SMITH VICTORY ASSURED

Survey of Situation by Counties

Now that the campaign for Congress in the Eighth Congressional District is drawing to a close it will doubtless be interesting to the electorate of the District to have a summary of the general conditions in the various counties.

In the northern end of the district the campaign is arousing very considerable interest and enthusiasm on behalf of several of the candidates, but in the distant part of the district it has been very quiet and the indications are that the apathy will continue and that the vote will be light, the reasons for this being that the candidates, most of whom are from this section of the district, are not so well known in distant sections.

In order to give as far as possible a fairly accurate forecast of the present conditions of the campaign, the writer has conferred with prominent persons in each county in the district. While, of course, no accurate forecast can be given at this time, the following is the writer's best information as the probable results in each county in the district.

In King George County the vote will be small, probably not more than 400. The leaders in this county predict that Smith will carry the county, with either Ball or Mackey running second, but no one will have a plurality of any consequence in this county.

In Stafford County the contest is close between Smith and Ball, with Keith running third. The vote polled will probably be from 800 to 1000, and the plurality in that county will not be great for any candidate.

In Louisa County, the vote will probably be about 1,000, and Smith will carry the county. It is predicted that he will get more majority than the combined vote of all the candidates. Keith will probably run second in that county, and Ball or Mackey third.

In Orange County, the home county of DeJarnette, it is difficult to make any accurate forecast. It is said that every candidate in the contest will receive a portion of the vote, which will probably run from 800 to 1000. The indications are that DeJarnette will carry his home county.

Smith will carry Culpeper County, Keith running second and Ball running third. The vote there will be about from 1100 to 1200.

Smith will carry Fauquier County, with Keith second. Ball's vote in that county will be negative, and Mackey will also receive a like vote in that county. The vote polled will probably run around 2000, as there has been quite an active campaign there.

In Loudoun County, the vote will probably be around 2000 to 2200. The county seems safe for Smith by a healthy plurality, but whether Ball or Keith will run second is problematical.

In Prince William County there will be from 800 to 1000 votes. The indications are that Smith will carry the county by a fair plurality. Keith will be second and Ball third.

In Fairfax County conditions are somewhat uncertain. The vote polled will not exceed 2000. Until Keith's entry it was safe for Smith by a large majority. The contest there is between Keith and Smith with Ball running a weak third. The result in the county is expected to be close, with Smith still the favorite.

In Arlington County Ball is expected to carry it by a good plurality. As to how much lead Ball will take in that county will depend upon how much friendly Republican vote he is able to bring into the Democratic primary. Usually about 1300 votes in a Democrat primary are polled, but in this case the Ball supporters claim there will be about 4000. The County is normally Republican. The Ball-Gloth organization in that county is leaving no stone unturned, and is expected to yield Ball a good plurality.

Alexandria City is conceded to Smith by a large majority over all candidates. The question there is how much vote will be polled. The qualified vote is 6000, and the Smith supporters, who are very active, expect to poll 4000, and if this is true, Smith will receive over 8000. The remaining votes will be split between Ball, Keith, and Mackey in about an equal number.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED BY FRIENDS

On Wednesday evening, July 16, the hospitable home of Mrs. Elizabeth Spies on Battle Street was the scene of a lovely bridal shower, given by Mrs. M. M. Ellis, in honor of Miss Cora Louise Merchant, whose marriage to Mr. Delmar R. Domdera of Milton, Pa., will take place July 24. After the guests were assembled, the bride-elect was ushered into the room. Before she could recover from her surprise, there came a knock at the door and little Miss Ann Frances Whitmore, niece of the hostess presented Miss Merchant with a letter written in verse telling her of a still greater surprise awaiting her. The directions led her upstairs where there stood a large doll-house filled with beautiful and useful gifts which were displayed and greatly admired by those present. The company was then ushered downstairs where they were entertained by several pious selections by Miss Virginia Speiden and dancing by Miss Ann Frances Whitmore. Then followed delicious refreshments in the dining room. The color scheme of the evening was pink and yellow and was beautifully carried out in the favors, and tall candles and flowers on the long table. A handsome bride's cake was placed before the guest of honor, who cut and served it to her friends. The cutting of the cake was preceded by the reading of a poem which told the guests what they might expect to find hidden therein. The entire evening was a most enjoyable one. Miss Merchant is popular among the young people of Manassas and has been a faithful teacher in the primary department of the M. E. Church, South, for several years. She will be greatly missed in the community.

TEMPERANCE DEMONSTRATION

A very interesting and charming demonstration was given in the Methodist Church, Friday evening, by the Loyal Temperance Union and the W. C. T. U.

The first number was the "broom and brush" brigade in which verses were recited alternately by three boys and three girls illustrative of "sweep-sweeping" away opposition to prohibition.

A "light-line" demonstration followed in which fifteen ladies and fifteen girls of the W. C. T. U. took part. Prior to the demonstration a message from 15 foreign countries was radioed in by the aid of a loud speaker. Then the ladies, dressed either in white or light color, brought in a lighted candle and a flag. They sang "Home, Comrades, We Are Coming," while the girls marched in with unlighted candles and flags. Before the song was finished they turned and lighted the candles of the girls, and all marched off the stage and returned, having left the flags and candles off stage.

A duet by Mrs. Broadbuss and Mrs. George Baker followed. The meeting closed with the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

MINNIEVILLE

There will be a special meeting at the Greenwood Presbyterian Church, Minnieville, Sunday at 3 o'clock, p. m., July 27, when Rev. W. A. Hall will preach, and all of the officers of the Manassas Church will have a joint meeting there to consider matters of special interest to the community. Everybody welcome.

Mr. H. M. Pearson, principal of the Bealeton High School was a week-end visitor at his home.

porters, who are very active, expect to poll 4000, and if this is true, Smith will receive over 8000. The remaining votes will be split between Ball, Keith, and Mackey in about an equal number.

GARDNER BOOTHE REPLIES TO ATTACK ON JUDGE SMITH

TO THOSE "WHO DESIRE TRUTH" ABOUT SALE OF BANK BUILDING

GARDNER L. BOOTHE

Attorney and Counsellor at Law

Alexandria, Virginia.
July 14th, 1930.

To Whom It May Concern:

My attention has been called to certain newspaper attacks upon Judge Howard W. Smith, candidate for Congress from the Eighth Congressional District. These attacks have to do with the settlement of the affairs of the Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation some twenty years ago, in which Judge Smith was receiver and one of the six commissioners of sale. It was made to appear in these articles that there were grave irregularities, and it is further charged that Judge Smith, while one of the commissioners of sale, purchased at a grossly inadequate price for himself and associates the bank building of the defunct trust company.

I am the only survivor of the six commissioners of sale except Judge Smith and Mr. J. G. Hiden, who is ill. I, therefore, state the following to be the facts, which can be proven by the records in Alexandria by any person who wishes the truth.

This property was sold by the six commissioners of sale appointed by the court, and was sold at public auction to the highest bidder after full advertisement and for the best price obtainable. The six commissioners who sold the property were Judge J. K. M. Norton, now deceased, Judge Samuel G. Brent, now deceased, Richard C. L. Moncure, now deceased, J. George Hiden, who is ill, Howard W. Smith, and myself. At the public auction of the building the highest bidder was the Alexandria Gazette Corporation, of which Robert S. Barrett was president, editor, and general manager. The proposed sale was reported to the court by these six commissioners with the statement that the sale was fairly conducted; that the property sold for the highest price obtainable; that no better price could be had; and the commissioners unanimously recommended to the court the confirmation of the proposed sale. There was ample time for upset bid, and every effort was made to obtain a higher price, after which the sale was confirmed by the court. The property had been constructed for bank purposes and was not adapted to general business uses, and for that reason could not have been expected to bring a higher price.

In all the twenty years that have passed, I have not before heard expressed any claim that the property was sold for an insufficient price. The various interests involved were represented by the most eminent lawyers in this part of the State who were actively assisting the commissioners and receivers. There was no criticism of Judge Smith's conduct during the time that these affairs were being settled, nor has there been any since until this campaign for Congress. Had Judge Smith's conduct in connection with this concern been reprehensible, he would not have been elected Commonwealth's Attorney of Alexandria by a large majority; he would not have been unanimously endorsed by the Bar of this city for Judge of the Corporation Court; and he would not have been selected by the Governor of Virginia as Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit for which position he was not a candidate.

As stated above, to those who desire truth the records of the court can be seen here.

Respectfully yours,

GARDNER L. BOOTHE,

Campaign Pledges

The average intelligent man or woman who follows politics is realizing more, day by day, that political platforms are mere sinecures to bait the public and are soon forgotten.

Fifteen years ago politicians promised to empty the jails through the means of national prohibition, but they did not do it. Today politicians tell us that they will empty the jails with legalized whiskey, but they won't do it. The whole question is mere bunk so far as the politician is concerned. He is simply looking for votes instead of trying to do something to help the country.

What the ordinary head of a household is most concerned about now is why wheat is selling for eighty cents a bushel and fat cattle selling for less than feeders cost a year ago, with little reduction in flour and beefsteak.

What we need to do is bury the fanatical and radical politician and put the reins of government in the hands of safe, sane men, who will respect their oath to uphold and maintain the constitution and work out the great economic questions that are today confronting this country.

Men aspiring to high political office should be required by the public to stand on their official record, for by the past you may judge the future. Now that the congressional campaign is drawing to an end and we have had an opportunity to study all of the men who are aspiring to that office, there is no doubt in our minds that Judge Howard Smith is the outstanding candidate. His record as President of the Common Council, as Commonwealth Attorney and as Judge of the Corporation Court of the City of Alexandria, and as Judge of the Circuit Court of the Counties of Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William, and the City of Alexandria, speak for him, and there is nothing that any other candidate or friend of any candidate can say or do that will change the official record of Judge Smith.

We shall unhesitatingly support him and sincerely trust that he will continue his quiet and dignified policy of campaign so becoming to the high office to which he aspires and so annoying to his opponents, all of whom seem to take a vital interest in Judge Smith's candidacy.—Orange County News.

DOMDERA-MERCHANT

FAIRFAX FOR SMITH

Mr. Carl Allensworth, of Vienna, was a visitor in Manassas this afternoon. Mr. Allensworth says that to the best of his information that Judge Smith will carry Fairfax County by a substantial majority.

KEITH REPLIES TO REV. HEPBURN

July 17, 1930.

Rev. David Hepburn, Superintendent, Anti-Saloon League of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia.

My dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, a reply to which has been delayed due to my absence from Fairfax.

Before receiving your letter I published an announcement of my position in regard to the Eighteenth Amendment. Of course, so long as it is a part of the Constitution, it must be upheld, but when it was placed in the Constitution, it was an abandonment of the policy of this country from its foundation as to the division of power between the National and State governments, and an abandonment of the policy of local self-government adhered to by the Democratic party from the days of Jefferson, to which policy I heartily subscribe.

You refer to the vote of our people on Statewide prohibition fifteen years ago, but our people have never been afforded the opportunity to vote on the question of Federal prohibition. The laws enacted since the Amendment, so long as they remain in effect must be upheld, but in my opinion some of them go beyond the power conferred by the Amendment and some of them are subversive of other provisions of the Constitution. All such laws should be repealed or brought into conformity with the Constitution taken as a whole.

In response to your inquiry as to measures that may be introduced to strengthen the laws wherein experience has proven them to be weak, I believe that we already have too much law on the subject.

I am at a loss to understand why you did not ask the candidates their position as to the policy embodied in the Eighteenth Amendment and the laws enacted thereunder, whereby the power to control the liquor problem was transferred to the Federal Government, as this seems to me to be the fundamental question which is before the voters of this District. All the candidates should go on record on this question, but under the questions you have propounded a candidate may still evade this important issue as to which my position is stated in the enclosed announcement, a copy of which was published in all the newspapers of the Eighth District.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) Thomas R. Keith.

WINNERS OF WHEAT YIELD GUESSING CONTEST ANNOUNCED

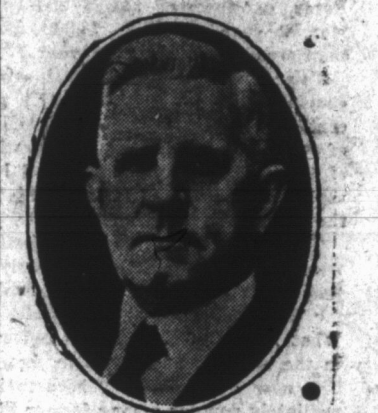

A yield guessing contest was held at a field meeting at the wheat nitrate of soda top dressing demonstration of G. W. Spinks near Greenwich about two weeks before harvesting time and prizes offered for the three best estimates after the demonstration had been explained and the wheat carefully examined. In this demonstration three acres had been top dressed with 133 pounds of Champion nitrate of soda and three acres of the same natural fertility set aside without being top dressed as a check. The two plots, harvested and threshed separately, showed a yield of 26 bushels per acre for the top dressed section and 15 bushels per acre on the check plot, or an increase of 11 bushels for each 133 pounds of nitrate of soda. W. H. Herring with his estimate of an eight bushels increase took first place, with M. D. Phillips second and A. A. Washington and R. H. Smith tying for third place.

ANNIVERSARY OF BULL RUN BATTLE

EXERCISES AT BATTLE PARK INCLUDE DISTINGUISHED SPEAKERS

The sixty-ninth anniversary of the First Battle of Bull Run was celebrated at the Manassas Battle Park on Monday, July 21, with appropriate exercises, which included an inspiring address by Col. John R. Saunders, Attorney General of Virginia and other distinguished citizens. A number of gallant veterans were in attendance.

Col. John R. Saunders

Mr. John R. Rust, of Fairfax, presided. The invocation was made by Rev. William C. Everett, of Marshall. Among those who spoke were, Col. Charles T. Norman, Commandant of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, Walter L. Hopkins, State Adjutant, S. C. V., Arthur C. Smith, Division Commander, Washington S. C. V., Mr. E. H. Allen, President of the Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce and Gen. H. Oden Lake, of Washington and Leesburg.

One of the most charming features of the program were the sweet recitations by Miss Lila Wallace, of Washington, whose selections were particularly enjoyed by the Veterans.

The important announcement was made that purchase of the Bull Run Battle Field from private ownership had been completed in full, with help of the Virginia Assembly and that active work was under way leading to establishment of a suitable museum and suitable memorials to mark the

O. F. A. PICNIC WELL ATTENDED

On Saturday of last week the District Picnic of the Order of Fraternal Americans was held at Libeans Beach, near Manassas. A large crowd was in attendance, all bent upon securing relief from the intense heat and upon having a real good time.

Baker, District Deputy George D. Baker, of Manassas, was in charge, and in his efficient manner made everyone welcome.

More than a hundred automobiles testified to the size of the crowd which was estimated at around five hundred.

The speaker of the day, W. H. Lamb, was introduced by Mr. Baker. The address dealt interestingly with practical citizenship and finer sportsmanship in the affairs of life.

Mr. Baker again spoke, telling many humorous anecdotes and outlining the basic principles of the order.

Fun then began in earnest and the afternoon was devoted to many original efforts to defeat the oppressive effects of the unusually hot temperatures prevailing. The whole event was a most creditable affair, reflecting much credit upon the fraternity and its splendid leadership.

ROAD CHANGE TO BE INVESTIGATED

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors on Tuesday, John R. Sweeney, Gainesville merchant, petitioned the Board for a change in the county road leading from Chris Carrio to Bristow Road at Devil's Grove. Superintendent H. L. Smith will report on the same at the next meeting of the Board.

The contract which the Chairman of the Board had made with Mrs. Kate Bear for the purchase of shale rock was confirmed by the Board.

A large number of miscellaneous accounts were audited and ordered paid.

HEAT WAVE BREAKS

When the first cooling breezes and the spattering of rain drops struck Manassas shortly before 3:30 on Tuesday, there was genuine cause for rejoicing.

"When the memory of man runneth not to the contrary" there has been no such a drouth. During the last three days of the spell the thermometer ran above 100 degrees out of the sun, the record being 108 on the register at Dowell's corner about 3 P. M. Tuesday.

Such spells come in queer contrast with the excessive rains which occurred in early August a few seasons back.

FORD REGISTRATIONS ON THE INCREASE

Although the registration of new automobiles in the United States up to June 1 of this year decreased 21.3 per cent compared with the corresponding period of last year, the listing of new Ford passenger cars increased 3.1 per cent.

Registrations, which reflect actual deliveries to customers, show 571,801 Fords, exclusive of trucks and commercial cars. This is 17,248 more than were registered last year.

This rather remarkable showing, coupled with the fact that 41.1 per cent of the cars registered—two out of every five—were Fords is indicative of the extent to which the Ford has regained its position of leadership in the automobile business.

Three years ago Ford production was entirely suspended for nearly a year while plants were being re-tooled for the production of the Model A. What has happened since is reflected in the sales and registration figures. The new Ford not only became immediately popular among former Ford owners, but it found its place in the garages of the well-to-do. The "Flivver" about which so many jokes had been told, was a thing of the past and in its stead was an entirely new automobile.

Of recent months the Ford Motor Company has been catering more and more to the aesthetic tastes of individuals who probably would never have owned Model T cars. First there was the introduction of new body types last December with new stream lines, new colors and rustless steel trimmings. Since then several de luxe Fords—a sedan, a coupe and a phaeton—have been offered for those who prefer more luxurious appointments than are to be had in the standard models. This is a new development in the low-price field.

Energy Giving Corn

WHEN the children run wild in spring, it's a good thing to have an energy providing and inexpensive dish waiting for them when they come in breathless from their romps. Here's one they'll be sure to like, and which will provide enough food for at least half a dozen of them at a cost of considerably less than a dollar.

A Tasty Dish

Corn and Beef Loaf: Mix together one pound ground rump of beef, one-half pound ground fresh pork, one beaten egg, one tablespoon chopped onion, one-half tablespoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup bread crumbs and the contents of one 11-ounce can corn, and form into a roll. Place in a well-greased loaf pan and bake in a hot oven (400°) about forty-five minutes.

Another delicious and energy giving corn dish is:

Cream of Corn and Mushroom Soup: Cook the contents of one 11-ounce can corn, three cups milk, one large sliced onion, one small stalk celery and one bay leaf in a double boiler for fifteen minutes, then strain. Cut fine the mushrooms from a 4-ounce can and sauté them in two table-spoons butter for three minutes. Add two tablespoons flour, and stir smooth. Add the mushroom liquor slowly, stirring till thick and creamy. Add to the hot milk mixture, and cook again till smooth and creamy. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and add one-half cup cream. Serve in cups. This recipe serves six.

A CHANGE IN WEATHER

When Summer's sun with scorching ray
Beats down upon us, day by day,
We hardly feel like stirring 'round,
Burnt so badly, all red and brown.
No such weather we ever felt,
Just feel as though we sure would melt.

For Winter weather then we pray,
For just a single nice cold day
When we could feel the cooling breeze
And run around, just as we please.

Winter comes with wind, snow and ice,
For a few days we think it nice,
But soon get tired of ice and snow,
To climate warm we wish to go.

Where here we go we almost freeze,
Long now for a nice warm breeze.
Thus we go, satisfied never,
Always want a change in weather.

Hot or cold, maybe wet or dry,
'Tis the other we wish to try.

Albert Spelden.

JAPANESE BEETLE SCARCE

The county agent was called to a number of places when people felt sure that they had captured some Japanese beetles. We are exceedingly thankful to say, however, that they were only the bronze green milk weed beetles, a rather harmless but beautifully colored beetle that feeds upon milk weeds. The wings of the Japanese beetle are a brownish-bronze and shorter than the body. The legs are very slender. The body is also much more slender than the Japanese beetle. Send in your specimens with doubt or call the agent. We want to keep a close tab on the varmint.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

WORTHWHILE THOUGHTS—

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.—Phil. 4-8.

PRAYER

Set us Thy standard Lord, in us.

NOBLESSE OBLIGE

Those who have thrown honor and party loyalty to the winds in their attempt to discredit Howard Smith will before long answer at the tribunal of gentlemen.

Those who imagine that their motives are concealed and their covert actions deflected to others will find themselves fully understood by the voters of this District before the day of the primary arrives.

And as the assailants of Smith retire they will do so with the contempt of all, even of many of those who have felt obliged to stand with them.

May this be the last campaign of this sort in Cavalier Virginia.

ANNIVERSARY OF BULL RUN BATTLE

world-famous places on the battlefields.

The speaker of the day, Col. John R. Saunders, spoke eloquently of the ideals of the Confederacy, explaining the basic principles for which the Stars and Bars were unfurled. He called attention to the sacrifices made by General Lee, who declined the offer of Commander in Chief of the Federal Army and certain victory, for inevitable defeat in the cause of his native state and its pure ideals. He recounted the circumstances wherein Jackson received his famous name of "Stonewall." He called attention to the fact that Virginia and the other seceding states acted under their constitutional rights.

The struggle of the Confederacy, the noble devotion of its lovely women and the marvellous recovery of the South were themes which brought forth the eloquence for which the distinguished speaker is justly noted.

In the afternoon a number of valuable historic relics were presented for the museum. Gen. H. Qden Lake presented a saber captured by his father at the Battle of Five Oaks. Gen. Lake is believed to be the first man ever to carry the Confederate Flag in formal parade up Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington.

Mrs. William E. Lake presented a sword which had been given her by Lieut. Carrington, of Georgia in remembrance of her kindness in nursing him after the Battle of Manassas. Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pitman, of Kerntown, West Va., presented a sword captured by Capt. J. T. Colston and also the pistols worn by him during the War.

IMPORTANT SCHOOL NOTICE

1. Is your child ready? County schools open for work, Monday, September, 8.

2. Children entering school for the first time must be six years of age on the day school opens. This is a necessary precaution as the primary grades in some of the schools are becoming very much crowded. Parents who have children who become six years of age on or before December 31, 1930 and who wish them to enter school this year, are requested to make written application to the Superintendent of Schools, giving name of child, date of birth, and name and address of parents. After the schools have opened for a few days additional children will be admitted if there is room, according to when their birthdays come, that is those in September, first; in October, next, etc., until all room is taken up. Positively no children who become six years of age, later than December 31, 1930.

3. Every child entering school for the first time will be requested to present birth certificate to the teacher.

MUST PROVE VACCINATION

4. In order to comply fully with the State law requiring vaccination and the county regulation passed by both the Board of Supervisors and the County School Board, it will be necessary for all the children in the county, regardless of age or grade, to show a vaccination scar upon entrance to the county schools in September or a doctor's certificate showing that they have been vaccinated just prior to the opening of school. Teachers will be instructed not to admit pupils not complying with this regulation.

5. All children entering school for the first time should have a physical examination by their Family Doctor and present BLUE CARD to teacher upon admission to school.

Parents will receive a letter telling them when to take their children to their doctor for examinations.

6. Every child should be protected against Diphtheria. Don't neglect giving your child this protection.

7. Have corrections made in order that your child may enter school as a Five Pointer.

SEVENTEEN REASONS WHY THE FARMER SHOULD VOTE FOR FRANK L. BALL FOR CONGRESS

1. Because he has lived in the country and has been in close touch and sympathy with the farming interests all of his life.
 2. He is self-made and self-educated and is accustomed to triumph over adversity on his own merits and through his own efforts and is not dependent on or under obligation to any boss.
 3. He has been the farmer's friend through his service in the State Senate and has actively supported the entire program of the State Department of Agriculture in all of its activities.
 4. He was the patron of the County Budget Act requiring the publication and public hearings of proposed county levies.
 5. He was author and patron of the act to protect trees, plants and shrubs from tourist depredations.
 6. He supported tax reform legislation, including the segregation system.
 7. He supported the railroad tax bill to place a fair burden of taxation on the trunk line railways which was favored by important farm organizations throughout the State.
 8. He served on Committee on Roads and supported bills to increase the mileage appropriations for farm to market roads; made a strong fight for increased mileage for Northern Virginia to care for traffic in the counties of the Eighth District.
 9. He supported bills for free text books for all Virginia children beginning in the country districts.
 10. Actively supported public education and increased appropriations for public schools.
 11. Supported an appropriation of $500,000.00 for aid of schools in poor counties.
 12. Supported the entire program of the State Dairymen's Association.
 13. Served on committee handling cooperative marketing bills and actively supported them.
 14. Helped lead the fight for rural sanitation laws and other progressive health measures.
 15. Supported lime-grinding acts in the interest of the farmer.
 16. Was patron of bill to restore legislative reference bureau which was originally instituted through the farm organizations of the State.
 17. Has steadfastly refused to make false promises regarding farm relief at the hands of the Government but does pledge to support cooperative marketing; an immediate reduction in tariff; the debenture plan as at least a temporary measure; and the breaking down of monopolies and restriction of independent trading.
- The statement published in the papers supporting Judge Smith that Senator Ball has at any time supported legislation which would prevent a farmer from using his boys under 18 years of age or from employing negro help under that age is utterly false and should be resented by every man and woman who believes in decent politics.

The real number of the evening was called the Daughters of Shiloh. In this, the dancing team put considerable effort to please their audience.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTITUTION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement, without forming a habit of over increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

SLEEP ON RIGHT SIDE. BEST FOR YOUR HEART

If you toss in bed all night and can't sleep on right side, try simple glycerin, saline, etc. (Adlerika). Just ONE dose relieves stomach GAS pressing on heart so you sleep sound all night. Unlike other medicine, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisons you never knew were there. Relieves constipation in 2 hours! Let Adlerika cleanse your stomach and bowels and see how good you feel!

IN MEMORIAM

It gives us much sorrow to record the death of John Gibson Ashby, the last surviving son of the late George and Elizabeth Ashby of Prince William County, which occurred at the Mary Washington Hospital, Fredericksburg, Va., Sunday noon, June 8, 1930. While he had been in failing health for some years, he only left his home two weeks before going to the hospital for treatment, trusting that medical skill there could relieve him, so that he could return home again, but it seems it was not to be, he had come to the end of life's long road. Brief, but impressive services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. Bell, at the Orlando Methodist Church, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and as he lay on his bier surrounded by beautiful floral offerings, the last expression of love from sorrowing friends, a smile of peace was pictured on his face, as tho his homegoing was a joyous one. He was then laid to rest beside his mother, that he had so tenderly cared for in her declining years, in the Evergreen Cemetery. A large crowd was present, each calling to mind some kindly deed the tired hands had done, whose work was done, some gentle words the silent lips had said. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. James Godfrey, Sowego, Va. and Mrs. Katie Wine, Independent Hill, Va., who will miss the devotion of a kind brother.

Ne'er was the sky so deep hue
But that the sun came breaking thru;
There never was a night so dark
Nor was there ever a lane so long
It had no turn for the weary throng;
Nor heart so sad, that sometime after
There came no sound of lulling laughter;
And Death's not the end—neath the cold black sod—
Tis the Inn by the Road on our way to God.

Doctors have long known the value of mineral elements iron, calcium with cod liver peptone, as contained in Vinol. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how Vinol gives new strength, sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Gives you more PEP to enjoy life! Vinol tastes delicious.—COCKE'S PHARMACY, Manassas, Va.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

(Ocoquan and Woodbridge)

An eye to the left,
Looking ahead,
No eye behind
Party dead.
An eye to the right,

Watch your steps. We have been through the stone age, bronze age, iron age, steel age, oxcart age, horse and mule age, bicycle age, and now we are face to face with the auto, flying and gliding age. What might be termed a constructive and foolish age. An age that demands speed. Here, there and everywhere—quick time is everything! Through the orderly process of evolution the Great Architect has been building for millions of years. In this foolish machine age, we need an eye in the back of our heads. We need swivel joints for our wrists. We need legs and tail like a kangaroo, for quick jumping and exact balancing. We need a few mild cuss words that may be used by children and still be effective. Equal rights. Give the women a legal right.

Twin City is moving ahead by leaps and bounds. We are already two jumps and a hop ahead of most of our neighbors. Take for instance Smoke-town, a sister settlement on our perimeter. You know how the folks in Smoke-town measure distance? Well, it is this way. "Looks" and "Hollows." From Rebekah's hut over to Willow Gulch is two looks and a hollow. A "look" is from one hill to the other. A "hollow" is the low land between the hills.

Ex-secretary Tyson, of the Puddle Jumping Department has sent his resignation in to Jiggs Embrey. We understand that he has accepted a position with "Heavyweight" Barnard, who is at the head of the "Watchers of Men."

Hold your breath! We have a gem. Most everybody this side of "there" knows E. H. Sheppard. Friend Shep is a chicken man, as well as a traveling man. It is as a chicken man that he shows his Edisonian creativeness. Shep having made a deep study of wormology and insectology in connection with chickenology, said that he could arrive at but one conclusion, and that was that necessity was the mother of invention. Chickens need food to keep in good shape and provide the breakfast table with that wonderful creation known as mashed eggs. So chicken feed was the necessity that spurred Shep on to heights of fame and the fortune that is at the end of the rainbow just over the hill. Worms and bugs, said the man of genius, are at least two-thirds curiosity. Hens breathe through their mouths. This being a fact, this man of Edisonian ability, worked out a plan for the hens to stir the bump of curiosity in the insect world, causing the insects to come forward, as sheep to the slaughter. Mrs. Hen would then be ready to gobble up the curiosity seekers. We learned that the budding Edison did it in this way: He split, and at the same time bored, a hole in the hen's tongue, causing a whistling sound as the hen breathed. The worm or insect, hearing this funny sound, had his bump of curiosity to get the best of him, and as heads were raised from the bowels of terra firma, Mrs. Hen said, "Come to me sweetheart." The result was a slick fat hen ready to lay most any time. Simple. Shep is very enthusiastic and proud of his accomplishments. Believe it or not, write to E. H. Sheppard of Twin City.

Politics continues to erupt and fester on the body politic in the whole of the Eighth Congressional District. Mr. Tom Keith comes out, eleventh hour, as a "States' Rights" candidate. In his political brochure, Mr. Keith has placed very conspicuously his handsome likeness. He calls this little abbreviated pamphlet, "His Platform, Views on the Eighteenth Amendment, and Other Questions." Starts out with an apology for his late entrance, which, is not very enlightening. Then touches lightly the rights of states and federal rights. Uses a few words to tell us he was born on a farm, worked on a farm, practiced law off a farm, but continued for divers reasons to hob-nob with farm folks. His love for the horny handed sons of toil surpasses our simple understanding. In the light of further statements from Mr. Keith, and the real work that he has been doing, it is hard for the voter to reconcile the two when it comes to "States' Rights." We will let Mr. Keith speak from his pamphlet. He says, "I favor what ever can be properly done by governmental action." And at the same time states that we are encumbered by too many laws. He refers to the rights of a citizen and states' rights. Paradoxical feathers to hide the old bird. His rights of the states seem to settle closely around the prohibition question. He does not say a word about his law firm being an active and advisory counsel for the Washington Railway & Electric Company, owners of the Potomac Electric Power Company, all of which belong to the Power Trust, known as the Insull group. Why didn't you state that important fact in your brochure platform, Mr. Keith? The folks in the Eighth District are particularly interested in electric power. We are paying approximately nine times more for our electric power than it costs to manufacture. His argument on the prohibition question is mere poppy-cock. "I" says Mr. Keith, "favor the return to the states of the power to deal with the liquor question." We had just that, Mr. Keith, when we were trying our darndest to get rid of the infamous liquor politicians. Do you really think that the voters are so simple as to believe that states' rights consists of a state turning its authority over to the liquor interests and the power trust, that you have been silent on? Surely you still have a memory spot in your mind that will relate to you in your saner moments the condition of things that existed under state control of liquor. Would you turn the hands of progress back, would you step on the baby's toes? Why place the odious stamp of liquor and the saloon on any single state? Prohibition is primarily a Federal right, and should be dealt with by the Federal Government with the honest aid of each and every state. States' rights and slavery brought about our Civil War. Slavery was not a question to be settled by the states. To break loose from the Union was not the right of a single state. To have one-half of the states wet and the other half dry is not conducive to states' rights in the broad light of get such old foggy ideas. Mr. Keith, and make a graceful exit before August 5th. Mr. Mackey has eliminated himself by too much talk and kissing the hand of the saloon element.

Mr. DeJarnette, poor old soul, says, "He only needs a quart a month." Wants the skin made looser in pulpwood, and desires an import duty placed on bull frogs. The political undertaker has everything ready to take care of friend DeJarnette just as soon as ever DeJarnette finds outchameleon trick, a color to suit all he is dead. Most everybody else at present the judge is propped up by knows that he has passed to the Great political expediency alone. Beyond.

Judge Smith is trying to take the plain, honestly and in most cases greased route (least resistance) ap-seems to use fine judgment and oodles of common sense. His views on most all subjects, including prohibition, are to make a declaration on any of the in keeping with the spirit and letter issues, or so-called issues. Trying the true democracy, states' rights.

It's Your A&P Store

As the town you live in is yours

Housewives, visiting a young merchant's store in 1859, found goods on his shelves they liked—and—as housewives do—told others.

Thus, A&P's business grew from this single store. First one customer brought another. Then one neighborhood brought another.

A&P has not forgotten why it outgrew a single store. It knows it must make good in each community if its stores are to be accepted by many.

Because A&P realizes this, the A&P store nearest you is run by your townsmen. Men in your own locality keep your store in touch with the A&P system. The food on its shelves is there because you have asked for it.

A&P is made up of many such stores, just as the United States is made up of many communities like your own. Your A&P store serves you better because it is part of a large system, just as your community suits you better because it is part of a great nation.

HON. THOMAS R. KEITH

A LETTER FROM R. WALTON MOORE

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

R. Walton Moore
Eighth District Virginia

July 14, 1930.

T. U. Dudley, Esq.,
Middleburg, Virginia

Dear Mr. Dudley:

I have your letter of the 12th instant, from which I quote as follows:

"Inasmuch as the question is frequently asked, as to what is your position in the position in the present Congressional Campaign, I will very greatly appreciate your writing me on the subject."

My reply is that Mr. Keith has my unreserved support, any rumor to the contrary being without foundation. Another wholly groundless rumor, which I understand is being circulated, is that I prompted Mr. Keith's candidacy. The simple truth is that I did not advise him one way or the other about entering the contest. But when he announced as a candidate, I became and am his earnest supporter. He is not only my relative, but for many years was my law partner, and since then as my near neighbor and close friend I have had the most intimate relations with him. Whether people vote for or against him, they need have no doubt of his unusual ability, his stainless character and his experience as a patriotic and energetic citizen who has rendered fine service in connection with many successful public efforts for the advancement of our section of Virginia. They may be confident that if elected he will prove an efficient and influential Congressman.

Yours very truly,

(signed) R. WALTON MOORE,

VOTE FOR CRANDAL MACKAY FOR CONGRESS

THE ONLY EX-SERVICE MAN IN THE RACE

He has been candid and honest in expressing his convictions. Don't vote for straddlers of the Eighteenth Amendment who talk of the wets and dries getting together. Those who favor and those who oppose the Eighteenth Amendment are entitled to honest, outspoken expressions. CANDOR IS THE COURAGE OF THE SOUL.

The repeal of the Volstead Law will restore State rights to Virginia. She has a better prohibition law than the Volstead Law. She prosecuted 21,706 prohibition cases last year while the United States prosecuted but 346. The Eighteenth Amendment if modified would enable Congress to establish a liquor control and dispensary system as in Sweden where drunkenness was reduced 55 per cent in four years and the bootlegger is unknown. Crandal Mackey will vote for the repeal or modification of the Volstead Law and the Eighteenth Amendment. Light wines and beer will not get rid of the bootlegger. He does not deal in them. Crandal Mackey stands for Temperance vs. PROHIBITION. For the DISPENSARY vs. POCKET FLASKS. For HOME vs. THE NIGHT CLUB, the ROADHOUSE, the SPEAKEASY. He stands for LESS BLOOD, LESS LAWS, LESS PRISONS. Back of crime the bootlegger. Back of the Bootlegger, NATIONAL PROHIBITION. National Prohibition is mingling Church and State. It violates the moral law expressed by Paul the Apostle: "If righteousness come by the law then Christ is dead in vain."

Crandal Mackey opposes the Power Trust, and Chain Store. He has the only plan for relief of the farmer, namely: Immediate reduction of the tariff on commodities used by farmers, a bounty to save the farmer from loss on export of surplus crops, the purchase of surplus grain and cotton by the Farm Board as now, and unemployment insurance as in Germany. Crandal Mackey is a PROGRESSIVE. While Commonwealth's Attorney closed all saloons and had all licenses denied in Arlington County.

RADIO ADDRESS OF T. R. KEITH

Although I have never before been a candidate for public elective office, I have always entertained the conviction that it should be the duty, as well as the pleasure, of every man who seeks the suffrage of his fellow citizens to state to them definitely the position that he takes upon those questions that enter into a political campaign and which so vitally affect their welfare, happiness and prosperity.

Ours is a representative government and he who would be delegated by his people to speak and act for them in the Halls of Congress should first make known to them plainly his contemplated course of conduct as a legislator in the event they repose their confidence in him.

If it were humanly possible, it would afford me gratification to meet personally and talk with each one of you, to the end that we might have an exchange of opinions, and thus arrive at a composite judgment as to what is best for our mutual interests. Inasmuch as this is physically impossible within the limits of our primary campaign, I have taken advantage of the opportunity of speaking to you through the medium of the radio, reaching into your homes, which are indeed the citadel of good citizenship.

The day of the primary should be regarded as referendum day upon which you will have the opportunity, not otherwise afforded, of expressing yourselves by your ballots upon the issues of the campaign.

I have published a statement in the newspapers of the District which sets forth my position as to a number of things. Copies of this statement are also being circulated through the mail and otherwise. In the time allotted for this radio talk I cannot do more than discuss an issue which is agitating not only the people throughout this nation, and will continue to hold it until it is solved, as I believe it will be, in accordance with the dictates of common sense and that pole star of our institutions generally known as "States' Rights." The issue to which I refer is Federal Prohibition.

In Accord with Mr. Moore's Work

Before entering upon the discussion of that matter, however, I wish to take this occasion to say that upon all those subjects which are of peculiar interest to the people of the Eighth District by reason of its location so close to the National Capital, I am in thorough accord and full sympathy with the work that has been undertaken and so ably carried forward by your present Congressman, Mr. Moore. It will be my purpose, if I am chosen to succeed him, to use my best efforts and all the energy I possess to further and bring to successful fruition those projects and enterprises which Mr. Moore has sponsored and advanced and which are of such vital importance to our people. In doing so I shall look for your advice and counsel.

In this connection, permit me to say that if I am nominated and elected I will not act through any intermediary. I shall seek direct contact with those who are most concerned and the civic, commercial and agricultural organizations through which they speak. It will be my purpose to represent all the people and not a particular clique or faction.

When I announced my candidacy, I said there is nothing more vital to the continuance of our country as a free country than the preservation of the rights of the States to govern themselves. I wish to emphasize that point. In it is involved the doctrine of Local Self-Government. The instant the people of one State are required to live under laws which they do not approve, but which are enacted by virtue of the will of the people of other States, and are enforced by officials not appointed by, or responsible to the people of the State in which they seek to exercise authority, we have the beginning of tyranny.

Vice of the Eighteenth Amendment

This is the vice of the Eighteenth Amendment. The question of the manufacture, sale and transportation of alcoholic liquor is essentially a local question to be determined by the people of the States for themselves. To deprive them of the power to govern themselves in that respect is to nullify the right of self-government and weakens the fibre of responsible citizenship.

If the local sentiment is in accord with the views of other localities on the same subject, then there is no necessity for departing from the principle. If the local sentiment is not in accord with the views of other localities, then there is all the more reason for adhering to the principle to the end that each locality shall enjoy the particular liberty or privileges that it wishes. A law which in its essence violates the honest sentiment of the majority of the people of a given State, cannot be enforced for that reason. The people regard it as oppressive and violative of their right to govern themselves.

For many years prior to the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, various States enacted State-wide prohibition laws or local option laws, by which each locality was permitted to handle the liquor question in its own way and as was best suited to the wishes of its people. But the National Government rendered no assistance to a State in upholding its local policy until Congress enacted the so-called Webb-Kenyon law which prevented shipment into a State from another State that had a wide open condition on the liquor question. Prior to the enactment of the Webb-Kenyon law, the National Government not only did nothing to uphold the local law, but actually licensed citizens of States having prohibition laws to violate those laws to manufacture and sell liquor within their borders. This was a flagrant violation of the principle and right of self-government. It was not until a year or two before the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment that the Webb-Kenyon law was passed. In the meantime, the impression went abroad that State prohibition, or a State dispensing system, was ineffective, while much of the fault lay with the Federal Government by reason of its long continued failure to cooperate with the States in the enforcement of their own laws, and thus by its non-action weakened State laws and the right of local self-government.

Less Crime Before Federal Prohibition

In the operation of the Webb-Kenyon law it was proven that by cooperating to that extent only the State laws on the subject could be effectively enforced, and I venture the assertion that during the short period that the Virginia State prohibition law was in effect concurrently with the Webb-Kenyon law and prior to the Eighteenth Amendment, there was in Virginia less drinking, less drunkenness, less crime, fewer prisoners in jails and more empty jails than ever existed before or since in the history of the State. It should also be borne in mind that our first prohibition law in Virginia was not bone dry and that the exceptions incorporated in it made the law acceptable to a large number of people who are now arrayed against the policy established under the Eighteenth Amendment.

What has been the history of the temperance movement since the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment and the abandonment of the principle of local self-government? A labyrinth of harsh and oppressive laws on the subject have been enacted. They have been violated by all classes because they are out of tune with the concepts and conscience of our people. Their failure has been followed by harsher and still harsher laws which violate the rights of citizens and impair the sacred guarantees which the Anglo-Saxon has had since the days of Magna Charta—and since Jefferson, Mason and Henry tried to stamp upon our institutions for all time the principles involved in the great War of the Revolution, wherein we asserted and won the right to be free from the tyranny and oppression of Great Britain and to ban forever a governmental system which would permit such practices. As a result of too much law there has grown up a dangerous disregard for all law and restraint. A wave of crime and official debauchery has swept over the land which has no parallel in our country outside of the unhappy days that prevailed in the South during the period of reconstruction. The morals of our people are being corrupted, and especially the morals of our youths. When will this condition of affairs cease? Not until we have wiped from our statute books the laws which are responsible for this situation.

States' Rights the Remedy

Federal prohibition has given growth to an industry, the handling of illicit liquor, that rivals in capital and in the number of persons employed in it almost any of our great commercial enterprises, and goes free of any tax. It provides the means for capitalizing crime and lawlessness; it fills our jails with criminals, and congests our courts of justice with a multitude of cases to the prejudice of other legal business, and yet only a very small proportion of the offenders are ever brought to justice. The efforts to enforce Federal prohibition, paid for at an enormous cost to the taxpayers of the country, have proven a lamentable failure. It is a sad commentary upon our reputation as a law-abiding people. After ten years of Federal prohibition, the illicit liquor business is greater and more powerful than ever before. Instead of diminishing it is increasing.

The only remedy lies in returning to the States the power unwisely transferred to the United States Government, and the enactment of such legislation as will command social respect and local enforcement. I favor such action in the cause of true temperance. I am opposed to the return of the saloon. It had been successfully abolished in Virginia before the Eighteenth Amendment. It must never be allowed to be re-established. On the other hand, the present condition of illicit sale is by many regarded as more of a menace than was the saloon. Federal prohibition is responsible for this condition. To get rid of it we must abolish Federal prohibition. I firmly believe that Virginia can satisfactorily handle her own liquor problems if given an opportunity to do so without Federal interference. She did so once. She can do so again. HAVE FAITH IN VIRGINIA.

CRANDAL MACKAY FOR CONGRESS

What Frank L. Ball Said

Frank L. Ball speaking at the closing of the saloons and gambling houses of Arlington County by Captain Mackey, said:

"I DOUBT IF THERE WAS EVER IN THE HISTORY OF VIRGINIA A MAN WHO SO COMPLETELY CARRIED OUT HIS PROGRAM AND WON SO MANY VICTORIES AS DID CAPTAIN MACKAY DURING HIS FIRST TERM OF HIS OFFICE. I SAY THE MEN OF THAT DAY WILL RISE UP AND PRAISE CAPTAIN MACKAY FOR MAKING IT A FIT PLACE TO LIVE IN."

Congressman John E. Rankin, idol of the World War Veterans, wrote Captain Mackey as follows:

"As you perhaps know, I am fighting for my bill for the relief of the uncompensated disabled veterans of the World War, and it has taken all the spare time that I have had. We are now pushing to get the bill through before Congress adjourns, and I am glad to report that we are just about to succeed. I know this will be gratifying news to you for I know your interest in the Veterans. I can never forget your volunteering to help me in my fight in the Fenning Case. WE ARE FIGHTING THEN FOR DISABLED VETERANS WHO WERE INSANE AND HELPLESS AND YOUR VALUABLE ASSISTANCE CONTRIBUTED GREATLY TO OUR SUCCESS. Hoping to see you at an early date and assuring you of my kindest regards and best wishes, I remain,

Sincerely your friend,

JOHN E. RANKIN

Congressman Blanton who stopped the robbery of insane and helpless World War Veterans wrote Captain Mackey as follows:

I know you to be absolutely fearless and that you are not afraid of the Devil. I know that you are a natural born fighter and that there is not the faintest yellow streak in your entire makeup. I know that you stand up and fight for your convictions when fighting is necessary. IT IS YOUR KIND THAT WE NEED IN CONGRESS. If we could get a few more of your kind there the interest of the whole United States would be materially benefited. I wish you all the success possible."

Sincerely your friend,

THOMAS L. BLANTON

Late Circuit Judge J. B. T. Thornton said:

Ladies and Gentlemen: I am fortunate to be here and to be among the first to extend my congratulations to Captain Mackey in this hour of success, success I say for human aspirations would seek in vain a higher pinnacle than he occupies. St. Paul said as his life was drawing to a close: "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith." To Captain Mackey I say: You have fought a good fight, not a personal fight, but a fight for the purity and prosperity of this county, and how well and successfully you have made this fight, THIS MAGNIFICENT AUDIENCE BEARS TESTIMONY. YOU HAVE KEPT THE FAITH.
