CISTERNS URGED TO FIGHT FIRES

Chief Speiden Tells of the Several Methods of Fire Protection.

As we travel along our highways and byways how often we see an old, brick or stone chimney standing a mute reminder of a once happy home. If these old piles could speak, what interesting though harrowing tales they would tell.

Perhaps of a happy little family, father and mother sitting by the open hearth and several small children playing gaily on the floor. A wild night with the wind whistling around the house corners and piling the fast falling snow in great drifts about the house. But this peacefulness is soon to be disturbed. A cracking noise is heard, the house is afire. With no fire protection this happy little family is driven out in the storm and compelled to stand by and see their home destroyed, not able to do a thing to stop the demon, fire, in his devouring work.

We pass another and it tells the story of a young couple just returned from their honeymoon trip. They have been in their little home but a few days when, from some unaccountable cause, a fire occurs—no fire protection, and they can only stand at a distance and see their dream of the future go up in smoke.

And so we get a different story from each old chimney as we stop and ask for its history but, their tales are alike in one common respect—no fire protection. But these were in times past. Things have changed. With the good roads gradually connecting the towns and thus traversing the rural districts throughout the country-side and with the advent of the modern motor driven fire engine even the remote places now enjoy a protection such as was not dreamed of a few years ago. A fire occurs—a telephone message to the nearest town, even though it be ten or fifteen miles away, immediately starts to the scene a company of picked men, all the necessary apparatus to combat the dread enemy, speeding over the road at the rate of a railroad train. They soon arrive at the scene of destruction and immediately look for some source of water. If they can find a good dug well or a small stream, well and good, and but a few minutes elapse before a strong stream of water is playing on the blaze and in most instances the fire is conquered. But if no water is to be found other than a driven well, with no way of attaching their engine the chances of a successful fight is very remote. Water, and plenty of it is wanted, especially if the fire has gained some headway.

Now if there is no dug well or no available stream about the place a cistern is the next best bet, if indeed it is not preferable to the others, as in most cases it is more easy of access. A cistern holding about fifteen thousand gallons is amply large for the ordinary dwelling. This could be about twelve feet deep by about twelve feet square and could be made by digging a hole of the proper size, lining it with cement with a reinforced cement slab over same, an opening in the top about two feet square, with cover would be large enough to admit the suction hose of the fire engine. This cistern could be kept full of water by connecting with the down spout from the roof or allowing the stream from a spring to flow in. Its location should be far enough from the house to allow the engine to stand without being scorched by the flames. In small communities a single cistern could be provided for quite a number of houses if placed so that a run of not more than seven or eight hundred feet of hose would reach the farthest house or barn. This would throw the expense of building the cistern on quite a number of property owners which would fall lightly on all. These cisterns, if placed generally over the country where there is an available motor driven fire engine, should provide very good fire protection, perhaps reduce the cost of insurance and if it did nothing more than give you a feeling of security, particularly at night, the small amount put into the cistern would be money well expended.

Albert Speiden,
Chief, Manassas Fire Department.

DISTRICT SHORT COURSE TO BE HELD AT FRONT ROYAL

Arrangements have been made to hold the Northern Virginia 4-H. Short Course at Randolph Macon Academy, Front Royal, Va. during the week of August 11-16. The various 4-H. clubs in the county have included the sending of representatives to the district short course in their goals for the year and a large representation from Prince William County is assured. Any club member in good standing and having projects and records in good order up to date of time of short course may attend and will be in charge of the county home and farm agents and local club leaders while at Front Royal. Instruction will be given in animal husbandry, poultry, self-improvement, basketry and clothing.

CLUB ADOPTS CONSTITUTION

Manassas Men's Social Club Elects Permanent Officers and Completes Organization

The Men's Social Club of Manassas completed its organization last Thursday evening by adopting a Constitution and set of By-Laws and electing the following officers for one year: Welton P. Farrow, president; Chas. W. Alpaugh, vice president; Cedrick Saunders, secretary-treasurer. These three officers with the chairman of the Entertainment Committee who will be appointed by them, constitute the Executive Committee of the Club.

The business session was preceded by a delicious steak supper prepared and served by Messrs. Eugene Davis, F. R. Saunders and Geo. W. Meetez.

Following are some excerpts from the constitution:

Object: "The object of this club shall be cooperative effort among men."

Membership: "All men not under seventeen years of age who are in sympathy with the aims of this club shall be eligible to membership."

The club has devised a novel means of maintaining an active membership at all times. The by-laws provide that "When a member is compelled to be absent from a meeting of the club he shall give his reasons to the President or the Secretary-Treasurer. If a member is absent from three consecutive meetings without 'good cause' he shall be automatically dropped from membership. The President and Secretary-Treasurer must agree on what does not constitute 'good cause' in any particular case before any member can be dropped. Any member thus suspended shall be granted the right of appeal to the Executive Committee for final decision if he so desires."

Charter members of the club are as follows: C. W. Alpaugh, Joe Ambrose, E. M. Arey, Geo. D. Baker, J. Dennis Baker, J. L. Bushong, Wm. F. Cooke, A. B. Compton, Eugene Davis, Jos. Dodge, W. P. Farrow, Frank Gue, Ferris Gue, Rev. W. A. Hall, Robert S. Illingworth, Geo. W. Meetez, Stuart Monroe, J. J. Murphy, J. H. Rexrode, R. L. Sadd, W. C. Sadd, F. R. Saunders, Robert Saunders, Cedrick Saunders, Frank G. Sigman, J. H. Stauff, O. B. Tabor and A. S. Wilfong.

Lauded by Prince William Bar

Following are the resolutions adopted at the close of the April term today.

WHEREAS, it is the opinion of the Bar of Prince William County in the 16th Judicial Circuit of Virginia that the resignation of Hon. Howard W. Smith is to be regretted:

"THAT it is likewise the opinion of the Bar that he has presided over this Court with ability, dignity, energy, fairness and courtesy, and, therefore,

"BE IT RESOLVED that this Bar do hereby express its appreciation for his services aforesaid and its regret upon his said resignation."

NEW COUNTY PLAN TO BE STUDIED

Consulting Engineer Will Lay Plans and Reports Before Kiwanis Club.

Tomorrow night, B. Lynn Robertson, chairman of the special county highway committee of the Kiwanis Club, will render an accounting of his stewardship in this valuable work.

Over a year ago, Dr. S. M. Johnson laid the idea before the local club, citing the advantage of a unified plan not now in existence for grouping the county road system in such a way as to develop a large mileage and provide for proper maintenance of the remainder of the 900 miles of county roads.

The Kiwanis Club appointed Mr. Robertson chairman of this committee and Mr. Robertson raised funds sufficient to promote the mapping and planning work. At this meeting will be Dr. Johnson and Fred E. Schmefer, of the Engineering Highway Bureau. Two progress reports and a map have been submitted to the Board of Supervisors showing the state and county system.

The plan is to build about 150 miles of a primary system and to provide maintenance for the balance. In this way about eighty percent of all the farms in the county would be less than one mile from an improved road.

On Saturday, the committee from the Board of Supervisors conferred with Mr. Shirley who will have his department study the plan. Construction cost would be carried on under one of two alternative plans, either five successive bond issues of $100,000 each, all issues to be long term bonds, or a "pay-as-you-go" plan over a fourteen year period.

The club will consider the proposition and its expression will represent considerable of the public opinion in this matter.

CIRCUIT COURT ENDS TODAY

Judge Smith Winds Up Docket and is Given a Resolution of Appreciation by Bar.

W. B. Doak was awarded a claim of $100 against the Bull Run Power Company. This case was fought over the best part of two days and the jury was out over an hour on the decision. An appeal has been noted.

Mary McPherson (alias Plenny McPherson) was found not guilty of a charge of unlawful possession.

Charles B. Allen was re-appointed county surveyor.

E. S. Carter entered a plea of guilty to a charge of unlawful possession and was given a fine of $50 and suspended sentence of thirty days.

The case of Allen Weaver, indicted for driving drunk, was postponed to the June term of court. Charles Pickett is his surety.

Certain citizens of Gainesville District (E. H. Sanders, et al) appeared to have the Gainesville school bond issue election declared illegal. To give the court due time for deliberation, this matter was postponed to the June term.

Ada Robinson and James Lloyd Bailor were tried for violation of the morality laws. The woman was tried without jury by consent, and found guilty, with sentence of six months and fine of $25. Upon motion of counsel, a new trial was granted.

Bailor was fined ten dollars, in default of payment of which he was remanded to jail.

A number of civil suits were dismissed and judgments of varying amounts entered.

4-H CLUB ENTERTAINS AT HAYMARKET

The proceeds from the entertainment will be used in helping defray the expenses of representatives of the club at the State Short Course this summer.

BUSINESS MEN ATTEND MEETINGS

Messrs. Hynson and Compton Are at Norfolk and Chicago This Week.

A. B. Compton, popular salesman of the firm of Hynson and Bradford is this week attending a national convention of Delco Light Salesmen and executives in Chicago. This is the annual meeting and Mr. Compton was selected from this area for meritorious service.

On Monday, Mr. Fred Hynson journeyed to Norfolk to attend the district meeting of Frigidaire dealers.

Business is good and it is going to get better, says Mr. Hynson, local Frigidaire dealer, who has received word that the factories at Dayton, Ohio, are employing more men than they ever did before at this time of year and that all first quarter production records were broken during the first three months of 1930.

"There are more Frigidaires in use than all other makes of electric refrigerators combined," he said. "This is because the outstanding value of the product, backed by General Motors guarantee of absolute satisfaction, has won and held public preference."

"The Frigidaire cabinet is rugged, inside and out, in flexible porcelain-on-steel and will not rust, peel or blister. The mechanical unit is placed at the bottom where it operates in cool air near the floor. This means efficiency and lower operating costs. All household cabinets have elevated food shelves, the famous cold control, the new acid proof hydrator, which keeps vegetables crisp and fresh, and all other features which have contributed in making Frigidaire the outstanding choice of discriminating buyers."

CHARITY BALL GALA AFFAIR

Ladies Are Bending Every Effort To Make Easter Dance Big Success

The Woman's Club is centering its united efforts to make the annual Easter Monday dance an event worth while. The main objective is, of course, to raise funds for charitable purposes in all sections of the county. It is, therefore, an event of county-wide interest.

Prior sale of tickets is encouraging, and with the proper support, the Club will obtain praiseworthy results.

Information desired is easily obtained from any poster or by calling any member of the club.

LEADING BALL GAME RESULTS

Season in Full Swing, Manassas Wins and Loses, Nokesville Dives for the Cellar.

Haymarket faced demoralization last Thursday when Herrell, E. McCuen and Ashby were forced to sit on side lines and watch Manassas wipe up their class mates. League rules on qualifications apparently was the reason, but it is reported that before Haymarket goes any further in the race the players will have removed the cause of the trouble.

Harrover was switched to the pitcher's box. He and the rest of his team made a brave stand, but sluggers like Brawner and Dodson just took the heart of things, and Garrison finished the route. Conner was going at top form as the box score will reveal. Haymarket apparently had only one earned score.

Ocoquan High Defeats Nokesville
Ocoquan High School opened their baseball season Thursday by defeating Nokesville with the score of 14 to 4.

Bryant kept Nokesville ten hits well scattered with the exception of the third inning, when they launched enough hits to net three runs. After the fourth inning Ocoquan was continually in the lead.

The thrill of the game came in the sixth inning when Dawson made a spectacular running catch of a low liner in right field. The playing of Hinton, and Lynn also, proved a big factor in Ocoquan's able defense.

Errors were responsible for many of Ocoquan's runs. Bodine pitched Galley 2—HAY market well for Nokesville but faulty support wrecked his pitching.

In the eighth inning Wright retired Ocoquan in order.

Accident Tourney Opens Odds Up on Silver-proof Glass Chariots

Milk Fed Pedestrians Bring Good Prices
By E. W. Melson

DOUBLE BREASTED suits of cast iron, lined with chrome sole leather, will be worn by the well dressed motorist this spring. We have had our ear to the ground. Paris advises decreeing knickers will be entirely ignored, if not openly snickered at, by the 26,634,210 car owners who will take the road this spring prepared to avenge dents in the radiator, abrasions of the fender and con-tusions of the gas tank, suffered in last year's road journey.

The jousting this year will be very gay and jovial. Cars will be matched by weights, and all col-lisions will be carefully refereed by cheering spectators, selected for their agility, who will report round by round to the Workmen's Compensation Bureau. No head on gouging will be permitted except by cars equipped with scat-ter-proof glass and caterpillar tires. Armored tanks are taboo, except by agreement between the contestants. Tanks are too safe for the drivers and last year's accidents from this source were so low as to be laughable.

The prizes to be awarded by the casualty companies this year are about the same as last:

- Complete Dislocation Right Elbow $50.00
- Partial Fracture Floating Rib 25.00
- Well Mashed Toes (Large or Small) 12.50
- Shin Bruises from Crank-ing 8.95
- Kicked by Horse 4.75

Bookmakers are quoting heavy odds on cars equipped with shat-ter-proof glass. In last year's jousting many contestants were unseated by flying slivers. This year, those who are still driving old style cars may obtain asbestos umbrellas from the State Con-servation Commission. This um-brella, invented by a Yugoslavian cab driver, will stand a heavy shower of glass and permit its owner to compete with newer jousting cars fitted with splinter-proof glass.

The contest will run from April until October and will be under the auspices of the Adhesive Tape & Plaster Association and the Auto Accessory and Garage Repairmen.

Accident Costume by Bethlehem Steel

Pedestrians are looking forward with eager anticipation to the yearly festival. Their suits will be made of special alloy. Casualty companies have announced that they will pay $5,000 for the hands and feet of choice, milk fed, pedestrians, or $2,500 for either leg. There will be prizes for all and the winner on points will be given a steel engraving of Musso-lini on his horse. Chambers of Commerce are urged to get be-hind this movement and have a Mardi-Gras in every community.

COMPARE the delivered price as well as the list price in considering automobile values. Chevrolet's prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financ-ing. See G. M. A. G. Terms.

There is one sure way to get greater value in a low-priced car today—choose a Six!

This greater value is instantly obvious when you drive a Chev-rolet Six. You notice first of all its greater smoothness. There is no tremor in the steering wheel—no rattle in the floor boards—no drumming in the body.

In addition to the finer perform-ance of its six-cylinder motor, the new Chevrolet gives you truly remarkable economy.

Its six-cylinder smoothness saves the entire car from the strain and wear of vibration. This, of course, lowers the cost of main-tenance and assures a longer-lasting automobile.

From the standpoint of operat-ing expense, Chevrolet is equally economical. No automobile uses less gasoline and oil. No car shows a lower expense for tires. And no car costs less for service.

Because of its modern engi-neering, Chevrolet also assures a high re-sale value—for its entire design is just as advanced as its six-cylinder engine.

Chevrolet gives you fully-en-closed, weather-proof, 4-wheel brakes. It gives you a modern fuel system—with the gasoline tank mounted in the rear out-side the body. It gives you four long semi-elliptic springs, mounted lengthwise in the direc-tion of car travel. It gives you beautiful Fisher bodies built of combination hardwood-and-steel. It gives you a full ball bearing steering mechanism, an adjustable driver's seat, a Fisher VV non-glare windshield, and tilting beam headlights, oper-ated by a foot-controlled button.

Before you decide on any car in the low-price field, see and drive the Chevrolet Six. The more thoroughly you investigate, the more certain you are to conclude that it's wise to choose a Six—for value, for performance and for economical transportation!

SPACE CAMPAIGN FOR COUNTY

Miss Pitts Anxious To Have Every Housewife In Prince
William Take Part.

Where is the mop? Where is my hat? Where this? Where that? Countless are the times these and similar questions have been asked in Prince William County during the past week. Why are these questions asked so often, why need they be asked because we do not have satisfactory storage facilities for the various things we need to care for. When a house is built is the proper time to plan for ample storage space for the many tools and supplies that must be put somewhere. Oftime this is not done, therefore the housewife is compelled to solve the storage problem. Since this is the case and because both the women and girls of Prince William County are majority in home improvement we have decided to feature a better storage space campaign. Through this campaign we hope to help as many people as wish our assistance to solve their storage problem.

The kind or type of space needed varies greatly in different households and thus our campaign covers any of the following or similar storage space problems:

- Clothes Closets.
- Cleaning Closets.
- China Closets.
- Built-in Cabinets.
- Shelves for Canned Foods.
- Medicine Cabinets.
- Closets for Coats and Wraps not Used Regularly.
- Linen Closet.
- Pantry.
- Built-in Ironing Board.
- Book Shelves.
- Window-Seat Boxes.

BETTER STORAGE

We are emphasizing the securing of convenient storage space but, as in all our home improvement work, encourage the using of things on hand and the keeping down of costs.

This campaign is open to any woman or girl of Prince William County. There is no definite amount of work required. We hope all those who are interested in putting in additional storage space will enroll in the campaign. Enrollment cards will be sent out on request from the home demonstration agents office. The agent will be glad to send out helpful literature, and for those desiring her help, she will visit and advise on particular problems.

Facts and Figures on Your Telephone

By EDWIN F. HILL

Edwin F. Hill

There has never been a time when as many employees of industry owned an interest in the business as now.

The heads of large industrial organizations recognize the value of this partnership and encourage the purchasing of stock in the business. It's an excellent example of thrift and, in addition, gives the employees an added interest in the operation of the organization of which they are a part.

Annual reports of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies show that 9,830 employees in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia are purchasing 42,267 shares of stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. At the present market quotation, these shares have a value of more than $10,000,000.

Ownership of stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is widespread. On January 1, there were 469,801 stockholders of this company. Last year the number of stockholders increased 15,205. The company's latest report gives the average number of shares of capital stock outstanding as 13,113,746. Net earnings per share available for dividends for 1929 were $12.67. The corresponding figure for 1928 was $12.11 per share.

It will be of interest to know that the average number of shares held per stockholder is twenty-eight. No single individual holds as much as one per cent of the total capital stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God

It is well to have a Bible in every home, as a light unto our path.—Proverbs 1:19-20
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

PLANNING PEACE—Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another—Romans 14:19

PRAYER:
Lord, we would think peace, strive for peace, proclaim peace.

TRUE TO TYPE

Our attention has just been drawn to the fact that the late Archie Davis Thomasson, who met such a tragic fate at Potomac Yards, was a grand nephew of the President of the Confederacy and son of Stonewall Jackson's color bearer, Thomas A. Thomasson, of Sudley, who died only a few years since.

That he was a chip off the old block is shown by the fact after being run over by a string of freight cars and horribly crushed, Mr. Thomasson coolly lighted a cigarette while enroute to the hospital where he died three days later.

This is the kind of spirit that explains why it took thirty million people four years to overcome eight million free born American citizens. The Journal laments the passing of such a good man and husband.

HAYMARKET

The Seniors of Haymarket High School presented their play "Road To The City" at the Parish Hall on Saturday evening to a large and appreciative audience. The cast was well sustained, each of the young people having a remarkable adaptability to their respective parts, and carried off the same in a manner that would have been a credit to much older and more experienced performers. The music by the high school orchestra with vocal solos by Calvin Herrell and John Clarke also received the warm applause of the audience at the request of many friends the play will be repeated on April the second, under the auspices of the Chancel Guild of St. Pauls Church.

The following is the cast:
Robert Darnell, A Country Physician, (Ernest McQuin)
Richard James, A Man from the City, (David Harrover)
Jud Jenkins, A Young Farmer, (Lloyd Davis)
John James, Richard's Invalid Father, (Carl Smith)
Duke, A Man of Mystery, (Herman Smith)

Loto Lee, Her Cousin, (Bennie Terrell)

Lilly Morton, A Girl from the City, (Dassie Adams)

Mrs. Sanderson, Jet's Widowed Mother, (Virginia Shumate)
Marie, A Lady's Maid, (Josephine Adams)

locals were unable to get to Bailey much before the fifth inning when the visitors slipped in a little. Hopkins hit twice in succession and of the nine men who faced Bailey in the seventh, four scored. This ended things, however, as the heavy batting order promptly fell down in the next frame. The visitors got so dizzy running around the bases in the sixth, that they almost decided to call it a day right there.

Score by innings:
Fredericksburg Runs 200 036 01x—12
Fredericksburg Hits 200 033 11x—10
Manassas High Runs 000 111 200—5
Manassas High Hits 001 111 400—8

Errors by Manassas, 12 by Fredericksburg, 3. Hit by ball Bailey (Taylor, Conner) (2), by Conner (Ingalls). Struck out by Bailey, 9, by Conner 4; base on balls, off Conner, 4, off Bailey 3; Double plays, Smith to Brown; Conner to Ambrose, Saunders; Two base hits, Lowery, Bailey, Herman, Saunders, Hopkins.

Manassas Juniors Beat Centerville.

Last Friday the Centerville boys came to a rather unsocial reception in the shape of the little end of an 8-4 score. Both teams hit freely, each being credited with twelve singles. Waters kept the visitors' hits well scattered, thus accounting for much of the difference in the score.

Grapefruit Must Not Be Cored, The Experts Say

Correct preparation of grapefruit should follow these simple rules.

THE mangling a grapefruit gets in a cheap restaurant is a sin against a noble vegetable," according to an editorial in a recent issue of the Atlanta Journal. The writer deplored the fact that many persons do not understand how to prepare the fruit so that it may be easily eaten and its fine flavor fully preserved and enjoyed.

A dietitian, agreeing with his diatribe on the desecration of our national eye-opener, offers the following simple rules which, if followed, will lead to greater enjoyment of the fruit.

1. If the fruit is desired cold it should be chilled whole in the refrigerator. Keep it whole in the refrigerator over night. If it is first halved and then kept in the refrigerator to chill, much of its fine flavor and aroma are lost. Never cover the edible part of the grapefruit with ice when serving it.
2. Do not halve the fruit until immediately before it is ready to be eaten.
3. Scoop out seeds without cutting into the membranes, which separate each section of fruit, or into the white pulpy substance at the center.
4. Never core a grapefruit. This not only spoils its appearance, but also its flavor.
5. Do not run a sharp knife between the meat and the outside rind. Loosen the meat in each segment without cutting into the white substance of the membrane, just enough so that it may easily be scooped out with a spoon. After a properly prepared grapefruit is properly eaten a complete skeleton of the halved fruit will remain.

Use sugar sparingly. (Incidentally, many grapefruit connoisseurs use a dash of salt and no sugar at all.)

In the preparing of grapefruit the important thing to bear in mind is that the white pithy substance in the rind and in the core, as well as the thin membranes which surround each segment, secrete bitter substances which are released excessively when the fruit is cut in many places. When a grapefruit is mangled or excessively cut up, it is inevitable that the meat will become tinged with these bitter juices. Furthermore, pieces of the bitter pith and membrane adhere to the meat and are taken into the mouth.

These rules are not offered to make a polite art of grapefruit eating but rather to increase the palatability of the fruit. Those who have been accustomed to mangled grapefruit will find new pleasures in the taste of grapefruit if they will observe these simple instructions.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad and loving remembrance of my dear children who departed this life, Lurean Nash, April 2, 1907, Ralph Nash, April 14, 1917.

Today recalls sweet memories
Of my dear children gone to rest.
The ones who think of them today
Are the ones who love them best.

My dear daughter, 23 years ago today
You left us. And my beloved son 13 years

Has rested in eternal peace.
But my love for you, dear children,
Will never, never cease while on earth
I stay.

What would I give to hold your hands,
Your dear faces just to see,
See your loving smiles, hear your welcome voices
Which meant so much to me.

Honest and upright in all your ways
Until the end of your days;
Better children one cannot find
What wonderful memories you left behind!

Even the Hostess Enjoys These 2-Course Luncheons

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

THESE long winter months, with the children safely in school, offer an excellent opportunity for delightful entertaining. And instead of large dinners, or parties that tire you with preparations, it's much nicer to invite only a few friends for luncheon and pass the afternoon at cards or simple games.

The friends you entertain in this informal way do not expect an elaborate, heavy meal, though naturally you will wish to serve something exceptionally good, and a bit out of the ordinary. The answer is a two-course meal: one substantial dish, such as a salad, or a casserole of meat, fish, cheese or vegetables; and then an appetizing fruit salad, with cookies or plain cake for dessert. This is exactly the type of luncheon that any woman enjoys, and it may be served for any number of guests without inconvenience or worry.

Here are the menus for two such meals. When you see how simple they are to prepare and serve, you will want to have a "party" immediately!

Menu I

Baked Oysters—Mexican Style
Fluffy Rice Flakes Muffins
Sweet Dill Pickles Sliced
Apple Butter Custard Pie
Coffee

Mints

Menu II

Chow Mein with Rice
Fresh Cucumber Relish Hot Rolls
Pineapple, Prune and Marshmallow
Salad

Cookies

Coffee

Baked Oysters, Mexican Style—To ½ cup tomato ketchup add 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ teaspoon salt, and a dash of pepper. Place one quart large oysters in a buttered casserole or baking dish, cover with the ketchup mixture, sprinkle with ½ cup grated American cheese, and dot over with 1 tablespoon butter. Bake in a moderate oven until the cheese is melted, and serve very hot with generous slices of sweet dill pickle.

Apple Butter Custard Pie—Line a pan with pie crust. Beat 2 eggs thoroughly, add 6 tablespoons sugars, and 1 cup apple butter. Then add 1 cup milk, mix thoroughly, and pour into the pan lined with crust. Bake in a moderate oven until the custard is firm.

Rice Flake Muffins—1 cup rice flakes; ½ teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1 egg; 1 cup flour; ¾ cup sugar; ½ cup milk; 1 tablespoon melted butter.

Sift flour, salt, baking powder, and sugar. Add rice flakes, which have been crushed with rolling pin. Add milk to beaten egg and mix into dry ingredients with a fork. Add melted butter and bake for fifteen minutes in moderate oven in well buttered muffin tins.

IMPROVED Fordson Agricultural Tractor

More Power—Easier Starting

The improved Fordson develops 30 brake horsepower at 1000 revolutions per minute—the recommended engine speed. This represents an increase of 27.5 per cent over the former model—thus providing ample power for any farm need. This additional power was made possible by increasing the engine displacement and redesigning the cylinder head. Many other improvements have been made in the Fordson power plant, such as changing the ignition, cooling and lubrication systems, the transmission, the crankshaft, the air washer.

Of particular interest is the installation of a high tension magneto which, together with the new hot spot manifold, makes the Fordson very easy to start. This manifold and the new carburetor is for gasoline fuel only. A kerosene vaporizer system is furnished optionally.

These and many other changes have been incorporated. The same high quality of materials and close limits of accuracy have been maintained. The short wheelbase, the enclosed construction, the simplicity and compactness of design which have always characterized the Fordson, are still evident throughout the tractor. These are attained by the use of the frameless or unit construction. The housings act not only as frame and load-carrying members but enclose the working parts as well.

The fewer parts make for reliability and ease of adjustment. The accuracy with which parts are made facilitates repair work when necessary. Parts are interchangeable and no adjustment is needed when replacing them. Thus, efficiency, economy and reliability are characteristics of the Fordson tractor in a more marked degree than ever before.

VAIL MEDALS ARE AWARDED
CHIEF OPERATOR AND CLERK

Telephone Employees Honored for Saving Life and Giving Information on Attempted Burglary

Mrs. Vera C. MacMillan, chief operator, and Miss Marian Boyd, clerk, with Vail Medal, center, which each will receive.

Vail Medals for noteworthy public service will be presented to Mrs. Vera C. MacMillan, night chief operator, Winchester, Va., and Miss Marian Boyd, clerk in the Washington telephone business office, John C. Koons, vice-president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies, announces.

Mrs. MacMillan will receive a medal for her resourcefulness in helping to apprehend a burglar who was attempting to rob a safe in a local creamery. While working the switchboard as an operator about 2 A. M., January 20, 1929, she attempted to answer a signal appearing on the switchboard. Receiving no response, she listened in on the line and heard what was apparently the sound of a hammer pounding steel. Quickly grasping the situation, she called the Police Department, told them of her suspicions, and a police officer, after listening in on the line, went with other officers to the creamery, in which the telephone was located and surprising the burglar, attempted to place him under arrest. The burglar in trying to escape was killed by one of the officers.

Miss Boyd, while bathing with several companions at South River Beach, Maryland, June 30 of last year, saw three small girls playing in the water near the shore. Suddenly screams were heard and the bathers, rushing to the spot from which the alarm had come, found that the children had stepped from a ledge of the beach into deep water. One of them was rescued by a young man of the party, while Miss Boyd swam to the rescue of the other two. She grasped one of the girls and attempted unsuccessfully to reach the other who sank below the surface. Swimming against the outgoing tide she reached the shore with the girl she had rescued. Then with her companions she rushed back into the water and began diving to locate the girl who sank. After an hour's fruitless search, she collapsed from shock and exhaustion.

The citation covering these Vail Medal awards, Mr. Koons states: "By her prompt and intelligent action and use of the facilities of the company, performed a valuable service in protecting a community from crime."

The other citation reads: "By this combination of courage, presence of mind, and ability to act effectively, Miss Boyd risked her own life to save the life of one person and in an attempt to save that of another."

Vail Medal awards are made annually as a memorial to Theodore N. Vail, late president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mr. Vail was long recognized as one of the world's great business leaders, and it was his conspicuous service in the telephone field that were largely due the expansion of the Bell System and the development of the art of telephony.

Under the terms of the establishment, bronze, silver, and gold medals are awarded to members of the Bell Telephone organization throughout the United States for acts or services which conspicuously illustrate Mr. Vail's ideals in public service.

SAVINGS PASSBOOKS SOUGHT BY CROOKS

Use Them to Steal Money by Forged Slips—Should Be Guarded as Carefully as Cash.

Continual vigilance in safeguarding savings pass books, as well as blank and cancelled checks, against theft by crooks, who use this material in forgery operations, is urged on bank customers by James E. Baum, Deputy Manager of the American Bankers Association, in charge of its Protective Department. This department is continually vigilant in promoting means, both among bankers and the general public, to thwart the operation of bank crooks. It annually investigates hundreds of crimes against banks and is responsible for the majority of arrests among this class of criminals.

"In a large majority of cases of forgeries on checks or savings withdrawal orders investigated by the American Bankers Association, stolen blank checks or savings pass books were the forgers' chief stock in trade," Mr. Baum says. "In many instances the temptation presented through the careless handling by depositors of cancelled or blank checks or pass books so that they fell into the hands of others was the immediate stimulus for hitherto honest people to commit their first criminal offense."

Banks should educate their depositors to exert the same degree of care in handling these instruments and to avoid leaving them about unguarded as they exercise in respect to actual money because they represent money, he declares.

For dealing with the bank robbery situation, J. R. Baum recommends the use of electrical alarms actuated by any tampering with the wires or mechanism and also wider adoption of the plan of state police forces now employed in a few states, declaring that last year in seven eastern states where state police forces were maintained there were only 26 bank holdups as against 164 similar attacks perpetrated against banks in five states in the central and far west, where banks are denied the advantages of the speedy and coordinated action given by state-wide police forces.

"The records of the American Bankers Association Protective Department reveal that for many years the odds in favor of state police protection have been at least 8 to 1 when measured by the experience of banks in states where efficient police protection is missing in the rural districts," he says.

THE NEW roller water remover of the NEW Maytag was developed at a cost of more than $290,000. The enclosed, positive action, automatic drain shunts the water directly into the tub from which the clothes are wrung without spilling or splashing. The soft top roll hugs the lower hard roll removing all the water evenly from every part of the clothes... yet presses no wrinkles into the clothes. Buttons, snaps and ornaments go through safely.

MORE TELEPHONES INSTALLED: SERVICE IMPROVED LAST YEAR

Now 20,000,000 Telephones Connected With Bell System.
A. T. & T. Co.'s Annual Report Shows
469,801 Stockholders

Walter S. Gifford

Marked improvement in telephone service as well as an outstanding growth in the number of telephones are shown in the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for 1929. This report, made to the 469,801 stockholders by President Walter S. Gifford, shows that during the past five years the average time required for completing a long-distance connection has been cut more than one-half. The average speed of such connections were reduced from 7.5 minutes to 2.4 minutes. The errors in local calls, which were only two in 100 calls, have also been substantially reduced and the quality of transmission has been improved.

The proportion of customers' orders currently subject to delay because of lack of facilities and equipment has been reduced from 10 per cent to 2 per cent. The average elapsed time between receipt of a customer's order and installation of service has been reduced from 4.7 to 2.7 days. The system of installing telephones on definite dates set by the customer has been greatly extended and where it is in effect, in 95 per cent of the cases during the past year the customer's wishes were met.

"Five years ago," Mr. Gifford says, "on an average there was trouble on a subscriber's line once in every 13 months as compared with trouble only once in every 20 months now. Today 87 per cent of the troubles are corrected on the day reported."

It was formerly necessary on practically all long distance calls for the subscriber to hang up the telephone after putting in the call and to be recalled when the connection was ready. In 1925 operating methods were developed which made it possible to handle long distance calls with speed approaching that of local calls. In 1929 more than 70 per cent of the long distance calls were handled while the calling subscriber remained at the telephone.

The mere publishing of telephone numbers is a large undertaking in itself, the report shows. In 1929 there were 13,000,000 listings and 35,000,000 directories were issued. Steady improvement is being effected in the appearance, ease of reference and accuracy of telephone directories.

It is realized, Mr. Gifford states, that service which is good on the average may not be satisfactory service to the individual who may at some time, for one reason or another, receive service much below the average. Every effort is therefore constantly being made not only to reduce the number of errors and imperfections in the service, but also to locate and remedy temporary abnormal conditions.

"Each telephone call," he says, "is a transaction by itself and each customer is an individual. Although the calls are numbered by the billions and the customers by the millions, it is the aim to treat the customer and his requirements on the basis of personal consideration in each instance. Service satisfactory in every respect to each user is the ultimate goal."

At the end of the year there were 20,000,000 telephones in the Bell System, about 900,000—the largest number in any year—being added in 1929.

Incredible -- But True

One person in a hundred won't know what this girl is holding. It's a section of underground telephone cable, and there are 3,636 wires in it. Sounds incredible? The telephone company says it's correct and the girl in the picture is Miss Grace Sahn, an employee of the company's information department in Washington.

This is the largest cable made. It is capable of providing for telephone conversations between 3,636 people at one time. The circuits in such a cable are equivalent to 72 pole lines, each carrying 50 wires.

MAGAZINE IS PAL OF BOYS

Those boyhood years between the ages of ten and twenty are the impressionable years—the formative years when the fundamental character of a boy is molded into the pattern it will maintain throughout the remainder of his life.

That is why so much importance is placed on the factors that govern the lives of adolescent boys—their companions, their environment, their reading, the food they eat, etc. At this age is determined whether the boy will develop into a cheerful or surly man, generous or selfish, intelligent or dull, ambitious or indolent.

School teachers, librarians, Scout leaders and others engaged in boy activities have found that THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION magazine is one of the most favorable influences a boy between ten and twenty can have. Its stories and articles are a force for good—wholesome, alive, inspiring.

The million or so boys who read this magazine every month consider it their closest friend. In it they find the keenest entertainment, adventures, mystery, athletics, aviation, humor, everything that delights a live wire American boy. Its sports articles by famous coaches and athletes help boys win places on their school teams. Its professional articles and biographical sketches aid them in selecting their life's work. Its keenly analytical editorials guide them in their daily problems.

That boy or young man in whom you are interested would have a world of pleasure reading THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION. Subscription prices are only $2.00 for one year or $3.00 for three years. Your order may be turned in at the office of this newspaper or mailed direct to the publishers, THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, 550 W. Lafayette Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.—Adv.
