BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

A HARD STUDY—Study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands. That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.—1 Thess. 4:11, 12.

PRAYER:

"Take time to be holy. Speak oft with thy Lord."

CONGRATULATIONS

As we predicted, Judge Smith was overwhelmingly endorsed by the people of the Eighth District. The people have chosen wisely and well.

ELECTRIC SERVICE RATES REDUCED

During the last four years we have spent approximately $8,000,000 on transmission line work alone to accomplish this end, which now is a fact. With an interconnected system it is usually years before a general and substantial downward revision of rates can be effected; one large system in the Southeast took fourteen years to effect such a revision. Our company was formed through the consolidation of about thirty small companies, each with its own generating station, its own rate structures and schedules, and each with operating costs that varied widely due to varying costs of raw materials and to vastly different operating conditions. It was our responsibility to organize these many many unit companies into one system and to bring the over-all operation of them up to the very highest standard of efficiency possible. In many instances additions and betterments to generating stations and the interconnection of towns by transmission lines resulted in increased investment in plants, lines and substations with the net result of advanced costs all along the line. This meant that economies had to be effected through better operation and management. Those economies have been effected and to such an extent that we now are able to share them with our customers in this reduction in the cost of our product, electric service.

"Contrary to the principles of a great many rate reductions that have been made in the electric industry and that have penalized the small community, we believe it more advantageous to encourage the development of our communities by establishing an equalized rate over our system that gives the same advantages to the small community as are enjoyed by the large. We are constantly endeavoring to better the general welfare of every town we serve and we feel that there is no better way than to bring down the cost of electric service.

"In respect to rate reductions in general, I believe it is not generally known or understood that the customer to a great extent makes his own rate. It is a cardinal principle that increased usage of electricity brings lowered cost, and we hope that the customers of the Virginia Public Service Company will take full advantage of the opportunity for betterment of individual, home and business welfare that lies in the greater use of electric service."

SIX-CYLINDER SMOOTHNESS AT LOW COST

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

Woodbridge and Occoquan

Old age snooping around; Quiet, furtive, hardly a sound;
Tip toing o'er the hill, Across the plain and by the rill:
Touching every living thing,
An absolute monarch, a mighty king.

The sturdy oak, the delicate rose Feels his touch as he goes.
The new born babe at its mother's breast.

The fledglings in their downy nest:
Feels the magic wand of age,
As well, as the moran and the sage.
The mighty billows of the deep Where countless thousands sleep:
To the cadence of time, as of yore, Roll on and on to a distant shore.
It is age that permeates all space
It is age that wins the final race.

Jumping Jupiter, we are moving thru a warm period! But, age will tell the tale. A few days and we will be moving to that mellow period called autumn. We will be older and let us hope wiser. As we go into autumn we will see nature in all its beautiful changes of refinement. As age changes the chemicals of nature, we see the coloring that artists are unable to paint, writers unable to describe, gossip slips over and lovers of nature stand in reverence as they behold the silent work of the ages.

The West has its scenic beauties: the Sioux Indians, called the Black Hills of South Dakota, "Happy Hunting Grounds of the Great Spirits," Ex-president Coolidge says, "I have never seen anything that excels it."

The Rockies, Yellowstone and wonderful Pike's Peak. Last but not least "Reno," where the two that was made one can be lawfully changed to the one in one. In the twinkling of an eye, presto!

We Easterners have Jamestown, the cradle of our republic. Yorktown, the rights of a great nation. Williamsburg, a colonial legacy of the western world. We have Fredericksburg, the most historic city in America. We have Palmyra, now a finished village, at one time sharing with the western world its progressive spirit. Chesapeake Bay, upon whose bosom the great fleets of the world can anchor in safety. Occoquan Bay, a beautiful expanse of deep blue water smooth and inviting as it receives the historic waters of Bull Run. The broad Potomac that is always pushing on and on towards the great Atlantic.
We have the "city of magnificent distances" housing the seat of Federal Government, the most beautiful city in the world. There is New York with the largest population and the most buildings in the world. And last but not least, the little "Reno" where the michigan can be unhitched and go in peace in two directions.

We have history and scenic beauty that needs advertising. Wonders of nature and scientific skill of man that we do not appreciate.

Our old friend Tou Poe Davis crawled between the sheets for a rest.
Tired and weary. We understand that he has tried the blue mass cure. Jump up Tou Poe, that is a kill or cure remedy.

They tell a tale on our old friend, Geo. Henning. It seems Geo. has been looking after a pet corn on a toe that bothers him for the past forty years.
Well, during the hot spell Geo. had his shoes off and both feet propped up a plum tree. An explosion took place while Geo. was napping. A witness found that the extreme hot weather had caused his pet corn to pop. Remarkably true. Can any one tell of Prince William equal such a high temperature? When you read this, little candidates stood on the dock with his record pretty well packed.

Dr. Brooks, you have a chance, the candidate is weak and perchance if you will be real gritty and bold, you may be able to knock him cold. Here is our gizard of sympathy for the four "has rans". Don't forget that Doc Hornbaker has brushed the cobwebs from the Lyric Theater and had picture talking outfits. The doc says, why no spend an hour in the Lyric, comfortable, because it is cool; entertaining, because you enjoy yourself; edifying, because it makes you think.

Now let us all get busy and see who will be the first one in twin city to turn out a workable rain machine.
The lightning from the clouds was harnessed and put to work for man, plucked out and put on canvas, for the delight of generations yet unborn.
The very atmosphere, the air that we breathe, has been made to carry music, pictures and the voice of man around the world. The gravitation of our earthly sphere has been overcome, and man flies at will. We no longer wait for the wind and tide to carry our commerce. The robot is man's child of the brain. Impossible, "hail rain is a necessity, and necessity is the mother of invention."

2½ Cents in the Dollar

Not Wall Street's idea of money making

Why has A & P more customers than any other grocer on earth? . . . "It sells for cash at the lowest price possible," answers The Business Week, a magazine that studies business methods.

And why are A & P's prices so low? . . . "It buys direct from original producers, and makes every known short cut in distribution," says The Business Week.

Then, not satisfied with other people's say-so, Business Week digs into the official records of A & P's sales and profits, and by a simple sum in arithmetic gets the rest of the story—namely, that A & P keeps only 2½ cents of every dollar taken over its counter.

"Two-and-a-half cents profit is not Wall Street's idea of something to capitalize," says Business Week, explaining Wall Street's complete separation from so large a business enterprise as A & P.
But it is A & P's idea of fair treatment of the housewife.

THE Virginia Public Service Company takes pleasure in announcing a voluntary reduction in its residential and commercial lighting and domestic service rates. This reduction, which becomes effective starting with September billings and which is the sixth in the last two years, has been made possible through economies in operation resulting from the interconnection of our system and the competent management of the Company's affairs.

This reduction, together with others that have been introduced since January 1, 1930, will save $500,000 for our customers. With the largely increased business which the new rates naturally can be expected to produce, the ultimate saving to consumers will be considerably greater.

The chief object of this substantial reduction in the cost of our service is to permit YOU, as a consumer, to take advantage of and enjoy more of the conveniences and comforts of electric appliances in your home. It is our aim to provide for YOU, through the great servant, Electricity, better and happier living without extravagance.

Electricity is the cheapest thing you can buy in proportion to the countless things it can do for you. Why not give your servant, Electricity, more work to do?
