Colored "Social Worker" Arrested at District Home

oiph Massie, sen appointed oun. Worker, or Washington, ha pouted the judgment of the magist ares court which sentenced him that y cays in jail and $100 fine an squired him to give bond to keep

The trial was held at the District riome on Monday evening at 7:30 nu was climaxed by the death of Mr. B. R. Guthrie, whose wife is saperintenuent of the Home and who and preferred the charges which had aused the negro's arrest and trial.

The incident appears to have been an outgrowth of Massie's complainng of the treatment of the colored numates and the discourtesies he harges his wife had regerved at a ormer visit to the Home. It was cormer visit to the Home. It was testified that he came to the Home in an ugly mood and became very abusive in his language and manner, so much so that Mrs. Guthrie was compelled to request him to leave. his seems to have incensed the Negro still further and, it was testified, he became very loud and demonstrative, finally threatening to strike Mrs. Guthrie. Being apprehensive of the condition of her husband, she endeavored to get Massie out she endeavored to get Massie out of the building and failing, she called the Secretary of the Board, Mr. L. Ledman who immediately notified Deputy Shoriff Partlow, who arrived within a short time and placed him under arrest. J. C. Parish, Judge of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court and Acting Police Justice issued a warrant and required him to post bond for appearance and trial Monday night.

AEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The regular meeting of the Wom-a's Club was held at the High School as Club was held at the High School on Wednesday, January 14. Reports ever read from the various committees. One of the interesting ones was the report of the Charities Committee which told of the Christmas askets sent out to the psor families in the county. Another was the report of the Committee for serving not lunches to school children who otherwise have insufficient or no annch. These lunches are prepared by the classes in Domestic Science ander the personal direction of Missible Mets. Hot soup, hot cocca and sometimes sandwiches are served. Up until the close of school for the Christmas holidays lunches were served to 182 children, or an average of 26 per day, but this number is now being increased. Contributions o assist the club in this work have been received from several indivibeen received from several indivi-luals and also from Kiwanis and the Order of Eastern Star. Any member of the club who can, is urged to assist in serving these lunches and ommunicate with Mrs. George Hasel, chairman of the children's Luncheon

The speaker of the day was Mrs.

J. L. B. Buck, the State President.

she said, in part, that the first clubwoman was Mrs. Anne Hutchison of Boston, who was listed as a bold woman with bright wit. She gathwoman with bright wit. She gathered together a troop of woman to meet once a week at her house. These meetings were disapproved of by the men who eventually succeeded in banishing her from Boston. From this small beginning there are now almost 8,000,000 club women all over the world, engaged in 125 different activities. Mrs. Buck emphasized the three R's. naming them as Responsithree R's, naming them as Responsibility, Reliability, and Religion. She said our lives should resemble a triangle with the longest side representing our home life which has first importance and the base line standing for religion upon which the other two phases of our life should be two phases of our life should be founded, with the third side standing for our slub life, our contact with other women and other activities out-side our home and religion. Her speech closed with a poem:
