POWER CONTRACT GIVEN BULL RUN

Town Council Accepts Proposal of Bull Run Power Company to Furnish Town Current.

The much discussed and long pending proposal of the Bull Run Power Company, a corporation owned by business men of Prince William County, for furnishing power to the Corporation of Manassas, came to an end on Monday night when the council accepted its proposal to furnish current to the town for a period of five years.

The Bull Run Power Company has been furnishing light and power to Clifton and nearby farms for several months, and their success in this direction encouraged them to submit a proposal to the Town of Manassas in response to a call for bids. The Virginia Public Service Company, which was asked at the same time to submit bids, declined to do so on the grounds that the company was not interested in the wholesaling of current.

Under the terms of the contract which the town will make with the Bull Run Power Company, current will be purchased at a flat maximum rate of 2 cents per kilowatt for a fixed amount of current with the rate decreasing as the amount purchased by the town increases above the minimum quantity.

It is understood that the power company will begin at once to do the work necessary to bring the current into Manassas, and it is believed that the service will begin in about six weeks.

Officers of the company are: H. F. Myers, president; E. R. Conner, vice president; C. H. Wine, secretary, and R. S. Hynson, treasurer. These officers with A. A. Hooft and James U. Kinchloe make up the board of directors.

CROSSING LIGHT PLAN WITHDRAWN

Southern Railway Withdraws Request For Placing Signal Lights at Council Meeting.

The Southern Railway, which through its officials recently requested the Town Council to grant it permission to install modern signal lights to be controlled from a central tower at the crossing in Manassas as a substitute for crossing watchmen, withdrew the request at the council meeting on Monday night.

Officials of the Railway had appeared before the council on two previous occasions urging that the substitution of signal lights be permitted, but in the face of strong opposition to any change voiced by many of the citizens of the town action by the council was postponed each time. The action of the officials on Monday night in withdrawing their request came as a complete surprise to those in the crowded council chamber. Railway officials offered no explanation for the abandonment of their plan at this time.

DEMOCRATS WILL MEET IN RICHMOND

J. Murray Hooker Announces Meeting of State Democratic Central Committee April 10

The State Democratic Central Committee will be called to meet at Richmond on April 10, when plans for the August primary will be discussed, according to announcement by J. Murray Hooker, chairman of the committee.

Senator John W. Chalkley, of Big Stone Gap, is expected to appear before the committee and advocate the holding of a platform convention either before or after the primary. It is regarded as highly improbable, however, that such a convention will be held.

In announcing the forthcoming meeting of the State committee, Chairman Hooker said it is customary to hold such a gathering before each Democratic primary for the purpose of adopting the primary plan for the nomination of candidates, this being routine procedure.

KIWANIANS HERE

Upper: Harry G. Kimball, governor of the Capital District, and Edgar Morris, president Washington Kiwanis Club, lower, both of whom were guests of Manassas Kiwanis on Friday night.

FARM SURPLUS SALE PLANNED

Community Association in Brentsville District Will Have Auction of Farm Surplus.

The first project which the agricultural committee of the Community Association in the Brentsville District will undertake will be the holding of an auction sale of farm surplus in or near Nokesville, on April 18, according to decision reached at a meeting of the committee just held for discussion of plans for the year.

Under the plan of sale any surplus farm produce, farm machinery or anything that is not needed will be auctioned off. No bids will be rejected. There will be a fee charged for selling and after deducting expenses the remainder of the fee will go into the treasury of the association. Detailed plans of this unique sale will be announced at a later date.

The thought in planning a sale of this kind was that there might be certain machinery, horses, cattle, and other livestock, feed, household goods, etc., which, while not needed on one farm might be in demand on others. Those having articles for sale should list them with M. J. Shepherd, Nokesville.

The ladies of the Brentsville district will contribute to the success of this enterprise, as they will sell and serve lunch at the place of sale.

Members of the agricultural committee, who are working out the sale plans, are: M. J. Shepherd, chairman; J. S. Huff, F. M. Swartz, G. A. Wood, John Ellis and F. R. May.

The acting board of the Pastors' Association of the Baptist Church met here on Tuesday in the Manassas Baptist Church.

Pastors attending the session were: C. W. Trainham, former pastor of the local church, and clerk of the Board; Rev. Ashton Jones, Clarendon, chairman of the Board; Rev. U. S. George W. Popkins, Washington, D. C.; Rev. W. S. Jenkins, Leesburg, and Rev. Hiram D. Anderson, pastor of Manassas Baptist Church.

KIWANIANS HAVE A LARGE EVENING

Harry G. Kimball, District Governor, With Group From Washington, Visit Club.

One of the merriest nights enjoyed by members of the Kiwanis Club of Manassas was made possible on Friday night by the visit of Harry G. Kimball, governor of the Capital district, and a lively group of Washington Kiwanians headed by Edgar Morris, president of the Washington Club.

Another contributing factor to the success of the meeting was the sumptuous dinner to which the members and their guests sat down, prepared and served by a charming group of ladies from Grace Methodist Church.

T. E. Dillake, president of the local club, presided during the dinner and in happy vein welcomed the distinguished visitors. Between courses there was chorus singing with Mrs. Stewart Pattie taking the solo parts and Mrs. W. H. Leachman playing the accompaniment.

As the visitors were bent on having some fun at the expense of some members they brought down a degree team and insisted on putting on the "sacred" initiation ceremony. The fact that there were no new members mattered not for a compromise was reached and two of the youngest spirits in the local club were designated as the victims. The initiates were Rev. George Hasel and Maj. F. W. Patterson. For the first time in history persons other than members were permitted to witness the ceremony and the entire group of ladies serving the banquet heard the impressive ritual as well as enjoyed the discomfort of the two neophytes during some of the lighter moments of the ceremony.

Those who journeyed from Washington were Harry G. Kimball, governor of the Capital District; Edgar Morris, genial president of the Washington Kiwanis; Charles Frame, Merritt O. Chance, John J. Boobar, Mark Lansburgh, William R. Schmucker, Charles W. Pinner, Herbert Gill, Carl Henning, Edwin R. Etz, Z. D. Blackstone, Edwin F. Hill, Bynum Hinton and Charles A. Camaller.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Manassas Baptist Church will meet on Tuesday, April 2, at the home of Mrs. Oliver Newman, at 2:30 p. m. All members are invited to attend.

NURSING COMMITTEE OF RED-CROSS WILL MEET

There will be a meeting of the nursing committee of the American Red Cross in the club house, Nokesville, on Tuesday, April 2, at 2 p. m. Miss Ruby Ryman, the county nurse, urges all members of this committee to attend as important matters will come up for discussion.

Ira Reid Dies Suddenly.

Ira Reid died suddenly last evening just after entering his home following a short automobile ride.

MANASSAS CHAPTER U. D. C. TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will meet at the residence of Mrs. Guy Allen, on Wednesday, April 31, at 2:30 p. m. A full attendance is desired.

LAST ILLINGWORTH LECTURE ON TUESDAY

Final Lecture in Series On English Literature At Presbyterian Church

The last lecture of the Illingworth course in English literature will be given at the Presbyterian Church, Manassas, on Tuesday, April 2, at 8 p. m. The lecture will be on "The English Novel", and should be the best in the course, though too large a subject for complete discussion.

The last lecture on the "Satire of Shaw" was well attended, and advance notices indicate that the final lecture on Tuesday will be made to a capacity house.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Owing to the destruction of sheds in rear of The Journal office by fire this morning, which necessitated a shut down of the plant for some time, much news that should be in this edition had to be omitted. We are sorry.

MAD DOG SCARE IN MANASSAS

Dog Runs Amuck On Monday, Biting Two People and Numerous Dogs.

People of the town and nearby county are stirred up over the fear of results which may follow the mad race of a dog through the town on Monday when it bit a colored child and one of the faculty at Swavely School, and continuing its wild dash stopped long enough to bite several dogs owned by people of the town.

The dog was caught and later was killed by the game warden.

Dr. H. E. Pickeral, veterinarian, took the head of the beast to Washington where an examination developed that it had been suffering with an attack of rabies. Every precaution is being taken with those who were bitten and several of the dogs known to have been attacked have been destroyed.

The Town Council promptly posted bulletins of instruction with reference to the quarantine of dogs within the corporate limits, while the board of supervisors in session on Tuesday, passed a resolution extending the dog quarantine to the Manassas District.

The bulletin issued by the Council and signed by W. F. Cooke, town manager, is as follows:

"Beginning on noon, Wednesday, all dogs running at large will be taken charge of by the Town authorities and confined at the cost of the owner, and if the owner does not within 24 hours give satisfactory assurance that the dog will not be again allowed to run at large, it will be turned over to the State Game Warden for disposal.

"This action is made necessary on account of a number of dogs having been bitten by an animal having rabies."

M. P. O'CALLAHAN BURIED MONDAY

Died At His Home In Athens, Ga., March 22, And Body Brought Here For Burial.

M. P. O'Callahan, prominent resident of Prince William County and Athens, Georgia, died at his home in the latter place on Friday, March 22, following an illness of some duration. Funeral services were conducted at the home in Georgia after which the remains were brought to Manassas and interment was made in the Manassas Cemetery on Monday, the committal service being said by Rev. N. Habets, pastor of All Saints' Catholic Church.

Mr. O'Callahan was born in County Claire, Ireland, and was in his sixty-second year. He had been a resident of Prince William County for many years and in recent years had been living in Athens, Ga., returning to his home near Limstrong for a visit each year. He was prominent in affairs of the county as well as in the social and civic life of Athens.

The immediate family surviving are the widow, who, before her marriage, was Miss H. Florence Limstrong; a daughter, Mrs. John B. Bradley, of Richmond, Va., and a son, Robert D. O'Callahan, of New York City.

SCHOOL FUND GETS 5 CENTS MORE

Other Increased Tax Levies Voted Down By Supervisors Tuesday.

Save for an increase of 5 cents for school purposes, the tax levy for the year beginning July 1, 1929, will remain as before, according to action of the Board of Supervisors at their meeting on Tuesday.

It is understood that the original proposal to increase the levy for the school fund by 10 cents fell by the wayside, due to the fact that some supervisors favored the 5-cent increase for improvements to the Court House, and this measure having been defeated made a compromise on the school levy necessary.

The action of the board followed a meeting on Monday when citizens were invited to voice their sentiments with regard to the proposed increase of 5 cents for general county purposes; 5 cents for improvements and additions to the Court House, and 10 cents in county school levy for school purposes.

The court room, where the meeting of citizens was held, was crowded to capacity with those eager to advocate the increased taxation, those just as eager to oppose any increase and those who were there to hear what the leaders had to say.

Thomas H. Lion, F. Warner, Lewis, H. W. Herring, Rev. Westwood Hutchison, emphatically opposed the proposed increases, while others favored them all, and still others favored only the increase for school purposes.

Friends of the school system made stirring appeals among them being Mrs. Annie Cline, of Dumfries; Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Mrs. Charles Lewis, Harvey Janney, V. W. Zirkle, Dr. E. H. Marsteller, T. E. Dillake, John P. Kerlin, Mrs. Eastman Keys, F. R. Hynson, and many others.

While great disappointment was expressed yesterday over the failure of the board to vote for the 10-cent increase, many expressed gratitude that they got anything at all in face of the strong opposition to any additional taxation.

GOOD FRIDAY WILL BE OBSERVED

Episcopal and Lutheran Congregations in Manassas, Haymarket and Nokesville to Have Solemn Services.

Tomorrow, Good Friday, is a holy day, and all who possibly can do so should spend some time in worship of Him who died on that day to redeem mankind.

There will be services in Trinity Episcopal Church, Manassas, at 10:30 a. m., with Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, rector, officiating, while Bethel Lutheran Church will observe the day in worship at 2 p. m., with Rev. Luther F. Miller, pastor, speaking on the "Words On Cross".

St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Haymarket, will observe three hours' devotion, from 12 to 3 p. m., with Rev. W. G. Carpenter, rector, conducting the service, and Mount Zion Lutheran Church, Nokesville, will hold a service at 7:30 p. m., with Rev. Luther F. Miller, officiating.

EASTER PROGRAM AT ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

High Mass of Resurrection Will Be Sung at Catholic Church Here.

The Easter solemnity in All Saints' Catholic Church, Manassas, will open with the stirring Easter hymn "Alleluia! Alleluia! Let the Holy Anthem 'Rise'." At 8 a. m., the High Mass of the Resurrection, by Rosewig will be sung (Mass in G.); The Kyrie; a duet by Mrs. M. Compton and Miss Eloise Compton; Gloria and Credo; in unison; Offertory, Haec dies, by L. Borden; Sanctus and Agnus Dei, by choir; services to be concluded with the chant of triumph: "Christ Is Risen From the Dead," also "The Dawn was Purpling O'er the Sky," and the hymn of praise: Laudate Dominum, are on the program.

"The Meaning of the Resurrection," will be the sermon subject by Rev. H. Habets, pastor. Confessions will be heard on Saturday night and Sunday morning.

ALL IS READY FOR EASTER DANCE

Charity Ball of Woman's Club Will Be Given Monday Night Here.

The outstanding social event in Prince William County on Easter Monday will be the Charity Ball, sponsored by the Woman's Club of Manassas, and given for the benefit of the Crippled Children's Hospital at Richmond. The dance will be given in the High School gymnasium, and by special act of the Town Council dancing will be permitted to continue until 1 a. m.

The advance sale of tickets indicates that one of the largest dances ever given in the county will result, while the sale of special tickets for spectators points to an attendance of a large group who prefer to look on rather than join the dancers.

The various committees have done their work well and all arrangements have been completed. The music will be furnished by Goebel's Orchestra of Washington, noted for its rhythm in dance music, and with the effective decorative scheme completed by the decorative committee, those who attend the dance will find themselves in a veritable Fairyland.

The committee on music was composed of Mrs. Eli Swavely and Mrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, while the decoration committee was composed of Mrs. James R. Larkin, chairman; Mrs. J. P. Lyon, Mrs. F. R. Hynson, Mrs. Bruce Whitmore, Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, Mrs. R. S. Illingworth, Mrs. Noel Gill, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. J. R. Leachman, Mrs. W. N. Wenrich and Miss Lulu Metz.

LEAGUES MAKE GREAT PROGRESS

Community and Junior Leagues Make Splendid Headway During 1928.

The year book of the Co-operative Education Association which has just been published indicates that the Community and Junior Leagues, under the direction of that Association, has a most successful year during 1928. The 1,700 organizations, with a membership of between 7,500 and 100,000, did much for the improvement of school, health, home, civic and social conditions. These organizations, in addition to their other work of building better communities, raised and expended $225,000 last year for local improvements. The leagues have raised and expended more than one million dollars for local improvements during the past five years.

It is the purpose of the Association to have a citizens' organization in every community in the state. In addition to the citizens' organizations, the Association seeks to have a student association or Junior League in every school so that these young people may receive very definite training in citizenship and be prepared to take their places as community leaders when they become older.

At the last annual meeting the Association revised its objectives and set forth a few new ones. Its purpose to build a better Commonwealth by helping the local citizens to help themselves in developing a better community should be carried out in a most constructive manner through the very definite objectives set forth.

Dr. J. L. Jarman, President of the State Teachers' College at Farmville, is president of the Association, and J. H. Montgomery is executive director. There are 60 outstanding citizens of the state on the board of directors, including the Governor, Harry F. Byrd; state superintendent of public instruction, Harris Hart; state commissioner of health, Dr. Ennion G. Williams; state commissioner of welfare, Frank Bane, state commissioner of agriculture, George W. Kolner; state highway commissioner, H. G. Shirley; state librarian, Dr. H. R. McIlwaine; state director for extension work at V. P. I., John R. Hutcheson, and the director of home economics work, Miss Maude Wallace.

The leagues are now preparing for their district meetings to be held during April. There will be ten meetings in all, and it is expected that practically every league in the state will be represented at one of these meetings.

The meeting in this section will be held at Occoquan.

NEWS OF WEEK IN OLD VIRGINIA

Two Try Suicide.

Danville, March 27—Two men are well on the way to recovery at Memorial Hospital after failing in attempts at suicide last week. C. E. Kelley, Danville broker, who narrowly missed striking his heart with a bullet, found he had no more than a flesh wound, and Elmo Brown, who flung himself on the rocks of Dan River from Worsham street bridge, was told he would get well.

Fairfax School Reorganization.

Fairfax, March 28—The first step in a consolidation and reorganization program for the high school system of Fairfax County was taken last week by the County School Board, when it decided to consolidate the high school work at Fairfax and Oakton. All first year instruction will be given at Fairfax, with the class operating in two sections, under two teachers. The size of the elementary graduation classes indicates an enrollment of between 50 and 60 for first year instruction. The present overcrowded conditions at Oakton will be relieved and second, third and fourth year high school instruction will be given there.

Bids Asked On Gasoline.

Richmond, March 27—The State highway department will open bids April 4 on 1,142,500 gallons of gasoline and 64,950 gallons of lubricating oil for use on the State highway system.

Preacher Will Move.

Winchester, March 28—Rev. J. Market Street Methodist Episcopal Church here, will become pastor of Luther Neff, for five years pastor of the church of that denomination at Frostburg, Md., subject to action of Bishop Welch, who presides over the Baltimore annual conference in Hamilton Church, Washington, in April, it was announced today.

Dr. Neff came here from Chevy Chase, Md.

Vermonters Coming.

Richmond, March 28—The "Vermont Special of 1929," a 14-car train of exhibits of Vermont's natural and manufactured products, and carrying a party of business and professional men and women of that state, headed by Governor and Mrs. John E. Weeks, will visit Richmond April 11.

The "Vermont Special of 1929" is the third such train to be operated from ex-President Coolidge's native state. The first one was run in 1926 and the second in 1927, but none was run last year on account of the Vermont flood.

More than 4,000 miles will be traveled by the special during its 10-day run through the South, Middle West and Canada. It will visit 18 cities, 24 states and two Canadian provinces.

Town Managers Numerous.

Petersburg, March 27—For the office of city manager of Petersburg, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. William F. Drewry, the city council, which makes the appointment, has received 30 written applications for the post, representing 13 states. The council, however, has as yet made no appointment, nor has it indicated when it will do so.

Dr. Drewry resigned as city manager after a service of five years and after the council had reduced the salary of the office from $10,000 per annum to $5,000. He has been appointed to the State Bureau of Mental Hygiene. E. P. Goodwyn is now acting city manager.

Safeguards For Fishing.

Richmond, March 28—The State Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries has passed a resolution calling upon the State Corporation Commission to safeguard fishing rights, which they said may be imperiled by the impounding of water for industrial use in Virginia.

In some quarters the resolution has been connected with the Goshen Pass inquiry, but during previous hearings A. Willis Robertson, fish commission chairman, repeatedly stated that he believed the Virginia Public Service Corporation's plans would safeguard fishing rights.

General Vaughan Dies.

Franklin, March 27—General Cecil C. Vaughan, of Franklin, member of the State Senate, banker, good roads advocate and leading citizen of Tidewater Virginia, died at 4:20 a. m., March 21, at Protestant Hospital, Norfolk, from a complication of diseases, after several months' illness.

Provisions for youngsters accompanied by their parents, scouts under age attending meetings, etc., are provided for in the ordinance.

Sydney T. Lawler, of the Manassas High School class of 1927, has been honored by selection to membership in the Alpha Beta Fraternity at the University of Maryland. This selection is significant because membership in this fraternity is based on scholarship.

Membership in this fraternity is usually selected from upper classman, but this year two members of the sophomore class, Mr. Lawler being one of them, were chosen by reason of the high standing they had attained.

Mr. Lawler was popular while in school at Manassas, and as a student in the agricultural department was president of the agricultural club in 1927, and represented the agricultural department of the local high school at the annual stock judging at Blacksburg. He is now preparing himself for the position of agricultural instructor.

IF WE ONLY HAD TIME

"If we only had time through the day's busy hours
To think of the sick and say it with flowers.
If we only had time to write friends we have known,
Our love as of old though long years have flown.
If we only had time to speak a word of cheer
To one bereft of a loved one so dear.
If we only had time for the feeble and old,
In our mad rush for fame and our grasping for gold.
The world would be better, our lives sublime,
In doing for others, if we only had time."

LAWYER APOLOGIZES TO FAIRFAX JUDGE

W. T. Oliver Cited For Contempt of Court, Pleads Ill Health, Promises To Be Good.

Fairfax, March 28.—Former Senator Walter T. Oliver Monday afternoon in the Fairfax County Circuit Court tendered to Judge Howard Smith a public apology for his conduct last Thursday afternoon when he was cited for contempt of court during an argument following a verdict of 46 days in jail rendered by the Judge against one of Oliver's clients.

Mr. Oliver stated that he deeply regretted the occurrence and promised that it would never occur again. He stated that he had been in poor health for some months and had no memory of the events of Thursday afternoon. He asked the judge to consider favorably his 32 years of service before the bar.

Judge Smith, in reply, stated that he sincerely regretted the occurrence, which, he felt, could not be overlooked by the court. Any similar occurrence in the future will mean immediate disbarment for any of the attorneys of the court, said Judge Smith, who concluded with the statement that the business of the court was to administer justice and not to give temperance lectures.

The resolution appears elsewhere.

Two new members were initiated and one member was reinstated. Approximately $100 was raised to reimburse the treasury on account of amounts drawn for death and sick benefits.

SPRING ON THE FARM

"Arrival of spring on the farm, besides bringing intense activity for the men in the fields, also brings housecleaning time for the farm woman and only too often it is necessary for her to spend from a week to ten days in doing this work by old fashioned tiresome methods." Says Fred R. Hynson, of Hynson & Bradford, local Delco-Light representatives.

"However," he says, "several farm women in this vicinity are going to do their spring house cleaning this year in a lot less time and without near the hard work, through the modern conveniences electric service and running water under pressure." While the women folks are using electricity and running water to help them, points out Mr. Hynson, these great modern conveniences also will be helping the men folks, as well as other members of the family in many ways, not only for just a few days but every day in this year and for years to come.

Hungry Acres

... feed them and make

MONEY

YOUR crops need food to do their best work, just as you do. Every acre you plant is hungry—hungry for nitrogen—and Chilean Nitrate of Soda is the food to give them. Corn, oats, wheat, barley, truck crops or fruit trees will respond quickly to a feeding of Chilean Nitrate. Increased yield, better quality and greater profits are practically sure.

Chilean Nitrate is the old original Nitrate of Soda, the natural product, not synthetic, not artificial. It is the nitrogen fertilizer on which prosperous farmers have depended for 50 years. There is no substitute—nothing "just as good". Order your supply now and be all set for a money-making year.

Linton Arden, Washington, Va., has become famous as a melon prize winner in fairs around his home. For several years he has been capturing blue ribbons. He always fertilizes his melons liberally with Chilean Nitrate—the nitrogen fertilizer that most crop champions use.

Our new 44-page book, "How to Use Chilean Nitrate of Soda" gives fertilizer information for all crops. It is free. Write for Book No. 1 or tear out this ad and mail it with your name and address written in the margin to office nearest you.

THE MORNING BREAKS.

Beyond the war-clouds and the reddened ways,
I see the Promise of the Coming Days!
I see His Son arise, new charged with grace,
Earth's tears to dry and all her woes efface!
Christ lives! Christ loves! Christ rules!
No more shall Might,
Though leagued with all the Forces of the Night,
Ride over-Right. No more shall Wrong
The world's gross agonies prolong.
Who waits His Time shall surely see
The triumph of His Constancy—
When without let, or bar, or stay,
The coming of His Perfect Day
Shall sweep the Powers of Night away—
And Faith, replumed for nobler flight,
And Hope, aglow with radiance bright,
And Love, in loveliness bedight,
Shall greet the morning light!
—John Oxenham, in All's Well.

THE CHEERFUL "CHEEP, CHEEP."

The cheerful, "cheep, cheep," of millions of baby chicks is being heard in post offices and mail trains throughout the country, as farmers and poultry raisers receive their annual consignments of future egg layers. The hatching season is now in full blast, and will continue through the next four months, to satisfy the demand which arises with the spring of every year.

Growth of the hatchery industry has been amazing. Twenty years ago, 100,000 chicks were sold annually. In 1928, more than 500,000,000 chicks went to American farmers and poultry raisers, according to figures of the International Baby Chick Association. Shipping of chicks through the mails was made permissible during the war, with the result that a mail order business in chicks immediately sprang up.

Today chicks journey many miles by way of parcel post in their own snug "baby pullmans," and arrive as lively as though they hadn't taken a trip in a railroad mail car.

The immense growth of the baby chick industry is directly attributable to this ability to ship chicks through the mails and by express, and to the quality of chicks which the hatcheries have been able to turn out. With the growth of the business there has also come a raising of standards by hatcheries. A business organization, uniting foremost hatcheries of the country under the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks For Greater Profits," was recently formed to insure farmers and poultry raisers of the best in quality and breeding, and the fairest of business dealings.

This emphasis on quality and fair dealing has had much to do in establishing confidence of the farmer in the product of the hatchery. Chicks from reliable hatcheries have been proved to be far more profitable than the usual type of home-hatched variety, due to better breeding, and poultry raisers have come to a realization of this fact.

AMERICAN ECONOMIC SYSTEM BEARS FRUIT.

So rapid and unprecedented has been the growth of American prosperity that some observers have feared that we are being carried along on a wave that must shortly break, dropping us on the hard sands of diversity.

But facts make it evident that our prosperity is no ephemeral thing, but the natural fruit of our development.

In 50 years per capita wealth has increased from $870 to nearly $3,000. Bank deposits have increased 25 times and the value of agricultural produce four times. It is estimated that 15,000,000 people now own securities in our industries. American business of all kinds can point to an unparalleled record of achievement.

This is no "paper prosperity," we are experiencing, but definite progress that can be measured either in dollars or in the scale of a greater and happier civilization. At the base of it all is a social and economic system dedicated to liberty and the rights of the individual, that is the envy of the world.

Press Comment

Advancing Spring.
Baltimore Sun—Spring's majesty is confirmed by the news from Washington that the Japanese cherry trees will be in blossom on April 5; for the date fits exactly into the vernal schedule as promulgated in the State of New York. There the Arbor Days are to be the 12th of April in the southern counties, the nineteenth for the middle tier and the twenty-sixth for those facing Canada. Thus does spring sweep northward week by week, unaffected by vagaries of local weather, the season of new growth owes allegiance only to the primeval forces that swing the earth in its orbit. Changeable April may be, but never trifling.

Just Fate.
Boston Transcript—The man who wrote that song, "I Faw Down and Go Boom," is recovering from the effects of a tumble taken when a motor car hit him. There are times when it seems that fate deals out even-handed justice.

Watch And Hope.
Charlotte News—A man who found an insect in a bottle of soda water got $200. Hereafter we'll watch our drinks more carefully.

The Last's the Best.
Philadelphia Inquirer—Most men don't care particularly for long and involved meals and are usually pretty well satisfied with soup and something substantial, followed by the golf course.

"John, what are traveler's checks?"
"Oh, lots of things, my dear—flat tires, empty gas tanks, open bridges, traffic cops and jay-walking pedestrians."—Boston Transcript.

"How do you like that place? Shall we buy it?"
"Oh, it's perfectly lovely! The view from this balcony is so fine that it leaves me speechless."
"Then we'll buy it."—Answers.

A New Excuse.
"Why are you late for breakfast?" demanded Father as Johnny stole into the room.
"Well, Dad," replied Johnny, "when you called me I was having a very funny dream and I just slept a few minutes longer to finish it."

A Bit Precocious.
Peggy had been to the circus and mother thought to impress a lesson.
"When dogs and ponies and monkeys obey so well, don't you think a little girl ought to obey even more quickly?" she asked.
"Yes, mummy, and I would if I had been as well trained as they have."—Pearson's.

"My dear man, if I wasn't, father would never have let you."—Sydney Bulletin.

No Hope.
Buffalo News—There isn't much hope for temperance in drinking when people can't even be temperate in their discussion of it.

Isn't She.
Houston Post-Dispatch—A husband in Memphis and a husband in Houston died Wednesday because their estranged wives refused to make up with them. A wife is a mighty fine thing to have about the home.

Add Definitions.
Detroit News—A man is some one who telephones from a drug store where a photograph is playing on the candy counter, and wonders why his wife laughs so when he says he is staying in to work.

What, Indeed?
Philadelphia Inquirer—An Arkansas woman has sued her husband because he "plays golf too much." Query from chorus of addicts: "What is too much golf?"

Wouldn't It?
Richmond Times-Dispatch—There is serious doubt whether, in spite of reports to the contrary, a shark ever bites a man. No one seems to be concerned about whether a man ever bites a shark, although, of course, that would be news.

Pity the Turk.
Minneapolis Journal—The new Turks are very well pleased with the practical abolition of polygamy, though it is still somewhat difficult to go anywhere in Turkey without running into a lot of Past-Grand Master Mothers-in-Laws.

LAZARUS, COME FORTH.
"Come forth!" and Lazarus arose.
"And looked upon his Master's face; Come forth from sin to life in me," Christ says to all the human race.

Arise you from the sleep of death.
All you who walk in worldly ways,
Strip off all cold indifference,
Awake to songs of love and praise.
Come forth from all the things of self,
Leave them behind you in the tomb,
And give your thoughts to other's good,
Give sacrifice a chance to bloom.

Come forth from all your little plans,
That thwart My gentle plans for thee,
Just trust Me to the uttermost,
And blessed things you then shall see.

Come forth from all the old self-will,
And may your will be merged in Mine,
And there will come a heaven-peace,
And lights within your soul shall shine.

Come forth to fuller life in Me,
That comes from union with the Vine,
Then you will bear rich fruit for God,
As through you flows the life divine.

F. B. STONE.
It makes all the difference whether you are facing death or looking to larger life.—Aton.

No Argument At All.
An Englishman touring in Scotland came across an old couple arguing in the road, and stopped to ask the cause of the dispute. "We're no disputin' at all," answered the man. "What did your wife say when you separated?"

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
FOR MARCH 31, 1929.

The International Sunday School Lesson for March 31 is an Easter Lesson, "The Future Life."—Luke 24:1-12; John 14:1-6.

By WILLIAM P. ELLIS.

"If that man could really answer the questions of his topic, there would not be an auditorium in all the world large enough to hold the crowds that would throng to hear him," commented one man to another, as they read an evangelist's announcement of an address upon "Where are our dead and what are they doing?" Tennyson voiced a universal human desire when he cried,

"Ah Christ, that it were possible
For one short hour to see
The souls we loved, that they might tell us
What and where they be."

Death is as old and universal an experience as life. It is the greatest adventure of all, and the supreme mystery. Some persons dread it constantly; a well-known lecturer with whom I talked a few months ago had almost a paroxysm of terror as he spoke of his horror of dying. Most men simply put the subject out of their everyday thinking. Many Christians look forward to it with eager expectancy, as the solution of problems and the fulfillment of hope.

Whatever the individual attitude, the awesome experience of death awaits everybody.

Light On Darkest Subject.
No digging into archaeology's ruins has failed to reveal evidence that death has always engrossed life; from earliest times man has been concerned with the mystery of death. All philosophers have pondered the problem. It has been central to every religion.

Only Christ has given a clear teaching upon the topic, climaxed by the demonstration of His own victory over death. The whole structure of Christianity is built upon an empty tomb. Ours is a living faith today because Jesus died and rose again. Even the Cross would not avail without the Resurrection. The Good news which disciples of Christ have carried down the centuries, and across the continents is that He arose, and is alive forever more; and that because He lives, we also shall live. Death's sting and death's victory have been vanquished by the Crucified Saviour whom the grave could not hold.

All sorts of candles and torches have been burned beside the biers of the dead; but they have not lighted the sepulchral darkness of the tomb. The only light that streams from the grave is that which glows from the new-cut cave of Joseph of Arimathea, in a garden outside the walls of Jerusalem, hard by a hill called Calvary.

If ever the church loses her faith in the Resurrection, she loses her very reason for existence; and substitutes a sterile philosophical speculation for a life-giving truth. The preacher who has no Easter message is no whit better off than the old pagan teachers who reduced human life to the level of the brute creation, deeming that a man dies as a dog dies. The Bible stakes the whole Gospel upon the reality of the Resurrection of Jesus; and its corollary that death has been defeated by Life; and that because He lives, we, too, shall live.

The Wonderful Fact-Story.

Geography sheds light upon history. To know the setting of a story is to understand more clearly the story itself. As I have reverently wandered, again and again, over the scenes of the life and death and Resurrection of Christ, I have found growing within me a strange, moving sense of the reality of it all. From the wall of the city, lying between the site of the trial of Jesus and the probable scene of His crucifixion and burial, I have reviewed the procession of events, I have watched the Easter sun rise over the Mount of Olives—just such a dawn as enwrap the women as they hastened down the hill to the sepulchre. Again and again I have examined a new tomb, once sealed by a rolling stone, which minutely meets the description of that given by Joseph of Arimathea for holiest use.

Amidst the real setting of the Story I have mused upon the accumulated evidence of the eye-witnesses who had met the risen Lord. In a variety of places, and to different individuals and groups, He made himself known, not as a ghost, but as a man who could partake of food and whose wound prints could be handled. Well has it been said that there is no better attested fact of history than the appearance of Jesus after His death.

No other historical event has ever been subject to such varied and constant and ingenious examination and attacks as the Resurrection. All the foes of faith have perceived that this is the central and essential citadel of the Christian position. After doubt and hate have done their worst, the Resurrection today shines sure and unshaken, the heart of the Christian religion. More people today accept the Easter Story than ever before in the world's history; and the implications of this stupendous truth upon life are better understood and practiced.

A Truth That Leads To Life.

If Jesus really rose from the dead, as we believe, then all of life's outlook for mortals is different. For in the Resurrection truth is power for living. Death's pall is lifted; and we do not sorrow for our dead as those who have no hope.

It is easy in serene days to speculate proudly upon the problem of immortality; but when death enters one's circle of love, then all is changed. Last year I was leading a large and uncommonly intelligent Bible class of men in a discussion of the Resurrection; and at the outset I asked all who believed in personal immortality to raise their hands. Only one failed to respond, an educator, he saying that he had an open mind on the subject. Two weeks later that man came to me with tears in his eyes, saying, "The afternoon of our discussion of the Resurrection, I had a telegram saying that my mother had died. If it had not been for our Lesson that morning, I simply could not have stood the blow." Vis a vis with books and theories he had been unconvinced about a future life; in the presence of the death of his dearest he had haggard to his heart; as his only comfort, the truth that Christ rose from the dead, and lives forevermore; and that with Him our own dear dead dwell in the home that never breaks up, awaiting, as Jesus promised the group of friends He was leaving, a glad and abiding reunion.

All of life becomes different if death is not the end. Immortal spirits, in training here for eternity, have the taste for eternity in their hearts. They cannot be content with small, mean, material satisfactions. Mightier than all laws and customs and restraints, to keep life pure and noble, is the consciousness that if we be risen with Him, we should seek those things which are above. The power of an endless life is the greatest force for the shaping of our present existence. Let Easter's message steal into the hearts of youth, and all the vexatious problems of the younger generation will be solved. Spirits that are not born to die do not wallow in the mire of filthiness. Great aims fire, and thrill the hearts of all who sincerely believe their destiny to be wrapped up in that of the risen Redeemer.

Our greatest English-speaking poet since Milton, Tennyson, whose prodigious imagination soared all heights and sounded all depths, asked that at the close of every volume of his poems should appear his confession of faith, which is an Easter message:—

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.
But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.
Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!
And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;
For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face,
When I have crossed the bar."

"it's the Champion"

"This is the best gas I've ever sold. And I've tried them all.

"But I'm not a lonesome booster for this improved 'Standard'. Every one of my customers seems to have elected himself a committee of one to help me and the other 25,000 'Standard' dealers* spread the good news.

"That's great stuff. And so is 'Standard'. Gives my little old car the fastest send-off I've ever seen. Even on cold mornings. And pick-up! I shoot through traffic so fast the folks wonder what's been scaring me.

"Clean? I'll say. See how clear and white. And it's backed by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey."

"STANDARD" Improved GASOLINE

*More than 25,000 "Standard" dealers offer not only this improved "Standard" Gasoline but the most willing, cheerful service you've ever known. "It's a pleasure to be served at a 'Standard' pump," say many tourists who, like this dealer, have tried them all.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear brother, J. J. Carter, who departed this life March 29, 1928.

In the grave yard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave;
Lies the one we love so dearly,
And tried so hard to save.

He has gone but is not forgotten,
And never shall he be;
For we hope some day to meet him,
In the home above with Thee.

Sleep on, dear brother, and take your rest,
God called you home, He thought it best.

He saw your suffering here was great,
And opened wide the golden gate.

By his devoted brother,
GEORGE.

DANNY OUT RUNS THE LAW.

Mike Lynch, the mighty officer of the law,

With legal documents in his paw;

An eye singular: a duty to perform,
Drove over to Corbin Thompson's farm.

With bulging chest, manly pride,
This officer in an automobile did ride.

Jumping out with the law in his hand,
He walked up to the door to arrest little Dan.

He knocked on the door real loud and strong,

And called to Danny to come along.

But no Danny was then in sight,
He heard the call, he saw the light;

And out the back door poor Danny ran
As Mike pulled his gun, and says,

"there goes Dan."

"Halt", came the commanding sound,
As Danny bounded across the freshly plowed ground.

He had shifted to high, shirt tail out,
Trying to dodge the bullets that were flying about.

As the gun spoke three snappy sounds,
Poor Danny moved in leaps and bounds.

Going towards the rising sun,
Leaving the bullets of Mike's gun.

After the smoke cleared, Mike came back,

And all he could see was Danny's track.

He called for the blood hounds to trail poor Dan,

The dogs that love to hunt for man;

But because of slip between cup and lip,

He could not get dog or gyp:

So poor Danny has gone out in to the night,

Now folks, do you think that is right,

For the law to run poor Danny away from home,

Out in the dark and cold to roam?

L'envoi

O Danny come back and put your feet under the table;

O Danny come back when ere you feel able.

O Danny come back to your babes and wife;

O Danny come back and save your life.

O Danny come back and sleep in your own bed;

O Danny come back before you are dead.

JOHN LOUIS SHENK TO SING AT HIGH SCHOOL

On Tuesday night, April 16, Mr. John Louis Shenk will sing for us.

The program will consist of varied selections, humorous, sacred and classical. But all the selections will be sung in a manner pleasing to everyone. Mr. Shenk believes in music for the people, music presented in a way that everyone can appreciate.

People of Prince William are fortunate in having the opportunity of hearing Mr. Shenk, who is one of America's greatest singers. The singer, whose concert tours take him to the big musical centers only, comes here next month in compliment to his niece, Miss Shenk, who is of the faculty of Manassas High School, and it is believed that this gracious act will be rewarded by a large attendance of music lovers from every section of the county.

SCHOOL NOTES

(By Junior League Reporter.)

The first days of Spring were welcomed at our school by the boys who were anxious to get the baseball diamond ready for spring practice. We all anticipate a winning team. The boys accommodated the girls by making ready the basketball court, so that they also might begin their spring practice.

At the last meeting of the Junior League, the school presented the school elimination contest of the National Oratorical Contest. The five contestants were: Ray Swank, Charles Beahm, Geraldine Shepherd, Stuart McMichael and Brown May. The winners were: First, Ray Swank; second, Geraldine Shepherd. The prize, which were contributed by the Junior League, were: First, a two and a half dollar gold piece; second, a fountain pen.

We, like all other schools in the county, are working to obtain a high percentage of five-pointers. Our five-point percentage is low, but the four-point percentage is high. Most all of the four-pointers will be five-pointers if they pay a visit to the dentist. Some have already done so.

We have opened up our "Clean-up" campaign with the slogan—"Nokesville, the first school in Prince William to be Sanitized."

At the recent meeting of the Junior League we re-elected officers as follows: President, Wilmer Neff; vice-president, Stuart McMichael; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy McMichael.

THINGS OF THE SOIL

The Manassas Journal's Complete Agricultural Service

By DAN VAN GORDER

Questions of lawns, gardens and general farming are discussed in this department each week. Readers of The Manassas Journal are invited to use this new column for the answer to their question and the solution of their problems. Address all inquiries to The Manassas Journal Information Bureau, Van Gorder News Service, Manassas, Virginia.

APRIL IN LAWN, GARDEN AND FARM.

April is the transition month when winter surrenders his last lingering grip and Nature dons her attire for the approach of Summer. This month brings multiplied duties, but with them come opportunities to enjoy the first fruits of the resurrection from winter's hibernation. The first vegetables will be available from the garden of early planning. The hardier perennials and annuals will begin to yield their early blooms. The chicks of the first hatchings will take on the stature of chickenhood; and we all get a portion of the feeling that surely spring is here.

Spade soil for flower beds. After spading apply hydrated lime at the rate of one pound to every 25 square feet of soil. Lime should be applied at this rate every three years to flower areas. Remove the mulch from perennials, cut off the old tops, level the soil in beds, divide clumps and reset. Perennials may be sown this month. Set pansies in beds and porch boxes. All hardy annuals can be planted. Remove protection from roses and cut out the dead wood.

Growing grapes is not only profitable for the commercial producer, but furnishes an excellent fruit for immediate table use and canning. No home, city or rural, should be without a few vines. They require little room and make besides a source of luscious fruit, a much appreciated shade and fence covering. Many areas that otherwise would be filled with weeds may be utilized.

April care is important to the health of the grape vine. Spraying done this month determines largely the amount and quality of the fruit, besides protecting the health of the vine. Spray first when the shoots are from eight to twelve inches in length with a 5-5-50 Bordeaux mixture; second, just before the flower buds open; third, just after the blossoms fall; fourth, ten or twelve days later, thoroughly covering the foliage and young grapes; fifth, about two weeks later. If a period of rainy weather should follow this last spray, a sixth should be applied two weeks after the fifth. If this schedule is followed throughout the spring season there will be little loss from black rot, which is one of the leading grape losses.

When rose chafers first appear on the grape vines, spray heavily with arsenate of lead at the rate of three pounds to fifty gallons of water, to which has been added a gallon of cheap molasses. Arsenate of lead added to any of the Bordeaux sprays will control insects.

Fertilization is necessary to maximum crops and healthy canes. Potash shows slight gains in canes produced but little increase in additional fruit. Phosphate aids only where a green manure crop is desired to plow under. Tests have shown that nitrate of soda applied at the rate of 250 pounds to the acre will pay excellent profits. Not only is more fruit produced, of better quality, but the health of the canes for future production is enhanced. For a few vines, application of nitrate of soda at the rate of six to ten ounces to each vine will prove sufficient. These fertilizer applications should be applied within the next two weeks.

Don't damage pastures by turning livestock onto them in early April. There is practically no food value to April pastures, and the damage caused to both pasture and animals should be avoided.

Starting cantaloupes and watermelons under glass in paper or wooden bands, will enable the grower to get his crop on the market two weeks ahead of the grower using the outside method. Then too, from 200 to 500 more melons will be produced on each acre.

If using artificial lights for egg production, gradually decrease them during the early part of April. Where 12 and 14 hour working days have been provided the hens by the use of lights, the birds should be fed very early and late to aid in adjustment to the new conditions. Do not make the change suddenly.

Curculio is one of the serious menaces of peach trees. It can be controlled by the arsenate of lead spray just as the tree finishes its blooming, with a second application ten days after bloom. This should be followed in three weeks by an application of self-boiled lime sulphur with one hundred pounds of arsenate of lead added to each fifty gallons of spray. See that every peach is thoroughly covered with this spray, as brown rot as well as curculio is controlled by this application. Directions for making self-boiled lime sulphur will be furnished on request to this department.

It is not too late to plan the home vegetable garden. Tonics in the form of fresh vegetables are Nature's cure for almost all the ills of humanity. The seed catalogue often serves as one of our best medical books if practiced in the terms of home grown vegetables.
