and southern California, has decided to assume the leadership in a Nation-wide movement to improve farm service roads. Up to this time the national road organizations have devoted their efforts to the Federal and State aid highways.

Model For Country. Under the plan of Dr. Johnson, Prince William County will be used as a demonstration county and will, if the plan carries through, be the model in county road systems for the entire country. The Lee Highway Association proposes to make an economic survey of Prince William, draw up plans, under direction of an able road engineer, outlining a five-year building program. With Prince William as a demonstration county the Lee Highway Association will advertise the progress which this county makes in its undertaking, and through the advertisement, cooperation and assistance by the Lee Highway Prince William will receive aid that will be invaluable to the county.

The Board of Supervisors at their regular meeting Wednesday passed a resolution endorsing the project and pledging their cooperation to the Lee Highway Association.

Meeting at Haymarket. At a special meeting called for Tuesday night at Haymarket for the purpose of organizing the Gainesville District in the good road movement, Dr. Johnson attended and addressed the meeting. Following his explanation of the proposition for an economic survey and plan for a five-year program to build the highway system of Prince William County, those attending the meeting endorsed the proposition and pledged their support to the Lee Highway Association in the undertaking.

Rolfe Robertson, chairman of the Gainesville District, appointed the following on his committee: Dr. Wade C. Payne, W. Holmes Robertson, Charles Keyser, Henry Latham and E. R. Sanders. The committee will undertake at once to raise Gainesville's share of the $2,500 per year which the county is asked to pledge to the Lee Highway Association.

Many Meetings Called. Lynn Robertson, chairman of the county committee, has called several meetings to be held in the various county districts. One was held at Nokesville last night, resulting in the endorsement of the plan and the promise of cooperation. Another meeting will be held at Bethel on Friday night and Dr. Johnson will come from Washington to outline his plan. Other meetings will be called in the near future, and within a few days each district will have a complete committee functioning in the interest of what is believed is the finest thing that has ever been presented to the people of our county.

STATE GAS TAX TOTAL $9,000,000

Director of Division of Motor Vehicles Reports $7,500,000 Already Collected.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 28—Collection of $853,289.42 in taxes on gasoline sold and consumed in Virginia during the month of October, is reported by the director of motor vehicles. The gas tax collected in September totaled only $811,013.70, showing an increase for October of $42,265.72. In October, of 1927, gas tax collections were $707,160.72, which would indicate an increase in these collections for October, 1928, over October, 1927, of more than $146,000.

Gas tax collections during the first nine months of 1928 totaled $6,597,568.66. Add to this amount the $2,402,431.34 collected last month and we have the impressive total of $7,440,000.00. The estimated revenues from this tax for the year 1928 was placed by Director Hayes as roughly $9,000,000. Having already collected approximately $7,500,000 of this estimated total, there remains only a little more than $1,500,000 to be collected by the State.

Gasoline and license taxes combined will this year total something like $15,000,000. This increase in taxes is reflected in a rapid completion of the State Highway system. Practically every part of the main state highway is hard surfaced or treated with oil, making the roadways good the entire year.

HONOR LOCAL WORKERS.

When the Rev. Luther F. Miller and his sister, of the Bethel Lutheran Church returned to the parsonage from the Thanksgiving service held on Tuesday night, they found the rooms filled with members and friends and the dining room table filled with overflowing with good things for the "inner man." Thus the good members remembered the work of the church in home and foreign fields, and did not forget the workers in the local field.

FRENCH VILLAGE IS BOMBED IN WAR PICTURE

"Wings," the Picture Which Depicts War Among Clouds at Dixie Theater Thursday.

Ten years after the end of the World War, the story of the war from the air is told in a stupendous picture called "Wings," which will be shown, through the enterprise of J. L. Moser, at the Dixie Theater, Thanksgiving night and Friday and Saturday.

Unless you take to the air yourself there is no better way of having all the excitement of adventuring in the atmosphere than to pay a visit to "Wings." It is the first great aviation spectacle ever filmed. It is amazing that such scenes could be photographed, that men could be found who would engage in them at the imminent risk of their lives. "You'll get such a kick out of 'Wings' as you have not enjoyed in the theater since you were a youngster."

VENERABLE LADY DIES.

Mrs. Susan Texanna Kincheloe, widow for thirty-nine years of the late Capt. Cornelius Kincheloe, of Fairfax county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Irene Heflin, last Saturday night, November 24, in Anacostia, D. C.

Before her marriage she was Miss Richardson, of Caroline county. Her husband always said she was the best capture he made during his career as a captain in the Confederate army. He brought her home with him on his return from the fields of battle at the close of the Civil War.

She was the last surviving organizer of the Clifton Baptist Church, and a faithful christian to the end of life.

She leaves to mourn her loss as a mother, one son, George C. Kincheloe, of Clifton Station, Va.; two daughters, Mrs. Cora Cassidy and Mrs. Irene Heflin, of Anacostia, D. C.; six grand sons, three grand daughters and one great grand son, Cornelius Kincheloe, the fifth. Six of her nine children preceded her to the grave.

Rev. V. H. Council conducted the Clifton Baptist Church at Clifton and she was laid to rest in the cemetery near by Monday afternoon, November 26.

COMEDY SUCCESS AT HIGH SCHOOL

"Take My Advice" To Be Played At Auditorium Here On Monday Night.

Something just a little different is promised at the High School Auditorium on December 3, at 8 o'clock p. m., when the offering will be the new comedy success "Take My Advice," which boasts of a run of several months at the Belmont Theater in New York.

That this new play is meritorious is evidenced by the New York Journal's review of the performance, which says, "It started with chuckles. They swelled into giggles. Then the first night audience at the Belmont Theater last night burst into uproarious laughter as a clever young prep school professor, with a flair for modern psychology, rescued the Weaver family—ma, son, and daughter—from the machinations of two swindlers."

Bud Weaver, a callow youth of seventeen, quits school to marry a siren "old enough to be his mother." She has been in town a month and has been engaged to every eligible man in the village. Bud's mother, a widow, has the "fountain pen" itch and signs on the dotted line for every fake stock salesman who shows her a prospectus. Mrs. Weaver is also a faddist, whose latest craze for numbers gets everybody into trouble and furnishes the leads for many amusing lines.

The Plot Thickens. A faker is trying, for a consideration of $1,000 to enroll Bud's sister in a dramatic school. Mariella Scott, a suave saleslady of oil stock, is the villain of the piece.

With the swindlers all set for the "killing," Professor Clement arrives to advise Bud against leaving school, and, through his psychological leanings, to lead the family back to the path of common sense and win a bride for himself.

The play is being sponsored by the Senior English Class of the Manassas High School, and the proceeds will go for the payment on the new stage curtain. An admission charge of 35 cents will be made for children and school children, both High and Grade, while adults will be asked to pay 50 cents. Tickets are now on sale at the Prince William Pharmacy, the Cocke Pharmacy and at Met's Inn.

TRINITY GUILD GIFT SHOP.

The Ladies' Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church, Manassas, announces the opening of a "Gift Shop," on Thursday, December 6, in the Manassas Hardware Company store, Center street. Holiday novelties and other useful gifts will be on sale for the day.

COUNTY 4-H CLUB REVIEWS RESULTS

Team As Well As Individual Prizes Are Won During Year.

In a recent summary of the projects carried by members of the 4-H Dairy Club as reported to the county agent the following results were found. A judging team attended the State Fair and entered the state Dairy Judging contest. This group was from Nokesville because the largest group could be gotten together for coaching work there. This is the first time that any of these boys have had judging work. As a team they placed second in the state. Individually they placed as follows: Stuart McMichael, Nokesville, fifth; Claude Albrite, Nokesville, sixth; Fred Shepherd, Nokesville, seventh; Joyce Garman, Nokesville, twelfth.

Since these boys placed so well the first time there is a splendid opportunity for some of them to make the state team which goes to the National Dairy Exposition.

Club Shows Profit. Practically all of the animals were shown at the local fair and four purebred Holsteins were taken to the state fair. The total value of prizes won with the sixteen animals shown was $120.00. The total amount of money invested in the 24 dairy animals used in 4-H club work was $1,999.19. The total cost of feeding and caring for these animals was $497.47, making the total cost $2,496.66. The profit realized by the 18 club members was $1,080.04.

The banks aided very materially in making this work possible by accepting notes of the boys and girls to be paid when the animals are sold next fall. This kind of work is going to have a direct influence on the prosperity of the community and county in the future and the farmers, business men and bankers cannot endorse it too much. Those boys who are interested in agriculture can learn the fundamental principles by joining a 4-H club whether it be dairy, pig, corn, or poultry, and the more they put in it the more they will get out of it. The motto is "TO MAKE THE BEST BETTER."

TAXES MUST BE PAID BY DEC. 5

Five More Days Allowed This Year Under New State Law.

New Virginia law, regarding penalties for failure to pay state and local taxes, becomes operative this year, and under it taxpayers have until Wednesday, December 5th, as the final day for paying taxes before penalties are levied.

Under the old law, the penalty was applied after December 1st, but under the new law the taxpayer has five days more of grace in which to pay the tax bills.

Under the old law, there was only one penalty, but under the new law the penalties will accumulate if payment of taxes are long deferred.

As an illustration if taxes are not paid by December 5th a five per cent penalty is added to the tax bill. If the taxes are not paid by June 16th, another five per cent penalty is added. But this is not all. If the taxes are not paid on June 16th, a per cent interest charge is then added until they are paid, including the two-five per cent penalties.

MEAT RECIPES FOR THE FAMILY OF TWO

Meat dishes when there are only two to cook for offer more or less of a problem. Small steaks and chops are convenient but they do not offer much variety. The recipes given below are specially adapted to the family of two.

Whole Meat Pork Chops.

Have lean pork chops cut about one and one-half inches thick. Dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Place a slice of onion on each chop, then put a tablespoon of raw rice on top of the onion, over this place a slice of tomato and top with a ring of green pepper. Season with salt and pepper and add hot water to come nearly to the top of the chop, but not to cover. Cover closely and bake in a slow oven for an hour.

Veal Birds.

Buy a slice of veal from the leg. Cut into strips three inches long and two inches wide. Spread with chopped parsley and season with salt and pepper. Roll up and fasten with a toothpick. Brown nicely in hot lard. Add small amount of butter and let simmer gently. Add more water as necessary and cook until tender. Thicken the liquid and add a little sour cream for gravy.

Small Lamb Roast.

The family of two may have lamb roast. Have four or five chops cut in one piece from the loin. Put in a hot oven in a small roasting pan and sear; reduce the heat and cook until done, about thirty-five or forty minutes.

It was decided to give a program at the Hebron Seminary on the fifth Sunday in December, while a program will be given at Bristow on Sunday afternoon, December 16.

Following the business session members of the class enjoyed a social hour during which refreshments were served. The next meeting of the Class will be held at the home of Mr. Henry Carrio on Wednesday, December 12, at which time Mr. C. M. Summers will be the leader.

LORD, GOD OF HOSTS, WE THANK THEE.

Lord, we thank Thee for the blessings Thou hast poured upon our land, For defending us in danger From an evil, selfish hand, For the chance to put behind us Secret and degrading ill, And to face the duty bravely With new courage all afloat.

Lord the destiny of nations Has been hanging on our fate, Our decision helping others Sink or rise to higher state; Guided by the Holy Spirit, May we see and firmly face All that hinders higher living, For the whole great human race.

It has long been shown us plainly, Nations cannot backward go And still live; but they must ever Pressing forward, courage show; There must always be a vision, Toward which they shall ever press, Leaving one sin and another, As they grow in righteousness.

But the service we would render All the nations of the earth, Can be only so accomplished Through a new and holy birth, We must look to Thee for guidance, And upon Thy strength rely, Or must meet the fate of nations That in ruin, sink and die.

May there be united purpose To forsake the sins we see, Ever growing from a lower To a higher liberty; Keep us, Father, from becoming Sordid souls, help us look to Thee, Who art bidding us get ready For the greater things to be.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Knocking at the doors of Prince William County comes an opportunity such as presents itself to a community but once in a life time. Grasping the opportunity will get the county "out of the mud."

Dr. Samuel M. Johnson, president of the National Boulevard Association, and father of the Lee Highway, has decided to assume leadership in a nationwide movement to improve farm service roads. On last Friday night he was a guest of the Kiwanis Club of Manassas and made the following statement: "I decided to organize the good road forces of the country to improve these roads and get the United States as a whole out of the mud in the next five years. To start the movement I have decided to select Prince William County as a demonstration."

What this will mean to our county in the way of national advertising during the progress of the work is something to think about. What scientifically planned roads will mean to the county is difficult to estimate. Certain it is that the completion of a model county road system will mark the beginning of an era of prosperity and growth for the county and the people in it far in advance of the most sanguine hopes.

As this is a county project meetings have been arranged for each district in the county that something of the plans may be made known to each community so that all may work together in harmony toward a fixed objective. A meeting was held in Haymarket on Tuesday night, another in Nokesville on Wednesday. Friday there will be a meeting at Bethel. Attend the meeting in your districts. There's work to do. Let's be about it. "Opportunity knocks but once."

AMERICAN RED CROSS.

The twelfth annual roll call of the American Red Cross assumes extraordinary interest this year because of the enormous burden placed upon the organization by the recent hurricane in Porto Rico and Florida. The Red Cross met the overwhelming emergency so promptly and so fully demonstrated its indispensable place in American life as to merit the grateful support of all our people.

"I am confident that the American Red Cross will have the enthusiastic support of the churches of the nation," said the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, recently, and as president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, he urged all the members of our churches to participate generously in the magnificent work of the Red Cross and to enroll in its membership. All who are inspired by the religious spirit will desire to support this great humanitarian service.

Let every Prince William man and woman be found on the Roll of Honor of the Red Cross this year.

A GREAT VIRGINIAN.

Thomas Fortune Ryan, who rose from humble circumstances to the pinnacle of the financial world, will long be remembered as one of America's greatest financial geniuses, says the Winchester Evening Star. Beginning without capital or financial backing he amassed a fortune estimated at his death at nearly half a billion dollars.

Mr. Ryan was born in Virginia and maintained his residence in Virginia until a few years ago. His estate in Nelson county is one of the show places of the state. During the past few years he acquired another estate near Waynesboro. He always maintained a lively interest in Virginia's affairs. Having removed his legal residence from Virginia several years ago, on account of the State's high tax of intangibles, it is said, he had lately been considering the re-establishment of his residence in Virginia following the liberalization of the tax rates here.

He was a man of great personal magnetism, and was exceptionally skillful in harmonizing differences in large financial transactions. One of his greatest accomplishments in diplomacy was the agreement he brought about early in his career between the American Tobacco Company and the British Imperial Tobacco Company under which territory would be divided for trade purposes. He accomplished this after others had given it up as hopeless.

Mr. Ryan not only acquired a great fortune, but gave away a fortune to charities and causes in which he was interested. He will be remembered long as a financial genius, but he will be remembered longer for his benevolence. He was a strong man of sterling qualities and a generous heart. One of Virginia's great sons has passed, and his memory will long be honored in this state.

Press Comments

Step by Step.
Houston Post Dispatch—A perfectly transparent fabric is now being manufactured in considerable quantities, but it is still so cheap that it is being used for the manufacture of raincoats, but whenever the manufacturers get the hunch to increase the price until the transparent material is more costly than silk it will come into immediate demand for pajamas, from pajamas to lingerie is but a step, and the next step—well—the vaccination scar is coming out into society more and more.

Talk to 'em Jimmy.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch—The $22,000 dress, made in Mexico, which can be slipped through an ordinary wedding ring is entitled to no more notice than Peggy Joyce, who has performed the trick half a dozen times, more or less.

New Civilization.
Providence Journal—Nineteen persons were killed in automobile accidents in Massachusetts last week, but the fact will arouse no public excitement. In every part of the country the slaughter goes on and is apparently regarded as a commonplace accompaniment of our new civilization.

Always in Demand.
Toledo Blade—Dr. Cadman compares promiscuous kissing to the licking of salt by cattle. He might have added that the cattle always come back for more.

Throw Away Ballot Box.

Atlanta Constitution—We'll wager that Santa Clause wins without a ballot.

Close To Congress.

The Evening Star, Washington—Congress will have many things to talk about. The beneficent system of United States Government affords valuable time to enable partisan fervor to cool down.

Perhaps In Manassas.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram—The next war for territory probably will be between the people who want parking space and those who want golf courses.

Some Publicity.

Ohio State Journal—Publicity has indeed been developed into a fine art and the mortuary home advertisements now make everything sound so attractive that a man who likes to have things nice around him can hardly wait to go.

And Little Will Be Done.

Little is expected of a holiday session of Congress. A Christmas tree might be introduced to assist in whiling away the hours.

In Bad Taste.

Minneapolis Journal—Two rescued members of the Vestris' crew have signed up for a vaudeville engagement. Possibly these two men did everything they could do, in the hour of the recent Atlantic tragedy, to uphold the best traditions of the sea. Still and all, in view of the high ratio of survivors among the Vestris' crew, and the negligible ratio of survivors among the women and children who were passengers on the Vestris, a vaudeville stage just now would seem to be scarcely the right place for any member of that ill-fated ship's company.

Not Long To Wait.

Houston Post-Dispatch—We would not live forever but we think 't would be a lark if we might only live till skirts have reached their highest mark.

He Knew His Parapirs.

Richmond Times-Dispatch—Washington police refused to take a $10 check offered by a veteran Congressman as cash bail for his appearance to answer the charge that he had violated a traffic ordinance. They probably thought he was both a broken stick and a lame duck.

A CHUCKLE OR TWO

A Riotous Wedding.

"How did the wedding go off?"
"Fine—until the parson asked the bride if she'd obey her husband."
"What happened then?"
"She replied, 'Do you think I'm crazy?' and the groom, who was in a sort of a daze, said, 'I do.'"

Whitewashed, as Twere.

A Glasgow man whose business and private reputation would not have stood too much scrutiny ultimately found himself in the dock on a serious charge.
But his lawyers played their parts so skillfully that the judge dismissed the case, telling the accused that he "left the dock without a stain on his character."

On leaving the building one of his cronies approached him and remarked, "Man, Jamie, did you hear what his lordship said about your character? Wasn't it a darned good job you were arrested, you lucky dog?"—London Answers.

Who's to Blame?

Jane had been unusually naughty one day and her mother found it necessary to scold her before putting her to bed. After she had put out the lights and left the room she heard Jane saying her prayer, and as she listened she heard her say:

"Dear Jesus, if you make me naughty tomorrow as you did today, I'm never going to ask you to make me good again."—Indianapolis News.

Quick Identification.

First Farmer—"I've got a freak on my farm. It's a two-legged calf."
Second Farmer—"I know. He came over to call on my daughter last night."—London Times-Globe.

Thanksgiving Recipe.

Aunt Maria was without a peer among negro cooks. Her specialty was molasses cookies. One day she was asked her recipe.

"Without hesitation she replied: 'Ah takes a cup of flour, but Ah don't use all of it, then Ah adds two gullups of molasses.'"

"But," interposed the guest, "what are 'gullups'?"

"Honey, don't you know? Well when you has a jug of molasses, and turns it up, the molasses say, 'Gullup,' and then run a little more and say 'Gullup' again. Ah takes two."—Exchange.

They Surely Have.

"Times have changed," said the first dad.

"I'll tell the world they have," replied the other; "just think of being able to ask your daughter for a light."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Thanksgiving Chatter.

A small boy in school was asked to write a composition on Thanksgiving. He did so, and in the course of it he heard this startling information: "We had all our aunts and uncles and cousins and two ducks for dinner. They were very fat and tasted very nice."

Woman's Intuition.

"My dear," remarked Jones, who had just finished reading a book on "The Wonders of Nature," "Nature is marvelous! When I read a book like this it makes me think how puerile, how insignificant is man."

"Huh!" said his wife. "A woman doesn't have to wade through 400 pages to discover that."

A Two-Dollar Dinner for Six

Between the feasts of Thanksgiving and Christmas the careful housewife works in a few frugal meals. Here's a substantial and tasty dinner which will fully satisfy six people at a cost of only two dollars:

Mock Turtle Soup
Spaghetti with Cheese and Tomato Sauce
Stringless Beans
Bread and Butter
Asparagus Salad
Peach Halves with Cream
Demi-tasse

ONE merit of this meal is its saving of labor. All three of the hot dishes need only be heated and served. As to prices, two cans of mock turtle soup cost 14 cents each, and you can buy three cans of spaghetti with cheese and tomato sauce for a quarter. A can of stringless beans costs 29 cents, a loaf of bread 10 cents, the necessary butter 10 cents. Asparagus for the salad costs 19 cents a can, lettuce 10 cents, and sufficient mayonnaise 5 cents. A can of peaches costs 23 cents and a small bottle of cream, 29 cents. Enough coffee for six persons at 40 cents a pound costs 6 cents. This totals $1.94 leaving 6 cents for fuel and minor ingredients. The foods can be obtained at prices quoted at sale in the cheaper stores throughout the country.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR DECEMBER 2, 1928.

"The International Sunday School Lesson for December 2 is Paul Before His Judges"—Acts 24:1—26:32.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Graft in public office is no new thing. It is as old as government. Every great public leader has been hampered by it. The Apostle Paul was kept for years in prison because the Roman governors, such as Felix were bribe-seeking grafters; and because they were also pusillanimous politicians with an eye on the popular vote, truckling for the favor of blocks of citizens.

It was a long, long, roundabout road to Rome that Paul undertook when he set his face to go up to Jerusalem. It led him through heart-rending experiences. In Tyre and Caesarea and Jerusalem, and again as a prisoner in Caesarea, his soul was wrung. But he was on the way to Rome; and even by the worst outrages perpetrated upon him he was given opportunity to preach Christ, which was all that Paul really wanted. Even the temptation he aroused, the mobs and the rescues, the plots and the counterplots, the escapes and the public trials, only tended to focus the interest of an ever-increasing number of people upon the man and his message.

Taking the Sting Out of Life.

Such a man is enviable. To be so absorbed in a great cause outside of one's self and one's own interests that nothing else matters if the cause be served, is to draw the sting from life. Ennui never lays its deadening blight upon a man whose life is devoted to a great objective. All unwittingly, persons who lose themselves in a noble cause come to partake of its own greatness. Had he not merged his life into the Gospel enterprise, Paul would never have been heard of outside of Jerusalem.

Herein is a message for a generation of youth subject to the superficialities and superciliousness of an egocentric and materialistic philosophy. With tongue in cheek, we behold college conferences and Y. M. C. literature devoted to "the training of leaders." Real leaders are not made that way; just as no great orator was ever produced by a school of elocution. Self-consciousness is the fatal foe of leadership. Men and women become leaders by forgetting themselves and by losing their lives in some cause that calls for their utmost powers. Nobody can find a real following of his fellow men—and the only leaders are those who have followers—while he is thinking of his own leadership, of his own position, of his advantage. Politicians may be produced in that school of self-seeking, but not leaders. The Pauline way is still valid. Paul thought so little of himself that he would do anything, dare anything, endure anything if only the crucified and risen Christ could be exalted; and lo, his self-abnegation lifted him up into world leadership.

Standing Before Kings.

Here we have one of history's frequent reversals; the big man on trial before little men. One reason why great manuscripts so often fail to find a publisher is that the editor is of smaller calibre than the writer. Columbus goes vainly begging for assistance because they are too big for the comprehension of the bedizened officialdom at whose footstools they are suppliants. Who knows the names of Socrates' judges? Paul, an innocent prisoner, stood before the bar of Felix and Festus and Agrippa, rulers whose names have lived only because they were linked with his. Pilate's name was saved from oblivion to immortal shame only because a certain Prisoner once stood before him.

If his judges had been keener, bigger men they would have perceived that Paul was using them and their courts merely as a pedestal from which to broadcast his propaganda. All without their knowledge, he was making them the servants of the King of kings. Their pomp and place and power became mere advertising accessories of his Message.

There is a touch of humor in the fact, clear to us now, that Paul took the center of the stage in all these royal scenes. The beauty of Queen Bernice and the stately ceremoniousness of King Agrippa became mere stage-setting for the prisoner on bonds.

When the Politicians Trembled. Many persons have wondered about the Philadelphia preachers in whose congregations were the now exposed grafters. Did these men ever tremble, like Felix of old, when Paul "reasoned of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come"? The man with God's word to declare is above all officials and rulers. He must fearlessly proclaim to his times, "Thus saith the Lord". No legal restraints are so provocative of good government as the presence in a community of faithful preachers of the Law and of the Gospel of God. When vice is rampant in great cities, like Chicago and New York and Philadelphia, it is high time to call the pulpit to account. Can't you imagine the angel of the judgment saying to a preacher, "What Felix ever trembled before your words?"

Dr. Luke makes clear that Paul was a problem to the consciences as well as to the policies of Festus and Felix and Agrippa. They were not used to judging a man who himself usurped the place of judge. Each sought to dodge responsibility for Paul's fate.

At first these jaded old Romans welcomed this famous character, whose case had aroused all Jewry. They sought to see and hear him, just as lecture audiences throng to see and hear great explorers and heroes. Curiosity was a mastering motive with them—until the prisoner brought them up standing as sinners in need of a Saviour.

When a Speaker's Hour Comes.

One curious complaint is commonly made by members of influential organizations concerning their speakers. When these invited guests confront the long banquet tables, surrounded by prosperous looking men in evening clothes, they often show themselves scared, and say nothing worth while. Most of them seek to flatter and to please these distinguished audiences. Rulers and rich men seldom hear the rugged truth that they most need.

Paul treated kings and potentates just as he treated the heathen of Asia Minor and Macedonia and Greece—sinners who needed most of all to hear of God's love as embodied in a crucified, risen Saviour. As Paul so preached before Agrippa, Festus, the host, became embarrassed—this was not the way for a courtier, much less a prisoner, to speak before a king—and he cried aloud, "Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad."

That interruption, merely made more pointed Paul's appeal; and he turned to King Agrippa, as a preacher to an inquirer: "King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets?" Embarrassed, his dignity ruffled, King Agrippa said, "With but little persuasion thou wouldst fain make me a Christian."

Straight as an arrow to the bull's eye returned Paul, the prisoner-preacher: "I would to God, that whether with little or with much, not thou only, but also all that hear me this day, might become such as I am, except these bonds."

Was ever such a scene before or since witnessed in a Roman court? The prisoner at the bar, conscious of his superiority, yearning for the salvation of the king who sat in state above him, pleading that the proud Roman should become a Christian. The implication that Paul possessed something within the gift of Rome was staggering. Yet it is every true Christian's message to his fellows—"Become as I am, save my personal limitations. My spiritual peace, my pardoned state, my assurance of life eternal, these are prizes beyond price; and I yearn to share them with you."

A TRIBUTE TO S. W. BURGE.

BY AN OLD FRIEND

"Another useful life has ended in the passing of S. W. Burge, the carpenter, a man whose word was as his bond, who scorned a lie, and who had a stern sense of honor and truth."

"Almost to the close of his life he carried about with him his carpenter's tools and was needed in our home for some especially accurate work. Happy was the busy housewife who could pause to listen to some fine thought he expressed or a passage of scripture stored up in his clear mind, leaving in the home a higher sense of the value of life. Many share with his family the memory of true faithfulness and of an unsullied name."

"Not with flags lowered or with muffled drums was his passing made known. He was just a carpenter, but so was his divine Master whom he followed faithfully to the end, and could claim the promise, 'Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.'"

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History

- a Six in the price range of the four!

The Chevrolet Motor Company announces The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History... a Six in the price range of the four!

Spectacular as Chevrolet's achievements have been in the past... notable as its engineering triumphs have proved themselves to be—this remarkable new car dwarfs every previous Chevrolet accomplishment. Not only does it introduce into the low-priced field an entirely new measure of performance, comfort, beauty and style—but it is sold at prices so low as to alter every previous conception of motor car value.

The new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine—developed from more than a hundred motors designed especially for this sensational car—stands out as an engineering masterpiece. With a power increase of approximately 32% over the previous Chevrolet motor, with sensationally greater speed, and faster acceleration—it offers a type of performance that is literally astounding... even to those who have been driving cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

Throughout the entire speed range, it performs with a smoothness and quietness of operation that have never before been approached in a low-priced automobile. At the slower speeds of city traffic it idles along with wonderful silence and ease. On boulevards and country roads it responds with an eagerness that is a constant delight. It takes the longest and steepest hills with an abundant reserve of power that is a source of pride to the driver. And its economy of operation averages better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

This revolutionary performance has been achieved as a result of the greatest array of engineering advancements that Chevrolet has ever announced. A high compressor, non-detonating cylinder head... a new heavier crankshaft, statically and dynamically balanced... automatic lubrication of the entire rocker arm mechanism... semi-automatic spark control... hot-spot manifold... gasoline pump and filter... new and larger carburetor, with automatic acceleration pump and improved venturi choke... fabric camshaft gear... heavier driving gears... heavier differential gears... improved crankcase breathing system... improved lubrication... new 4-wheel brakes that are powerful, safe and quiet under all conditions—these indicate the importance of a group of engineering advancements that embrace every major unit of the entire chassis.

In appearance, this Outstanding Chevrolet is destined to become an automotive sensation—so smart, so stylish and so distinctively appointed that it rivals the costliest custom creations. The new Fisher bodies are longer, lower and roomier with an adjustable driver's seat in all closed models—and reveal the matchless artistry of Fisher designers. With their modish new colors, their smart dual moldings and their distinctive concave pillars, they achieve a degree of original beauty that has seldom been equalled in motor car design.

You are cordially invited to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information on this sensational new car which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

CHEVROLET SHOW IN D. C. SATURDAY

New Model Six-Cylinder Car Will Be Shown in Washington Saturday.

Detroit, Nov. 27—Motor America is on its tip-toes as the large metropolitan centers are viewing for the first time the sensational new valve-in-head six-cylinder Chevrolet, which was announced November 16. Interest is keyed to a high pitch in New York and Detroit as the financial and motor capitals of the country respectively, greet this most advanced offering of the world's largest automobile producer for 1928.

The two advance showings opened simultaneously at noon Saturday, November 24, the New York premiere taking place in a brilliant setting in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel and the Detroit debut in the Auditorium of the General Motors building. Both showings are to continue up to and including Thanksgiving Day.

Meanwhile the gigantic Chevrolet manufacturing organization is applying itself to a heavy production program so that cars may be shipped to dealers starting December 15, and deliveries to the public may begin promptly January first.

Quantity Production Triumph

In the company's announcement last week of "a six in the price range of the four," there was indicated a swarming triumph for quantity production. It pointed out that the new car with the advanced features it embodies, was made possible at its price chiefly through the influence of great volume production. W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, stated on the announcement that only volume production made possible by the tremendous popular reception accorded Chevrolet in recent years enabled the company to offer a car with the speed, acceleration, power and smoothness of six cylinder performance at practically the same price that contributed so much to the world-wide popularity of the four.

New Car in Washington

Immediately following the advance showing in New York and Detroit, there will be three other important showings. The New York cars will go to Washington for a gala opening at the Mayflower Hotel in the Capitol city, December 1. This showing will continue up to and including December 4.

Meanwhile the Detroit display will be moved to Chicago, where the mid-western metropolis will see the new Chevrolet line December 1-6, inclusive.

The Pacific Coast will get its first glimpse of the new line on the same day with Washington and Chicago, when the Los Angeles display is opened in the auditorium of the Ambassador Hotel. The time required to ship cars from the Flint, Mich., factory to the coast accounts for the fact that the initial showing on the western seaboard will be seven days behind the New York and Detroit premieres. The Los Angeles showing will continue from December 1-6.

Following the showing in the Capitol city, the Washington cars will go to Cincinnati, where a similar display will be staged in the Sinton Hotel, December 8 to 14, and then to Atlanta, where the Capitol city of the old South and the home of a new Chevrolet assembly plant, will greet the cars from December 18 to 22 in the Auditorium-Armory.

STATE LIBRARIES GET BOOK GIFT

Judge Payne Gives Public and School Libraries Copy of "The American Government."

Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, has presented to every public and school library in the State of Virginia a copy of the book, "The American Government," by Frederic J. Haskin. The volumes are now going out to the librarians throughout the state.

The gift of these books, a total of 465 copies of the work having been included in the presentation, has been made by Judge Payne so that every citizen, and especially every boy and girl in his home state, may have a chance to read the story of the government under which he lives. Judge Payne was born on a Virginia farm, received his early education in this state, and later removed to Chicago, where he established a reputation as a leader of the bar. Since 1917, after a brilliant career as lawyer and judge, he has devoted himself to public service. He was Secretary of the Interior under President Wilson. He has served as General Counsel for the United States Railroad Administration, as Director General of Railroads, and as Chairman of the Shipping Board.

Is Standard Work.

The book selected by Judge Payne to give to each library in his native state is considered the standard work on the subject of the Federal Government, written in simple and interesting style. It was written some years ago by Frederic J. Haskin, well-known Washington correspondent, and has been through numerous revised editions. The author and publisher is today the director of a large newspaper information bureau at Washington, which brings newspaper readers into touch with the information and educational facilities of the Federal Government.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

TO PRINCE WILLIAM

On January 1, 1928, Mr. Oliver J. Sands, State chairman of the Near East Relief, wrote me that the quote for Prince William County for Near East Relief was $733.36, stating in his letter that when this amount was raised Prince William would not be campaigned any more for Near East Relief.

On October the 10th I was advised that there was a balance due on our quote of $287.88, and I am now appealing to our churches, Sunday schools, public schools and all benevolent societies to rally to this last call and the fifth Sunday in December put Prince William on the Honor Roll.

Remember that the Master in picturing the day when all should stand before the Judgement, said, "I was hungry and ye gave me to eat, I was thirsty and ye gave me drink, I was a stranger and ye took me in; I was sick and ye visited me." And may our offering be one worthy of this most worthy cause.

Send your offering direct to Mr. Walter Holaday, treasurer of Near East Relief, American National Bank, Richmond, Va.

Thanking all who have helped in this cause in the past, and hoping every one will do their very best,

WESTWOOD HUTCHISON,
Chairman,

Near East Relief, Prince William County.

MANASSAS, TAKE NOTE.

Here are some views of William S. Butterworth, President of the United States Chamber of Commerce, expressed before recent Playground and Recreation Association Convention:

"I would like to write a true tale of two cities—about two American towns both bidding for prosperity in terms of new industries and greater population. The cities are in neighboring States. The citizens of one had every reason to believe that a big Eastern manufacturer who had been considering several Midwestern towns as sites for a new plant was about to select their community. But one day out of the blue came a bolt of disappointment. The city had been eliminated. Local business men got together and picked out the president of one of the largest public utilities in the county to find out why.

"The answer was quite to the point—a careful investigation by the company's representative had disclosed the fact that the town offered less to its citizenship, young and old, in the way of public recreation than any of the other towns under consideration. The manufacturer's representative had reported that there were no public parks, no municipal bathing facilities, no organized summer and winter recreational activities for the people. It was felt that such a condition would make for discontent and carry too great an element of risk in procuring and holding labor. This severe jolt to the pride and pocket book of the community aroused local leaders to an appreciation of the value of community recreation, and a movement was at once put on foot to secure a bond issue of $100,000 for municipal recreation facilities at the next election.

"Mercifully, I withhold the name of this town. But the one on the other side of the ledger I can boldly disclose. Four years ago the great McCall Publishing Company moved its plant from New York to Dayton, Ohio. At a reception given the principal officers of the company by the townspeople, the president of McCall's was asked this question: 'Now, just why did you select this city?'

"In answering the question as to why we selected Dayton," replied Mr. H. B. Warner, the president, 'I can only say that it was the liveableness of your city that decided the issue. We found others with plenty of labor, others with adequate shipping facilities, others in which manufacturing conditions were equal with those of Dayton, but nowhere did we find a place where the qualities of living were as highly developed as they were here. Keep Dayton a good place to live in and your future is assured.'

"And he added: 'It is my opinion that the next decade will see a decentralization of industry. There has been a great grouping together of industries in certain centers and a recreation is coming. Dollars alone are not enough now. Employees deserve and want a more fruitful and cheerful life.'

"You who are familiar with Dayton know that a part of its 'fruitful and cheerful life' is an excellent municipal recreation program. It has two municipal golf courses, fifty-two tennis courts, twenty-seven baseball fields, fourteen athletic fields, nineteen playgrounds, thirteen indoor recreation centers, a bathing beach and a swimming pool. Baseball, volleyball, playground, soccer, horseshoes, basketball and other league sports are very popular. In addition, band concerts, pageants and other dramatics, holiday celebrations, motion pictures, gardening, art activities, handicrafts, athletics for industrial groups, winter sports, hiking clubs, archery and water sports bring entertainment and fun to thousands."—Virginia Municipal Review.

This step was taken only after a thorough investigation. We know that The American Oil Company is affiliated with Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company and, consequently, an important part of one of the largest oil-producing and marketing chains in the world. We found that the products of The American Oil Company meet every need for the fueling and lubricating of the modern automotive engine and realized that extensive improvements which it is now possible to make in our stations and bulk plants will enable us to give even better service than before.

This association, moreover, puts us in a position to offer AMOCO-GAS, the Original Special Motor Fuel, for which there is already such a widespread demand.

You will continue, of course, to deal with the same men you have known in the past—for the officers and employees of The Capitol Oil Company, Inc., will remain in their present positions. ## The new Ford has a very simple and effective lubrication system

THE lubrication system for the engine of the new Ford is as simple in principle as water running down-hill.

A gear pump in the bottom of the oil pan raises the oil to the valve chamber reservoir. From here it flows on to the main crankshaft bearings and the front camshaft bearing. Overflow oil drops into the oil pan tray and runs into troughs through which the connecting rods pass.

As the ends of these rods strike the oil they scoop up a supply for the connecting rod bearing. At the same time they set up a fine spray that lubricates the pistons and other moving parts.

From the tray the oil runs into the bottom of the pan, and is again drawn up through a fine mesh screen and pumped to the valve chamber.

This system is so effective that the five-quart contents of the oil pan pass through the pump twice in every mile when you are traveling at only 30 miles an hour. Yet there is only one movable part—the oil pump.

As a matter of fact, the lubrication system for the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires practically no service attention.

There is just one thing for you to do, but it is a very important thing... watch the oil! Change the oil every 500 miles and be sure the indicator rod never registers below low (L).

If the oil level is allowed to fall below low, the supply becomes insufficient to oil all parts as they should be oiled.

To insure best performance it is also advisable to have the chassis of your car lubricated every 500 miles. This has been made easy in the new Ford through the use of the high pressure grease gun system.

Proper oiling and greasing mean so much to the life of your car that they should not be neglected or carelessly done.

See your Ford dealer regularly. He is especially well fitted to lubricate the new Ford and he will do a good, thorough job at a fair price.
