EXPLANATION OF
NEW MILK LAWImportant Specifications Briefly
Outlined by Carter Wormeley

There has been considerable interest shown in the late Milk Bill passed by the General Assembly, and the cooperation by the milk producers and distributors has been very gratifying.

This law was passed as a health measure for the protection of the general public, and to give the people if possible, a better quality of milk and milk products.

Before the passage of this Bill by the General Assembly, it was indorsed by the State Board of Agriculture, Commissioner of Agriculture, State Board of Health, officials of the Virginia State Dairymen's Association, as well as scores of individual dairymen. This being a fact the merits of the bill must be sound, therefore, if the dairymen of the State, as well as the general public, have a correct interpretation of the different features of this measure there should be no room for criticism. The success of any law depends largely upon a clear understanding of its merits, and the cooperation in the enforcement thereof. There has been some misunderstanding relative to the provisions of this Act and it is the desire of the Dairy and Food Division to give out the correct interpretation of this law to the milk producers and distributors, as well as to the public at large.

Some of the most important features of this Bill are as follows:

Milk and cream must be produced under sanitary restrictions according to the law, and must be fresh and clean when delivered to the public, or to the eating places where it is to be served.

All milk must be labeled according to the grade, and the grade will be established by the inspectors of the Dairy and Food Division as rapidly as they can make the rounds and ascertain the conditions under which the milk is produced.

There are three grades of milk and cream, viz:

Grade "A" or 1st grade raw;
Grade "B" or 2nd grade raw;
Grade "C" or 3rd grade raw.

These grades are established by the official score card on the dairy barns and milk house requirements, utensils for handling milk, and the methods relative to sanitary conditions, also the different bacteria counts for each grade of milk will be an important item in establishing the grade.

Every dairy farm shall be provided with a sanitary toilet constructed and operated in accordance with the regulations of the Virginia State Board of Health.

All milk producers selling milk are required to have permit from the Dairy and Dairy and Food Division. These permits cannot be given until the proper grade has been established, and the fact that the average bacteria count will help establish the grade will delay the dairymen getting a permanent permit, however, there will in all probability be a temporary permit, granted until a permanent grade is established.

All hotels, restaurants, cafes and all other places must carry a placard stating the grade of milk served and sold at that place. These placards will be displayed as soon as the grade of milk is established and the inspectors find the grade of milk being served by the different places.

This law does not apply to those milking two cows or less only in so far as the milk is produced in a safe and sanitary manner. People having family cow may sell their neighbor surplus milk, but if it is sold regularly for retail distribution or to eating places it must be graded and labeled as to grade.

This law does not apply to cities having milk ordinances with more strict requirements than the State law. In this connection it would be well for the city officials to familiarize themselves with the provisions of the State Law.

Milk and Cream for the manufacture of ice cream, cheese, butter, etc., is exempt from this law because all of this milk is not so pure as the milk exempt from this law because all of this milk goes through a process of pasteurization.

Milk must contain 3.25 percent fat, 8.50 percent solids not fat, 11.75 percent total solids. This will apply to all milk and distributors as well as to all eating

STREET WORK
IS DELAYEDCitizens Fail to File Petitions for Projected Surface Work

At the meeting of the town council on Monday night, it was stated that the improvement of Grant Avenue, Lee Avenue, West Street and Church Street is held up because of the failure of the property holders to file petitions for the work.

Need for sewer extension in the northerly part of the town has evidenced by a resolution which authorized Mr. Cocke to proceed with the survey.

The Council also authorized the manager and clerk to enter into a contract with the Southern Railway by which a fire hydrant will be installed at Meta's Corner and joined with the pipe line of the railroad.

The town treasurer filed the delinquent tax list, and it was ordered posted.

The matter of a sexton to attend to the cemetery was referred to Councilman Arrington and Mr. Cocke with authority to act.

A number of other routine matters received the attention of the Council.

JUDGE SMITH DEEPLY IN-TERESTED IN NEEDS
OF UNFORTUNATESElected Vice-President of Great Charitable Association with National Affiliations

Persons interested in Social Welfare work and in legislation for the amelioration of the conditions of unfortunates will have a strong friend in Congress when Judge Howard W. Smith of Alexandria is elected this year. Judge H. W. Smith, while in no sense a reformer, takes a deep interest in all matters affecting the welfare of unfortunates who must look to others than their own relatives for relief. Especially is he interested in all movements for the betterment of women and children. During his term on the bench as both Corporation and Circuit Judge he took a deep interest in all cases in which women and children were involved and this interest often resulted in solution of difficulties that went beyond the ordinary legal procedure.

CHILDREN'S DAY
AT SUDLEY

Annual Event Well Attended

Sunday, June 29th was another red letter day for the Sudley Sunday School Children's Day Exercises, and incidentally a great day for the whole congregation and the numerous visitors who always seem glad to return to their "Alma Mater" for this annual event. To many it was an "Old Home" day when former members of the school now live elsewhere love to return and mingle again with old friends and recall the days when they used to stand on foot and try to recite some little verse for the edification of their parents and others.

The annual Sunday School Day program is fast becoming a noted event in the life of the Sudley School and this year's pageant "Seemeth the best of all." The church building is admirably adapted for the presentation of pageants and the large number of young people and children from which to draw characters makes it possible to secure excellent talent for any purpose, and this talent under the direction of a most competent director always insures success.

This year's pageant presenting "The Golden Road of Childhood" was beautiful, the robing and color scheme of the thirty or more participants was elegant and inspiring; the caste, many of whom were high school graduates, presented the theme in a worshipful and impressive manner. The decorations were beautiful and in harmony with the subject. The whole program was worshipful and helpful to all. The whole school is to be congratulated for its good work.

For the past several years, Mrs. L. L. Lynn of Catharpin assisted by Mrs. J. W. Alvey at the piano, has directed the plays and pageants for the Sunday School and the performances have always been both dignified and entertaining. To this statement the large congregation which taxed the capacity of the church will testify. Sudley is to be congratulated for the character and ability of her leadership and her faculty of teachers. She is doing good work and her membership is always glad to welcome old friends at former days.

Tell Kiwanians How It Works

At two of the recent meetings of the Kiwanis, excellent talks have been given by the county engineers of Arlington and Fairfax, both of which are operating substantially under the county manager plan at the present time.

Both talks dealt largely with roads but each gave many valuable details that lead to very interesting discussions. The value of centralized purchasing and production, centralized management and permanent organization were recited in detail.

There is considerable sentiment in this county for a similar development and such lectures are very instructive.

CEDAR RUN CHURCH CELE-
BRATES 100TH ANNI-
VERSARYHundreds take part, Most of them descendants of the Founders

The 100th anniversary of the founding of Cedar Run Baptist church, six miles south of Culpeper, was celebrated Sunday, June 29th, with appropriate exercises attended by a congregation of nearly 500 people the larger part of whom were descendants of members of the church in years gone by or are members today. Visitors were present from Washington, D. C., and other cities.

Rev. W. R. Keefe, pastor presided and was assisted by Dr. M. F. Sanford Rev. H. S. Cummins, Dr. Thomas W. Hooper, Mr. W. Briscoe Smoot and others.

The church was filled to capacity at 11 o'clock, the hour of commencement of the services, and more thronged the vestibule than the sanctuary. Rev. Keefe's address was "The Church as a Family," and he stated that "it is the duty of the church to be a family." The singing of the old hymns, which has been a feature of the church since its founding, was a fitting introduction to the services.

Following Dr. Sanford Mr. W. Briscoe Smoot, associated with the church since his boyhood, more than 50 years, delivered an interesting historical sketch which he made up of extracts from the original minute books and which he presented in a most interesting manner.

Among the features of the program was a recitation, "The Old Time Preacher's Wife," by Miss Erna Guinn of Culpeper; and a sketch of the Throckmorton, Wharton and Guinn families, early members of the church. In closing his eloquent recital he drew a vivid picture of the old days.

"On any meeting morning, if you were standing near the church you would see them come—Preacher Garrett on horseback—in the old farm wagons and in carriages. The Whartons, the Martins, the Foushees, the Colvins, the Hudsons, the Garnetts, the Somervilles, the Slaughters, the Trues, the Newmans, the Pinkards, the Yagers, the Mitchells, the Crittendens, the Majors, the Guinns, the Masons, the Robertsons, the Taylors, the Rosses, and so on. But we can not name them all. Some came from down on the river; others from around the mountain; some out of the Flat Grounds; some from around Mt. Pony, and in fact from the whole neighborhood. Their names are all on the church roll and in those days when Sunday came the folks went to church.

And now to the Church of God at Cedar Run of a hundred years ago and of today—we reverence you. We salute you!"—Culpeper Exponent.

Old Friend and Neighbor on Sunday Morning

Hello, Old Friend, how is everything with you. O everything is just going wrong. If only it would rain.

There is that pasture field, the cows have gotten the grass eat right down to the ground, and that wheat won't make a half crop if it does not rain soon, and my corn; I put out the best 20 acres I had, hoping to raise a heavy crop of corn this year; and it just stands there and doesn't grow and Jim and I have spent nearly all of our time right in that field, and it just won't rain so that it could make anything. Well, just keep on, the rain will come in time to do good.

Next Sunday, Hello Old Friend, that was a fine rain we had yesterday. Yes, the rain, part was all right if it just had come in the night and I had not stopped me from work; Jim and I had to rush for the barn, and just did get in time to keep from getting a good soaking. Then when it stopped raining, the ground was too wet to go right to work and we were out at least an hour and a half; that is three hours time last and I have to pay Jim for that time just the same. He's working by the month.

Well, that little time does not amount to much in comparison with the good which the rain does.

Old Friend, Mebbly not, but it could have rained at night just as well.

Another Sunday later

Old Friend, I hope you enjoyed that fine rain we had the other night

Old Friend, No! How on earth could anybody enjoy such a rain as lightning flashing in the windows for that was! All that thunder and I did not sleep again for all of all of an hour. It got me wake up, three hours, and I had headache all next day on account of it. If it had not been for the thunder and lightning I would not have minded it. I do't see why it doesn't rain without thundering and lightning, no how.

Ha! It seems as if some people see only one side.

Women Smokers Warned by Physician of Danger of "Trench Mouth"

When Dr. Harold J. Leonard, professor of Dentistry at Columbia University, addressed the annual meeting of the Dental Society of New York, he told the audience of nearly five thousand dentists that "trench mouth" was practically unknown among women before the World War, but is common today among women smokers. "Trench mouth" usually warns of its presence by an acute condition in the mouth which leads to frequent bleeding, soreness of the mouth and the rapid eating away of gum tissue," Dr. Leonard declared. "Cigarette smoking is conducive to this condition because of its irritation of the nerves and tissues in the mouth structure. Those who receive the warning of 'trench mouth' should immediately take steps to cure this pernicious disease."

FAVORITE RECIPES OF A FAMOUS CHEF

As Told to Anne Baker

By ROGER CRETAUX, Chef, The Roosevelt, New York City

Savory Brussels Sprouts—Cook one quart of Brussels sprouts in salted water until tender. Drain thoroughly, place in a hot dish and pour over them a sauce which is made as follows. Mix together one teaspoon mustard, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, one-fourth teaspoon paprika, one well-beaten egg, one-half cup vinegar and two tablespoons salad oil. Cook in a double boiler until the mixture thickens. Then add one tablespoon melted butter, one-half teaspoon curry powder, one teaspoon minced parsley, and one-half teaspoon grated onion. Beat thoroughly and pour over the sprouts while both the sprouts and the sauce are still hot.

Tomato Rarebit—Heat one pint of canned tomatoes and add one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sugar, one tablespoon chopped onion, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and a dash of cayenne. Keep the tomatoes bubbling over the fire, adding gradually one-half pound of cheese cut into small pieces. Stir constantly until the cheese has melted and the mixture is smooth. Then add one teaspoon butter and one well-beaten egg, stirring all the while. Remove from the fire and serve immediately on slices of hot, buttered toast.

Miles of Conveyors in Ford Plant

This picture shows two types of conveyors in use in the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company.

AN ENDLESS chain conveyor, three and a half to four miles long, said to be the longest in the world, has just been completed at the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company at Dearborn, Michigan. On it parts of Ford cars in the process of manufacture are transported from one building to another and completed parts are carried direct to railroad cars for shipment to branch assembly plants.

The conveyor, which carries its cargo on suspended hooks, has a daily capacity for 300,000 parts weighing over 2,000,000 pounds. It supplants freight cars and trucks which have been used for the transfer of many parts from one point to another in the Ford plant.

This longest conveyor of them all is a development of the Ford policy that nothing should be done by manual labor that could better be done by machine.

In the early days of his manufacturing career, Mr. Ford devised the assembly line—a moving track on which cars in the process of assembly went to the workmen instead of the workmen carrying parts to the car. The assembly line, perfected in many ways, is now used by automobile manufacturers generally.

The value of the conveyor in reducing physical labor, in saving time, in preserving system and in cutting costs soon became apparent and its use was extended to other purposes about the plant. Now there are literally miles of conveyors of various types in the Ford plant. Some of them carry parts from one building to another and are carefully synchronized so that the parts arrive at precisely the right moment and in the exact spot where they are needed. Others transport red hot ingots of steel weighing nearly a ton each. Still others move outgoing shipments.

If it were not for the conveyors, according to officials of the Ford Company, mass production would not be possible on its present scale.

Use The Emergency Shelf As "An Every Day" Shelf

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

It is no longer true, as it has been in the past, that the best housekeeper is the one who manufactures and creates everything in her own home. Rather she is the one who assembles most wisely what others have made for her. In this way she saves her time for the accomplishment of things outside the home and for the enjoyment of life. It is absolutely necessary to make some short cuts to the required three meals a day, if one is to have any time to oneself.

Dedicate one shelf in your cupboard as an "Emergency Shelf"; fill it with ready-to-serve foods which keep indefinitely, replenish it when foods are used, and insure yourself of excellent meals at any time. The feeling of security which an adequate supply cupboard gives one when the inevitable "last minute" emergencies arise is invaluable.

Your "Emergency Shelf" should include:

A—Ready to Serve Luncheon and Supper Dishes, such as: Nourishing Cream Soups; Baked Beans; Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce; Prepared Meats and Fish—Bacon, Dried Beef, Tongue, Boned Chicken, all in glass jars; Canned Vegetables.

B—Salad and Luncheon Materials such as: Salad Dressings, Mayonnaise, Vinegar, Salad Oil, Sandwich Relish; Olives, Sweet and Sour Pickles; Peanut Butter; Packaged Cheeses.

C—Desserts such as: Plum Pudding; Fig Pudding; Canned Fruits (Also may be used in Salads); Packaged Small Cakes.

D—Seasonings and Relishes such as: Ketchup and Chili Sauce; Worcestershire Sauce; Prepared Mustard; Prepared Horseradish.

Purchase fresh fruits and vegetables once or twice each week, and these together with the ready-to-serve prepared foods, will fortify you against any emergency.

The out-of-town guests were: Mrs. T. M. Jones, Roanoke; Mrs. Maurice Mitchell, Christiansburg; and Miss Katharine Maiden, Abingdon.—Roanoke Times.

Paddling His Own Canoe

Five years ago considerable capital was made by the Mapp forces of the fact that Harry Byrd would not exert himself to the extent of traveling around in a series of quasi debates or public discussions. Harry Byrd announced that he would conduct his own campaign in his own good way. He did. He won out by heavy majorities in that election and in everything else he did while Governor.

Now the same outfit in the Eighth District is taunting Judge Smith because he does not join with the other candidates in furnishing a Roman holiday. Judge Smith is conducting his campaign in his own good way. He has ignored the rather childish and groundless attacks that have been made on him. He is very much in the same position as the winning pitcher in the ninth inning who has a comfortable lead. He can afford to smile genially at the yowling of the coaches who are trying to rattle him.

It is a candidate's privilege to conduct his own campaign, and Judge Smith knows his ground. He has established the sort of contact that makes friends and makes votes. He has gone among the people rather than treat them as a mob. He is one of them, who knows their problems, and who can and will do his best to legislate in their interest. That is why he will be the next representative of the Eighth Congressional District.

Fruit For Breakfast

EVERYBODY'S doing it—combining canned fruits with all sorts of breakfast cereals—and for more reasons than one. In the first place they taste good, in the second they are good for you, and in the third they have been found to combine in most succulent fashion with practically all of the innumerable varieties of breakfast foods which are now available.

A Problem Solved

Fruits, according to all medical text books, are a valuable component of the dietary. They are good sources of mineral salts and of energy-yielding foods, the sugars. Most of them contain the bulk or roughage necessary to stimulate intestinal action, and they provide materials that help to maintain the normal slightly alkaline reaction in blood and tissue. Moreover, they are a good source of vitamins, especially of the essential vitamin C.

The problem of the housewife who used to exclaim: "Oh, dear! everyone in the family wants a different fruit for breakfast," has recently been solved by the growing number of fruits which are now obtainable in the new 8-ounce size of cans.

Almost Any Kind

In this new individual size of container are to be found peaches, pears, apricots, pineapple, loganberries, blackberries, raspberries, fruits for salad and cranberry sauce. Fruits obtainable in other sizes of small cans are figs, grapefruit and prepared prunes. It never does any harm to open any sized can of apple sauce. It's all always used in the end. So you can now get in line by letting each member of your family choose not only the sort of breakfast food he or she prefers, but practically any kind of fruit to eat with it.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Virginia D. Murray. He was a member of Geo. C. Whiting Lodge, No. 22, A. F. & A. M., of Washington, which conducted the services at the grave.

She spends his earnings wisely

MAN earns and woman spends. For many years this has been the popular plan in the American home. And in most cases it is a very good arrangement.

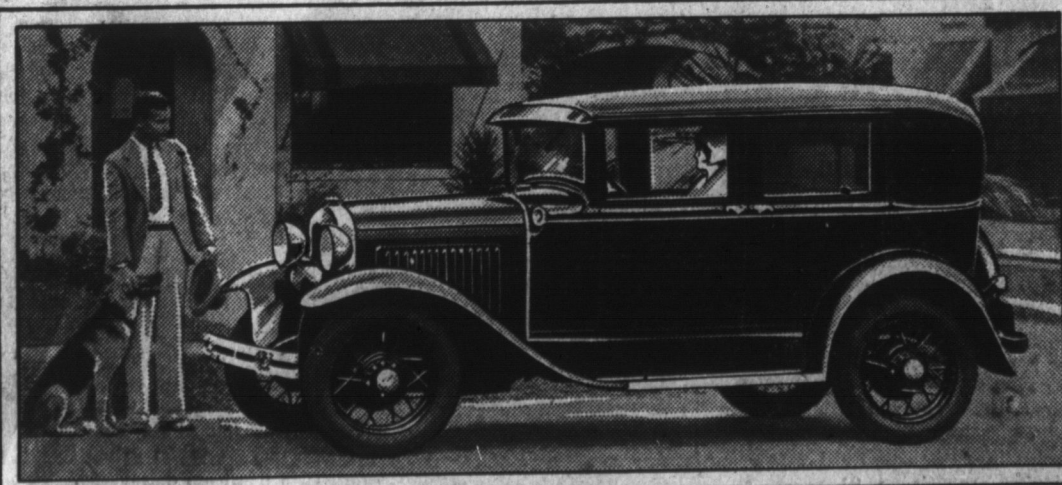

Too seldom, however, does the wife-and-mother receive due credit for her part in the enterprise. Earning a comfortable income today is a mighty fine accomplishment—"a man's job," sure enough. But the wise investment of the family funds is also far from child's play. This most often is Mother's task, and she deserves a medal for her able handling of it.

Women as a rule are good buyers, because they study their problems. They budget their resources, adjust their purchasing schedule to the budget, and buy carefully.

The best help they get in marketing comes from the ads in their home newspaper. They find that intelligent study of ads means economy of money and time.

The woman in your home knows how true this is!

Ford Offers New De Luxe Sedan*Ford De Luxe Sedan

THE De Luxe Sedan, recently added to the Ford line, is designed for those who desire distinctiveness and unusual comfort in an automobile. The interior is inviting and roomy with wide doors to both compartments. Absence of rear quarter windows gives the car a striking individuality and affords privacy to the occupants.

Interior trimmings and appointments are luxurious. Upholstery is either in brown mohair or a deep tan Bedford cord patterned after that used in high-priced cars.

Other refinements include arm rests for the rear seat, mahogany finished garnish mouldings on the windows and beneath the windshield, flexible robe rail and hardware in an attractive pattern.

The front seat is adjustable within a range of four inches to suit the convenience and comfort of the driver. It is moved quickly and easily by a small, inconspicuous handle in the front center of the seat just above the floor.

The De Luxe Sedan, like other Ford body types, can be obtained in any one of several color combinations.

Facts and Figures on Your Telephone

By EDWIN F. HILL

Edwin F. Hill, the employees of one organization at least are thrifty.

The Bell Telephone System now has more than 500,000 stockholders, of which about 105,000 are employees. At the present time 325,000 employees are subscribing to the stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company under the company's payroll deduction plan. In the past four years the number of employees subscribing to this stock has increased about 96 per cent.

In Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, territory operated by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies, 3,309 employees now own 26,622 shares of American Telephone and Telegraph stock, while 10,224 employees are subscribing to 40,471 shares.

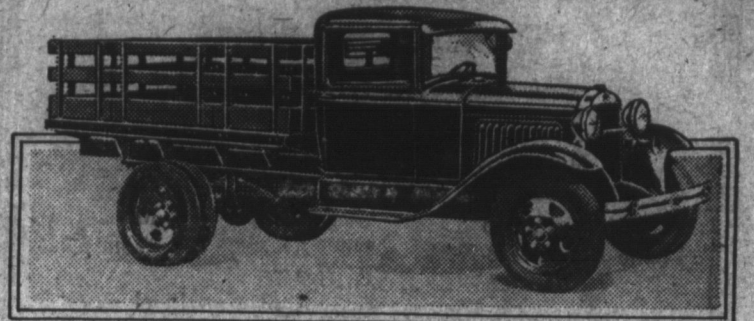

President Lloyd B. Wilson made the statement recently that stock of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company owned by employees of the Chesapeake and Potomac Companies was worth at the present market price, approximately $6,000,000, and that the rights which they will receive in connection with the new issue of stock about to come out, would be worth more than $450,000.

Under the payroll deduction plan for life insurance, Mr. Wilson said that employees have taken out in insurance amounting to about $4,000,000 and have permitted over $36,000 due them as dividends to remain with the insurance company and accumulate. Many of the employees taking this insurance previously carried none.

New Ford Truck With Closed Cab

NEW Ford Model AA trucks and Model A light delivery cars were announced this week by the Ford Motor Company and are on display in the show rooms of Ford dealers.

Changes in the trucks are principally in the front end, which has been completely redesigned, and in the cab. The radiator is higher with more cooling surface, fenders are wide and flowing, and a black cowl strip adds a note of distinction.

The new Model AA trucks with the four-speed transmission introduced several months ago may be had with enclosed or open cab. The enclosed cab, shown above, is all steel, it is low in appearance yet with ample head room. The open cab is of black rubber top material and is easily removed. Both cabs are equipped with wind shields of Triplex shatterproof glass and vacuum type windshield wipers.

Model AA trucks may be had with a platform body, which can be equipped with stakes or a panel body. The chassis has many improvements, including the four-speed transmission, larger front brakes, stronger springs, power take-off opening and optional dual rear wheels.

The Model A line of new commercial cars comprises a light delivery truck with pick-up body, a deluxe delivery truck, a small panel truck and a station wagon. These cars have the smaller wheels and larger tires of the new Ford passenger cars.

ALPHABETICAL EATING

Do you ever get tired of planning menus? This story does not refer to the alphabetical soup in which children take such delight, but to the device of a bachelor to solve the problem of choosing meals constantly at clubs, hotels and restaurants. Even bachelors have their food problems, although all that some of them have to do is to make up their minds while looking over a menu with an attentive waiter hovering beside them. How much more difficult it is for the housewife who has no menu of happy suggestions before her, but must evolve from her own experience and inner consciousness not only what foods to have but how to cook and serve them!

This bachelor hit upon the plan of alphabetical eating. He decided that at each meal he would eat only foods the names of which started with one particular letter. When he confided this scheme to a friend, the latter cynically remarked that he preferred to diversify his diet, and suggested one from the two extremes of the alphabet—apples, asparagus, zwieback and zooka.

Found Dining Difficult

But the bachelor persisted in his plan, and got along fairly well by including dried foods under D, until he reached the fifth letter of the alphabet. There he found himself apparently limited to eels, eggs, eggplant, and elderberries, unless he went out hunting for elk. So he made an analysis of the alphabet and found that the best letters to dine in were C, B, F, S and T, with the food supply rapidly tapering off in the others.

C was his most successful day under the new plan. He had cocktails, clams, celery, chicken, corn, cheese and coffee, and a host of other good things for dinner, and topped off his C evening by taking a cab to a musical comedy to see the chorus girls before he retired to his couch.

Then He Got Married

Then he got married, but when he made his helpful housekeeping suggestion to his bride, she laughed so hard that he really felt hurt about it. But the suggestion was not entirely lost. His wife couldn't get it out of her head. Being a wise woman and economical, she used a proper proportion of canned foods, and she soon found out, as he had, that C is a great gastronomic letter.

The canned vegetables in C are cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery and corn (cream style, whole grain, kornettes and on the cob). The canned fruits are cherries (red, white and black), crabapples, cranberries and currants. The canned fish are caviar, cod fish balls, cod fish cakes, cod fish flakes, clams (Little Neck, razor and minced), crabs (plain and deviled) and crawfish. The canned meats are chicken (boneless, deviled, in tamales and whole). In addition to these there are catsup, cider, cheese, chili con carne, chili sauce, chow chow, clam cakes, creamed white potatoes, clam chowder, consommé, chicken curry, chicken à la King, chop suey, chicken soup, clam broth, cut mixed peels, and coffee (vacuum packed).

B is Bounteous

B, too, proved bounteous in canned foods. The vegetables are beans (baked with tomato sauce, with pork, red kidney, lima, refuges and wax), beets (whole, in pieces, and sliced), and Brussels sprouts. Blackberries and blueberries are the fruits, and the meats include bacon, beef (boiled, corned, dried, roast, stew), beef steak with onions, and brains. There are also Boston brown bread, beef à la mode, beef soup and beef bouillon under the specialties beginning with this letter.

As to P, she also found it prolific of good foods. The vegetables that came in cans are peas, peppers (sweet and green), pickles, pimientos, potatoes (Irish new, and sweet), and pumpkin. The fruits are peaches (whole, halves, crushed and sliced), pears (whole and halves), pineapples (Hawaiian sliced, crushed and unsweetened juice), plums, and prunes (dry and in syrup). The only meat is pig's feet, but specialties in P are puddings (fig and plum), pea soup, pepper pot, and purée (beans, lima beans and celery).

Some Lean Letters

But the bride would not admit the efficacy of his plan. When ever he boasted, she pointed out the lean letters of the alphabet. There are no canned foods at all the names of which begin with I, N, U, X, Y or Z, and a goodly number of letters with only one product. The only D is dill pickles, the single B eels, Q stands alone for quince, and W for wholewheat. So she maintains proper discipline whenever her husband misbehaves by threatening him with a meal in one of these barren letters.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP
(Occoquan and Woodbridge)

A little sleep,
Sun risin'
Back to work
Still survivin'.

Curley Wittner, a fine old scout from Texas; (not the six footer, but the kind that was apparently pulled before he was ripe) landed on Virginia soil many years ago. Curley fell in love with Virginia and proceeded with might and main to wrest from the Old Dominion's soil an honest living. The sweat of his brow brought forth corn, beans, 'taters, 'matatoes. When this horny handed son of toil began to tire, he pulled up stakes, hied the whole family including the old bound dawg to California for an easy life. Curley is back with us, and says, "There is no place like 'Virginy." "Friend" Whittner has purchased an estate from the land baron, Lewis Strother. This piece of property hangs on the west side of the concrete Highway and has the old historic cow runner trickling thro its lowlands. A great grist mill is now rising from the banks of this historic stream. Soon the waters on its way to Occoquan Bay will be turning the mighty wheel which in turn will change the little grains of corn to good old Indian meal, and the little golden grains of wheat to rich flour, fit to feed the kings of the earth.

We have a new Highway speed cop in town. Pretty nifty looking little fellow. Brand new uniform, including shoes and cap. Girls, what do you think of him? For the love of Pete, don't forget about our old bachelor list. New names to be added: Cotton Davis, full of energy, a bird in the making; Lynn Dabney, bashful, very modest, what you, girls call "Coy." Catch 'em before the bloom of youth turns to a purple hue. When we finish a list of our old bachelor friends, we want to take up a list of our dear girls in Twin City; we kinder feel nervous about giving their ages. John Riley has a left flat foot which causes him to resemble the leaning tower of Pisa. Our good old friend, Walter Smith, continues to improve. We hope he will soon be able to throw his old fiddle under his chin and with the aid of his bow draw out one of our favorite horn pipes. Just filled our waste basket two thirds over brim full with political sweepings. The Eighth Congressional Wrangle is getting as warm as early fodder pulling season. What we want is a watermelon, right off the vine; black seeds, red meat, early morning, and the shade of the old cut-paper tree. Roust A. Bout Terrell has covered the top of his nail keg. It saves pantalons. It saves patches. It saves the good wife's disposition. Of late we have noticed what appears to be a permanent smile on Bill Burdette's Physog. Inquiry brings the illuminating news that appearances are deceiving. The smile is a cast steel grin, and can be purchased at the 5 and 10 cents stores. The other day we had occasion to call Doc Malcolm over to see a sick mule. We told Central that we wanted the Doc to come over and give up his professional diagnosis on the mule's condition. Central wanted to know if Mr. Det was sick. Hee Haw! Another one of our twin boys, who have gone out to wrest honors from this old selfish sphere. Hunter A. Hammill, a son of R. G. Hammill, now deceased Hunter is a graduate of the University of Penna., and is an engineer of marked ability. When Twentieth Century, who's who, is written, twin City will be well represented. The 'Lone Eagle' has been enrolled into "The Mystic Order of Daddyhood." But, Anne must not be forgotten; The bud of babyhood.

Expanding into childhood
Growing into womanhood,
The full bloom of wifehood,
The divinity of motherhood:
Our conception of love
And of heaven above.

The Highway Department of Virginia is very much Solomon when it come to interpreting the law. They are wise and owlsh, said who (?) They put up wooden signs in front of You Pee Davis' gas tanks. Signs disappeared. Signs not found. Woodpecker seen out with his family, two of the 'ung ones with wooden heads. Probably Mr. and Mrs. Woodpecker ate the highway signs for a midnight lunch and by so doing crossed the highway department with the Woodpecker family. Jiggs Embrey, of the Highway Department says, he wants an over sea helmet. At present a woodpecker causes Jiggs to put his head under his arm.

Uncle Nick, our champion tobaccoist, the man who put the eastern section of Prince William County on the tobacco maps of the world, is about to lose his rep. It is just this way. Peter Custer Wigglesworth and Wyllyam Henry Carrick, two young tobacco culturists have been trailing Uncle Nick closely for the past two years. This season "PC" and "WH" consulted Uncle Nick in regard to a tobacco or plant setter. Uncle Nick and assured these two young fellows spit or spat his usual liquid flow, that a plant setter was not worth a (deleted by censor). Later "PC" and "WH" purchased plant setter. They report that it is a machine with brains. Sixty thousand plants set out with the following results: machine rejected one plant, investigation proved rejected plant to be a mullein. Rejected one plant, bud broken. Rejected one plant suffering total of three plants. We understand from what is known as root rot. A that when Uncle Nick passes these tobacco fields he wears smoked glasses and uses smelling salts, also wants to know if the plant setter chews or smokes.

Moral: Uncle Nick now rides in a high powered Chevrolet and is high hating the plebeian folks, tee hee!
We meet a chuckle-head the other day who wanted to know how far it was from Manassas to Decoration day. Being that he spoke with a decided Yankee Twist, told him that the exact distance from the battle of Bull Run to the last of June and history records. They ran.

Out they came all booted and saddled
Back they ran all bemuddled and saddled.

Directs A&amp;P's buying

If you hired a personal agent to buy food in the markets of the world for your own table, you would give him, first, money for the purchase and shipping costs; second, money, to cover his expenses; and, third, a salary for his services. . . . You, yourself, would choose the kind of food he would buy.

That's just what you do when you trade with A & P.

Of every dollar which you pay over A & P counters, 83 1/2 cents go to food producing communities* in exchange for the food you ask for.

A & P's part is to find out what you want—by what you order in its stores—and to spend your 83 1/2 cents as you direct. Of the rest of your dollar, 14 cents stay in your neighborhood to run A & P stores.

All you pay A & P for its services is the remaining 2 1/2 cents.

*Another article will tell how your money buying helps American food producers as much as it helps you—fair fit for fat.

THE VALUE OF SOUND DESIGN

New Ford engine gives outstanding acceleration, speed and power without sacrificing reliability or economy

THE good performance of the Ford car, so apparent on every highway, is due largely to the sound mechanical design of the engine.

It has outstanding acceleration, speed and power, yet that is only part of its value to you. Greater still is the fact that it brings you all these features without sacrificing either reliability or economy.

That is the reason the Ford car has given such satisfactory service to millions of motorists all over the world and has been chosen by so many large companies that keep accurate cost figures. In every detail of construction it has been carefully planned and made for the work it has to do.

The design of the compression chamber is an important factor in the efficiency of the Ford engine. It is built to allow free passage of gases through the valves and to thoroughly mix the fuel by producing turbulence within the cylinders during compression. The spark thus flashes quickly through the whole fuel charge, resulting in quieter and more effective engine performance. Other factors are the direct gravity gasoline feed, the specially designed carburetor, the new hot-spot manifold, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves of larger diameter, statically and dynamically balanced crankshaft and flywheel, the simplicity of the electrical, cooling, lubrication, and fuel systems and accuracy in manufacturing.

$106,000.000 FOR ADDITIONAL TOLL TELEPHONE IMPROVEMENTS

Construction Program Includes 3,000 Miles of Cable, 110,000 Miles of Open Wire, and About 2,000 Miles of Pole Line

J. P. Ittner laying tape armored toll cable between Norfolk, Portsmouth and Suffolk, Va. This cable will be buried in a three-foot trench. Insert: Cross section of cable and method of protection.

Cable extensions are important features in the construction program of the Long Distance Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company this year. Additions and improvements now under way or contemplated will involve expenditures of about $106,000,000 for new long distance facilities. These expenditures are about $16,000,000 or 18 per cent more than the amount spent for similar improvements last year, which was the record year to date, officials of the telephone company say.

Included in the construction program is the placing of about 3,000 miles of cable, the greater part of which will be owned jointly by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the various associated companies of the Bell System. Included in this project will be about 600 miles of steel tape-armored cable. This type of cable has come into prominence in the telephone industry in the last year or two, about 200 miles having been manufactured by the Western Electric Company in 1929. A tape-armored cable is now being placed between Norfolk, Portsmouth and Suffolk, Va.

More than 1,000,000 loading coils and nearly 23,000 telephone repeaters for improving transmission will be required in connection with new and existing cables. Other major projects contemplated include the stringing of approximately 110,000 miles of new aerial wire and the installation of more than 100 carrier current telephone systems and 20 carrier current telegraph systems.

The toll cable program includes work to be carried out during the year on relief or supplementary cables. Relief cables will be constructed between New York and Chicago, Pittsburgh and Terre Haute, and New York, Washington and Petersburg, Va. Another relief cable will be installed for about 80 per cent of the distance from Boston to New York.

New cables are planned on several new routes. These include cables connecting Terre Haute-St. Louis, St. Louis-Kansas City, and Milwaukee and Appleton, Wis. Work will be started on a new cable route between New York and Syracuse with the construction of additional cables from Easton, Pa., via Scranton, to Binghamton, N. Y. New underground conduits are being built from New York to Philadelphia and New York to Reading, Pa., and from Cleveland to Toledo and in some other sections where, on account of the rapid growth of other conditions, underground cable is more economical than aerial cable.

Plans for new aerial wire lines include extensive construction on the central transcontinental route from Kansas City to San Francisco and Los Angeles, via Denver and Salt Lake City. This work involves the construction of new relief pole lines in sections between Kansas City, Kan., and Wendover, Utah, totaling about 900 miles. In addition a new pole line is to form a direct route between Salt Lake City and San Bernardino, Cal., a distance of 570 miles. A new pole line is also being constructed between Albuquerque, N. M., and Kingman, Ariz., a distance of 450 miles, which with existing lines east of Albuquerque, N. M., via Trinidad, Col., and Oklahoma City, Okla., and a line recently built between Kingman, Ariz., and Whitewater, Cal.—will provide a fourth transcontinental route affording relief to the southern transcontinental route.

New Ford Car Wins Favor

Ford Phaeton

THE Ford Phaeton, shown above, is equally popular as a family car and as a sport car for young people. The seating arrangement provides for the driver and one passenger in front and three passengers in the rear. Seats are upholstered in two-tone cross cobra grain artificial leather.

The top is of the quick collapsing type, easily handled by one person, and folds flat. The windshield, of Triplex shatter-proof glass, is of the folding type and can be laid flat forward. The windshield wings fold over it, emphasizing the sport effect of the car.

THESE long winter months, with the children safely in school, offer an excellent opportunity for delightful entertaining. And instead of large dinners, or parties that tire you with preparations, it's much nicer to invite only a few friends for luncheon and pass the afternoon at cards or simple games.

The friends you entertain in this informal way do not expect an elaborate, heavy meal, though naturally you will wish to serve something exceptionally good, and a bit out of the ordinary.

The answer is a two-course meal: one substantial dish, such as a salad, or a casserole of meat, fish, cheese or vegetables; and then an appetizing fruit salad, with cookies or plain cake for dessert. This is exactly the type of luncheon that any woman enjoys, and it may be served for any number of guests without inconvenience or worry.

Here are the menus for two such meals. When you see how simple they are to prepare and serve, you will want to have a "party" immediately!

try AMOCO-GAS

It happened in a garage in a small Virginia town, but it could have happened anywhere in the eleven states in which AMOCO-GAS is sold.

A motorist stopped at a pump that happened to be dry. There were three other gases available, but the garage-man suggested AMOCO-GAS.

"No, it costs too much," said the motorist.

"It will save you money in the end and make your car run better than it knows how," said the garage-man.

"Save me money how?"

"More miles to the gallon and by keeping your car out of the shop. I know half-a-dozen cars around here that have gone over 25,000 miles on AMOCO and never had the head off. And when you get on a hill—why, she'll go over the top so fast you'll think you've stolen the car."

"Go on," said the motorist, "I've heard that story before. I've never found a gas you that could live up to half the claims made for it."

"All right, mister," said the garage-man, "don't believe a word I say, but try AMOCO-GAS."

He's been using AMOCO-GAS ever since. Right now this same motorist is the best advertisement for AMOCO-GAS in the entire county.
